00:20 Announcement of conference topics.

Irina: Man is an intelligent Spirit, a part of God, which is endowed with the Divine ability to give meaning to everything he sees.

Inga: So, it is not necessary to sing mantras, pray to the Shiva lingam, wear rudraksha to be closer to Shiva?

Irina: What is obligatory for you, only you yourself determine. But the degree of this obligatoryness depends on your idea of what you want to achieve.

There is no such being that is always directed only at creation or only at destruction, even you do thousands of things every day that create and destroy the world around you.

Cosmic wisdom consists in understanding and recognizing that the understanding of all children of God - Spirits, temporarily separated by distances and bodies, is one and is only expressed by different illusory self-names.

02:18 Presentation of conference participants.

Inga: Hello! My name is Inga the Dove, I am interested in Vedic culture, Vedic knowledge, and I have questions about Shiva. Because there were already questions about Krishna, and I have a lot of questions about Shiva, I am also interested in all these topics, and I would like to know the answers, if possible.

Irina: Good. Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today I asked Shiva himself to come to us, if possible, whether he is incarnate or not, I asked my curators to get to know him, and for him to answer questions about himself, as it was with Krishna.

We invited Krishna because he was not incarnate, and he talked about where he was, at what spiritual level, what his last incarnation was, and so on. And by the same principle, I decided to invite Shiva. But with Shiva, dear friends, everything turned out to be much more complicated than with Krishna. I will tell you now. The thing is that many personalities are known under this name. The word "shiva" itself is from the proto-language of humanity, from that pre-Vedic period, before the Slavic period, which was widespread on Earth a very, very long time ago. And these hissing sounds "sh" and "zh" are very similar and were often replaced by one another in different places. So the word "shiva", which later turned into the name of this God, also means the word "alive". Alive was the name for the universal life force in nature, of which all Souls of living beings consist. Something like the modern concept of prana or ether, that is, it is an all-pervading Divine force, of which everything consists.

Present with us now are my curators LiShioni from the planet Shimor and MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, they just told me about this story. As for Shiva, since there are many Shivas, I have already said that at the present moment, as far as our curators have managed to find out, there are, as far as they know, 183 personalities, 183 entities that can call themselves by the name Shiva, some of them are incarnated in different worlds, some of them are not incarnated, are in the Spiritual world at different levels, but I asked to invite the Shiva who is responsible for the Vedic egregor.

What is a Vedic egregor? It is an egregor of many religious and philosophical movements on the territory of modern India, what scientists call the word "Hinduism". Usually called "Vedism" because it is based on the Vedas and on later books, interpretations, various additions, and so on. Vedism comes from the word "vedy", and "vedat" comes from the word "to know".

A subtle being has agreed to come, he is here now, who calls himself Shiva and says that he is responsible for the image that was created in India about him, and that he was incarnated there and can answer questions about Shiva. Now this being is also incarnated, but in the subtle world at the 36th level of density according to the terminology of the Interstellar Union. Territorially, this space where he is incarnated is in the center of our Galaxy, and it occupies the place of space that is occupied by a nebula left after a very old, practically extinguished star. He says: "It is not on your maps, but territorially it is located in the Sagittarius Constellation, if you look from Earth." He is incarnated there at the 36th level of density and he has been incarnated there for a little more than 1.5 thousand Earth years. At the moment he is incarnated there and says that he is ready to answer questions, and if anything happens, MidgasKaus and LiShioni will supplement his answers if the conversation is about something else, about some other being Shiva or about something that Shiva cannot answer.

09:02 The habitat of the Spirit of Shiva on Earth.

Inga: Okay. My very first question is: did he really live on Kailash here on our planet or is this all myth?

Irina: Now I will explain. Kailash is a mountain. It is showing me images now.

(Shiva says) Did I live on Kailash? I can be everywhere with my Spirit: on Kailash, on Everest, in the Urals, on the Alps, and so on. This question is not correct.

09:55 Incarnations of Shiva on Earth, transmission of knowledge about yoga.

Inga: I see. Did he give people knowledge and practices about yoga, and how many of them were there in total?

Irina: (Shiva says) Daval. In one of the incarnations I was a teacher of this tradition. My name was the teacher Prajnapati. It was around the time, I look at my memories now, it was around the time when Archangel Metatron was incarnated on Earth in Israel as a local king, we communicated with him.

And this was, as LiShioni now suggests, somewhere a thousand years before the birth of Christ.

Inga: And how many incarnations did he have on our planet?

Irina: On your planet I had 133 incarnations in different levels of density.

Inga: Into the human body?

Irina: At all levels of density, plasmoid too. And I had 5 incarnations in a human body.

Inga: Are there his avatars on Earth? And can he send such things, create his own avatars?

Irina: There are contactees. Do you call a phantom an avatar?

Inga: Not a phantom. But a human body, where a part of his Spirit moves in.

Irina: We call this "contactee". I can enter a person, my contactee, who is suitable for me in vibrations, and, of course, with his consent. This is temporary for the fulfillment of some task: energetic, informational or healing.

He is now telling me that he can conduct healing energies.

12:28 Contact with the Spirit of Shiva. Destruction and creation. Creation of meanings.

Inga: Is there a certain technique to get in touch with him? Maybe singing mantras, maybe some special techniques are needed to get in touch with him?

Irina: (Shiva speaks) To get in touch with me specifically? If you sing a mantra to Shiva, you can simply call upon any entity that is called that, or that calls itself that, but to which you are suitable in terms of energy-wave characteristics, which in modern esotericism are called vibrations.

To get in touch with me, with my Spirit, you need to call on me, the one who is talking now, but for this you need to remember my energy. Energy can be felt at a distance. Now look at the contactee, but at the same time listen to your heart. What do you feel?

Inga: Excitement.

Irina: What energy?

Inga: My heart started beating faster.

Irina: And what kind of energy does it vibrate? What feeling does it evoke in you? What mood?

Inga: It's breathtaking. Something like that.

Irina: Can you call it in your own words: excitement or breathtaking, is this vibration familiar to you?

Inga: Probably not.

Irina: (Shiva says) Do you see why you said no and not yes? Because you, your Soul discerned that I had not entered into energetic contact with you, and therefore this energy is new to you. I simply sent you a part of my energy, which is charged with my essence, which contains an understanding of the entire Universe, of course, my understanding of the entire Universe. And cosmic wisdom consists in understanding and recognizing that the understanding of all the children of God - Spirits, temporarily separated by distances and bodies, is one, but is only expressed by their different illusory self-names.

And you tell me, do you enjoy this energy?

Inga: Yes.

Irina: Do you want to feel her?

Inga: Yes.

Irina: Well, if the energy is pleasant, he says, then my energy suits you in vibrations, but you must ask your, as you say, Higher Self, that is, your Spirit, your heart, your Light in the heart, whether contact with me suits you for your task of incarnation. And if the answer is "yes", you can invite me through the heart. Just say: "I invite that Shiva, that entity with whom I spoke at the conference." And your Higher Self will send me a request. I will come and establish my contact, because you yourself suit me in vibrations, you are a bright person, a bright Soul, although a little stricter with yourself than I am used to, you can be strict and critical towards yourself.

Inga: Yes. And not only to myself.

Irina: What will you tell him now?

Inga: The thing is that when I sing mantras to Shiva, I imagine the Shiva lingam and imagine how the Shiva lingam needs to be watered with milk, mantras sung, yellow flowers thrown on it, and I imagine all this and then I imagine that he comes, exactly the image that I know, with a crescent moon on his head.

Irina: And was it the same energy that he sent you now?

Inga: Probably not.

Irina: You see, they are already different. How was she different?

Inga: There, I remember, the energy was calmer, as if my father had come to me.

Irina: Who's here?

Inga: I don’t know, but it’s a different energy.

Irina: What does it look like?

Inga: I don't know what to compare it to, I just haven't communicated with anyone else. It looks, by the way, like Krishna's energy to me, although it should be a different energy, as far as I know Krishna has the energy of support, and Shiva has the energy of destruction.

Irina: (Shiva speaks) Destruction? Everything you listed is human forms of feelings in relation to something Higher, to the Higher Being. I am telling you about communication between hearts, and it does not depend on any specific rituals, it is communication between different consciousnesses, different only because they have lived different experiences, different lives.

And as for destruction and creation, there is no such being that is always directed only at creation or only at destruction, even you do thousands of things every day that create and destroy the world around you. Even you can, while creating something, destroy something else. For example, to create a new hairstyle and a new image, you destroy the old one. So who are you, a creator or a destroyer in this case?

Inga: Creator and destroyer.

Irina: (Shiva speaks) That's why we are all creators and destroyers at the same time. Just like me. To create your body, you need food, for it to grow, for its cells to divide, to create it, you need to destroy some other organism. So who are you: a creator or a destroyer? It depends on how you look at it, doesn't it?

Inga: Yes.

Irina: (Shiva says) So, as a divine being, they look at me from different sides. Some see a creator, others a destroyer, but the truth is that I am both.

Inga: For me, he is like a source of knowledge, that is how I perceive Shiva as a source of knowledge. Knowledge and love.

Irina: (Shiva says) Any information can be a source of knowledge for you. The source of knowledge for you is the source to which you believe, trust and give your heart, let this information into yourself - this is a source of knowledge for you. And the source of love for you is only you, only that God who is in you, and with whom you are one.

He is our philosopher (laughs).

Inga: Yes, that's my idea of him, too, as a philosopher. So, it's not necessary to sing mantras, pray to the Shiva lingam, wear rudraksha to be closer to Shiva, right?

Irina: (Shiva says) What is obligatory for you is determined only by you, but the degree of this obligatoryness depends on your idea of what you want to achieve. If you believe that you can communicate with Shiva only through mantras and through the worship of the Shiva lingam and other attributes of this religion, this teaching, then with this faith you will close off other ways of reaching me and God in general, with your faith you will create such an image that you will be able to communicate only in this way, and then it will be so.

If you expand your boundaries with your faith and say that I can communicate simply mentally and you believe in it, then you will be able to communicate in any case, whether through mantras or without them.

Your faith is the direction of your heart along one path or another, leading to the reality that you create for yourself. Always look not at the attributes, not at the color, shape and other characteristics of the objects around you, but at their inner essence.

Inga: Okay. And what does rudraksha mean to Shiva? Why is it so important to him?

Irina: (Shiva says) It is important not to me, but to those people who wear it. For me it makes no difference whether you wear a cherry pit or a rudraksha, you give this meaning to these objects themselves, for me both consist of Divine energies.

Inga: So, it was in India that they came up with all this.

Irina: (Shiva says) It's not that they invented it, they just gave it meaning. Man is a rational Spirit, a part of God, which is endowed with the Divine ability to give meaning to everything he sees.

Now if you look at this object now (takes a pen). He just told me to take it.

(Shiva says) What does this object mean to you? You looked at this object, and if you don't know it, you can't name it. But if you've already met it in your life, you have experience interacting with this object, then you know what it's called?

Inga: (raises her hand with a pen) I'm holding it in my hands.

Irina: (laughs) Oh! That's why he told me to take it. Did you tell me to take it, so that we would hold the same objects in our hands? Interesting. He smiles, shows the image, he says: look, if you've ever seen this object in your life, you know what it's called, for you this object already has a certain meaning. But if you show it to a person and give it another meaning, for example, that only with the help of this object can you achieve Enlightenment, and he believes in it, for him this object will have another meaning, also for his children, for his students, if he is a spiritual teacher, and so on.

This is a very positive and useful human ability, which is called co-creation with God, co-creation of one's reality, by endowing objects of material reality with meaning, you create your reality in that Divine truth and beauty, which is created as an opportunity for your happiness.

What do you feel?

Inga: I'm trying to figure out what was said above.

Irina: Yes, he answers interestingly.

26:16 Creation of the Universe, symbols in the legends about Shiva.

Inga: Okay, let's go through the questions then. Did he really drink the poison obtained by churning the ocean?

Irina: (Shiva speaks) I know about this image, I remember this image from interactions with earthlings, I know what it says. Come on, we'll tell you a little about how this image appeared and in connection with what event.

The Universe was not created instantly. The entire Universe that you see was not created in one instant. The material Universe was created gradually, each level of density or, as we call it, layer of Divine reality was manifested gradually due to the fact that our brothers and sisters, incarnated in other realities higher than ours in terms of density, condensed the Divine Light and made it look like a very dense white light fog. From this white light fog the next level of density appeared. Thus gradually appeared, again in the terminology of the Interstellar Union, those 59 levels of density of matter that now exist and in which we incarnate, which are instruments for our development, growth and more and more complete merging with Divine qualities and their manifestation.

That legend, that myth that is written about the ocean, about how gods and demons created the world from the ocean - this is only a reflection, again on the material level, as it was clear to ancient people, of that process of creating a denser world that appears from a more subtle one. All the attributes are described there in a symbolic form, because it was impossible to depict it in any other form due to the fact that your earthly language is very poor in words from the lexicon, so to speak, of subtle-material civilizations. But those images that are there reflect quite fully and truly what is happening there.

Just as butter appears from cream, so gradually a denser world is assembled from a more subtle world, this is true, as is the case with the 36th level of density, for example, the 18th level of density is already much denser for us, and even more so the 3rd level of density, where you live.

That poison, which is mentioned in the myth, which Shiva drank - this is, now I will pick up analogies in the memory of the contactee, that energy from those plasmoid civilizations that created this denser world, they have energy that I would call the destruction of matter. What does this mean? It means that, creating a denser world, those plasmoids who worked on it, put their energies into it, the feelings of their Soul, and because they are engaged in monotonous activities, they could put energy into it, the closest analogy again to modern language is, approximately, a feeling of fatigue. Have you ever experienced fatigue?

Inga: Of course.

Irina: Is this destructive?

Inga: I wouldn’t say so, depending on how tired I am, I don’t know.

Irina: (Shiva says) Is it destructive for the body? Fatigue is a certain state, it is not even a feeling, not a mood, when you want to rest, it is a certain state of the energy-information field, which can affect the created matter in such a way that a time bomb is laid in it for rapid destruction: what is tired can be destroyed. I am conveying it very roughly in words, because your language does not yet have such words. Accordingly, do you understand what is being discussed?

Inga: Yes.

Irina: (Shiva speaks) It is called a slow poison, figuratively of course, because just as poison destroys the organism and leads to its death, so does this energy of fatigue, but not the fatigue of the physical body, because there are no physical bodies there, but subtle bodies, and there is also fatigue of the mind, fatigue of emotions and fatigue of feelings. From monotonous activity a certain energy accumulates, and, having got into the newly created matter, it can lay in this structure of matter, for example, characteristics of its increased tendency to injury, to fragility, to destruction. Do you understand what I am talking about?

Inga: Yes, yes, yes.

Irina: (Shiva says) That is the same thing that a slow-acting poison does. There is also a poison that is not only fast-acting, but also slow-acting, which a person can take, at first nothing will happen to him, and after a certain dose of poison has accumulated, the body suddenly dies. There are such poisons, slow-acting poisons.

This energy, in order not to get into the created worlds, must be utilized somewhere, but the plasmoid civilizations themselves are busy creating the world, and God has allocated special beings who live on all levels of density, who absorb this energy and transform it from the matter that is created. That is, they drink this poison. And after they drink it, it gradually transforms in them and turns into energy, as I would say, of greater access to cosmic wisdom. They process it in themselves, that is, they process one spiritual energy into another.

All this is depicted in this myth through the image of Shiva, who does this, and his throat turns blue.

Inga: Yes.

Irina: (Shiva says) Why the throat and why blue, where did these images come from? These images were hints again about what was happening, plasmoids, of course, do not have a throat, and the blue color for them is only a convention, these were hints in the language of a person, through his body, to show what was happening with this plasmoid next.

Throat. What is in the throat of a person? At the level of the throat is the fifth chakra, which is responsible, among other things, for the energy of creativity. And what does the blue color mean here then? Why did this poison in the myth turn into blue and not into some other color? Why was such an image conveyed? Because blue is the color of the sky. Even for ancient people it was clear that the sky was blue, they saw it with their own eyes. The color of the sky, the color of the sky - it was always the color of cosmic wisdom, therefore the blue color in the throat meant that this energy was processed into the energy of cosmic wisdom through their creativity, that is, through the fifth chakra.

And why was Shiva depicted there as the one who drank, and not some other deity? Because those plasmoids who did this performed the function that brings life, that is, the function of Shiva. Shiva himself is a certain kind of being. I am only one of them, there are others. Shiva - in the ancient language of mankind there was such a concept as "alive" and a similar concept of "shiva", it's just that the letters there were changed to "zh", to "sh".

What is zhiva or shiva? It is a certain universal energy of life, ethereal energy, it is not physical, it is ethereal subtle energy, the force of life, which is spread throughout nature, permeates it and is the basis for the creation of various Souls of animals, insects, plants, that is, everything that animates.

So, those beings who drank this poison were workers of shiva, alive so that life in all worlds could flourish, be perfect and not be destroyed by excessive fragility and a tendency to trauma.

38:54 Interchange of negative energy with the subtle world.

Inga: And do these larvae, incubi, succubi do the same? When a person is very nervous, they suck in and suck out this negativity from the person, right? Is it the same?

Irina: Are you talking about those plasmoids that perform negative collection and exchange with a person?

Inga: I don't know how negative it is if they take away bad energy when a person is angry.

Irina: (Shiva says) The problem here is not that they take away bad energy, but according to the laws of energy exchange, each plasmoid, each subtle-material being that took energy from a person, according to the laws of energy exchange, must give him its own in the same amount. This is energy exchange. This is a universal law for the entire Universe. And it occurs between people too, on a more subtle level, and between plasmoids and people.

The problem here is that each plasmoid also has its own character, thoughts, feelings, emotions, they just manifest themselves differently, not through the physical body, but through its subtle body. And the energy that it will give to a person in exchange for his negative will be charged with his feelings, his emotions, and the thing is that if he himself is negative, and almost always such energy as you mentioned, anger, suits negative plasmoids, almost always he will charge a person with his own negativity.

But it could be another negative, not anger, for example, but some other negative feeling that is in this plasmoid, which it has not processed in itself, which it has not worked with, which closes its Spiritual Heart. Often such a negative energy exchange occurs, when a person's anger is taken away, the energy charged with anger from the chakra, and in return, according to the laws of energy exchange, the vital energy of the plasmoid is pumped into the person, which will give him vigor, of course, if he can assimilate it, use it, not all plasmoids and people are very easily compatible with each other, there are nuances, perhaps it will be necessary to change your energy or type of nutrition or something else for the exchange with a specific plasmoid, because everything there needs to be adjusted very individually. But even if it is assimilated, these emotions and feelings will also pass into the person and will affect him, he can feel, for example, the fear of this plasmoid or despondency, depending on what he charges it with. Such things happen.

42:00 Amrita as a type of energy, features of its production.

Inga: When the ocean was churned, amrita was produced. What is amrita, and did it exist?

Irina: (Shiva says) This is also a type of energy.

How can I explain it to you? He just shows me the light.

(Shiva says) This is also a type of subtle etheric energy, which was used to invest in the created animal, plant Souls a greater or lesser life potential for going through a certain number of incarnations in different bodies. This is the energy that made the Soul of an animal or the Soul of a plant or insect, and so on, made them temporarily immortal, bound all the elements of the Soul together and made reincarnation possible.

Amrita was spent in each incarnation of an animal or plant and when it was exhausted after their last incarnation, this Soul disintegrated into its constituent parts, and these parts were used by plasmoid civilizations in creating the same animal Souls or other, or the etheric bodies of people. To create the etheric body of a person, the energies of the plasmoid civilizations of the planet where they live are also used.

As for the use of amrita by humans, yes, it is possible to connect to this energy with the help of certain plasmoids. It has a healing effect, rejuvenates and increases the cell's ability to regenerate and removes from it, for example, all the consequences of incorrect rewriting of DNA codes. Right now, MidgasKaus is telling me, incorrect use and rewriting of DNA codes into a new cell, that is, micromutations that can lead to aging and destruction of the cell. In fact, this is a rejuvenation of the body and a certain treatment and healing of diseases.

Inga: How can I connect to them?

Irina: (laughs)

Inga: Is there some kind of technique? If it's not a secret.

Irina: (Shiva speaks) Since this is ethereal energy, which is allocated in a certain amount to each planet, at its density levels in one form or another it is contained at the subtle-material level, at all subtle-material density levels, and this is 56 for our Universe.

Those plasmoids that live on Earth can share this energy with you. For this, they take it from the reserves that are intended again for the Souls of animals, for example, if you make friends with a plasmoid that is responsible for creating the Souls of animals and plants and for endowing them with amrita, then you can ask him to exchange this energy with you accordingly. But here it is necessary to ask again whether you are a contactee of plasmoids? Which ones exactly? Since there are many types of them, there are those that are simply responsible for the elements, there are cosmic plasmoids that live in stars, they are not suitable because they have amrita, but it is of a different quality, it is aimed at creating the stability of the star, and so on.

You need amrita to create Souls for organic bodies. You, or if you have a plasmoid curator, you can ask him: is he responsible for creating Souls of animals or plants, if not, does he know such plasmoids and will he be able to invite them to contact, and after establishing contact with such a plasmoid, you can share with him the energy of your Love, your Light, because they love this energy very much, and it is this energy that they can also process through their subtle body into the same amrita. This is a fairly long process stretched out in time. You can ask him to share. This is the first method.

The second way is to simply love nature, send the Light of Love to nature, plants, animals, microorganisms, to everything, to all of nature. And the plasmoids, feeling such an influx of energy from you, will saturate you with their energies, including amrita, heal you, rejuvenate you, and you will always be under this flow of energy.

Inga: Yes, I have been working with plants all my life, and I always have animals at home.

Irina: Here. That's why you look so great, they give you amrita.

Inga: Probably.

Irina: What do you feel?

Inga: Some things are falling into place.

Irina: So they give you amrita, that's why you look so good. What do you want to tell them?

Inga: I have never had such direct contact.

Irina: Shiva just named two paths: conscious contact or simply unconscious contact in the form of feelings towards nature.

Inga: Mine is unconscious.

Irina: (Shiva says) All the same, they see the source of this love, the plasmoids see that it is you who charge them, saturate them, wish them love, they feel it and send it to you in response. But you can again, naturally, with the approval of your Higher Self, ask the Higher Self: "Do you approve of me receiving amrita and in what percentage?" Because it is not always useful for the body and energy, it depends on many factors, how much your body can use this energy, how much the cells can retain it also depends on individual characteristics and even on the personality psychotype, there are many different nuances, but you can talk about it with your Higher Self.

Inga: Good.

50:19 Masculine and feminine principles in nature and man.

Inga: Here's another question. In the very beginning, when there was Vishnu, Brahma, the third was Mahesh. Mahesh was divided into female and male principles. Was it really like that, and why did they do it?

Irina: (Shiva says) To divide a being into male and female principles?

Inga: Yes, there was Mahesh, he was divided into female and male. They separated and it turned out that Shiva and Adi Shakti remained, as I understand it.

Irina: (Shiva speaks) This is a symbol of the presence in nature of the male and female principles as the fertilizing nature and the birthing nature. All nature is created from certain entities that fertilize, give the power of life, the seed of life, and that preserve it in themselves, grow and give birth.

More or less such principle of the world structure is characteristic for all levels of density, but it only happens that there is no male and female sex at some level of density, in the earthly understanding, but there are several sexes that perform different stages or parts of these universal principles: male and female. And here, in this myth, it is said that Zhivas or Shivas also have different sexes, in the understanding of people, they are either giving birth, or fertilizing.

Inga: Okay, but who is Adi Shakti really?

Irina: (Shiva says) This is also my energy. Shakti, Adi Shakti is also my energy, and I am her energy, we are one. This is just another side of my Soul, I can be both at the same time. I am both the fertilizing and the giving birth. Moreover, as a Spirit I lived in both male and female bodies, and therefore I absorbed and strengthened these qualities in myself, and made them one with the qualities of my original Spiritual heart or Svarupa - the original spiritual form.

Inga: There was a case when Adi Shakti ate it, swallowed it.

Irina: (Shiva says) And in another case I swallowed her, she swallowed me - this only says that in one or another of my incarnations I, like you, like any other Spirit, could give a greater manifestation to one side of my nature than to the other. For example, you, as a Spirit, have now been swallowed by Shakti, because you have incarnated more in feminine energy.

Inga: And all women have the energy of Adi Shakti, right?

Irina: (Shiva speaks) The feminine nature itself, as the one receiving the fertilizing seed and giving birth to a child, is only a physical body, and the feminine nature itself consists of the energy of Shakti.

What is female nature? It is a certain direction of energies that create physical, etheric and other types of bodies. Approximately like in your batteries, plus and minus.

Inga: So, if you were born a woman, it is not necessary that there will be Shakti energy? Maybe more male energy will prevail, right?

Irina: Prevail in the body or in the Soul? There are different combinations.

Inga: In general and in the Soul.

Irina: (Shiva says) Here in the body, your body structure says that you are the one who receives and gives birth, in your body the energy of Shakti predominates, although the energy of Shiva is also there, in you there is energy from the father, and it is in you. And the Soul can feel itself as a representative of the opposite sex, it depends on many factors.

55:53 Merging with the energy of Shiva.

Inga: Is it possible for the human Spirit to merge with the energy of Shiva after disembodiment?

Irina: (Shiva speaks) To merge with the energy of Shiva means to incarnate in one of the plasmoid worlds as one of Shiva's beings. Of course, it is possible, if there is such a task for incarnation.

56:20 Fasting, rituals in religions. Conditions for fulfilling desires under restrictions.

Inga: Many believe that if a woman walks 16 Mondays in a row, Shiva will fulfill any of her wishes. Is that true? 16 Mondays means 16 Mondays in a row, you need to drink only water and pray to Shiva.

Irina: He's so lost in thought right now...

Inga: I just did this three times in my life, and the first two came true, but the third is to leave the wheel of Samsara and join the energy of Shiva, it is still unknown whether this will come true or not.

Irina: (Shiva says) I have been living in a body of a completely different density for one and a half thousand years now, and what significance do you attach to water or food, as defined in modern religion - I do not know, because I am now embodied in another reality. For me, these are all different types of energy, any food, water - these are different types of energy. Fasting, as I understand it, is a voluntary refusal of something. It is a voluntary refusal of food, that is, of certain types of energy so that during this day this energy, which you refused, accumulates a certain volume and goes to fulfill your desire, that is how I understand it.

After all, the amount of energy that you could have eaten, you did not eat it, you sacrificed it, you sacrificed it in this case to Shiva as Zhiva, that same universal energy of life. But here the question arises about where you put that food or those funds for it, which you did not use for your body on this day.

I know the original ritual, how it was created, I don't know now, what it turned into, it could of course transform into many forms, but initially fasts in the Hindu religion were created with a specific purpose. With the purpose that all the food that a person did not eat during that day or the money for it, were given to certain Brahmins who prayed for the fulfillment of this desire, and this energy went to the creation of their body, and they prayed in return, and not only prayed, they created thought forms that the desire of this person, if it coincides with the Light, will be fulfilled, they strengthened it with their thought forms.

There is no need to be surprised here, because during the period when the war with the reptilians had just ended on Earth, this was about 10 thousand years ago, I was also incarnated on Earth at that time. I was incarnated on Earth during the war itself, but I was incarnated as a human, and in the period after the war, 2 thousand years later, I incarnated at the 11th level of density also as an earthly plasmoid, who was in contact with the priests, with the priests, including those who worshiped Shiva. Accordingly, I know this ritual, I participated in its creation too. This was done so that a person, having given some of his energy, would receive other energy in a mental form to fulfill his desire.

What is wish fulfillment? These are not just some abstract words, this is a certain process of filling the image of a person with energies for its faster materialization, but the person himself had to contribute to the fulfillment of his desire on the physical plane, do everything possible to make it come true. If he did not do this, but simply sat and waited for this desire to come true, then he lost these opportunities for the embodiment of his desire, which was saturated with thoughts, desires and prayers of priests, and the energy of Shiva himself, not even me alone, but the whole squad of Zhiv, Shiv.

Inga: We are now talking about the Supreme Personality of God, who was called Mahadev, right?

Irina: (Shiva says) These are just Indian names in their language, which denotes the Great Deity. Mahadeva could be Indra, Krishna, anyone. This is the translation into Russian of "Great God". Who is the Great God for you? For some it is Jesus, for some it is Allah, for some it is Ahuramazda, for some it is Odin, then he is called Mahadev Odin, a certain image.

1:03:06 Shiva, Vishnu, Krishna, Veles.

Inga: Shiva said, judging from the sources of information that I heard, that he prayed to Vishnu, and Vishnu prayed to Shiva. Is that true?

Irina: (Shiva says) Did I pray to Krishna? If I tell you in plain language, we were spiritual teachers for each other in different incarnations, he for me, and I for him.

Inga: And Vishnu is also a Spirit? Is he also embodied?

Irina: (Shiva says) This is another word. Look, Vishnu in the Indian language is just the word that in modern Russian can be pronounced as Vyshny, God of Heaven, Supreme. Vishnu is the Creator, the Maker. Why do they say that Krishna is the incarnation of Vishnu or Vishnu himself, because he is one with the Supreme.

Inga: That’s why I thought that Vishnu actually incarnated into Rama, then into Krishna.

Irina: (Shiva says) So Rama is also Vishnu. Because this Spirit is one with the Supreme. Just as Jesus Christ said: "I and the Father are one." That is, he and the Supreme are one. These are certain Spirits that are at the highest level, at the cherry level, again there is the letter "y" in Russian, and in Indian there is no "y", there "i" is used more. Therefore, when Russians say: "He is at the highest level," you can say in Indian: "He is at the cherry level," at the level of Vishnu.

Inga: And I also heard that Shiva is God Veles. Or does this not correspond?

Irina: (Shiva says) Veles is a certain plasmoid, who was responsible then and is responsible now for the creation of the Souls of animals in a certain territory, and naturally, he is one of the Zhivas, that is, those beings who are responsible for the distribution of these energies of Zhiva, Shiva. I said that there are many of us.

If you want to be one of us, that is, to merge with the energy of Shiva, for this you need to incarnate into that subtle body, which is plasmoid, a representative of the plasmoid civilization on some planet where there is life. And not only incarnate there, but also set one of your tasks of incarnation to be the creation of Souls, then you will be Shiva or the Living.

Inga: Maybe that's what I was doing?

Irina: Maybe you are Shiva too?

Inga: I know that I am from the planet Khritana, what I did there, it seems, as a plasmoid.

Irina: There are plasmoids again, who do not create Souls, they have different functions there, you should also ask, maybe she did. So, if you did this, you were Shiva.

Inga: Because it’s all very close to him.

1:07:12 Shiva about his current incarnation and form. The meaning of images in myths.

Inga: And another question. They filmed a series of 820 episodes.

Irina: What series?

Inga: "God of gods Mahadev". The main actor who played Shiva, he did special techniques before that to connect to him in order to portray him, to enter him more deeply, and to portray him more accurately, or so that people would believe in him more, what he was like. Does he know about such a series?

Irina: (Shiva says) I don't know about the series itself. I know that they approached me and other plasmoids with such a request to merge with me, with my energy. But about the film itself. I don't watch films, I'm on a different density level.

Inga: It would just be very interesting to hear his opinion on this matter.

Irina: (Shiva says) I don't even have physical eyes. I don't have a physical body at all. My body is located at a distance of about 300 thousand, a little less than 300 thousand light years (shows), and it consists of energies, if you roughly translate its shape and size into earthly concepts, then these will be two funnels nested inside each other, one will be an internal light purple color, and the second will be dark purple. The size of these funnels, which twist in a spiral and, moreover, in opposite directions, the size of these funnels is about 20 kilometers. This is the body I have now.

Inga: And when they pray to him, what image should they imagine?

Irina: (Shiva says) A person. To imagine the image of a person. I can take the image of a person, a man (shows) in white clothes.

Inga: In white?

Irina: Svetlykh, he’s showing me now, not even clothes, but made of ivory, like a statue, or made of white stone, marble.

Inga: It’s just an image that he wore a tiger skin on his belt, I think, or someone else’s.

Irina: (Shiva says) Do you know what a tiger means? What characteristic of the Soul does a tiger mean? It's even in the earthly Chinese horoscope. You have a year of the tiger, don't you?

Inga: Yes.

Irina: (Shiva speaks) What qualities do these people who were born have, what qualities do they acquire, according to the teachings of astrologers?

Inga: According to the teachings, I don’t know, but it seems to me that the tiger has such a grip that it will grab, at least me, and bite.

Irina: (Shiva says) All predators gnaw. How is a tiger different from a lion, for example?

Inga: Speed of reaction, maybe?

Irina: (Shiva says) Look, the lion is more powerful in its environment, that's why you say that the lion is a symbol of kings, the king of beasts. And the tiger has more wisdom and individuality than power, and since it is the Soul of the cat family, then the tiger skin denotes what quality of the personality that was depicted with the tiger skin?

Inga: Wisdom.

Irina: (Shiva speaks) Wisdom, grandeur, leadership and at the same time the ability to be alone, that is, a bright individuality.

Inga: Individuality or hermitism?

Irina: (Shiva says) The ability to be alone, among other things, yes. That's more typical of a tiger, yes.

1:12:45 Shiva about his incarnations.

Inga: And one more question, maybe even the last one. Did Shiva himself come to believers in physical form and does he come now?

Irina: (Shiva speaks) I already said what my physical form is now, I have the 36th density level. Is this a physical form? No. Physical is three density levels. Right?

Inga: Yes.

Irina: (Shiva says) That is, what consists of atoms, molecules, and so on. I don't have it now, I haven't had it for one and a half thousand years. I can come in a spiritual form, just like I came now in the form of a phantom to contact Irina and transmit this information, because they asked me about it, they came to me, they asked me to come and answer some questions for you and other representatives of modern humanity.

Inga: Yes, there were a lot of questions.

Irina: (Shiva says) I can come again in physical form, but for this I will need to incarnate into a physical body. I came, incarnated, and I came in physical form to people when I was born in a physical body on Earth. The last time was 300 years before the birth of Christ, also on the territory of northern India (shows the foothills of the Himalayas), it was India, my name was Parusherama (approximately this is how I convey the name, it is somewhat..., okay, to convey thought forms with sounds). That was my name, and I transmitted information about Vedic knowledge, as a teacher and someone who writes books. I wrote something, rewrote it and at the same time was an official under the ruler in the city (shows), then I was a hermit and a teacher, but at the same time I also rewrote sacred texts from more ancient sources. First an official who copied books, and then a servant of God and at the same time worshipped Krishna, and I myself was his incarnation, worshipped Shiva and Krishna, of course, too, and I myself was an incarnation of Shiva. But if I want to come in a physical form, then I will have to be born in a physical body.

Inga: Previously, when a person was in trouble, he would pray to Shiva, and Shiva would come and save him. Is this possible now, and did this really happen? We are talking about believers, of course.

Irina: (Shiva says) He could have been saved by his Guardian Angel or some plasmoid civilization, you have to look. I am talking now specifically about how I can come in physical form. Physical form is a physical body, as I understand it. And in order to come to Earth in physical form, you need to be born, as you were born, Irina, and all other earthlings.

Inga: Does he plan to be born on Earth again?

Irina: (Shiva says) I have not yet completed even a quarter of my incarnation in the world where I am.

1:17:20 Energies of rituals and ceremonies.

Inga: What significance does Shiva lingam have for him? Is it so important to him that he prays to Shiva through Shiva lingam, waters it with milk, flowers?

Irina: (Shiva speaks) Each person decides for himself. It has no meaning for me. It is only a symbol of fertility and the male principle as the fertilizing principle in nature, it is expressed precisely through the image of the lingam as the image of the male sexual organ, as a symbol of Shiva in every man, as the male principle.

Naturally, all these rituals with reading mantras, pouring milk, it is clear that this is a certain attraction of plasmoid civilizations, including your earthly Shivas to charge this milk with certain energies of these plasmoid civilizations, energies of life, creation, fertility, success, luck. Plasmoid civilizations are attracted by your energies, your emotions in this ritual and in these holidays, because there is also (shows) a holiday dedicated to Shiva, on which such rituals are performed.

Inga: Today and tomorrow are the Shiva Festival.

Irina: (Shiva speaks) If you attract representatives of plasmoid civilizations, Shiv, Zhiv, who are responsible for the energy of life that I spoke about, and for the energy of life, and for the creation of the Souls of animals, plants, they are attracted not even by the ritual, but by those energies of yours in the form of emotions and thoughts that are connected with this, with this holiday.

Inga: So, the energy of the believers who pray to Shiva goes to the plasmoids who come?

Irina: (Shiva says) Yes, partly to them, partly to the Vedic egregor. Some energies are absorbed by plasmoid civilizations, and some energies go to the astral world, to that part of the astral world that the egregor occupies.

Inga: And this egregor is controlled directly by the Supreme Personality himself, Shiva himself?

Irina: (Shiva says) Krishna is the ruler there, there are his disciples and so on, there are 12 patrons. I am also considered one of the patrons of this egregor, but I am, as I already said, in incarnation, I control this egregor through my phantom.

Inga: And the Vedic religion is one of the very first religions, right?

Irina: (Shiva says) In terms of antiquity, yes, it arose earlier, almost simultaneously with Zoroastrianism, it arose earlier than Christianity and Islam, and Judaism. Of course, not in the form in which it exists now, but nevertheless, everything was simpler then, so to speak, many books had not yet been written, which were written later. It arose already under Krishna, but it was not on the territory of India, but on a larger territory, which was then occupied by the Aryan civilization. And this territory included the territory of the Caucasus, and the Urals, and modern Russia, it was a common Vedic civilization, in which there were no modern countries and states.

Inga: Why didn’t they leave this religion behind?

Irina: (Shiva says) Some religions replace others, this is quite natural. Religion appears and disappears in the same way as a certain state system in a particular state, as humanity is ready for the changes that a new religion or state system brings. For example, when the Souls that came to Earth to incarnate, for the most part, needed to go through the experience of the Vedic religion, they did, when the Souls that began to incarnate from the Spiritual world needed the experience of Islam and Christianity, the religion changed, this is quite natural. And it is quite natural that it will change again and even repeatedly.

Inga: I see. If you pray to Adi Shakti, will this energy also go to Shiva, if it is part of him?

Irina: Of course.

Inga: Because there are special separate songs, mantras of Adi Shakti.

Irina: (Shiva says) Yes, this energy will go to me, but Shakti is in you too, and in other beings, this is their essence. But in any case, if you direct your thoughts to me, then it will go to me.

1:22:50 The Legend of Daksha and Shiva. Images in Legends and Myths. Ganesha.

Inga: Who actually cut off Daksha's head, and how did it happen?

Irina: Can you give us more details? At least for our TV viewers, a little more detail.

Inga: As far as I know, Shiva's first wife, Sati, had a father named Daksha. She went to a meeting, where Shiva was not invited, although they should have invited him, and out of rage she burned herself. And Shiva got upset, angry, came and cut off her father's head. And then, when his wife began to ask him to revive him, he put a donkey's head in place of his father's head, I think, and he walked like that for some time until he realized who Shiva was.

Irina: Have you ever read fables, fairy tales?

Inga: In general, it’s a fairy tale.

Irina: Just imagine, they cut off a man's head, put on him the head of a donkey or a goat, or a bull, and he goes like that, right? What does this image say?

Inga: That it was not a person.

Irina: No, why? A person. What does it mean to cut off a head? What is it a symbol of?

Inga: Deprive him of knowledge.

Irina: (Shiva says) Not only. The head is not only a symbol of knowledge. It is a symbol of a certain way of thinking. It is said here, of course, it was not me in my image then, about these people who were spoken about there. Yes, there was such a story, it was connected with certain intertribal disagreements between two tribes, it was in ancient times, and it resulted in one person giving his daughter in marriage to another person, who just happened to be a contactee of Shiva, my contactee. He was a yogi, an ascetic, but at the same time, you probably know this, many yogis had a wife and even children.

The yogi was an ascetic, engaged in meditative practices, merged with me. His wife loved him very much, but her father treated his son-in-law, his daughter's husband, negatively because he considered him too poor, because he worshiped me and worked, and gave away his wealth. He scolded this contactee of mine, and they had scandals. They lived in different tribes and therefore rarely saw each other.

And then it happened that the father stopped communicating with his daughter and did not invite her to one of the big holidays, which was like the beginning of the year, it was not in winter, but in spring, then there was a different calendar, the beginning of the year was in spring, on the day of the vernal equinox. And it happened that he did not invite his daughter to this big holiday for this people, where he lived, and she came to this holiday herself. They had a scandal there, she saw that the whole family neglected her, and she killed herself. She committed suicide, but not by self-immolation, as it was in the myth, but simply poisoned herself, and later her relatives cremated her.

Her husband, who loved her very much, found out about this, he came, wanted to have a certain analysis, to find out the reason why it happened, and he was told that because of neglect of this daughter she committed suicide. And he began to take revenge for her, not just take revenge, but to restore justice, in your opinion, he wanted to punish the father and all his relatives.

Just when it says that he cut off his head and put the head of a goat, what does this mean? This means that he created such an image of this man in front of his tribe, that he has the features of an animal, he dehumanized him, he created a negative image, and then in the end, after several, however, decades, all this led to a fairly large military conflict between these two neighboring tribes. Firstly, they adhered to the principle of blood feud, this is simply one of the reasons. Of course, you can ask, and for what reason then did he not immediately kill this father and did not commit blood feud? For the reason that the representatives of his tribe still believed that she, his wife, decided to commit suicide herself, no one forced her, she did it simply because of an insult, no one killed her, why take revenge with blood? It was simply because of an insult, she had a choice to forgive this insult or not. But gradually, through dehumanization, my contact, who harbored a very strong grudge and revenge himself, set his friends, who constituted, one might say, the nobility of his tribe, against this father, told them that he was not a man, but an animal, and he must be destroyed. And in the end, a war began, which at that time took, if I remember correctly, about twenty thousand lives. This all happened approximately a little more than 3 thousand years ago.

Inga: But Ganesha, he also cut off a head, and then put up an elephant’s head.

Irina: Again, what is an elephant a symbol of?

Inga: Wisdom, probably.

Irina: (Shiva says) This means that I called Ganesha's mind inclined to the correct management of material wealth, because the elephant is also a symbol of wealth. Why did I call it that? Because Ganesha is, by the way, a very good patron of the financial egregor.

1:31:40 The Legend of Shiva and the Fifth Head of Brahma. Science of Imagery.

Inga: Was there such a thing and what was it like when Shiva cut off Brahma's fifth head?

Irina: Let's go through images again. Mead asks me: "Maybe we should introduce the Science of Imagery for people?" How do you like this subject?

Inga: Probably, she is missed, yes.

Irina: The head is an image of what?

Inga: The image of knowledge, thoughts. It turns out that all the heads were shouting that the Vedas are good, good knowledge, and the fifth head was shouting that the Vedas are bad, and Shiva couldn't stand it and cut off this fifth head.

Irina: (Shiva says) This only says that that Brahman... Brahman is again not a single being, I would not even say a being, it is a certain service, like an Angel. Here you have a Brahman, a certain person who performs, and so in the Spiritual world there is also a Brahman, like an Angel, a servant of God, that is, the Supreme Light Spirit. He can express ideas that can, when they are embodied, when these ideas are developed, they can lower his vibrations and take him out of the level of Angels.

The Vedas here are a symbol of Divine knowledge. If some Angel has doubts about the usefulness of some kind of Divine knowledge or some Divine wisdom, or even information, it happens that such doubts appear, then I or another Angel, I myself am now on the 23rd spiritual level, I or any other Angel can convince this Angel who expressed some idea of doubt about the usefulness of Divine knowledge or something else, and this doubt will be removed from his Spirit. And therefore, in figurative language it will be said that I cut off one of Brahma's heads. This means that I removed this doubt from his field.

Inga: How easy it all is to understand, I had to think about it myself.

Irina: MidgasKaus says: “Do you study the Science of Imagery at school?”

Inga: I don’t know now, they teach there or they don’t.

Irina: (MidgasKaus says) Do you think that Cassiopeia needs this school where they will explain the images of myths through psychology?

Inga: Probably. If not, then it is necessary.

Irina: Would you be interested?

Inga: It would be.

Irina: We will think about how to conduct these courses.

Inga: That would be great.

Irina: LiShioni greets and speaks.

I just listened to your conversation, really what Shiva said about images, about what certain objects or images symbolize in legends, in stories about gods, they symbolize certain spiritual qualities, spiritual qualities, their changes, interactions with each other. What Shiva just told us, really, the science of recognizing the meaning of images is taught to us from childhood in school, so I think that this subject is necessary for earthlings.

Inga: It is definitely necessary.

Irina: Okay, we will think about how to introduce it, but for this we need to develop a special program, when the meaning of images will be explained using certain examples taken from fairy tales, myths, fables and similar creative heritage of mankind. We will think about this program, for this we need to study certain books and people's creativity.

Inga: Yes, in Russian literature, Ukrainian literature there were such options where children were taught figurative thinking in verses and poems.

Irina: Bylinakh and so on.

Inga: And in fables too.

Irina: Yes, in fables animals also talk, they can also imagine that one animal, for example, there is a fairy tale where one animal ate the Sun or the Moon, these are also certain images of natural phenomena.

Inga: I have run out of questions.

Irina: Thank you, Shiva, thank you for the very interesting answers! LiShioni, MidgasKaus, thank you for your help! Thank you, Inga, for the interesting questions! Dear friends, thank you for watching this conference, I hope you liked it! I have to translate it, he sends a lot of thought forms, and I did not always have time to say the words, then I added what he meant, also an interesting contact for me. Thank you for watching this video, I send you the light of My Love, and to you, Inga, too, until next time!

MidgasKaus on military-chemical developments on Earth

Such research is conducted in military laboratories of different countries. Military chemical and biological laboratories are available in all countries with a sufficiently developed weapons-industrial complex. Where the state spends a significant amount of material resources not only on arming its armies, but also on research in this area: how to defend themselves, resist, etc. They have special military chemical and biological laboratories that can work under the guise of completely peaceful organizations - hospitals, pharmacies, some research institutes, on some completely unrelated topic, like studying geomagnetic electricity or something similar.

Scientists who also hold military ranks work in these laboratories. If we are talking about a military chemical laboratory, then this is the study of not only various substances that can cause a lethal outcome to people in a certain concentration. But so that it has, on the one hand, antidotes so that their own soldiers do not die, and on the other hand, so that it is a substance that is stable enough in the external environment and invisible to those people against whom it will have to be used. Such developments are the so-called chemical weapons.

And the second developments are substances that can influence consciousness, including in order to suppress it, to suppress a person's will. You have probably heard that there were developments in investigative bodies on how to use various substances during interrogations? Various substances and their combinations were used so that a person himself wanted to tell what he did not want to tell, that is, without the use of physical force, without torture, etc., for example, the introduction of a certain substance by injection.

They also tested a gaseous mixture so that the person himself would not understand that this effect was being exerted on him. In the case of an injection, he may understand that he was injected with something that alters his consciousness, and begin to resist it. This can distort the results. And if he simply inhales it, he may feel a strange smell, but not associate it with the fact that his consciousness is somehow being affected, and imperceptibly for himself he will fall into a state of non-euphoria, as if artificial excitement, which can even be accompanied by negative emotions and at the same time evoke vivid memories of the past in the mind. And he will want to talk about it. Vivid memories and emotional excitement arise due to the release of special hormones in the brain, hormone-like substances.

The interrogated person was called by the investigator and with special questions, treating him quite loyally, he was forced to be frank. And the person himself said what memories surfaced, completely losing control over his speech and his safety. That is, he no longer realized that he could cause himself danger by telling something that he did not want to say. Such studies were conducted.

As for the global influence on people's behavior, it's a bit more complicated because all people are different. The whole point here is that if you simply suppress thinking, this can, of course, be done: suppress some energy, make a person more sluggish, slower, so that he does not want to commit some crimes, organize some riots. Moreover, not only by spraying some gases, but also by simply adding certain psychotropic substances to tap water. But here lies the problem: along with the induction of this artificial calm, so to speak, a person's desire and energy to do something, to change something in his life, including work, for example, will fall.

That is, people can become less efficient, and then it will lead to nothing. The state will not be able to exist if it does not have various mechanisms that are built by the same people who actively promote their life position. If this activity is somehow dampened, they can fall into apathy. This will lead to nothing.

I know that such studies have been conducted, but they have reached a dead end, because your brain, the brain of earthlings, is structured differently than the brain of reptilians, and it is somewhat more difficult to influence. You have a good blood-brain barrier, through which few substances pass unchanged. And if they do, they have a very strong effect on behavior.

But I'll tell you more simply: if you spray such substances in the air to make people obedient, or add them to their water or food, this, for example, can lead to their reaction slowing down. And can you imagine what this will lead to on the streets of cities, where all people drive cars?! This is just one example. There are also people who work in hospitals, in schools and the army itself.

> Comment : How wonderful it would be to spray some such substance over the battlefield – and that's it: the soldiers would embrace and throw down their guns!

Irina : Then you have to spray it constantly. They will then come out of this state and stop hugging.

MidgasKaus : The whole point here is that soldiers on the battlefield have a so-called "dominant" in their behavior, a dominant in the brain. And here, a simple calming drug may not help, because, despite it, they will carry out the command that this dominant gives them.

Who created it? It was created by the Spirit itself. The Spirit that accepts the attitudes offered to it as an image of an enemy. Different countries that are actively involved in military actions with other countries actively use special political technologies for their entire society as a whole, and especially for the army (for it more concentratedly). These are purely political, psychological technologies, without chemistry.

How do political strategists manage to do this? They use the Science of Imagery, which has long been familiar to the Interstellar Union: they create certain images. Why are people susceptible to this? I believe that people are susceptible to this because the Science of Imagery is practically not studied at a serious level in Earth schools since childhood. For this reason, a person himself does not notice what image is offered to him to accept on faith, what feeling energy is being highlighted, and how this can affect a person's fate. And here we are taught all this knowledge in school.

#590 THE BEATITUDES COMMANDMENTS of the Sermon on the Mount as read by Irina Podzorova. Secrets of happiness from Jesus Christ.

August 3, 2023 (broadcast on the channel "This moment" from July 3, 2023)

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Natalia Belyauskene - correspondent, owner of the YouTube channel "This Moment": /@etotmoment;

The Phantom of Jesus Christ is the head of the Christian religious egregor on Earth, the Firstborn Son of God.

00:00 Start of video. Excerpts from the conversation.

"...And the persecution there was serious: only two of the 12 apostles ended their lives by natural causes..."

"...the pure in heart will see God, and he who sees God will see Him everywhere. But he who does not see God in himself will not see Him anywhere, no matter how many books he reads."

"...They are called "The Beatitudes". The word "beatitude" was translated into Russian, but in the original Greek it means "happiness"."

"...There is one truth, and it is everywhere. If a person is full of Love, he does not need any commandments..."

00:45 The essence of the content of Jesus' Sermon on the Mount.

Natalia: We spent a lot of time today on excursions and were in one of the temples where the eight commandments for Buddhists are located. And yesterday you and I talked about the Christian commandments that Christ gave. And I was amazed at how you read each commandment, because it opens the heart. I really wanted to talk to you about this.

Irina: Yes, indeed, all Spiritual Teachers, no matter what country they were in, if they were enlightened by the Light of Truth (and the Light of Truth is the Light of true Love) all spoke about the same thing in different languages in different eras, but the words of each of them reached the hearts of their contemporaries. Jesus Christ, Buddha, Prophet Mohammed, and other Spiritual Teachers - they taught people to be conscious, to pay attention not only to the body, but also to the Soul. Because if the purpose of a person's life is beyond earthly life, then all earthly life acquires eternal meaning.

Yesterday we talked about the Sermon on the Mount. And, indeed, all the truths that contactees and esotericists are now talking about were spoken back then - 2,000 years ago. What is the Sermon on the Mount? It is a sermon that Jesus Christ gave while on a mountain near the city of Capernaum. This is the so-called province of Galilee near Lake Tiberias (now Lake Kinneret, or, as it is also called, the Sea of Galilee). And in this sermon, Jesus Christ spoke about eternal truths, following which one can achieve transition, Ascension, enlightenment, holiness, calling the same state by different words. This is a state of endless happiness and meaning that gives a person the strength to fulfill all his dreams. And not just to fulfill his dreams, but to be satisfied with the results that he receives, and to go to the Spiritual world calmly, having passed to the highest Spiritual level, that is, to fulfill the goals and objectives of his incarnation.

As you already understand, I adhere to the concept that our Spirit is immortal. And that it travels in the Universe, moving from one body to another, fulfilling its eternal tasks: raising vibrations, that is, approaching divine qualities.

So, the Sermon on the Mount begins with the nine Beatitudes. They are called the "Beatism". The word "Bliss" was the translation into Russian, and in the original Greek it means "happiness". So they can be called the "Blessings of Happiness". And it talks about the stages of the spiritual path of each person, that is, where he begins the spiritual path, and where it leads him in the material and in the Spiritual world.

04:36 The First Beatitude about the poor in Spirit.

Irina: The First Commandment reads: “Blessed are the poor in Spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.”

Tell me, Natasha, when I told you, at first you didn’t understand what it was about speech?

Natalia: Yes, that is true.

Irina: Well, how can the poor in Spirit be blessed? We strive for the riches of the Spirit, we try to enrich ourselves spiritually as much as possible, and then suddenly it says, in the very first Commandment, that blessed are the poor in Spirit. What is this all about?

Here it is said that until a person wishes to find the Spirit in himself, to gain an understanding and a sense of the immortality of his Spirit and its belonging to God, until he wishes to find it in himself, as a beggar wishes to find money, then he is not blessed. That is, his blessedness begins with the fact that he begins the search, as a beggar seeks money. How much time he spends on this, how much energy he spends on this - this is how a person seeking spirituality directs his efforts in the search for the Spirit.

That is, it says here that blessed is he who seeks and asks God for spirituality in the same way as a beggar asks for money. In fact, the meaning is simple. And this Commandment speaks of the beginning of the spiritual path, because all spiritually seeking people, all esotericists, all followers of various religious systems in any case began with the understanding that material goods are not enough for them to be completely happy.

Natalia: We set out on this path.

Irina: They understood that they lacked something, like a beggar, again, understands that he lacks money. They understood that the entire material world is not able to satisfy their spiritual hunger. And they began to search: they began to spend their time, their energy to search for information, to pray to God, to study their Soul, to look for that spark there, from which a flame will later ignite.

And further: "Blessed are the poor in Spirit, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven." Why is it theirs? Because it is said here about what the end of their search will be if they go to the end. And what is the Kingdom of Heaven? These are the very highest regions of the Spiritual world, where the highest Angels, Archangels exist, where there is only Light, Love, Good. Everyone understands each other and penetrates into each other's thoughts and feelings, and becomes for each other like open books.

07:47 The Second Commandment is the beatitude for those who mourn.

Irina: The Second Commandment sounds a little scary to some because it reads: "Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted." Tell me, how can those who mourn be blessed, that is, happy? It doesn't sound very good.

Natalia: Well, yes.

Irina: Now let us remember that we are talking about the second stage of the spiritual path, which came after the search for spirituality. Man found something, he found the source of Light in himself. He began to review his entire life, all his actions from the position of the Spirit, from the position as if he had taken the side of God and began to look at himself through His eyes, that is, to analyze himself with the help of thoughts coming from the divine plane of reality. When he begins to look at himself through the eyes of God, he notices that he did not always act as his conscience told him, as Love showed him.

We have a certain Ray of Love, which is called "conscience", which always shows us how to act in order to come to the Highest Spiritual reality and become enlightened, holy. In any religion there are commandments that prescribe a certain behavior and forbid the opposite, so that a person does not leave the Highest Spiritual world in the lower, that is, does not become the opposite of God, does not become negative, etc.

And then a person begins to consider himself from the position of Love. And asks himself: "Have I always acted as Love told me to?" Naturally, those situations begin to appear before his spiritual gaze when he behaved completely differently than Love prescribes.

Natalia: And then he cries.

Irina: Tell me: a simple Commandment? The second stage can follow immediately after the first, or maybe years will pass between them. It depends on the specific person, how much he will work on himself, on changing himself. Or he will go into fanaticism and will work on changing others. This also happens. After all, it is easier to change others.

Natalia: Of course. That is, these are the steps of ascent in the Spirit. Each Commandment is the next step. Right?

Irina: Yes. "Blessed are those who mourn." Despite the fact that he cries, he begins to understand how much pain he brought to his loved ones, how he loved himself, did not love his loved ones, did not love God, and he begins to feel regret.

Where does regret come from? Regret is not a feeling of guilt, that I am guilty, and nothing can be fixed. Regret, although it reproaches itself for some bad deeds, is full of hope for changes, for the correction of the situation and, of course, for the Love of God, which accepts even the worst sinner.

And so further: "Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted." Why do they cry? Because through tears their internal psychological, energetic blocks come out. That is, through tears the process of purification of the Soul occurs. It is cleansed, renewed. Like the body after bathing in water, so the Soul, washed by tears, is renewed and comforted.

Natalia: I see.

11:52 The Third Beatitude is about the meek in Spirit.

Irina: The Third Commandment: "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth." This is in Russian. If you look at the Greek original, there will be a word that translates as "affectionate, gentle, good-natured, tender." They are blessed. That is, when a person has purified himself, his Spiritual heart has become softer, it is lenient to everyone, does not condemn anyone. He begins to speak kindly to everyone, begins to do good to everyone.

It is clear that he is happy in himself. And suddenly, this Commandment says: "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth." It would seem that all our material experience says the opposite. Because many people have experienced for themselves that the more good you do for people, the more such tenderness you show, the less inheritance you may have left, for obvious reasons.

Natalia: Because the strong and daring take more for themselves.

Irina: They see that a person is kind, gentle, soft, and they begin to take advantage of his kindness. Many have gone through this experience. Such a difficult experience - both for the one being used and for the one who uses. This may be a karmic knot. There is a need for forgiveness, and awareness, taking responsibility... There is a lot that needs to be done.

And here it says: "They shall inherit the earth." And what is the earth? It is not a piece of land where a person will live. The word "earth" in the Gospel usually refers to the image of the material world. What does "inherit" mean? Inherit means receive an inheritance. And who receives an inheritance? Which heir from the testator? The heirs are usually children. This was the case in Ancient Israel, in Ancient Greece. In Ancient Rome, there was also a law on inheritance at the time when these Commandments were written.

What does it mean "inherit the earth"? Who does the earth belong to, the entire material world? Naturally, to the Creator. And why do they inherit the earth? Because these people, who have gone through the previous stages, already feel like children of God. And if a child, then he is an heir.

And what does this mean in a practical sense? In a practical sense, this means that such a person feels the entire material world as a gift from God, as his inheritance. After all, the inheritance itself is not earned by a person - it is a gift from his parents. That is, he begins to perceive all material energies, his body, everything around him, his finances, all these trees, grass, sea, sun, all the elements, etc. as gifts from God. Gifts from his Father, which God gave him for joy, and therefore, he begins to be content with them.

That is, he begins to thank God and, naturally, becomes a conscious heir. And that means he manages his inheritance so that it multiplies, that it is purified. That is, he did not simply come into this material world to use it and leave, leaving some dirt to his descendants. He begins to be a very thrifty and economical manager of this inheritance, at the same time, thanking God for it.

It is clear, what stage of the spiritual path? Caring for the material world. How does a person behave who feels like an heir to everything around him? He will not consider some territory, for example, as intended for causing some harm there. He will treat all of nature as his beautiful garden: look after every plant, every animal. He will love them, he will take care of them, he will remember their purpose - this biosphere.

Is everything clear here?

Natalia: Yes.

Irina: You see: Jesus always spoke in a language that was understandable to the people.

Natalia: And then?

17:00 The Fourth Beatitudes about those who hunger and thirst for righteousness.

Irina: The next Commandment is: "Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled." "Alkat'" is a word that came to us from Church Slavonic, and it means "to starve." To hunger is hunger.

That is, here Jesus is talking about our basic needs - such as food and water. When a person experiences hunger and thirst, his thoughts constantly return to this topic. Simply those who are thirsty and hungry cannot be blessed, that is, happy in the spiritual sense, because all people experience this. So, here it is talking about something else.

And here we see the word "truth". If we analyze its original, which was written in Greek, we will see the word "righteousness". And what is righteousness? Righteousness is precisely life according to the Commandments. This is life according to the Commandments not out of fear of punishment from God, but out of love for Him.

Natalia: That is, they can't live without it, they hunger and thirst for it.

Irina: That is, the next Beatitude already speaks of the stage when a person strives to keep the Beatitudes and avoids breaking them, just as a person strives to eat and drink, and avoids hunger and thirst. And can you imagine such a person? He constantly lives by this. We constantly eat, drink water. So this person constantly keeps the Beatitudes.

And then there is a promise, or a promise: "For they shall be filled." What shall they be filled with? Righteousness, that is, they shall become righteous. Constantly fulfilling the Commandments, they shall raise their vibrations to the level of righteousness, that is, righteous people. And righteousness, as is known, is the constant fulfillment of the Commandments. And this is already half the way to holiness, that is, to absolute enlightenment, when it will not even occur to a person to break anything. His heart is full of Love. And as was also written by one contactee with Jesus already in the 19th century: "There is one Truth, and it is everywhere. If a person is full of Love, he does not need any commandments."

What do you feel?

Natalia: Love.

Irina: Do you understand what I'm talking about here?

Natalia: Yes, and then?

19:50 The Fifth Beatitude about the merciful.

Irina: The next Commandment is: "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy." The word "mercy" or "charity" has another name.

Natalia: Mercy is closer to me.

Irina: Merciful is gracious. Pardon - do you know what that is? Pardon was usually granted by the tsar. When a criminal was being led to execution, he could be pardoned. Why could they pardon? Also because of compassion.

Here we are talking about direct action, the cancellation of the action of a person's own karma. Here a righteous person ascends to the next level, when his karma of past reincarnations, this life, begins to be zeroed out. That is, the negative turns into positive, and they unite, annihilate and disappear. And a person becomes completely clean from all the consequences of his actions.

Do you know how this is possible? To be merciful to everyone. And this means to have mercy even on those who are evil. That is, to treat them with compassion. Why? The very word "mercy" in Greek sounds like "eleion" ("oil"). The same word in Greek means "olive oil". Olive oil used to be used to lubricate wounds, dissolving and infusing various herbs in it. Wounds were often treated with olive oil in the Mediterranean region of the Roman Empire.

Accordingly, if a sinner begins to sin, does not follow the righteous path... After all, a righteous person who has already reached this level can live next to completely different people - with a completely different consciousness, with their own blocks. He has already worked through his blocks, and therefore the behavior of others seems terrible to him. Does this happen? Especially if his gaze is directed outward, and not into the heart. He begins to watch: how did this one allow himself to do what I have not allowed myself to do for a long time?! Do you understand what this is about?

Natalia: And envy.

Irina: It's not even that I envy.

Natalia: Condemn.

Irina: He begins to take the place of God. And instead of God, punish this person at least with condemnation. Because condemnation is negative energy directed against a specific person.

But we must distinguish condemnation from criticism. For example, if you say that you are a liar, then this is condemnation. But if you say that this person is lying for the simple reason that I have certain arguments - this is criticism of certain actions. That is, you need to distinguish between these. And turning a blind eye to some destructive actions of others is also not worth it. But we simply do this without condemnation, with an understanding of why the person did this, and, naturally, with a willingness to forgive, with forgiveness for what he does. We forgive because he acts as his Soul tells him at this stage of development. He hears his Higher Self, his conscience, or rejects it. And this is natural for his level of development.

We ourselves could have been like that or even worse at some point in our lives, either in this life or in previous ones. That is, we went through such tough lessons. No one knows all their incarnations - who they were there and to what levels they descended. Accordingly, when we begin to judge and say that this particular person is bad, and we are better than them, we begin to descend to their level, or even lower, because we take on the function of God.

It happens when a very emotional person in a fit of emotion will say something judgmental to another, but then immediately change his thoughts and forgive him - that's one thing. And it happens that a person holds a grudge in his heart for a long time, no longer in emotions, and accordingly - this is a decrease in vibrations. That is, we understand that there are different situations here.

This Commandment speaks about the merciful. That is, when we see the shortcomings, the sins of others, we clearly see that he is wrong, he behaves in a way that hurts us very much, we ask: "Why does he behave like this?" And because his Soul is sick, it is all covered with wounds from past sins. I like the words of the Apostle Peter, which are also in the Bible, where he compares the sinner with such a very vivid image. He says: "The sinner is like a dog that licks a saw, getting drunk from the taste of its own blood." How do you like this comparison?

Natalia: A very vivid image.

Irina: Well, is it immediately clear what is being said here? That is, he does not notice how he hurts himself. Why does he get drunk from the taste of his own blood? Because a dog, of course, loves blood, and therefore it even drinks it and does not notice that it is hurting itself. In the same way, a sinner hurts his body, but intoxicated by this temporary joy or his excitement from sin, he does not notice the pain that is present in him. And when he begins to notice it, he does not want to heal his wounds, because he does not know how, or does not know how, or is already accustomed to doing so.

And he begins to hurt others. And if we are unkind to him, then when we see this person, we begin, for example, to say or write offensive words to him - those that hurt him even more. That is, we take the "sword of our lips" (there is such an expression) and begin to chop with it: "You are like this, why did you come here?! What are you doing here? I don't need you at all! Who are you?!" That is, we begin to humiliate him, trying to make him understand his place and, accordingly, stop behaving the way we do not want. So that everything around us is good, everyone is kind. And we begin to force people to be the way we want, even if not everyone is ready. But this is not mercy. We begin to hurt him, to inflict an even greater wound.

And what does a merciful person do? Here we see a wounded person, he screams in pain, and if we are merciful, now we take an ointment, and in ancient times they took olive oil and smeared the wounds, calmed them down. And what can you smear spiritual wounds with? Naturally, only with Love. That is, we begin to tell him that everything is fine, we will now understand what he wants. We will try to do everything to make him feel good. That is, we tell him that we are safe for him, and will do everything to help him.

So we start to lubricate these wounds. How do you think he will feel?

Natalia: He will calm down and maybe believe that there is justice, if he doesn't believe in it.

Irina: A very common situation, especially among esotericists who are on the Internet. A person comes to some esoteric chat and says that everyone there is a charlatan, or "who are you listening to, charlatans, idiots, stupid, fools" - and there may be other such words. They start to say in response: "What are you doing here? Go away!" They prove it to him with their behavior: when he sees this, he is convinced that he was right, and leaves with an even greater wound. Right?

Natalia: So. And should he be taken into foster care? What should be done?

Irina: No. It is necessary to ask: “Here you are. You call these people this way. For what reason, first of all, do you think so? Secondly, for what reason did you decide to say this here? Maybe someone offended you? Do you need help?”

Natalia: I understand what you're saying. True. In reality, sometimes in life it's not that easy to do.

Irina: It happens, okay, on a website, or in a chat, or on YouTube it's easy to do: turn it off and don't read. But if it's your friend or your relative, with whom you have to constantly communicate - the situation becomes many times more complicated.

But here it is necessary to understand that this relative or acquaintance of yours is given to us as a spiritual teacher. With his words he touches us on those unprocessed blocks that we still have. If they are all processed, then any offensive word of his will not cause us pain.

Is it clear who the merciful are? They pardon everyone to the maximum and anoint them with the oil of their Love, and they will be pardoned. They will be pardoned by God. This means that they will be given mercy and transferred to the next level, that is, an increase in their Spiritual level.

Is this Commandment clear?

Natalia: I see. And what next?

30:50 The Sixth Beatitudes for the pure in heart.

Irina: The next Commandment is: “Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.”

Natalia: Now that's closer. Everything is clear.

Irina: What do you feel?

Natalia: Pure in heart is when there is no longer any deceit in the heart, that is, complete acceptance and absolute Love.

Irina: What is being talked about here? What heart?

Natalia: About the spiritual.

Irina: About the spiritual, yes. And what should it be pure from?

Natalia: From everything that all previous Commandments were cleansed of.

Irina: Here we see that at this stage a person begins to cleanse his heart from the last negative blocks, feelings and desires incompatible with Love. And in a pure heart there is nothing but Divine Love, as well as other positive feelings associated with it: faith, hope, happiness, etc.

And why is he blessed? Because it says there: "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." So, to see God, to see God is bliss. And why is it bliss? Because when a person sees God with spiritual eyes, he will see a huge Spiritual being and will see himself in His composition, in His energy, and will know his unity with Him. And since God is absolutely happy, then he will also become absolutely happy.

And what is absolute unconditional happiness? It is not a temporary joy that depends on what makes us happy in life at the moment, and when it passes, sadness sets in. It is happiness, a state of consciousness that never retreats while a person is at this level. That is, a person is happy, is in complete acceptance and is filled with positive emotions. Because positive feelings give birth to positive emotions.

Natalia: And you had such an experience?

Irina: Yes, of course. I had such an experience when I felt myself a part of God and saw Him in my heart.

And why does it say that this person is happy? Because he who saw God in his heart. If it is clean, he begins to see God there, because he has cleaned it. Just as a window is cleaned and one begins to see the sun, so one cleans the glass of one's heart and begins to see God in oneself. And, naturally, if a person saw God in his heart, then he begins to see Him everywhere. Because he has already known the Divine energies, and has known that there is nothing else besides them.

Natalia: Did this happen to you when you were 12? I know.

Irina: Yes. It happened to me when I was 12. And quite suddenly, that is, I did not expect it. It was a contact with my Higher Self, as it turned out later. And I felt expansion, Light and Infinity, Eternity, that I am an eternal Spirit, and that I am always in the face of God - a loving being who endlessly sends me various energies in the form of material objects. And the people around me are also His children, who are going through their own experiences and are His particles, just like me.

Natalia: Does this experience seem just as vivid to you now?

Irina: I am speaking in words now, but there it was all feelings. That is, there were simply no such words, there were feelings.

Natalia: Is this experience being erased? How do you remember it?

Irina: I even remembered the day that happened. It was October 12, 1998.

of the year.

Natalia: Can you reproduce this feeling in yourself, or has it always been with you from that moment?

Irina: No. It is not always like this with me. I am in a normal state of consciousness. But if I start thinking about it and concentrate on this thought, then I remember this feeling, and it comes again.

For example, I am now thinking about those who are listening to me. I am telling you that you are divine beings. All objects around you are certain material substances that are given to you so that you can be happy. And if you are unhappy and suffer, it is only because you have made such a choice: not to see this Light and not to thank God for it. Because the Light is dissolved in every breath, in every sip of water, in all space. And every person close to you is, in fact, a Spiritual being. He is much more mysterious and unknown than an alien.

Natalia: It's true. That's why it's more interesting for me to talk to you about this, and not about aliens. Because we are people, we are here.

Irina: Although they are also divine entities. In essence, we are no different from them in our spiritual nature. We simply live in a world that has not yet entered the stage of development when a completely socially just society is built. We are only on the way to this. Because we have many people who are unconscious for various reasons: because of a past full of destruction, and because of a large number of people fixated on material existence, etc.

Natalia: Let's talk about the Commandments then.

Irina: So the pure in heart will see God, and he who sees God will see Him everywhere. But he who does not see God in himself will not see Him anywhere, no matter how many books he reads. So, is it clear what the Commandment is about?

37:26 The Seventh Beatitude is about peacemakers.

Irina: The next Commandment is: "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God." Do you understand what this means?

Natalia: About those who do everything to ensure peace.

Irina: Yes. This is the one who reconciles the warring parties, who does not take sides, but tries to consider any dispute as objectively as possible. This is already the level of Spiritual Teachers. Of course, after the purity of the heart, as we see, right?

This is already the level of Spiritual Teachers, to whom people come to resolve various disputes: both family and even interstate. Because there was such a thing that Saints, enlightened people in Ancient Rus' reconciled warring princes, that is, ancient politicians. They called them to see each other as brothers, not enemies.

Why does it say there that such people will be called "sons of God"? Because they will create peace, as God gives peace to the nations. That is, He calls for peace, and they begin to repeat after Him.

"Called the sons of God." They do not simply feel themselves "sons of God," they begin to resemble God. Naming is the acquisition of a name. The son must be like the Father. Isn't that so? For if the son is not like the Father, he renounces part of his energy. And here the son begins to resemble the Father more and more, he begins to recognize Him in himself, himself in Him, and to communicate consciously with Him.

39:22 The Eighth Beatitudes about those who were persecuted for righteousness' sake.

Irina: The next Commandment: "Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." Here is the same commandment as before: "Blessed are the poor in Spirit." Also "theirs is the kingdom of heaven," just as "blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake."

It happens that the peacemaker lives and begins to be the Light. And this Light begins to be seen far away. And it happens that the people around him are still in the darkness compared to him - in the darkness of their delusions, vices and blocks. That is, their Light is not as bright, they are at lower levels of spiritual development (Light and darkness, of course, are images for levels). And they begin to understand that they also want to be such a conductor of Light as this person, but they do not have the strength or desire to go through the entire spiritual path, starting with "blessed are the poor in Spirit" and so on, which I talked about.

After all, this path is quite difficult for many. And then they look at this person, and he begins to irritate them. Because the very presence of this person begins to awaken their own conscience, and they want to reject it. And then for this truth, for this righteousness (there is also the word "righteousness"), that is, for observing these Commandments, a person begins to simply be persecuted: his rights are infringed, he is expelled, he is not communicated with.

This can be expressed in different forms at different times. At the time when Christ lived, it was expressed harshly, because the laws were different then. They could not only banish, but also kill, as they killed Christ himself. And, by the way, they killed Him precisely for the truth. He did not commit a single sinful act or crime against the law, He did not commit the crime for which such an execution was prescribed. And that means that He was not only banished for the truth, but also killed for it. And He still did not renounce it.

Why are they blessed? Because if a person does not submit to such circumstances and does not renounce God, his spiritual path, but without condemning these people, the stages of which he has already passed, understanding and accepting their side (even agreeing to leave), then he preserves the presence of God in himself. Because he has completely trusted Him, he loves these people completely. And the one who has completely trusted and who fully shows Love, there is no fear in him. Because, as John the Theologian said, "perfect Love casts out fear."

Natalia: Beautiful!

Irina: That is, he loves completely, trusts completely, and he has no fear that these people can do something to him and somehow deprive him of this happiness. Yes, they can deprive him of his body, they can deprive him of his incarnation, but no one can deprive him of his Soul. No one can deprive his Soul of contact with God either. You can only kill, execute, lock in a dungeon, etc. You can do something with the body, but with the Soul it is impossible.

43:02 The Ninth Beatitude about those who were cast out and mocked for Jesus Christ.

Irina: Well, and the last thing: "Blessed are you (He is already addressing those present here), when they persecute you, and revile you, and say all kinds of evil against you for My sake. Rejoice and be glad, for great is your reward in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you." Here again the theme is continued. That is, not simply driven out for the truth, but we are already saying: "... persecute, revile, insult, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely for My sake." What does it mean to "speak evil falsely"? Essentially, it is to slander.

Natalia: To slander God?

Irina: To slander these people, if “they will slander you.”

Natalia: There it is “for Me”, that is, to slander for Christ, it turns out. It is His words?

Irina: Look. "They will slander you because of Me." For Me - that means for those ideas, for that faith, for that Love that Christ showed to them. Why did he say that? He saw the future perfectly. When he was in that time, he saw all the future options, including those that assumed persecution of his disciples. And the persecution there was serious: only two of the 12 apostles died a natural death.

The Christian church, the Christian religion began as a small sect, as a movement within Judaism. And this sect was not recognized by anyone - neither by the state, nor by other religions that existed at that time. And it was constantly persecuted, because Christians were ordered to worship only Christ, but not other gods. After all, there was monotheism - faith in one God. And the very idea of polytheism was unacceptable to them: otherwise the egregor would collapse due to the fact that you recognize other gods. And for the Roman Empire, it was essential that they not even worship all the gods, the entire pantheon, but that they recognize the emperor as God and also pray to him, sacrifice to his statue, etc.

Christians could not do this. The Emperor was an ordinary man for them, and they refused such idolatry - to set up a man as God. And for this they were persecuted. But in essence, they were persecuted for Christ, for the truth. This is what we have just talked about. And accordingly, they were given such a Commandment: "Rejoice and be glad!" That is, He consoled them in advance: "Do not be sad, do not be discouraged, do not get angry in response, do not be afraid, etc., but rejoice and be glad that you are persecuted, for great is your reward in Heaven."

That is, He told them: "Even if you are poor here, destitute, you are persecuted, and you are nobody in this world. Why is there a reward in heaven? Because with your Love, by not responding to evil with evil, you acquire the highest Spiritual level. And this reward is the amount of Light and Divine energies that the Spirit will acquire when it leaves incarnation. That is, this is the fulfillment of its tasks."

And then He adds: "For so they persecuted the prophets who were before you." Who is He talking about? About many prophets, mainly, of course, Jewish, because in Judaism before Christ there were ancient prophets who spoke with the kings of Israel, conveying to them the truth from God: they conveyed, as a contact with God, the words of God that the kings did not like. The prophets were expelled, even executed, etc. But they still did not deviate from these words.

For example, the prophet Jeremiah, the prophet Ezekiel, who warned the ancient Israeli kings that they should abandon their sins, begin to follow the commandments, reduce corruption, etc. There were many sins, that is, violations of the commandments given by Moses. "Otherwise," they warned, "if you sin, God will allow and send another nation against your people, and you will be conquered and deprived of freedom, and you will be in captivity." They told the kings this because this is the law of national karma. If the egregor of a nation begins to lower its vibrations, another nation may attack it.

Accordingly, these prophets warned their kings, and for this they were recognized as traitors, because they recognized that another nation would defeat them. And for this betrayal they were either expelled from the city, or executed. That is, there were different circumstances: they were deprived of their property, imprisoned, beaten.

Natalia: This has always been the case.

Irina: But despite this, what they spoke about came true anyway - 70 years of Babylonian captivity. In the end, the Babylonian army of the Chaldeans attacked Israel. They conquered all of Israel, destroyed Jerusalem, took many people into captivity, and imposed a tribute on the rest. It was like this: they destroyed all of Jerusalem, burned the Temple of Jerusalem. And accordingly, these words that the prophets spoke came true. But then it was too late.

Because 70 years of captivity had already passed. And then, nevertheless, those people who were in captivity of the Babylonian king, who captured their state, managed to become officials in this state and began to ask the Babylonian king now to return and rebuild their city. And he, seeing their good behavior, allowed it. Because what can they not allow, if they behave correctly, do not threaten to attack or something else? They said: "We would rather pay tribute, but rebuild our city."

We were just talking about the Beatitudes. I just told you all about them. Any questions?

Natalia: I wanted to clarify: you received some understanding, some awareness of the fullness of this Sermon on the Mount there, when you were in Israel? Am I right? Did you have some kind of contact there?

Irina: In general, the Ray of Christ Consciousness is built into my Spiritual channel. He built it into me before my first contact with His Phantom, because He said that otherwise it would not be possible to transmit words from His Phantom. I gave my consent, and then I went into the Astral. And He tuned the Ray of Christ Consciousness to me through the Astral. And now it turns on for me when I need to explain some words from the Bible or from another spiritual book. If I ask Him, it turns on and begins to speak even in words that I cannot find.

Natalia: This is amazing, of course. And were you incarnated during the time of Christ? Did you have such lives?

Irina: Come on, let's not talk about it. I don't want to talk about it.

Natalia: Okay. Then thank you from the bottom of my heart for this conversation, because it seems to me to be useful to many! At least for me it was very useful.

Irina: Thank you.

Natalia: And for your clear images and such detailed comments - this is great! Thank you!

We sat, risking our lives, under a coconut tree. But, thank God, nothing happened.

fell.

Irina: Yes. Bye everyone!

Natalia: And the sun set. The sunset was amazing. Very cool!

Hello, dear friends! Hello everyone! I greet you all! Good evening to all! I congratulate everyone on Palm Sunday! Today is the entrance of the Lord Jerusalem. We remember this day when Christ was greeted and recognized as the King. They recognized Him as the King of Israel, the Messiah, the Mashiach. And next to him at that moment walked the apostles, who entered Rusalim with him, accompanied him. And this included the apostle Judas of Coriot, who later dropped out of the apostles. As you know, his place, he was among the 12 apostles, and dropped out of the apostles. Just a little more than a week after this celebration, after this solemn entrance, they arose. And his place was taken by ... Apostle Matthias. Not Matthew, but Matthias is another such apostle. Today we will talk with ... Sapostov Judas of Coriot. I remind you that he is now incarnate. We will talk to the phantom, his higher self, which contains the memory of the soul of the apostle Jude of Coreoto, with the permission and permission of the embodied part, with which, with this person we met, I am familiar with him, and, accordingly, he gave permission for his higher self to single out this phantom. The phantom in the form of the image of the apostle Jude. Iscariot is already present with us. And ... I will help! one of the angels-guides will come to him. who is also present with us now and who is a specialist in interaction. the spiritual world and the material world. Specialists in communication, one can say, in spiritualism, mediumship, that is, he helps to communicate with the spirit. Helps to communicate with the non-embodied spirit and non-embodied parts of spirits, that is, the higher self with people. this angel-guide. His name is ... Yes, his spiritual name is Archias. Greetings to you, Archias. archiaauthor. Well, the soul of Judah from Coryota is also present with us in all its flesh, memory and consciousness. It greets you too. Mikhail, greetings. Good health to all! Happy Verno Sunday, brothers and sisters! Our broadcast today will be structured in such a way that the questions from the Telegram chat, I have compiled, and will be structured as a conversation. I mean, this will not be a separate question, maybe. Although there will be separate ones too, and I have compiled them so that there is a coherent narrative, so that there are no questions taken out of context. Hello, Judah. Excuse me, please, how should I address you? Judah. According to Russian transportation, it will be Judah. And what did they call me, he tells me like Yehuda. You are more accustomed to Judah. Yehuda. Tell me, please, is the self-designation of the Jewish people, Jews, somehow connected with your name? Or was it already during your lifetime? what exactly was direct life. Well, and the Jews call themselves Jews. Is it connected with your name? With the name, yes, but not with me. With you, no. Yes. Clear. It was already... And I've probably heard that Israel is divided into 19 tribes. Yes. And one of them is called Judah. It was one of the sons of Jacob, who later took the name Israel. Well, that's what he was called. Accordingly, Judea was named after the tribe of Judah. as such a kingdom,which separated from Israel during the reign of King David. Thank you. So, the first question. Where were you born? What year? How did you grow up? What family? Say what you think is necessary, important for us. I was born into a family in the suburbs of Yursalim. Well, not far from Yursalim, to the south he shows me, to the south. It was considered a suburb of Yursalim. 10 years... before the year that you call the beginning of a new era. in what grid is the output. It shows that it is... 10 BC, at least that is the number I see now it was the beginning of April when I was born. I lived in a family. which occupied a position in my people. Yes, it shows me, yes, my mother was, well, like all women, she looked after me and my younger brother, whose name was Daniel. My father's name was Shimo. Shi Mo. I understand. And my mother... Ayla, that's her name, she was at home, and my father was weaving. He's showing me now how in his youth he wove some nets for fishermen, and then he learned to be a potter, that is, something like making dishes. I grew up like everyone else, and initially I... Yes, I grew up like all the boys in my village, which was a suburb of Jerusalem. And I very often went to the synagogue. And it was there that I first heard about Jesus. I acquired a profession, like my father. He's now showing how to make pots. Thank you. Tell me, please, what did you look like? Maybe you can give a better image of Iri, if you remember, of course? I see a man of solid build, about 1 meter 70 tall and no more. Dark hair and a beard, so plump. And... I don't see anything else remarkable. He was no different from... At least, I couldn't write, for example, recognize him in that loop. But according to your feelings, were you a handsome man, attractive to women? Or gray, ordinary and simple? I was not interested in this. Good. Did you have children and a family? I had a wife. He shows me a girl as a name, like Elizabeth. But she did not leave me children, because she was barren. Thank you. What significant incarnations did you have before this, if you remember? Before Judas? Yes. In general, I ... Well, I'll just explain now. Specifically, the memory of Judas. Well, maybe then there is no need, if it is difficult. Yes, please ask for information. Yes, he says that he has already received information from his Spirit, which singled him out. My significant incarnations were also in Israel. I was one of David's assistants, that is, he is showing me now. And ... He was one of the major military leaders. like the name Tomask. Shows that the name was Thomas, and he was one of the major military leaders in the time of David. Even earlier, I was incarnated as one of the sons. A man named Ishmael. Do you know who that is? No. Well, he is Abraham's son from Agal. That is, one of Ishmael's sons, I will simply explain now, he is the ancestor of the Arab people. Thank you. And this is on Earth, and on other planets I had an incarnation, several incarnations, but from the planets known to you, he is showing me now, I just don't know them, some creatures too, they look like reptilians, some crocodiles with tails.Of the planets known to you, I was incarnated in Shemor and held the post of a scientist there, who explored. space, that is, how he established connections between Shemor and Burkhad during the time of their unification. and the creation of the initial interplanetary union. Thank you for your answer. We will show that it has such a smell from the ice. Maybe you remember the level from which you incarnated for this incarnation, as Judas? As Judas? Yes, I remember, I incarnated from the 14th level. Thank you. Well, it is always very rewarding for us to listen to the broadcasts when the spirit tells about itself, where it incarnated, where it rose to a certain level, where it descended. But I will ask this question at the end, when we learn the answers to the most important questions. Thank you. And why did you choose this incarnation? Did you know about your mission in advance? Yes. I knew about my mission in advance. My mission was, my task was to raise, well, yes, to raise my spiritual level, becoming a disciple of Jesus Christ and to help people. That is, it was planned by me. Thank you. But what you pointed to Jesus, at the secret... evening, was that also planned in advance or did you decide during the course of action later? No, it was not planned, it was a decision of my already embodied part at that time. Thank you. Well, to what extent did you fulfill your tasks of incarnation? I did not fulfill my tasks of incarnation, I refused incarnation, I left it. at the age of yes, he shows me at the age of 40. I left by suicide. Tell me, was it scary when you got to the semi-met? I reached the fourth level. How did they greet you there? Were you scared? I was greeted by a whole army. He shows me like an army, like soldiers, spirits. Spirits that took the forms of soldiers, the same ones that tormented Christ, who I saw being beaten when he was still alive. That is, you left... I saw that the same soldiers were meeting me, that is, these spirits took the form of Roman soldiers, and they also began to laugh at me, to beat me. And in the spiritual world, if the spirit accepts what is happening as reality, it can feel pain. But it will not be physical, but it will be... rather internal, as an idea of pain. horror, and you cannot escape from this, because you left this world, you ended your life in order to stop this suffering. You probably had some very great mental suffering. Yes, I thought that I was not stagnant in life because I betrayed my teacher, who did a lot of good for me and the people. I betrayed him precisely by taking money for it, and by this I stained my conscience. which, as I believe, well, I am now showing my state in the pre-return, which, as I believe, nothing can cleanse. It is terrible. Tell me, what is the highest and lowest spiritual level you have reached? The highest level I reached was 22 just after Shimor. And the lowest, here is the fourth. I want to remind you that he was the fourth to come out precisely after the incarnation of Judas. Now he has another one, his incarnation. Thank God. The question,what does the nickname Iscariot mean. In the time of Isknuis, there was a group of Jewish rebels who supported the violent overthrow of Roman rule. They were called the Sicarii. Let's say you were a Zealot. So when you realized that Jesus was not going to overthrow the Romans, you turned away from him and betrayed him to the authorities. yes, but there are some truths here, but I had other goals. Yes, and from the point of view of the language of knowledge, we can assume that Iscariot comes from the Hebrew word Ish-Karioth, where Ish is a person, and Karioth is the name of a settlement. In the 25th book of Joshua, a city with this name in the southern part of Israel is mentioned. Karioth-Hetzron. In general, this was the name of the city's border. Yeah, by the way, we had exactly this news in the chat. That is, iskorot - it is from the suburbs of the city, right? That is, like it is from the suburbs. Clear, clear. What did you do before you met Jesus? You were a potter, they show that they made pottery together with their father. Well, by the way, the high priests bought land for some potter with these 30 pieces of silver. Wasn't it your father or you who bought the land with this money? No. There was just a potter there. Okay. Let's start with the most interesting part. How did you meet Jesus and how did you decide to become his disciple? He was in Barsalem, he already had disciples, he was surrounded by a crowd. I listened to his sermon, concerning me now he shows on the mountain, that is, yes, not far from Jerusalem. He generally liked to give sermons like on such hills. That is, you know that there is the Sermon on the Mount, which was in the vicinity of Lake Kenneret. Accordingly, in other places in Israel he also liked to give sermons, how to tell people about God, precisely in places where there are such hills. This was in the vicinity of Jerusalem too. I saw him there, he was telling parables, I came up to listen, and he immediately showed from the first words. captivated my heart, I realized that this was the meeting I had been waiting for my whole life. show that he has such a joy. And the understanding that he is from here... Yes. I had an understanding that I would never leave this man again. And who did you see in the face of Jesus? And what prompted you to walk with him? I understood that this was the Divine Essence, I understood that this was not just a prophet or a teacher, that this was... a great-great divine light, embodied in the body of a man. I did not even need some miracle that he did for proof of this faith. I felt it myself. And I... with all my soul was drawn to him and wanted to be like him. That is, he was my ideal, he was my God. And were you with him constantly or did you come only for a while? Constantly, in due time, as he chose the apostles, me as one of them. I walked with him around the cities, we often spent the night in a field under the stars. something like haystacks or something similar, hiding under the trees from the rain, these are the conditions. Sometimes, probably, you were invited to some rich house. This happened, but I am talking about the conditions that were, I remember more often,These gatherings by the fire near the lake or the river, where we baked fish, cooked fish soup, like in nature, and talked, talked, talked. Well, as I understand it, with such a large number of conversations, only a hundredth part of it got into the Gospel? Of course. After all, even my friend and spiritual brother, the Apostle John the Theologian, clearly wrote in his Gospel that if we were to write in detail about the life of Jesus... that the whole world could not contain the books written. Do you know what he wrote in place of the Russian word for "вмир"? What? Space. The whole space could not contain the books written about the SVS. Did he tell you about other worlds, about flights? Have you flown on Vimars, on Vaitmans? He told you that he met with people from the stars. There was one, he told us about it. More than the people, because we were closer to him, we were with him constantly. But I didn't fly myself, but I saw from the side, how... We are now showing how Jesus leaves, and a glowing disk lands on the field. That is, I saw, I witnessed these contacts. But was there no desire to go into this disk with him? No, it was more like awe, do you understand these words? Yes. Well, that is, there was no such thing as understanding that this was possible for me. And what did you call Jesus? Rabi? Teacher, yes, teacher. Teacher, sometimes just a friend, very informal communication, he shows me. How they laughed, he is now showing me images that Jesus could laugh, tell them something funny, and they are like friends. Probably, he could joke there, right? Yes. By the way, and... Such a subtle and strong sense of humor. Great. And can you give me some joke from Jesus now? Rather, he did not even joke, but rather some jokes. He told his parables and gave instructions precisely with humor. For example, he noticed something in the people around him. Something like funny. His speech was generally very figurative and at the same time very simple. Yes, for example, I remember from the funny things, what personally seemed funny to me was when he told a parable. He told a parable about prudence, how to be wise in this world. And he gave this example. What if... If a person starts to build a house without calculating how much money he needs, without calculating how many workers he needs, how many resources he needs, then when he announces to everyone that he will soon build a house, When he runs out of resources, then he will show everyone that he is a deceiver and that they will laugh at him. That is, he told it with such humor, this is just a Russian translation now, but he used such Jewish expressions that were very funny. And what is the instructive meaning of this parable? The instructive meaning is that before... setting yourself some kind of plan, you need to set yourself some kind of goal, you need to clearly understand whether you have enough resources to achieve it. Yes, very interesting. Tell us another parable. I can feel it, you're telling it as if I were standing there now. There were many. For example, from the same series, a parable, Jesus also gave an example,what if the ruler of one country learned that a military campaign was launched against his country, another ruler wanted to seize his state, what should this ruler do? And

Jesus said, if he is wise... He needs to sit down with his military leaders. And... put his army, which he has, and the army of the ruler, the king, here he spoke the word as a king, and the army of the king, which is going to his state. And if he sees that he has 10 thousand, well, he is just like a comparison, he shows that this was not a matter of numbers, but a metaphor as in comparing forces. And if this king sees that he has an army of 10 thousand, and the king who is going with an army against his state has an army of 20 thousand, and sees that he can do nothing, then if he is a prudent, wise king, who consults with God in his heart, then he will send ambassadors to ask for peace while he is still far away. Doesn't it sound funny? Well, it's so simple, naturally, isn't it? Well, there's nothing funny about it, actually, it's a lesson. Well, that is, he said that the wise and intelligent one would send ambassadors while he was still far away, because he had a larger army, and if he didn't try to make peace with him while he hadn't attacked him yet, he could lose everything. the entire state. And again, it was in such expressions that it sounded very humorous in the sense that it exposed, well, how not the wisdom, but the stupidity of this Tar. Well, it's all about the context. Yes, thank you. That is, there were such parables. Or, for example, also, probably, a parable known to you, I think about how several women stored up oil when they were waiting for the groom, and several did not. No, we know about this reason, it's not in the Gospel. There is. Yes? Listen... Well, I don't remember. Well, I'm not an expert, of course. Well, tell me. Well, Jesus also told about it. that they were waiting for the groom at the wedding. That's how 10 brides are. And since he. slowly whip 5 Well, that's how he's showing me now Some had oil, yes, in reserve, and some ran out. And those who ran out, they... Aaaa tried to buy it from those who didn't have it. Yes, from those who had it, but they said it was necessary earlier. To bathe. And the meaning of this parable was that faith was understood by oil, and Jesus himself was understood by the groom, who was supposed to come at the second coming. That is, it's like waiting for Jesus. That is, the meaning was that those who got to this feast just happened to have full lamps, and the rest... whose lamps went out and had no oil, they got there. They were left in the darkness. Yes, yes, yes. Thank you very much. That is, well, there were many such parables. It's a pity that most of them have been lost. Yes, by the way, not all the parables have been written down. There were, as I already said, there were many deeds of Jesus. Deeds of His disciples, well, like, yes, us, His disciples. At the time when we walked with Him, there were many conversations and all sorts of actions that did not make it into the Gospel, because the Evangelists, they generally wrote down the most, how to say, the most important things. Well, by the way, about the notes. You saw it yourself,What does someone write down? And in general, how possible was it? Well, there were some who wrote, kept some kind of records of words, but it was rather fragmentary. It wasn't really systematic, like they wrote, walked, and followed each word. No, it was all like diary entries. And what did they write on and what did they write with? It was very difficult back then, wasn't it? On papyrus with special sticks, they're showing me some now. But it was expensive, papyrus was expensive, like they carried papyrus with them. That's what I'm saying, that's why when it didn't always work out, when it was, well, not exactly the same, but expensive. Well, yes, it cost money and some bought it. Who wanted to do it? Well, did you know how to write? And read, right? I knew how. That is, did everyone know how to write and read, or very little? We, ours, and from the 12 messages, yes, all By the way, here is one question from our subscribers did Jesus himself choose the apostles or did he just follow whoever wanted, did he reject some, and not others. How was it? Another question. Well, did he reject, who were they? No. The question sounds like this: did the one who wanted follow Jesus and become his disciple, or did Jesus himself say, you, you and you will be my disciples, and drive the rest away? He did not drive anyone away, he simply chose some as apostles, others as just disciples. For example, he had not only apostles, there were just disciples, of whom there were many more. And he did not drive anyone away from this circle, but he chose as apostles those who were ready by their energy, by their vibrations to accept his power, so that we could heal, how to heal the sick, cast out various demons there. return the souls of people who... Well, like they were at death's door, or something like that. Well, like that. Energy, power, like a miracle worker... Miracle worker. And how did he transfer this power to you? With the help of technical means or by laying on of hands? Which, strictly speaking, I can't guess, technical means are needed. Well, you never know. For this, his prayer and laying on of hands were enough, approximately as it happens now during the ordination of a priest. Thank you. Why exactly were you chosen as the Treasurer? And many people ask directly, but this is different... This was my task in this gathering of disciples, I would say, in such a detachment, of apostles and a teacher. This was my task. Why exactly me? Well, as Jesus himself told me, I was there as the oldest. The thing is that I was 6 years older than Jesus himself. And I was the oldest among the apostles in age. And I was trusted as the most serious, as the oldest, as the one who... I very often thought about where we would sleep, where we would eat, what we would buy. Well, that is, I was a little more materialistic. Everyone there was thinking about high matters, how to tell a parable, how to reach the heights of prayer, how to be saved from sin. And I thought, this is all, of course, good. The soul, of course, flies high, this is very good. The body also needs, so to speak, a comfortable place. Well, Jesus told you that you do not worry about where you will sleep, what you will eat,don't have two pairs of shoes. And of course, why worry if there is someone to take care of, why worry, right? Well, what do you think, is it because you had less faith or is it... I have a more... Maybe you have met such believers who do not forget to eat on time, sleep and arrange for themselves, so to speak, a strong household? Well, we even have such a saying: trust in God, but do not cry for yourself. I will ask you a question, many people ask it very simply, I myself do not believe in it, I understand that it is absurd. During this time, did you take anything for yourself from the cash register? Yes, that happened. Well, just like... For your own needs? Yes. I did it even... Well, not exactly secretly, there were some who called me a thief, or something like that. I believed that I had the right to this, because I, along with all the apostles, endure the same hardships of our path. That I also spread the faith, that I also put my energy, my power. And I have every right to what Jesus collects, what people give him. in his service. I did not consider this something as a trespass. I understood. I heard that even some apostles told me in conversations that they suspected me of stealing. I answered them that I have... Well, that's how... I did not make excuses. I say that I have the right to take for my needs, what I wanted from mine, to eat, he is showing me now, to buy, for example, I bought myself strong shoes after mine got sick, or gave alms to someone without asking Jesus about it, because he trusted me. And I even answered this latecomer, he trusted me with this treasury, this box of money. And I even asked this apostle, what do you think, Jesus is God for you? Do you think he would trust the treasury to someone who robs him? So, you don't trust Jesus anymore? What happened if the other apostles' shoes wore out? Did you buy them shoes? From that money? Well, if they asked, yes. If not, I forced... I didn't run after anyone by force. Well, I understand. You... Well, okay. In general, it's clear to everyone, right? That there was no theft. It was just a person taking some... for his own needs. Let's close this issue. In 1978, the Gospel of Judas was found in one of the caves. Please tell me, what relation could it have to you? After all, you died immediately after Jesus's death. This text, it has nothing to do with me. I didn't write anything during that time, I didn't write anything down at all. I wasn't interested in it. I decided even before I committed betrayal, when I walked with Jesus, I naturally thought about what would happen next, where I would go next, where I would go to spread this faith, Christianity, like our teaching. And I always thought that I would do it orally. Maybe I would write my Gospel there sometime in the future, but I did not write it. Other people wrote it later, after I left the Incarnation. Why did they not write my name as the author? Well, for the reason that the essence that transmitted it to the one who wrote it. This text was presented with me.Do you know about this or do you just think so? I looked it up in Gregor. But, by the way, this Gospel is called differently from the others. Let's say, the Gospel of Matthew, the Gospel of Luke. It is simply called the Gospel of Judas. And this is precisely what is meant by what other people wrote, but the description of your life can be... Indeed, as you say, "the spirit does not..." I do not see a description of life, but those words that I allegedly said there. Yes, yes, yes. And there it is written that... you were the main disciple, to whom he imparted the most secret knowledge. Is that so? I believe that he imparted the secret knowledge to everyone, if we mean those that he imparted to the apostles, that is, that he explained to us in private those meanings of the parables that he did not explain to the people. That this was to all twelve, and not just to me. Thank you. But there is also this moment, that Jesus had a secret conversation with you, and there he hinted to you, asked, asking that you hand him over to the high priests, because the idea of being disembodied in this way is known to us through other scriptures. Did you have such a conversation with Jesus? Why would he ask me? Well, so that you... Here I hugged him, handed him over to the high priest. Why would he ask me to hand him over to the high priest, if he could come to him himself at any moment? No, well, here is this episode, which was at the Last Supper, that Jesus himself supposedly asked you to do so. That did not happen. It did not. Well, I know from what conversation this rumor came, but it was not like that. There was a different meaning. Yes. That he, when we were on the last... Easter, as he wrote on the holiday, on the last evening, which was later called the Last Supper. Perhaps you heard about it. how we had the last Last Supper, which Jesus gave us all communion on Az. Perhaps you remember this? Of course. When he broke the bread and gave everyone bread, wine, and we all ate the Passover together. Do you know what Passover is, by the way? Well, do you mean Pesach? Or Passover as bread itself? Pesach. Jewish Passover. Jewish Passover. Well, there's something scary there. What's scary about that? There, in my opinion, when... Well, okay, you tell me. It was a lamb with bitter herbs, which was roasted as if on a fire, and it had to be eaten without breaking its bones. That is, the eating of this lamb was called peresachah and the holiday itself was, right? Yes, this is what was meant by eating the Passover, because it was a holiday, the people of Israel from Egypt, when they anointed the yew with blood, before that they anointed the doorposts, on the last, like night, yes, so that the angel who takes lives would take life not only from the Egyptians, but not from the Jews. Do you know the story? Well, I call it scary. Well, from the age of 14, slavery is not scary, or history, or when the Egyptian king ordered to immediately kill with a sword or drown all Jewish newborn boys. and when he did not let the people go. Well, there are subtleties, of course. Okay. Well, it seems that part of this liberation, this anointing of the doors with the blood of a lamb was. The meal is associated with this lamb.But at the Last Supper, in addition to the lamb, we also had communion with bread and wine. Yes, thank you. And that... Jesus said, like today, that is, such a word was used, that like these days, well, maybe a little bit of a day, there today, that is, like before Easter, well, that is, yes, that. That is, they show me how the celebration of Easter itself, it began like before, there, in the evening. Because the days themselves did not begin at midnight, but in the evening. And he used such a word, that today he, as one of you of the twelve who eats with me, now one of you will betray me. And... Everyone began to ask him, and will it not be me who will do it. And I asked, among others. I had already agreed about this with the priests, but in order not to give myself away, I asked like this. Jesus looked at me and said, yes, that's what you said, you said it. And he gave me bread, he is showing me now how he gives bread, and says what you have planned to do, do it quickly. He said this in order to protect me from the fact that the students will guess what I have planned and will prevent it. That is, it is like they can harm me. But it was not his order for me to do it immediately, but it was like his permission. Well, what did he give me? It is clear that he knows everything. I accepted it as our... already as a hint at my plan, which I have planned. And I planned... that since he is a flattened God, and I believe in it. I have already seen him there, all sorts of miracles, I understood perfectly well that he is very there, he can convince everyone, those soldiers there and will not let himself be crucified. And I decided, well, by having him taken... He would be taken by Roman soldiers and judged, because some crimes had already been slandered against him, for which the death penalty was imposed. Specially, as there were slanders, such witnesses were there, they were bribed. And I thought it over, that as soon as I brought the soldiers, yes, as soon as I brought the Roman soldiers and he was arrested, and there would be a real danger to his life, then he would not want to die, because he loved life very much, as I already said, he was very cheerful, and he would be outraged by this treatment of himself, as a criminal, because he was innocent of anything. And that he would not only be released from prison and would not allow anything to be done to him, but that this would be the beginning of the overthrow of Roman power and the restoration of the Jew and his sovereignty. And then, I thought, Jesus would become king over us. But as it was prescribed in the prophecies. Torah and Tanakh, that is, the Old Testament. It is repeatedly said there that it is the Mashiach, the Messiah who will reign over you, that is, he is like the king of the Jews. And what kind of king is he if he is already there, as I thought, if he is already over 30 years old, and he just goes around the cities and villages and preaches to the poor, thinks about them, feeds them and does not make any kind of political career, so to speak. But our country was dependent on the belt. So I decided to free it in this way. You decided to simply provoke him, to fatten him up. Yes, I am so sure that he will not allow it, because I was sure,that he would be freed and would not give himself any deal. Yes, yes, Jesus Elijah himself told me so. When he told me that you had planned the matter from Korea, I understood it as consent. Yes. But there is one little oddity, it is not connected with you, that the accusation against Jesus was based on his saying. I mean, when the high priests seized him, they accused him of saying that he could destroy the temple and build a new one in three days. But on the other hand, everyone knew Jesus by sight. It is not clear why it was necessary... Why did the high priests need your embrace and kiss? But they already knew who Jesus was. What did they expect by this... What were they expecting? Why couldn't they seize Him themselves and drag Him into their yard? Because I... I brought them to the place where he was alone, where he prayed. And in other places... That is, I knew his secret places of solitude. And in other places he was surrounded by people, the apostles. And other disciples, as I already said, he had many. And they were afraid to take him alone, so as not to call the police station. The candlestick bearers themselves told me, how are we going to arrest him? What do you want? For our soldiers to simply pounce on them there. Because he was very famous among the people. Well, okay, the soldiers had already come to that place, that is, they were already there, waiting. Why the theater with kisses and hugs? Maybe there were no kisses? This is not a theater, it was dark. All, he shows me now, the Roman soldiers, they were not so familiar with Jesus. He practically, he shows me now in the same clothes as the other apostles, that is... It was necessary to point out exactly him, because he was arrested not by the disciples, who knew him well by sight, but by those who did not listen to his sermons at all. What difference does it make to them? Is it Jesus or Apostle Andrew, Apostle Peter, how would they distinguish? For them, all Jews look the same. Look, dear brothers and sisters, maybe Irina came up with this story. It was a riddle for me, but it was all resolved so easily. And I think that everyone understands the riddle? No, not everyone understands, because no one knows these circumstances, because there are famous paintings where it is depicted as if a lot of soldiers come during the day. They cut off an ear, uraba. There were not a lot of soldiers there. Three soldiers came with me, I remember they are showing it now, into the garden and one karaunda. So that's how it is. Yes, the ear was really cut off there, but Jesus healed it. And, by the way, after that, the one whose ear was healed refused to arrest him, and later he became a Christian there. But was he released from slavery? Or was he not a slave? No. Well, what slave? He was a Roman soldier. Well, who was a slave? That's how it is written. Where? In one of the Gospels, I think, from Matthew, that he cut off the slave's ear. I am not familiar with this. But you haven't read the Gospel, have you? I know from Egregor, but at least I have not heard of slaves being taken into the army. They had completely different ones. And the functions? Tell me, please, let's ask this question first. What knowledge did Jesus reveal to you, which He did not reveal to anyone else? He already said everything the same,He has already answered this question. But what episode from the life and appearance of Jesus would you describe if you had survived and written your Gospel? I would have described the events that you know as the resurrection of Lazarus and the entrance of Mr. Barusalim. Let me remind you that yesterday we had Lazarus Saturday, this is the resurrection of Lazarus, and today the entrance of Mr. Barusalim. glorified Jesus. And when I just became even more confident in the correctness of my decision, that everyone would support him if he led the people against Rome, everyone would take up arms. Where would he get them from? I was sure that he was God, and it would almost, as I believed, miraculously come from the sky. And perhaps those ships that... Chariots of the gods, as I called them long ago, angel chariots. The so-called merkaba. Have you heard the word merkaba? Merkaba, yes, I have. This is the word chariot. And that is exactly what we called those very flying saucers. Thank you very much. Yes. Very much. It was these, like... messengers of God, who flew to earth, and we believed that these messengers of God, angels, they would fight for us together with the Romans and would enter the battle on our side. And we will overthrow this Igor, because we were not simply enslaved by the Roman state, we did not simply lose our sovereignty there, it was not simply without our own country, there was also tribute. We paid tribute. That is, each person had to pay the so-called quitrent, tribute to the Roman emperor. From his kopecks that he earned, he had to allocate a part there for... the emperor, even the poorest, and he had to pay tribute to him there. And the emperor collected tribute from all these provinces, and he was very rich. He had grieving women there, grieving men, golden statues in his palace, this is from the labor and sweat of people. Do you understand, yes, that this is unfair? Mmmm I decided to change all this together with Jesus. And when I went to the first priest, I offered him, I can show you the place, where you can freely, without people, take Jesus. But he could not send his people, the high priests, because they had to arrest the Roman soldiers. After all, we were under the rule of the Romans. Do you understand? I understand. And so I had to show the way to these soldiers and take him in a quiet place, where he would be alone. Do you remember the place where I kissed him? Well, there at the same evening, where you ... It was later. It was already in the Garden of Geusseman, where he was praying to God. He is now showing me a tree that looks like a palm tree, and next to it a big stone. And Jesus is kneeling and put his hands like this on the stone, and leaned over, and praying, because he sees that he is about to be arrested. and the rest of the apostles, we are now showing how it was, it was already late at night. They really wanted to sleep. And Jesus kept saying, pray with me. And they still went into sleep. And when I came up, he stood up, Jesus, now he shows how he stood up, and said, wake up, the traitor is coming. And I came up, and I kissed him. Yes, because there was such an agreement that whoever I kissed, that one is the one.Why exactly kiss? Because I had to not just show with my hand, but touch. And I came up, kissed him and even said joy and teacher. Why did I tell him this? Because I perceived that our agreement with him was being fulfilled, that now he would show his divine power. And when they took him and led him away, and when he, yes, now shows how the apostle Peter approaches, he has such a, somewhere in his bosom, on some belt, such a short sword, like a dagger. And he waved his hand with the sword in the direction of one of these soldiers, he tilted his head like this and passed like on the ear. There is blood there. And I thought, what will happen now? And Jesus took this ear, well, he will now show me how he healed, he waved his hand like this, and his bleeding immediately stopped, and the ear fell into place. And I thought, it is beginning, now he has already performed a miracle. I thought that he would get into trouble now. Now he would wave his hand like this, and the weapons would fall from the hands of these soldiers. And then he would... Well, yes, other soldiers would come to try to arrest him. And he would enter into a fight with them in this way. And... When they led him away, I looked after him so melancholy, to see what was happening. I thought that he was now after an interrogation, he was taken for interrogation to the high priest, who had not slept at night, did not expect all this. And they led him to the high priest. I thought that now after the interrogation he would show his strength. Well, actually, I continued to think so. until the very moment of the execution. There are simply no words, I imagined it all so much. Well, just tell me what was on Jesus' face when he told you, come on, do your job quickly. He was like him, well, how his lips were smiling, but his eyes were absolutely serious, and they looked at me inquiringly, that is, what decision would I make. And already at that moment I understood that I could simply say that I had not planned anything, everything is fine, just sit down and continue spending with them. Nobody forced me to do it. It was my decision. If I had done so, Jesus would not have forced me. Jesus had said before anyway that the Scripture should be fulfilled, that he should be crucified. Because he saw this option. In any case, everything would have been the same, but maybe with another person. In any case. At that moment in time, when he saw it, there were other options. He was simply talking about the one that was most likely. But the last probability could have gone according to a less likely scenario. It could, maybe. But Jesus himself said that the idea was exactly this, that he would disembodied on Christ, and that the energy that would be released during disembodiment would brighten the Earth. He told me. He could have come up with another way if I had not gone for it. But that is what I am talking about, that he would have disembodied anyway. I mean, he would have come up with another way to cleanse the Earth's noosphere and create the sacrament of the Eucharist. I mean, even if he lived to old age and disintegrated in the usual way... he could have come back anyway,again resurrect his body and make it immortal. It did not depend on the method of death itself. Yes, yes, you are right, of course. And especially since from the spiritual world, of course, all this becomes more visible. That is, if he had died from any other cause, not from crucifixion, but from another murder, or from some old age disease, or he had simply already reached the age when the body could not function. then he would still be able to resurrect it. Well, like he was able to, when he died in Annecrest. Tell me, why did the people, when the high priest said that he did not see any guilt, why was it necessary to let him or the thief go? Unfortunately, he said this, if the high priest had said this, everything would have been different Michael. Unfortunately, this was said by a person who was not at all authoritative, so to speak, in the Jewish environment. Please tell me in more detail from that moment, how he was taken away, how you looked at his tracks, where you were. Please tell me in more detail. He said this because I am not in the same guilt with him. This was said by Ponti Pilate, and this was just... Oh, yes, I'm wrong, sorry. This was just the governor of the Roman Emperor, that is... essentially, a representative of the enslaving occupation power. What is the meaning of his words? In the eyes of the high priest and all who adhered to the teachings of traditional Judaism, in whose eyes Jesus was a hraltan, a sinner, and so on. approval of Pilate's opantia, as an occupier, as a representative of the occupation power, it played rather against Jesus than for his innocence. Yes. Well, why did those people who followed Jesus and listened to Him, and idolized Him, why did they suddenly start shouting that we want His death? Well, it wasn't everyone who shouted, but those who... He now shows several people who were bribed. Yes, bribed. Firstly, bribed. And secondly, they told him how they were convinced that he was a deceiver. A deceiver who also practices magic. That is, like a sorcerer. They said that the priest and others, they said that all his miracles... And other priests in the synagogue, the kohanim, they said that... He works miracles with the power of a demon. And therefore, and why the power of a demon? Because they brought up arguments there that he was going against Moses, that he was going against the Torah. They brought up various reasons, for example, that one cannot work on Saturday, and he showed that he healed people on these days. And by this he seemed to put a person higher than Moses, who said, did nothing. But, Judas, please tell us in more detail from the moment you looked at his trace, how everything was right up to your disembodiment. Were you at the trial in the courtyard of the re-ecumenical, when Peter denied three times? Were you at the execution? How did it all happen? Tell us, we will perceive it as… I was in that house, as they said there, yes, I was there, but not… Right next to the apostles, so that they would not see me. Because they saw that I kissed them. And when Jesus said, the traitor approached. So I remained out of sight of the apostles. During the time when Jesus was being flogged, beaten.I watched from afar, from the crowd. And I was still praying. I even mentally addressed him, well, what are you waiting for? You can do it, throw off those chains there. It was especially painful for me when they put a crown of thorns on him. They knocked it out. Like from some building, like with columns, Which both above and below stands a top. And they pulled off some kind of cape from him, and turned his back to the crowd, and saw all the hands on his body, that he was beaten with whips. And Roman whips were a stick with tied... Zhi... Yes. With tied, like, ropes, at the ends of which were either iron balls or nails. Well, what do you say? Horrible. What were you going through at that time? It seems to me that nothing could be worse. He shows that he is waiting, that he will now be freed, and everything will be according to his plan. But at the same time, he understands that Jesus does not do this. And when I stood in the crowd and mentally addressed Jesus, I felt that Jesus' gaze fell on me. Our eyes met, and he looked at me. With such love and understanding and at the same time in this look there was a refusal, in this look there was a refusal to fight, you understand? I realized that he had resigned himself to his fate. I roughly knew what the verdict would be, because all those accusations that were made before the court, these bribed witnesses, they were just leading to the death penalty. The thing is that... The death penalty itself for those crimes that Jesus was accused of. It had to take place, of course, according to the law of Moses, and not through stoning. The Jews did not have such a custom through stoning. It was through stoning, that is, through false prophecy, for witchcraft, for magic, for deception, for charlatanism. According to the Torah, the punishment was to be stoning. But I understood, according to the laws of the Rinsk Ekeria, if... they took him to Pontius Pilate, then they would no longer execute him according to Jewish laws, because the Roman Empire forbade it. Once they handed him over to Pontius Pilate to be judged, it means that they can no longer stone him, because this is usually not recognized in Rome. I knew very well that the Romans executed through... yes, that the Romans executed through the cross. We saw such crucified criminals, usually they were outside the city, they hung there for several days, some died. Some were simply tied to the cross and hung up, well, when their hands and feet were tied to the cross, and hung up in the heat until he died of hunger and heat and thirst. It was a slower death, because there were just ropes. And some were nailed to the cross with nails. It was considered a quicker death, there was also bleeding, pain shock. It often happened that birds of prey, like some kind of raven, would fly to a criminal who was still alive and crucified on the cross and sit on his head, and peck out his eyes and tongue while he was still alive. We all saw this, and it was no secret to us. Not to me, not to the apostle, not to Jesus himself. He saw it too and knew it. We grew up in this country. So I knew roughly what awaited him if he refused to free himself using his divine powers. I waited,I really didn't want this fate for him, and God knows that... God knew me at that moment that I didn't want this. I didn't think he was guilty of any crime that would be worthy of such a terrible execution. But nevertheless, he was sentenced to crucifixion. But I had hope again when I heard that the emperor by his own will on a holiday, yes, on the holiday of the Jewish Passover, would grant life to one of the criminals who had already been sentenced. And who should it be? There were several of them who were crucified. Who should it be? The people decided. Such a kind decree of the emperor that the people themselves should decide to release one of the criminals who had already been condemned to crucifixion. That's what I feel. Well, they released the thief. Well, what do you feel when you're a thief? Well, we know the outcome in advance. But I feel that these were, of course, simply brutal relations in Israel at that time. Simply brutal. That crows would fly in and peck out eyes and tongues. It's unimaginably simple. Well, unimaginable. Imagine, hands and feet are nailed to a log on a cross. Well, we just don't have that. Yes. And how many were crucified in total? Three, as written in the scriptures, or more? In general, yes, four were sentenced. But as I already said, one had to be released. By decree of the emperor, specifically in honor of the holiday. He granted, that is, there was such a decree. which the people themselves would choose. That is, it was considered such a tax. - But this was before the crucifixion, right? - Well, of course. How could the crucified person, so to speak, be freed? - Well, maybe they nailed everything there and then took it down? - No, precisely before the crucifixion, before they were led to the place of crucifixion along with the crosses. By the way, the condemned, naturally, themselves had to take the cross on which they would be nailed and carry it to the place of execution. It could be several kilometers, and usually it was uphill, because they crucified on a mountain. No one carried the cross for him. And in Ivan it is written that he carried just such a cross? Well, if he could no longer carry it. And in general, the rest who were crucified, they carried their own cross, it was considered part of the execution. And if they refused, they could... Well, that is, if they threw down the cross and said that I will not carry it, and in general did not agree with the sentence, they could simply beat them with these whips until they picked up the cross and carried it. And when it was already announced that the emperor's decree was to cancel the death sentence of one of the condemned and grant him his life. by choice of the people. Here I had hope that they would choose Jesus, because the people loved him. All the more so I had hope that they would choose Jesus, grant him life, cancel this sentence. Why did I hope for this? Because the other three, they were known in Jerusalem and the surrounding areas as highway robbers who killed people, including women and children. They robbed them and dealt with them cruelly. That is, like tortured. Their crimes were proven, and they had many victims there. And compared to Jesus, it is clear that they were very dangerous, they were very evil,That is, if one of them were released, they could repeat this crime. And... Naturally, I hoped that they would choose Jesus, both because the people loved him, and because they would simply be afraid to choose a robber, and not dangerous ones. That is why I waited until the herald, the emperor's herald, announced, yes, who do you want released to you, they put up, he is showing me now, like a high wall, and there is one like a scaffold. They put all four of those sentenced to death on the cross, with their hands tied. Jesus was wearing the Crown of Thorns, all over as if beaten. That is, it was like blood was running down his face. And when did you announce the voice? That you can choose who to release, that is, the people had to choose. And I expected that now the majority would say that it was Jesus, but what was my surprise when I heard that he was demanding that a thief be released. That is, it was, who was it? This was one of the most brutal criminals who tortured there. Killed people on the road, broke into houses, tortured children in front of their mothers so that they would show where the money was. That is, to such an extent. And I was very surprised, but the Heralds, you see, heard that it was the thief who was to be released. They released him, and he was... When they released him, I looked at him like that. He was in such shock himself. He did not think that I would choose him. And then I just saw, they took him away, removed the ropes from him, took him aside, and how did they let him go? They take him away, push him in the back and that's it, you are free. It's like you haven't killed anyone. That's it, all your crimes are cleared of you, no prison. You are completely clean before the law. You should have been crucified. And the emperor himself gave you your life back. Everything, everything was removed. And he is like, he stands there and doesn't even know where to go. That is, he is confused in shock that he was released. Because he had already prepared himself for five times. Well, Jesus and the other two robbers, who were like accomplices of the thief, they were led to execution, to this mountain near. It was then near the lady, now it is shown, like outside of Jerusalem, near the city. And they gave them the crosses to Jesus and the two robbers. And they carried them. Jesus carried them at first. But since he was very weak, he fell. I saw nearby, like in the crowd, his mother. And who tried, when she saw that her condemned son was already walking, and his cross was falling, and she, well, she was holding her back, but she broke free and tried to run up to him to pick up this cross. And then I stopped, I had already turned away, I went wherever my eyes looked, I could not bear it anymore. And I did not go to the place of execution. My temperature rose very high, He will now show, like a fauca, some kind of delirium. Well, that is, a very psychotic state. I understood that I had failed, that... He was going to die a terrible death. And I... He locked himself in, he was now showing me some kind of, like little closets, somewhere in some room, and it was so painful in my soul because I understood that I should have been in his place, that I had sinned. And now I am safe here,and now they're nailing his hands to the cross. And I was so confused that I... I brought my hands to my lips and just started gnawing my hands until they bled. What do you feel? I can imagine all this. Well, what do you feel? Well, I would have gnawed my hands too. I don't know what I would have done in your place. Well, and after that I... I wouldn't even say that I fell asleep, I just dozed off, passed out like that. And when I woke up, it was already the next morning. The birds were singing, it was light, the sun was shining. My head hurt really badly, it was splitting. I stood up, I was staggering from dizziness. My heart was beating really hard, and there was a pounding in my temples. And again, everything was like my body was burning. I staggered around the city, and I thought about some other thing again... in some ridiculous hope. I thought... that maybe, after all, Jesus didn't reach the mountain. Maybe He threw the cross into himself on the way and wasn't executed. Maybe He had already fulfilled my plan. Maybe He was alive? I thought. And I... Ran! To the place where we had the secret party, I saw one of the disciples there, who saw me and froze in fear. I asked, where is Jesus? She looked at me and said, what are you asking me, you know. You betrayed him yourself, well, when you gave him to the soldiers. I asked, so he died? She said yes. That he... Has already been taken down. Well, yes, he is now showing how he was taken down from the cross. He has already been taken to a cave for... for burial, for burial. There is such a place there. And... I... When I heard this, my heart finally sank somewhere to my feet. I... He's showing me this little bag of coins, like this one, he had it somewhere in his bosom. I ran to the temple to the first priest, went into the temple courtyard and saw him there, came up to him and said that I was returning this money, because this man for whom I took this money, he is not guilty of anything, let them take it back. And... they said, well, you did it yourself, what does that have to do with it? And they didn't want to take the money, because it was like the price of his life. And yes, it was exactly 30 didrachs. That is, silver coins, that's why they called it silver. which were in circulation at that time in the Roman Empire. And I just threw them in the direction. That is, they are now showing me how I threw them in the direction of the priest. And they said, what are you doing? Why are you doing this? Take your money. And I ran away. I ran away, hid, and then I saw that Jesus came to me, that is, Him as a Spirit already, and He spoke to me mentally and tried to console me. He said that He forgives me, that He is not offended by me, that He sends me the light of love. I asked why you did not do as we agreed. He said that you understood everything incorrectly, and that he was not going to rebel against the Romans, against the occupiers, because it was not his task. And he said these words. It makes no difference where you live, whether you live as a slave or free. The main thing is that your heart is pure. Then to me, I lived in the house of a distant relative and disciple of Christ for several days.And the apostles came to me several times. Apostle Peter, Apostle Andrew. And they asked how it happened that I did this, why I did this, did I really not love the teacher. And I told them everything. After that... He is now showing me how... ..there was. a rumor, that is, they came to me, they said one day that Jesus had risen. that he... that they found his tomb open, but they did not find him there, that he was taken away. Angels took him. I myself went there and looked, and from the fact that... from the look of the tomb where he was... For some reason I... Well, he is now showing me how it became very bitter, not good. And this, like despondency, led me to the fact that I realized that he... Yes, he has risen, but he will come now, look me in the eyes, and I will not be able to be with him after what I have done. I realized that my life has no meaning. and I decided to always pay it back. Through the fact that he went, he is showing me now, he hanged himself on a tree. It is a pity, of course. After all, Jesus could have told you... After all, he told you that he forgave you. How? Well, I understand that you mean in the spirit. Well, he came in the spirit, they show me that he came in the spirit. Well, he also came in the body to the disciples, he talked to them. Yes, but to me precisely in the spirit. It is a pity that it all ended this way. He told me very well. Thank you very much. Thank you for calling me and listening to me. I want to say that already in this incarnation I incarnated from the ninth level. But between the incarnation of Judas and the incarnation now on Earth, and the incarnation in Russia, in the body of a man now. Between these incarnations there was another incarnation of subtle-material civilizations, in which I left the 4th level and reached the 9th. Well, it is probably easier in subtle-material civilizations. In subtle civilizations, I was doing what I did to atone for my guilt by creating souls, insects, microorganisms and fish. You were probably on some ninth or tenth density level? I was on the tenth density level and the fourteenth density level. We are now showing how there were three. Yes, there were three incarnations in a plasma body. But they were quite short there, because, going through one incarnation in a subtle body, I left it to incarnate. in another density level, so that I could do other activities. Tell me, what does the Spirit feel when it is in the Spiritual world, every time its name is pronounced on Earth, judgment? I feel the influx of energy that a person feels. when this name is mentioned. I want to say that when I had already paid and got to the 4th level... then Jesus came to me there, as his spirit. His spirit came to me there. And we talked for a very long time. Well, that is, it was like his spirit, well, how can I say it, like the higher self. Well, what were you talking about? Christ, yes, Christ. Well, he came to me on the fourth level, although he was on the 24th. At first I closed my spiritual eyes, unable to look at his light, and he addressed me so tenderly. My brother, do not despair. I always love you, yes, I have always loved and love you.Forgive yourself for this action. You did it because you were, well, you didn't realize all the consequences. You had a false idea. That's how I should act. Because at that time you really wanted to free the people. You had... Well, how your concern for the people's freedom from Rome outweighed your love for God and for me at that moment. Well, that's your lesson. If you condemn yourself for it, you will never learn it. That is, as he persuaded. You know, that moment of meeting in the spirit of Jesus, but with Pontius Pilate, but in this case he means your image in Bulgakov's immortal novel, The Master and Margarita. There, after death, they meet together and go along the smart road. Yes, I want to say that now I will embody, well, I will embody the spirit in a person on Earth, in Russia, a man. And the task of incarnation now is to leave the ninth level, to rise higher. This is development in oneself and mercy, faith. the ability to help others, as well as the development of creative abilities and self-confidence. Thank you. But I have all the questions. I'm looking at the chat here, I can't find a single question that would... They asked there, I saw, they asked several times about the work of Leonid Andreev and Judas from Krio. They asked if he had anything to do with this work. He says, I've heard of this work. And I think, we personally do not know the author, he can't tell me right now that he hasn't met him, but I think that he either crossed paths with the apostles or with Jesus somewhere, but somewhere he somehow heard this story. I see. Well, in conclusion of our broadcast, I will tell you one historical anecdote connected specifically with Judas, but it is a very sad story I will say in advance According to one of the legends, Judas was such a thinker of ours Leonardo da Vinci, he painted the picture "The Last Supper", which depicts all the apostles at the very moment when you were reclining there. And this artist, he painted this picture for a very long time, and he carefully chose the faces from which to paint the apostles. And when the picture was already completely finished, it remained to paint only Judas of Coriotus. And Leonada could not find a character for this role for a long time. And finally, after many years, the picture hung unfinished. After many years, he found the most terrible person in his life, the blackest with an expression, a terrible expression in his eyes. And he decided to ask this person to come and paint Judas from him. When this man came to his studio, and he began to paint this portrait, this man says, you know, I have already been in your studio. But only then did you paint Jesus from me. Yes, very effectively, thank you. Here the question arose, why did the people not save Jesus? "What do you think, Judas, why did the people not save Jesus?" He says, well, because he was already taken into custody, was already under the protection of the Roman soldiers, already a whole legion, that is, a large army, well, when, a large part of the army. Aaaand... It was impossible to save it without engaging this army. It was all the same,that now in any country to try to save a dangerous criminal from punishment. But only now it is even more lenient, and at that time such rescuers themselves could be recognized as accomplices of the criminal and crucified along with him. And does Judas know about the wars happening now? Well, yes, through his embodied part the Higher Self knows what is happening now. So, friends, any questions? Well, if there are questions... Well, I would not say that there are none, yes, but, Ira, well, maybe you will choose? Because I worked a lot with questions, for me, as it were, they do not exist. Well, there you simply met Jesus in the Spiritual world by repayment, and discussed your incarnations, tasks in general. And he gave the answer that it was, that it was already determined that you would become a disciple. Did you meet Jesus? No, I determined this with my angels Why did all the Highest decide not to let Jesus rule, but to lead him through death? From Vadim Shiray What does it mean to lead him through death? And it was not the Almighty who did this, it was people. How old is

Judas now in his new incarnation? About 50. Well, well... I don't know. Okay, it's very late, it's already eleven o'clock. Yes. I hope we talked about this spirit in detail. Thank you Mikhail for your questions. There was no wife or children about Jesus, please watch the broadcasts with Jesus on this topic. Here. This is the profile now. He does not give a commentary on his incarnation now. Now we are talking about Judas. Nobody knows the future of Russia, Andrey. There are many options. So, dear friends, I thank you for this conversation, thank you for your questions, thank you for your commen

Hello, dear friends! I greet you! Good evening to all! So, the first thing I want to tell you this evening is that Christ is risen. Today is Easter. I congratulate you all on this holiday. And I send you the light of my love. Today we remember the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Today we direct energies to the day when Jesus Christ reunited with his physical body, completely renewed it, resurrected it, entered it again and made it immortal, completely physically immortal until the end of Manvandor. He rose on this day first. a physically immortal being. the first of their present moment and the only one. And today is the day of triumph over death. Christ, risen from the dead, trampling death by death, gave life to those who are in robbery, as they sing today in church. These words mean that through his resurrection of his negative mind, emotions, everything that prevented him from living and feeling life with every cell of his being. And today he gives life to everyone. And I wish each of you... that you feel this life, that you feel this Love, become like it and resurrect your souls and renew your bodies in the light of the love of our heavenly Father. Christ is risen! Truly risen! Is Pontius Pilate here already? Yes. So, dear friends, my name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with the spiritual world and subtle worlds. Today we decided to talk with Pontius Pilate, whose personality also played a big role in these events, which we remember today on this holiday. I will tell you a little about who this person is, this is the Spirit who was incarnated in the person we know as Pontius Pilate. The whole point is that at the present moment in time he is incarnated. He is incarnated on the planet Burkhat in a girl, as Jesus Christ told us back at the first conference. He knows her in the count's numbers. He knows this girl personally, and she gave her consent for her non-embodied part to allocate a phantom with the memory of Pantiya Pilates, that is, her past life. And now this phantom is here. By the way, Merahkaunt helped him come here. He brought this phantom here. He tuned it to me, with me, because it is somewhat difficult for the Phantom to do this, especially since the girl in whom this spirit was embodied is not yet personally acquainted with earthlings. That is, she has a completely different profession. Therefore, Mirakan helped, there are three of us. The Phantom, with the memory of Pantiya Pilates, with the memory of his soul, with my field for transmitting information. I remind you that information is transmitted in both directions. It is clear that in order for me to hear the questions that Mikhail will read, it is clear that I need to tune in such a way that these questions are perceived in the form of energy impulses. passing through my perception, through my ears, through my brain to this phantom. Well, in order for the answers to be transmitted, attunement with the brain is also necessary. Dear friends, I... greet you! So, I can ask questions now, right? Yes, I just explained that for attunement it is necessary,for the spirit to be attuned to the spiritual channel, to hear its questions, it must be attuned to the part of the brain that transmits auditory images through hearing. Well, and in order to answer me... the spirit must be attuned to the part of the brain that distinguishes speech. That is, it has already attuned it to these structures of my brain. Thank you. Yes. He, too, yes. But he is... The thing is that the phantom... I'll just tell you now. Unlike the spirit, from the personality, the phantom is very similar to just like... Recorded memory. That is, it's like... An audio recording. Only in the energetic sense. Well, it's understandable, because the spirit has already been incarnated in another body. So, you see, what questions already. On Burkhad, too, memory is excluded, it turns out. Burkhad is also a prison, like Earth. It's not about prison here. Memory must be excluded before incarnation, so that in a previous life it does not influence the collection of new experience. Such is the law for all material worlds. Oh, someone has already answered. Thank you. So, we are ready to receive questions. to transmit answers. Ponti Pila asks to clarify what questions have arisen for him. Right now I want to announce the approximate plan of our conversation today. It will consist of several parts. The first part will concern our traditional questions on the spiritual level, the purposes of incarnation, and so on. the times of Pontipelat and Christ, in order to understand the context in which these figures lived. The third part will be the trial of Christ, the most interesting part. And what happened then after the trial. And at the end we will read and re-read the live questions from this chat. So, let's begin. Tell me, please, Ponti, how can I say goodbye to you? And is the name Ponti, sometimes called Pontic, connected with the Pontic Greeks? Are they the Greeks who lived on the shores of the Black Sea, Turkey, closer to us? No. Pontius is not my name. Pontius is my last name, my family name. The name of my family. And Pilate is just like... by your nickname. My name is Vikentina. This is my personal name. You can call me by the name Vikentiy. Thank you, Vikentiy. And why was this family name Panthic? Is it somehow connected with the Panthic Greeks? No, it is not connected with the Panthic Greeks. My family has always been. In the northern part... Rome, yes, in the northern part of Italy, yes, Italic, Italy, the Italian state. He is now showing me as to the north of Rome, or something. And the ancestors of my family, they came from those tribes that formed the Roman Empire. Thank you. Well, and the traditional question. From what level did you incarnate into Vincent? What were your tasks for this incarnation, if you, of course, know this now? And to what level did you disincarnate? I have this information. I incarnated from the 12th level into the body of Vincent. Vincent! here they just ask well I hear vikinti this is what came to me through my perception, maybe well vikinti Yes, I incarnated from the 12th level. And left on the eighth. My task was to develop a creative beginning in myself through the manifestation of the leadership instinct. I had to create such a direction in society,which is engaged in creativity and to lead. I did not go quite on my own path, although on the path of leadership. but political, and this prevented me from doing something creative. Of course, I was interested in philosophy, I was interested in architecture, sculpture, but I did not have much time for this. And this prevented me from fulfilling my task at the end of my reign, my government career. I had negative feelings and experiences associated with ... With my work, so to speak. brought me to the 8th level, that is, lower than what I will embody. And on movement? Tell me, please, but you took, it turns out, from the spiritual world, when you incarnated, some abilities for creativity. And what were these abilities? And did you leave at least something somewhere, maybe, or was it purely for yourself? When I was young, I was interested, they now show me what they write, like poetry, as I already said, philosophy, I sculpted, that is, there were some like sculptures, but it was purely for myself and for friends, because I stopped doing it early, since I had military duties already... At 17, I took part in military clashes. They are now showing me some Thracians. Thrace is some country where someone rebelled, some bandits. That is, it is part of the Roman Empire, which wanted to somehow share. And a little later they took me. I distinguished myself in battle there. He is now showing me how he sits on a horse, he has something like a spear. And on his belt such a short one, like a sword, like a qijal. And at first he is like a soldier, and then he is promoted, and he becomes like a commander of a detachment of 50 soldiers. Now they just show me pictures. and show a number. Later I was sent to the African colonies of the Roman Empire. I fought there too. I fought for the expansion of the Roman Empire, that is, I conquered peoples for the emperor. And pacified those who wanted to rebel. And later I was promoted to prefect of the Jews. By the way, one of the questions was connected with this, because there are doubts about the name of your position in the UDI. In fact, in the latest research, an inscription was found there that you were a prefect in 1980. Prefect? Prefect something like that. Prefect, yes. Because some people call you a procurator. By the way, what is this... The name, where could it come from? This was also such a position, but it was rather not... The procurator is the emperor's viceroy, who was in charge of the financial part. He was subordinate to the perfecto, I was higher. Thank you. And who were you in the Roman Empire immediately before you were appointed prefect in Judea? Faudatus, then a military leader. So it turns out that it was a big promotion, that you were given a whole country to govern? Well, I started out as a soldier, because my family was very simple. My father molded pots, my mother washed clothes for rich people. Today you are showing some suburb, a small suburb, like a village. Some clay houses under the sun, a very, very hot sun. And this is the kind of area that I dry out. And I see clay everywhere, they build houses from it. And so, yes,and they live in these clay houses. And his father, I see such a tall thin man, with long fingers, and he molds a pot with these fingers. On circles. Yes, Judas from Cyril was also a potter. Well, this is not surprising, there were a lot of such people, because everyone needed dishes. Well, probably people were very emotional, there in the south, probably they often broke pots. And in Greece, in general, they have such a custom at weddings, that they break dishes. Yes, and that too. Well, in general, it was successful. Honestly, I thought that there were some intrigues, that you were appointed to such a high position right away. It turns out, you just conquered. He shows how there was patronage. The patronage of other military leaders, whom I saved during the battle. That is, how I came to the rescue and saved them from defeat. And that is why they put in a good word for me with the emperor. Tell me, please, when... What was Judea like at that time? It was some kind of... complex state, there were some kind of constant rebellions, because they had their own religion. It was not a state, it was a province of our empire. It had already been conquered a long time ago, as the Darin Empire also sent soldiers to it and captured Israel. Judea and annexed it by the Crimean Empire. And when I went there, it had already been under our control for a long time. That is, it is... our territory of the Roman Empire. Well, yes, they had their own customs. In general, there were many different peoples with different customs in the Roman Empire. Yes, the Jews, they stood out against this background in that they had very strict religious customs. They were very... Among them there were many religious fanatics, and the religious laws themselves were very strict. And, as I believed, these laws were unfriendly to people, because there were many cases, there were many offenses for which the death penalty followed. And the Jews themselves, they were a very proud people, who were proud of their purity, their blood. They treated any foreigners with disdain. That is, they had such a custom, even to us, to the Romans, who were, we are now showing, above all peoples, because they enslaved everyone. But they even treated us, not even without due respect, but as superior to niches. And... How did this manifest itself? It manifested itself in the fact that, for example, they had a custom that they could not enter the house where a person from another nation lived. They could not accept food from him, they could not accept anything from his hands there. That is, all this was considered desecration. This is the extent of their national arrogance, which they justified with their religious rules. Those who wrote religious rules for them decided to make a very tough and unapproachable people out of them. Like a society that loves only its own kind, and considers everyone else to be dust. That's the impression I got when I worked with them. You know, Vakentiy, it's amazing that more than two thousand years have passed since then, and nothing has changed there. It's a strictly religious state,which... This religion, it's not like, say, in Russia or in other countries, it's kind of separate. But there it's mandatory for everyone. And... In the army, even in their army, only Jews cook food. If the food was cooked by a non-Jew, they just throw it away. They couldn't even drink wine unless there was proof that it was made by a Jew. That's right, that's how it's still the case. It's really funny. Yes, I'll tell you a joke later. I don't know about this, we're at a local happy place. These are the customs there, yes, that's true now. I want to tell you, dear friends, that some customs of peoples can really seem funny to us, and this is quite sincere, because we don't understand it, we didn't live there. But the main thing here is to understand that our customs can also be strange to them, or funny, or even somehow... causing inconsideration or even disgust. Because they also did not live with us, and some of our customs, traditions, they may not laugh and even get irritated. That is, it is all individual for each national egregor. Tell me, what then... What exactly was the Roman power in Judea, in the province? What are the Blue Drions? What is the First Priest? This is not Roman power, this is their religious leadership. Roman power consisted in the fact that they paid dues to the Roman Empire, and in return, Roman soldiers defended this land from raids by other tribes, because before the capture of this Judea and the deprivation of its statehood, it was a state that was torn apart by internal... warriors, contradictions and external raids. That is, Israel and the Jews fought in the scene. And they had civil wars with each other. And with the surrounding tribes. They fought for territory, they fought for religion. There, because in one city it was possible to worship one God, and in another city it was no longer possible. And because of the dispute about whose God is stronger. He will protect us and they will start a war. Very interesting. But what was the Roman power? What did it impose? Well, there was such a case, well, at least it is described, that during your reign they brought in some Roman flags. And they really didn't like it, and they allegedly turned to you to take the chazhi away. It's not even about the flags. If there were simply some animal ornaments drawn there. Or a flower. It was incomprehensible to us. Naturally, I wanted to introduce... Yes, good. He shows me how he brought in flags, brought in dishes, nailed some posters, or something like that, on the walls, because I wanted to decorate this place, it was very medicinal. But they constantly complained about me that I was allegedly destroying their faith. And their priests kept coming to me and saying that this was not allowed in our city. And I opened there... We'll show you now how I allowed one of the Roman citizens to open a shop selling these drawings. And, like paintings and metal utensils, already like... You're not showing me a pot now, but what are these like cauldrons. There were already various engravings there, like flowers,some signs, well, like an ornament, like a rum, or something. Well, that is, like these, yes, it is not a rum, yes, I understand. These are sacred signs, which are used as amulets. Just to sell to people, we had it all over the empire, and the Jews themselves, some were ready to buy it, and why not?

And then the priests came and said, this is not allowed in our city. I know. I say, why is it the Roman Empire, that this is not allowed? It is allowed everywhere. They say, but in our country it is not allowed, because people will buy this dishware, bring it into the house, and there is an image, they will be defiled. Well, how will they be defiled? It will become displeasing to God, and God will meet them. I answered them. Well, how then did God give man the ability to draw, to sculpt? Why would he punish the extermination of the people for the fact that he himself gave man the talent to do this? They did not answer me anything, only like with their hands. Well, they need to look everything up in the book, as it is written there. So it turns out that you had a concept of God among the Romans? We had many gods. I knew that they had one god, but I began to research this issue, and I learned that... They simply did not call the rest of the gods gods, but called them angels. These are the younger gods. That is, we used to say that all the gods are equal. And they said that there is one most important god. And all the rest, there are the spirits of ancestors, spirits that help God, well, that is how they come to believers. in order to protect them there, in order to perform some actions in the material world. They called all this angels, messengers. Well, that is, as messengers of God in such a, like a subtle body. Well, energetic. Well, they did not say energetic, this is already a modern word. Like a body made of air. And we also called such creatures gods, that is, we did not distinguish. He is a younger god, an elder god. We gave equal reverence to everyone. Well, you didn't have it, but like in Rus', we also considered there to be many gods, but we worshiped them with reverence, like saints. But we still had the concept that there was one god, he was the father god. But in the Ima there was no such thing, right? Well, we had a god who created everything, Uranus... Uranus, there he is... Yes, he now shows how his children are there, Jupiter and others, that is, there were gods, there were goddesses, there were various spirits, well, like with you, like mermaids, all sorts of forest spirits, nymphs, all sorts of things, and so on, and the main god, well, we didn't have the one who created, that very main one. We believed that they didn't share power among themselves like people. We believed that each god was worthy of reverence. Well, and that it should be different, we didn't have that. But that's how it is. We didn't have such a thing that if this God is the father of all, then he needs more sacrifices, he needs more prayers than I give to children. No, there was no such thing. For us, children and father had the same dignity. It is very difficult to find this data somewhere. Thank you very much for the explanation. Well, you did not try to impose your customs, your faith on the Jews and in general on others... How can you impose faith? Well,many say, for example, historians, that it was imposed everywhere there. How do you understand that it was imposed? Well, so... Well, in my time in Judea there were many times, yes many times, in Judea they celebrated Jewish religious holidays. I didn't, and it wasn't me, they, the Romans, there were others, my assistants, soldiers, didn't interfere with this in any way. They could worship whoever they wanted. The only thing that interfered was a riot. If someone from... They had a lot of such people, like because of the prophets. That is, the person who came in the morning and spoke, I heard God. Well, that very one, the only God. The most important one that they had, his name was Yahweh. They called him Yahweh. That's the sound, Yahweh. And... So he heard it and said, "That's it, now I speak on his behalf." People were so naive and trusting, and I needed to not hold on to what they had as evidence. They told them that I speak in the name of God, and a crowd gathered around him. At first, it was just curiosity. And then he began to tell them some banalities, like "You will all be kind, you love each other and you will be happy," well, who knows even a child. And they were so delighted with him that they fell down before him like Nice, worshiped him like God. Well, how? Because God spoke through him. And then gradually he began to tell them, it often happened that he began to tell them that I speak in the name of God, that we must have a free state. And so a rebellion was born. There were many such breakthroughs. He could also set people against the synagogue, for example, saying that it was not necessary to follow these strict religious rules. And they began an internal struggle, which also caused all sorts of unrest. Those kohanim, that is, the priests in the temple kohanim, they were called. They began to fight with this prophet, deceiving him as a false prophet, a deceiver. And these prophets declared these cohens to be false priests. And all this caused unrest among the people, crowds gathered, threw stones at each other, fought. Indignation among the people, work stopped, for example, in agriculture and so on. Every now and then, representatives of the opposing parties came to me to complain, until my patience snapped, and I ordered the Roman soldiers to suppress these riots, these uprisings against each other. and to punish the guilty severely. I can get both prophets and priests. That was one of the questions. By the way, thank you for anticipating it. You probably somehow read something from me there. Well, that's funny. Why does he read? Do you even know that we have computers? Well, I'll tell you now. He simply perceives your words through me, simply and that's it. Got it. Well, who really ruled the Jews then, if you just watched that they didn't run away, that no one attacked them? I was the ruler, yes, it was important in winter. They had their own king there, they changed there. Well, Ira, that's not all, those weren't the Jews, he was there... Well, they had it in each one, they were there, in their own, yes, we are now showing some areas, and in their city there was also a headman.In each city there was a headman and a region. Well, in general, yes, they were there, he also ruled, was considered the king of Judea, well, like the king of Israel. But he was subordinate to me. Well, why didn't they suppress these riots themselves, didn't they monitor this themselves? Well, who, how will they suppress non-Roman soldiers? Which of the Jewish kings will suppress without soldiers? Will he go himself? And which of the soldiers will listen to him and fight with their own, fight with their brothers who want freedom? Clear. But I thought that the state implies some kind of militia, some kind of internal troops. The militia is precisely the Roman legion, but not those that were there. Clear. That is, all the power in principle was with the Romans. Such as a small one, like a cow or something. Tiberius. He was a fairly democratic ruler, although in his old age he got a little tired and began to issue not very democratic laws. This often happens with emperors, when they get their fill of power and in the end start to terrorize their subjects. Yes, yes. We know this too. Well, what did the Sanhedrin and the High Priest rule over? Who were they? He didn't rule over anything. It was just a religious assembly. It was a meeting of priests who simply monitored the observance of their law. As they called it, the Torah. Their law. Well, and there, of course, their own interpretations were written to this law. And then their own interpretations were written on the interpretation. And with the Torah, a whole library of literature grew up there about what is allowed, what is not allowed, on what day to do it. How to pray, how many times to bow, what to eat, what not to eat, what to wear, what not to wear, when to get married, to marry, who you can, who you can't, that is, they had every step of their life planned out there. Well, was there any kind of cooperation, some kind of secret one, between, say, the High Priest and the Sanhedrin? Then there was Caiaphas, right? Are you familiar with that name? Well, that's it, yes. That's their leader, this Sanhedrin. Well, did you cooperate with them somehow? Let's say there were some secret agreements, that if you want, then I will do it? or something like that? We kept the relationship to ourselves, as more of a neutrality. But I won't say about agreements, they just, if they didn't like something, they could write, they are now showing him how to write a letter, and send it on a ship, send it to Rome. That is, they could send some complaint to the emperor, imputing it to me. Well, now I want to ask, when did you first learn about the existence of Yeshua? And what did you think of him? How did it happen? In the wilderness, they reached me, yes, they began to reach me somewhere about two years before, well, about two years before he was arrested, they told me. that there is such a person who works miracles, heals the sick as a healer. they said that he walked on water, they said that he even resurrected the dead. But I considered it as fairy tales, or something. That people make up stories about some person to create his legend. You see, some people find it difficult to believe in a simple person as a deity,and they start inventing miracles for him themselves, to give meaning to their faith. Yes. Do you know what I'm talking about? I understand, of course. I understand. At least a little now. Eh? At least a little now. Oh. Especially in India. Well, was Yashua's activity, was it somehow beneficial to the Ribese Empire or not? Or does it make no difference? I say again that there were quite a lot of people like Izhua. Even in his time there were other prophets who also said that they were from God, probably Jesus knew them, I think so, they were all from the same community. There was a community called Yesei. All of them, these prophets, they hung around there, they had their own society there, like a closed one, like some kind of sepka. But it was a closed sect, not everyone could get in. Like a closed society. I heard about it from Jewish priests and from Green citizens, who also, some were interested in Judaism, including going to the ESE. Then they came and told me, but I was not particularly interested, I just heard these rumors, and I did not pay any attention to it, well, I thought that this was another teacher, there, who spoke banalities in order to get a drop of some attention. There were many like that. Well, why am I asking? I did not know that she was there. I did not see anything dangerous in him, I ... I do not think that he acted against the Roman Empire. At least, I have not heard such evidence that would be proven, so to speak, that someone heard that he called for a rebellion in someone, the overthrow of me, as a perfect, the liberation of Judea. And ... Well, no one told me that they heard such words. Well, there were some hints that he was the king of the Jews, something else. In what? Yes, in that he said that he... Again, it was not he who said that he was the king of the Jews. So they said about him that he was the king of the Jews. When I asked him, when he was already arrested, is he the king? The thing is that if... Yes, okay. And there was such a law that the king... Well, the king of this is already in your translation, here to the Caesars. Here is Caesar, I asked him. Are you Caesar? Caesar? According to the law of Tiberius, which I already said by the end of his term as emperor, he had already begun to issue laws that slightly oppressed democracy, that is, rejected freedom of speech. Well, in his old age he wanted to feel the full power of the plenum. And he made a law that if someone calls himself like, even Caesar, and especially himself, he already equates himself to him, and this is an insult. Well, his majesty. That is, there was such a law about insulting the majesty. No one was supposed to equate themselves to him. Everyone was supposed to honor him. And when Yeshua was brought in, as he was arrested, I asked why, and his priests did too. They said that he calls himself Caesar, like a king. And according to this law, I was obliged to take his life. Because for cases of insulting the majesty, according to the law, the death penalty now followed. So he decided that someone who equates himself to him should be deprived of life,This man is unworthy of life. This law was introduced literally 10 years ago, maybe, before the events with Iyusha, and before that, this law did not exist. And when they brought him, I said, do you consider yourself Caesar? He said yes, but not from earth. That is, my kingdom, if translated into language you understand, my kingdom is unearthly. That is, he could not. be subject to liability for insulting Caesar, because he did not consider himself similar to him. And when I asked him... Where are you from? Well, yes, that is, if you are a king not from earth, but where are you from? He pointed to the sky and said, I am from there. I bring the heavenly law, the truth. Well, I took it as... I took the answer as another sermon. That is, I perceived it as if instead of... answers to questions, he is now showing his judge, as if instead of answering the questions of the judge who is judging him, he will also read me this sermon that they are unlawful. That's how I took it. And I became a knight! You... Well... If you, well, like me, preach, you will be punished for it, because you should simply answer the question. And... OH KU WOW! that it was God who allowed him to get to me and for me to meet him. I said that I didn't know you at all. The priests of your people brought me to you. So you yourself must tell me what you did. I didn't catch you and I didn't want to do anything to you. Your own people decided that you were guilty before them. Why did he do that? He is now showing how he questioned him, why his people gave him up, well, like to the Romans. You preach about goodness, about love. Why did you preach like that, that you were given up, essentially, as an invader of an occupier? Well, that is, he is now showing me how he sits like on a wooden, like touch, or something, and asks him such questions mockingly. And even more so your priests, your people, who know the law of your religion. And they all voted unanimously, that is, they are now being shown how they voted, so that there would be no sindril, so that you would be brought to trial. And they also passed me a note. assist, well, that's how... That we want you to consider this in the light of taking your life. I told him that I was not going to do this, because according to Roman law you are not subject to any death penalty. But why did they bring you? He says, I ask them. Well, those who brought you. And I asked, that is, they show how he called these priests. And they accused him of calling himself a god, of wanting to destroy the temple, of driving out some animals for sacrifice, of violating the Sabbath, and even of being a sorcerer, that is, of using some kind of magic, of using some kind of magical spells to heal people. And I told them, and then the priest, all of this together, what you listed, is not a crime in the Roman Empire. We have freedom, because the faith of confession, he can call himself at least some kind of God. and practice magic as much as he wants. This is the whole point. Why did they open a book to me? That is, they are now showing me one like the Torah, like a scroll.They turned me around and said that according to their religious laws such crimes are subject to the death penalty. I said, yes, I know your customs, but your death penalty must be carried out by stoning. And in my presence there were cases when some people were stoned for adultery, for magic, for insulting their parents. That is, there were cases when they were stoned even in Jerusalem. I answered them. If you think that he is guilty according to your laws... Alas, as priests, as responsible... That is, the syndrion was precisely the responsible body of the synagogue that sentenced to this kind of execution. This responsibility was given to them for a reason. God put them there. They said that God put us there. In this place. And before him...

Each of them said that before him I bear responsibility for my decisions. So I told them, if according to your laws he deserves death and execution, then take him and execute him, as it is written in your law, by stoning. What did they answer me? We tried to execute him many times. by stoning, but his crowd of disciples interfered with us. Or he himself used some kind of magic and cast a spell on the eyes of our, so to speak, guards and left. That is, he needs to be tied up, he needs to be crucified, that is, in the way that Roman soldiers can do. They will not kill with stones, there would be no such custom with him. And I looked at them and told you that everything is clear with you. So, you yourself recognize God in him, but you envy him. And you just want to shift your desire to kill Him onto me, so that He does not interfere with you. But you yourself are afraid of retribution from this God. and you yourself do not want to take his life. That is, you want to do your dirty work with my hands. How do you like that? Well, that's what it says in the Bible, in the Gospel. That is, it shows what he said. And they were so indignant, they showed like little arrows with white, gray beards. They were whispering something. So they gathered in a circle. and he said, we need to consult. They went out, and I continued talking to Jesus and telling him that... Show me some kind of miracle! And he just stood at me, looked and didn't answer. I said, are you still silent? I have the power to let you go and I have the power to kill you. So you don't need to behave so disrespectfully with me. Who are you in front of me anyway? You are not a god here. I told him so. You will be a god in front of your barefoot, dirty ragamuffins, who are waiting for you, whose brains you have confused. But here you are not God, here I am God. Here you are, at least in your life. And he answered calmly, looking me in the eyes. You have this power not because you are God here, but because our heavenly father put you in this place. And you are simply doing your duty. So do it to the end, as you are supposed to. More responsibility on those who brought me to you, not on you. Don't blame yourself. So, how do you feel? Well, he also said, Udi, that he is doing his job. Yeah. And he shows... And he said this, well, it would seem,simple words, but they had such power. I looked at him carefully, looked into his eyes. And from those eyes such warmth and at the same time power flowed into my heart. I understood. that I really was sitting before God. I understood this not with my mind, but with my heart. My mind resisted and said, what are you doing? I told myself, what are you doing? Have you also succumbed to the charms of this sorcerer? But my heart knew that it was true. I felt with some sixth sense. that now this man, dressed in a flamboyant coat, beaten, dirty, with his hands tied, had only to move one finger, and everyone around would simply lie down at his feet as... and everyone around would fall dead at his feet. I felt that my life was in his power, and not that my life was in his power. I could not explain it to myself, but that is exactly how I felt. And I said, I need a break. It turns out, as I told the secretary, sit here, as if guarding him, I need a break. And I went out into the fresh air and tried to come to my senses. That is, I prayed to the gods, and prayed to Jupiter, my God, who helped me go. along my entire career ladder, asked him to protect me from the charms of this man. That is, I resisted these feelings in my mind. And such calmness and at the same time confidence came to me, and the thought came, "Do not torment yourself, my son, do what you must." Jesus himself always said that not my will be done, but yours, to a loving father. He thought of this a long, long time ago. I went back, drank some water, he shows me. And I also had a severe headache from the fact that I was struggling with myself. Do you know that headaches happen when you are in doubt? These doubts, fears, anxieties cause headaches. Do you know? And like from such overexertion. Yes. And my head hurt really badly. I drank some water, then asked to bring me some herbal tea. It shows something like that. Jesus looked at me and smiled. And I thought, I wish this trial would end faster. I already agree to everything. That they sentenced him there, I just want to be left alone. And I looked up, met Jesus' eyes and he smiled. And made a hand gesture like this in my direction. I felt a stream of air that entered my head, and the pain immediately disappeared. Tovkazh. I am impressed by the effect of presence. I see all this, I can just see it. I was already there too. Further. Then my wife's minister came in. And he said... He is now showing how he took me aside. Your wife is telling you that you must let go of the person you brought to trial today. Because I saw him in a dream, that he is righteous, as a person, as an innocent person. And I was just surprised, where is she getting angry about this, about this trial in general. Well, I also thought, there can't be such coincidences. Well then I went back to Jesus and asked him, what are you preaching? After he said he was the king from heaven, he asked, what are you preaching? He said, I preach the truth. And I asked him, what is the truth? He looked at me, said, you know. The truth is in you now. What are you feeling now,that is the truth. And I had nothing more to say. I already called the priests, I told them that I questioned him and found nothing in him that could be applied to the death penalty. They asked, nothing at all? I said, well yes, he... He said everything, that is, they told me that here are witnesses who say that he spoke like this about the temple, that he would destroy it, that he said that it is not necessary to observe the law of Moses about the Sabbath, he insulted the faith. I said, okay. For this, for insulting religion, any, we had, by the way, many religions, because, as I already said, many national states. There were many different religious movements. So there was a law. That for insulting any gods, for insulting religion, punishment with a whip was required, usually 40 lashes. That was the law. Since he violated it and there are witnesses to it, he must be held accountable, whoever he is. Next time, I thought, he will watch his language. And I said, I will punish him according to the law. For insulting religion, 40 lashes with a whip. Well, and he waved his hand so that they would take him out and take him to the Executioner. The Executioner was there, who beat him. He waved his hand, take him away, and the trial is over for today. I already assumed that I would go to my residence, I will rest there. Well, I wanted to think about everything he told me. And suddenly I... Heard? No. From the priests? No. This is an unfair punishment, 40 lashes with a whip. I blinked. What do you want? I asked. They said, we want you to crucify him along with other criminals. How did I crucify him? In general, according to our laws, this is only for robbers, murderers, rapists, those who were engaged in, well, how should I say it in your opinion, raping women, children, killing, poisoning, that is, either killing for... money, or who were engaged in poisoning. There were such poisoners. And I tell them, on the contrary, he was treating, he killed someone. Did he rape someone or what? They say no. But he wanted to raise a rebellion, we have evidence. And for attempting to raise a rebellion, the death penalty on the cross also followed, we had a regular one. I told them, I did not find evidence of a rebellion. They said how I found it. Straight out the high priest came out, we provided you, Saint. who said that he spoke against Caesar, that... I say that he spoke against Caesar? What is he? Before the king of heaven, he is no one at all. The most important king is the king of heaven. But he understood himself as the king of heaven. That's what they told me. But he himself says, I am the king of heaven. And then he says, before the king of heaven, the Caesar is nobody at all. And that's why he was preparing the rebellion. And I listened, I understood their logic, their thoughts, of course. And I was so surprised, I say, you are so zealously defending the emperor from the rebellion that... Although you yourself belong to this people. And I have a sneaking suspicion that you are doing this not so that this rebellion does not happen, but simply to eliminate your rival with the help of these accusations, because people are going to him,and not to you. They said, think as you wish, that it is your duty to fulfill the wishes of us, Sindrion, as representatives of the authority of the synagogue, because he committed a religious crime. We, as priests, confirm all of this. You don't know our law, do you? He made himself God, and since he made himself God, then according to the laws of Judaism he can say anything he wants, for example, if he didn't say it today, go against the emperor, but tomorrow he will say it, and you will hear him as God. How do you know that a dove will come to him tomorrow, especially after these 40 blows? Do you think he will perceive them as a fair punishment? No, he will be angry, harbor anger, resentment. And how do you know that he will not behave with himself tomorrow, using such influence, and his influence increases? They are in my trump card How do you know that tomorrow or in a month or in a year he will not raise a rebellion, already using his increased influence, because now, while he is not raising it, he has very few successors, but they are growing. And then he, if he remains alive, he will lead troops against Rome, against the Roman troops, and then you will answer. We brought him to you at the very beginning, and you refused to execute him. And you said that he was just one of the prophets, of which there are many. We did not bring many to you. We know better. I told them, you are trying to manipulate now. I said that I will punish him and let him go. I did not find anything worthy of death in him. And they said, it is your business, but we will be forced to inform the emperor about this decision of yours, about the fact that you are covering up a criminal. And we will provide all the evidence, and we are sure that all the witnesses will write their signatures. And they will also investigate whether you are connected with her. That is, how he would threaten. I said, well... Let's ask the people then, if that's what you want. You know that today it is a custom on your holiday to let a criminal go alone. If he called someone to do something bad, then the people, of course, know about it. Let's ask who they will choose. He shows that it was his proposal. And three were already appointed in the death penalty. All three people knew each other. They were, one might say, highwaymen who attacked those who were traveling on the road, caravans, and broke into houses, tortured, for example, children, so that their mother would find and give them money. They tortured with fire. He now shows how they lit a fire and cauterized the body with it. In front of the mothers. And all the evidence had already been collected, there was a trial, I personally sentenced them to this execution. And I would be sure that if I offered to choose who the priest would save, then Yeshua would choose, of course, because he did not kill anyone. I knew that the people loved him very much. So I said, okay, I will listen to you. Let the people have their say now. And they agreed. I also asked them, that is, if now the people choose to spare Yeshua's life and let him go, will you agree? They said, yes, we will follow the will of the people, because we are called to help, well, to serve the people.that we should help him serve God. If the people choose to let him go, we will agree. And nothing will be written to the Emperor, of course. about you, about the fact that you tried to stand up for him there. And... I said that I sentence Jesus to death on the stake for, there was such a formulation, for insulting the imperial majesty. That is, I wrote down what he said to the king of heaven, that he called a svakesar. So close it. And, as I already said, the mortal Kaid was also subject to this law. Let's go! I announced to the secretary, who was sitting next to the table, and he wrote this sentence on papyrus. When I did this, I looked at Jesus again, but I did not see any fear in His eyes. no disappointment. He still had the same smile. And again I felt warmth from his eyes and, how can I say it, support. And the thought flashed through my mind, yes, if this is God... It means that he himself knew everything in advance. And if he knew everything in advance, then I can’t resist. I’m just an extra, playing a role. Well, when? Yes, I did it. Good. I! said to write down this sentence. And Jesus was taken away to be prepared for the Crucifixion. They were preparing. They heard the soldiers of the legion, who were next to me. During the preparation, there were some rude people there, so to speak. They beat him. They took off his clothes that he was wearing. And they threw him some kind of a cloak and put a crown of thorns on him. And this is exactly like a sar. Because they heard the whole process, who it was. And they said, a king like you, the king of Rvakov and... Sar Robakov and the city prostitutes? Only such a crown is worthy. And separately they crown him with thorns. That is, like thorns. Then they also beat this crown with a stick so that the thorns would sting him. And then they took him back, like to a balcony. He already had... I mean, he had been hit on the back several times with this whip. They hit him, there was blood there and a stripe like that. And there were bruises on his face. And... The blood from the spikes poured into his left eye. He couldn't see because his blood had poured there. And I couldn't wipe it off because it was tied to my hands. And he stood there, blinking, trying to get rid of it. By the way, when blood falls into the eye, it hurts. I knew it myself when I fought with those punters. I also had a head wound, and I felt it. I shook myself and now I'm showing you what you're doing. I told you to prepare for crucifixion. They were surprised, but they treated them so simply. Because they were already like doomed. Because it was believed that if there was a court sentence, this criminal was no longer worthy of being treated as a human being. And those robbers, who, of course, were beaten. Well, I mean, with growth. SAAA We'll teach you now how you killed women. Well, try to kill me. What, you can't, huh? With a spear to the head, with this blunt end, like I'm showing you now. Don't stab him, just hit him on the head like this. Well, you see, I'm stronger than you. That's how they converted. That's the kind of people they were. Well, then they brought out Jesus and brought out those three beaten ones, too,those three examiners were also beaten and with their hands tied. with panic, with traces of being knocked down. But in the Crown of Thorns there was only Jesus. I already understood then that it was like a king to separate. And I went out onto my platform. And that's how I looked at the people, there was a whole crowd. In general, it seemed to me that all of Jerusalem had gathered. In general, there were a lot of people. Moreover, men and women were somewhere, and children. That is, they were standing there as if in a crowd. I thought how many. After all, it means that now the fate of Jesus will be decided. But I didn't even doubt that they would choose to let him live. Because, I say again, I heard that he was loved. Especially in comparison with this world plane, whose crimes were known to everyone. I raised my hand, the noise died down, there was silence. And I'm plotting. These four are sentenced for their crimes, in the name of the Emperor, to death on the cross for violating the Revolutionary laws. But today, in honor of your holiday, the Emperor gives one of them his life back. By law, you choose who. So who should we release? And I already... Well, since I gave them a choice, I had to fulfill it in any case. The people's choice. This is a democrat. And I prepared myself to hear that she was a shoah. And I even thought that when they released him, I would like to take him to my residence and listen to what he preaches, if I was interested. And suddenly I hear it. Varava. It was one of the robbers. Release Varava. I was so surprised that even my head spun and I staggered. I thought that I had heard it more than once. I asked again, so who should we release? And when they again shouted thief, I wanted to hear at least one voice. who will shout the name of Yeshoah, but I will never hear. I thought, this is how the people molded him. It's strange, after all, I heard some lies then or something. Maybe he, that is, I began to doubt, maybe he really did something bad against the people, so they even prefer to let him go, a robber. And what does it mean to let a robber go? We will now simply explain our law. What does "let in" mean? This means that the chosen person had to be immediately released, his hands were untied and not punished in any way. for the murders he committed. There was no prison. They should not have given him any additional nutam. That's it, he was already sentenced, and he was released by the will of the people. He was already becoming innocent of anything. The guilt was removed from him. He became clean. Before any law. Before our Roman law. No one could even call him a murderer, because he was already considered... He was sentenced for this murder, but cleared by the emperor by the choice of the people. That is, it was generally considered the will of the gods. Do you understand? I thought, if this is what the gods want, who am I to resist them. And then I realized that they were saying to let the thief go, they had to understand that he could do it again. He could go and kill again. He could kill any of them. Love from their wives, from their children. After all, removing the guilt, it did not mean his correction. And I thought, well, since they are risking even their lives,because no one knows who this man's anger and thirst for knives will turn on. Well, let it be according to the will of the people. And I asked. And what should I... The people asked again, what should I do with the man you call the messiah, who calls himself the messiah. I asked this specifically, although I shouldn't have asked, because it is clear that he was sentenced to death, but I also wanted to hear what the people would say. And when I asked this, I noticed out of the corner of my eye that the priests, who were standing a little... They looked at me, well, that's how he shows me now, very aggressively, that is, with such dissatisfied faces, because this question was no longer a regulation. That is, this question to the people, what do you want him to do if... And they all started shouting, crucify him. And I was surprised, but you called him a king. How can I part with him. And then I hear him. We have no king, we have no ruler, except for the kes. I was even surprised, they were usually not happy with the rule of the Roman Empire. And there were always some kind of conspiracies, some petty ones, underpayment of taxes, concealment of taxes that were paid to the Roman Empire. Soooo And then suddenly they declare that they have no other king. Well, then I was completely surprised. And he said, okay, bring me water and a towel. My servants brought it. I, in front of the whole crowd of these people... Told me to pour it on my hands and I washed my hands. I endured it. To show that it was not my decision. I gave the right to decide to the people, didn't I? And I said that I was not guilty of the death of this righteous man. Why did I say a righteous man? Because I felt the warmth from him that I spoke of. And I did not make this decision, I am not responsible for the death of this man. Look, think about it. This whole crowd roared. In a single burst of words. Let his blood be on us and on our children. So, what do you feel? It gives you goosebumps. But the Jews are persecuted, and have been persecuted until now, precisely because his blood is on them and their children. And then I said, okay, your choice. And he went to his building, then went to his residence. I didn’t go to the stone, what new could I see there. And then they led Jesus away, and they released this raven, naturally they approached him. I remember the expression on their faces. I’m sure he had heard a lot about Jesus, that he was a preacher, a prophet. And when they asked the crowd whom to release, most likely he was also waiting for his shoans, so that he wouldn’t kill. And suddenly he heard his name. I saw them approach him. He had very big eyes, he was breathing cleansed air. It was like saving someone from death. We cut the ropes. And they released him, like they took him off the platform and let him go. And he couldn't even walk on his own, they were swaying him, leading him. And they let him go into the crowd. And he walked a few steps, I followed him. He just sat down on a stone, grabbed his head like this and swayed like this. That is, it seemed like he himself did not believe that this had happened. After all, in just two hours he expected to be hanging on the cross. Bleeding. And suddenly he was free.So, see you soon! And you don’t know his fate further in Gorav? No. I stayed further. About seven years after that I stayed in Judea. I know the story of the resurrection. I know about that, yes, they are now showing me how they grafted tablets onto the cross. I said that at least your soldiers should be grafted with the fact that it was the king they crucified, so that they would remember what they did. And to me, that they did not choose to save him. Although they could have. And I already had to fulfill the will of the people. What law? And... I said to write above Christ, that in three languages, in Greek, Hebrew and Latin, that this is Christ, in Greek, the king, the Jewish. And then the priests came to me again and said, why did you order it to be written like that. To them. I say, what? Well, it was necessary to write not “The Sun”, but that he said “The Sun”. I wrote as I thought for my husband. Well, after that they came and said that he died on the cross. And they said, allocate us soldiers. And he says, for what? To guard his tomb, where his disciples buried him. And he says, why guard it? Well, because, he says, there is a boy there. That's what they told me, the sleeping ones. Oh, they also confirmed it to me when they let the thief go. Then, by the way, there were problems with him too. But then he, as I... They said, he fell for small oprahs and then he joined the ranks of Christians. Well, at least I heard rumors there. But at first he stole there, he no longer killed, that is, he is now showing me how he stole from some shops or something to feed himself. And... When the people chose the thief, then the priests came to me and said, well, we told you that the people were against him. And you wanted to let him go. And now imagine, if you had let him go, you would not have fulfilled either our will or the will of the people. That is, they also reproached me for wanting to let him go. Well, I said, well, I did fulfill the will of the people. And Iiiiime. After his death, when they buried him, the priests came to me and said, allocate us some of the Rind soldiers. I said, for what? What did that deceiver say, that he would rise from the dead? That's how he would rise. Well, that's how he would rise from the dead and leave. I said, what? Well, a few days will pass now, they told me, his disciples will steal the body. They will say that he rose from the dead and left. And there will be another deception. And again they will go for the teachers. Well, it will be like a new one, like a sect was formed. I thought, this could really happen. I said, take the soldiers, let me not guard. I was shown how much time, like a few days. And then... one day at a time, about two or three days had already passed. And in the morning I heard such a commotion in the yard, I went out and everyone was shouting that Jesus had disappeared from the tomb. And soon they came to me, yes, Jesus disappeared from the tomb. Soon the priests came to me. The priests with their assistants. I asked what happened. And they said that after all the disciples managed to drag him away, when they fell asleep, these soldiers rolled away the stone and dragged the body away. Jesus, I will call my soldiers who were there. And I ask for a salute. And they told me that we were not sleeping.We saw a star in the sky. It was at night. In the sky above the mountain where the promisee was. And... This star began to grow and turned into a huge ball. This ball landed on the clearing. And suddenly, like that, it went out. And from the side of the clearing, several tall people in white clothes approached, and they had white foxes. One of them was shining some kind of tube from which light came to the stone, and it just flew off to the side. And I asked, why didn't you do anything? Who are these people? They said that we couldn't move, because when they passed by, we felt that we were chained to the ground. Well, in general, we can't even move a finger, but at the same time, feeling everything, we understand everything. And I asked them what happened next. They said that they rolled away the stone, went into the cave where his body lay and after a few minutes they appeared from there. It now shows me that they carried him out again, I understood how they didn’t carry him, but also how they shone some kind of beam on him. And this body, well, it was floating next to them in the air. And they walked towards this clearing where they came from. There the white ball lit up again. It began to rise up, and from it there was like wind, a gust of wind, a warm wind. And it smelled, like after a thunderstorm. That’s how they described it. And I talked to them. I said, did you tell this to the priest? They said, yes, but you dreamed it all. You missed the students. I said, so what are you going to do? And they said, well, we were paid to talk. They didn’t tell this, they told us that we were sleeping when he was stolen. This body. But we told you how he became a son... To the chief. Well then I was constantly thinking about it, that the gods took him to heaven. But again I had questions, why did they send some people? After all, the gods could have simply destroyed this mountain themselves without any people and taken this body. Not sent anyone there. And I had another question. Why then did they let him be killed? They could have taken him earlier. That is, these are some questions, doubts there were. And I could not figure it out. And then I was distracted by other things. I heard that a network of Christians was gathering there, who believed that he was Christ, that he flew to heaven. There were such rumors that he was resurrected, he flew on it. But I did not pay attention to this. There were such cases when Christians were stoned, the Jews themselves, as I already said, in such a practice, but they did not bring stones to such people. I was busy with my own affairs, and it so happened that they started again, now I am shown how conspiracies are in order to create a riot. And I suppressed one of these conspiracies. With the help of soldiers. And the soldiers beat the conspirators very cruelly, telling them about their weapons, because one soldier was also stoned to death, they began to take revenge. They killed, probably, about two hundred people, in the region of two hundred, stabbed with spears, trampled with horses. And a complaint about all this, about the fact that I... and we ordered it that way. It was sent just now to the emperor. Now he sent me a letter. And about the fact that there was no such thing there, that there was a stranger.There was something like, well, you're already tired of something, I think, that is, I rewrote it for you. You need to move to another city and take a break from Judea, because you are much favored. And in general, come to me and explain what happened. Because when they wrote a letter about me, I, naturally, also wrote my version. What happened. That it was a riot, that they killed a soldier, and they had already begun to avenge their own. And he wrote to me that you need to rest, that you've been there for a long time, come to Rome, we'll talk there. And I'll leave. months. I left. and went on a ship. and sailed towards Italy. There with stops, on the islands. I sailed to Italy, went to Rome. And I lived there, that is, I met the emperor there. Yes, good. But when I got there, there was already another emperor. Some shows... Julius, Julius, Julius... Julius! Well, at least Julius did something like that. And me! Aaaa I asked what happened. They told me that my friends who stayed in Rome, they met me from the regiment where I fought. We celebrated my return there. Aaaand... They told me that there were rumors that that emperor was poisoned. He was like relatives. I thought, well, he was already old, maybe he himself died. Okay, then it's none of my business. And accordingly, I began to wait for further orders. Then an order came from the new emperor that he did not want to meet with her, that he had studied my case, had no claims against me, but that he would not send me to Judea anymore, I needed to go to another country, because the people there were unpleasant. To me, because these complaints would continue. And they sent me to another city. He is now showing me how to the North. Venezia is the city of Venezia, well, that's what we hear, at least. And I went there with my wife Claudia. And... I had a son. Yes, at that time, he was already there in one of the legions. I met him. We spent several months together. In that visan I also became... It shows me now how she was a viceroy over the people who lived there. They were like some Celtic tribes, or something. Something like Celtic tribes. So, where is that? Show me on the map. It shows me somewhere like France, or something. Something like that. There are still mountains there. Well, it was a colony too, like Rimsk. That is, captured territory. And I began to live there, and gradually I forgot that I was in Judea, but I often... I lived there, and I often began to have dreams like dreams in which I again returned to the court. And I woke up, and I kept thinking about how, what else I could do to let Jesus go. Did I do everything, did I say everything, maybe I should have somehow replaced him, maybe hidden him. That is, I began to blame myself for the fact that it turned out this way. Because I felt sorry for him. He shows how unfairly he was treated. And so, now I'll simply answer, Celt is Britain, France is Tekal. At that time, they could live anywhere at all. It was only later that they moved there or here. At that time, in France, there could have been some Balts or Slavs,for example. That is, they then mixed everything up and went to different countries. Yes, I am answering that... Moreover, yes, Celtic is just... ..a collective name for peoples, and there were many tribes there. Just like, for example, Germanic. And... I began to feel that nothing makes me happy anymore. It shows me now how I fell into despondency, like depression. And I began to find solace in wine. I began to drink often. And when I was 56 years old... YUM! I drank more wine than necessary once again. And went swimming in the lake. I swim in cool water. And... And then my head was spinning, I feel like I'm falling asleep. I wanted to swim to the shore, but on the way I fell asleep and choked. And I somehow switched off, I am now showing how his head is down, and he inhaled water and did not even understand what was happening. And when I woke up, I felt that I was sitting at the bottom of a huge vessel, like a pot. I thought I was in some kind of pit. Then I saw a light from above, said, I need to go to the light. I felt that I was flying up. And there I was met. figures of shining clothes. took me to my level, there I connected with my spirit and saw my lives. Well, after that I incarnated on Earth, I incarnated on the territory of Romania, I was a woman, now it shows me somewhere in the 11th century. I was a woman in a Catholic monastery. And there I rose from the eighth level to 18. And after leaving the incarnation, I incarnated on Murkhana. Also in the body of women. This happened in 1940. Thank you for your attention! Have you met him? Yes, he came to me when I was still in the spiritual world after leaving the Incarnation of Pilate. And he came to me in the spiritual world, he now shows me as a phantom, and talked to me, consoled me and said that he forgave me, that he never... Well, even what he wrote, "You forgave me," he said, "I never even blamed you for anything." I knew that such a path lay ahead of me. And if I did not want to go through it, No one could crucify me, because I could just fly up, and no one would get me. And in general I could... Now they show me how to induce something like... hypnosis on everyone, to blind him temporarily, they simply moved him, stopped seeing. That is, he somehow had such an opportunity. And I asked him, why do you need it then? What kind of game is this? Have you not experienced pain? He said, I have. This is not a game, it is a way. The purification and salvation of your souls through my pain passed as energy. With the help of my pain, energy came out when I felt it. I forgave those who did this, and through this forgiveness, energy passed in all directions from me and purified. like the atmosphere of the Earth. And moreover, I returned later, he said that he really returned to the body, I sent him a parcel, as they took him. He said yes. And that he is generally... the table is on a celestial body generally near another star. And I asked, how is that? And they showed me... He showed me the planet Burkhat. And it was after that that I wanted to incarnate there. But my angelic consultants said that for this I first needed to go through the lessons on Earth that I had not gone through, and then choose the planet Burkhat for the next incarnation. Which is what I did. Tell me, when your wife came to you and said that she dreamed that you had to let him go, this is a biblical story. How could they have found out about this? After all, the conversation was between you and your wife? I think that Jesus told the apostle about this. He knew when I came from the conversation with this minister. I think he read my thoughts. Yes. But when he was resurrected, you did not want to see him, to meet him? How did you react to this? Well, I somehow did not believe it. I really thought that Inson had splashed something. Thank you very much. We have been talking for about three hours already. Wow! I will tell you, and I have something there. It was impossible to stop you, I can feel a big developer in you. Because all the questions that I have written down here, you just went through. On questions, so to speak. Going through questions. I'll tell you... Not powdery. I'll tell you a joke. There is a church. Opposite the church they opened a pub. And... the church ministers told the pub owners what are you doing, what are you doing here, we pray here and you, but this is not right, and over time the pub closed somehow no one started going there, it closed and the pub owner sues the church so and so that's what they did, that means they prayed like that, that means the church closed. And the clergy say, it can't be that we pray there and the pub closed because of this. Well, the judge read it and said, this is the first time I see this, I ask you to write down that... The owners of the KBC believe in God, but the clergy don't. Yes, it's funny, he smiles. Yes, I thank you. Pontius Pilate for the trip, I thank my higher self for helping me with this contact, I thank Merahalta who helped us to come to him, and I thank the girl for Burgady who gave permission. For this conversation with my Higher Self, with my Phantom. With the Phantom of my Higher Self.I also thank Mikhail for the wonderful introduction of the broadcast, for your patience, for listening to me. Well, how I conveyed the information. I hope, I thank you also, dear ones... And the TV viewer for your patience, for your patience in watching.

#541 Live broadcast with representatives of the royal reptilians.

00:00 Start of video.

00:04 Introductory remarks.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello to everyone. I am very glad to see and hear everyone. We had plans to hold another broadcast today. But, due to the fact that I began to read, to deeply study Russian legislation, in order not to fall under the article, in my opinion, article 205. 2a (justification of extremist and terrorist actions, calls for terrorism and extremism), we decided to cancel the broadcast with Osama Bin Laden.

Of course, it would be very interesting for me to conduct a broadcast with this spiritual personality, to ask a huge number of questions. But our Project is not just schizoteric on the territory of the Russian Federation, our Project is an official center, which is registered on its territory. I would not like to expose it to big problems from law enforcement agencies, who may see some actions of an extremist or terrorist nature in this.

Therefore, as the Project Manager, I decided to make the broadcast as interesting as it would be with this spiritual personality. I have long dreamed of communicating with representatives of the royal reptilians. I have heard a lot about them from various contactees. I have heard that they visited our planet, that they have a matriarchy, that they control other reptilians and influence them, that they have superpowers, superknowledge.

(Reads the chat) "Hooray, Maxim is back with us." Hello, I'm back with you. Although I know that many people don't like me very much, but that's okay. I'm not a chocolate bar to please everyone. "Max, good health to you." Thank you very much, Roman, and good health to you too, my dear. "Maximushka, welcome back." Yes, I didn't go anywhere, guys. As a leader, I also need to rest a little, restore my nervous system, balance, well-being. Devote myself entirely to the Project... The Project is very large, it is growing, a huge number of different subprojects are appearing, people are joining us.

Yeah, not a hundred dollar bill for everyone to like. That's right, Alex Bondecido.

So, the Project is growing, it is becoming bigger, people are joining it. And of course, I am very glad that trust exists, is being gained in the esoteric community for our Project.

I receive many SMS, letters, mostly of a good, friendly nature, and sometimes - the opposite. Today I received an SMS that we, it turns out, are a special project of our Russian space program. The person decided so only because the representatives of the Interstellar Union and all aliens speak Russian.

I'll tell you a secret (I'll reveal a big secret), they don't speak Russian. They communicate with thought forms. Irina, I, and other contactees who are in our big team translate thought forms, thought packets into Russian, because we, fortunately, are Russian.

I consider a large number of people to be Russians. I do not divide into Russians, Jews, Ukrainians, Tatars, Mongols. We are all here on one small planet - a grain of sand in the huge Universe, in the huge Cosmos - with our small awareness we try to give you the knowledge that comes to us. It is transmitted by representatives of different civilizations. Some do this with a specific purpose, others simply communicate with us, others transmit important information. We do this with all our souls, with all our love.

Recently I received a letter reproaching that real spiritual people give everything for free, and we are swindlers, maniacs, forcing you to pay a donation. Guys, I want to remind you all once again that we are not forcing anyone. If you want to support our Project, as individuals, as legal entities, you can always give as much as you can. Not necessarily money. You can come to help, as volunteers, in construction, as teachers, to teach people.

"It's not the same without you. It's really empty without you." Guys, the world doesn't revolve around me. I think Ilya was a great host. By the way, I watched the broadcasts that Ilya hosted. I think he was great.

Jacket? Today I am wearing a professional suit "Cassiopeia". I also have a big label on the back. I express my gratitude to the Belarusians. When we were at the Belarusian retreat, Irina and I were given two suits. I put them on with great love. Guys, thank you very much for these wonderful suits that you gave us, I put them on with a smile. Why? Because many friends "understand" that I am in a sect. When they see me, they say: "All this is your sect."

Alena, hi. I missed everyone too. I needed to rest, because a large number of constructive and destructive flows are going towards the Project, that I am a little tired. And now I have rested. You know, I have arrived. There are some problems, but it has become so good, so calm. I look at Irishka, it seems to me that when I was not around, she also calmed down, became calm, restrained.

Regarding the fact that we require a donation. I want to tell you all that our Project includes other projects, such as "Cosmoenergetics", "Cosmohealing". Let's look at it. In order for Ivan Yonten to become a master (you can officially see how much money it costs). To reach the level of a master of Cosmoenergetics, you need about 50,000 dollars. And, even having paid this money, having reached the master of Cosmoenergetics...

"Burn. 10 minutes is not enough." Guys, there will be no commercials today. Don't worry. I won't do anything... Although no. We have an offsite event in Israel. There are 5-6 places left in the first block. You will be taught to communicate with your Higher Self, to lead other people to the Higher Self, to meet your curators, mentors, to communicate with the Spiritual world, with subtle civilizations.

All this will be in Israel, in a very interesting place, in the Homeland of Christ. For us, Israel is the Homeland of Christ. In the Homeland of Christ. The group is interesting. There are five or six places left for the first block, I think, I don’t remember.

"Hello, sectarian." Hello, Irina. We welcome all sectarians who, together with us, are engaged in the study of Space, the Galaxy, civilizations. Oh well, we temporarily deleted Irina. Why? Lenochka, I would have left her, well, we are sectarians to them. I don't see anything wrong with that. If a person doesn't believe in it, who can make him believe it? No one.

So, Ivan Yonten gave a huge amount of money to do Cosmoenergetics. And I want to remind you that Ivan Yonten conducts initiations, practices, sessions that cost 100-200 dollars for people who paid for it. He conducts them on the terms of donation, payment according to the heart.

"Now explain why first Laden, and now the royal reptilians?" You know, it seems to me that in terms of airtime saturation, Bin Laden corresponds to the royal reptilians. As the head of the Project, I realized that we already have two strikes on the channel. We got one strike, I don't remember why. The syringe was placed when we were talking about Covid. And the second strike was done to us when someone complained about us. I think we started talking about a special operation.

We have only one strike left on the YouTube channel. If we "catch" this strike now, our channel will be closed. We will have to search, or rather, move to another channel, transfer videos there, etc. I would not like to do all this, a huge amount of work has been done with this channel, we have compiled and hosted all our broadcasts on it.

Are the Royal Reptilians representatives of the Royal Dynasty? Now we will find out and find out everything.

So, regarding Yonten Ivan, our cosmoenergetics specialist. Each of you, even without 50 thousand dollars, if you have a desire to work with people, if you are ready to work on the condition of donation and support this master and this school, then we are waiting for you to study cosmoenergetics.

Guys, do you know how much negativity was poured out from the schools of cosmoenergetics, which work for money, for real fixed rates? I understand that we, of course, are becoming big competitors. But, my tasks, as the head of the Project, include deep positioning of this knowledge on our small grain of sand - a wonderful planet. And it is impossible to position it more deeply than for donation.

Guys, it is impossible to do this for free. Why? In order to organize broadcasts, create schools, literature, manuals, spend their time, eat, the masters need at least some money. I am not saying that we are betting huge amounts of money, everything is for donations.

Here is Alleechka, our wonderful master, he gives "Reiki" for a donation. Although people pay huge amounts of money to learn "Reiki" and then work. And many other masters.

Let's say, Irina, do you think she can't put price tags? She can. But the conditions and the idea that we bring will not allow us to do this. Our task is to give every person who has no money the opportunity to obtain knowledge that has always been difficult to access and expensive. People have always made a financial value out of it. In our Project, there is no financial value, but spiritual values that we are trying to present and develop.

Therefore, in the Cassiopeia Project, everything that concerns spirituality, the transfer of knowledge at the place of implementation, that is, in the schools where it is carried out, will be on a donation basis. We also conduct online events on a donation basis. Why? Because the master is on site.

Off-site events. They require organization: renting housing, studios, halls, filming. All this costs a lot of money. That is why we have to set prices in order to go there. There are people who want to help the Project, but not for a donation, but want to pay money. For these people, there is an opportunity to attend such events. We will be good, we will try to open new centers.

Although, you know, we opened a Center in Moscow, but I see there are few people there and they scolded us. "Maxim, why did you only open in Voronezh?" We opened in Samara (our guys opened), centers were opened in Belarus, Canada, Montreal. But, unfortunately, when it comes to supporting these centers, visiting them, people for some reason begin to give in, they, perhaps, do not see the value in this, they are used to the fact that they can watch everything live.

Supporting a center is a very difficult thing. I understand this now and thank those people who decided to open these centers, who support these centers with their own funds and efforts. I will decide soon, and we will work out a joint structure. Now in Voronezh and Moscow, repair work is being completed in the centers, and in a month or a month and a half or two we will have two full-fledged centers.

"Max, finish." Yes, I can already see, 15 minutes... I went a little deeper, I haven't seen you for a long time. I'm very glad to see you all. Don't worry, the broadcast with our dear reptilians will be an hour long. I will personally supervise it. Oh, by the way, write in the comments if I should host the broadcast, I can continue it. If you liked Ilya, write or give your suggestions. Maybe invite someone else to host the broadcasts. Maybe add someone more highly qualified than me to Irina. I don't consider myself a highly qualified specialist in the field of esotericism, but I already understand quite a lot.

So, are you ready? If you are, please like it so I can see that everyone is ready. Because I don't see any likes. 763. 2800 people are watching. If you are ready for the broadcast with the reptilians, it is already here. My ear is already burning, red from the energy nearby. So, like it. Oh, I see, plus 200 right away.

I am transmitting the air to our wonderful, I don't know what to call her. "The gold of the party" I called her. Our wonderful multicontact. Irishenka, sit down, dear. People are already asking for you. They say that they are tired of the big bald healthy man. "Give us a professional contact, not some self-taught person."

Now I'll adjust the camera. I'm a little taller. Everyone says that we are the same height, but I'm a little taller than Irishka, about 40 centimeters. So now I'll adjust it, I'll make it closer to you, so that you can see her better. Oh, look, you can be full screen. I can't think of a better picture.

17:45 Description of a representative of the reptilian civilization from the planet Dahrish.

Irina: Good evening, dear friends. Good day to all. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we asked a representative of one of the reptilian civilizations of the Interstellar Union to come, with whom we have not yet spoken. Why did we decide so? Our curators told us that it is not yet time to contact those Spirits whose activities are prohibited on the territory of the country where we live. His activities, the dissemination of his words are considered dangerous for people, for entire states, not only for the Russian state. This can be interpreted incorrectly, because they are often materialists.

Maxim: No one will pay attention to the fact that we have summoned the Spirit. They will talk about the fact that we ourselves evaluate it this way and present these words.

Irina: It's not about fear. We don't want anything to be done to our channel, where there are videos, and they help you. Our curators suggested that it's not time yet: our civilization is not yet ready to perceive such Spirits as Osama bin Laden, whom we invited, adequately and calmly, without any condemnation. And, in order not to lower the vibrations of those people who are not ready (we were told that they are not ready yet), we decided not to do this.

Maxim: So. Well, Irisha, who is present with us today?

Irina: Today we have with us a representative of a planet that is part of the Interstellar Union, it is called Dahrisha.

Maxim: Dakhrisha – in what language?

Irina: In Daraal. They said that they looked in the directory of civilizations and found out - since I am a contactee of Daraal - the planet Dahrish. It is located in the constellation Pegasus. Its representative is present here, who has a very interesting name. His name is - how can I convey this name with sounds and thought forms - Raten Shinbar, even Raten Shinbar, "e" or "e".

Maxim: I greet you, Raten Shinbar. May I address you as such?

Irina: Yes, Raten Shinbar. I am a representative of the Dahrish civilization. It is called Eloraim in my native language (he showed me just now).

Maxim: Tell me, please, what do you look like? Please describe yourself.

Irina: My physical body, if considered in your units, is 15 m tall.

Maxim: Not 12, as we were told, but 15 meters?

Irina: Yes. I, like the representatives of our species, have four limbs and two wings.

Maxim: Four limbs and two wings?

Irina: Wings on his back, and he has four limbs (he is now showing me that they evolved from animals similar to our pterodactyls).

Maxim: The dragons that we describe?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: What color is your skin?

Irina: Our skin color is gray, but (he shows me now: the color is closer to metallic).

Maxim: Metallic grey, right?

Irina: Yes, like gray iron, gray metal is the back side, and the front side, starting from the chin and ending with the lower part of the stomach, is white, as are the wings. On the outside (he is showing me now) our wings are more like bat wings, and they unfold. Between the wing bones there are membranes of skin. On the inside, the body is white.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what is the reason that one side of the body is closer to metallic in color, and the other side is white?

Irina: It was camouflage to hide from predatory species on our planet. There were and still are birds of prey that are parasites (he shows me: it looks like an insect with a beak). This insect could sneak up, sit on the back and lay its eggs inside. Then small bugs would come out and eat the body from the inside. It was necessary to camouflage.

Maxim: Wow.

Irina: This creature is as unreasonable as an animal.

Maxim: Like flies in Africa that lay larvae in human skin? Well, yes, "in Africa", "flies", "larvae". I understand that you don't understand what I'm talking about, but I'm trying to explain it to the people watching us.

Tell me, please, did those creatures that fed on you become intelligent?

Irina: No.

24:40 Raten Shinbar on the birth of the planet Dahrish and joining the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Has your planet become intelligent and conscious a long time ago? When was an intelligent Spirit able to incarnate?

Irina: Before this broadcast, I familiarized myself with information about your planet, including the length of your year, so that I could compare. About 72 million of your Earth years ago, our civilization was born, the first intelligent beings appeared, according to our scientists. But we joined the Interstellar Union 325 years ago.

Maxim: Recently.

Irina: Yes, we have recently joined. We have not met all the civilizations yet. We are in contact with a limited number of planets of the Interstellar Union.

25:50 Raten Shinbar on matriarchy, chronology, location and climate on Dahrish.

Maxim: Tell me, please, I heard that in your race matriarchy prevails, that is, a woman, a female individual, rules. Is this true?

Irina: Our ruler is the only one on the entire planet. It can only be a female being who can lay eggs. You give birth to living children, and we lay eggs. Our civilization is oviparous. It takes about a year in Earth time, or 1/6 of our year, for a child to emerge from an egg.

Maxim: So our one year is your 6 years. Am I right? No. Our 6 years is your 1 year, that's how it is, I guess.

Irina: Your one year is 1/6 of ours. So your 6 years is 1 year of ours.

Maxim: Please describe what kind of planet you have. Is it big? What kind of atmosphere is it? What kind of suns are there? What is the temperature?

Irina: If you look at your starry sky, our planet is not far from the star "tau". Our star is not far from the star "tau" Perseus, but further than it.

Our star is located at a distance of 2,755 light years from Earth.

Maxim: 2,755 light years?

Irina: Yes. There are many mountains and volcanoes on our planet. Therefore, the atmosphere contains a lot of nitrogen oxides, sulfur oxides, carbon dioxide, oxygen (we have 13%), and there is a lot of ozone in the upper layers of the atmosphere. The planet has a strong magnetic field.

Maxim: What kind of gravity do you have on your planet?

Irina: Gravity is approximately (he tells me now) 20% of the earth’s.

Maxim: So your planet attracts bodies five times weaker?

Irina: Yes, 20% of the Earth. The diameter of our planet is smaller, about two times. If yours is 12,000 km, then ours is about 7,000 km. And the mass is 14 times less than yours.

29:40 Raten Shinbar on life expectancy, blood composition, nutrition.

Maxim: Are you involved in mining the planet?

Irina: Yes, we have scientists' developments. Now we are being helped in this by representatives of the Interstellar Union, who have provided us with robots and modern factories that can process even the simplest elements into the necessary materials for the construction of our cities, roads and infrastructure.

Maxim: I see. Tell me, please, how old are you in our Earth years? We can translate, I'll multiply by six.

Irina: Yes, I can tell you 620 of your (earthly) years.

Maxim: That’s 100 years in your time.

Irina: Yes, a little over 100 years.

Maxim: How long have you lived?

Irina: We have been living, according to our chronology, for 600–700 years.

Maxim: So somewhere around 3,500 Earth years?

Irina: 3,600 Earth years, somewhere around there.

Maxim: 600 years by your chronology. And I heard that there are reptilians who live 15,000 years. Do such people exist? Do you know any?

Irina: No. I don't know such representatives of the reptilian race. Perhaps their medical technologies have reached such a height. We still have a lot of microdamage in genetic information - an analogue of your DNA - which prevent the body from being alive for a long time.

Maxim: What color is your blood? Do you have blood?

Irina: We have hemolymph. It (he shows me now: colorless) carries oxygen and other nutrients without combining with hemoglobin. It forms with a nitrogenous substance in the blood, similar to your amino acids, attaches oxygen and is thus transported. (He now shows me that there are few metals, iron, copper, in the planet's crust, so their nutrient transport system has formed differently. He does not show red blood).

Maxim: What color is it?

Irina: Colorless, like water, only thick and sticky.

Maxim: Like plasma. I understand. And what do you eat, what do you eat on the planet?

Irina: We are omnivorous creatures, but we prefer to eat fish (we have ponds), poultry, plants that produce something like your nuts, only small, and grow (he now shows a tree, not even a tree, but a plant with a long stem, similar to our bamboo, only its leaves are like those of a fern, wide, under the leaves hang clusters of hard nuts).

Maxim: You eat animal and plant food, that is, you are omnivorous. Am I right?

Irina: We prefer fish. We can swim underwater and dive (he is showing me now).

Maxim: So you can stay without oxygen for a long time?

Irina: Without inhalation, without air, we can be for 6-7 minutes.

34:24 Raten Shinbar on wars, population and architecture of cities on Dahrish.

Maxim: I see. And have you had wars on the planet, have you fought with each other?

Irina: Yes, there were. There were wars when there was a division into many kingdoms or realms. Our planet is smaller, there was often overpopulation. Currently, we have a little more than 12 billion inhabitants. But almost all the surface suitable for infrastructure is built up (he is showing now) with huge multi-story towers. Between the floors there are passages to the street, only they are not on the ground, but between the floors, like terraces, where various institutions are. They are high.

Maxim: Do you live in very tall multi-story towers with walkways?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Very interesting.

35:25 Raten Shinbar about religion, sense organs, and the method of communication on Dahrish.

Maxim: Do you have such a concept on the planet as religion, like us? We believe in God, that He exists. We have the Christian religion, Buddhism, Islam. Do you have religions?

Irina: We believe in any theory that brings results.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina: But not in mythology. We do not invent a mythical world that can explain reality. We simply explain it as it is.

Maxim: How do you know how to eat?

Irina: This is directly reflected in our consciousness, based on the experience gained through the senses.

Maxim: What are your sense organs?

Irina: We have sight, hearing, touch, a sense of balance and a sense of heat and cold.

(Irina says) When they feel the temperature: higher, lower.

We also have intuitive feelings of our Soul, when we can directly know what is useful or harmful to us for our life, not related to the physical world. Religion for us is like a science, but not a science about nature, but a science about our civilization, like your anthropology.

Maxim: I understand. Tell me, please, how do you communicate with each other? We communicate with words.

Irina: We also have a language.

Maxim: Is there a language? So you also communicate by transmitting vibrations through the air?

Irina: We also have a language (something is chattering. What is this chattering? I won't repeat it).

Maxim: Well, at least approximately what it looks like, Irisha? It's interesting. Let him tell you something, how they talk there. Tell him as best you can.

Irina: I hear (he is transmitting it to me now), a lot of sounds “r”, “trtrtrtr”, it kind of crackles and chirps at different frequencies (that’s what I call it), and also whistles.

Maxim: That is, it growls, whistles and chirps.

Irina: He says: "These are our words." And your words will be like noise to us, incomprehensible. Now, when you speak out loud, I listen through the contactee's brain to the sounds that she makes and that you make. This would be incomprehensible to us, because we do not have as many vowel sounds as you do. For example, "a", "e". You speak too slowly. And we (he shows me now) speak quickly.

Maxim: How many species live on your planet?

Irina: 12 billion, a little more.

Maxim: A little more than 12 billion?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Do you have any religious buildings, temples, where you plan to chatter?

Irina: Why?

Maxim: I don’t know. We have. We go to temples.

Irina: We have no need to create a cult of something, we just take and do what is useful for our development.

39:38 Raten Shinbar on the ability to fly, entertainment, art, astral travel on Dahrish.

Maxim: I see. Do you use wings?

Irina: Yes, we can fly. We can fly despite our height because our bones are light enough (he shows me now). There is a spine and limbs. Inside, large bones are filled with air cavities. The structure of bones is such that it contains not only calcium phosphate, but also silicon compounds, which make the bone not only strong, but also elastic. It can support a large body weight.

Maxim: Our people love to have fun. How do you have fun? How do you entertain yourself? Is there such a thing as "boring"? Do you have recreation, entertainment facilities, like we do?

Irina: How do you have fun? Have fun – does that mean you get distracted? What does this word mean?

Maxim: Spend your free time for your own pleasure.

Irina: Everyone is busy fulfilling their desires, what they want to do. It can be anything.

Maxim: In the process of life, you do whatever you want. You have fun, so to speak, developing and comprehending the truths of the universe.

Irina: He said "in his free time". And in his free time, everyone does what he wants.

What kind of entertainment do we have? I understand what you are asking about.

Maxim: Jump from the tower into the water with the dragons.

Irina: As I already said, we love to swim. Many people love to hunt and collect trophies. Also, many people love to collect some plants or minerals, or some things. Many travel around the Galaxy, especially after joining the Interstellar Union.

I lived in a time when we had not yet joined the Interstellar Union. And now many are interested in flying to other planets, especially to those civilizations where creatures similar to us live, that is, cold-blooded reptilian races. They want to see how others live.

And as for art, I know (he is speaking now), you have such a question in your field. Do you have such a question in your field?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Do we have art? We have fine art and some semblance of music, but without musical instruments, like singing. A whole composition of these sounds (they sing in chorus and depict, like in a theater, some kind of performances).

Maxim: That is, instead of musical instruments, your vocal apparatus can produce a cacophony of sounds that is music.

Irina: Yes. There are no separate words (he tells me). Just like in your music there are no separate words, we have separate sounds or combinations of sounds that express our feelings. We can create different performances. I will find the closest analogue now. Approximately like your dances, only with wings, in the air, together with compositions.

Maxim: I understand. You even showed me the image. I saw the image. Yes, interesting. Aerial dancing.

Irina: He showed me two people circling around each other and flying up.

Maxim: Got it. Tell me, please, do you believe in God, in His existence, that there is a Soul that incarnates, a God who created you?

Irina: We know that all this exists, but we know it from experience. Our brain does not turn off consciousness when we sleep, and we remember our travels in the Spiritual World (it shows me how they see themselves outside the body). This is only part of our knowledge of the world.

Maxim: Do you have such a concept as “astral travel”, that is, travel in the Spirit?

Irina: Every dream can be an astral journey for us, because we don't fall asleep. When the body falls asleep, we feel that it has fallen asleep, we can move our wings and fly up in the astral body.

Maxim: Oh, how interesting. So, every time your body falls asleep, you go out into the Astral?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Does your idea of the astral world differ from the Interstellar Union’s idea of it?

Irina: In general. We have different terms, we understand them differently. There are 14 floors of the astral world on our planet.

Maxim: 14 floors of the astral world? And how many main chakras do you have?

Irina: Also 14.

Maxim: Also 14. That’s why I asked.

Irina: Yes, 14 chakras – energy centers in our aura and 14 floors. And we have an understanding of the astral world, unlike the Interstellar Union, that it is more of a material world, another facet of the material world, which is hidden from daytime consciousness, because we are busy with things in another facet of the material world.

47:18 Raten Shinbar on classes and holidays on Dahrish.

Maxim: What kind of things do you do in the material world? Do you have any work, things to do, where do you go? We go to work. We wake up in the morning, brush our teeth, go to work, work, come home. Do you have things to do?

Irina: It depends on the class in which our person - humanoid lives. We have 378 classes and representatives of each of them are engaged in some kind of business, make something, festive clothes (we do not wear clothes in everyday life) for holidays. We have holidays, for example, a wedding, laying an egg, the emergence from the egg of a new humanoid - our child (birth of a child), his birthday, our birthdays.

We also celebrate (as a holiday), the coming of the New Year, the date of joining the Interstellar Union, there is a date of unification of all kingdoms into one, which happened 124 years before joining the Interstellar Union. When everyone united, 124 years were needed to completely calm everyone down, all the rebellions, and we were able to stop the wars.

49:20 Raten Shinbar on the birth of children and birth control on Dahrish.

Maxim: I'll come to an interesting topic now. When a male sees a female, how does this process happen for you? Do you fall in love?

Irina: It is the woman who controls this. She decides for herself what kind of man she needs for conception and at what time.

Maxim: So a woman on the planet was flying, flying, flying, and came up and said: "I need you, let's go mate." Is that how it happens?

Irina: She says that the Soul of the future child contacted her, and she – the Soul – looks through the woman’s eyes and chooses a father for herself.

Maxim: Oh, how. The future child takes the mother, and they fly and choose a father for themselves?

Irina: He is still in the astral world, with her permission, and enters her aura. Why hers? Because she will carry the egg in which his body will be. First, this Soul makes contact.

Maxim: Well, come on, come on, it's interesting. First, Soul, what?

Irina: First, the Soul contacts its mother when her body is asleep and she is in the astral world. They get acquainted, and the Soul says that it wants to be born through her on our planet. The mother asks questions: “For what? What tasks? Why me? Why in our class?” There are several. You can ask: “What name should I give you? What date of birth suits you?”

And, naturally, asks the question: "Who is your daddy?" The Soul gets access to the memory of the future mother, with her consent, and goes through all the men she knows in her memory. If he is not there, then the Soul says that you have not met him yet, and it suggests where you can meet him.

Maxim: Interesting. It turns out that everything happens to dragons. Is there a concept of "family"? Let's say a mother with a child's Soul flew, found a father, and then they live together or only for conception?

Irina: No. They don't need to live together, because the man's role is limited to conceiving the child and then communicating with him once he is born.

Maxim: Well, many of our families live like that now. The man's role is only to conceive a child. And then - "get out, drink and have fun."

Irina: He says that the father communicates when the child has already hatched from the egg. A lot of time passes. The thing is that, as I already said, one year on Earth, a little less than a year is needed for an already hatched egg for a child to come out of it. But for this egg to mature in the body of our woman, six of our years are needed, it is a slow process.

Maxim: 36 of our years.

Irina: Yes. It must first form its shell. It needs a certain diet (he's showing me now), a lot of calcium (like chalk powder). They don't lay eggs until they conceive (he's showing me now that it's a long process). The father and mother are waiting for their child to appear, but they can live separately. Well, of course, no one forbids them to live together. It's just not accepted here.

Maxim: Is there any possibility that they live together?

Irina: Our dwellings are distributed now (already according to the laws of the Interstellar Union) in such a way that each adult member of our society is allocated a living space. We had to adopt this law on our planet when we joined the Interstellar Union. We had to bring our laws into line with the law of the Interstellar Union. The space is allocated in such a way that only one adult individual, one adult humanoid, can live and feel comfortable in it.

Maxim: How many children can one female give birth to?

Irina: In one go?

Maxim: Both at one time and throughout life.

Irina: Seven. I've seen 7-10, that's the maximum number. Usually 2-3, because there are already so many of us on the planet.

Maxim: Do you have a birth limit?

Irina: Legally, no. But according to our traditions, this is not welcomed. It is welcomed to give everything to the one who appeared. Even if there are already children, and the Soul comes to this woman again, she may well answer that she has not yet raised those who are there now to adulthood. She may recommend turning to someone else. There are such cases of refusal.

56:18 Raten Shinbar on the upbringing and education of children in Dahrish.

Maxim: How long does a woman raise her child with you?

Irina: It should be growing for about 40 of your years.

Maxim: Olga Zhukova wrote that our men, it seems, are also reptilians, that is, they came, conceived and left, and then you can spin around as you want and raise them for 40 years.

I see. Two or three children in a family are welcomed and 40 years in our time is 5 years (divided by six), your 5 years, and now mom can calmly...

Do you have any educational institutions where they teach anything? Is there a written language?

Irina: There is one of the classes, which is called the "class of teachers".

When our child turns five of your years old, he is taken to a special institution, similar to your school. Parents can come there, the child lives there and is taught.

Maxim: Got it. There are such classes.

Irina: And when he leaves... Yes, the training takes 12 of our years.

Maxim: 12 of your years, respectively 72 Earth years. Wow.

Irina: Training and development takes 12 of our years, and he already emerges as an adult (he is showing me now) of the class where he was born or, if he has shown the ability to move to another, has passed special practical work, he is transferred to another class. He is given documents (they have some kind of metal documents. What is it? A metal disk that is on the chest on some kind of chain).

Maxim: I saw them in drawings. They draw like this.

Irina: It’s like a document, it contains information.

Maxim: I thought these were some kind of medals, but it turns out they are educational documents, a passport.

Irina: It’s like their passport, it says who he is, where he lives and what class he is.

Maxim: Interesting.

59:38 Raten Shinbar on the concept of love in Dahrish.

Maxim: One girl on air asks you. Do you get pleasure from sex, from conception?

Irina: Is there pleasure in sex, that is, in the process of conception? This is the fulfillment of an instinctive program. The process is neutral for us. It brings, rather, relief, as if one has been freed from a burden.

Maxim: What feelings, emotions do you have? Do you have the concept of love like we do, is there love?

Irina: The concept of love is everywhere, in any world. It can only differ depending on the socio-cultural conditions of existence. For example, I am from the class of scientists, from the class of "science" and not just science, but from the class of "space science". That is why I work in the institution on my planet that deals with contacts with the Interstellar Union.

That is why I was interested in other civilizations, both those who are and those who are not members of the Interstellar Union. I have heard something about your planet, but not enough to form an idea of how you understand love. In order to form an idea, I need to understand what "life" and "death" mean to you, because the understanding of love depends on the understanding of other fundamental concepts and abstract ideas that exist in your society.

Maxim: Interesting, I understand.

1:01:50 Raten Shinbara's level of incarnation.

Maxim: But tell me, please, are you in your astral body now? Are our curators next to you?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: We have such a concept as “spiritual level”.

Irina: Yes, I already know. The representatives of the Interstellar Union told me.

Maxim: 24 spiritual levels. Tell me, please, from which level did you incarnate into your body?

Irina: On the 14th.

Maxim: Got it. And what level are you at now, how do you feel and sense it?

Irina: On the 16th.

Maxim: What level would you like to reach?

Irina: The twenty-second.

Maxim: The twenty-second? Why not the twenty-fourth?

Irina: For now, my plans are to be an Angel Consultant, to provide consultations.

1:02:45 About threats to Irina.

Maxim: Yes, I watch a lot of representatives of the ufologist Bova on the air. Guys, I want to make a statement. The ufologist Bova threatened physical violence against Irina. Therefore, if suddenly, God forbid, something happens to Irina, I am making an official statement that threats of physical violence were made against Irina by the ufologist Bova and his representatives. Highly spiritual people do not engage in such nonsense and do not threaten other people with physical violence. Please think about who the ufologist Bova is. Well, let's move on. I hope that people who realize and understand what this is, have heard me now.

1:03:35 Raten Shinbar on monetary units on Dahrish.

Maxim: I wonder if you have any monetary units? How do you get goods and exchange these goods? Do you have any money, or coins, or something else?

Irina: Yes, we have monetary units, they consist of three types of rare animals, which you would call mollusks (their money is made of shells).

Maxim: From shells?

Irina: He's showing me a shell now, they put stamps on them and pass them around like money. Not paper and not metal, because there's a limit on metal.

Maxim: Is it possible to fake them?

Irina: You can find a shell, but it will not have the seal of our queen on it.

Maxim: Do only queens put stamps on your money?

Irina: With her name.

Maxim: Interesting. I understand.

Irina: With her name and with a number, how much is it. So we have three types, and they are different in size.

1:04:50 Raten Shinbar about the planet Dahrish.

Maxim: Can you briefly describe your planet, what does it look like?

Irina: There is an ocean in the south. In the north of the planet, continents and islands are mainly concentrated. We have three large continents and island chains that stretch far into the ocean. On the continents we have mountains. There are also reservoirs, rivers, but there are not many of them. We have mainly (now shows a large lake, elongated like our Baikal) deep lakes. We also have high mountains and volcanoes.

We are located at a distance of about 300 million km from our star. But since it shines much brighter and hotter, radiates much more heat than the Sun, we practically do not have a cold season. There are two seasons: when it is hot and when the planet moves further, moves slightly away from the Sun.

Maxim: What is the temperature on your planet, that is, let's call it "winter" and "summer", when is it winter?

Irina: When next, we have a temperature... (now he will ask what units we have. They will now translate from LiShioni) LiShioni studied our planet and degrees, what measures we have.

Maxim: So. And what is the temperature on your planet?

Irina: As LiShioni told me (translated your measures into ours): when it’s cold outside, we have plus 10-12 of your degrees.

Maxim: How much?

Irina: In the cold season - plus 10-12 degrees Celsius.

And when it's warm time of year - plus 50-65, it's hot. There is also an intermediate one, while the planet is traveling, the temperature can gradually decrease or increase when it goes in the opposite direction.

1:07:42 Raten Shinbar on substances that intoxicate consciousness on the planet Dahrisha.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you have any means that intoxicate your consciousness, that is, alcohol, drugs?

Irina: There are gases that are contained under the ground, and they can affect consciousness, causing sleep, without feelings. There are gases that accumulate, especially near volcanoes, they can be extracted and inhaled through a special tube, but the effect of this gas is ... We have young humanoids, they do this. It is not officially prohibited. But it is not widespread in all our cities, but in those that are closer to volcanoes. Those who inhaled this gas (it consists of methane), there is methane, hydrogen sulfide and a high concentration of nitrogen oxides. Such a mixture can act (now shows) on our brain in such a way that disorientation occurs. A humanoid temporarily loses the sense of himself, his personality, and he experiences temporary dementia, then he loses consciousness. When he falls asleep, his astral body is unconscious, as if it fell into the void.

Maxim: (They write in the chat) “Load this much gas into the bubbler.”

Guys, what are you saying? We are for a healthy lifestyle. Drug addicts are probably on every planet, as I understand it.

1:10:17 Raten Shinbar about his other incarnations, about pets, diseases and epidemics.

Maxim: Tell me, please, has your Spirit ever been incarnated on our planet?

Irina: I don't remember my past lives and I haven't asked my non-embodied part such a question. I'm not interested in it. Embodied, not embodied, these answers won't change anything in my life.

Maxim: Do you have any pets?

Irina: No. Doesn't confirm about pets.

Maxim: Regarding clothes, as I understand it, you wear clothes only when you participate in rituals?

Irina: Yes, on holidays they wear them loosely around the neck, hanging from the chest, from the back. Where they have wings, there are cutouts and muslin, like tulle with sparkles (he is showing it now).

Maxim: Do you have any illnesses? Have there been epidemics on the planet?

Irina: Yes, there are diseases. But there were no epidemics. We have a very strong immune system, and we have adapted to the microworld on our planet.

Maxim: Aren’t there mutations in the microworld that could bring new diseases?

Irina: No. We do not allow this to happen, because for many millions of years we have been negotiating with the Spirits of our planet so that they do not create harmful and dangerous microorganisms for us.

Maxim: Do you negotiate with plasmoid civilizations?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: How cunning you are?!

1:12:15 Raten Shinbar about classes and hierarchy on the planet Dahrish.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how many classes are there on your planet and what is the hierarchy?

Irina: 378 estates. The current system is a monarchy. The Queen can pass on power, the throne, as you say, only to her daughter. If she does not give birth to a daughter, that is, if a female Soul does not come, this is a sign of fate that power must be passed on to her most senior assistant.

(Irina says) The word "maid of honor" suits me, but I don't know who it is.

Maxim: I know. So there is no transfer of the monarchy tied to lymph? Right?

Irina: Yes, only if a daughter is born, but another relative is not allowed.

Maxim: And what is this connected with? Why is it women who rule your civilization?

Irina: Why do women rule our civilization? Because they are the source of existence for everyone. Any individual emerges from an egg that comes from a woman's body. Therefore, her mind is designed in such a way that she can take care of society, as a mother takes care of her little children.

Maxim: I see. Tell me, please, before you joined the Interstellar Union, did you have contacts with other civilizations?

Irina: There were. The last, approximately 130 years before joining the Interstellar Union. These contacts were open.

Maxim: Have people flown to your planet, or have you flown to other planets? Do you have any technology?

Irina: We didn’t have our own equipment, we only had production for the construction of houses, buildings and cities, and we had weapons equipment.

(He is now showing me something similar to our firearms, only they did not use bullets, but granite chips (they have little metal in the ground).

Industrialization has not developed here because there are few metals in the soil: lead, iron. It is very difficult to extract them. Poor ores.

1:15:50 Raten Shinbar on the genome of the inhabitants of Dahrishi.

Maxim: I'll ask you a smart question. We have someone very smart. Do you have a molt and what is the chromosome set of the somatic cell?

Irina: We don't have molting. The chromosome set of a somatic cell? We don't have the concept of "chromosomes". Our genetic information is stored in the nucleus in the form of (shows an image, I wouldn't call it a spiral) thirty-four spirals, which can be remotely called your chromosomes, but this is not an analogue, there is a difference: they have a different form, a different division law (he shows me now).

Maxim: Do you have different chemical processes in your body and different information carriers in your cell? Do I understand correctly?

Irina: In our cells, other substances are carriers of information. The carriers of genetic information in our cells are not nucleic acids, but amino acid sets that store information for transmission through short chains of amino acids for the construction of other amino acids and structures from them in the analogues of our ribosomes.

Maxim: Dear scientists! I want you to listen to what our reptilian has just broadcast to you through Irina. Could Irina know about the existence of such information? This is a trick question.

1:17:55 Raten Shinbar on burial rituals after death on Dahrish.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what do you do with your body after your physical death.

Irina: Now or before joining the Interstellar Union?

Maxim: Before joining the Interstellar Union and after joining.

Irina: They brought us converters. We call them "physical matter converters", which decompose the body with the help of high-energy electromagnetic gravitational radio wave fields, and direct different molecules of the body to different needs.

Maxim: I understand. Deactivation is taking place. This is a dismantling, a layout of structures.

And what about the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Before the Interstellar Union, the most common method was burning in a furnace.

Maxim: Did you burn your bodies?

Irina: Yes. We have very little space to bury them, on the ground or in a body of water, we burned them.

1:19:10 Raten Shinbar on weapons on Dahrish before joining the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: More questions. Before joining the Interstellar Union, what weapons did you fight with? Stone cannons or what is that? You told me.

Irina: (He shows me how they make a gun barrel out of wood. They prepare something like gunpowder. I don't understand, he shows some kind of powder. When you press on a wooden bracket, granite stones burst out at high speed, which can penetrate the body and damage organs. Like shot, only not metal. There were also cold weapons, very rare, similar to curved sabers. They were made from ore).

We have iron ore. But weapons made from it were rarer. Wooden weapons were used more often in wars. They can be made from wood and stone: clubs, knuckle dusters, and so on.

1:20:30 Raten Shinbar on the structure of his limbs and treatment on Dahrish.

Maxim: How many fingers and toes do you have? Do you have any toes?

Irina: Yes, there are membranes between them.

Maxim: How many fingers are there on the wings? Let's start with the wings.

Irina: On the wings I see four: one at the top, one in the middle and one at the bottom, they are spreading out.

Maxim: Got it. There are four fingers on the wings. How many fingers are on your hands?

Irina: Six, but one stands out like this, like our big one, and five are small and between them there is a webbing, and here there is a small webbing (Irina shows between the thumb and index finger), and here there is a webbing half the size of a finger (Irina shows between the other fingers).

Maxim: And on your feet?

Irina: Also six.

Maxim: Also six. Got it, very interesting.

Tell me, please, do you have a concept of "engaging in your own energy", that is, restoration? How do you heal? How do you restore your physical bodies? Before joining the Interstellar Union and using their technologies, how did you treat, restore organs, limbs, heal wounds.

Irina: We had medicines (we have a chemical industry) that were obtained from substances in our soil, water, air, including artificially (chemically). Sometimes plants were used as an aid for restoration, healing of the physical body, especially in case of injury, for regeneration.

(Now shows a powder that contains a lot of sulfur. Yellow in color. They use it for wounds.)

We have a lot of sulfur on our planet, a lot of phosphorus, phosphorus compounds. As I said, nitrogen compounds are in the atmosphere. Medicine can be produced from these gases by combining them with different substances.

We also asked the Guardians of our space, settlements, houses, forests, rivers, and reservoirs to exchange energy with us. They released vital energy, which cured our illnesses.

(As I understood, they were engaged in healing with the help of plasmoid civilizations, only not for each other, but each for himself).

Maxim: Each for himself? Do you have the ability to contact subtle-material civilizations and work with your energy to restore your body? Did I understand correctly?

Irina: This opportunity is available to everyone. You, people, live in a huge ocean of subtle beings, many of whom want to help you voluntarily.

1:24:02 Raten Shinbar about overpopulation on the planet Dahrish, about contacts with our civilization.

Maxim: Here's a question. What don't you like about your planet?

Irina: I want more space, freedom (he shows me now), so that there is more space. There is a lot of overpopulation.

Maxim: So. Well, now I will move on to more interesting questions. Did you contact our civilization before joining the MS, and do you contact it now?

Irina: I know about some representatives of our civilization who contact your civilization through the Astral.

As I have already said, when our body sleeps, we consciously go out into the Astral. We do not need to train for this, our brain works this way. Some use this time to contact different civilizations through the Astral, including yours. Since we did not have space technology, as I have already said (very bad with metals), then space flights were replaced by astral ones.

Maxim: Tell me, please, now that you have joined the Interstellar Union, are you flying to our planet? Are you here at the Interstellar Union bases?

Irina: There are separate groups that can visit your planet. I have not been to your planet, but I have heard that some representatives of my civilization have flown to Earth as tourists, as part of tourist groups, but they have practically not worked as scientists.

Our interests are more focused on our planet. Now a new generation of our young humanoids is studying, who will pay more attention to space and studying different planets, including yours.

1:26:18 Raten Shinbar on sexual relations between males.

Maxim: Here's a question, this is the fifth time they've asked. Do you have sexual relations between males?

Irina: Why do we need this? He asks: "Why do I or another man need this?"

Maxim: Guys, watch the broadcast first, there he talks about emotions, about feelings during mating. Therefore, I think you will understand that they do not need it.

Irina: Yes, I'll tell him now, "what", but I don't advise you to ask the word "where". You'll get an answer now.

(He tells me now, surprised) How is that? Women have an ovipositor, but men don't. What does that mean?

(Irina says) Now they will teach you.

Maxim: Well, in some kind of "relief" or something.

Irina: So you mean to say, into the hole that exists for waste disposal?

Maxim: Well, unfortunately, many people here do this.

Irina: He grimaced a little. He looked at me with such eyes.

Maxim: In "popoklad". Well, how else can I pass it on? How can they do this?

1:27:45 Raten Shinbar about Jesus Christ.

Maxim: Tell me, please, the question is this, it may be stupid for you. Do you know who Jesus Christ is for us?

Irina: We heard. We communicate with the planet Pikran.

Maxim: Was Christ incarnated on your planet?

Irina: No, I haven't heard about it.

Maxim: And what do you think about our Christ?

(Communicates with the chat) Yes, yes, don't corrupt the higher civilizations. I'm afraid their teeth are too big, it will be difficult.

So what do you think about our Christ? His sacrifice was worthy to become eternal and endless in one body.

Irina: It is up to him to decide. Everyone decides how worthy his sacrifice is, looking at the feedback from society. Do you think your civilization has valued his sacrifice?

Maxim: Yes, unfortunately, I think many do not understand his sacrifice. I think many do not believe that he existed.

Irina: They don't believe that he existed?! You choose what to believe in. If someone doesn't want to believe in something, they won't change their life in the direction of this belief.

1:29:50 Raten Shinbar about the sense of humor, jokes, emotions on the planet Dahrish.

Maxim: Do you have jokes on your planet? Do you understand jokes? We have anecdotes, interesting stories that make us laugh, but do you have any jokes?

Irina: What do you call jokes?

Maxim: Well, let's say: Stirlitz fell on a given place, the given place hurts.

Irina: Where did he fall?

Maxim: That is, Stirlitz fell on his butt, it is located in the back. Well, they translated it as a given place.

Irina: I understand what you are saying. But it depends on your language?

Maxim: Well, yes.

Irina: We see a pun or humor in the text. A pun is that you replace one word with another.

Maxim: Yes, which is similar to another word.

Irina: We express our emotion of joy differently. We are not happy because someone fell somewhere and you didn't fall, but because we are fulfilling the task of our class. We are happy about this.

Maxim: A slightly different emotional perception. Tell me, please, when I ask you questions, do they irritate you in any way?

Irina: Irritation, that is, rejection (they now understand this emotion differently)?

Maxim: Does it not cause any rejection or unpleasant sensations?

Irina: Unpleasant? No. They arouse curiosity and, a little, surprise. Judging by the questions you ask, it turns out that on some planets they do strange things.

Maxim: We have a planet of strange things (laughs). We have more emotions, we express them differently.

Irina: You have a very interesting energy. Yes, you have a very interesting energy. When you laugh, it's like sparks from a fire.

(Irina says) Let's laugh.

Maxim: We are the ones firing, firing.

Irina: He says. We have a different energy.

1:32:15 Raten Shinbar on managing other reptilian races.

Maxim: I have heard many times that your "royal" reptilians, as we call you, rule over other, smaller, reptilian races. Is that so?

Irina: We don't control anyone. We communicate. We don't control races. We don't even have a colony yet. But we are thinking about (we are already negotiating with the leadership of the Interstellar Union) choosing a planet on which there is no intelligent civilization, suitable for us, for our species, so that we could establish a colony there and make space more free.

Maxim: (Reads the chat) "Why does Maxim ask stupid, vulgar questions?"

Because you ask them in the chat. We have a chat where I read all these questions. Guys, you see, everyone has different questions, different states. Some are interested in one thing, some in science, some in religion, some in where and how they lay eggs. These are normal questions that you ask. I just read them from the chat and try to ask them in a more…

(reads from the chat) "Maxim is a blasphemer."

I do not blaspheme God in any way.

Irina: He asked what you wrote. He asked because this question was asked several times. I will explain now. This is knowledge of the Universe. We have this phenomenon, why deny it.

1:33:51 About the integration of the planet Dahrish into the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Finally, a question. Almost the very end of the broadcast. What types of ships and equipment do you currently use?

Irina: For us, the Bahreish civilization (he now shows: they are a little lower, 10-12 meters, no wings, a different skin color, a slightly different physiology). They flew to our planet, live in a rather hot environment (he now shows: they live, rather, in a desert). I was on this planet. They do not have so many bodies of water. They have been members of the Interstellar Union for a long time, more than 5,000 years. In your opinion, they took patronage over us in order to introduce us into the space of the Interstellar Union, into its society, in order to adapt us to the perception of many civilizations.

Now MidgasKaus wants to say that when joining the Interstellar Union, each civilization comes under the tutelage of one or more, who mainly contact it. Most often, externally or physiologically, similar to the new members of the Interstellar Union. They are helped because they have a similar physiology. He wants to say that the ships for them are built, mainly, by robots from the planet Bahreish. The size and design of the ships should also be similar.

1:36:00 On influencing people, management and freedom of choice.

Maxim: I understand. Guys, I'll tell you honestly, I thought: we'll conduct a broadcast with those who control all the reptilians who enslaved our planet. I wanted to understand how they influence people, how they stupefy the brain. It turned out that the twelve-meter, fifteen-meter reptilians are absolutely adequate beings who only recently joined the Interstellar Union. We now know that the gray reptilians with wings 15 meters tall are quite friendly creatures.

Irina: (Raten Shinbar speaking) Thank you.

Maxim: Yes, quite friendly creatures.

Irina: Although, we had wars.

Maxim: Guys, if you liked the broadcast and you want to finally figure out who controls all the reptilians, give it a like. Subscribe to our channel. I will definitely find this civilization of high reptilians, about whom I heard that they fly to Earth and control people and reptilians.

Irina: What do you mean by the word “manage”?

Maxim: They influence them, their free will.

Irina: You can influence in different ways.

(Now LiShioni is speaking) I want to greet everyone too. I want to say that the word "management" can mean many things. You can manage with images. Do you call this management?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: So, for example, you go to the store and remember what you want. You understand that you want to eat and go to the store. You buy the product that you were told is good. Is this control? Is this an impact on your free will?

Maxim: No, this is an impact on freedom of choice, not on free will.

Irina: How does freedom of choice differ from freedom of will?

Maxim: These are interconnected moments. That is, here you can choose, but there you are not even given a choice, there you are told what to do.

Irina: Then, this does not apply to the Interstellar Union. It rather applies to the Order of Six.

Maxim: That's it, I heard it.

Irina: Yes, you have already communicated with them.

Maxim: I heard and understood. So that we can learn the "basics".

Irina: These will not be allowed to join the Interstellar Union, although they do not even have wars. But, since they have an effect on the chemical level on the receptors of the brain that transmit signals associated with emotions and control over their behavior, then because of this control, because of these signals, because of this chemical effect on control, they are not taken into the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Thank you very much, Raten Shinbar. Thank you very much for the time you have given us. I want to say that the Cassiopeia Project, if you need information about earthlings, is ready to meet with you and pass on the necessary information for a deeper understanding of the essence of earthlings.

Irene: (Raten Shinbar) Thank you.

Maxim: Yes, we will tell you about bad things, but we will not teach you bad things.

Irene: (Raten Shinbar) Thank you.

Maxim: Guys, thank you all very much. Thank you for your support. Thank you for your donations that you send to our projects. We will have new masters, new projects. And I am sure that someday psychology and esoterics will definitely become equal sciences.

Irina: (Raten Shinbar) I was not familiar with your planet. I was also very interested.

(Irina says) Thank you all, dear friends, for your support. I send you the Light of my Love. Until next time!

Maxim: And you were asked to convey the Light of our Love. I am now conveying it from my heart, as Irina is doing.

Thank you all for this wonderful broadcast with your wonderful questions. Until next time!

Mirrah Count on ways to get rid of destructive "connections"

To get rid of "destructive connections" it is necessary to change your vibrations to the opposite ones, that is, to radiate into space the opposite vibration - not the same as the one you radiated before, but higher. So that the entity that receives energy from you, having received your positive energy of another feeling or emotion, could choose whether to raise its vibrations together with you. It is necessary to get rid of your blocks (because plasmoids also have their own energy blocks in their subtle bodies, which can block their understanding of the Light of Divine Love, which is why they, in principle, become destructive).

Or, if they do not choose it - cannot or do not want to choose it, they themselves will remove their attachment, because energy will come to them through it, which will put them in a state, so to speak, of some pain. Only it will not be pain in the physical sense, but a kind of anxiety, discomfort. That is, they will not like this energy, let's say so.

If you have an attachment to a negative plasmoid, civilization, you need to ask the Higher Self, what energy of your Soul feeds this plasmoid, that is, what kind does it like - the energy of what feeling, the energy of what thoughts, the energy of what emotions? And what will be the answers - the Higher Self will always tell you this, because it knows - based on these answers, you will need to stop emitting these emotions, feelings and thoughts and begin to develop the opposite ones in yourself. Then the plasmoids themselves will either work on their improvement together with you, or will simply leave you if they do not agree with your increase in vibrations.

> What can a mother do for her daughter to help her get rid of these destructive dark civilizations or Spirits that her daughter says are in contact with her?

First, she needs to ask specifically what she is being told, to understand who she is in contact with. This can be understood by the questions you will need to ask through your daughter. You will need to ask questions of the entities she is in contact with, such as: "Where are you from and for what purpose did you come?"

It is necessary to understand the goal. If these are dark entities, it is necessary to find out what exactly is dark in them, what they are telling her, what they want from her. We call this - "what is the purpose of the contact". But it is better to do this with the help of the Higher Self.

That is, your daughter needs to turn to her Higher Self and ask, firstly, who she is contacting, who are her curators and what is the purpose of the contact. If the answer from the Higher Self is that this is a destructive contact, and its purpose is destructive, for example, they can say: "To take away negative energy", or "To lower a person's vibrations so that he never gets to God" (they can answer like this), - your daughter will need to ask the Higher Self: "How exactly, with what vibration, feeling or thought of mine did I attract these beings to myself?"

Let her, when she perceives some words from them, write them down and ask them clarifying questions. And if their words or advice contradict unconditional Love, let her answer them in such a way that she herself chooses what to do and recommends that they engage in their development. First of all, she must realize that they are not the masters of her life and its embodiment, but she herself. She must take responsibility for her life upon herself and not give it into the hands of some forces. And from this position, conduct a conversation with them as an equal with equals.

Remember, dear friends, that those beings who contact you are not your enemies who want to harm you, they are your brothers and sisters who have simply lowered their vibrations and are themselves in a state of "darkness". Become their teachers, explain to them the laws of Divine reality!

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pochemu-ponedelnik-den-tyazhelyj
Why is "Monday a hard day"?
You have probably heard this expression. Why was this day named so? Monday is the day of the Moon. In ancient times, it was indeed dedicated to work, but since the Moon is responsible for the family, the day was dedicated to work inside the house.
Unlike Sunday, when they rested, prayed, listened to divine songs, went to meetings where they glorified the Gods, on Monday everyone returned to household chores.
At that time, the woman and the man had different tasks. The woman had the task of creating maximum comfort in the house. The plasmoid of the Moon, Selena, gives the energy of well-being to the house that on Monday will be clean, tidy and will have products on the table that correspond to the Moon.
Dairy products correspond to the energies of the Moon
All dairy products: milk, sour cream, cheese, butter, and cottage cheese. The more dairy products, the more the energy of the Moon will enter your family, your home, and the energy of the Moon has calmness. It calms down irritated people and people in fear, anxiety, depression, it is like an antidepressant. If the Sun excites, it gives energy, then from the lunar energies you want to dream, philosophize, you want to gather everyone at once at a round table covered with a white tablecloth and drink tea, talking leisurely. Have you ever felt such a desire? These are lunar energies.
Further information is transmitted by another plasmoid of the Moon - Chandra.
For men, the lunar day had a slightly different task: to talk, to show love to the wife and children and to talk to them a lot. Not to work physically, but to talk frankly. The moon, it reveals all the secrets, the secrets of the subconscious. Therefore, men in the family on the lunar day were expected to have frank conversations with their household, to pay attention to each person who lives in their house.
It is necessary to take the time to talk to each person and ask, "How are they feeling? Are there any problems? Are there any grievances?" To draw them out into frankness and listen to each one. Do you understand why "it's a hard day"?
At that time they managed to do all this. They gathered at the table, ate and the man addressed each one as he pleased.
Also, Monday was the first day of activity, so usually the husband and wife, as the male and female principles, would make plans for the week on this day in the morning, what they should do.
In ancient times, families had many children, so it was a difficult day for men. On Monday, the father of the family had to talk to everyone. And not just talk, but ask them: "Do you like everything in our family? Are there any complaints?" Consider everything. Because it was the father who could judge and reconcile everyone. As a mediator.
At that time, the man was talking to his mother, his father, his wife's mother and father, talking to them. At that time, everyone lived together, now you can call on the phone, write on social networks. In fact, the work of harmonizing the family is very difficult.
This was in ancient times. Now times have changed, families have changed, the concept of upbringing has changed. What should be done for the same purpose on Monday now? Now both men and women can do cleaning and talking with household members. Because women have a completely different psychology. Women are more active than they were just two thousand years ago.

Shiva on fulfillment of desires with dietary restrictions

Any food, water - these are all different types of energy. Fasting, as I understand it, is a voluntary refusal of something. It is a voluntary refusal of food, that is, of certain types of energy, so that during this day this energy, which you refused, accumulates a certain volume and goes to fulfill your desire, that's how I understand it.

After all, the amount of energy that you could have eaten, you did not eat it, you sacrificed it, you sacrificed it in this case to Shiva as Zhiva, that same universal energy of life. But here the question arises about where you put that food or those funds for it, which you did not use for your body on this day.

I know the original ritual, how it was created, I don't know now, what it turned into, it could of course transform into many forms, but initially fasts in the Hindu religion were created with a specific purpose. With the purpose that all the food that a person did not eat during that day or the money for it, were given to the Brahmins, who prayed for the fulfillment of this desire. This energy went to the creation of their body, and in return they prayed, and not only prayed, they created thought forms that the desire of this person, if it coincides with the Light, will be fulfilled, they strengthened it with their thought forms.

There is no need to be surprised here, because at that time, when the war with the reptilians had just ended on Earth, it was about 10 thousand years ago. I was incarnated as a human on Earth during the war itself, and in the period after the war, 2 thousand years later, I incarnated at the 11th density level as an earthly plasmoid, who was in contact with the priests, including those who worshiped Shiva. I know this ritual, I participated in its creation too. This was done so that a person, having given some of his energy, would receive other energy in a mental form to fulfill his desire.

What is wish fulfillment? These are not just some abstract words, this is a certain process of filling the image of a person with energies for its faster materialization, but the person himself had to contribute to the fulfillment of his desire on the physical plane, do everything possible to make it come true. If he did not do this, but simply sat and waited for this desire to come true, then he lost these opportunities for the embodiment of his desire, which was saturated with thoughts, desires and prayers of priests, and the energy of Shiva himself, not even me alone, but the whole squad of Zhiv, Shiv.

MidgasKaus on food preservation in the Interstellar Union. Composition of earthling meat products

There are forms of frequencies that are absolutely safe for the body, but at the same time, they cause the destruction of harmful microflora. But these are not substances or radiation - these are ordinary electromagnetic waves that you call "radio waves". Only they are coded for frequencies incompatible with the frequencies of life of various bacteria, for example. And most often, this is how those substances that need to be stored for a long time are processed. For "preservation" they are placed in packaging that is impermeable to the penetration of anything foreign.

Of all the earthly preservatives, I would call sodium nitrite the most undesirable in human food. At the same time, I understand that it is difficult to do without it in the meat industry. Especially in those countries where pork and other meat products that could be contaminated with trichinosis are actively consumed. I understand that according to the instructions of your legislative bodies, all food that enters your retail outlets must be of high quality, not cause poisoning, health problems, etc. This is not so easy to achieve on an industrial scale. Therefore, various preservatives are used.

As for sodium benzoate, benzoic acid salts and potassium sorbate, these substances are often found in natural products such as fruits, vegetables, herbs, etc. This is especially true for sodium benzoate. As for sodium nitrite, its content should be reduced to a minimum in food. In large quantities, this substance is capable of forming a stable compound with hemoglobin in human blood, which prevents the attachment of hemoglobin to oxygen, with subsequent hypoxia of all organs, decreased immunity and easier development of cancer due to insufficient oxygen supply.

Not only do sausages have a reduced protein content due to the increased fat content and salt, but the protein that is contained is of poor quality. That is, from those parts of animal carcasses that contain little protein and a lot of connective tissue. This cannot be called as useful a product for the body in small quantities as, for example, meat.

If you make homemade sausage, naturally, you follow a different composition. As far as I have studied the food technologies of earthlings, then in the composition of the product that reaches the consumer, if a certain type of meat is indicated, then this can often indicate that only tendons and a small amount of fat got into the product. Which are the least valuable from a nutritional point of view. And as for ham, naturally, there is a good manufacturer that observes all the standards for a certain meat content, that is, muscle tissue with a high protein content. But sometimes bones and skin are so ground into a fine powder that they can, together with the filler, with the same agar-agar, be the basis of cooked sausages and ham. People who are reading this now will probably think about the price-quality ratio. Unfortunately, I have to state that this ratio does not always work.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/chto-takoe-dlya-menya-sozidatelnoe-idealnoe-obshch
What is a creative ideal society for me?

The first and most important thing is society. What is society? It is a collection, first of all, of individual families and individual groups. For me, the ideal society is when in every family and in every individual group there is love and mutual understanding between individuals.

This is possible if every person is able to communicate with their Higher Self and understand the real picture of the Universe, based on spiritual priority, the priority of spiritual values over material ones.

Why exactly spiritual ones? Because our Spirit, our true Self, our immortal spiritual essence has gone through many incarnations and came to this incarnation to solve its problems.

If she will solve the problems of her material body only, its provision, its enjoyment, then the material body and material things will remain on earth, while the Spirit will go to the Spiritual world. It will remain eternal, but it will not fulfill its tasks if it spends its time only on the material, and it will also lower its vibrations due to negative emotions, because the surrounding Spirits do not allow it to fulfill its goals. It happens that the surrounding people and events hinder its desires.

To prevent this from happening (and in an ideal society this should not happen), this requires an awareness of the real picture of the Universe. A society where there will be spiritual priorities, where there will be education in schools based on knowledge of the Spiritual world, where there will be a caring attitude towards each other and learning to contact one's Higher Self in the family, at school, and in society. ❤

Jesus on the parable of the rich man and Lazarus

“The Parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus” told by Jesus Christ (in the Gospel of Luke Chapter 16, 19:31).

Remember how I said that there was a rich man who had great wealth. And there was a poor man who was lying at his gate. Dogs came and licked the wounds on the poor man's body. And when they both, the poor man and the rich man, went to the Spiritual World, the rich man got to the low level, and the poor man got to the high level.

Because the poor man had a compassionate heart, he remembered this man (the rich man) who lived in the house under whose gate he was sitting. He asked the Angels to show him where this Spirit was, and the Angels showed him. They helped him to descend to this Spirit.

When the rich man saw that they had descended, he immediately recognized the poor man, because he had taken on an image that was already clear to him. And they had a conversation.

The spirit of the rich man said to the Angel:

> "Send him closer to me. Tell him to take his finger and wet it in water and put it on my tongue, because I am suffering in this flame."

It was said there. What is this image? Flame - this is because two higher Spirits appeared, and it burned him, but this is not a physical fire, this is an internal heat, such a spiritual state. And he took it for physical, because he was too attached to the physical body. But he said the words, addressing not the poor man himself, who stood before him, but to the Angel, to Abraham - he took on such an image. And he says:

> "Father Abraham, send him to me."

That is, he did not ask the poor man to come, but another, to send him. What does this indicate? That even in this torment, in this hell, he continued to perceive the poor man as a creature subordinate to him. Because he was used to seeing him near the gate in the mud. He did not lose his sense of greatness even after finding himself in the Spiritual World. He found himself there for this very reason, for which he said this to the Angel. And when the Angel said:

> “Between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, so that those who want to pass from here to you cannot, nor can those from there pass to us.”

What was meant here was that they do not pass on, remaining the same without incarnations. That is, it was impossible to leave his place and go higher until he incarnated again. And then the rich man says:

> “And you send it to my relatives so that they do not come to this place of torment.”

The angel replied:

> "They have Moses and the prophets. Let them listen to them, lest they come."

And the rich man says:

> "No, they don't believe. But if they see Lazarus..."

That is, he again does not ask him, but asks that he be sent by another, as a servant. He did not perceive him as an equal being, not even as a higher one, which is on the highest level, but even as an equal.

The angel answers that if your relatives do not listen to Moses and the prophets, then even if a dead person were to rise and come to them and say, "Here, do it," they would not believe, because their hearts are closed. And this is true for your modern world in which you live. If you see an unbeliever who asks God or someone for proof that he will supposedly immediately believe and fulfill the Commandments, this is not so. If his heart is not ready, it is closed to this information, to this knowledge, to the experience of being in Divine grace, then even when evidence is provided, his mind will look for loopholes in order to explain it to himself without any God, so as not to do what he does not want. The mind is always at the service of the heart. Until the heart is purified, the mind is also distorted.

Now the question. Why did this rich man end up on a low level, and this poor man end up on a high level? Because the one who was lying under the gates, all in wounds, in ulcers, he prayed, cleansed his heart. And the one who had wealth, he passed by it every day, he did not take it to himself and did not share what he had, which speaks of the absence of love, compassion in him. And if there is no love and compassion, then this place will not be empty, other feelings will take it.

This rich man had everything. He believed that he didn't owe or owe anything to anyone. Well, yes, of course, he didn't owe or owe anything to anyone - it was his choice. But God also didn't have to provide him with a place in heaven if he hadn't prepared it for himself.

In fact, God does not owe any of you, not even for your prayers, sacrifices and candles. He does not owe anything. You can only change yourself and prepare your treasure in Heaven. Of course, you do not have to do this. But you have to choose what you want, where to go after leaving the incarnation?

About the worldview of the inhabitants of Atlantis, Hyperborea, Lemuria

According to the Interstellar Union, religions developed themselves. In your understanding, these are not religions, it is like in communication with subtle-material civilizations there were attempts to worship both gods and aliens. Representatives of the Interstellar Union were also taken for gods. There were attempts at deification, i.e., making sacrifices. Representatives of the Interstellar Union treated such manifestations very differently. They could encourage this, because it was believed that the development of religion in the form of sacrifice contributed to the development of consciousness.

There were xenopsychologists who believed that sacrifice was a form of love. They encouraged bringing fruits, vegetables, grains, milk and leaving them in a certain place for the gods. Then a ship would appear, covered by a cloud. On the cloud there could be an image of another planet, space or an alien. A beam would descend from the ship and dematerialize these sacrifices. The Shimora civilization loved to do this.

As for the Burkhadians, my compatriots, we were calm about it. Our ancestors neither encouraged nor hindered it, they were neutral about it.

The religion of ancient earthly people was practical - weather control, burial rituals, rituals for health: treatment of injuries and infectious diseases with herbs and energies. Communication with plasmoids was developed, various cults of a magical nature, which helped people to get in touch with them, to receive their energies and give them their own, it was like an exchange. They were more sensitive, more people went to the Astral, to the Spiritual world, communicated with their mentors, with Angels, etc.

00:58 Introduction of participants.

Maxim: So, hello, dear friends! Today we are with you again – Irina Podzorova – a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and I am a ufologist, a researcher of extraterrestrial life forms, an engineer, a physicist Maxim Bronevsky. Today we have the second series of conferences on science, where we will consider the Universal triune code – the one that implies energy, information and matter. What we already discussed last time, we continue today. So, Irina, hello!

Irina: Hello, dear friends, I greet you! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad is with us. He is a specialist in the study of energy interactions in the environment, including studying various energies of the physical and etheric planes that relate to our earthly physics.

Maxim: Hello, Raom Tiyan! I hope that today everything will be constructive, as usual, in principle.

02:10 Raom Tiyan on the energy of the Absolute as the source of matter.

Maxim: What is energy in relation to matter, how can it be formulated?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The source. The only source of all types of matter is energy. But the thing is that matter itself is energy in a special form, which differs at each density level by vibrational-frequency characteristics, characteristic of a particular density level. As I have already said, the density levels of the material world are united into clusters. It is the unification into clusters that allows close density levels to interact with each other and generate the Universe.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, can we say here, from the point of view of science, physics, that we have so-called subtle-material Universes?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You can call them Universes, you can simply call them “worlds”...

Maxim: But these are, in theory, entire Universes, the same as ours, only created from different matter, in principle?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What do you mean "from the same"? There is a different level of density.

Maxim: Another level of density, other frequency characteristics of matter, as I understand it.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. Those frequency characteristics of matter that exist in the subtle-material worlds, those frequencies that were expressed in your units of measurement, we have already transmitted to Irina – me and other specialists.

(Irina): Yes, I want to say, they are in our book. There is a table there that says which frequencies correspond to this or that density level.

Maxim: I just wanted to ask, is it possible to say that the matter of all Universes, including subtle ones, is created from the Energies of the Absolute?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We can say that matter is a form of energy.

Maxim: It turns out that until energies have condensed, have not turned into a material state, they are simply in a free state, and then they create matter, am I right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Energy before the creation of matter is called spiritual energy. There are millions of times more spiritual energies than there are varieties of material energies.

Maxim: I see. This is what we call the Energy of the Absolute?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, this is, naturally, the Energy of the Absolute and the children of the Absolute.

Maxim: And do I understand correctly, it's just that some contactees (I often met with Alexander Glaz, worked with his contactees, there were such terms there), some civilizations apply to these Energies of the Absolute such terms as "primary matters", or "primary energies" ("primary energies"), or "protoenergies". Can this be called that?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Perhaps, they call the very first and most subtle material world, the very first to appear in the manvantara (according to our terminology, this is the 59th level of density), primary matter. Perhaps, from their point of view, this is the first matter, because all other levels of density are formed from this first matter by lowering the vibrations of the energy that creates material structures at this level.

06:12 Raom Tiyan on the creation of Universes according to the matrix-dream of the Absolute.

Maxim: It turns out, roughly speaking, that the Absolute first sets the information matrix of how the Universe will be formed, and then all the Universes of different materials, with different frequency characteristics of matter, are built according to these matrices?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I understood the question. The Absolute creates an information matrix of future Universes in the most general form, so as not to create obstacles in the creativity of those of His children, who then create these Universes directly from matter.

In the most general form, He imagines how the Universe might look, what forms of life there will be, what forms of existence, the laws of nature, etc. But these specific thoughts or dreams of the Absolute are manifested by His children, who are already directly incarnated at one or another level of density and by condensation and compaction of matter create a denser world. And then they also incarnate into it. And so it continues until the entire manvantara unfolds, which has already happened at the present time.

07:42 Raom Tiyan on the density levels of our Universe and their clusters.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In the present manvantara there are 59 levels of density, and what is on the 1st level of density can no longer be further densified in our manvantara, because this is prevented by the laws of nature that the Absolute has set.

Maxim: It turns out that there is nothing denser than the material Universe, no other Universe lower in level?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The 1st level of density is one of the facets of the physical Universe, the 2nd level of density is the second facet, and the 3rd level of density is the third facet, which make up one cluster.

Maxim: And then they only go in ascending order: 4th, then 5th...

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The 4th, 5th, 6th make up the second, neighboring cluster. The 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th – these are the density levels that directly created the physical Universe. That is why they are called “elementals”, that is, “creative elements”.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly that if we take some beings from the material Universe of the 4th level of density - what we call “energy or plasmoid civilizations” - then they cannot physically come into contact with the 5th level of density, because they have different frequency characteristics of matter, they will simply pass through each other?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): No, the 4th, 5th and 6th make up the second cluster, just as the 1st, 2nd and 3rd density levels together make up physical matter. The 1st density level – solid matter – can very well come into contact with the 2nd density level – liquid.

Maxim: Can the same analogy be applied to them?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. They just touch differently – there are no atoms, no molecules, it’s different there.

Maxim: I see. So they can sense each other if “hand touches hand”, so to speak?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, they can touch and feel each other, and they live in the same cluster. But unlike the physical Universe, their 5th density is more differentiated, separated than, for example, in the physical Universe, the 2nd density level from the 1st. Separated because there are no specific atoms, etc., there are simply structures made of Light (shows Irina flashes of light).

But in any case, the 4th, 5th, 6th density levels create a second cluster, where beings live in certain bodies of the 4th, 5th or 6th density level, although in the physical Universe there are no such beings that would consist only of the 1st density level, for example, stone people, or people consisting simply of water, or beings consisting of gas, like an intelligent cloud.

Maxim: I see.

11:23 Raom Tiyan on the interaction of the density levels of the physical world and its development.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In the bodies of the first cluster, that is, the physical Universe, all density levels are mixed: 1st, 2nd and 3rd. And yet we, humanoids, live on the 3rd density level, but the 3rd contains all the others, because gas, for example, envelops all the planets on which intelligent beings live. Moreover, the planets themselves gradually condense from the gas that was previously in a plasma, that is, very heated state in the star.

And gradually, by the transition of these substances that were in the star into space and then convergence with the help of gravitational fields, the structures of the planet are created. Of course, all this does not happen by itself, but under the influence of plasmoid civilizations that create the physical world.

I want to tell you that the creation of the physical world is far from finished. It is constantly evolving, constantly changing, and therefore the work in the first, second and third clusters of the material world is constantly in full swing, continuing.

13:07 Raom Tiyan on ways of transition to the world of another density. Creation of portals.

Maxim: The explanation for clusters is clear here. Then if we take the second cluster and the subtle-material Universe from the third cluster, they will not be able to physically touch and coordinate? They will simply pass through each other, since they are different forms of matter?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, they are already separated from the third cluster by an etheric layer, just as the first cluster is separated from the second.

Maxim: In order to get to the second cluster, they need to go through some kind of portal, through the etheric level, if they want to?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): They can communicate through the Astral, or they can create portals and directly pass with their subtle body into this world. But for this they must create certain fields - those that will allow them to be in a world of a different density and at the same time hold their own bodies in this world so that it does not push them out (shows to Irina).

Maxim: At the same time, they need to expend colossal amounts of energy to create portals?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It is possible to create portals. It is not that there are colossal expenditures of energy. Yes, indeed, energy is spent. But some goal is needed for this, because usually communication with other levels of density through the astral space as a link between all worlds and all levels of density is enough.

But the portal is built in the etheric layer, and the etheric energy of this layer itself can be used. But in any case, through the portal, for example, it is possible to influence on the physical level, to influence objects, for example, of the physical world - what you call poltergeists, etc. This is possible. Of course, this takes energy.

Also, some plasmoid civilizations build portals in order to transmit the energy of their world, saturated with certain thought forms, not through the Astral, so that part of the energy is not spent on feeding certain egregors, etc., but directly into the physical world. For example, this is done to harmonize space, for healing, and so on.

15:48 Raom Tiyan on energy in relation to information.

Maxim: Okay, then let's move on (we've gone a bit off track). Here's a question: what is energy in relation to information? How can we structure it?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Information is a description, a characteristic of energy, like data about it; this is what is stored in the mental field. But some civilizations also call information a type of energy, they simply call it “mental energy” or “energy of thought”.

Maxim: That is, where and how this energy will be structured, what qualities, properties and so on it will have, is laid down in the information matrices by the Absolute in advance?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It depends on what the energy is about. Information is not just an abstract concept. Information is always some data, it is always a description of something, some process or some object, or the interaction between them.

For example, information about you describes how you look, who you are, what your name is. You are a person, and the fact that your name is Maxim is already information. But the word "Maxim" itself is not you, because there are other bearers of this name besides you.

Maxim: Agreed, yes.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Therefore, the word “Maxim” is a piece of information about you, but it is not you.

Maxim: Okay, then let's move on.

17:46 Raom Tiyan on the characteristics, types of energy and its manifestation in the form of vibrations.

Maxim: Do energy categories have their own structure of constituent particulars – types and kinds? Can we say that energy is: first – movement, second – oscillation of matter? What exactly will it be?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What does “movement” mean?

Maxim: Our questions are asked from the position of our earthly physics, right? And in our earthly physics, as you know, Raom Tiyan, any energy (let's take, for example, electromagnetic energy that an antenna radiates into space) is wave, that is, it has certain frequency characteristics, that is, waves are created in space. And the question is: is all the energy in the Universe wave or not? Or is energy not always wave, in wave form? This is where we can start.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What you call wave energy, the word “wave” itself, is just your images with which you describe reality.

Maxim: In physics, even in all experiments (we create waves in water and transfer energy with the help of waves), the wave is the carrier of energy. It turns out so, from our position. Is this formulated correctly or not?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The wave itself is a carrier of energy. That there is a wave there, that there is no wave there, it is just that one is potential, and the other is kinetic.

Maxim: Yes, that's right.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): If the water is calm, it has energy in any case. The prototype of water is the so-called energy field. But what you call movement, that is, a wave, is a certain manifestation of potential energy in one action or another.

As for the types of energy, the Interstellar Union has discovered and described 6,048 types of material energies. But, again, they are described in our language, they have their own names, their own frequency characteristics and…

Maxim: So, look, Raom Tiyan, here is an important question. Does every energy have frequency characteristics? Or, as you said, it is only a kinetic type of energy, potentially it does not have frequency characteristics?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): As its manifestation. After all, any energy can be manifested and can be measured by certain devices that measure certain energy manifestations, or as you call them, “waves” (we call them “vibrations”, “energy vibrations”). This is a Russian word, sometimes it is difficult to find analogies to our scientific terms, but the closest would be “vibrations”.

20:54 Raom Tiyan on the number of types of energy in the physical Universe.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We in the Interstellar Union have discovered 6,048 types of material energies, of which 9 are physical. Only 9 energies make up the entire physical world. That is, all Galaxies, all stars, all planets, interstellar gas, and so on consist of 9 physical energies.

Maxim: The Material Universe has only 9 energies, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, the material Universe has only 9 energies, which are either in the form of special structural dense particles called atoms, or in larger ones that are already composed of them, or in the form of freely manifested physical quantum fields.

21:54 Raom Tiyan on the concept of movement in the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: I see. Then how would you characterize movement and oscillation: are these types of kinetic energy, its varieties?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The movement of one object relative to another object I can characterize as manifestation, if we are talking about a physical object...

Maxim: Yes, naturally.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The movement of one physical, that is, material object (because material is not necessarily physical, it consists of these 9 types of energies) relative to another physical object we call “the manifestation of a change in gravitational fields around these objects.”

That is, gravitons change the direction vector of their charges, if you can say so. Only these are not exactly the same charges that you have "plus" and "minus", they are, firstly, multifactorial: they depend on the place in space, on the mass of the object, on the number of particles, on what you call electrical energy capacity, and so on.

(Irina): I don't quite understand him. I hope you understand him.

23:32 Raom Tiyan on graviton and quanta, astral travel as a way to study them.

Maxim: Can we say that the gravitational field consists of gravitational energies? How can we formulate this from your position?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The thing is that what you call "graviton" has two types for us. First, it is the very quantum of gravity that you are studying, your civilization is already beginning to study it.

Maxim: We are just approaching this, we have only just touched upon it.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I also want to say that the remaining 6,039 types of energy make up the remaining 56 density levels. And we have studied them too: what energies are included there, how they make up their bodies, their household items, etc., their worlds, which even many plasmoids call “our planet.” But they call it by analogy with the physical planet, they just live there. But their planet consists of subtle structures, and for you, people, and for us, Burkhadians, it will be simply a very rarefied cloud. However, for them it is dense.

Therefore, our science has studied all these energies, and you, as far as I know, study the physical world mainly. But the graviton itself is built, made from more subtle types of energies by those same plasmoid civilizations.

So, what you call "graviton", in our language, is divided into two types - we can say, "graviton A" and "graviton B". They are very similar, but differ in the direction of the vector spiral movement of their fields: one is directed more inward, and the other - into outer space.

(Raom Tiyan): I know that you also call different quanta certain particles. These are like dense particles, but they are very small and already constitute what you call certain intra-atomic particles.

But I know that most of your scientists believe that these very particles – quanta – are very small, but dense, and when asked what they themselves consist of, they say: “Nothing”. That is, they simply exist, but there is no understanding that they have a more subtle composition. As far as I know, there is no such understanding. Or is there? You do not have such an understanding that, for example, one graviton consists of 30% of the etheric energy of the element of Earth?

Maxim: No, these are just hypotheses from individual researchers, nothing more. Our science is based on experimental practice and evidence, but there are no facts. We cannot get inside substances to such a deep level and see what they consist of. That's how it is for now.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): And is it possible, when you are on an astral journey, to reduce your astral body to a subatomic level.

Maxim: That's clear. I know that you can energetically travel in atoms, I've heard.

Irene (Raom Tiyan): Yes.

Maxim: But who among our scientists is engaged in this?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): How do you like this path of research?

Maxim: A good way, I think. To climb astrally inside the atom and see what's there, but we have few specialists in this area.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Do you have any nuclear physicists who study the nucleus of the atom who are interested in astral travel?

Maxim: I think there probably are.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): They can see it.

Maxim: Good.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): They can describe what they saw, and if they are not believed and told: "Conduct experiments," they can suggest that others check it out, look at it the same way. That's the first thing. And the second thing is that they can, based on the discovery of the structure of matter, invent many devices that do not exist now, including those that control gravitational fields and allow this enormous energy to be used for their own purposes.

Maxim: I understand, but we'll get to that.

29:09 Raom Tiyan on the gravitational field.

Maxim: You know, Raom Tiyan, what is my next question? I wonder how it looks from the standpoint of your science. I was talking about movement, and now imagine a situation where I have some object on the floor, for example, some plastic ball, and I kick this ball with my foot. According to our science, I transferred an impulse to it, a certain amount of movement.

Is this a consequence of the fact that I transferred energy to him? Why did he start moving? How can you explain here: I kicked him - he flew? Did I transfer some amount of energy to him? We call it that I transferred the amount of movement to him.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Your movement, your life energy, which is contained in your muscles, it has a certain mass and speed. And if this mass and speed are added together and make up a certain sum of influence, and if this sum of influence is greater than the amount of gravitational energy that exists between this ball and the earth, the earth attracts the object with a certain force…

Maxim: Yes, I understand, it’s called friction.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, the force of friction. And then there is the force of gravity, because the ball itself lies on the floor or on the ground, it does not fly.

Maxim: Yes, it presses on the ground under the influence of the gravitational field, that’s right.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This ball also has a gravitational field, and the Earth has a gravitational field. And why is the ball lying on the ground? Because gravitational fields interact in such a way that dense bodies touch. And this makes... I have already started talking about gravitons.

Here is graviton A, whose spiral vector lines are directed inward, which is responsible in atoms for the function of attracting atoms to each other and building molecular systems from them - this is microgravity.

And graviton B is, one might say, a portion somewhat larger in volume, a larger energy clot. And its spiral lines, which can attract or repel, are directed into outer space and are also spirally twisted. And due to this, graviton B is responsible for creating gravitational fields around objects that can be attracted to each other in space. Not atoms between themselves, but objects and objects composed of these atoms. Even a small grain of sand is attracted by the Earth.

Maxim: Is it attracted to the body whose gravitational body is more powerful in strength, in potential?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): They are attracted to each other. But, naturally, the object whose gravitational field is larger (due to the larger aggregate of particles – atoms) and more powerful, will hold in its influence all the particles that are around it.

If this ball is lying down, and its gravitons interact with the gravitons of the Earth, then when you kick it, you correspondingly transferred part of the vital energy of your muscles to it. And this entire combined energy acts on the gravitational field in such a way that it tears it away from the earth.

I'm explaining it very simply now. That is, it temporarily rises above the ground and moves in that direction under the influence of your force. One energy here affects another. But why, after flying some distance, will it fall to the ground? Because it flies in the gravitational field of the Earth. And the gravitational field of the Earth, interacting with this ball and its gravitational field, will connect them again (shows to Irina).

But you know that there is a speed when this does not happen, that is, if you give a certain object the so-called speed of entering orbit. For each planet it will be different.

Maxim: Yes, the first cosmic, the second cosmic, we have that.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): For what reason does the Earth's gravitational field cease to act on such a scale in this case, and it cannot pull this object back? For the reason that the object that gave speed to this object (or that action, or that object - in any case, with the help of which the increase in the speed of movement occurred), in the aggregate of its influence surpassed the gravitational field. The field remained, but it temporarily removed this object from its influence, acting on it energetically and giving it a certain direction, because every movement has a direction.

Maxim: I see, yes.

35:51 Raom Tiyan on motion as an interaction of gravitational fields.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What is movement? It is the interaction of gravitational fields.

The movement of, for example, the Earth around the Sun is the interaction of the gravitational fields of the Earth and the Sun. And if we look at this process in dynamics, we will see that the orbit (path) of the Earth around the Sun is not a circle. Firstly, it is somewhat elongated. And, secondly, during the movement of the Earth around the Sun, constant small oscillations occur - sometimes closer, sometimes further from the Sun (shows Irina the trajectories of the oscillations). This is the result of the interaction of gravitational fields. They always oscillate, they are always in constant continuous interaction and are always dynamic.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, let's look at this moment, a specific mechanism. When I kicked a ball or a marble with my foot, at the moment when I hit it, I hit a specific place, that is, on the side, from a certain side. Do I understand correctly that since atoms have their own frequencies at which they pulsate (they pulsate, right?), then when my foot touched the ball in this place, then here, on this side of the ball, the atoms began to pulsate much faster, and therefore a frequency gradient was formed, and the wave structure of the substance began to shift in the same direction? How does the mechanism itself occur, why did it suddenly fly away from my foot?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I wouldn't say that they started to vibrate faster. When your foot touched this ball, your life energy was transferred from the place where you touched, to every atom, and then all together they...

Maxim: Was it transmitted to everyone at once, all over the ball?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Quite quickly, you could say, instantly for you, because it is a dense structure. It is a dense structure, so all the atoms are already interacting with each other. It is a solid object, and since it is a solid object, it means that with the help of microgravity, the atoms that make up this ball are already in contact with each other. And by touching it somewhere in one place, you affected all the atoms at once. Now, if it were…

Maxim: Look, there is an important point here. If we take the atoms of my leg and the atoms of the ball, I have no contact, there is always some kind of field structure between them. In fact, we have no contact between substances, am I right? There is always some kind of thin layer, I do not touch it directly with an atom of an atom?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What does "field layer" mean? In any case, the atoms that are part of your leg, they can touch objects. But the field structure that is around you, for example, your biofield, it simply passes through a dense object, like an astral body.

Maxim: So, it turns out that the atoms of my shoe can touch the atoms of the ball, come close together?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, of course they can.

Maxim: And why, in the end, when I kicked the ball, did it start moving? What is the mechanism? What happened? Did some internal forces shift in the ball itself? Why was the vector set in this direction?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Your life force energy gave this ball the energy of movement, which allowed it to overcome the Earth's gravitational field. It was as if it temporarily suppressed the Earth's gravity with a touch that transferred a certain amount of energy. If you had simply touched it, but did not give it any direction, it would have stayed in place.

Maxim: And what happens there, does it mean that atom instantly transferred this energy to atom, and the impulse went in the direction where the ball flew?

Irina: It went like this, he’s showing me now, it’s not even a wave… From this point where you kicked, an expansion immediately occurs, like when, for example, smoke comes out, and it quickly expands.

(Raom Tiyan) Your life energy is expanding, your life energy is being transferred to all atoms. And the object starts moving, overcoming the gravity with which it is attracted by the Earth. That is, the amount of gravity that the Earth spent on attracting this ball to itself cannot be greater than the amount of gravity that is contained in it.

41:52 Raom Tiyan on the definition of mass as a quantity of macrogravitational fields.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What you call mass, we call the amount of macrogravitational fields manifested in a particular object. For example, if this ball weighs 100 grams, the Earth, namely the planet Earth, cannot attract it with a force of 1 kilogram. Why can't it do this? For what reason did not all the force of the Earth rush into this ball to hold it? For the reason that this ball itself does not have enough gravitons to interact with such a quantity of the Earth's gravity.

42:42 Raom Tiyan on the gravitational beam.

Maxim: Now let's turn it back, change the situation a little. Let's imagine that my leg is gone, but there is a ball. Is it possible to do something, some kind of field effect on the ball, so that it would look as if I were kicking it, but I wasn't kicking it, to artificially maintain the movement, to shift something in it at the atomic level, so that it would start moving itself, like the ships of other civilizations do? Is it necessary to artificially create a gravitational field and set some vector?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You can influence it with a gravitational beam, for example. Then gravity will disappear under it, and you can direct it with the help of certain micro-impulses, which will transmit, for example, the same light energy to this ball, which was your life energy. And it will move. After all, the gravitational beam itself consists of a set of fields, one of the main ones of which is the photon field.

43:44 Raom Tiyan on "gravitational time dilation".

Maxim: Here's a question, Raom Tiyan, explain. We had these physicists Pound and Rebki: one was American, the other was Canadian. Somewhere around 1959, they decided to confirm Einstein's general theory of relativity and conducted an experiment.

This experiment demonstrated the fact that in the Earth's gravitational field, which always creates a frequency gradient, the closer to the planet the vibrations of atoms, the frequencies of atoms or particles (it doesn't matter in this case) slow down, and the further from the planet, the frequencies increase. What is this connected with? How does this gravitational field work?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Frequencies of what?

Maxim: Atomic frequencies and particle frequencies – there were cesium ions, I think it had something to do with that.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We need to look specifically at what they measured, what characteristics.

Maxim: In fact, we have such a concept as "gravitational time dilation": near the planet, processes proceed more slowly, and the further from the planet, the processes increase their speed. Is this true or not, from the position of your science?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): That's right. Because the gravitational field exists around objects. It extends quite far: it all depends on the mass of the object, and it affects the speed, especially of intra-atomic processes, quantum processes, etc.

That is why a gravity engine, for example, needs to be turned on at a distance from the planet's gravity field so that it turns on correctly and starts working correctly. For a person, for human consciousness, this is hardly noticeable. There, simply at the intra-atomic level, I would not even say faster or slower, but the processes in the gravity field proceed differently - along completely different trajectories, for example, quantum fields rotate, etc.

Maxim: And can we say that in a gravitational field, if we take a planet, and it moves upward (we move away from the planet along the vector), there is a constant change in the properties and qualities of the material matter? Does this take place or not? Why do these frequencies, processes slow down closer to the planet, and increase further from the planet?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It is not the properties of substances themselves that change, but the conditions under which intra-atomic processes occur in these substances that change.

Maxim: Can you explain the mechanism? How and why are they different when moving away from the planet?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Because the gravitational field comes into contact with all the atoms that are in its zone of influence and affects the three energy levels of the atom. Why does it affect? Because it penetrates (shows Irina how this happens) all three energy levels of the atom and interacts with them in a certain way. There is such a law of nature. But it manifests itself more in intra-atomic processes.

Maxim: So, the gravitational field creates a certain gradient of changes in intra-atomic processes? The closer to the planet – some processes, the further – others, and further, further, further everything changes constantly in the body at the atomic level?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, it changes at the atomic level, because the gravitational field is a fairly powerful source of energy that can either stimulate or inhibit various intra-atomic processes.

48:04 Raom Tiyan on measuring the gravitational field.

Maxim: And how can the gravitational field itself be characterized? Is it some kind of circulation of gravitons B in it? How do they move there?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Gravitons B themselves are in atoms, but around themselves they create a certain tension in space. And this tension is called the "gravitational field".

Maxim: Tension of space? And this tension of space has some kind of gradient, potential?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The degree of field intensity can be measured. In our starships there is a special device that shows us on a scale what the strength of the gravitational field is.

Maxim: So the level of tension is higher closer to the planet, and less and less further from the planet?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, all this corresponds to the law of universal gravitation - every two material particles are attracted to each other with a force directly proportional to the product of their masses and inversely proportional to the square of the distance between them.

Maxim: I see. Is the planet's gravitational field intensity related to this?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Usually, the Galaxy also has its own gravitational field, of course. Because outside the Galaxy, where there is not even a galactic gravitational field, it also does not affect those objects that end up in intergalactic space. And there, too, intra-atomic processes flow differently than in the Galaxy.

And the gravitational field of the Galaxy is reflected in your science, as far as I understand, as far as I have studied your science, for example, in such a characteristic as the “gravitational constant”.

Maxim: So it's connected with this? Our planet has the maximum gravitational field tension, so our processes flow more slowly, then it weakens further, and the speed of the processes changes. Is it connected with the tension?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The speed that you can measure can actually change, the speed of certain chemical reactions can change, etc. It happens.

Maxim: Is this directly related to the intensity of the gravitational field?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What is "field intensity"? It is a certain amount of energy that is in the space around an object. Quantity and, in your opinion, I would say density. But it is not the density that substances have, but saturation.

Maxim: And it turns out that we have a constant difference in this energy, this density in the gravitational field: closer to the planet, the potential is greater, and further away, it is less and less, with some coefficient it changes all the time?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, there are certain steps.

Maxim: Okay, I understand, then let's move on.

51:23 Raom Tiyan on the characteristics of the energies of the material and etheric planes.

Maxim: What are the main types and qualities of energy taken into account in the science (physics) of the Interstellar Union, and what standards, measures are used to measure energy, from your position?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We measure energies in quanta. Another question.

Maxim: What are the main types and qualities of energy taken into account in the physics of the Interstellar Union and what…

Irina: First, one question, he is in the Astral.

(Raom Tiyan) All the energies of the physical and etheric planes that I described: the physical plane – you know them, the etheric plane – for you it will be just ether, because the concepts that we have cannot be translated into your language in any more or less understandable way. You can simply translate them with a set of numbers, for example, or a set of letters and numbers, so that it does not cause associations. I know that Irina received an offer from the Earth plasmoid…

(Irina): Yes, I remember.

(Raom Tiyan): ... that she would at least briefly describe all the clusters of the material world. What do you think about that?

Maxim: I always look at these things positively.

Irina: Describe the clusters, what they are?

Maxim: Why not, it’s interesting.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): So, you also don’t have words to name the clusters, which, naturally, Demeter knows. Calling them by some words that don’t correspond to your language – that won’t lead to anything either. Therefore, we agreed to call them by analogies of some concepts that exist, for example, in Sanskrit and other ancient languages. Because ancient people were more engaged in research of subtle worlds, and they have many names, for example – Akasha, Purusha, Prakriti, which reflect various states of matter.

Maxim: Let's conditionally stop at the fact that there are energies, as you said, 9 energies of the material Universe, and the remaining energies are related to the ethereal, about which we know practically nothing at all.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You can simply call it “ether”, “etheric energies” or “subtle energies”.

Maxim: Okay, Raom Tiyan. And do I understand correctly that each energy differs from the other in some of its qualities? One has such and such qualities, the other has other qualities.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, they differ in qualities, functions, vibrations, effects on matter, effects on our sense organs, for example, etc. Of course, again, this is for the physical Universe.

As for the etheric Universe, we measured each manifested type of etheric energy by frequency characteristics. And so, one or another type of etheric energy - for our sense organs, both are indistinguishable, in fact. We used other characteristics - not the effect on our devices or sense organs, but simply described the effect on those worlds and their functions in those worlds that they constitute.

55:24 Raom Tiyan on measuring energy in the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Look, if I give you an example: let's say we take the spectrum of the Sun's radiation, for example, infrared, ultraviolet radiation (range). And do you in your civilization also measure frequencies as a standard measure, or do you have some additional parameters, not just the frequencies of these energies?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We do not measure the spectrum of a star's radiation by frequencies that depend on our eyes. For example, infrared radiation is what we do not see, what is lower in vibrations than the color that we perceive as red.

For us it is a little different. We take into account the total radiation of the star and can decompose it into a spectrum, but the starting point of vibrations is not in hertz, as you all think. Because, firstly, we do not have the concept of "second", for us it is a little different, and therefore, there is no hertz. Therefore, we can say that we...

Maxim: But you also record the periods of oscillations of these energies?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We record them, but we do not measure them in time, we do not have such a thing. We measure the number of their vibrations that the device recorded (for example, of this or that spectrum), of course, we can say that for a certain period of time, but it is not a second.

Maxim: I understand, you have different units.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, our basic measurement characteristics do not match. Our devices lay out on a scale the types of these or those energies depending on the content in this radiation spectrum and immediately name them. For example, such and such energy makes up so many percent and so on.

Maxim: I see. You don't have a time scale reference like we do: one second - one hertz.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We just have percentages. For example, this is how many percent the energy of light, the energy of heat, the energy of electromagnetic radiation, radio waves are, because the Sun has a radio wave spectrum and various types of radiation energy. We record all of this and break it down into percentages, on a scale.

Maxim: Good. We need to hold a separate conference on this scale. We have now realized that you have everything completely different. Good, then let's move on.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We know what you are talking about. We even have a scientific commission, which also includes specialists from the planet Disaru, whose brain characteristics are close to yours, and they study your science, the history of your science, all the terms that you use. And I am also a member of this commission, I study with them. And representatives of the planets Esler, Burkhad, Tumesout and Disaru - all together we are looking for terms in your science, we are studying in detail the lexicon of contactees to whom we can transmit this information, so that our concepts can be translated into your language as adequately as possible, so that it is more or less clear to you what we mean.

Maxim: Yes, I understand, okay.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): But for this, of course, it is recommended that contactees have some understanding of your scientific…

Maxim: Yes, I agree.

Irina: Do you want to make me sit down with a physics textbook?

Maxim: Working on physics with a contactee who doesn't know physics... I've already tried doing this.

Irina: Raom Tiyan wants to make me sit down with a physics textbook! (laughs)

Maxim: Maybe not you, maybe someone else.

Irina: He says: "You transmit normally, you know."

I already had Kirkhiton, an astrophysicist, when I was 13, he told me: "This is what you need to read." I asked him, he said: "Yes, you need to study physics, chemistry." They don't have such a concept – "physics" separately from chemistry, for them it's a single science about substances.

Maxim: Yes, I understand, it's normal, it's quite logical.

Irina: Physics and chemistry. (laughs)

Maxim: Okay, let's move on.

1:00:57 Raom Tiyan on the physical or absolute vacuum.

Maxim: Let's move on to the section "Matter". Is matter in the Universal Trinity Code, if we consider it from the position of the Interstellar Union, what you called "physical vacuum" or "absolute vacuum" in previous conferences, or are these fundamentally different concepts?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We call space a physical vacuum.

(Irina) It's already time, he needs to go already.

Maxim: Ah, should we go already?

Irina: An hour has already passed, yes.

Maxim: Do we have time yet?

Irina: Yes, of course.

Maxim: Let's answer the last question then.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Let's go.

We call the space of the first cluster, that is, the physical Universe, a physical or absolute vacuum. The matter itself, which is in this space, is what fills the vacuum. But the vacuum itself, although it is physical, that is, part of the physical world, physical space, but if there are no physical particles in it in the form of atoms or fields, then in any case it is just a place, the location of space, but not matter itself.

Maxim: I see. Raom Tiyan, for us, "physical vacuum" is a term from our quantum mechanics. And you have such a term, too, it turns out?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I am saying that we are studying your science, and to make it clearer to you, we look at how our concepts are called in your language, or yours in ours. And I can say that what we study, and what processes in the physical world we study, often have no name in your science. Or it does, but not in science, but in pseudo-scientific parapsychological research.

Maxim: Such a specific question. In quantum mechanics, some researchers now already understand that if we take outer space, for example, which is free of matter in any form (vacuum, clean of matter and particles), then it is still saturated with some matter, it is not empty in any case. Is that right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, if you take it in space, it is saturated with some matter or fields. But in any case, it can be screened, and then it will be a pure vacuum.

1:03:57 Raom Tiyan on a way to overcome intergalactic space.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It is in a pure or absolutely empty vacuum that a puncture can be made to receive etheric energies. Usually this is done by intergalactic liners, huge ships that overcome the huge intergalactic space, for example, in 10-15 earth days.

But there is no gravity engine there, because there are no gravity beacons, and this space is very large. Gravity beacons cannot be located in such a way as to help ships make these jumps, to navigate. And a huge amount of matter will be needed for gravity jumps.

Therefore, other methods of movement between galaxies are usually used. After all, for example, between the edge of the Milky Way Galaxy and the edge of the M31 Galaxy there are more than two million light years, which is several dozen times greater than the diameter of the Galaxy itself.

1:05:33 Raom Tiyan on the difference between physical vacuum and ether, the transfer of energy through it.

Maxim: Okay, Raom Tiyan, let's not leave. I'll quickly finish this question now, and then we'll go our separate ways. How does the physical vacuum differ from the ether in the understanding of the Interstellar Union?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The physical vacuum is a physical space. It is separated from the ether by an etheric layer, which separates the clusters - the first and the second. Ether, as I understand it, in your science is the collective name of all the subtle-material worlds, and you will call any of them ether - all these 6,039 types of energies.

Maxim: It's not quite like that for us, I'll explain. We had the term "luminiferous ether" - physicists of the 19th century were engaged in this - Albert Michelson and others. And why did this term appear? Because it was believed that electromagnetic waves in a vacuum, in empty space, cannot spread, some wave medium is needed that transmits this. How are electromagnetic waves transmitted, what is the carrier?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It is not that waves cannot exist without a medium. In a shielded vacuum it is possible to create the same electromagnetic field and disturbance, the oscillation of which will be perceived as electromagnetic waves.

Maxim: So, do we have the wrong idea? No medium is needed as a carrier of electromagnetic waves, they somehow move in space by themselves? How can you explain this?

Here in our space there is no substance, pure vacuum. Can we transmit electromagnetic waves through it? But how are they transmitted, by means of what, what is the carrier?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): If there is no substance there, it does not mean that there are no fields there.

Maxim: So there will be a transfer through the fields?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. The physical vacuum is permeated with fields. And in order to screen these fields, a special space is needed, which is created between two plates of certain metal alloys. And a screen is created between these two plates. All types of physical energies are pulled out of this space, and a vacuum puncture is created, but, naturally, in the place that is coordinated with plasmoid civilizations, under the supervision of the Angels of nature. This, of course, is all observed.

Maxim: This is where I want to explain it to you, so that you know for the future. In our esotericism, etheric energies are related to esoteric spaces, and in physics, the term "luminiferous ether" appeared in relation to space, which is a carrier of electromagnetic waves, that is, in relation to a certain medium, which is, as it were, a carrier. But you said that the carrier of electromagnetic waves, even in a vacuum, are fields of various kinds.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Fields exist, they can exist. There may not be substances, atoms, but there may be, for example, the same gravitational fields, for example, the gravitational field of the Galaxy, it also exists.

Maxim: And it is enough to transmit electromagnetic waves through it?

Let's say I transmit a 200 megahertz radio signal through a vacuum. How can I transmit it so that it reaches the recipient through a pure vacuum? What does a vacuum need to have?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The energy that you transmit as radio waves will be the medium that will create vibrations within itself.

Maxim: It turns out that in a vacuum there is no need for an additional environment, it will move on its own?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Space holds all energies anyway. The space that you call the cosmic vacuum is a huge bowl that holds, so to speak, 9 different liquids.

Maxim: I see. It turns out that no matter what energy I transmit, space will oscillate as a reaction to my oscillations.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It is not the space itself that will vibrate, but the energy that you transmit with one frequency or another. But, naturally, everything depends on the power of the transmitter, that is, on the amount of energy that you transmit. The more powerful the transmitter, the more energy you put into this transmission, the further it will go.

And if you transmit little radio wave energy, it will gradually fade. The oscillations will become rarer, rarer, rarer, and eventually they will exist, but the frequency of their vibrations will already be different. And when receiving this transmission, for example, on some other star, instead of your voice, even if they adjust the receiver to this wave, they will hear some incomprehensible noise.

1:10:57 Raom Tiyan on alien experiments on the physical vacuum.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, I will summarize the last and now we will finish. It turns out that we have come to what? For us, if we take any space in our material Universe, which is freed from particles, from material matter, that is, a pure vacuum, this space is always saturated with nine types of energies, which are already carriers of different types.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The thing is that these very particles arise from fields. Of course, it is possible to screen the vacuum from fields too, but this must be done artificially. We, that is, our ancestors, conducted research. When they first entered intergalactic space, they conducted research into intergalactic space for saturation with various fields.

They were quite far from the center and from the edge of the Galaxy, between galaxies (shows to Irina), and still there were vibrations of a certain number of the same photons. Of course, there were much fewer of them than in the Galaxy, but they were still there. But this is not surprising, because even if a person from some place outside the Galaxy finds himself there and looks at space, he will see a certain light, certain galaxies far from him.

Why does he see them? It means that light waves from these galaxies are coming into his eyes. And they can't come into his eyes unless they end up in this space where he is directly located. And this is also energy, it's not just an abstract light wave that doesn't affect anything.

I was surprised when I studied your physics, especially atomic, nuclear, high-energy physics, the so-called. I was always surprised by the degree of abstraction (at least, that's what I call it) with which your scientists described the same electron, photon. They described certain things with formulas, but at the same time they practically (at least, I did not find these materials) did not describe the mutual influence of different types of energies among themselves, the ability of energy to create fields and the ability of these fields to create intra-atomic structural elementary particles.

I believe that your ability to create various formulas and to describe reality with these formulas takes you somewhat into abstraction from the concrete.

Maxim: I agree, yes. What you said, we have now already recorded experimentally - that in an absolute vacuum, as if freed from matter and any particles, in any case particles are formed, which were called "virtual". This means that particles are formed from something, from some matter. It is clear that this empty space is saturated with matter.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You need to see if you shielded from everything. Firstly, if you did this on Earth, you did not shield from the gravitational field. What will you shield from it with? You need a special antigravitator.

1:14:44 Raom Tiyan on the formation of new particles by a gravitational field.

Maxim: Can a gravitational field also form some new particles?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Together with your fields, for example, even each person emits a certain type of electromagnetic field. He consists of atoms, his body. And together, all these fields form a very complex structure in space, which consists of multidirectional fields, and they can connect with each other and form new elementary particles - what you call elementary particles, and we call quanta, which you can already record.

Maxim: It turns out that a combination of different types of fields can form new particles, so-called new types of matter?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): These are not even atoms, but quanta.

Maxim: I understand, I understand, but is this possible?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, of course.

Maxim: Interesting.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): That’s what I’m saying, that I studied certain books and scientific works through contactees, which were devoted to the discovery of the electron, proton and other particles, and I didn’t see in these works a specific assumption or hypothesis that would describe the emergence of these particles from more subtle etheric energies.

I am thinking about how you think, can I convey to Irina our teaching briefly (in a very simple form) about what etheric energies, what elements, how exactly form all the structural elements of atoms? We have already given information about the hydrogen atom, but we gave it from the point of view of physical matter - about how many quanta enter it, how they are distributed across all three energy levels. You already have this information. And how do you feel about giving information about how these very physical quanta appear?

Maxim: I am always positive.

Irina: Yes, I still need to write a specific article, okay.

Maxim: Okay, Raom Tiyan, that's it for today: you have to go. Thank you for honoring us with your attention today.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Thank you for your interesting questions!

1:17:29 Raom Tiyan on the division of two areas of knowledge: science and esotericism.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I have a question for you too. As a representative of Earth who studies science, tell me…

Maxim: Yes, yes, I'm listening.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In your opinion, when did the paths of physics, as the study of physical reality, and esotericism diverge?

Maxim: If I express my opinion (I may be mistaken, like everyone else, in principle), then it seems to me that in the times of the so-called Ancient Greece, when we had ancient Greek philosophers (they were all contactees, we know) – Plato, Aristotle, etc. – they understood this connection then. And then over time everything began to get lost.

And then, since the birth of Christ, science is something completely different. Some researchers somewhere had in mind that there are other types of energy, but science officially developed according to a different scenario: all over again, we study matter again. Then Newton appeared, and so on and so forth. Now science is no longer like the science of the ancient Greek philosophers, because they knew all these things for sure.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Well, okay. What contributed to the separation of these two areas of knowledge?

Maxim: Separation?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, these two areas of knowledge of reality.

Maxim: It's hard to say, I think there are many factors, as always. One of them, perhaps, is the disruption of the continuity of scientific generations that would competently pass on information to the next generations. And, accordingly, the information was lost.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Thank you for your answer. I believe that it is necessary for your science and esotericism to study each other and unite in synthesis, at least for the enrichment of each other.

Maxim: I think this is already happening partially and will probably continue to increase.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Good. Thank you for the conversation.

(Irina): Dear friends, I also thank you for watching this video. I hope you found it interesting. Maxim, thank you for your interesting questions.

Maxim: Pavel Ermakov's questions, not my questions.

Irina: Thanks to Pavel too. Bye everyone!

Changes in ancient human DNA 12,000 years ago

Those people who were transported back to Earth after 200-300 years saw that it was much harder for people to adapt to the environment and eat dairy and plant foods. Then they decided to change human DNA to eat protein foods.

This did not happen all at once, but pointwise in different regions and in different years. The aliens came and explained in a language understandable to people that we would make you capable of painlessly enduring this food. But they did not force you to do this. They said that we would make your children capable of this too. Since the genetic information was already embedded in a person, they could make a person capable of enduring food of animal origin only by giving a special preparation. That is, they could change the metabolism. And they changed the genetic information on the ship with special emitters aimed at the sex cells, and people gave birth to children with these enzymes.

Those people who survived the catastrophe on Earth, who were not taken away, had no change in genes for a long time. There were even some quarrels. Those who were saved on Earth were even more wary of aliens, since they had to endure all the sorrows - climate change, the split of the earth's crust and other cataclysms. Therefore, they remained separate tribes from those who were saved for a longer time. Mistrust was not characteristic of everyone, but in general. This was noted by scientists who contacted after the war.

There were reasons for that. They saw that it was not a natural disaster, but rather an outside intervention when the ships appeared.

#543 Project Cassiopeia has "CONNECTIONS". Live broadcast.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3fV-V-lwyT4

00:00 Start of video.

00:36 Greetings. Project News.

Maxim: Hello, friends! We are live, we will be gathering an audience for now. Dear friends, we are just in the Moscow Center and are currently setting up the equipment. Because we gave a link to that video, and it does not work for us, we had to go on air from the Moscow Center. Hello, Moscow, hello!

Irina: Greetings from our Center!

Maxim: I promise you that after this broadcast I will pick up the phone (because we are broadcasting with a phone) and quickly show you our Moscow Center from the inside – what it looks like, how it works.

Irina: It already looks different, not like Maxim showed it last time. They did a lot here.

Maxim: Yes, a lot has changed here... I'll try to go on air now.

(reads from chat) "Hello from Montreal." Oh, hello to Montreal!

Yes! Finally, I can see the chat and I can see you, Irishka, on two screens.

Irina: Hello everyone once again! Good evening! We have recently arrived at our Moscow Center, and here we are already going live under different conditions.

Maxim: And in general we have a very interesting topic today. I hope you can hear me well?

Irina: How can you hear me?

Maxim: Everything is fine. Now we'll move the microphone closer.

(reads from the chat) "Where is your kitty?" The kitty is not here, guys, he is in Voronezh.

(reads) "Maxim is clearly audible." That's it, guys, thank you very much. Irishenka will try to speak louder.

So, friends, I greet you all! Today I am not in the cell, today Irina is in the cell.

We have a very interesting topic of the broadcast. It consists of the fact that many healers, esotericists and energy practitioners say that after us, after "Cassiopeia", people come to them, and they have to cleanse these people from various kinds of "connections" that they allegedly picked up in the "Cassiopeia" Project. On this occasion, we decided to make an unusual broadcast - does the "Cassiopeia" Project have "connections", and what "connections" does it have.

Irina, who is with us today, and which of our interstellar friends will help us broadcast?

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, a contactee of the Cassiopeia Project. And today we are with the spiritual curator of our Project - Mirakh Count from the planet Burkhad, he is known on earth as Archangel Gabriel, this is his spiritual name. To make it clearer to you - this is the name of his Higher Self, his non-embodied part of the Spirit. He is present here and wished to answer questions about the Cassiopeia Project, about the egregor of Cassiopeia and all the problems that exist in it. He is the head of the spiritual part of this Project, because any project consists of a material part - people who exist in the material world, and a spiritual part, which is called an "egregor".

Maxim: Mirach Count, I greet you!

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes, greetings!

07:33 Mirah Count on "connections".

Maxim: I would like to ask you what you consider to be “connections”?

Irina (Mirakh Count): People call various channels of interaction with the Spiritual world, with the subtle world and energy connections between people, which are formed as a result of their communication and energy interaction, "connections". You call all this "connections", that is, energy channels for the exchange of energy-information fields, that is, energy and information.

Maxim: Dear soul963, I don't have any microphone at all, our microphone is in the phone. The phone is closer to Irina, so if you can't hear Irina well, I will speak more quietly myself so as not to interrupt Irina, so that she can more competently convey to you the information that is there.

09:04 Mirakh Count on the state of the egregor "Cassiopeia".

Maxim: (reads the chat) "A question for the curators. What is the current state of the "Cassiopeia" egregor on a spiritual level?.." Guys, today we would actually like to talk about "connections", but I will ask this question.

Mirah Count, people ask us what is happening with the egregor of the Cassiopeia Project now – are there any moments that are pulling it down, and are there any moments that are helping it to develop?

Irina (Mirakh Count): The egregor of "Cassiopeia" is currently a rapidly developing egregor, which naturally has both advantages and various problems that any young project, any beginning egregor, would not avoid.

What helps it develop? The Cassiopeia Project is helped to develop by the multi-directional nature of its activities, that is, the activities that are carried out at different levels with people – spiritual, physical and energetic. In other words, the Cassiopeia Project is helped to develop by the fact that its participants work with people at all levels – and people actively learn about it and come to this Project.

And what prevents it from developing, what problems exist – I would highlight the main problem here, that sometimes there is mutual suspicion and jealousy between the Project participants, who are called “masters” in it. This happens.

Maxim: Yes, I agree with you, and as a manager I see all these points, but we try and try...

Irina (Mirakh Count): This is manifested inside, and these thoughts are sent to the egregor.

Maxim: I understand, thank you, Mirach Count.

Irina (Mirakh Count): Jealousy specifically towards people. Not all masters, but some have it, as a paradigm of thinking of the "old order", which existed even before the "quantum transition". This is existence not among friends who want to help each other, and not in the same family, but existence among strangers to each other, whom you call competitors.

And some people have contradictions in their understanding of the idea of the Project and the information that is given by the representatives of the Interstellar Union through Irina Podzorova. Everyone understands this information a little differently (this is inevitable) and places different emphasis on the information. Some masters came to this Project with an already formed worldview, and it can be quite difficult for them to adjust to a new way of thinking.

Maxim: Dear friends, I completely forgot, we are now in the Moscow Center, and tomorrow we are starting classes - "Science of Imagery" and "Astral Travel". These are the first classes ever, we have never held them before. And many of our curators-mentors will be present at these classes, because they will be watching the process when Irina will teach astral travel, and Ilya will talk about the Science of Imagery, which was personally transmitted to him by MidgasKaus from the planet Esler.

We have two free places. So look for the administrator Elena, and if you are in Moscow, you can come here tomorrow at 11 o'clock. These free places did not appear by chance - today two people called, refused, and two places are waiting for someone. Who they are waiting for, I do not know, tomorrow I am waiting for two people for whom these places were waiting. Please call the administrator at the phone number: +7 988 910-00-40, her name is Elena, and she will tell you everything. Two free places for tomorrow's event, for a week, she will organize for you. Meals and accommodation at the Center are free.

Irisha, I said everything, I just forgot to voice the information.

Irina: Indeed, we will have a very interesting training course, and as Mirakh Count just said, we have, so to speak, courses or subprojects on completely different topics being implemented in our Project, and this week a completely new course is opening, where "The Science of Imagery" and "Astral Travel" will be taught. We decided to combine these two courses, because the Science of Imagery is needed to master astral travel. Everyone who comes here and has already come to this course will receive maximum information and maximum practice in order to practice astral travel themselves and build their own bright reality with bright images.

15:18 Mirah Count on the masters of "Cassiopeia".

Maxim: Mirakh Count, I have this question: do all the masters of the Cassiopeia Project carry Light and Love, is it visible from the Astral?

Irina: Do all masters of the Cassiopeia Project carry Light and Love?

Maxim: Well, they say that some masters have some kind of destructive “connections”, that is, low-vibration plasmoids and entities that are connected to the masters of the Cassiopeia Project, which carry some kind of strange information?

Irina (Mirakh Count): I will say this: every person on Earth has something to work with on the energy level. As for the masters of "Cassiopeia" - they actively work with their negative, destructive programs of thinking, "blocks", if they have any. There are such masters, but they work with them. But, as for there being "connections" to destructive civilizations - he does not know such masters in "Cassiopeia", since all who had "connections" closed them through the Higher Self, because they dissolved these "blocks" in themselves that attracted them.

Maxim: “Irishenka, are you upset about something today?” they ask you.

Irina: No.

Maxim: Dear friends, we just arrived from Voronezh, because Irina conducted a trip to Ashtar's ship, and we immediately flew to Moscow, and just stopped by, had a bite to eat. So if we are a little tired, if we look a little different somehow...

(answering a question from the chat) Guys, I can't block Bova: I don't have access, I'm broadcasting from my phone. On the phone - I can, but the phone is hanging on the stand. And I'm watching from the computer, so I'll ask the administrators who are watching us now: "Please go to the chat and clean it up!"

Irina: And now Mirakh Count, when he heard about Bova, tells me: “If he or his students came to this Project, to this egregor, it is necessary to ask yourself what exactly in this egregor attracts them.”

Maxim: I’ll tell you what attracts them to this egregor – the large number of people who watch us and trust us.

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes, but they are also attracted by the Light that you carry, because they still listen to this information and receive those energies that may awaken in them later. By the way, dear friends, in order to leave comments, indeed, you not only need to spend time, you need to sit and watch. It’s not just like that.

I am sending the Light of my Love to everyone who came from this person. I know what your beliefs are. I want to say that what he is telling you is his perception of reality, because he himself has many energy blocks, first of all, fear of aliens, so he perceives them negatively. If he dissolves this block, I suggest he do this, then he will look at the world with different eyes. And so he simply transmits to the world the fear that "scary aliens" will capture us. I want to tell you, ufologist Bova, if you see me: if they wanted to capture, they would have captured us long ago.

Maxim: So Mirakh Count is now personally contacting the ufologist Bove through our channel?

Irina: He knows who it is, he tells me now: "I know who you are talking about. And indeed, this person has many fears and grievances about life." That's what he says.

Maxim: I see.

19:52 Mirakh Count about the communication channel of people with destructive “connections”.

Maxim: Mirakh Count, please tell me, how do people hook up destructive “connections”?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Precisely through these fears, grievances, mistrust and other destructive, negative blocks and destructive mental programs. There are many of them, but the main ones are aggression and fear. Including auto-aggression, that is, aggression directed at oneself - for example, at one's body, at one's life, and so on. If a person, for example, does not treat his body with love, a destructive "connection" may already be possible. We do not call it "connections", we say - "a communication channel with destructive civilizations".

Maxim: So, through low vibrations we ourselves form these “connections”?

Irina (Mirakh Count): People create the possibility for contact with low-vibration plasmoid civilizations, and they create the "connections", but from their own and your energy. It is like a channel in which there are both their energies and your energies.

Maxim: These are our joint energies, am I right?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes, but initially these civilizations were attracted to themselves by people themselves, because they, their thoughts vibrate on the same wave with these destructive civilizations. Including fear of them - fear of their "connections". Fear of external influence also forms the possibility for this "connection". Representatives of these destructive plasmoid civilizations have a certain cunning and resourcefulness of their minds, which consists in frightening people with "connections" to them, so that, thanks to this fear, they "connect".

22:17 Mirakh Count about the chip for Maxim.

Maxim: They ask: “When will Maxim get a chip?”

Irina (Mirakh Count): Based on my knowledge of his energy, his life tasks, I can say that he does not need it.

Maxim: Thank you, Mirach Count, you are, as always, 100% right.

Irina: Mirakh Count said: you don’t need a chip.

Maxim: It is enough for me that I understand, hear and see.

Irina (Mirakh Count): He has other tasks in this Project, and he understands and carries them out very clearly.

Maxim: Thank you! It's very nice to hear that from you.

22:52 Mirakh Count on the ability of people to put a destructive “connection” in you.

Maxim: Tell me, please, can someone put a destructive "connection" on you? So you come to a master, and the master is so destructive, and he thinks: "Let me put some destructive "connection" on him now! After all, I work with destructive plasmoids." Can a master put a destructive "connection" on a person without the person's permission?

Irina (Mirakh Count): If the master has destructive plasmoid civilizations in his field, or there are portals in his room, for example...

Maxim: No, in general, the master clearly understands that he works with destructive civilizations. Let's call him a "black magician" who works with these destructive civilizations. Can this "black magician" put a destructive "connection" to a person without his knowledge?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Any Spirit can establish a channel of communication with another Spirit only by "clinging" to something. It will not work to simply cling to "empty space". Both the plasmoid and the magician are in equal positions here, they are just in bodies of different densities. Both a human and a plasmoid will be able to "connect" a person only if he has, figuratively speaking, a "lock" into which the "key" can be "inserted".

Maxim: I see. So, in order to attach a destructive "connection" to a person, there must necessarily be destructive energies in him that he manifests? Did I understand you correctly?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes, there must be a block in it, which is in its aura, in its chakras, and an external structure can be placed on this block, which is called the "key to the aura". And through this "key to the aura" the channels of destructive plasmoid civilizations can be connected. The main condition here is the coincidence in vibrations of this "key to the aura" of a person and that plasmoid civilization that can be connected. Not every person, even one with negative vibrations, can be connected at all. For many people, the energy of their Soul, the energy of their etheric field does not fit plasmoid civilizations at all. That is, it simply cannot be assimilated by them, this also happens.

Maxim: I would like to address once again those administrators who are currently supervising our broadcast. Guys, please clean our channel a little from this parasitic ufologist. I see that they are coming here in whole groups. I can't call anyone, unfortunately my phone is on the air, I am currently conducting the broadcast on the phone.

25:55 Mirah Count on the relationship between destructive and light civilizations in this manvantara.

Maxim: Tell me, please, as we know, in the universe, in principle, there are “light” civilizations – constructive, and there are “dark” civilizations – destructive. What is the ratio of destructive and light civilizations now in our manvantara?

Irina (Mirakh Count): It's different in different worlds.

Maxim: What do you call peace now?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Planet, star.

Maxim: So on each planet it’s all different, right?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes.

Maxim: And in general, throughout the entire manvantara, on all planets in total?

Irina (Mirakh Count): In all galaxies?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Mirakh Count): There are billions of galaxies, and in total, “light” civilizations make up more than 70%.

Maxim: That is, 30% in total are destructive, 70% are constructive civilizations.

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes, but they can condense around some planet, for example, or a star, and form entire conglomerates of destructive civilizations there, if there is a supply of this destructiveness from the planet’s noosphere.

Maxim: Thank you.

Guys, I had a closed broadcast with Bin Laden. I talked to him, guys, and I'll tell you that the information is such that, of course... I don't have any hair on my head anymore, but my hair would have stood on end! I understood everything perfectly and I think that we'll just make a cut from there. We won't show the whole broadcast, because it's definitely impossible to show the whole broadcast. But we'll definitely make a cut from there, and I'll post an excerpt about the terrorist attack that took place on 9/11. Everything is very clear, everything is very competent, wait for the cut broadcast. But we'll name it so that it's not bright and flashy, so that it doesn't catch the eye. Because even by his name they can block us.

(reads from chat) "Pass on the Light of my absolute divine Love to Mirah Count! Greetings from Dnepr."

Irina (Mirakh Count): I thank you, divine Soul, and I send you the Light of my Love!

28:28 Mirakh Count on the reason for a person’s easy transition to destructiveness.

Maxim: They ask: why is it so easy for a person to become destructive rather than, on the contrary, to create something constructive?

Irina (Mirakh Count): It is easy for a person to go into destruction, because he lives, is brought up and works in a social environment where destruction is easily formed, where the influence of destructive egregors on a person - through various mass media, through work collectives, through the so-called "patterns of public consciousness" - is very great. And you need to have a large amount of Light of Love to resist this influence, to carry Light in your world, because the number of destructive egregors outweighs the positive, the constructive ones, in your astral space.

Maxim: I understand.

29:30 Mirah Count on Raising the Vibration in the Cemetery. Harmonizing the Law of Life and Death.

Maxim: Such an interesting question: is it possible to practice in a cemetery and raise vibrations?

Irina: Practice what?

Maxim: They didn’t write what to practice.

Irina: He'll think now - "practice digging graves", for example. That's also practice.

Maxim: Can I rephrase it then?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Is it possible to raise your vibrations in a cemetery by reading Esler and Burkhad settings?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Of course, you can, depending on what associations the cemetery evokes. Many people find this place calming and pacifying. They like to walk, read the inscriptions on the monuments, and they feel calm. I know such people.

And if a cemetery frightens a person or makes him sad and despondent, of course, he will not be able to raise his vibrations until he harmonizes within himself the complete acceptance of the law of life and death.

Maxim: So, in principle, it is possible to raise vibrations in a cemetery?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes, to the person who has realized that death is not evil, but an opportunity for further evolution for the Spirit. Then the cemetery will be associated with the transition to another world, and there will be no horror in this, there will be no fear, there will be an understanding of the natural law. As many civilizations of the Interstellar Union have no fear of physical death, because there is an understanding from childhood that this is a transition necessary for the evolution of the Spirit. And in this case, a walk through the cemetery will not lower anyone's vibrations, but, on the contrary, will raise them, because this will, as I have already said, harmonize a person in the awareness that he is here temporarily, in this body.

32:12 Mirach Count on the image of the Christian cross.

Maxim: Just like you can lower the vibrations in a church by condemning someone, coming with despondency.

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes. I will give you an example now – the Christian cross. This image was originally associated with death, and not just with death, like a cemetery, but with the painful death of that being, that person, who was recognized by God in Christianity. That is, such an object as a cross was initially associated with execution on the cross, with terrible torments and the unjust condemnation of someone to death. It was not just an image of a cemetery, it was an even more negative image.

But over time, when the Christian community, the church, came to the realization that through the cross Jesus gained the ability to rise from the dead and change his body into an immortal one, for the eternal raising of the vibrations of earthlings, as long as the Earth exists in this manvantara, then the cross turned from a negative symbol into a positive one and began to raise vibrations.

33:33 The custom of pouring out water after washing the deceased, energetic reasons.

Maxim: Why, after washing a dead person, do you then pour the water under a tree?

Irina: Yes, I remember the answer to this question. Because in the water that directly touched the dead body, there is the energy of decomposing cells and there is the energy of the disease that led to death. It is different for everyone. And this energy can be transmitted through water to another person. There are special magical rituals that use this water to cause harm. And to prevent this, this water must be removed, poured under a tree, so that the Earth's plasmoids can process it due to its fertility.

Maxim: Now it's clear. That is, water can be used incorrectly.

Yes, guys, we will definitely do a broadcast with Princess Diana, we have plans to create this broadcast, so we will organize it somehow in the near future.

Now, at this moment in time, we are in Moscow and in a week we are flying to Israel, to Irina's new program at the Israeli retreat. There will be two blocks: the first block is for those who just want to touch the present of this country, and the second block is for those who have long been in the ranks of esotericists and want to increase their knowledge and skills through the information that our interstellar friends will transmit to us.

I will even tell you a secret that at this Israeli retreat (and I think not only at the Israeli one) our interstellar friends will transmit information through the second block through Irina, explaining to people how to work, how to increase awareness, how to conduct ceremonies, rituals and much more.

So, a question about today's Sunday. Today is Forgiveness Sunday, dear guys, and I, as the leader of this big Project, want to ask you all for forgiveness if I have offended you in any way, intentionally or unintentionally.

Irina: Dear friends, and I, as a contactee of this Project, today, on Forgiveness Sunday, also want to ask you all for forgiveness, if suddenly you felt something negative from me, and I ask you to forgive me, and I send you the Light of my Love.

36:24 Mirah Count on ways to get rid of destructive “connections”.

Maxim: Mirakh Count, let's say a person voluntarily or involuntarily picked up this "connection"...

Irina (Mirakh Count): What do you mean “involuntarily”?

Maxim: Well, he doesn’t realize that with his thoughts, actions and deeds, he himself attracted this destructive one – either a civilization, or a Spirit, or some kind of alien.

Irina (Mirakh Count): But he emits energy of his own free will.

Maxim: Well, yes. People are wondering: how can a person now get rid of this destructive...

Irina (Mirakh Count): Change your vibrations to the opposite ones, that is, radiate into space the opposite vibration - not the same as you radiated before, but higher. So that the entity that receives energy from you, having received your positive energy of another feeling or emotion, could choose whether to raise its vibrations together with you, that is, get rid of its blocks (because plasmoids also have their own energy blocks in their subtle bodies, which can block their understanding of the Light of Divine Love, which is why they, in principle, become destructive).

Or, if they do not choose it - cannot or do not want to choose it, they themselves will remove their attachment, because energy will come to them through it, which will put them in a state, so to speak, of some pain. Only it will not be pain in the physical sense, but a kind of anxiety, discomfort. That is, they will not like this energy, let's say so.

If you have an attachment to a negative plasmoid, civilization, you need to ask the Higher Self, what energy of your Soul feeds this plasmoid, that is, what kind does it like - the energy of what feeling, the energy of what thoughts, the energy of what emotions? And what will be the answers - the Higher Self will always tell you this, because it knows - based on these answers, you will need to stop emitting these emotions, feelings and thoughts and begin to develop the opposite ones in yourself. Then the plasmoids themselves will either work on their improvement together with you, or will simply leave you if they do not agree with your increase in vibrations.

39:13 Mirah Count on raising vibrations and healing through communication with him.

Maxim: Mirah Count, people ask, and I am also interested in this question. You are present here now, transmitting information through Irina. Can a person, sitting and listening to this information, receive high vibrations and heal?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Of course, it can, if he redirects this information into the energy of his etheric body - for example, with his mental command and faith in the effectiveness of this command, and the etheric field will already change the work of your physical cells. You receive information, this is a mental flow. This mental flow can be transformed into etheric radiation, and etheric radiation can heal.

Maxim: Thank you very much! In principle, guys, in fact, the information that our interstellar friends carry is very high-vibrational.

Even if you do not feel the vibrations and simply receive the answers you need to questions from this information, which will increase your level of awareness, you are already healing yourself with this.

40:33 Mirah Count on “connections” at medium and high levels of Spirit.

Maxim: (reads from the chat) "Maxim, is it true that if a person is at level 15, and the Spirits are lower in vibrations, there are no coincidences, then they cannot harm you? That is, they cannot pull energy from you?"

Irina (Mirakh Count): The fifteenth level – that was at the moment of incarnation. And if you are at the 15th level at the present time, then what does this mean – that you are at the middle level. What is the middle level? It means that you have both light feelings in your spiritual heart, and dark feelings – some blocks that have not yet been processed, karmic knots – and destructive plasmoid civilizations can also connect to them. Such cases are known. But it will be easier for you to recognize them in yourself and work with them than, for example, for the Spirit, who is at the ninth spiritual level, and even more so at the sixth, and so on. That is, the closer to the Light, the more opportunities there are to identify these blocks and attachments to them.

I even knew of cases when various negative attachments were also attached to incarnated Angels – those who are on the seventeenth level and above, and especially often these were necrotic attachments – that is, not to plasmoids, but to people, to Spirits that lived in people who had already left the earthly world. This became possible because these incarnated Angels felt some kind of negativity towards these deceased people, but in general they felt Love towards all people and towards themselves. That is, I want to tell you, the spiritual heart of a person is such that it can combine completely different feelings – it can, for example, love everyone, and hate someone. And the spiritual level reflects the combined state of the spiritual heart.

Maxim: Thank you, Mirach Count.

42:57 Mirach Count on the end of the conflict in Ukraine.

Maxim: You see, people still have personal questions for you. The Virgin Mary once told us that one of the options for the end of military actions is March 2023.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Now, being in your physical body, in your astral body, how do you assess the situation – when might these military actions end? Are there any other options?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Is this a question for me?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Mirakh Count): You know, my personal opinion is that this will end at the time when those who are now supporting all these actions stop doing it. And when they don't want to, I don't know. It depends on their will: they can want it tomorrow, for example, they can want it in March, really, or they can do it only when they have no other choice. Everything depends on the amount of Light in their Soul. How much of this Light – I don't look into their Soul.

Maxim: Thank you, Mirach Count, I heard you, the answer is more than adequate.

Irina (Mirakh Count): They may, for example, want this tomorrow. We will wake up tomorrow, and those on whom the continuation of this military operation depends... in any case, they understand that there are fewer and fewer resources left, fewer and fewer living and healthy warriors, fighters, soldiers at their disposal. And they begin to ask themselves questions about what to do next. What answer will come to them, and how will they implement it - this is their free will. The whole point here is that it is impossible to predict free will, because it is free for a reason, that it manifests itself as a person wants.

Maxim: Thank you, Mirach Count.

45:04 Mirah Count on helping others get rid of “connections”.

Maxim: Tell me, please, a woman has a question: "My 18-year-old daughter took pills for hallucinations for several years. She quit six months ago, but from her stories I understood that dark entities were connected to her. She is a contactee, like me. Advise me what is the best thing to do in this situation?"

Irina: To do it for mothers, daughters – who?

Maxim: What can a mother do for her daughter to help her get rid of these destructive dark civilizations or Spirits that are in contact with her, according to her daughter.

Irina (Mirakh Count): First, she needs to ask specifically what she is being told, to understand who she is in contact with. This can be understood by the questions you will need to ask through your daughter. You will need to ask questions of the entities she is in contact with, such as: "Where are you from and for what purpose did you come?"

Maxim: She has already determined that these are dark entities.

Irina (Mirakh Count): It is necessary to understand the goal. If these are dark entities, it is necessary to find out what exactly is dark in them, what they are telling her, what they want from her. We call this - "what is the purpose of the contact". But it is better to do this with the help of the Higher Self.

That is, your daughter needs to turn to her Higher Self and ask, firstly, who she is contacting, who her curators are and what is the purpose of the contact. If the answer from the Higher Self is that this is a destructive contact, and its purpose is destructive, for example, they can say: "To take away negative energy", or "To lower a person's vibrations so that he never gets to God" (they can answer like this), - your daughter will need to ask the Higher Self: "How exactly, with what vibration, feeling or thought of mine did I attract these beings to myself?"

Remember, dear friends, that those beings who contact you are not your enemies who want to harm you, they are your brothers and sisters who have simply lowered their vibrations and are themselves in a state of "darkness". Become their teachers, explain to them the laws of Divine reality!

Let her, when she perceives some words from them, write them down and ask them clarifying questions. And if their words or advice contradict unconditional Love, let her answer them in such a way that she herself chooses what to do and recommends that they engage in their development. First of all, she must realize that they are not the masters of her life and its embodiment, but she herself. She must take responsibility for her life upon herself and not give it into the hands of some forces. And from this position, conduct a conversation with them as an equal with equals.

Maxim: Thank you.

48:54 Mirah Count on the use of stimulants by craftsmen during work.

Maxim: Mirakh Count, please tell me, I heard that there are masters who come to us to study, and then leave us, and no longer in our Project, they use various substances that stimulate the activity of the brain. And under these substances they do various cleansings, rituals and conduct various esoteric practices. Is it possible to use some substances and engage in esoteric practices?

Irina: What do you mean “is it possible”?

Maxim: How does it affect (now I’ll ask the question correctly)...

Irina: If they are already doing this, it means they have decided that they can do this. What is the question here?

Maxim: Is it correct to do esoteric practices under the influence of substances?

Irina (Mirakh Count): I believe that stimulating your brain with artificial substances to bring you into some altered state of consciousness is, firstly, a manifestation of mistrust towards you, towards your Higher Self. Because contact with the Higher Self and a person's own work on themselves – for example, opening and harmonizing all seven of their chakras – can lead to the same results, that is, to a change in consciousness, but only to a more manageable, controlled one, and which is caused by the person themselves. There is nothing complicated about this.

I know that some people prefer to take the easier path, so as not to work on themselves, not to harmonize their chakras, not to get rid of their blocks. Here I see a very subtle form of mistrust and dislike of oneself, mistrust of oneself as a part of God, as a Divine child, to whom God has already given everything for these practices. There is no need to artificially bring anything there.

The second problem I see is that the substances that are used for this usually imitate some hormone-like substances produced by the neurons of the brain of the person himself. You already have everything. If a person is affected by some substance, changes his consciousness or mood, this already indicates that this substance has found a receptor in the brain with which it has connected. If this receptor were not there, you would not feel anything. And if this receptor is there, it means that you are producing a similar substance.

The problem is that artificial substances are introduced into the body in huge doses, from which the receptors lose their sensitivity, and then it will take a long time to restore it. That is, a person who uses them can put an end to his spiritual development until he learns an independent spiritual path.

Maxim: Thank you, Mirach Count, a very good, detailed answer.

Dear friends, I see you noticed that Irina has a red face, you think it's pressure (one second, Irisha, let me explain to them). You're all trying to give some advice, trying to do something better. And a girl came to Irina for training, did a facial cleansing for her, and now we've been suffering with this redness for a whole week.

Guys, do you remember the phrase that sometimes the road to hell is paved with good intentions? So let's not give each other advice. We all see it perfectly well, but if this purge hadn't happened, everything would have been fine. But she did it only because she wanted to do better. That's why "better" wars sometimes happen in the world.

So don't worry: everything is fine with Irishka's blood pressure. The only small nuance is that irritation still remains after facial cleaning by a very friendly girl who was trained by us. Therefore, even with good intentions it does not always happen that we can do well.

53:40 Mirach Count on changing brain vibrations during prayer and meditation.

Maxim: Is it true that during prayer the brain emits special “delta rhythms”?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes, during prayer and during meditation, a person’s consciousness changes, he tunes in to contact with his Higher Self through the spiritual channel, and from tuning in to contact, that is, activating the seventh energy center, his brain vibrations change, which on the physical level is manifested by a slowing of the rhythm and the so-called “delta rhythm” of electromagnetic waves.

Maxim: Irochka, they write to you: "You are beautiful." By the way, Galina Alshabakh. Galechka, Galina, hello!

(reads in chat) "You are like an older brother." Yes, probably like a spiritual brother, I don't know - older, not older, but older in this world.

54:36 Determining your spiritual level.

Maxim: (reads from the chat) “How can I tell if my spiritual level has changed?”

Irina: Ask your Higher Self: “What spiritual level am I at now?” The first thought that comes, any number that comes – this will be your level at the present moment.

Maxim: Well, Irisha, everything is so simple for you, but of course, it is not so simple. First, you need to read the full description of each spiritual level, be sure to read it, and how your heart responds to what level – that is the level you are at now. I hope you will not deceive yourself.

55:16 Setting up contact with Mirach Count.

Maxim: Mirakh Count, first of all, I want to thank you and say a huge thank you! When I worked at simple jobs, was a civil servant and bought myself an apartment, the first person who appeared at the door was you, Archangel Gabriel - Mirakh Count. And then Archangel Michael appeared. I didn’t know you yet, I didn’t even know who you were, what you were, I didn’t go to church as often as many others... But how can our viewers establish contact with you?

Irina (Mirakh Count): Call me with your spiritual heart, and I will definitely hear you and come: I can send my phantoms, and in each phantom there is the full presence of my Love.

Maxim: So it’s that simple?

Irina: He says: "When you pray to Archangel Gabriel, he feels it. You call his name and address his image. This is what happens in the Spiritual World."

And I want to say, since he is now incarnated and is on Burkhad, then in this case the contact occurs when you address Archangel Gabriel, for example, with gratitude, or with a request for help, or with something else - there are different prayers to him. For example, there is even a gratitude akathist to Archangel Gabriel, and he feels it. But his Higher Self feels and comes, sends its image - which is called "Archangel Gabriel". And Mirakh Count is the name of his incarnated part on the planet Burkhad.

57:04 The value of communication with the Higher Self.

Maxim: Here's a question, people ask: why don't many contactees learn to communicate with their Higher Self?

Irina: I also wanted to ask this question.

Maxim: Guys, I will answer you as the leader of a large Project, which once had nothing to do with this spirituality.

Guys, it is not profitable to teach you to communicate with the Higher Self, because when you come, they set you rates, give you a price tag and do it for you. Communicating with your Higher Self is a very interesting work on yourself. This requires practices, awareness, you need to devote time to it. But why teach you the Higher Self? If you communicate with your Higher Self yourself, then you will not need all these witches, fortune tellers, "cleansers". It is easier not to teach you this, it is easier for you to come, pay good money, and someone through your Higher Self and through their curators and mentors did everything for you.

That is why you are not taught to communicate with your Higher Self, with your Soul, with your spiritual part. There are different names for the Higher Self – it can be "Atmas", it can be "Soul", it can be called "Spirit" – yes, whatever. We call it "Higher Self".

Irina: Yes, such people have also approached me. I want to say it again in the video now, as I have already told those people. Some people have approached me with a request to talk to their Higher Self and find out everything from it myself and convey to them, as I am now conveying, for example, what Mirakh Count tells me - thought forms, words, images that he tells me through my consciousness, so that I can talk to the Higher Self of a person. And they even told me this: "You communicate with Spirits, communicate with my Higher Self too."

I want to say that I communicate with Spirits for the sake of transmitting information, for the development of each person. But with the Higher Self of each person - this is already a different matter, this is already a personal process of spiritual development of each of you. And here I will not transmit answers from you, because I will still transmit it at my level of awareness and with my thought forms. But the most valuable will be when you do it yourself. And I want to give you only the most valuable.

59:35 Mirah Count on lies and intimidation of clients by masters for their own selfish purposes.

Maxim: Another very cool question, I will answer it, because I clearly understand the answer, guys, being in this Project and seeing how some masters work, and why they do it. Why, when you come, do they start telling you various horror stories - that you have "connections", that you have some destructive civilizations, you have "reptilians", "reptilian eggs" sitting? In fact, everything is very simple: if you are not scared, you will not pay money.

Irina: And Mirakh Count says: “Indeed, there are such masters, though not in the Cassiopeia Project, but there are those who used to work like that.”

Maxim: Irina, we also had such masters in the Project, but as a manager, I made the decision to remove them.

Irina: These are the ones who, when a person comes to them, immediately say: “Oh, you walked into the room, there was so much negativity, I felt sick.” They immediately light candles: “You need to be cleansed, you are in a terrible state...”

Maxim: Yes, also: “There is a demon standing next to you,” or “The devil has come with you.”

Irina: “A terrible family curse was placed on you, your great-grandmother cheated on her husband, and his relatives, his relatives cursed her, all of this was transferred to you, it was a strong magical influence, and so on.”

Maxim: “Therefore, the thirty thousand that you brought is a very small amount, you need a good cleaning, about one hundred and fifty thousand!”

Irina (Mirakh Count): I noticed that some masters in the Cassiopeia Project also tried to work in this way, but the egregor itself pushed them out, because those people who came to them gave them such sums on the terms of payment "according to the heart" that they themselves left indignantly. They were set up for such work, for example: "Before connecting with the Higher Self, you need to go through twenty cleansing sessions, and each time pay a "donation", that is, payment "according to the heart".

Maxim: Yes, I remember that moment! We had masters who even said: "You must pay as my heart says." Pay according to "my heart"!

Irina (Mirakh Count): There were such masters before, now they are gone, now the egregor has been cleansed. And, by the way, the process of cleansing the egregor continues. It continues continuously.

Unfortunately, there were such people in the egregor of "Cassiopeia", masters who, for example, lied, appropriated various monetary funds, and said that they received one amount, but received another, although no one demanded an account from them. By this they sowed mistrust in each other in the egregor, and through the work of their mentors and curators this truth was revealed, and they left the Project.

Maxim: And I had to remove some of them from the Project by my own strong-willed decision, and then I collect all sorts of nasty things about myself on the Internet – what a “bad tyrant” I am.

Irina: Now Mirakh Count says that there were such masters in the Cassiopeia Project who supposedly “led to the Higher Self,” and instead of leading a person to the Higher Self, they first prescribed some “cleansings”: “Otherwise you will not hear your Higher Self, and so on,” that’s what they said.

Maxim: Yes, some masters even performed the Kundalini ritual instead of the "Higher Self", I remember that too. Guys, we, of course, ask you for forgiveness, because we cannot keep an eye on all the masters. But I guarantee you that as long as I remain the head of the Project, there will be no masters in it who will try to deceive you, perform Kundalini instead of the "Higher Self", make payments "according to the heart", which is not your heart, but the heart of the master, who himself came up with what kind of payment. As long as the Cassiopeia Project exists, this Project will exist on the spiritual principles on which we began.

Irina: And while Maxim is the head of the Project, he will not allow any master in our Project to frighten people by saying that “a curse has been cast on a person,” or to start intimidating a person with something else; this is also unacceptable for spiritual work.

1:04:05 Mirah Count on the supervision of the Cassiopeia Project by the secret services.

Maxim: Guys, stop writing about the FSB! Yes, they are watching us, and they are smiling too. Well, they are not supervising us! It is impossible to supervise us. Why? Because we are not destructive, we are not deceiving people. Our tasks do not include those moments that are specified in the articles of our Criminal Code, Administrative Procedure Code. We are a truly bright Project, with which we bring Light to people.

But when you write, I clearly understand that some FSB agent is sitting, watching and smiling very hard, or he himself is starting to think that we are supervised by someone. We are supervised by representatives of the Interstellar Union and I, as the head of the Project, who has been in different guises in this life.

So don't worry, no one is going to zombify you through our Project. There is no point in zombifying you. And there is no point at all: the entire Project was created for people, to raise the level of awareness, to raise the Light in the Soul of each person. And this Project even in me, a former tough athlete who was a materialist, found that Light, which I am now trying to convey to each of you through all the masters who go through our Project.

Guys, I will make sure that there are no destructive masters in the Project.

(reads from the chat) "Cassiopeia" is supervised by..." Anyutka, well, I just said that. The biggest curator of the entire Project is me!

Irina: Now Mirah Count can comment on this, as it really is. What was the question?

Maxim: Irishenka, please forgive me, dear, I got carried away, there are a huge number of questions.

Irina: Regarding the fact that the FSB is supervising us.

Maxim: Oh, yes, by the way, Mirakh Count, a question for you (you see all the energies completely): are we supervised by the special services?

Irina (Mirakh Count): What do you mean by “supervise?” Please explain.

Maxim: They supervise – this means they influence our decision-making.

Irina (Mirakh Count): No, of course not. How can they do that if you are a completely independent organization? Even your society "Cassiopeia" was opened in the name of a very specific individual, for example.

Maxim: Yes, in my name, where I am the director. It is an official organization.

Irina (Mirakh Count): Yes, and this person is not an employee of the Federal Security Service, or of various services associated with it, or of the special services. And the person and contactee of the Project –

Irina Podzorova – also does not have any, for example, rank or military rank, she did not serve in any special units and so on. How the special services can influence, I do not understand.

Maxim: Mirah Count, I don't understand either, I'm sure that...

Irina (Mirakh Count): If you mean observation, then of course representatives of various services can observe privately. But observation is not influence, they can simply watch from the side and draw some conclusions.

I say that yes, indeed, such people exist, including in the Federal Security Service itself, as well as in other similar services of other states, there are such departments that deal with contactees. Not even contactees, but they have their own contingent of contactees, so to speak, with various civilizations - astral contactees, and so on, and they study them. All this is in closed scientific institutes, and they are trying to achieve certain results there, including, for example, in using in some way the technologies of various planets. For example, the planets of the Interstellar Union.

And that is why, because of this influence, the rules of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, when in contact with earthlings, prohibit curators from transmitting precise detailed technical information, for example, about various objects. Because everyone understands perfectly well that different people can watch, including those interested in this kind of technology. This exists.

But observation is not influence. It is absolutely impossible to influence the Cassiopeia Project, because there is really no point in influencing the audience through an esoteric project. Esoterics do not have such influence in society that it would be possible to change, for example, the opinion of the population through it. They do this in other ways, not connected with esoterics. They have many different ways, including through the creation of various images.

Maxim: (reading from the chat) "Maxim, put on your FSB uniform, you've been exposed!" Yes, of course you've been exposed, guys! That's it, let's close this topic.

Irina: Mirakh Count has already said that he does not have this form.

Maxim: In general, guys, we are closing this topic. There is no point in it at all. Anyone who wants to slander our Project, anyone who wants to become cooler than our Project, must necessarily belittle it in some way. Because for us, people, in order to become higher than someone else, we need to drown them, and preferably in something brown and smelly. That is why I have a very good attitude towards all these attacks about “drowning”. And by the way, on the contrary, I am for law enforcement agencies to watch us, and for these law enforcement agencies to watch the information that we carry. Because if suddenly we violate something, then I should immediately receive feedback.

Irina (Mirakh Count): As I understand it, the question does not even mean those law enforcement agencies that are in the Ministry of Internal Affairs, for example, but rather, most likely, the influence on you from the government.

Such questions are usually asked by people who are prone to believing in so-called "conspiracy theories". For example, "a conspiracy of world elites" regarding negative influence on the people. Such conspiracy theories exist, and these people - they can ask such questions. To which I can once again answer that this Project is supervised by representatives of the Interstellar Union. I am its spiritual curator, and no influence from the special services of any state or government of any state is exerted on either the contactee Irina or Maxim.

Maxim: Thank you, Mirakh Count! They don’t hear me, maybe they will hear you. Maybe they will hear Irina, maybe someone else. But, you see, here’s the most piquant moment: why can’t you be friends with us – because we are “special services”. Even if we were in these special services, what do we say, what do we carry, that you can’t be friends with us?

Irina: It's just that some projects, YouTube channels create such an image that the contactee who has his own large project, who, for example, often appears on TV and so on, is supposedly supervised by the special services, because otherwise he will not be allowed, so to speak, into these areas. This is usually said by those people whose project for some reason failed or fell apart.

Maxim: Yes, and I want to convey to all the FSB officers who watch us: guys, you are just great! You serve the Motherland, and I respect you for the fact that there is such a structure that can cut off various schizoids who may appear on the territory of the Russian Federation. I generally respect you, and with all my soul, with all my heart I want each of you to find what I found in myself.

Irina: Yes, I also send greetings to everyone. For me, any person, regardless of his profession, position and rank, is a beloved Divine child, and I do not distinguish people by these characteristics. I send the Light of my Love to everyone.

1:13:21 Galactic news from Mirah Count. Defense of alien ships.

Maxim: Mirah Count, last question. We always talked about some intergalactic news. We missed it today from the very beginning, so I want you to tell us now some last galactic news that you remember.

Irina (Mirakh Count): I have galactic news, connected specifically with your planet, and precisely with the penultimate question to me. We are now in the Interstellar Union, in the contacts commission, actively discussing this news, and I want to tell you about it.

The thing is, as MidgasKaus and LiShioni may have told you earlier, according to the new law of the Interstellar Union, manned alien ships can appear in the Earth's atmosphere only under protection. Including under anti-radar and anti-photon protection, so that they cannot be seen.

The news is that some representatives of the special services in the United States of America, while studying the long-shot downed aircraft of the planet Tashig, which we talked about earlier, found opportunities, albeit in a somewhat primitive way, more primitively, but to repeat the technology of recognizing the anti-radar. And because of this, now those automatic probes that study the Earth are in danger of being shot down, and including from many bases such probes have already been shot down. Over the past week on Earth, their number is 384.

Maxim: The Americans shot down the Interstellar Union probes?!

Irina (Mirakh Count): Not only the Americans, they passed it on, for example, to Germany, Great Britain – to their special services. And there is even a similar Chinese development.

But the fact is that 384 unmanned probes were shot down over Earth territory in total over the last week, and because of this, many representatives of the Interstellar Union, who were previously based on Earth, decided to curtail their program and temporarily leave the confines of your planet. Among them, for example, a significant number of bases of Tashig and Gikhor, which were. Also, only two Shimor bases remain, because there are also victims there, including one of the pilots.

This is the galactic news we have.

Maxim: Wait, Mirah Count, let me ask: are the probes unmanned aerial vehicles, or manned aircraft?

Irina (Mirakh Count): These are unmanned aerial vehicles.

But one of the Shimor specialists, when he flew already on a manned aircraft to pick up a shot down disk (shows) with important instruments, it was in Southern Europe, over the Mediterranean Sea, in the area of Spain - there he was intercepted by an anti-radar, identified as a target and fired several high-energy charges. Unfortunately, his ship was very badly damaged, but the pilot, fortunately, survived. He is now being restored on Shimor, and he still has a long time to recover, because all the ship's protection that worked - it worked in an accumulative manner on the increase in gravity in the ship's cabin, and some of his internal organs were damaged. Accordingly, there are only two Shimor bases left.

Maxim: I wonder how.

Irina (Mirakh Count): We found out through the planet's noosphere and through the Spiritual world what all this is connected with, and it became clear to us that this is connected with the fact that through various contactees we are already giving a lot of information about ourselves, and therefore those special services that are engaged in counteraction (and among the special services there are those that are engaged in counteraction to alien influence, they are classified, but they exist) - they also became more active and began to manufacture a device that can neutralize the radar detector.

And now the question is being decided about installing a device in manned ships that can dampen these generated waves, so as not to at least endanger physical contacts. Because if there is a danger of physical contacts, if there is any danger for the contactees, they will have to be interrupted for some time. A solution is being actively sought now. That's the news.

Maxim: They write: “Mirakh Count, please don’t abandon us, earthlings.”

Irina: He says that all the Burkhad bases have been preserved. That is, Tashig is closing down, Shimor, he left two bases, Gihor also closed down, but left them on the Moon.

Maxim: So, well, it’s already 21:30.

Guys, if you have connected to the YouTube channel "Cassiopeia", it means you have a "connection"! Guys, we love you all! We cannot have any destructive "connections". The most we can do is give you the Light of the true Love that we carry.

Come to our training, we have simply health groups, where we heal the physical body through the most unique equipment that we have in the Center. By the way, I want to remind you that I brought there two unique pieces of equipment that are not available anywhere in the world - this is the "Da Vinci Egg", or, in other words, the "Nostradamus Camera", and, accordingly, a camera based on the "Kozyrev mirrors" effect. All this equipment was assembled by a professional nuclear physicist, and they really work.

Why? Because we have instruments to measure your etheric, astral, mental fields completely: send you into these chambers and measure when you come out of these chambers. We are simply shocked by how this equipment affects the energy and physics of people. I will not say anything about cancer, but I have a feeling that this equipment can greatly affect this internal structure. Therefore, guys, we are waiting for you at the Center for recovery.

We are also waiting for you in our Voronezh Center for training on contactee courses. We will soon have programs of "Astral Travel", "Science of Imagery" and many, many cool things. Plus, our Voronezh Center is very upset, a huge number of very interesting houses, very interesting rooms for living are appearing. That is, you can even just leave this society and get into a fairy tale for a week - into a fairy tale called the Cassiopeia Project. "Fairy tale" in the good sense of the word, guys - where there are people who love, appreciate, carry this Love and carry this Light.

Guys, bye everyone, thank you very much for being with us!

Irina: Thank you Mirah Count.

Maxim: Mirah Count, thank you so much! I am so glad that you are supervising our Project! I thank you again with all my Love and all my heart for having us! And I ask your forgiveness for everything that you see me doing wrong.

Irina: He says: "I love you and accept you as you are. And I am grateful to you for your physical curatorship and for repeating me, my mission in the physical world of planet Earth. I understand that it is more difficult for you than for me, because we are in different worlds, with different possibilities and levels of influence on reality, and I thank you for your courage and the burning of your heart with Love."

Maxim: Thank you Mirah Count! Thank you, guys! Everyone, look – if anyone wants two places in the Moscow Center, tomorrow at eleven you need to be here, on site. We have “Science of Imagery” – 2 days, and “Astral Travel” – 3 days. Irina will personally select an astral exit for each person for an astral journey.

Guys, bye everyone, see you soon!

Irina: Thank you all!

The principle of the arrangement of elements in the periodic table of aliens. Mendeleev's table

We do not have similar forms of the table of elements. We arrange them in a slightly different way. We are familiar, of course, with the periodic table, we know by what principle the elements are arranged there - in ascending order of the so-called "atomic mass". Since we do not have a planetary model of the atom, therefore we do not have similar forms of the elements. This leads to the fact that we arrange the elements not by their mass, density, temperature or any other physical characteristics. We arrange them by the type of matter. This is very similar to the distribution of the elements in the explanations of your ancient philosophers of Greece or, for example, India, China, etc.

That is, a certain element includes several elements of this element.

We also have all the simple substances that consist of homogeneous atoms divided into three main groups. These are mainly what you call "metals", "non-metals" and "substances intermediate between them", which exhibit these and other properties. But these three groups are divided into several more. Metals are divided into four groups. For example, osmium together with platinum, etc., are in one. In the other, what concerns aluminum, iron. Lithium, potassium - this is already in the fourth group. For us, this is like a group of elements. And they can largely replace each other.

Separate from them are the elements, the so-called "group of hydrogen and noble gases". This group, in general, is taken into account separately, since they are inert and practically do not enter into any independent interaction with other elements. But they are also taken into account. And within each group, the so-called "cluster of elements", elements can pass from one to another, including by artificial means, when moving different types of energy from one level to another. What was on the first energy level, for example, you call it "electrons", and we call it "electric energy", can move to another type of atom. And from this action, another type of element can be formed, from the same cluster.

Everything that is known to you is known to us. But you have obtained about 130 elements, maybe a little more. You have obtained them artificially. That is, they are not found in the natural environment. You fill the elements already known to you with various energies and obtain artificial elements that cannot exist independently. That is, they disintegrate into the primary element, and not into the energies that were placed in it. In fact, this method can be used to obtain an infinite number of elements.

In the Universe (specifically in our Galaxy) and in the nearby Galaxies that the Interstellar Union has explored, all the elements that exist on Earth are also in other Galaxies. So, all the elements you described are here too. And the rest, which are unknown to you and would be natural - we don't have that. That is, all of this is here on Earth.

Contact with the Spirit of Shiva. Destruction and creation. Creation of meanings

If you sing the Shiva mantra, you can call upon any entity that is called that, or that calls itself that, but to which a person is suitable according to energy-wave characteristics, which in modern esotericism are called vibrations.

Cosmic wisdom consists in understanding and recognizing that the understanding of all the children of God - Spirits, temporarily separated by distances and bodies, is one, but is only expressed by their different illusory self-names.

It is necessary to ask your, as you say, Higher Self, that is, your Spirit, your heart, your Light in the heart, whether contact with me is suitable for the task of incarnation. And if the answer is "yes", then you can invite me through the heart. Communication between hearts does not depend on any specific rituals. This is communication between different consciousnesses, different only because they have lived different experiences, different lives.

If a person believes that you can communicate with Shiva only through mantras and through the worship of the Shiva lingam and other attributes of this religion, this teaching, then with this faith you can close off other ways to reach me and God in general. With your faith, a person will create such an image, and then it will be so. If you expand your boundaries with your faith and say that "I can communicate simply mentally" and believe in it, then you can communicate in any case, whether through mantras or without them.

Faith is the direction of the heart along one or another path leading to the reality that a person creates for himself. Always look not at the attributes, not at the color, shape and other characteristics of the objects around you, but at their inner essence.

Rudraksha is also important not to me, but to those people who wear it. For me, it makes no difference whether a person wears a cherry pit or a rudraksha. Everyone gives this meaning to these objects themselves, for me, both consist of Divine energies. Man is a rational Spirit, a part of God, which is endowed with the Divine ability to give meaning to everything he sees.

As for destruction and creation, there is no such creature that is always directed only at creation or only at destruction. Every day, any person does thousands of things that create and destroy the world around them. Even while creating something, you can destroy something else. For example, to create a new hairstyle and a new image, the old one is destroyed. So who is a person in this case: a creator or a destroyer?

We are all creators and destroyers at the same time. Just like me. To create your body, a person needs food for it to grow, for its cells to divide. To create, to build a body, you need to destroy some other organism. So who is a person: a creator or a destroyer? It depends on which side you look at it from, doesn't it? So, as a divine being, they look at me from different sides. Some see a creator, others a destroyer, but the truth is that I am both.

#546 Alien climate technologies. The Cyclops civilization. School days

on Burkhad.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nUFz4l3fP8c

00:00 Start of video.

00:20 Introduction. Excerpts from the conference.

Irina: For a very long time there were wars on our planet, because of which there were periods when the death toll was more than 96%.

It is also possible to create, you have probably heard about this, artificial suns. That is, large plasma balls that will have a high temperature and rotate in orbit around the Earth.

Every child has his own biorobot, to whom he can entrust any of his secrets at any time.

Olesya: It's amazing. Because for them it's a base, basic knowledge, for them it comes out literally very naturally. And for us it's practically the level of a sage.

01:13 Welcome and introduction.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today, my curators Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad, a specialist in energy interactions, and Traori Mihron are present with us. He is also a resident of the planet Burkhad, he studies the history of interactions of civilizations of the Interstellar Union. And also his hobby, his amateur activities are astronomy, astronavigation. He is also a spaceship pilot and a historian. Two Burkhadians will lead this meeting together with Olesya. Hello, Olesya!

Olesya: Hello, Irina, hello, our dear interstellar friends! I am very glad to hear from you, I greet you.

02:22 The Cyclops civilization, its location in the Galaxy.

Olesya: I would like to know about the Cyclops civilization. We have such information in our history through myths. Is there such a civilization in our Galaxy? What are they like, and are they part of the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Raom Tiyan clarifies. Cyclopes are meant as anthropomorphic creatures, but with one eye?

Olesya: Yes.

Irina: Yes, such creatures exist, but they are not quite like people. They are smaller in stature and more like Tashigans. They have a long neck, like a trunk, which ends in an eye. And at the bottom, on the trunk, they have an opening for the mouth. This civilization is not part of the Interstellar Union, at present they are associate members of the Union, which are prepared to enter the Galactic Federation of Light.

Olesya: Is their civilization ready to join the Federation of Light?

Irina: Yes.

Olesya: But for the Interstellar Union there is none yet, or have they not shown a desire to join?

Irina: They have not expressed a desire to join the Interstellar Union. So far they have only applied to join the Galactic Federation of Light because the representatives of the civilizations of the Galactic Federation of Light have been in contact with them more often. But they know about the existence of the Interstellar Union, and if they apply, their application will be considered.

Olesya: And in what constellation is their planet located?

Irina: Between Taurus and Aries. They are in the zodiac circle, in one of the zodiac constellations on the border. You could say that they technically belong to your constellation Taurus.

Olesya: Is the atmosphere there similar to our Earth's or is their atmosphere a little different? Can you briefly describe the planet?

Irina: Now it shows, as seen from the spacecraft, an orange color. They have a lot of nitrogen oxide, sulfur oxides in their atmosphere, and oxygen is about 12%. The climate is similar to yours, but it is harsher. Farther from the star. A harsher climate in the sense that the winters are long. A year on this planet lasts about five Earth years. And about two thirds is the cold season.

Olesya: That is, they understand the residents of Russia, the north, very well.

05:53 Winter on the planets of the Galaxy.

Olesya: Is there another winter on the planets of the Interstellar Union that is as harsh as the one described on the planet of these creatures?

Irina: There is one on Tikhta. There is also very low temperature there. There are such periods on Disnit. In their northern and southern latitudes there are also quite severe winters. There is a colony planet Tumesouta. There is almost always winter there. They live like on a base.

Olesya: Do they go outside periodically?

Irina: Yes. And what's more, on Tikhta, for example, the conditions were even harsher, but with the help of terraforming, the tilt of the planet's axis was changed in such a way that it became warmer, and hurricane winds stopped. But moving this planet further could be dangerous because of its core, it could become unstable.

07:17 The possibility of climate change on Earth.

Olesya: Hypothetically, is it possible to terraform our country and change the climate?

Irina: To change yours, you need to change the entire configuration of the Solar system again. Because Venus was closer to Earth than it is now, Mercury was a satellite of Venus, and Mars was closer. That is, these three planets: Venus, Earth, Mars, and between Mars and Earth was the Moon, a small planet, it even shifted more toward the orbit of Mars.

In order to change the climate on Earth, it is not necessary to change the orbit. This can be done using the thermal energy of the Earth itself. The planet's crust is very close to the hot layers of the planet, so it is possible to take energy from the Earth's mantle and change the climate with it. Including controlling the melting of, for example, glaciers, mountains, permafrost, and so on. This is all possible.

But all this must be done very carefully, necessarily in contact with the earthly plasmoids. Because if it is not done harmoniously, many forms of life in the northern and southern regions can be destroyed.

Olesya: Life forms like plasmoid?

Irina: It is possible to destroy plants and animals that already live in that climate. Therefore, such things must be done very carefully, gradually and harmoniously, necessarily consulting on this matter, making joint plans with the plasmoid civilizations of the Earth.

Olesya: That is, if we enter the Interstellar Union, then, if we want to change the climate, the effect of a heated floor will be done in this way, right?

Irina: Such an option will be proposed if the Earth society has a request. A request is a common desire that they will formalize in the form of an application to the Interstellar Union about changing their climate. That is, if people want it, a vote will be held, and a corresponding law will be adopted. Then the scientists of the Interstellar Union will study all the possibilities of this and draw up a plan on how to do it.

It is also possible to create, perhaps you have heard about this, artificial suns. That is, large plasma balls that will have a high temperature, rotate in orbit around the Earth and direct their energy precisely to one place or another. This can also be done. Moreover, you have a fairly powerful magnetosphere on Earth, which can become the basis for the formation of a plasma ball. We have technologies that allow us to extract the energy of light and heat from magnetic field energy.

Olesya: Amazing. You are so great, how many technologies you have, how many options you have for solving one problem. Well done.

Irina: But I want to say that on many planets where historically there was no cold period, they were located close to their star or had a different trajectory of rotation around the star, or had a double star, and there was no winter, for the inhabitants of these planets, on the contrary, life is interesting when it snows, when you can touch it. It is even possible that the Earth, when it enters the Interstellar Union, will attract tourists with this.

Olesya: Interesting.

Irina: We will organize ski tours for them.

Olesya: Yes, to go sledding. We hope that this moment will come very soon, but at our pace, unfortunately, it won’t work out.

12:30 Conflict as a lesson for the planet.

Irina: Raom Tiyan and Traori say that what is happening on Earth now will serve you and your future generations as a good lesson in the need to consolidate countries around one opinion, around generally accepted international laws. Because when one conglomerate of Earth states understands international law in one sense, and the other in the opposite sense, this causes conflicts that are expressed on the physical level as military clashes.

But this situation serves as a lesson to draw up an international law that will be accepted in the future by all the states of the Earth and which can only be interpreted unambiguously, only in one direction.

Olesya: It would be great, but I see that it is quite difficult, based on the mentality, the opinion that is formed among people, social, general.

Irina: Our civilization is familiar with this, Raom Tiyan is speaking now. And Traori is speaking. I have also studied the history of Burkhad, including not only the history of stellar civilizations, stellar worlds. And Burkhad even had very difficult war times before joining the Interstellar Union, even before the creation of the Interstellar Union. Because Burkhad was one of the initiators of the creation of such a Union, including largely based on its history. On the fact that for a very long time there were wars on our planet, because of which there were periods when more than 96% of the entire population of the planet died, including women and children.

Olesya: Horror.

Irina: Yes. And we are familiar with this story, we are familiar with these problems, so I believe that earthlings will learn from these terrible events a lesson in compassion and the value of another person's life to the same extent as their own.

Olesya: We hope that we will not reach such a percentage of victims that we will understand the simple truth.

Irina: Traori says. I also studied the earthly civilization during its so-called Second World War and the post-war period. I noticed that after the Second World War the vibrations of the noosphere began to rise rapidly, and all countries came to the unanimous opinion that this should not be repeated. But, to my regret, not even a hundred earthly years had passed, as the lessons of the global war and the death of many people were forgotten.

In the beginning, war was romanticized and realized in films and computer games of many countries. And the young generations that came after the Second World War forgot its true essence. And this is pain, suffering, fear, a lot of blood and diseases, and it is absolutely not beautiful. And many Souls do not lead to enlightenment. On the contrary, many Spirits degrade in wartime, lower their vibrations.

I want to tell you that despite the patriotic rhetoric of states that make heroes of their military leaders, there is absolutely nothing good in military actions. Not even good, harmonious. But we understand this as an inevitable stage in the formation of civilization in the event that the civilization itself, with the majority of the population and the level of their vibrations, has chosen such a path for its planet.

Everything begins in families. It is in families that the vibrations that make up the state egregor are formed. It is in families that the aggression, rejection and fears that are then projected towards another nation, towards another state are formed. And then, if this is not dissolved during the years that are given for the projection of national karma onto the physical plane, and this is usually seven of your earthly years, then all these negative vibrations of suffering, fear, anger, hatred come out onto the physical plane either in the form of war, or in the form of an increase in the crime rate, or in the form of an epidemic, cataclysms and the like.

The coronavirus epidemic that occurred before the latest military events was, one might say, a warning from the Earth's plasmoids that too much negativity had accumulated. And we talked about this, too. But humanity has once again shown that it does not understand the spiritual reasons for this state of the Earth. Why does it not understand? Because many people are used to looking for the reason in the outside world, and not in themselves. And if people are used to looking for the reason in the outside world, then governments, various deputies, and military leaders will act in exactly the same way. They came from your people. So they received a similar upbringing and understanding as you.

20:21 Lesson of the coronavirus epidemic.

Olesya: I see. And what would have been the right decision, what would have been the right reaction to the coronavirus epidemic? That is, we haven’t even learned the lesson of the epidemic?

Irina: To cleanse the Earth's noosphere from the energy of fear, aggression and condemnation that has accumulated there. The coronavirus epidemic has shown that people have begun to emit even more fear and anger towards their governments and their medical organizations, which, as best they could, tried to protect people from the disease. There were already fears towards them, and there were many disputes about the usefulness of certain methods of treatment or prevention, which showed both the earthly plasmoids and the spiritual structures that observe the Earth that many people are in ignorance due to their spiritual laziness, fears and unconsciousness of perceiving themselves as Spirit in this body.

And then the national karma that had accumulated in the egregors of the warring states received the opportunity to emerge onto the physical plane in the specific actions of the leaders of these states and the military structures subordinate to them.

I'm not talking about a specific person or a group of people. I'm talking about humanity as a whole.

22:12 About raising children on other planets.

Olesya: I see. Could you give an example of a simple day of a child, for example, 8-9 years old, who is being brought up... Of course, there are full-fledged families there: mom, dad and school. How many hours does he spend with his parents, for example, during the day? How do the parents convey the necessary information to him? How much do they spend on this per day? Can we at least roughly understand the child's upbringing?

Irina: I understood the question. From early childhood, when a child has not yet gone to school, when he is just learning to speak, we have already initially put into our language and into our verbal phrases an understanding of how to explain the Spiritual world in a language understandable to a child. I will now try to give an example that is understandable to you.

When a child just begins to get acquainted with the world around him, it happens differently for everyone. If we take earthlings, it happens at about two or three years, when he begins to get acquainted not just through bodily sensations, through touch, but through specific words, and when he begins to speak, the child's self-awareness arises as a result of the influence of his Soul on the brain, and in self-awareness a picture of the reality in which he lives now appears. And this picture of the reality of self-awareness is directly connected with memory, where information from this world where he lives is stored, which may be useful in the future.

This happens with all humanoids. No matter how their brain is structured, the general outline is the same. There is a certain age at which the accumulation of information about the world begins. And at this age, the child is actively interested in various events. He can ask many questions, if, of course, he sees the attitude of his mother and father in the family such that there will be someone to answer these questions. Of course, if he already knows from experience that he will be rejected when trying to communicate with an adult, he can keep these questions to himself. But this does not mean that they will disappear in him. He will simply look for answers to them elsewhere, not from his parents.

But we have a rule that if a child wants to communicate, then the parents communicate with him. And if they are not at home - they can be at work or communicate with others, then they always leave special biorobots that transmit certain information. We call a children's biorobot "an assistant in educational work". A lot of information is put into it, including about children's health, physiology, psychology, and, naturally, it has programs when it can communicate with the child in a child's language, including even with his voice. And it can play certain games with him, play certain roles and, naturally, answer his questions, including about the world around him.

I know that you don’t have this function, you don’t have such biorobots, but you have so-called nurseries, kindergartens, where children are located if their parents work.

27:24 Peculiarities of raising children on Burkhad.

Olesya: Remark: you don’t have any kindergartens?

Irina: There are no kindergartens, that's not the custom here. There is no such thing at Burkhad. We have biorobots that can take care of children. And we believe that this is a more harmonious approach, because if you gather a large group of children, then there should be at least one adult for each child. Or there are even children who need several adults. There are different cases. But when there is one adult or one teacher for two, three or more children, it happens that an adult is engaged in one child, communicates with him, plays with him, and another one comes to him. The children begin to compete. Quite strong anger and resentment towards each other can arise due to jealousy, for example.

Children have such a soft, gentle energy structure that blocks are formed quite quickly. Even they can be formed from the emotions and feelings of parents. And that is why, for example, in our family rules it is not accepted to somehow sort out relationships, even in a calm tone between mom and dad in the presence of the child. In his presence, we must behave only harmoniously, correctly and even with a look and word not to show hostility to each other. Because this will give rise to misunderstanding, fears in the child, because he loves both parents, and resentment towards the parent who treats the other parent badly in his understanding.

And, naturally, a social circle is chosen for the child, his friends. Of course, we try to surround our children only with light humanoids, only with light images until a certain age, until he goes to school. We give him only Light. Before he goes to school, he already has a fairly large vocabulary. We tell him that outside the home, outside his usual circle, there may be other children with different understandings and adults with a different character, not only with Light inside. We already give him tools on how to react to this. He already knows how to harmonize and process this without offense.

That is, by the time he goes to school, he will already know that he is a Spirit, embodied in a body through this particular family. He will already know that his family is part of the family egregor. He will know that the family egregor is part of the planet's egregor. He will know what it is. He will know that his every thought, his every feeling, his every emotion will remain in the planet's egregor and help other people to be happy, loved, or hinder this.

He will know from about the age of three, if this is transferred to Earth, that thoughts and feelings do not disappear in an incomprehensible direction into nowhere. They, like a charge of space, remain in that place and influence everyone else through the strengthening of light or dark character traits in them.

Now I want to ask, do you tell your children about this?

Olesya: Of course, with the advent of the Cassiopeia Project, and not only, there is still a number of esoteric knowledge on our Earth. Of course, people who are in esotericism are trying to convey. Not only in esotericism, in religion they are trying to convey to their children bright feelings, bright thoughts, to surround them with bright people. But in most of these cases, since our planet is still materialistically minded, unfortunately, our children either sit near a tablet, near a computer, play, because the parents have no time, or they are busy with something at home, or the parents are at work and leave the children with nannies. Then the parents feel guilty. They blame themselves for not being able to fully devote their time when the children were small.

Such questions. Even regarding, for example, a tablet and a computer. This has a very bad effect on children. They are constantly there.

33:04 Attention of parents, the role of tablets and computers in children's development.

Irina: He is now saying that we also have similar devices, but they are not in the form of tablets. We have home computers in our homes, including a personal computer, that is, a computer device for various activities, including games. Our games are somewhat different. They simulate some types of activity, for example, creating virtual reality. They are also for children. They can be purchased, they are quite inexpensive here, in your opinion, they are quite affordable in terms of money.

Any child, in any case, loves mom and dad, and these games and toys cannot completely replace the attention of parents. Even if your child plays on the computer or tablet, he still needs your attention. And no matter how much time he spends there, he will still ask you something.

If again you did not make him understand before that his questions, his attention are unpleasant to you, then he feels guilty before you, or, offended by you, he can independently transfer his attention to various objects of the material world, including these games. In this case, he will not have the need to communicate with his parents.

But if it has not arisen, this is a reason for you to talk to your Higher Self and find out the reasons for such inattention, because children very clearly distinguish living objects from non-living ones. They have a Soul that distinguishes. And if a child plays on the computer, no matter how interesting the games are, and mom is not at home, he still waits for mom. Especially if this is a small child who perceives her as an integral part of his world. And in any case, the computer will not distract him from the absence of his mother for long. No matter how interesting the game is, he will still dream of talking, communicating with his mother. Remember yourself as a child at 5 years old. Did you love your mother?

Olesya: Yes, of course, crazy.

Irina: What computer could distract you if she wasn't home?

Olesya: There was no such accessibility back then. I think, of course, it couldn't be replaced by any computer.

Irina: You would play one game, then another, and then you would still remember that your mother is not there and that you want to see her, right?

Olesya: Of course.

Irina: Because when she is around, the whole space changes. The same is true for children in their reality, if we are talking about preschool age. If we are talking about school age, when a child already acquires the habit of being outside of mom and dad's field, parents, he already acquires the habit of communicating in society among children, then there are, of course, completely different processes. Moreover, on Burkhad we have such a type of schools that children live and study in them for several months.

Olesya: In the school itself?

37:03 Schooling, holidays and recreation for schoolchildren on the planet Burkhad.

Irina: In the school itself. It's a complex where children live and study, and only come home for the holidays.

Olesya: How many times a year are there holidays and what kind?

Irina: Three vacations, and each lasts about five of your months. Our year is longer. Vacations are about four months. When they end, the child is taken back to school for the first cycle, second cycle, or third cycle. Our school is divided into cycles. At the end of each cycle, we have a test, in your opinion, passing exams, but they are only practical. There, the child demonstrates not only theoretical knowledge, but also practical knowledge.

And his parents and friends can also be present at the exam. But only if he invites them himself. His brothers and sisters and so on.

Olesya: And if we translate three five-month holidays into a proportion for an Earth year? Will they spend about half the time at school, and half the time at home? The proportion is approximate, so you can understand.

Irina: The thing is that they spend more time at school. Between holidays they study for about a year and a half.

Olesya: Three times more.

Irina: And then they have a long vacation. But when they study, they also have certain days off, when they rest at certain intervals. We don't have your weeks. But about 12 days later there are three days off. And if they live close to their parents' house, that is, their school is not far away, then their parents can take them for the weekend. But usually this does not happen, because they can be in another city altogether. Only in fairly large towns are there schools for children. Burkhad is quite large. And so they are usually brought to school from various towns. It is a very large city. And that is where they are already located.

They can go out into the city accompanied by their educators, but most often they are accompanied by biorobots. If this is the second or third cycle, they can visit their parents' house themselves on certain types of transport, if, of course, the parents are at home and not away on another expedition, which happens quite often. Their parents, friends, other relatives and anyone else can visit them right at school.

The school has everything necessary for their life and development. Each child, even the younger cycle, has their own room, their own space.

41:30 School on Burhad.

Olesya: It turns out to be some kind of hotel complex. Interesting.

Irina: It is a multi-story building. I remember when I was studying, it was a multi-story building, it had thirty-eight floors. One cycle is divided into groups. There were 15 humanoids in my group. Usually no more than thirty. We lived on one floor, and I had a room of about 20-22 of your square meters. And this room has everything you need. There is a biorobot, separately presented to the room, so that it can clean up, help in some way, tell the child how, for example, to take care of himself, how to take care of himself. That is, it is a personal nanny. She can be either a woman or a man, the child chooses her. Usually girls choose female biorobots for themselves. They have their own name, they call her that, and she is always in this room without a break for food and sleep - she does not need it. And if the child calls her with him, for example, for a walk, she will always be near him and will not go anywhere. But if he tells her to stay in the room, then naturally she will sit there. That is, she, so to speak, becomes his temporary property.

How to handle robots, a child usually knows well from his parents' family. Just as your children already know how to turn on and off the TV, for example, before school. They saw it in their family, right? And this is the same device. Only it is more complex with an artificial electronic nervous system, which has certain programs for performing its duties.

The teachers there are, in the vast majority of cases, living humanoids. By the way, they may not only be Burkhadians. Representatives of all races of the Interstellar Union can work in our school. Just like in any other job, they can work there. For example, when I was studying there, the history of the Interstellar Union was taught by a reptilian teacher. A very interesting man from Selbet. And many children in the junior cycle saw him first of the Selbetians. They were very surprised. They called him a walking talking lizard. Such things happen.

Olesya: He wasn’t offended?

Irina: How can you be offended by children? They build their own picture of the world. These are just words. I am surprised by the tendency of some people to be offended by words.

Olesya: Because they go deep.

Irina: Words can be anything. What you need to pay attention to is real actions. Words are just a description of the reality of this person. And if a person was called a bad word, this is just a description of the reality of the person who called it that. But in no way does it characterize the person who was called that.

Olesya: That's all true. That's exactly what I teach my children. I think that's a good start, a basis, so as not to be offended by anyone. That's all absolutely true. Unfortunately, words often hurt us, and people take words very close to heart.

Irina: It is not the word that can hurt, it is the perception of this word that can hurt, if you treat it as a true description of yourself. For example, if you called a person stupid or some word that characterizes his mental activity, and if he believes that this said characterizes him in front of other people, then he can be offended by the other person, because he saw this feature in him, for example. Because if a person himself feels like a reasonable person, then his accusation that he is unreasonable or stupid will not cause anything in him except a condescending smile and such words that you use personal assessments in an argument only because of a lack of arguments to confirm your version.

Olesya: That's right.

Irina: This is how they communicate. How do you like it?

Olesya: It's amazing, because for them it's a base, for them it's basic knowledge, for them it literally comes out very, very naturally. And for us it's practically the level of a sage already.

Irina: Just imagine if our children communicated like this, what kind of planet would we have?

Olesya: Oh, what a wonderful planet it will be. Ready to join the Interstellar Union.

Irina: If only not only children but also adults communicated like this. Imagine if such a person called another person in some conversation "well, you're such a fool", and she said to him: "You call me that because you are switching to a personal assessment due to the fact that you do not have enough arguments to support your version." I wonder what she would answer?

Olesya: She would have turned around, there would have been nothing to answer, and left.

Irina: I'm saying, if only everyone behaved like this, right?

Olesya: Yes, indeed, very interesting. Thank you for such an interesting story about your school. It is truly amazing. Because you imagine the school as an institute. When they tell how at the institute everyone lives in a dormitory and lives in a group, they really like to coexist, and indeed, people mostly remember with kindness of soul their studies at the institute, when they all lived together and communicated in a group, and it was very fun and wonderful. I think that at school they also develop such a sense of belonging to a group, belonging to society. It is very, very interesting.

Irina: Our adults are not afraid to entrust their child to school because they are completely sure that nothing bad can happen to him. Highly spiritual, highly qualified, educated specialists work there. And at the same time, we cannot even say that a child will be offended, oppressed, humiliated at school, and no one will know about it.

As I have already said, every child has his own biorobot, to whom he can confide any of his secrets at any time, and who watches his behavior. And if the biorobot learns, for example, that there is another child or group that is bullying his charge, he will immediately report this to the management of a certain school. And there will be a very large, unpleasant investigation for the instigators of all sorts of outrages.

Different children incarnate from different levels and sometimes develop different character traits. As is known, there are criminals on any planet. And among children in any society, there are also low-vibration ones who have lowered their vibrations. This is, of course, also on Burkhad. But unlike Earth, our planet has effective legislative acts that can very quickly stop such behavior that is not harmonious for others. And not just stop, but help a child who has strayed from the spiritual path to return to society and not become a criminal in the future.

Olesya: This is very, very important, this is also the basis. Indeed, as you say, raising children is the basis of a healthy society. Because very often, almost every child experiences trauma at school. Either you or someone has to…, do something bad to him.

52:41 The teaching process in the schools of the planet Burkhad.

Irina: Through my contacts on Earth, I know how the process of teaching subjects is going in your school. You have a very compressed program that needs to be told and shown within the timeframes defined by the educational program. And so the teacher tells or shows, and the children have practically no right to vote to stand up, express their opinion, ask a question. This is considered to be a prolongation of the lesson.

It's not like that with us. We don't have a specific time to discuss a topic. For example, if you look at it minute by minute, we have one lesson a little over an hour. That's about 70-75 minutes. The teacher starts telling the topic of the lesson, then tells the main points, which will be discussed in detail later. But each child can, first of all, not sit still. He can stand up, walk around the classroom, ask to leave and come back. Naturally, he cannot disturb other students. Because if he does, he can be suspended from the lesson until he has a further conversation with the school psychologist, who will find out the reason for such behavior.

Of course, even in the junior cycle, at the first lesson, they are introduced to these rules. In addition, the corresponding announcements, the rules of the school, are hung in the children's rooms. And in addition, even before school, parents tell their children about the school. They already come prepared. But nevertheless, if suddenly a child notices that he does not agree with the teacher's story, he can raise his hand, identify himself, stand up and say his opinion that he does not agree. And there will be no sanctions for this. The teacher will not argue with him. He will offer him to outline his point of view and present it at the next lesson. Even if this requires compiling a small scientific study. And then they will analyze as a class whose side is true.

That is, the teacher behaves with the students to a greater extent as equal partners, the same Spirits who came to incarnate on this planet, like himself. He does not boast to them of a large volume of knowledge, because a large volume of knowledge is only a temporary characteristic of the material body, which can quickly change. Any student who sits in front of him can surpass him in his life in social status, and in the volume of knowledge, and in other characteristics, including the spiritual level. Everyone understands this perfectly well, and therefore there is no constant jerking. Again, we do not have assessments. As in the Interstellar Union, our education does not include an assessment of knowledge.

If suddenly, while doing some task, the child makes a mistake, he is not given any written grade, he is simply given a form on which his erroneous theses or erroneously completed tasks will be underlined. And opposite, in a special column, the material from his textbook that he will need to repeat will be written down. And this concerns rather written tasks. If the child answers orally some question of the teacher, and if he made a mistake, he will simply be asked to prepare again. But no grades are given.

And, naturally, the teacher makes a special schedule for his class and there notes the degree of interest of the student in his subject, the degree of involvement in the classes and constantly works to increase this indicator, so that all students are interested in his subject, so that they themselves want to study it. Because the career of a school teacher itself, promotion up the career ladder, that is, a senior teacher, the director of his school and so on, there is also a teacher of teachers who teaches after school to become teachers, in your opinion, at the institute, depends, among other things, on the percentage of students during the academic year who showed high results in studying his subject.

59:28 Leisure time of schoolchildren from the planet Burkhad.

Olesya: Great. Tell me, please, how is the students' leisure time organized? What do they do in the evening at this school? Do they get together somehow, spend time together somehow or separately, on their own?

Irina: They have their own room, but there is also a common room where they can communicate. There is also a fenced-in area on the school grounds, quite large, like a stadium, where they can play various sports games and do movements with increased motor activity. They can also communicate with each other, they have means of communication through which they can communicate with their parents. We have analogs of your tablets, on which you can go on video calls, communicate with your friends in other cities. Or they can read, study various subjects. Everyone spends their time differently.

1:00:57 Feelings of guilt in parents of small children, ways of interaction in such cases on Burkhad.

Olesya: I see. Can I ask one more question that probably worries our earthlings. Especially mothers who work and cannot devote much time to their children and feel guilty about it. How do your mothers who work cope? As I understand, they all have missions on other planets, a very busy schedule. They also see their children little. It is clear that they can entrust the upbringing of their children to very professional people who will not let anyone harm the child.

But how do they deal with the feeling of guilt that they don't see their children for a long time?

Irina: Preschoolers who are left behind?

Olesya: Both preschoolers and schoolchildren. Probably schoolchildren to a lesser extent. Preschoolers to a greater extent.

Irina: I understand your question. Feeling guilty does not solve the problem that caused it. Feeling guilty only shows dissatisfaction with oneself. And if a woman has already chosen the step that she will work, and will give her child to the care of another person or, as in our case, a biorobot, if she has already made such a choice, then she will not feel guilty. Because she has already justified this choice for herself. And also, if the child can already communicate, can talk, most often this has already happened in a conversation with the child. We do not hide anything from children, including internal financial and work matters.

For example, a mother and father can tell their preschool-aged daughter or son that we need to spend so much time at work. If we don't do this, there will be certain consequences, and not only financial consequences for the family, but also consequences at work itself. For example, I won't be there for some processes. Other people may be harmed by this. This is explained to him in a more understandable language. That is, the child already understands that if mom or dad is not at home, then he is at work in order to be useful to society, family, and so on. It also depends on what kind of work he has. And not just to take a break from the child himself. That is, this is also explained.

And if a woman believes that she should under no circumstances leave her child, but be with him, then such women can leave their jobs even before conception and birth of the child. They usually want to be in the family, and they can do this too. We have state benefits for children, which are paid by both the government of the planet Burkhad and the government of the Interstellar Union. They practically equally pay a certain allowance for the existence, the life activity of their future member, who will develop this society when he grows up. That is, it is not necessary to work for us, this is only the decision of the mother or father themselves.

Because dad can stay with the kids, and mom, on the contrary. Maybe she has such a responsible job, for example, in some biological laboratory on another planet, which is engaged in the breeding of certain creatures. And she is a specialist, she cannot trust this to anyone for some reason. Then she stays there. But in her free time, she still tries to fly to Burkhad and be with her family.

Olesya: So, on a spiritual level, this does not lead to serious responsibility if she herself made such a decision and is not near the child?

Irina: No, she doesn't. After all, she left him in the care of a biorobot. But that's ours. Because a biorobot can be with a child all the time for meals and sleep. It's considered a fairly reliable caregiver. And leaving a child with it is fairly safe. So there is no responsibility in terms of leaving in any danger. And as for responsibility for the child's negative feelings and emotions, we understand that she minimizes them by explaining that it is necessary. And she is no longer responsible for his further reaction. Here, there is already a free choice.

Olesya: Even a child under 14 has free choice? Even if he doesn't understand?

Irina: For us, taking into account free choice begins approximately from the first cycle. It is like for you, when the child goes to first grade. And sometimes even earlier, when the person has already acquired self-awareness.

Olesya: Since I was seven.

Irina: But even before that, it is already partially taken into account, because the child already realizes himself as a person and can control his emotions. That is, his freedom of choice is already partially taken into account. Especially in those areas that are related to relationships with parents.

Olesya: That is, parents first teach him how to react.

Irina: If the mother has been working for a long time, then when the child grows up, he already gets used to it as a norm. He already gets used to the fact that there is a certain biorobot that looks after him. He already sees that the mother comes on certain days, looking at where she works, or the hours. And he will have fewer questions, he has already gotten used to this as a given. But even if he has questions like "where do you go and why?", she should explain to him, as a mother, where she goes. The child can ask the father as well. And the father as well. It is also welcome to even show a video from the place of work, so that the child can see specifically what the mother and father are doing in his absence.

It often happens that a child asks mom and dad to take them to work. If this is not prohibited by the internal schedule of the organization itself, then it is even welcomed when mom and dad bring their children to work. Of course, if both parents and children want this, and show them the real work process.

Usually, if it is connected, for example, with the production of robots, some factory. For example, dad is an engineer, he enters various programs for the production of robots. Mom can also be an engineer. A son or daughter can ask their parents to take them to the factory. Many organizations allow this, there is nothing dangerous for children there.

The thing is that, having been there, the child already sees that there are changes in the usual environment. There, mom or dad is already working on computers, they are entering certain programs, they are testing robots. But no one pays much attention to him, as at home, and he, on the contrary, begins to get bored. He wants to go to the biorobot, wants to go for a walk. And usually, the second or third time, the children themselves no longer want to go. They are already staying at home.

It's a different matter if this work is connected with staying on another planet. Of course, you can take a child on a space trip, because we have special ships. But the spaceship itself must have facilities for children. There must be certain children's seats. And it is simply not recommended to transport children under a certain age, usually the senior cycle, on research flying disks. There are certain safety requirements for children, for adults, they are different.

As long as I have lived and communicated with a large number of adults, there has never been a problem where a child would persuade mom or dad to quit their job. On the contrary, this is presented to children in the sense that they should be happy for their mom or dad who achieves success in their work.

Now he says that for even a preschooler to tell his mother: “Stay home and even if you’re late for work, that is, you don’t come on time and you’re suspended from work, then just be with me” is considered a manifestation of selfishness, and the child himself usually understands this well.

Olesya: Good. The questions are over. The answers are so complete. We even got to a topic we weren't even going to get to. It's very interesting about raising children. Thank you very much, as always you tell it very interestingly.

Irina: I also found it interesting, thank you. Dear friends, thank you for watching this video. I send you the Light of my Love. Until next time.

Jesus on the Possibility of Changing Modern Christian Denominations

It is currently not possible to change the canons due to the inertia of the Christian religious egregor, due to the thought and emotional processes of the earthlings themselves, who unconsciously program their egregors to resist external forces through inclusion and the instinct of self-preservation embedded in a certain way in your culture.

When I came here, I understood perfectly well that the Christian religious egregor would be exactly like this. Of course, there were many versions of the future, but I had no illusions about earthlings. I understood perfectly well their aspirations, thoughts and feelings.

As for changes in the canons for the believers themselves, I would like to call on all believers to look inside themselves, inside their hearts. The meaning of Christianity, which I put into religion, is not even worshiping me, not reading prayers to the saints who loved me, but becoming like me. Being like me is a process in which prayer is only a small link.

What is assimilation? Apostle Paul, my first disciple among the pagans, the first teacher of the pagan peoples on Earth and the one who transmits my knowledge, worldview, carrying the energy of my society of ordinary people of non-Jewish origin, said that you, people, should have feelings like those of close people, and my feeling is love.

And my love is absolute for everyone. For me, there are no personal enemies, enemies of my church, for me the word "enemy" does not exist at all.

The enemy is my beloved son, because I do not separate myself from the Father for a single moment in the essence of my Spirit. My separation is only for self-awareness, and in energy I am not separated from him. Therefore, any sinner, any enemy of God, an enemy of love is my son, a son of love who has become hardened, fallen into low vibrations, and who can be healed only by love, not pain, anger, not condemnation, but only by the example of your love.

Therefore, I call upon every Christian, especially before confession and communion, to look inside themselves, to look at themselves through my eyes. Just put my image in front of you, which will remind you of my eyes, of my energy, look at yourself, close your eyes, imagine that you are standing in front of me, and not just in front of me, but in front of Absolute Love. Ask: “Have I been like you for the last day, two, week or month?” – how long, this is a very individual question. And, of course, this needs to be done regularly.

Sometimes your desire to change and become holy, to shine with unconditional Love, can disappear very quickly because you behave according to your habits. But you do not need to condemn these evil habits, fears. Condemnation only strengthens this, as it distracts you from fighting them.

If you develop in yourself only love and the qualities that go with it, opposite to passions, and when you outgrow them, they will fall away by themselves, like unnecessary husks. So I wish each of you once a day in prayer or in a state of meditation or self-analysis to remember that I exist, and to address me not just with words of prayer.

I will now give a new prayer:

> "My Lord is Light, and I am Light, we are one."

Although these will be very correct words, there is a real risk that they will also be repeated like a mantra, without changing themselves, so just look into yourself and ask: "Christ, am I like you, am I the same love?" And when your neighbors irritate you, ask me through yourself: "Christ, how would you answer? Haven't you been humiliated on Earth? How did you answer?" Here will already be the path of love.

Be sure to accompany these questions with prayer, which should come from the heart and return to the heart, because prayer is the path to spiritual perfection, since continuous prayer is a continuous flow with me. When a person's mind is constantly occupied with thoughts about God, he will gradually get used to it, and it will be difficult for him to descend to low vibrations, not only to do, but even to think about something low-vibrational, a departure from God.

00:00 Introduction. Excerpts from the conference.

“…In the beginning, the material Universe in general arose, and only after many billions of years did the physical Universe arise, because matter is not limited only to the physical world, that is, stars, galaxies, planets and everything that consists of matter…”

"Making another flight from one Galaxy to another Galaxy, you will come to the conclusion that you are simply flying through empty space, flying for a long, long time through empty space, and then we arrive at the Galaxy that we have already explored. It's like a circle..."

"We have an Intergalactic Union, where there are 58 galaxies. This is already like an Intergalactic Union, an intergalactic community of worlds, and there are certain agreements between these galaxies and unions in them, that they exchange some technologies..."

“Well, in each galaxy, depending on its size, there can be from 15 intelligent civilizations to 350 or more…”

"The authorities have all been informed about the rules for joining the Interstellar Union, about the absence of wars for five years, about the death penalty and respect for life from the moment of conception, but they rejected these laws..."

"Of course, if a person believes in this healing, he can change his physical body. As you know, with faith one can even suppress gravity and levitate..."

02:45 Greetings.

Rinat: My name is Rinat, this is not the first time I am talking to you, this is the third time. I am a surgeon, but today I would like to talk about the Universe.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad is present with us in the astral body, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment, this is an analogue of our physics.

Rinat: Thank you, Raom Tiyan, can we begin, yes?

Irene: (Raom Tiyan) Yes.

03:21 Raom Tiyan on the Big Bang.

Rinat: The first question is this. If you support the theory of the origin of our Universe - this is in our language the "Big Bang theory", I would still like to know what was the cause of the Big Bang, what was the trigger for the Big Bang?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) We call the Big Bang the moment of the emergence of the physical Universe in physical space. The reason for this was the creation of the physical world from the energies of more subtle levels of density. That is, first the material Universe arose in general, and only after many billions of years did the physical Universe arise, because matter is not limited to the physical world - that is, stars, galaxies, planets and everything that consists of matter.

Rinat: Thank you. And if, let's say, such an explosion happened then, is it possible, let's say, at any time such an explosion in our Universe, or is it impossible?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) No, it was once, at the moment of the origin of the Universe, and what you call an "explosion" we call "the emergence of proto-matter", that is, the material for the matter from which the first atoms then began to form. And since they had already formed, there is no need to let such a large amount of energy into the physical Universe that could cause a repeated Big Bang.

Rinat: So it turns out that it was some kind of, one might say, conscious process, or how can one say it correctly?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Yes, it was a conscious process, which was controlled by Spirits, embodied in more subtle bodies than the physical one. In esoteric terminology – “plasmoids”.

05:27 Raom Tiyan on the shape of the Universe.

Rinat: Thank you, I understand. The next question: what is the shape of the Universe? Many people say "sphere" or "oval", some say "flat shape". What is the shape of the Universe, I wonder?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) The Universe, as a collection of galaxies?

Rinat: Yes.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) It is more like a sphere closed in on itself - that is, there is nothing outside this sphere, that is, there is no physical world. That is, if, for example, you fly from one Galaxy to another, then it will be like a circle returning to the same Galaxy, therefore it is impossible to reach the end of the Universe. For the same reason, for example, if you move around the Earth, you will not be able to reach the end of the Earth, for you the Earth will be infinite, unless you go "to the heights", that is, do not leave this dimension.

06:40 Raom Tiyan on the size of the Universe.

Rinat: Thank you, thank you. Next question. According to the data from our scientists, the real size of the Universe is about 93 billion light years. Is this figure correct? Does it seem true? Well, the diameter is like that?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) We know of Galaxies that are much further away – hundreds of billions of light years. We know of their existence – not of the galaxies themselves, but of their existence, we know from representatives of plasmoid civilizations and the Spiritual World.

Rinat: What is the real size of our Galaxy then? (In the sense of the Universe? – editor's note) Is there some similar figure?

Irina: He shows me a number, if you take a light year, it will be one and 240 zeros, something like that. He now shows me just an infinite number of zeros, and I say: "What is the number of zeros, I will not count them." And he tells me: "240."

Rinat: Is this only our Universe meant?

Irina: Well, yes. But it's not only galaxies and intergalactic space.

08:22 Raom Tiyan on the structure of the Universe.

Rinat: Well, yes, we'll get to that now. But in general, according to the computer images of our scientists, if we move away by about 5-6 billion light years, then the structure of our Universe has a cellular shape. Is that correct? It looks like a network of neurons in the brain. How correct is that?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) What do you mean by structure?

Rinat: Well, if you look at the neural network in your head, the neural network, it resembles in some way a cellular structure, as if these were, say, neurons in the brain. Is it roughly the same form of distribution, or is it not?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Distribution form of what?

Rinat: Matter. These are stars, these are galaxies.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Galaxies are distributed in so-called clusters. A cluster is a certain collection of galaxies. The collection of galaxies itself can be of different shapes, but can resemble an ellipse, a sphere, or simply scattered in all directions.

Rinat: No, that's why I said, if I go further, 5-6 billion, galaxies look like dots, and these structures of these millions and millions of galaxies form a kind of cell shape. Computer processing was shown.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Naturally, you can make a cell out of any structure if you mentally draw lines between them. No matter how they are arranged, you will still make a cell, it's just that the figures in these cells will have different geometric shapes.

Rinat: Well, and quite uniformly, yes, according to the relic radiation, according to the map of relic radiation, it is clear that the structure of the Universe is, by and large, uniform everywhere. Is that so?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) If by the structure of the Universe we mean physical space and the substances that fill it, then yes.

10:27 Raom Tiyan on the level of energy mastery by the Interstellar Union. Kardashov scale.

Rinat: Thank you. Now a slightly different turn. We had a comrade, his last name was Kardashov, he had the "Kardashov scale". According to this scale, he sort of determined the level of civilization. From "zero" - let's say, the civilization owns the energy of the planet, "first" is the energy of a star, "second" - the energy of neighboring stars. What level are you at?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) We own the energies of perhaps about a quarter of the galaxy. Well, that's the entire Interstellar Union, if that's the case.

11:31 Raom Tiyan on the number of galaxies in our Universe and its age.

Rinat: I see, thank you. Then I have the following question. And here's something else I missed. Again, as a result of our scientists, it has now been discovered, as if calculated, about 200 billion galaxies in our Universe. Do you know such a number, if the sizes of the Universe are already a little different?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Our scientists know 840...

He shows me now: 840 to the fifteenth power galaxies. But they are being discovered, new ones, because messages are coming from more distant corners of the Universe that other galaxies have been discovered there. At the moment, that's how many.

Rinat: Thank you. But if it turns out that we, according to the relic radiation of the Universe, are only about 13.8 billion years old...

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) The relic radiation is not the first radiation that appeared. It is older. If you look at the physical Universe, it is about 17 billion years old.

Rinat: Thank you.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) If the entire Universe, taking into account those stars and galaxies that have already ceased to exist, then it is 17 billion years old.

13:34 Raom Tiyan on the boundaries of the Universe. Other galaxies and civilizations.

Rinat: Thank you very much. Turning to the level of your civilization, such a question arises: will it be possible with your technologies to reach the supposed boundaries of the Universe?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) To do this, we will need to move to another dimension, a more subtle plane, otherwise, at any speed of movement and flight, we will simply spin in a circle.

Rinat: So, there is such a hypothetical possibility that it is possible, let's say, to somehow get out?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) You will simply notice that, making another jump from another Galaxy – another flight from a Galaxy to another Galaxy, you will come to the conclusion that you are simply flying for a long, long time through empty space, and then you arrive at the Galaxy that you have already explored. It is like a circle.

The ISU as a whole has not made such efforts, but we know about it from the ISUs of other galaxies that are older than ours. There are galaxies older than the Milky Way.

Rinat: I had exactly this question. Are there galaxies that are older, technologically higher, and, here is another point, in terms of "density"? So, if they are technologically higher, then they are higher in vibration, in theory, as it turns out?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) They are just older and have had time to explore more.

Rinat: And purely in material terms – the structure is finer, there are no such things...

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) The more subtle structures are called "plasmoids". We are talking about humanoids now.

Rinat: Humanoids still remain the same, you mean?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) They may have different physical forms because they evolved from different species of animals, or they were hybridized, there was a mixture of different types of DNA.

Rinat: I simply meant that, if we say, roughly speaking, they become smarter at the level, against the background of increased vibrations, they do not become... as if the material objects themselves do not move into higher vibrations, I mean, that is, they retain the same material form, it turns out?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) The objects themselves are material, they retain the same form, because each form of matter is tied to one or another level of density where it is located.

Rinat: I see. That is, it does not depend on the level of development.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) There are highly developed humanoid civilizations, namely technologically. Or again, mental development is different for everyone, even in one civilization. We are now talking about a common technology. And there are also underdeveloped humanoid civilizations. And there are developed humanoid civilizations. As for plasmoid civilizations, they do not have any technologies, they do not need it, they have other forms of interaction with space.

17:15 Raom Tiyan on intergalactic alliances and technology exchange.

Rinat: Thank you. And here's a question: basically, since you know and are familiar with many civilizations in other galaxies, can they really help, say, catch up technologically to some level? Or is this not accepted? Let's say, conditionally, in the neighboring Andromeda Galaxy there is such a civilization that is much more technically advanced than our Galaxy. Will they help our Galaxy develop? Or how does this happen?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) We have an Intergalactic Union, there are 58 galaxies there now. This is already an Intergalactic Union, an intergalactic community of worlds, and there are certain agreements between galaxies or unions in them that they exchange some technologies. But to what extent they are ready to share or not share their technologies, it is up to the union to which it belongs to decide. It is their choice. That is, they can do it, they can not do it - it is their choice.

Rinat: And if we look at it from a humanistic perspective, do these 58 unions meet the requirements of the Intergalactic Union? And then, let's say, morality, spirituality, everything else, all these issues.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Yes, they also have similar conditions for joining their unions - no aggressive actions, no wars, and so on. Why? Because interstellar unions of any Galaxy sooner or later decide that it is better to communicate harmoniously with each other than to constantly waste energy on wars, on conflicts and thereby lower their vibrations.

Rinat: Thank you. And here is a question that arises for me...

Irina: He says that in some galaxies there are galactic associations, in addition to their interstellar unions, which fight with each other, but they are not accepted into the galactic association of fifty-eight civilizations. They exist in certain places pointwise, that is, they are isolated from communication and exchange of experience.

Rinat: So they themselves reached this level, it turns out, yes, without exchanging with anyone, that is, evolutionarily, in theory, it turns out, yes?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Yes, they also have their own technologies, but they are different from the technologies that we have. That is, they are more, for example, warlike, and they have more developed weapons than, for example, in many worlds of the Interstellar Union. But due to the fact that they are disunited and due to the development of a militaristic theme in their civilizations, they do not spend so much time on scientific developments, then their methods of flights and exploration of Space are at a more primitive level. They are lagging behind in this.

21:13 Raom Tiyan on the number of humanoid civilizations in the Universe.

Rinat: That is, if you dominate militarily, then, in principle, the rest works out... Thank you, thank you. Here's a question, of course, it has already sounded so indirectly, how many humanoid civilizations, in your opinion, can exist in the Universe?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) In each Galaxy, depending on its size, there can be from 15 intelligent civilizations to 350 or more, from those galaxies that we know of. And how many there are in total – take the figure that I mentioned – the number of galaxies, and multiply it by the average. You will roughly get the number of civilizations in these galaxies.

22:14 Raom Tiyan on other universes and the “singularity point” at the Big Bang.

Rinat: Thank you, thank you. Are there other universes – not anti-universes, but universes exactly like ours? Is this possible, is this known?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Well, what you called the Universe I would call the completely physical world. And what do you call it?

Rinat: I call the Universe what, let's say, the Big Bang happened, all of this dispersed over 17 billion years, this "ball" is our Universe. As if I were reading it in this format. That is, inside this galaxy, all these star systems, everything, the nebula - this is, as it were, our Universe.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) And what do you call “another Universe”?

Rinat: Another universe means that the same process took place in some place in the Cosmos, and the same Universe arose, relatively speaking, with the same explosion as ours.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) There were no more explosions, there was one, and it was an instant release of physical energies necessary for the construction of matter, and it was evenly distributed - it was not in one place in space. Because we also searched for the fact that in one Galaxy, for example, they say: "The explosion was closer to us," - in another galaxy they say: "It was closer to us," - that is, "we are the center," and in each Galaxy they believed that the center of the Big Bang was precisely theirs. Because they saw it that supposedly the beginning of the movement of the entire Cosmos came from them.

Rinat: Well, yes, that's basically how it was for us in the beginning too.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) This is not only in our Galaxy, but in all others. But then we began to share these observations with other galaxies, compared them with each other and found out through the Spiritual World, including that the release of this energy, which is called the Big Bang, it is called Big, although not just big, such a huge, enormous release of energy, which was uniform throughout the entire physical space.

Rinat: From the "singularity point" or just somehow in space?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) How absent-minded (he shows me now).

Rinat: That is, not from the "singularity point", not from one point.

Irina: "We looked for this point," she says, "but we didn't find it."

Rinat: I see.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) For example, we say that we had a point from which the Big Bang arose, that is, the release of that energy that led to the formation of all galaxies. But, for example, in the Galaxy, there, 500,000, even 5 million light years away, they say: "We also see this point in ours." So, there are two points? That is, we began to compare all this.

25:19 Raom Tiyan on intergalactic flights.

Rinat: I see, thank you. How long does it take to get to the neighboring Galaxy with your technology?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) To the Small Magellanic Cloud?

Rinat: Well, we can use the Large and Small Magellanic Clouds, or, say, Andromeda, which is better known.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Well, Andromeda is not the nearest galaxy.

Rinat: Yes, but it's in our cluster. Well, the Magellanic Cloud, I don't remember the distance to it now, but how long does it take to, say, go there and back home?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Intergalactic flights are carried out by a different method, not by gravitational jumps, as in interstellar flights and within the Galaxy. Therefore, intergalactic flights take a little longer. On a huge intergalactic ship (like a liner - he is showing me now - such a big-big one, like a triangle, which was approximately like Kirkhiton's, only bigger, because usually some expeditions are sent to other galaxies). There are several types of engines there. First, a series of "jumps" from our Galaxy are made on a gravitational engine for about 600-620 thousand light years.

Rinat: One jump.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) A series of jumps. If the engine is so big that there is enough matter to make one jump, then one is possible. It still happens instantly.

Rinat: A series of jumps. And how long will it take, say, today?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) If a series, for example, of six jumps, then in time it takes about 10-15 minutes, and then in intergalactic space the engine of release of free energy of vacuum is switched on - this is always at a certain point of physical space, the coordinates of which are known in advance and entered into the computer of our intergalactic liner. And these coordinates are written in our system of language in the programming language (he is now showing me how they are set in the computer), and from the last gravitational jump the ship leaves for these points. This "point of puncture of vacuum" depends on the agreement that exists between the civilization, carrying out the intergalactic flight, and the plasmoid civilizations, which live in this point of space on other levels of density. It is important that this place of space is prepared in order to release free energy of vacuum, that is, one of the types of etheric energy, and that it does not harm other worlds in any way.

Then a special laser photon beam of white color is directed to a localized place of vacuum (he is showing me now), and this photon beam with the help of electromagnetic torsion of photons pierces the vacuum, and from there the energy of ether begins to be released in the amount that is necessary for intergalactic movement. And this energy of ether envelops the ship and the engine that can control it, it is usually built into the roof of the intergalactic ship, sets the parameters of the jump, the intergalactic flight, and the movement begins. This is not a jump, but just movement, such a fast movement (he is showing me now). And at this time, so that there are no inertial phenomena in the accelerating ship, the gravitational field is turned on, which maintains the same force of gravity on this ship.

Rinat: I'll listen to it again later, because it's not all clear right away.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) I'm just telling you. The thing is that before - let's say before the Andromeda Galaxy, for example, I'll just say that one million light years is covered on such an intergalactic liner in about 30-40 Earth days. That is, jumping is no longer possible there, you just have to fly there.

Rinat: Well, a million light years in 30 days – that's impressive. Yeah, great, thank you.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) But we are also looking for other methods, so that we could use more powerful engines that use ether, so that it could be done faster. Of course, it could be done faster, depending on the mass of the ship – if it has a small mass, then it will be easier to accelerate it, and then it will be possible to travel the same distance in 14–15 days.

Rinat: Do more developed civilizations have a speed higher than this?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Yes, they have, they can even travel from the Andromeda Galaxy, for example, within 10 days, and on fairly large ships.

But the thing is that they told us about their technology, but in order to repeat it, we first need to build a certain technological chain.

32:14 Raom Tiyan on the number of stars in our Galaxy.

Rinat: I see, thank you, this question is also clear. And here is another interesting question about our Galaxy. Somewhere in the press there is a figure - in our Galaxy there are approximately 200 billion stars, somewhere - about 400 billion stars. Which figure is closer to the truth? This is about our Galaxy.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) In the Milky Way Galaxy there are 230 billion 156 million some thousand (he's just showing me the number now) - 300 thousand stars, something like that. In short, 230 billion with millions.

33:03 Raom Tiyan on "black holes".

Rinat: I see. Thank you, thank you. And now here is an interesting question for me – the structure of “black holes”, “black holes”. Does the structure of “black holes” correspond to our scientific ideas of earthly scientists?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) With our theory of the universe, what you call a "black hole" is the remnant of the gravitational field of a star, the remnant of its gravity. It remains after all the other energies in the atoms...

Rinat: Well, when a star collapses, in general, it works out, right?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) ...all the energies in the atoms of this star have already run out, that is, it has already released them. Look, for example, at your Sun - you know that the Sun releases more energy every second than is released in the earthly civilization in a year. It is not released just like that, but from certain atoms. And then, when this energy runs out, the star has several scenarios for development - this will depend on the amount of gravity that remains there.

Rinat: Well, and from the mass of the star.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) And for us, mass is an indicator of the amount of gravity. Gravitational field.

Rinat: And we have the concept of singularity. What is the matter represented by in the singularity of a "black hole"?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) A cluster of gravitons, covered by a gravitational field. Of course, there is a remainder there - you simply do not have a name for the quanta of radioactivity and thermonuclear energy, as well as others, but this remainder is inside the gravitational field, that is, so to speak, in the middle of the "black hole", and makes up such a point - this is a conventional name, it is such a sphere, it is black only for your eyes and for your devices, because it does not emit light. And if you look at it with other devices, we will see that it is multi-layered.

Rinat: I see, thank you. Such a question, but again hypothetical. Let's say we crossed the "horizon line of a black hole". We turned back, looked. What will we see?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) What is the horizon line for you? Just open it up a little bit.

Rinat: “The horizon line” is when, say, from a certain distance from the singularity, light rays no longer emerge, and a field is formed, which is why we call it a “black hole”, where photons of light cannot escape from the gravitational field.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) They are simply in the middle of the gravitational field and form a transparent sphere (he shows me like a “soap bubble”, that is, transparent and surrounded by a darker shell).

Rinat: And so, passing this line of the conditional horizon, we crossed, there is simply such an opinion that...

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) And who crosses it? There is simply a gravitational field there, which is strengthened due to the fact that gravitons, which were previously responsible for microgravity, no longer attract certain parts of the atom and other atoms to each other. They are as if freed from this, are themselves in an open state, and because of this, the gravitational field of this "black hole" increases many times compared to a similar star that was previously in this place.

Therefore, every physical object that falls into the “black hole” itself, into the boundaries of the “black hole”, can be, if not protected by special high-energy fields, destroyed due to the fact that gravitational energy will knock out all energies from the atoms of this object, except for gravitons.

Rinat: I just wanted it in a different aspect, that's clear. It's just that, let's say, when we approach a "black hole", time seems to slow down. If we are very close (we are not taking into account physical laws now, I am purely theoretical about how it looks), let's say, if time slows down as much as possible, if we are as close as possible to a "black hole", we can see... It was just somewhere, in some article, that, conditionally, entering a "black hole", they simply observed the evolution of the Universe, that is, time is compressed so much that they have the opportunity to observe the evolution of the Universe for some time. How much does time slow down there?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) What does it mean "time slows down"? It's just that gravity itself increases. What does "slows down" mean?

Rinat: According to Einstein's law - the general theory of relativity, in my opinion, that is, when approaching, the closer we are to massive objects, the time in this place, in general, slows down. Time slows down. Or is this wrong?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Slowing down for whom?

Rinat: It slows down for those around. Not for the person who, say, is standing there. That is, they will see, say, when a person falls into a "black hole", they will observe him for as long as possible, although this process will take billions and billions, maybe, (fractions) of a second in reality, and that observer from afar will still see this person for a long, long time, who, in general, falls into a "black hole" and slowly disappears.

Irina: He says - no, there is no such effect. Just as you described it - no.

(Raom Tiyan) There, certain chemical and physical processes that were caused by gravity are simply accelerated. But it is not so many times faster.

Rinat: No, that's fine, thank you. You've already touched on this issue: is it possible with your technologies to return back after crossing the "event horizon", that is, after falling into a "black hole"?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Yes, it is possible, we have certain engines that can make a gravitational jump, and in this case the gravitational field will not be able to hold it. But it will be quite risky, because the gravitational field will distort the beginning of the gravitational jump, and it can go uncontrolled, and can end somewhere near a planet or even some star, or even inside it.

There were such cases when, for some reason, flying close to a "black hole" or another massive gravitational object, one of the interstellar travelers decided to use a gravity engine, although the rules forbid it. And then the gravity jump was uncontrolled. Yes, it could start and go uncontrolled, and end up at the end of the jump in a completely different place than expected.

42:30 Raom Tiyan on the study of "black holes" and their use for energy extraction.

Rinat: I see, thank you, thank you. And to continue: after all, you probably still study "black holes". What technologies do they use to study "black holes"? What are these technologies based on?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) We have special probes - these are small automatic spaceships that can be sent to such places without the possibility of return. They have special devices that register the number of different quanta, their relationship to each other - the so-called quantum counters.

Rinat: And, when information gets into a "black hole", how does it get out? In theory, it can't get out.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Information cannot come out if it is at the speed of light. But we do not use methods of transmitting information that are based on the speed of light, for example, radio waves. It would be very slow even for a conversation, for example, between two neighboring stars, not to mention the entire Galaxy. Therefore, we use a communication system called "quark-gluon communication", it occurs, well, approximately, maybe 150,000 times faster than the speed of light. And, naturally, this wave can escape the gravitational pull of any material object.

Rinat: Thank you. And the last question about "black holes": is it possible to somehow use the energy of "black holes"?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Gravitational?

Rinat: Any, precisely in terms of creation, let’s say, for civilization in general.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) It is possible, there are such technologies for extracting gravitational energy, but this must be done from afar.

He is now showing: a system of space stations is being built, which is directed towards the “black hole” with certain antennas, like round antennas.

They tune into the frequency of the radiation of the "black hole", that is, its gravitational field, and begin to controllably extract energy from there and transform it into another type of energy. Such technologies are known.

45:16 Raom Tiyan on artificially changing the orbits of planets and their terraforming.

Rinat: So, it is possible to use the energy of "black holes". Thank you. Thank you. I also liked this question: how difficult is it to change the trajectory of planetary orbits, how long does it take, and do the inhabitants of the planet feel this process?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) In general, changing the orbits of planets is prohibited by the rules if there are intelligent inhabitants there. Because this can lead to the movement of soil masses under the planet's crust, for example, due to its vibrations. When it moves, its entire crust and mantle up to the core can vibrate. This can lead to cataclysms such as earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, and so on. That is, there can be different consequences. Different planets, again with different structures, react to this differently.

As for the technologies, how the orbits of planets are changed. Before changing the orbit of a planet, special robots must first calculate a new orbit. And this is most often impossible without changing the orbits of all other celestial bodies that are near the planet, because, for example, the Solar system is not just a system of independent planets, here the gravity of each affects the overall structure of the Solar system. And, accordingly, this is changed very carefully, like (he shows) a chess game - one piece is moved so that there is an opportunity to move another.

Rinat: Well, that's understandable. I'm just getting to the point - 12,000 years ago, if the orbits of our three planets changed, then...

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) They changed as a result of explosions of graviton bombs, which affect the gravitational field. But it is possible to change gravitational fields created by huge ships, interstellar liners, they create external gravitational fields, which, for example, prevent a planet from moving along its orbit around a star, begin to slow it down, and another ship, which flies up from the other side at this time, will push it to another orbit with the same gravitational field, it itself will not touch it.

Rinat: Couldn't this have been done 12,000 years ago, that is, returned to its place, because it was supposedly warmer on Earth, and the conditions were more comfortable for life?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) At that time, it was necessary to restore the orbits of all planets in general, and all the forces of the Interstellar Union that were in the Solar System, firstly, were aimed at stopping the aggression of the reptilians, ousting them from the Solar System, and secondly, they were aimed at stopping the collision of the Moon and the Earth and in order to remove this danger, it was necessary to stabilize the orbit of the Moon and make it rotate around the Earth.

And then they started to stop the cataclysms on the Earth itself, because there were already cataclysms there, the radiation was increased, because these graviton bombs released radiation energy from the rocks of the Earth itself. It was necessary to stop this, and in the future there was no longer such a plan to move the Earth again to another orbit, especially since the orbits of other planets also changed. Everything changed (he tells me now).

Rinat: I see.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) For example, Venus was already there, it would also need to be changed.

Rinat: And, in principle, there are no inhabitants on Venus, can't it be brought closer to us so that it would somehow become more suitable for life?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) And it's not even a matter of distance. It's a matter of its atmosphere. There are various plans for its terraforming, but all these plans have been postponed, as well as the terraforming of Mars, the terraforming of Venus, until the moment when Earth enters the Interstellar Union for the reason that the activity of interstellar civilizations near Earth (which is already noticeable to the inhabitants going into space, but are not ready to join the Interstellar Union), can lead to the fact that certain of your political and military structures will become wary and will arm themselves against the Interstellar Union.

Rinat: Yeah, you can't argue with that.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) It's just that our futurologists, who study models of possible futures, not by predicting - they are not predictors, they are scientists who model various variants of the future depending on certain conditions. That is, they are not those who tell fortunes with cards or something else, they simply use facts and assume various circumstances according to special laws of the formation of society.

Many futurologists say that if Mars and Venus are terraformed, it will be noticeable to the satellites of the Earth that are currently in orbit. This will be communicated to your respective political leaders, who are well aware of the Interstellar Union, as mentioned, and they will understand that people may notice this and want to take over. And these leaders may, because of this fear, begin to arm themselves even more and turn people against the aliens.

Rinat: And the opposite can't happen? Do all futurologists agree that it is the Earth that will do this, and there is no other option - they will feel that we do not treat them the same way. And why should everyone be in power, or maybe...

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Because the authorities have already been informed about the rules for joining the Interstellar Union - about the absence of wars for five years, the death penalty and respect for life from the moment of conception, but they rejected these laws.

Rinat: Oh, I see...

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) The latest events on Earth serve as proof of this, among other things.

53:32 Raom Tiyan on changing physical reality with the power of thought and feelings.

Rinat: Yes... unfortunately, yes. And I have one last question for Raom Tiyan: we have a lot of people now who write books in terms of... The work of the subconscious, in general, the meaning. How does the subconscious influence the material world, how is it able to change reality? How do you understand, is this possible, or, from your point of view, how does this happen, what is the essence?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Of course, thoughts, feelings and imagination change reality, but with the help of those physical actions that are performed to fulfill certain laws. Before changing reality, you need to understand what you want to change in this reality, and then accurately weigh the amount of physical energy that is needed to change physical reality. This is if you want to change physical reality. If you want to change your mental reality, then all this can happen simply in your consciousness. It depends on what reality you want to change.

Rinat: Let's say, people who meditate can, in a very short time, say, be cured of seemingly completely incurable diseases.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) For example?

Rinat: Tumor diseases, let’s say, systemic diseases.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) We need an example here of what "oncological diseases" means, and in what a short time. We need an example of a person who did this, he would ask this question. Do you have a person who did this?

Rinat: I watched this on TV, there are a lot of them, which are against the background of meditative states...

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) If you are a surgeon, have you seen many such cases?

Rinat: I don’t. That’s why I’m asking.

Irina: Maybe he'll take one like this... I can just imagine it now: a surgeon is about to remove an appendix. He (the patient) says: "Okay, I've meditated, I have nothing left." He (the doctor) says to him: "What are you talking about, you'll get peritonitis!" He says: "No, no, it's gone away." "And how did it go away?" - "I made all the microbes in my appendix die." If such a surgeon takes a picture, everything is perfect. Have you had such cases?

Rinat: Never happened.

Irina: Would you find it funny?

Rinat: That's why I want to understand, maybe, I think, there's something I don't understand about this.

Irina: Well, I say, would you find it funny?

Rinat: Well, I would find it funny.

Irina: Let's say you, as a surgeon, invite them - they will be watching these videos, and you, as a surgeon, invite such people to our meeting, and they will tell us about their experience. Invite them.

Rinat: Well, I've only seen them on the Internet, but personally I don't know any of them at all.

Irina: They will watch, maybe on the Internet - you invite them. Many people will watch our video. Invite now those people who have had such experience, only not the experience on the Internet, so that he would watch others, but his own.

Rinat: That would be interesting.

Irina: Yes, so that he shares. Invite such people, maybe they will watch our video.

Rinat: Then I invite them through this video to contact us, and we will talk to them,

Irina: Yes, and Raom Tiyan would also ask them a few questions, and so would I. Because he is now saying that there are different cases. Of course, if a person believes in this healing, he can change his physical body. As you know, with faith you can even suppress gravity and levitate, but for this you must direct your life energy specifically to suppressing the gravity of the Earth. And this is possible only if you do not doubt it. And you will not doubt it only if your experience tells you that this is possible for you.

Rinat: This is, in principle, possible, right?

Irina: Again, it depends, first of all – he is speaking now – oncology can be of different stages. Oncology can be of different organs, it can be caused by different reasons. In principle, of course, this is possible. But I want to say that there are cases when the physical body requires physical restoration. This is also possible. Even if he meditates and even if he has eliminated the spiritual cause, the body can be too damaged, and it does not have enough resources to cope with the consequences of his past negative behavior. Even if he has already eliminated it. This also happens. I think it is harmonious to speak specifically here, about specific examples.

Rinat: In principle, yes. Yes, I just wanted to know, is it possible in principle? There is just a lot of this now. Then it turns out that it is possible in theory.

I thank Raom Tiyana, Irina, I thank you.

Irina: Yes, thank you too. He is now saying: "Thank you too for the interesting questions." And I thank you, Raom Tiyan, for the very interesting answers and comments. Thank you, Rinat, for holding the conference.

Dear friends, thank you for watching this video. I send you the Light of my Love. Until next time!

March 11, 2023.

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Rinat Mudarisov – surgeon, oncologist;

Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burkhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual worlds and the transformation of various energies.

House shapes on other planets. Materials for building houses on Earth

To conserve thermal energy, it is better to build from materials that contain, for example, various air layers.

MidgasKaus, for example, believes that the optimal form for humanoids is close to round, rounded, with a dome, etc. This is a more harmonious distribution of energy in these rooms. Including those energies that are released from living organisms - a collection of etheric energy, astral, thought forms, etc. They simply will not accumulate in the corners. That is, there will be a more uniform distribution.

The Tumesoutians believe that the pyramidal shape of the house meets this standard. Because although there are corners, due to the top of this pyramid there is a flow of energy up and down, which enhances their own energetic and spiritual qualities.

As for the Burkhadians, they live in houses of any shape they want. Robots do this for them. You can set a program to build a house of any shape from your materials. Most likely, it would resemble your plastic, only softer. Something like foam, but harder to destroy. It is covered with a waterproof film. It retains heat and shields from sound vibrations. They have diamond-shaped rooms, some hexagons, it depends on their imagination.

As for construction. If we consider the materials that exist on Earth, which of them are the most energy efficient. We consider these to be those that are filled with air. You have long rectangular stones that are filled with air inside. We have seen those. There are bricks, and there are special stones that are lighter and filled with air.

If you build from wood, you can leave a layer of some heat-insulating material between them, you can make them from earth (bulk), they are also quite warm. You can make them from earth and grass, such were made in different countries - these are quite warm and durable materials, especially if they are protected from the outside with wood. But heat loss occurs mainly not through the walls, but through the floor, foundation and roof. Therefore, the materials for their manufacture must be selected most carefully. To reduce heat loss, you need to remember that air layers between materials significantly reduce heat loss. And the openings, doors and windows left in them, if even imperceptible defects are left in them, cracks in these openings, then because of them there can be a significant loss of heat.

As for the foundation. Usually, the higher it is from the base, and the more air or other heat-insulating materials from the ground, the less the ground absorbs this heat. It is possible not on piles, but simply as a high foundation.

#552 Ashtar Sheran from the planet Ederpeset of the Sirius-β system. Intergalactic expedition of the Andromedans.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=p4U8-RBYXZo

00:00 Start of video.

00:19 Program announcement.

"Regarding Earth: they used something different to destroy life but leave the planet. Perhaps, I think so: they had their sights on it because they wanted a new civilization on Earth. They did not want to destroy the planet. They sent a weapon that would have deprived the planet of its biosphere..."

"I and many of the warriors who belonged to my armada decided to remain on this ship to guard the solar system so that this would not happen again."

"We have a base in Russia, in a remote area of the Zhiguli Mountains, underground."

"When there are no other people around you, listen to yourself. What do you feel? There are always invisible beings around you, doing their own thing."

01:48 Introduction of participants. Ashtar Sheran.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have with us a very interesting person, a representative of the Galactic Federation of Light, well known on Earth under the name Ashtar Sheran.

He is an incarnate humanoid, that is, an incarnate Spirit on the third level of density. He considers himself to belong, simultaneously, to the Sirius civilization system and the Pleiades civilization system, because he is from Sirius, and he belongs to the Pleiades by his belonging to the Galactic Federation of Light.

02:37 Information from terrestrial astronomers about Sirius.

Maria: Hello, dear friends. Greetings to you, Irochka. Greetings to you, Ashtar Sheran. Thank you for coming to our meeting. The topic of our conference today is "Planet Sirius", which you know very well. We would like to ask about this planet or about the system of planets and correlate it with the ideas of our scientists. This planet is very often mentioned in the information of modern esotericists and contactees, it also had great significance for our ancestors, for ancient civilizations.

First, I will briefly tell you what our scientists know about this planet, so that you can correct this information or add to it. According to terrestrial astronomers, Sirius or "alpha" of the constellation Canis Major is the main star of this constellation of spectral class A1.

This is the brightest star in the night sky of the Earth. Its luminosity is 25 times greater than the luminosity of the Sun, although it is not a record in the world of stars. The high visibility of this star is due to its relative proximity to the Earth and is observable from any region of our planet, with the exception of the northernmost regions.

According to our scientists' calculations, it is located at a distance of 8.6 light years from the Solar System and is one of the closest stars to the Earth. The estimated age (according to our scientists' calculations) of this star is from 200 to 300 million years. At the end of the 19th century, our scientists discovered that it is a double star. Behind the star visible to us, which they called Sirius A, there is its neighbor - Sirius B. Sirius A and Sirius B are also mentioned in the information of our contactees.

The original Sirius system, according to our scientists, consisted of two blue-white stars of spectral class B. About 120 million years ago, the more massive Sirius B burned out, became a red giant, then shed its outer shell and passed into the state of a white dwarf, in which it remains to this day. Sirius B is currently one of the heaviest known white dwarfs in our galaxy.

This is what our scientists know about the star, using the instruments and observational means we currently have.

05:31 Ashtar Sheran on the origin of his civilization.

Maria: How can you comment on this knowledge? How far is it from the actual knowledge that you possess?

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) Our civilization, which I have already spoken about (on the planet Ederpeset), was destroyed 12 thousand years ago, and originated on another planet.

About 56 million years ago, our ancestors arrived from the neighboring Galaxy M31. At that time, there was no Interstellar Union in the Milky Way Galaxy. Since the Galaxy M31 is more ancient, there were already civilizations there that began to form the Interstellar Union of the Galaxy M31. They already used not only interstellar, but also intergalactic flights in their practice.

Our ancestors were among the pioneers. The first expeditions were sent to the neighboring Milky Way Galaxy to explore it. But, unfortunately, our technologies were such that if something happened on the way, it was impossible to return the travelers to their Galaxy.

When one of the first intergalactic expeditions of our ancestors arrived in the Milky Way Galaxy, at first everything went well. Our ancestors traveled from one star to another, studied and described them. There were 2,700 of them on a huge ship (shows a huge ball), about 3,000 humanoids. They had yellow skin, they were shorter than modern humanoids. An elongated head and narrow eyes (shows) were dark in color, but there were also blue eyes (shows humanoids).

During another interstellar flight inside the Milky Way Galaxy, an accident occurred on a spaceship that the robots were unable to fix. Their automatic systems began to look for the nearest star, around which there were planets suitable for landing and long-term stay. Then they hoped to repair the ship.

There was no hope that someone from another Galaxy would fly in and save them, because intergalactic flights were the first. In order to send an intergalactic expedition on a flight, it would take several dozen Earth years to equip it. It was not a fact that it would find you in another Galaxy. It was difficult. Back then, our civilization also had problems with communication.

The closest suitable star system turned out to be the Sirius system.

You spoke about 120, about 300 million years. I know about these assumptions. We have slightly different descriptions of this star.

According to our calculations, it is ten times older - according to calculations of the outflow of stellar matter that has been present since the birth of the star until the present day.

10:36 Ashtar Sheran on the settlement of the Sirius star system.

Maria: Are we talking about Sirius now?

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) We believe that it was a single star, which, under the influence of intrastellar gravitational forces, stellar wind (stellar phenomena that penetrate the chromosphere) in the atmosphere of the star.

Only this is not just a wind, but a powerful hurricane. As a result of such a hurricane, the star's matter was divided, and protostars A and B were formed. This happened approximately 400-300 million years ago, according to our calculations.

Maria: If we take into account the moment of formation of the two stars, then they assumed correctly? 300 million years ago?

Irina: 400-300 million years ago they split. As for the "red dwarf" period.

Red dwarf? You said "red giant"?

Maria: First there was a red giant that burned out and turned into a white dwarf.

Irina: I know the stars of which spectra have such names. But, according to our data, these two stars did not go through the "red giant" stages. They shone more evenly.

300 million years ago, after the division, planets (we call them planets) began to form from the protoplanetary disk that existed while the star was united. The planets were already there by the time the expedition members arrived. They saw a desert planet. It was a desert (shows), where it was very hot, there was little liquid. It was under the ground, in the lowlands.

Biological life consisted of a few primitive moss-like plants and small grasses that grew in damp places. There were microorganisms and (shows) insects that lived in semi-dried ponds that resembled swamps. There were no oceans.

Later, when it became clear, the planet was named Ederpeset, which means "newfound hope." Hope for returning home, not for us, the representatives of our civilization, to stay there. Why did they find hope for returning home? Because they hoped to find substances that would help create the necessary elements for the ship's repair. They planned to use the planet's minerals to extract the necessary metals, minerals. They failed.

15:00 Ashtar Sheran on the goals of his civilization's expedition and its technologies.

Maria: What an adventure.

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) Yes, they failed. There were several launches into space. They had to return back (shows), because there was no certainty that the ship in such a state would overcome the intergalactic void.

They did not dare to risk and move away from the Sirius system, because they had already seen the Solar system and others around. But what planets were there, in what state they were, no one knew. It is clear that 56 million years ago the Earth had not yet been discovered. There was no Interstellar Union yet, it was formed 15 million years ago.

Maria: If you had flown a little closer to the Solar System, perhaps you would have discovered Earth earlier than Tumesout from Orion? Your neighbors at that time are the constellation Orion.

What kind of engines did you use? Antigravity, like now in the Interstellar Union, or were there other technologies?

Irina: We had technologies based on the conversion of photon energy into repulsive energy from gravitational fields. This is a slightly different technology, not like in gravitational engines. It allowed us to move at a speed of about 60 light years. This would be faster than the speed of light, at a speed of about 60-70 of your light years per minute.

We calculated that we had been traveling for quite a long time, several years (shows). We were still accelerating. The ship's journey from one Galaxy to another took seven Earth years.

Maria: It's very fast, by our standards.

Irina: Can you imagine, living on a ship for seven years!

Maria: But now for us this is also fantastic.

Irina: The civilization that lived in the Andromeda Galaxy was more ancient. It was about 16 billion years old.

Maria: Indeed. And what was the goal of your expedition? What did you want to discover in our Galaxy?

Irina: We wanted to find intelligent life forms that had already united with each other and accept them into our Interstellar Union. It had not yet formed at that time. There were only 9 civilizations in it. But we wanted to find our brothers in another Galaxy. And our civilization wanted to create an Intergalactic Union.

18:49 Ashtar Sheran about his incarnations.

Irina: By the way, that was one of my past lives. In it, I was on that ship.

Maria: Amazing. You know that there are no accidents in our lives.

Irina: My mentors, the Higher Self revealed that I was on that ship. Now, when I tell this, being in the Astral, I remember the past again. Images come, I remember again and say "we", because I feel that I was there.

Maria: It is wonderful that there is an opportunity to remember your past incarnations and understand the goals of the current ones.

Irina: I don't remember all my incarnations, but I was reminded when I asked the question: "For what reason did I end up on a ship outside my planet?" After the war 12 thousand years ago, I asked: "For what reason did I end up on a ship?" Of course, I knew the history of my world. I received the answer that there was a repetition: on a new turn of evolution of my previous experience.

Maria: Yes, a continuation of your journey in the material world.

Irina: I traveled on a huge round ship, but between galaxies. There was no war then, no destruction of the weak by the strong. On the contrary, we all united, and our motto was "PEACE".

Maria: That's wonderful. So in your Galaxy, where your civilization comes from, there were no wars?

Irina: On some planets there were, but on the nine that united, there were no wars at that point. And in my civilization, which, as I already said, had been developing for 17 billion years, there were wars only at the very beginning, and they were few in number. Rather, it looked less like wars than like aggression by individual representatives who gathered small criminal groups around themselves.

Maria: I see. This is well known on our planet.

21:38 Ashtar Sheran about contacts with the Andromeda Galaxy.

Maria: Please tell me, have you maintained contact, or have you renewed contact with your mother civilization of the Andromeda Galaxy?

Irina: Yes. M31 – Andromeda Galaxy.

Yes, of course, we have renewed contact with the mother civilization. It is called Arhasimi, which means "Light of Truth - Cosmos".

Maria: What a wonderful name.

Irina: In your opinion, “ar”, even “Kharkhasimi”, because before the letter “a” I hear “Khaarkhasimi”, it can be conveyed in earthly sounds (Ashtar Sheran).

Maria: Wonderful.

Irina: What do you feel when you hear the word "Haarkhasimi"?

Maria: "Haarkhasimi." I feel warmth in my chest.

Irina: Maybe you also lived in the Andromeda Galaxy?

Maria: I have a feeling that I have been quite an active traveler in our material Universe. When I learn about new planets and civilizations, I always feel some kind of kinship and warmth of closeness.

Irina: Now more perfect intergalactic huge ships, huge liners have been created. These are huge complexes of automatic systems working in absolute harmony and coherence with each other. Now the journey from the outskirts of the Milky Way Galaxy to the outskirts of the M31 Galaxy takes 12-14 days.

Maria: Incredible. 12-14 days! Tell me, please, has any kind of union formed between the planets of our Galaxy and the Andromeda Galaxy?

Irina: Galaxies, Unions of these Galaxies, Interstellar Unions of these Galaxies are part of the Intergalactic Union - a larger formation that also exists. By the way, if you remember, I told Irina, and on my ship, physically, she met Mitya from the Andromeda Galaxy. By the way, the planet Mantuk, where Mitya is from, is also well known in our Homeland. They were among the first creators of our Union of Andromedans.

Maria: And how many members are there in this Union now?

Irina: There are currently 233 civilizations in the Andromeda Galaxy, and 16 more are preparing.

Maria: How many intelligent civilizations are there in your Galaxy?

Irina: There are currently 2,033 civilizations discovered in the Andromeda Galaxy.

Maria: And we have 727 so far, according to the Interstellar Union. That's great. You could say it's the "older sister" of our Galaxy.

Irina: Now he showed me the number 2,033.

Maria: The Great Commonwealth. When you learn about it and understand how big our Universe is, how much is interesting in it, how much is unusual and new for us. And we still have everything ahead of us!

Irina: It is very interesting there. I have been to the planet of the ancestors, to Mantuka, and to other planets many times. I love being in this Galaxy, but I also love my Motherland. I consider the Milky Way Galaxy to be my Motherland, because I was born here in the Sirius system.

26:46 Ashtar Sheran on interaction with the Spirits of nature - plasmoids.

Irina: Although she was not a kind stepmother, then our civilization used its knowledge and its contact with the Spirits of Nature of this planet. All this in harmony helped to stabilize the orbit of the planet in the place where there was less flow of light from Sirius B. Sirius A also gave certain rays, it was larger. It had a very strong radiation.

Our ancestors understood that it was necessary to inhabit the planet. They began to take care of it as if it were their home planet, to talk more with the Spirits and ask them how best to establish a kingdom of love, harmony and development here.

Maria: Wonderful. For us, these are the highest technologies in interaction with nature, with the environment.

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) You can do this too. For this you need very little: just listen to yourself, to your feelings. When you are in nature, especially alone, when there are no other people around, listen to yourself. What do you feel? There are always invisible creatures around you, doing their own thing. Without them, nothing living, biological could exist on Earth, not a single element could gather.

Maria: Yes, we already know about this in our Project. And, moreover, in our school of contactees Irina deals with this in one educational topic: helping people establish contact with plasmoids.

Irina: We come to the park, we are surrounded by trees, I always say: “Listen to what you feel. Do you feel someone nearby?” Remember, when you are in nature, what do you feel?

Maria: First of all, I feel peace, unity and a very kind attitude towards me. I feel our invisible nature Spirits (that's what we call them), how they treat me. Sometimes they take me to very beautiful places or draw my attention to something that I myself, perhaps, would not have paid attention to.

Irina: They love you.

Maria: They love me and, moreover, I can ask them to somehow influence the weather favorably, so that there is sun or rain.

30:13 Ashtar Sheran on the transformation of the planet Sirius.

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) From the moment (56 million years ago) when two thousand seven hundred humanoids first settled on the planet, about 11 thousand years passed before the planet took on a life-like appearance. One small ocean, several seas, rivers appeared and it became more humid.

All this had to be done gradually, in order to coexist harmoniously with the life forms that were there. First, it was necessary to prepare the soil, the ground, for the fact that they would soon be flooded with water. This took time.

Then, with special enzymes and, of course, their love, they activated special microorganisms that began to sense the light of the stars, the light of both suns, our Siriuses, and convert it into nutrients. At the same time, releasing oxygen, water vapor, and water as products of their metabolism. All this gradually made the climate milder.

Maria: What did you eat all this time? What were your food sources?

Irina: Our ancestors had special synthesizer devices that synthesized artificial food from the elements that were in the soil, in the rocks, split it into constituent elements and made them (shows some brown ones, like our bread), thick (Irina shows). They contained everything we needed.

Our ancestors ate them until they were able to grow and create more technologically advanced food. The plants and insects that were there were also studied. For example, they found an underground larva of a very large beetle, which was about one and a half meters long.

Like a scorpion, I wouldn't call it a beetle, a scorpion-like thing (shows). It had a very interesting larva. Of course, it wasn't enough for nutrition, but they synthesized proteins from it, which were then grown by artificial cell division in a nutrient solution without the larva itself growing.

Maria: Of course, well done. Your technologies are at the level of fantasy for us.

33:45 Ashtar Sheran on the evolution of the civilization of the Andromeda Galaxy.

Maria: Ashtar, please tell me, was your civilization originally of hybrid or natural evolutionary origin?

Irina: It was of natural origin. We also came out of the water, swam for a very long time. Our ancestors were like your dolphins, only with yellow skin (shows a fish with very thick skin covered with scales).

Then, in the Andromeda Galaxy, the star that served as our sun flared up catastrophically, a lot of water evaporated, and the seas gradually became shallow. The temperature rose very much, and it became uncomfortable to live in the sea. There was little food. Fish (shows) began to burrow into the ground. Gradually they evolved and were able to come out onto land.

I don't know, it's hard to call them monkeys. They don't have fur. Do you know what it looks like? We have an animal with four legs, covered in plates.

Maria: Armadillo.

Irina: Yes, like him (yellow, long, with an oblong head).

Gradually they began to evolve. Thanks to evolution, they developed a brain that could accommodate an intelligent Spirit. By that time, they were able to stand on two hind legs and move. Thanks to evolution, a change in living conditions, from micromutations, a creature appeared that could be inhabited by an intelligent Spirit.

Maria: I see, you have become anthropomorphic.

Irina: Yes, anthropomorphs (shows), over time, when civilization developed, they began to conduct experiments, and the species became closer to humans.

For us, the species was more adapted to space travel. The skin became softer, the spine structure was different: it became more flexible (shows), including due to genetic changes.

Maria: Were the genetic changes created on purpose?

Irina: Yes, created by our civilization when nine worlds came into contact. By that time we had developed space technology and genetic modeling. Many millions of years ago.

Maria: I see. While in our Galaxy, did you make any genetic improvements?

Irina: We made genetic improvements in connection with the change in metabolism on another planet, in order to adapt to it more easily, to its gravity. For example, we became taller. To change the metabolism, adapting to those elements that were in abundance on the planet. Each planet has a different set of elements.

Changed metabolism to be adapted to the light of this particular star. Yes, there was a change that affected the appearance.

Maria: So now you look a little different than your mother civilization.

Irina: Yes, we now look a little different than the mother civilization.

Maria: Can you describe what your civilization looks like now and what the mother civilization looks like? What's the difference? You have the same elongated skull.

Irina: Yes, I remember. I saw it. The skull (Irina shows) is triangular, the eyes are deep-set, I didn’t see any scales on the skin.

Ashtar says: "They are long gone." Smooth yellow skin, thin lips, a small nose slightly lowered and a helmet. He says that their ears are similar to those of earthlings. Only the upper part of the shell is different, and the ears are slightly shifted to the back of the head. Otherwise: neck, chest, arms, legs are similar to humans.

Maria: The internal structure of organs?

Irina: Internal structure of organs? Do you have any differences in the internal structure of organs from earthlings?

(Ashtar Sheran) There are, but they are insignificant, basically everything is similar. We also breathe oxygen. We have lungs, a heart, all the main internal organs. Only in the endocrine glands is there a difference. For example, we do not have adrenal glands, we do not have two kidneys, we have one large organ that is engaged in the excretion of liquid waste products into the external environment. And the role of the adrenal glands is played by a formation that you call the thyroid gland. It is located a little lower (shows that we have 7 chakras, and they have 17).

Maria: Ashtar, thank you very much. Very interesting information. Tell me, please, is your skull elongated backwards? Does it have an elongated shape?

Irina: This is not a skull. There are headdresses like this (Irina shows). And the skull (shows) is not that tall.

Our ancestors had no fur and no hair. Now the mother civilization does not have this. Our civilization acquired it after the formation of the Interstellar Union 15 million years ago, when we met the Burkhadians, the Tumesoutians. Our ancestors wanted to be like them.

A genetic matrix was introduced into DNA (genetic information). Into cells that would be responsible for the growth of keratin and for those elements that make up hair in certain places. We have hair on our heads, sometimes on our faces. This can be regulated.

Maria: Interesting. It turns out that you founded a colony in another Galaxy.

Irina: Yes. As does planet Gihor.

Maria: Planet Gihor. Are they also aliens from another Galaxy? Do you have colonies of hybrids in our Galaxy or in others?

Irina: Yes, we have four colonies of hybrids. They are in the Milky Way Galaxy. I have not studied them thoroughly, because I am studying the Earth.

Maria: I see. This is very interesting.

44:30 Ashtar Sheran on the relations of his civilization with the Interstellar Union.

Maria: Why didn’t you join the Interstellar Union, for what reason?

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) We were one of its founders 15 million years ago.

Maria: So you are a member of both Unions: the Galactic Federation of Light and the Interstellar Union?

Irina: I remember those events well, our civilization, which I was a part of, and others. After the war that happened 12 thousand years ago, the Council of our Elders decided (approximately 330-350 Earth years after the war) to leave the Interstellar Union. An important reason was that the planet Selbet was accepted back into the MS after 250 years. The Council of Elders of our civilization decided that Selbet was accepted too early, that it had not yet restored what it had destroyed. There was a proposal that as a sign of correction, the Selbet people restore certain conditions on Earth. Or help those representatives of our civilization who were left without a planet and lived on ships to settle on their planet or on their colonies. At least they made a proposal.

I personally did not agree with the decision of our Council of Elders. I believe that they had a hidden resentment towards the representatives of the Interstellar Union for not appreciating the suffering from the loss of the planet and for accepting the culprits back into the Interstellar Union without waiting for the generation to change (they live 600-700 years).

46:56 Ashtar Sheran on the lifespan of representatives of his civilization.

Maria: How long do representatives of your civilization live?

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) Representatives of my civilization live within 3-5 thousand years. I made the decision to remain incarnated longer. This was agreed upon with my Spirit and my Guides. I am considered a long-liver on my planet. I am over 15 thousand years old.

47:28 Ashtar Sheran on the actions of the Selbetians twelve thousand years ago.

Maria: Please tell me, why didn't your civilization, together with the Interstellar Union, decide to prepare another planet for you to exist on, for example, in the Sirius A system? Or is it not suitable for life?

Irina: There are disks of protoplanets around Sirius A and now around Sirius B. Planets have not yet formed for many reasons. This is due to the attraction of Sirius B, the mass and radiation of the star Sirius A. Protoplanets are only just forming.

Around Sirius B there are asteroids, which are fragments of our planet. The war, which quickly ended in the Solar System, was still going on in the Galaxy. When Selbet learned that Ederpeset had come out on the side of Burkhad, on the side of the earthlings, it was decided to attack. Their fleet, which was near Sirius, squadrons of ships, were armed with terrible weapons.

When they attacked our planet, about 30 billion inhabitants died. Almost no one managed to escape, because it happened suddenly. Moreover, even the outer planets in our system, where we could have resettled, were destroyed. It was a weapon that emitted energy that affected the gravity of the core, mantle and crust of the planet. When you point this weapon at a planet, it begins to crumble (shows).

Maria: I see. So the possibility of restoring life in the Sirius system was destroyed?

Irina: There were small fragments left there. It reminds me of the planet Phaeton, the remains of which rotate between Mars and Jupiter. The same weapon was used.

On Earth, they used another weapon to destroy life, but leave the planet. Perhaps (I think so), they had their sights on it because they wanted to create a new civilization on Earth. They did not want to destroy the planet. They aimed a weapon that would deprive the biosphere - an anti-biosphere weapon. Not even the biosphere, but the intelligent part.

A lot of animals died, including mammoths and dinosaurs. Not all, but most of the mammoths and dinosaurs. Many died as a result of the war and as a result of the cataclysms that happened as a consequence of the war and the restructuring that began in the earth's crust and atmosphere.

51:35 Ashtar Sheran about the places of residence of the representatives of Sirius.

Maria: Ashtar, please tell me, was the option of terraforming any planets in the Solar System considered? Or your relocation to Earth?

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) Some of our representatives survived because they were in space and on different planets, including the Moon, which became a satellite of the Earth (our large base was there). They moved to the planet (I don't know how it will be in Daraal), but in our language – Randiyara, which is located in the cluster between the constellation Orion and the constellation Canis Major, in the middle. Their descendants live there now.

I and many of my armada warriors decided to stay on this ship to guard the solar system so that this would not happen again. That was the decision made then.

I could not trust anyone after I saw the Selbet representative, with whom I had sat at the Council a week ago, on the screen of my starship, his face distorted with anger. He sends a new photon beam to the Earth city. I began to suspect that representatives of any planet could attack like this, and then earthlings, as a civilization, would disappear. To prevent this, I decided to guard the approaches to the Solar System.

Maria: Thank you very much from all earthlings for this noble act.

Ashtar, do you know what I just thought? When Earth is accepted into the Interstellar Union, I am sure that we will also find a place for your civilization on our planet, so that you will have a beautiful planet under your feet, beautiful nature. I hope that the climate of our planet will suit you.

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) I thank you for such an invitation. I would be happy to visit you.

Maria: I hope that this will be possible in our lifetime.

Irina: Yes, see? She invited you.

Maria: Yes, Ashtar, I invite you.

54:55 Ashtar Sheran about the bases of his civilization on Earth.

Maria: Maybe you could, as part of an expedition or as a tourist, visit some of our remote places. I don’t know how suitable our atmosphere and our conditions are for you?

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) We have three bases on Earth: on the southeastern coast of Turkey, between Turkey and Syria (shows), in Russia, in remote areas of the Zhiguli Mountains, underground.

Maria: What mountains?

Irina: Zhigulevskikh. Yes, you probably invented "Zhiguli"? Where Samara is, not far away is Tolyatti. There is also a third base (shows Germany).

Maria: Germany, well, you see?

Irina: It shows the north of Germany, some kind of peninsula that juts out slightly into the sea.

Maria: Yes. I have a rough idea where it is. You see, we are practically neighbors.

Irina: It is located under the bottom (not far from the coast) of the North Sea.

Maria: I was in Northern Germany a few years ago, including the coast. Maybe I passed somewhere above your base.

Irina: Shows from above: the sea to the north, land to the south, a peninsula jutting out from the land, this shape (Irina shows).

Maria: I'll look at the map. Great.

Ashtar, I very much hope that the time will come when you and all the other representatives will be able to emerge from your bases: underground, underwater, hidden in the mountains.

Irina: Thank you. And did you like it in Northern Germany on the coast?

Maria: Of course. You know, there is no corner of our planet that I don’t like. I feel good everywhere.

Irina: What did you feel on the shore, on the coast?

Maria: Calm, peaceful. I feel one with nature. Apparently, there were benevolent plasmoids.

Irina: If you looked, there is a base underwater.

Maria: Next time I will watch carefully. I really hope that soon there will come a moment when you will be able to openly go out and enjoy our cities, nature, and openly communicate with earthlings.

I admire your mission, I admire your goal that you have set in this incarnation. And we, in turn, our Project, all conscious people of our planet, will strive to ensure that this moment comes as soon as possible.

Ashtar, we have such a topic, a very question. As I understand, there are no civilizations on Sirius now, there are only bases?

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) There are bases there, there are plasmoid civilizations, also intelligent Spirits.

Maria: Our contactees are most likely communicating with plasmoid civilizations.

Irina: They can contact plasmoid civilizations or those who have lived on these bases for a long time, for example, the Tumesoutians. There are Tumesout and Tashigan bases there.

Maria: Are there humanoids who can contact our earthlings in astral bodies?

Irina: Yes, they can. Everyone who lives in space, all representatives of the Interstellar Union who work in outer space, have undergone training, including in astral travel. Many of them are interested not only in the study of uninhabited planets, stars of galactic space, they are interested, for example, in biological, social life on those planets that have not yet entered the Interstellar Union. This is of great interest to representatives of the Interstellar Union. How are they doing there?

Maria: How are we different?

Irina: Yes. Many people really want to visit your planet as tourists. Many ask. Especially from those planets where the inhabitants are similar to you: from Disaru, Burkhad, from the Burkhad colonies. They apply to the commission on contacts of the Interstellar Union so that they can be taught the language, manners, given the appropriate means so that they can live among you.

Maria: With great pleasure. We have enough conscious contactees.

Irina: Of course, without revealing yourself, but by introducing yourself as an earthling, to feel like one of you. That is, you attract the gaze of the entire Galaxy.

Maria: We are very happy. We invite you with pleasure. And I invite everyone who wants to get to know our life better, I will give them, as they say, shelter and cover.

Irina: You see, Masha has already invited us to visit, she will provide shelter.

Maria: Yes, I am offering you a base, the opportunity to interact with us in direct contact. I can introduce you as my relative.

Irina: Imagine, you come up and say: “They flew to me from Disaru or Burkhad.”

Maria: My "relatives" have arrived. There is no need to say that they are with Disaru. They were given the opportunity to be in our company, to communicate with us without revealing their identity. Therefore, I think that we still have everything ahead of us.

1:02:05 Ashtar Sheran on the cult of Sirius on Earth.

Maria: Ashtar, please tell us why there was a cult of Sirius on our planet in ancient times? For example, many ancient cultures attached great importance to the star Sirius, especially in Egypt.

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) Several circumstances came together here. Firstly, many remembered, passing on in their legends to their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, that celestial beings lived on this star, that is, in the language of the ancients - gods. They remembered that they had been visited 12 thousand years ago, when we were part of the Interstellar Union.

Although we did not participate genetically in your creation, we helped those who gave their genes. We flew in, made contacts, taught how to properly build cities, society, what laws to adopt. We participated equally with the Tumesoutians, Burkhadians, Lyrians, Shimorians.

I want to say that many remembered this because their ancestors were shown that we are from a bright star. Secondly, the star is very bright, it is visible in the sky, they navigated by it.

There were tribes, especially in the area of modern Egypt and further south, that were guided by the location of the star. When it appeared in a certain part of the sky, for example, you could harvest, this was associated with agricultural activity. They gradually began to believe that the star gave them fertility, that is, they deified it.

Why? Because man is a rational Spirit, possessing, among other things, creative imagination. This means that he is capable of personifying phenomena and objects of nature. This is in you. That is why earthlings have developed poetry, various tales, because you think figuratively.

Maria: Yes. Indeed. We have very developed art: fine and musical.

1:04:55 Ashtar Sheran on the types of art in his civilization.

Maria: Is there a passion for art on your planet?

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) Yes, we have dances.

(Irina) They use their bodies to show different figures to the music.

Like your ballet, only in different clothes and faster movements. We also have songs, competitions, games of young poets: one composed one line, the second - another, the third - a third. These are the games.

Maria: We also have poetry competitions. And what about fine art, paintings, sculptures?

Irina: Less developed. We had everything focused on the word: literature, poetry. Music and dance art were more developed. As for fine art and sculpture, we have had artificial preservation of images for a very long time. So it exists, but it is less common.

1:06:30 Wishes from Ashtara Sherana.

Maria: Wonderful. Ashtar, I thank you with all my heart.

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) Thank you.

Maria: We have an endless number of questions for you: about your civilization and about others. I hope for new meetings, new interesting conversations. I especially want to thank you for our Sunday flights to your ship, our wonderful Irochka accompanies us every Sunday. Thank you for supporting our earthlings, for healing, for harmonization, for the invaluable work that you put into our civilization.

Irina: I also thank you for your love, for your faith, for your Light that you share with us. We feel you, our galactic brothers and sisters who live on one of the planets of the endless Universe.

(Irina) Thank you.

Maria: Thank you. Ashtar, we are waiting for you on our planet. We are waiting for your civilization. We will be glad to accept you as one of the peoples. Especially since we have a race similar to yours, the yellow-skinned. I think you will not stand out too much here.

Irene: (Ashtar Sheran) Yeah, okay.

Maria: We love you very much. We thank you. And if you want to say something now, addressing us or ask something, I will be happy to give you such an opportunity.

Irina: I want to wish every inhabitant of the planet dear to my heart to realize how loved he is by God and all the Angels, and when he realizes this, he will become one of them.

Maria: Thank you, thank you. Friends, thank you for your attention.

Irina: Thank you.

Maria: We hope you enjoyed this information. Until next time.

Irina: Yes, dear friends, it was very interesting to learn. Thank you, Ashtar. Until next time!

MidgasKaus on the causes of alcohol addiction

Alcohol is not drunk for the taste. A person, when he is an alcoholic, for example, he does not seek alcohol itself and wants to drink it in order to enjoy the taste. It is drunk in order to achieve certain states of consciousness. You know them well.

Alcohol intoxication has been studied sufficiently. Of course, it is individual for each person. But, nevertheless, there are common features when you can understand what we are talking about, what states a person is looking for in this desire to use something. After all, a person does not just want to use something, he applies his will in obtaining funds for this, in obtaining the substance itself, etc. That is, he strives, applies the energy of will in order to achieve the fulfillment of his goal. And any goal is a projection of the energy of desire on the mental level. That is, it is a desire that is consciously conscious by the mind. And all desires live in the Spiritual heart - in the very core of the Soul, the embodied Soul in this case. Each desire has its own vibration. And moreover, all vibrations of the Spiritual heart will affect the level after incarnation.

If there are desires, then there is a need that caused this desire. Needs are subconscious desires. Human needs can be said to be of three types: physical, spiritual and social. Between physical and spiritual there are also instinctive desires, which can be attributed to both. That is, the desire to drink alcohol in this case is most often caused by the need for pleasure. It is absolutely natural. But, as you know, even if everyone has a desire for pleasure, not everyone strives for this substance. Because pleasure lies in different things for different people.

For what reason can a person start looking for artificial joy, artificial pleasure, that is, created for him by taking substances? Because he does not see it for some reason in life. Usually this is also due to blocks. He blocks the flow of Light, Love, joy, happiness from the Higher Self, from the Spiritual World, and life begins to seem meaningless to him. And until he dissolves these blocks, he will not raise his vibrations, and neither fly agarics nor any medicine will help him with this, because this is a physical level, and here you need to work with your Spirit. And therefore this does not eliminate the root cause of either alcoholism or smoking. It only replaces one with the other, but does not solve the problem globally.

If he masks his problem, then he will simply go to the Spiritual World with the contents of his heart that he will have at the moment of disembodiment. But if this suits him, if he is satisfied with the level where he will get with such contents of the Spiritual Heart that did not allow him to feel causeless joy from his existence, then, of course, this is the right of the person himself. This is already his choice, and this is his experience. But I think that when he gets to the Spiritual World and finds out from what level he came, and what tasks he had, and what prevented him from feeling happy, he will have a different opinion about his life than when he was in the body.

A person can be told that anxiety can be removed absolutely free of charge, without buying any substances, without causing even minimal harm to your body, but simply by self-analysis, talking to yourself, and this is more effective. He can ask: "What worries me?" When a person dissolves the blocks and connects with his Higher Self, with his Spiritual Self, and especially when he learns to do this himself, without a guide, at any moment, then he will have such a flow of happiness and Love that is incomparable with the sensations of alcohol intoxication.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/kak-naladit-svyaz-s-vysshim-ya
How to establish connection with the Higher Self?

To enter into communication with the Higher Self, one must clearly understand what the Higher Self is and how it can respond.

The Higher Self is the highest part of your essence, your Spirit, which is not embodied. When you contact it, you will talk to yourself - to your highest part, to your highest consciousness.

It can respond mentally, either with thoughts, words, images, or both - thought-forms.

To get in touch with him, you must relax physically and psychologically, you must not rush anywhere, nothing should upset you. It is necessary to settle in a comfortable place for the physical body in any pose that you like, which will help you temporarily forget about the body.

And the first stage is called self-observation - closing your eyes, being in this place, you must clearly understand that you are comfortable, it is good that you are not in a hurry to leave. To allocate an hour for this and think: "when will this hour end, they are waiting for me" - this will not work to establish contact. Because your thoughts will return to your anxiety of expectation, and this should not be.

Try to push aside all thoughts that do not relate to your Spirit, to your life, to your Higher Self.

The very first stage of observation is to close your eyes, if you are sitting, then lower your head forward a little and, simply immersed in yourself, mentally imagine that between you and the outside world there is a wall through which nothing that can interfere with you can penetrate. As a defense is built for your peace of mind, that nothing will bring you out of this state until you yourself come out of it.

And when you feel that you are good, calm and comfortable there, you begin to observe your thoughts from the outside, without interfering in their process. Just observe what you are thinking about at this moment.

When you feel that you are thinking about something, hold your attention on this moment and ask yourself, why am I thinking about this. Then some answer will come to you.

Then ask further the question - who am I, where am I in the body. So, say, I am, I exist, I am Spirit.

You must feel your spiritual nature. Once you have felt it, begin to read the setting - “I am the Universe” to raise the vibrations and so that you can get in touch with your higher essence. You raise the vibrations of this consciousness in which you are.

ESLER'S ATTITUDE:

I am the Universe, the Universe is Me. The Power of the Universe is my power, and my Spirit is a part of the flow of existence of the Creator of all worlds. His power will be directed for the benefit of all beings, existing in all worlds and planes of existence. Reality in truth will remain, and lies in the illusion of perception will disappear forever!

When you have read this setting, you will feel special changes in your state. It may seem to you that the room has become larger, or that you yourself have expanded, light may appear. Not physical light, but spiritual light. You may feel any other sensations - goosebumps, etc. This is completely normal, it means that you are on the right path and doing everything correctly.

And then say - I want to talk to my Higher Self (it's better to whisper out loud, because when you pronounce words with your tongue, it has an advantage over mentally, because you involve your speech apparatus in this, and this makes your thoughts clearer).

Already in this state:

"Higher Self, are you ready to answer me?"

And to successfully talk to him, you must catch the first thought that comes to you. You will already clearly feel it. It will not be a voice in your ears, it can be a very familiar feeling of an inner voice.

Questions as a way of knowing the world. How to answer children's questions? Transmission of Light

Question : "In other worlds, on other planets, children are taught to understand that there are higher beings, God, the Mother Goddess. How do they do this: in the family, at school, together? What institutions are there for this?"

First, in the family, when the child is taught to speak, before he goes to school. What does it mean - "teach him to speak"? When they pass on their experience of knowing the language. Our language already has certain words built into it that relate to God, to the Angels, to the Spiritual world, to his own Spirit. But if we translate all this into the earthly, Russian language, it will look like this: when a child learns to speak, he learns many new words. Learns - that means, "immerses" them in his memory. It is very important for him to clarify: an interest in learning the properties of the world in which he was embodied is included. This is a natural property.

Children find out things by asking questions. It looks the same on any planet when a child is learning about the world. If your child doesn't ask questions, it means that he is disappointed in your answers or your unwillingness to talk to him at that moment. It is important to maintain the child's trust, his interest in learning about the world. If you cannot answer a question because you are busy, say that you will definitely talk to him about it later. Questions can be any that would not occur to an adult.

How to answer them? It is important to stimulate the child's interest in the Spiritual world. First of all, with love, without irritation. He assimilates your words not only as logical constructions. Most of all, he reacts to your tone, to the state of your Heart. Remember that his energy is connected with yours. How much Light you transmit to him, that is how much he will carry as an adult. Of course, he will be able to acquire it himself, but if you do not invest in him, it will be more difficult for him to do so.

Answer the questions from the position of the Spiritual world: God created this, who is God. Tell him about God as if he were a well-known being. Say that He is nearby. We do not see Him, just as we do not see air, but we breathe Him.

In simple images, give him the concept of energies, without saying the word "energy", but air, light, which he sees, feels. The child will remember forever: his subconscious will save it. If he does not ask questions, at 3-5 years old you can start conversations with him about the surrounding nature, about how flowers grow, the sun rises, clouds run, why they take different forms. He will be interested.

What are the stars, the sky, the snow? Explain all this to him not with scientific concepts, but with the language of feelings. For example, say:

> “Son, it’s evening now, the sun has gone to bed, now you’re going to bed with it. In the morning, when you wake up, the sun will wake up. It will rise to give us light and joy. The sun gives light and joy because God created it that way. God is like a big man, only we don’t see him. We call him Spirit. He’s like me, your mother, your grandmother, but he’s much stronger. He created everything around us. Do you see how bright the light of the sun is? And the light of God is even brighter. There is light in your Soul. The Soul is in your heart. Do you hear how your heart beats? With every heartbeat, the Soul reminds you that it exists because it gives you life. Life makes the heart beat.”

You can tell simple things in feelings, even about religion. ☘

#554 Archangel Uriel – earthly incarnations, the world of Gods. Patronage of Israel, religious egregors.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xND9dtG-yeU

00:00 Start of video.

00:19 Conference fragments.

"...I was incarnated in Abraham and Moses..."

“...and it is not mentioned in the New Testament, because at that time I practically never left the planet Tumesout, but I, of course, knew about the mission of Jesus Christ, and we communicated with him mentally...”

“...that is, I was responsible for the embodiment of many – millions – plasmoid civilizations, and perhaps that is why it was reflected in the myths that I control the “abyss”, because for a person, a plasmoid civilization is an incomprehensible abyss of worlds...”

“...for example, besides Leonardo da Vinci, I also had contact with Isaac Newton and Konstantin Tsiolkovsky, and even when Yuri Gagarin came to the church to light candles, I also felt him, came and embraced him with my wing...”

"...Archangel is not a level, but just like a job..."

02:16 Greetings.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today we have with us a representative of the Spiritual world, an incarnate Spirit, whose spiritual name is Archangel Uriel. And today Stas will ask him questions. Hello, Stas!

Stas: Greetings, Irina! Greetings to the Divine Spirit – Archangel Uriel! My name is Stas, I have been a volunteer of the Cassiopeia Project for over a year now, and today I have the honor of asking questions to such a famous and widely known Spirit on Earth – Archangel Uriel. Can I start asking questions?

Irina (Uriil): Yes, finally.

03:20 Archangel Uriel about himself, his incarnations and spiritual levels.

Stas: First question: what does your name mean?

Irina (Uriel): Light of God.

Stas: Is this your original spiritual name or the one you acquired here on Earth?

Irina (Uriel): Originally, from the time I realized myself.

Stas: Excellent. And what spiritual level are you on now?

Irina (Uriel): 24th.

Stas: And during the existence of this cycle of the Universe, what is the lowest and highest spiritual level you have passed through?

Irina (Uriel): The lowest I had was fourteenth, that is, I didn't go any lower. Well, and the highest you already know.

Stas: Yes, twenty-fourth. Are you incarnate now or are you a disembodied Spirit?

Irina (Uriel): Now I am a disembodied Spirit, and I have many contactees on Earth.

Stas: And how many incarnations have you had in this Universe, in this cycle?

Irina (Uriel): During this cycle I had 8,216 incarnations.

Stas: Wow! Have you been incarnated on Earth, and how many times?

Irina (Uriel): Yes, I have incarnated on Earth since the beginning of its civilization 352 times, but these incarnations were in different ancient eras, mainly from the beginning of the formation of the earthly civilization until the period of the Earth, which ended about three thousand years ago.

Stas: And what incarnations do you consider the most significant for your Spirit here on Earth?

Irina (Uriel): In general, I have incarnated many times on the planet Tumesout, several times on the planet Burkhad, including as a spiritual leader. On Earth, I incarnated as one of the eighteen people who were the first representatives of the earthly civilization, but I was a woman then, that is, one of the first nine women.

I knew in that incarnation the Spirit whom you now know as Archangel Metatron, and we are close friends, it is like a spiritual unity.

Stas: Yes, we know this Spirit.

Irina (Uriel): We have a spiritual unity.

Stas: Excellent.

Irina (Uriel): Also, from the significant incarnations known to you in your historical period, I incarnated as Abraham and Moses.

Stas: Oh, how!

07:14 Archangel Uriel about the incarnation in which he reached the 24th spiritual level.

Stas: And in which of your incarnations did you reach level 24?

Irina (Uriel): After incarnating into Moses, I incarnated on the planet Tumesout again, and there I reached the 24th level (when I left the body of Moses, I reached the 18th level).

Stas: I see. In general, you took a direct part in the development of our civilization here on Earth.

Irina (Uriil): Yes.

Stas: This was precisely one of the following questions: did you take part in the creation of the first bodies of earthlings? It is clear that you were incarnated.

Irina (Uriel): Well, more like an “object.” (laughs)

Stas: Good.

08:09 Archangel Uriel about his whereabouts during the time of Jesus Christ on Earth and in the body of Yahweh.

Stas: In religious egregors you are known as God's Angel and as one of the companions of Jesus Christ. Here is a question: how did you participate in the activities of Jesus Christ, what functions did you perform?

Irina (Uriel): I was still incarnated on Tumesout when he lived.

Stas: And when was he incarnated in the body of Yahweh?

Irina (Uriel): When he was incarnated in the body of Yahweh, I was in the body of Abraham and in the body of Moses.

(Irina) That is, he had a long life there. And the Tumesoutians sometimes live so long that their contactees can manage to change several bodies on Earth.

Stas: Yes, exactly, they can live there for tens of thousands of years.

Irina: Well, they can live for different periods of time, tens of thousands of years – this is only if it corresponds to the task of their Soul in this incarnation. But often they leave earlier – after one, two, three thousand years, because their presence is required somewhere else.

Stas: I see.

09:34 Archangel Uriel about his mission in the Universe.

Stas: Okay, then the next question: in general, in the Universe, what is your function now as a 24th level Angel?

Irina (Uriel): As a 24th level Angel, I am a member of the Karma Council, which you call the Council of Lords of Karma. Archangel Metatron is also present there as our leader, chief. Only this is not the leader or chief who gives orders, but the one who gives an ideological form to our activities.

Stas: This is on the level of our Galaxy, right? Am I right?

Irina (Uriel): Yes, our Milky Way Galaxy, although in my more than eight thousand incarnations I have incarnated in other galaxies as well.

10:38 Archangel Uriel about his mission on Earth.

Stas: And what is your function on Earth?

Irina (Uriel): I am also the patron of the religious egregors of Christianity, Judaism, and one of the leaders of the egregor of the state of Israel.

(Irina) That is, he also looks after the egregors: one of the patrons of the Christian egregor, the Jewish egregor and, in general, the egregor of Israel.

Stas: There was just one of the following questions – is he the curator of the Christian egregor?

Irina (Uriel): One of.

11:27 Archangel Uriel on his mention in canonical texts.

Stas: Then here’s a question: why then is Archangel Uriel not mentioned in canonical Orthodox texts?

Irina (Uriel): I am referred to as Abraham and Moses.

Stas: Ah, like incarnations.

Irina (Uriel): Yes, this is my Spirit, and therefore, when Abraham or Moses are depicted on an icon, there are particles of my energy, and through these icons there is a connection with my Spirit. Moreover, if you pray to Abraham and Moses as God's holy righteous men, then this prayer still comes to me as energy. That is, prayer is words accompanied by energy.

I am not mentioned in the New Testament because at that time I practically never left the planet Tumesout, but I, of course, knew about the mission of Jesus Christ, and we communicated with him mentally.

Stas: I see. Then that is where the roots of the fact that it is in the Jewish, Judaic egregor that Uriel is most often mentioned in comparison with other egregors, apparently come from.

Irina (Uriel): Yes, I am the patron of the Jewish religious egregor, which arose earlier than the Christian one, and in its emergence I played a key role in two of my incarnations - in Abraham and Moses.

13:23 Archangel Uriel on his support of Jesus Christ during His incarnation.

Stas: And during the period of Christ's incarnation on Earth, you were in the Spiritual World, right?

Irina (Uriel): No, I was incarnated on the planet Tumesout.

Stas: You were incarnated on the planet Tumesout. Did you in any way assist in His activities on Earth?

Irina (Uriel): I communicated with Him mentally and communicated mentally with His mother, and I also flew to the planet Burkhad, where I communicated physically with His father, in whom Archangel Metatron was then embodied. And I provided Him with spiritual energy.

Stas: I see.

14:14 Archangel Uriel on the primogeniture of Jesus Christ.

Irina (Uriel): But I would not say that He needed support, rather He, as the firstborn son of God... That is, this is the Spirit who perceived the fullness of Divine Love, and by His own will, despite numerous incarnations, did not lose a single "spark".

This is what "primordiality" means – here the word "first" does not mean "in time", but rather "the first of those who have preserved". That is, "first" is like among the stars of a constellation there is its "alpha" – the first star. It can appear at any time compared to other stars of the constellation, but it shines the brightest. So it is here, "primordial" in this sense.

Stas: Okay, I understand. The size is clear.

15:24 Archangel Uriel on the history of the veneration of Archangels in Catholicism.

Stas: The next question is a little related to the event that happened in the Catholic Church in 745 – Pope Zachary crossed out many Angels from the list of those venerated, including Archangel Uriel, leaving only the names of Michael, Gabriel and Raphael. What is this related to?

Irina (Uriel): He did this because this name was not mentioned in the canonical books of the Old and New Testaments, but in the tradition of the Orthodox Church there are still icons of Archangel Uriel.

I will explain now. Archangel Uriel is my spiritual name, so I have already said that it makes no difference to me which of my incarnations you revere and love.

It was simply his decision, because it was not in the books, and Zechariah considered this to be a Jewish influence on Christianity - namely Uriel, etc. (shows Irina several more Angels that were not mentioned in the New Testament and in other books, the disciples of the apostles).

Stas: Of course.

17:06 Archangel Uriel on his image as the Angel of Wisdom.

Stas: Next question: why is Uriel considered the Angel of Wisdom and is often depicted – for example, in the Anglican tradition – holding a book or scroll in his hands?

Irina (Uriel): This is precisely a sign of understanding that I, in the body of Moses, brought the Torah to Earth as the Law of God. That is, I wrote it under the guidance of Yahweh (in some countries he is called Jehovah, this is the incarnation of Jesus Christ). But on Earth I am perceived as his prophet or guide, who was the only one of the people of that time who was able to perceive this Torah, necessary for the Earth, and spread it among his people. Therefore, Archangel Uriel, his image is drawn with a scroll in his hands, so that the one who drew it subconsciously understood who I am.

Stas: The reason is clear now.

18:29 Archangel Uriel in Kabbalah.

Stas: In Kabbalah, Uriel is considered the Archangel of the North and the Earth. What are these images associated with?

Irina (Uriel): North and Earth? Because all this is also connected with Moses.

The thing is that according to the Jewish tradition, which was adopted by Kabbalah, the death of Moses, his exit from incarnation, occurred north of the territory that you call the Dead Sea. And, accordingly, the land (and here the translation of the Hebrew word "eritz" is north) is generally the land as a country, and "northern" means "north of the Dead Sea", so I became its patron.

My name became associated with the northern land because Moses left his incarnation there, and those who wrote this also felt my connection with him, our unity, and that is why they put such a symbol in their books. But I want to say right away that, as you well know, Moses' body was not found, his grave does not exist. He simply went up the mountain and sort of disappeared.

20:35 Archangel Uriel on the ascension of Moses and life on Tumesout.

Irina (Uriel): When I was in his body, I told my disciple Jesus Navin to write in the book of Deuteronomy that he was my successor and that I had come out of incarnation. I remember that moment now, I remember that incarnation.

I was already over 120 years old, but thanks to the support of my curator Yahweh, I was a fairly healthy person, and also thanks to my own spiritual work on myself. And I climbed the mountain, which was somewhere a little less than a kilometer.

(Irina) Such a "grandfather". (laughs)

Stas: A strong man.

Irina (Uriel): I really felt that my Soul would soon leave the incarnation. But it did not happen, because when the night came, I saw a long white strip in the sky, which turned into a beam (shows), and this beam fell on me, and I felt that I had no weight. I felt that I was rising up and after a few moments I found myself in a very bright room, in which there were many people who were very tall, like pillars.

And one of them came up to me and said that He was Yahweh. I recognized Him immediately, because I had seen Him before. I fell (shows) before Him, as before a god, I realized that these were gods on a heavenly chariot. And they invited me to visit their Divine world, and I saw how the gods live. And the last years of my life, my incarnation in the body of Moses, I lived among them.

Stas: And how many years did it take?

Irina (Uriel): This took another 258 years according to the earthly calendar.

Stas: Incredible!

Irina (Uriel): Because this term was approved by my Higher Self, my Spirit. And this time was given to me so that I could receive consolation, enjoyment from life in the Divine world, as a reward for the fact that I led my people of Israel out of Egypt, and for the fact that I created the basis for the Jewish egregor, including for the subsequent incarnation of Yahweh on Earth. That is, I prepared this ground.

This life – more than 250 years in the world of gods (for me they were gods, I perceived them as gods) – was my reward in exchange for the “Promised Land”, which I was never able to enter due to the stubbornness of the people, who did not want to leave their slave habits.

Stas: And during these years he never returned to Earth?

Irina (Uriel): I flew in, but I didn't go to my people, but looked at the Earth – they showed me, they brought me, and I looked at the Earth from the outside, visited different countries. But this was only three times.

I knew that they considered me dead there, and I even talked to Jesus Navin on a spiritual level and told him that I was alive. And he asked me: "Where is your body?" - because they could not find it, they thought that wild animals had torn it to pieces. But there were no traces of blood or torn clothes in that place. Then, when I left, there were various rumors about where my body had disappeared to, including that I had come down from the mountain and got lost because I had lost my memory. And I told him that I lived with the gods. But he took it as "my Soul lives with the gods."

Stas: But during this life, did he come to the realization that he had incarnated in Abraham's body before?

Irina (Uriel): There were such insights, like intuition. There was such intuition, and I even asked Yahweh about it, but He told me: "Your Soul itself will reveal everything to you when the time comes."

Stas: It must have been a very strong shock for Moses to move from Earth, from the living conditions in which people were then, to Burkhad, a super-technological planet?

Irina: He shows me one that looks more like Tumesout.

Stas: Ah, on Tumesout. He spent the rest of his time on Tumesout.

Irina: Yes, he shows me such big people, like lamp posts.

(Uriel) And I perceived that they were so tall as evidence of their divinity, just as you perceive Angels. And I asked them many times when I was in the body of Moses, whether I had died or not. And they said, “No, you are still in the body.” And I said, “How is it possible then – to live among you? After all, only Souls can live among you.” They smiled at me (shows) and said, “You live in your body, you just moved from Earth to another planet.” But they did not say the word “planet,” because we did not have such words in our language – but “to a star.”

And, accordingly, I said: "How is it?" They showed me different moving pictures, where it was shown what and how. They showed me first - there was a window in the wall, and in this window there were moving pictures.

(Irina) He is now showing me his perception, which he had then.

(Uriel) And there was a beautiful white-blue ball among the stars. And they told me: "This is planet Earth, where you live." And I said: "I don't recognize Earth." And they began to zoom in, and I saw some kind of sea, deserts, only they were from above.

(Irina) He says that he had such, not shock, but misunderstanding, how people of such height and similar to earthlings can live on another planet. But he says that it was at first, and then they gradually explained that they created people, and that people are also their descendants, that is, not descendants, but as if children, in whom part of their body is embedded, and this happened a very, very long time ago.

(Uriel) They told me about the war with the lizards (shows large lizards), and I understood that it was a very, very long time ago, at the dawn of the development of all earthly peoples, when all the earthly peoples known to me did not yet exist. But I understood what they were talking about, and after a few months (shows) I was already calm about everything.

31:53 Archangel Uriel on the origin of the names "Adam" and "Eve".

Stas: And what has he been doing all these hundreds of years?

Irina (Uriel): I continued to communicate with Yahweh and improve my Spirit, and traveled on a spaceship in the form of a large pyramid. I traveled, I was shown different worlds (shows how different landscapes flash by), that is, I learned about the Universe and learned the history of the Earth. And especially for me, the text of the history of the Earth was translated into a language I understand (shows how he listens to something) - how the Earth was formed, how people were formed. And I just asked thousands of questions. Why is it written about Adam and Eve? They passed it on to me, I wrote about Adam and Eve. And not only I, it was written in ancient manuscripts, in myths, that is, it was not only in the Torah.

And they told me that the word "Adam" in general (they explained it to me then, and now I fully understand it) does not mean a specific person, "Adam" means humanity as a whole, the entire set of human egregors. That is, "Adam" is a designation in the language of Tumesout (because they transmitted it to me in Hebrew, and this is simplified Tumesout). There is such a word - "haradam" (not "adam", but "haradam"), which means humanity as inhabitants of the third level of density on planet Earth. The Earth in Tumesout is called "Atinat", and "haradam" is its physical population.

Stas: I see.

Irina: And later it was translated as "red clay". But the thing is that this word refers not only to red clay, but also to the color red in general, including the color of blood, and humans have red blood.

And "Eve" or "Haava" meant "life" in Hebrew, or more precisely "life-giving." And so Adam and Eve are symbols of humanity, who give life to more and more new generations.

Stas: I see. What a deep meaning is hidden in these two names.

Irina: That is, these are not the names of individual people, but symbols.

Stas: Humanity. Okay, and then the question...

Irina: So we can say that any man is Adam, and any woman is Eve, because Adam gives the power of his blood, which is red, to a woman so that she can produce life. After all, a man's seed is produced from blood.

Stas: And in the end, when Moses disembodied from his body, already on Tumesout, did the disembodiment happen by his own will, or was it simply time?

Irina (Uriel): It was my own will, both of the Soul and the Spirit. That is, this consent was because I needed to incarnate further, and in the next incarnation I was already in the body of the Tumesoutian himself.

Stas: Who has already met the incarnate Jesus Christ as an earthling?

Irina (Uriel): I did not meet with Him specifically, but with His father on Burkhad.

Stas: With his father, yes, I apologize.

36:42 Archangel Uriel as the Angel ruling the "abyss".

Stas: Next question. In the Book of Enoch, Uriel is mentioned as the Angel who watches over Tartarus. This is the abyss and the prison for titans or giants. Why is this function assigned to him?

Irina (Uriel): The thing is that in one of the periods of my life – not in any body, but during the period of my existence as a Spirit – I was responsible for the embodiment of Spirits from the 16th to the 22nd level of density in one of the arms of the Milky Way Galaxy. That is, I was responsible for the embodiment of many – millions – plasmoid civilizations. And perhaps that is why it was reflected in the myths that I rule the “abyss”, because for a person, a plasmoid civilization is an incomprehensible abyss of worlds.

Stas: I see.

38:23 Archangel Uriel about Noah, Ezra and Enoch.

Stas: Okay, then the next question. In the same Book of Enoch it is mentioned that Uriel was the messenger who warned Noah about the coming cataclysm. Was this really so?

Irina (Uriel): The thing is that during the war that happened 12,000 years ago, I was not incarnated at that particular time. And Noah is again a collective name for a group of people who helped the representatives of the Interstellar Union save other people and representatives of the earth's flora and fauna. And indeed, I contacted them, but from the Spiritual World. With some of them (shows).

Stas: And Uriel is also mentioned in the book of Ezra as an Angel sent to Ezra in response to his prayers and requests to answer questions related to the fate of the people of Israel. Is this true?

Irina (Uriel): I know who it is, it is indeed one of my contactees, and he was also in contact with Metatron. By the way, Enoch, or Hanoch, about whom you just asked, was an incarnation of Metatron. And Ezra was also an incarnation of one Spirit.

(Irina) He shows it to me, I don't know him, he is also an Archangel, and later he was incarnated as one of the Apostle Paul's co-workers. Yes, I understood who it is. He is showing me images now.

40:51 Uriel on the concept of "Archangel".

Irina (Uriel): I want to say that Archangels are those Angels who manage councils of other Angels. Usually, this is the name given to Angels from the 22nd to the 24th level of the Spiritual World, but not all of them, but to those who have taken upon themselves the mission of managing some council of Angels, or, as you say, higher beings. Sometimes, in rare cases, an Angel from the 17th to the 21st level can also be called an Archangel – in the event that he created a large council of Angels and put a lot of work, a lot of effort into its activities.

That is, an Archangel is not a level, but simply a job. That is why I am now telling you who an Archangel is, so that you understand that this is not just a level, but a certain service that can be entrusted to any Angel. But, of course, at his desire and consent.

Accordingly, Ezra is the same Spirit who was later incarnated into the Apostle Luke, and he is now also incarnate.

Stas: On Earth?

Irina: Yes, I even know who it is, he showed it to me, I know who it is.

Stas: Interesting. There are many incarnate apostles now.

Irina (Uriel): Yes, because the Earth is going through one of the key periods of its development, so many apostles have incarnated here. Other worlds of the Interstellar Union have already gone through this period, but the Earth is yet to go through it, and for some it will be a difficult period, for others an easy period, but, undoubtedly, for everyone it will be bright, because it will bring Light to everyone.

Stas: Excellent! Good words, inspiring. Thank you.

43:29 Archangel Uriel on contacts with Leonardo da Vinci and other scientists.

Stas: Well, and the next question. We had a broadcast with Leonardo da Vinci, and the Spirit of Leonardo da Vinci said that he had contact – although he did not know about it then, but later, after disembodiment, he received this information, that when writing many of his religious works, paintings, he had contact, received information and images from Archangel Uriel. Is this really so?

Irina (Uriel): Yes, I contacted him. I generally like to contact various scientists, as well as religious figures. But not those who fanatically defend their rights, imposing faith on others, but those religious figures who are open to the opinions of other people, other faiths and try to see sparks of Divine Love in all people.

For example, besides Leonardo da Vinci, I also had contact with Isaac Newton and Konstantin Tsiolkovsky, and even when Yuri Gagarin came to the church to light candles, I also felt him, came and embraced him with my wing.

Stas: This is probably also one of the reasons why Archangel Uriel is considered the Angel of Wisdom – because he contacts precisely those people who have such a purpose of incarnation.

Irina (Uriel): Yes, perhaps, but I have already said that initially this scroll denotes the Torah. And at one time it was not only a religious, but a completely scientific work.

45:53 Archangel Uriel about his favorite stones and plans for incarnation on Earth.

Stas: Okay, then a question about contacting your Spirit. What stone or mineral helps strengthen contact with your Spirit?

Irina (Uriel): I really love stones: amethyst, sapphire, heliotrope and diamond.

Stas: And a question regarding the Earth and your plans. Is it among your plans to incarnate on Earth in the 21st century among us, among earthlings?

Irina (Uriel): Yes, I am already thinking about this, and I want to immediately assure my contacts that if I decide to incarnate in any world, this will not interfere with contacts with you in any way, because when a Spirit, who is the curator of many incarnated Spirits, incarnates, his Higher Self continues to contact them through a phantom.

That is, it will not interfere, and I really plan to incarnate, but a little later, in about 30 years, when the Earth will, one might say, be going through another stage of quantum transition, and the Earth may face another danger of its destruction. I want to incarnate in the country that will play a key role on the path of all earthlings to peace, prosperity and justice. I want to bring the Law of God again to hearts blinded by pride, ignorance and egoism.

Stas: Wonderful. How good to know that eventually, in the future, but not very distant, you will incarnate among us, that's wonderful. This help will be invaluable.

Irina (Uriel): Good. I will choose my parents from those families who are not afraid of God, but are afraid of being left without God and going into the Darkness. And only one's own heart, filled with vices and evil, can leave one without God, and here the word "fear" is not used in its main meaning, as a negative emotion. The true meaning of the words "fear of God" denotes the reasonable caution of any person in dealing with his secret desires, which can be distorted in many ways by his own emotional blocks.

And also, "the fear of God" means a careful and gentle attitude with the enormous potential energy embedded in your body, which is called "instinct". Here, caution is necessary so that this "fire" can turn into the Light of Divine Love in your heart, and not burn your Soul. And it is precisely those men and women who understand this and implement it in their daily life and spiritual practice that I will seek as my parents. Wherever they live, in whatever country, and whatever faith they profess, I will see the purity of their intentions and the Love of their hearts.

Stas: Excellent. We all wish you a wonderful incarnation and fulfillment of all your tasks of this incarnation!

Irina (Uriel): Yes, I have already looked through, since I am in the Spiritual world, the options for my incarnation. There are several of them, in fact, and they take place on the territory of different countries. I have five options - two options in Israel, one option in Russia, and one option each in India and America.

Stas: Wherever you incarnate, I am still sure that you will bring a contribution to all of humanity, help to all of humanity.

Irina (Uriel): Thank you.

50:33 Archangel Uriel's parting words to earthlings.

Stas: Finally, I would like to ask you to say some parting words to us, earthlings, during this period. What would you convey to us?

Irina (Uriel): I would like to convey to you a wish that you remember that God is the being who made your life possible in this world. And everything you have belongs to God. Even you belong to God, as His separated energy. And when you begin to understand this, you will begin to feel that you belong to Love. And that very expression, “slave of God,” which repels many people, will turn into the expression “slave of Love” for you. He who becomes a slave of Love, ceases to be a slave of hatred. And I wish you to always serve Love, because by serving it, you will never be deceived and unhappy.

Stas: Thank you. Yes, we try to serve Love day after day.

Irina: "Slave of Love." (laughs) Interesting expression.

Stas: Okay, thank you very much! That's all I have, I've run out of questions.

Irina: Yes, I thank Archangel Uriel, it was very interesting. It turns out that Moses, where he lived, is also very interesting.

So, thank you, Stas. Thank you, dear friends, for watching this video, for your support. I love you all and send you the Light of my Love and gratitude. Until next time!

Stas: Bye.

What to do if your husband raises his hand? Causes of physical violence in the family

Question: "People often have this happen, for example, a husband regularly beats his wife and says: "Forgive me," as if this "Forgive me" means: pretend that it didn't happen, and then, when I beat you, endure it, pretend that it's not happening."

If he did it again, he cancelled the request for forgiveness. He returned to the act for which he asked for forgiveness, and therefore, he returned to the previous vibrations, he did not change. He did not change in himself that mental attitude and that emotion, that feeling that led him to violence, to beatings.

He has a block against his wife, whom he beats. This means that he has not forgiven her for something in the past. Perhaps he has not forgiven his mother for something, for beatings, and now he beats his wife, as if taking revenge on the entire female sex, female energy. If he has a daughter, he may beat the daughter too. If he is asked: "Why are you doing this?" - if you talk to him seriously, it is quite possible that he will say: "I don't know. Well, she irritates me." "What irritates you about her?" "Well, I don't know: she walked by, sat down the wrong way, dropped a crumb on the floor."

You can find any excuse. It's not about her. It's about his block, which he doesn't want to dissolve. If he said, "I'm sorry," the wife needs to ask, "Have you forgiven me for that action that you didn't like then? And in general, have you forgiven me for everything, for all my mistakes? Have you forgiven your mother?"

It is necessary to inquire about the relationship with the mother, because the use of physical force by a man against a woman often speaks precisely of childhood traumas, when a woman used force against him, because he was weaker. Or, perhaps, with an older sister. Such cases also happen.

It happens, but less often, when a father beats, he accumulates a block, but he is afraid to beat a man, so he takes out his anger on a woman. If he beats, if he easily breaks into a fight, you need to ask him: "I will forgive you, but then you did not cope with your irritation?" He will say: "Well, yes, I did not cope." "And have you forgiven me for all my mistakes that led you to this irritation? Do you still have any grudges against me? And have you forgiven your mother if she beat you?" You need to talk to him.

If you don't talk to him, he'll say, "I'm sorry," to save this relationship, maybe he's afraid to be alone, without his wife. But if he hasn't dissolved the block, it will happen again. And, especially if she forgives him, he'll just tell himself that she values him so much, loves him so much, that she herself is afraid to live without him, no matter how he treats her. Then he won't have any incentive to change himself. Changing yourself is always stressful. It's almost always painful, psychologically painful. You have to go back to the past, remember all this. You don't want to do this. You want to go along the beaten track.

But if a woman tolerates physical beatings from any person, it means that she does not love herself. She stays in a relationship with a person who damages her physical body. It means that she does not love her body. And if she does not love herself, she cannot show true love to this man, that is, she does not love him either. By staying with him, she contributes to his further degradation, to an even greater lowering of his vibrations and his departure into darkness. This is not love. This is contributing to his degradation. It is already clear that he does not want to change himself.

How much to forgive, how much to endure and when it will be clear:

after the first time, after the tenth time, it is up to the woman to decide. This is her responsibility, this is her life and her body. If she stays in this relationship for a long time, she does not love herself. She needs to work on herself, on establishing her psychological boundaries, on loving herself. Even if she leaves him, she needs to talk to her Higher Self. Ask what brought her together with this person, when she will leave him. Forgive him from a distance, send him the Light of Love, so that there are no blocks in her. Then ask the Higher Self for what reason they met this person, what attracted them to each other, what lesson they went through together, what lesson she went through, what lesson he went through, whether they went through the lesson, especially whether she went through this lesson.

If the answer is "no", ask: "What didn't I pass?", "What should I do to avoid meeting such a person again, to work through this lesson?" It is necessary to talk in great detail with your Higher Self, otherwise these relationships may repeat themselves.

Ilya: Good evening, friends! I am glad to welcome you to the channel "Cassiopeia". My name is Ilya Aleksandrov. Today I will be broadcasting with you instead of Maxim. Please share in the comments how you can see and hear.

(reads comments) Good to hear, good to see. Excellent, thank you for your response!

Congratulations on this bright holiday of Palm Sunday. Today we have a wonderful broadcast with the Holy Spirit, who is already here. It is felt magnificently in the energy. The spirit of Xenia of Petersburg. I thank Xenia for coming to us and spending this wonderful festive evening with us.

Let me repeat for everyone who doesn't know me: my name is Ilya Aleksandrov, I am one of the teachers at the Cassiopeia school, the head of the School of Mental Health within our large project.

Taking this opportunity, I would like to thank Maxim and Irina from the bottom of my heart on behalf of all the heads of our schools. And our project has a lot of interesting things. This is a school where you can study psychology and become a psychologist, for which I am responsible, along with my co-host, co-organizer - Larisa Astashevskaya. There is also a wonderful school "Gikhor", where you can study cosmoenergetics, become its master. We have a school "In the flow", where Alleiya teaches various techniques, including Reiki. There is a school "Sacral", where Maria Sokalskaya gathered everyone-everyone-everyone under her wing - all the masters who have their own interesting projects. There is Guzel Maliarova with our wonderful "Cosmohealing" and with her school, where she teaches contacts. In general, we have a huge number of projects, a huge number of schools.

On behalf of all the leaders, I would like to sincerely thank Irina and Maxim. Irina – for this life task that she has taken upon herself. For the enormous power to carry all the knowledge that she passes on to us. And Maxim – for his courage. For being able to say: "Guys, there are aliens!" Who among us would be ready for this? To sit in front of the camera, as I am sitting now, and say. Maxim, respect! Irina, we love you! Thank you for giving us the opportunity to carry the light of knowledge to the masses. And on the terms of "donation". So I express my deep gratitude on behalf of all our leaders and students of all the schools that are part of the Cassiopeia Project.

If anyone wants to come to us, touch Irina or maybe wants to touch me

– we can meet in the near future. There will be a “live” conference, and it is much more interesting to participate in a live conference, because, being now in the energies that the Spirit transmits, I feel that I am hot. I am already sweating under my T-shirt for sure. And this is an indescribable feeling. We will have a conference in the near future – May 3 in Irkutsk, a one-day one, where you can personally attend and ask questions to the Spirit or group that you choose yourself (several always come). We will be glad to meet with those who want to immerse themselves in knowledge, learn to communicate with the Higher Self, work with blocks, learn what astral travel is, what regression is, immerse themselves in the science of imagery.

Oh, and by the way, you can learn to stand on nails! I am responsible for that. We are waiting for you at the retreat in Thailand. Honestly, after Israel, I am afraid to say in advance what will happen at the upcoming retreat. Because when we came to Israel, we did not plan to go to the place where Jesus preached the Sermon on the Mount. However, it so happened that we went there, and it was unforgettable. So I have no idea what will happen in Thailand, friends. But it is always very powerful and the curators lead, clearly understanding why we need to go there, and we follow them. So let's meet in person. And I know that not everyone can come to Russia, to Voronezh. Many are watching us abroad. And it seems to me that Thailand is one of the best places to meet and hug!

Thank you for being with us, for listening, supporting "Cassiopeia", our schools. Thank you Irina, Maxim for this. A wonderful Project that simply turns your mind upside down. And thank you to our Ksenia, who came to us, and I will not delay you any longer. Let's move on to the air. I give you Irina.

06:42 Greetings from Irina and the Spirit of Xenia of Petersburg.

Irina: Greetings to all, dear friends! Hello! I congratulate you on the Feast of the Entry of the Lord into Jerusalem. And today, all believers in Christ, who love him, celebrate with him the triumph he experienced when he entered Jerusalem. Or rather, he did not enter, but rode in on a donkey. This was the fulfillment of the prophecy that Jerusalem would be visited in this way by the King of Israel. Why the King of Israel? Because he was the founder of the egregor of Israel, the Jews, the Judaism of this country. He himself created this egregor when he was in the body of the alien Yahweh, that is, an alien from the planet Tumesout.

Today we have a topic about the Spirit of Xenia of Petersburg. She is already here, I invited her to come. Her energy is very similar, by the way, to the energy of Matrona of Moscow, with whom we already had a broadcast. I even caught myself now wanting to call her Matrona. Nevertheless, there is a difference.

Ksenia of Petersburg - this is what she is called by her place of residence. She lived in Petersburg and is one of the curators of the city and the region, as well as an assistant to Sergei Radonezhsky in his curatorship over Russia. That is, she is the spiritual patron of this city. Or rather, one of the spiritual patrons. Another spiritual patron of the city of Petersburg is John of Kronstadt. Ksenia now tells me that she communicates with him.

So, she welcomes you and is ready to answer questions. What questions do you have for her? I see that there are already questions.

Ilya: Yes, I have prepared the questions. From the Q&A chat, and I will also read your questions on YouTube. Write them here.

10:15 Spiritual level of Xenia of Petersburg. Number of incarnations. Life tasks.

Ilya: The first question, already familiar to us: from what level did Xenia of Petersburg incarnate?

Irina: She is not incarnated now. She is in the Spiritual World now. She incarnated into Ksenia's body from the 8th level, and left for the 19th. That is, she is now at the level of the Angels-Prophets.

Ilya: So, after Xenia of Petersburg there were no incarnations?

Irina: No, there have been no more incarnations yet, because I decided to remain a spiritual beacon for those people who ask me for help, without being distracted by incarnation. In the Spiritual World, I pray to God for them and help them establish contacts with their Guardian Angels, with subtle-material civilizations. And I also have contactees. I simply call contactees my children, with whom I communicate.

Ilya: And how many contactees are there?

Irina: 314.

Ilya: Are they all from Russia?

Irina: Not only from Russia. There are some from Greece, there are some from America, there are some from Germany, even from Australia.

Ilya: What is needed in order to become your contact and communicate with you?

Irina: I need your desire and appeal to me.

Ilya: And what is the correct way to address you? Maybe there is some kind of prayer?

Irina: “Blessed Xenia, pray to God for us (for me).”

Ilya: Thank you!

Irina: “Blessed” means I am in a state of bliss.

Ilya: Or maybe there is some day or place of power where this prayer reaches better, more efficiently?

Irina: I am the patroness of the city of St. Petersburg, I lived there, and my physical body is there, which I left behind, and through which my energy manifests. My body is buried not far from where I lived. There is also a mosque nearby. These are the places where you can feel my energy, my power, and learn a lot about me. What does it mean to “feel the energy”? It means to receive information and visit the places where this person lived.

Ilya: Thank you! It turns out that the believers who come to the grave are doing the right thing? There is a chapel on the grave now – did you know about that?

Irina: Yes. She is now showing me a ball of white-yellow energy, like a dome.

Ilya: What were the life goals for the embodiment of Xenia of Petersburg?

Irina: Life tasks - to manifest in myself feminine energies of care, softness, tenderness and learn to heal people. And there was also a task to raise children, but not my own, but to help women who have children to raise them correctly.

Ilya: Did you complete them?

Irina: Yes, I did.

Ilya: Excellent, thank you! Were there any other significant incarnations on Earth or on other planets?

Irina: I had a total of 363 incarnations in the material world. Of these, 14 were on Earth. 5 earthly incarnations were in a dense body.

I have incarnated in Russia only once, and before that I incarnated twice in Africa, once in India and once in North America. But these were ordinary people, unknown men and women.

Ilya: Thank you for your answer!

16:15 The life of Xenia of Petersburg before marriage: birth, childhood, parents.

Ilya: In the descriptions of your life that we now have access to, nothing is said about the moments before marriage. Where were you born?

Irina: In St. Petersburg.

Ilya: Please tell us everything you think is necessary about your childhood and youth.

Irina: I was born in St. Petersburg in a religious family. I was the only daughter of my parents, but before that, three of their children had died from childhood diseases. I was the last one – the fourth and beloved daughter who survived.

My parents were believers. But I wouldn't call them nobles, they were more like merchants. My father's name was Grigoriy, he owned a shop where he sold sweets, and then he had a shop where a hired worker repaired shoes and clothes. My mother Pelageya was ill after she gave birth to me, and she was very worried about those three dead children. Her legs hurt, and she stayed at home.

Ilya: Where exactly in St. Petersburg did you live?

Irina: On Vasilievsky Island, not far from the Peter and Paul Fortress.

18:23 The spirit of Xenia of Petersburg about meeting her husband and his premature death.

Ilya: How and when did you meet your husband?

Irina: I met Andrey in church when I was almost an adult. I was about 15. Andrey was older than me and was of the same rank as my father, from the minor nobility. When he waited for me to come of age, we got married. We immediately understood that we were made for each other, because when we met, we began to be drawn to each other. And this means that the family is blessed by God if a woman and a man are interested in each other and they care for each other not out of duty, but from the heart.

Ilya: Interesting. This is how you can understand whether your partner is spiritual. Was your marriage planned by you?

Irina: Yes, this marriage was planned. But we had no children. I was even upset at one time, I spoke with a priest, Father Joseph. He told me: "Pray to God for children, but trust Him, and God will manage. If a person who will come to salvation can be born through you, then he will be born. If not, then he will not be born."

And I trusted God. And even before returning to the Spiritual World, I began to understand that my mission was different: not to be the mother of my child, but to “adopt” and “adopt” all people who need help. So that my motherly love could be extended to them.

Ilya: We had a question: did your husband cheat on you?

Irina: No, we were religious people and loved each other. He did not cheat on me, we saw each other in the Spiritual World. He also died of a serious illness: his joints hurt, then a fever started, a fever, his heart hurt a lot - and he died.

Ilya: What is the spiritual reason for his death?

Irina: He got to the 15th level. I went down to him and asked him about the reason why he left Earth so early. And he really had a spiritual reason, connected with spiritual problems. They were caused by bad, dirty feelings, thoughts, emotions towards his parents. He judged a lot. He loved me, but he judged other people and also judged his superiors. Evil power accumulated in the body - and because of this the body became ill. Although his lifespan was planned differently. He left the incarnation ahead of time.

23:56 The spirit of Xenia of Petersburg about her life after the death of her husband.

Ilya: After his death, the whole story of Blessed Xenia begins. And that decision to "swap places" with her husband. There were words that the husband did not die, but was reincarnated.

Irina: Yes, in me. I said this because after he died, I constantly felt his presence and constantly communicated with him mentally. I asked why this happened, and he answered that he did not repent before God for his condemnations, his irritation, his pride, and so on. And then I said that I would repent for him, but my Guardian Angel told me that each person can do this only for himself. Then I began to simply pray for my husband and send him light. And when I said that Andrey “lives for me,” I meant that I dedicated my whole life to praying for him.

Ilya: Thank you. And did it help him?

Irina: His level has remained the same. But at the moment he has been incarnated for more than 100 years. He reached the 15th level, and in 1903 he incarnated on the planet Disaru. Now I also communicate with him, and he is already at the angelic level - at the 18th, although his incarnation is still ongoing.

And I decided to remain outside of incarnation for now, although I was also offered to incarnate in many places, in many spaces.

Ilya: Thank you for your answer. And how did the decision to give away everything and dedicate your life to atoning for your husband's sins influence the passage of your path, the fulfillment of the tasks of incarnation?

Irina: When I prayed for him, that God would forgive his sins, I didn't mean that God was offended. I simply asked God to send him the maximum amount of his love, light and happiness that he could contain.

When I prayed for forgiveness of sins, this prayer went to my husband's consulting Angels, who, together with my Spirit (his non-embodied part), decided which incarnation to choose for Andrey so that he would get rid of what prevented him from fulfilling his tasks this time. It was such a motivating energy.

As for giving everything away: this property was acquired by my husband, through his military service (he received a salary as an officer), and I decided that the energy he had accumulated in the material world should not go to me or his relatives, but to the poor people who would pray for him. As a sign of gratitude for the alms I gave away.

Ilya: Thank you. Was this decision already made in the implementation or was it also planned?

Irina: This decision was made by me after my husband left incarnation.

29:30 Ability to foresee the future. Curators. Prayers of Xenia. Incarnation before Xenia of Petersburg.

Ilya: Did you already have those abilities, if you can call them that, to see the future from birth?

Irina: No, there weren't any. They appeared to me only after 20 years out of 50 of my path as a hermit. Or rather, I wasn't a hermit, but simply a person who, like Jesus Christ, doesn't have a place to live, lives with friends and constantly prays. Because I gave everything away, including selling my house where we lived, I began to live simply in the city. Walking the streets, walking through the fields - it depended on the time of year. But I didn't just walk, I prayed, I devoted all my time to praying for Andrey. Also for my parents, who by that time had also already rested in God.

So I walked for 20 years. And after that I began to feel what would happen to this or that person and what he should do so that everything would be fine for him. People began to sympathize with me, they began to give me advice. When I reached a certain spiritual level - my spiritual eyes opened, I began to see options for how a person should act so that he would have a better fate, so that he would stand on the bright line of fate, let's say.

Ilya: Thank you. Who were your curators?

Irina: Jesus Christ, Seraphim of Sarov, the Mother of God, Panteleimon the Healer, George the Victorious.

Ilya: Have you already communicated with them in the Spiritual World?

Irina: Yes, I communicated mentally. I asked them for advice about my life or about other people – and they answered me mentally.

Ilya: Thank you. "Prayer in the field, God is heard there better" - such an expression existed in life.

Irina: Yes.

Ilya: Please explain what this means.

Irina: What I meant was that in the field I was surrounded by nature. Firstly, there was silence, because there were no people and there was no worry that someone would come up to me and distract me with some question. And secondly, the energy, the atmosphere of nature is more conducive to prayer, because everything there is done according to God's laws. And in the city the atmosphere is heavier, because some people, being rational beings with free choice, sometimes deviate from the path of Light, harmony, from the path of God. By doing this, they bring dissonance and chaos into the general energy atmosphere of the place where they live.

Ilya: Thank you. And can I ask what prayer you prayed?

Irina: I prayed in different ways: “Heavenly King,” and “Rejoice, Virgin Mary,” and “Lord, Jesus Christ, Son of God.” And I said it in my own words.

Ilya: Thank you. They write a question in the YouTube chat: what led to the 8th level? What was the incarnation before Ksenia, who ended up on the 8th level?

Irina: Before Ksenia, I was incarnated at the 22nd level of density, in the star system in the constellation Scorpio. And I was brought to the 8th level by some disdain and condemnation of the power structure. There was even resentment towards God.

Ilya: And from what level was the incarnation there?

Irina: It was there from the 12th. Since I was incarnated in a plasmoid civilization before Ksenia, since childhood the energy of my aura was very suitable for contacts with plasmoid civilizations. They communicated with me since childhood. I saw some balls, all sorts of gnomes.

Ilya: So, you have had contact with plasmoid civilizations since childhood?

Irina: Yes.

Ilya: And was there contact with other humanoids in Ksenia’s incarnation?

Irina: No, there wasn’t.

36:24 Prayers to Xenia of Petersburg. Work on church holidays. The meaning of the holiday for a believer.

Ilya: Thousands of people pray to you every day. How do you hear these words of prayer? How do you choose who to help?

Irina: I feel the energy of the heart. I don't hear sounds, I feel the energy of the heart and the desire of the person who prays to me.

The prayer of any person is the direction of the energy of their desires, their thoughts, their feelings. If you imagine me or look at my icon and wish that your prayer would reach me, in the Spiritual world prayer overcomes this distance instantly. And since there is no time there and there is no need for sleep, for example, because there is no body that could sleep, I listen to people's requests around the clock, if you count by earthly time, I come to them and can also create phantoms, come in the form of Angels.

Ilya: And how do you choose who to help?

Irina: I don't choose, I can help everyone, regardless of their religion. As long as this person is pure in heart, strives for good. I don't help with evil requests. But evil forces, evil entities that are nearby can hear them and try to fulfill this desire.

Ilya: Are there any specific requests that go best in the egregor of your space? For example, about health or well-being.

Irina: Many people pray to me about family, about the birth of children, about the healing of relatives, about reconciliation in the family.

Ilya: Thank you. Question from YouTube chat: why can't you work on holidays? Where do the prohibitions come from on holidays, especially saints?

Irina: The thing is that people who live on Earth understand spiritual advice as an instruction. In the Spiritual World, these words are understood as advice on what to pay primary attention to. On holidays, it is recommended to pay more attention to the event of this holiday, to what this holiday means for people, what it teaches. And it is imperative, based on this lesson, to look into your heart. This requires distraction from earthly vanity, so it is recommended not to work. But people perceive this as an instruction that they cannot work. God and his true spiritual teachers do not give such strict orders. They give only spiritual advice, because an order deprives one of freedom of choice, and spiritual advice always leaves freedom of choice.

A person should pay attention to a spiritual holiday, to its meaning. For example, get up in the morning, read about this holiday, pray to those spiritual figures who are remembered on this day, and ask yourself: "What does his life teach?" or "What does the event celebrated on this day teach?" Listen to yourself, look into your heart and you can even establish mental contact with a spiritual figure.

For example, let's take the holiday of Easter or today's holiday of the Lord's Entry into Jerusalem and see how spiritual teachers recommend celebrating this holiday. What does it mean to "celebrate"? To make it noticeable, to single it out from a series of days similar to one another. You mark some significant day for you on the calendar. In the modern world, the word "celebrate" is more often understood as "celebrate". But in fact, "celebrate" means "to make important".

And today is the day of the Lord's Entry into Jerusalem, which in Russia is called Palm Sunday. Every year it is celebrated on Sundays at different times, depending on the Jewish lunar calendar, and specifically on the holiday of Passover. Few plants come to life after winter by this day in Russia. Most often it is the pussy willow, a type of willow. It can open its "catkins" very early, even when the snow has not completely melted. And for this reason it is the pussy willow that is traditionally brought into the house as a remembrance. Of what? Of the fact that when Jesus Christ rode a donkey to Jerusalem, people who loved him plucked palm leaves and laid them on the road in front of him along with their clothes. But there are no palm trees in Russia.

Ilya: Yes, we don't have palm trees. Thank you for your detailed answer.

Irina: Spiritual teachers suggest remembering what this holiday teaches. To glorify God. Why glorify God? Not because God needs your glory. He is already all-glorious, all glory belongs to Him. But when you glorify God, you thank Him and thus raise your vibrations and your level of love. This is more necessary for people than for God. This is what the holiday teaches.

Ilya: So, if you work with a pure heart and remember the holiday, then no sin is committed?

Irina: Sin is committed only if you move away from God. And work itself does not turn away from God. If the primary focus was on the spiritual meaning of the holiday and a person then works, having prayed to God, then there is no sin. But if he forgets about God, then on any day he commits a sin in that, forgetting about God and doing his material affairs, he is already moving away from Him.

Ilya: Thank you. So don't worry, those who work on holidays. You can work, remembering God.

Irina: Yes, by praying to him. Prayer to God is a conversation, it is a talk with him.

45:47 The spirit of Xenia of Petersburg on notes left in the chapel about civil marriage and wedding.

Ilya: About the conversation. It is customary to leave notes at your chapel. Do their energies reach or is this made up?

Irina: When a person writes them, he thinks about me – and this energy, this idea that is written there, is already in my spiritual mind. The notes are not needed by me, but by those people who write and put them, so that their faith in the fact that I can see and help increases. Because all people are not only spiritual, but also material beings. While they are in the body, material actions are important to them. And these notes remind them of such a material action as sending a letter. This is their material expression of faith.

Ilya: Letter to the Spiritual World.

Irina: Yes. Of course, if a person has strong faith, he can ask me without a note, I will still hear him. But many people look at the appearance, at the external attributes - it is important to them. I even know that some, when they come to the temple of God, do not look at the service, do not listen to what is happening at the service, but look at the external decoration of the temple, at its beauty, at how old the icons are, pay attention to other believers: how they are dressed, how they behave. People are material beings, they are designed that way. Until they leave the body, they look at the material world and through the material world they comprehend the Spiritual world.

Ilya: Thank you for your answer. Now a question that we even asked Jesus at the Sermon on the Mount. About civil marriages, your attitude towards civil marriages.

Irina: This is without a wedding?

Ilya: Without a wedding, without registration with government agencies – just the cohabitation of two people without any legal or spiritual contracts, so to speak.

Irina: My attitude is very simple. What is registration for? To confirm your decision, to tell the state that this is your firm decision, which you will not change. After all, when you enter into an officially registered marriage, you do not plan that you can separate? If it is a real marriage, there is no such plan.

Therefore, I believe that if there is such an opportunity to register a marriage, then it is possible (I would not say that it is necessary, because everyone decides for themselves) to do it for yourselves, as a confirmation of your love for each other. Again, we remember that a person is material. Cohabitation is simply spiritual love for each other. And a stamp, as you say, in a passport is considered more material. But you are also material beings, you have a body, so here, as with notes, it is important for some. Talk frankly with each other: even if it is not important for you, you can ask how important it is for your other half. And if she or he says that it is important, acting out of love will mean officially strengthening your marriage, your cohabitation. This is what concerns civil registration of marriage.

As for the wedding, everything is even simpler. The wedding is not an official marriage. It is a request to God in prayer for a blessing. And the whole church prays. An ordained priest, on behalf of his community of believers, addresses God with a request for a blessing, and God, seeing that His children are asking for His blessing for this marriage, sends them energy. The thing is that God does not automatically send this energy, because He waits for us to turn to Him ourselves. Just as a loving father will not force-feed a child when he is not hungry.

Those who realize that they need Divine grace and ask for it, including when creating a family, are blessed. Theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven - this means that they are already residents of the Kingdom of Heaven, although they still continue to live in the body.

Ilya: Thank you for your detailed answer!

52:01 The Spirit of Xenia of Petersburg on the timing of the end of the SVO.

Ilya: There are a lot of questions on a disturbing topic. Matrona was asked about the deadlines for the end of the SVO - they do not coincide with the current reality. They are asking for new ones.

Irina: Yes, they do not. I know, I communicate with her too, by the way. Irina said that my energy is similar to the energy of Matrona of Moscow. This is not surprising, because we are really close to each other and are close friends, girlfriends - there is no gender in the Spiritual world anymore. There is just a memory of the last body. And the Spirits themselves, as you know, have no gender. Naturally, they can imagine themselves as either a woman or a man, but their very nature is genderless.

What was the question?

Ilya: The end dates of the SVO.

Irina: I know that Matrona, through Irina (or rather, through the egregor of "Cassiopeia", which I also know about) spoke about the timing of the end of the SVO. And not only Matrona, but also the Mother of God.

(reads comments) No sound? How can you hear me, please?

Ilya: No sound. Two people are already writing: "No sound."

(reads comments) I can hear it. So those people have no sound, everything is fine.

Irina: Excellent. Otherwise they wrote to me there.

(reads comments) Freezing? Interesting. Energy – I just see a white silhouette above me now.

Ilya: It got hotter.

Irina: Yes, thank you for the feedback! As for the timing of the SVO, as you call these terrible and Earth-crippling actions of some people. Naturally, all this has a very negative effect on the spiritual level of many people, on the purity of the earthly noosphere, as you call it, on the spiritual atmosphere of this place. There is a possibility that this will negatively affect many generations of people ahead, on their memory. There will be negative images in the memory that will provoke mutual hatred of closely related peoples.

"When will this horrible "Special Military Operation" end? What is the time frame?" The thing is that when Matrona and the Mother of God were answering about the time frame, at that time there really was a possibility that in March 2023 everything would end with the signing of a peace treaty. There was such a possibility, and there were plans to sign it. I even know that...

Jesus Christ on Religion and Spirituality

Any religion without Love turns into self-deception. Any highest temples that you build, the brightest and purest places of power that you go to are simple human structures.

Yes, they are filled with the energy of plasmoids, but they are simply the same Spirits as you, but in subtle bodies. If you yourself do not have Love, it will not bring any benefit to your spiritual development and can even lead to degradation. Refusing to develop Love in yourself, even despite the great means that other spiritual Teachers give you, you thereby show disdain for the gifts of God.

Those civilizations that you call "yeti" are on their own path of development. They teach their children to love nature, to love themselves, their tribe, and to concentrate on developing faith. Faith is a feeling that sets in motion enormous Spiritual energy and can really change the world. And that is why they can teleport, fly, etc. In their practice, they fulfill those commandments that were given to Apostle Mark. He outlined them in the 16th chapter of his Gospel.

It says there that anyone who believes in me ("believing in me" I meant believing in himself in me and in me in himself) can do the things that I did. It is listed that he can heal the sick, change matter in a certain way. They, even without being in a Christian religious egregor, when they receive communion, find in themselves, in their Souls, the Light of Love and faith, which helps them to improve.

00:02 Project "Cassiopeia" News.

Maxim: Hooray! Hooray! Hooray! Hooray! Hello everyone, dear friends. In general, guys, how can you hear me - the first question, and can you even hear us now?

Christ is risen! Of course, guys, I really want to congratulate you on a very big holy holiday for every Christian - this is Easter! Happy holiday of the resurrection of Christ! Christ is risen!

(Reads the chat) Hello everyone. Max, can you hear me? Thank you, Lena. He is risen indeed! Guys.

Therefore, I want to congratulate everyone on this wonderful big holiday. And on this big holiday, we have a very interesting guest today. From the cover of the broadcast, you probably already understood that this is the phantom of Christ, who is with us now.

But before we go live, as always, you know, I like to torment you with various news. More precisely, maybe to torment someone, and to please someone that we have news at all, that we are growing, developing, that our Project is moving forward by leaps and bounds. And I am very happy about this and thank all of ours, all of our schools.

We have many schools - this is the school "Mental Healing", where the head is Ilya Alexandrov. By the way, the school "Mental Healing" has now officially registered the Institute of Transpersonal Psychology. We are now an official state organization, as is the Project "Cassiopeia". There, in this institute, Ilya Alexandrov as the rector will teach you the basics, the foundations of psychology and advanced things in psychology, which open up various interesting messages in esotericism. Congratulations, Ilya! Thank you for the last broadcast that you held. The broadcast was wonderful. Therefore, I congratulate Ilya and the project "Mental Healing" on officially receiving a license, and registering the program with the Ministry of Education. Therefore, Ilyukha, my sincere congratulations!

In addition to the “Mental Healing” project, we have in the “Cassiopeia” Project such a project as “Cosmohealing”, our dear Guzel is the mother of the Pleiades, who works with the Intergalactic Medical Service, as we called it.

(Chat) Let's be friends. "Maxim is cool." No, not cool, just the way he is, the simplest, the most unusual. Sometimes it's so funny for me to read your comments, guys. But it's really nice that we have you, that you write these comments.

The Cosmohealing project, where our Gulechka, Guzel Maliarova, is the leader. She recently had a retreat. At this retreat, you are all engaged in healing – this is one of the most interesting projects in the Cassiopeia Project.

In addition to the Mental Healing project, we have a School in the Flow, where there is a master named Alleiya, who has various types, energy practices, who is engaged in training, she has whole huge different directions. She has a direction called the Tree of the Pillar. By the way, soon this direction, the Tree of the Pillar, will be with us in Israel, she will conduct training. Therefore, you can find the link on our website or in the information channel Info Cassiopeia.

In addition to the School in the "Tree of the Pillar" stream, there are also various other schools that have entered the "Cassiopeia" Project, they are happy to develop together with us and, accordingly, pass on knowledge to you, if these are non-traveling events...

(Chat) No sound? Oksanochka, my dear, no need to hate here. There is sound. I know for sure, I understand for sure.

We have other schools and other directions, in addition to all the projects that are in the Cassiopeia Project. And the most important thing is that we are always waiting for new directions in our Project.

Today we have a new group coming for training – this is the first stage of contacteeship. Before that, the group “Healing through the Higher Self” left – this group is not for “schizoterics”, it is for those who just want to improve their health, because our Voronezh Health Center has a lot of new equipment that corrects etheric fields, and restores energy matrices, and works with the physical body at the cellular level. So come, we are always glad to see you in our center.

(Chat) Happy holiday to you. And happy holiday to you all. In general, today, you know, is a very interesting day. And I have one very interesting piece of news, I learned it just recently. I started to feel very bad, I started to feel unwell. I wonder, what is going on? How can I look at all this on an energetic level, what is going on?

Dear friends, stop making etheric mental and any magical attacks. It only makes me stronger. If you think that, having got rid of me in the Project, you will be able to live peacefully and set prices for spiritual knowledge, then I want to disappoint you, I am not going to leave the incarnation. More than 19 magical attacks have been committed this month. You teach me to recognize these attacks, you teach me to be stronger. By the way, you know, I want to shake your hand. The attacks were strong. They even affected me on a physical level. Therefore, class, well done. Continue studying, studying, working, attacking and teaching me how to properly work with your energetic magical attacks through the Light of true Love, through your etheric field, through those structures, through those matrices that are with me. In general, you know, I will not even send anything back to you. As the head of the Project, I clearly understand that something is wrong in your Soul if you do such things. If you do this, it means that you have big problems with receiving the Love that our Project transmits. And I want to send you the Light of my Love and the Light of Love of our entire Project, which will give you the opportunity to feel what we were created for, what we work for in principle.

(Chat) "Max, stop promoting yourself." Batrbek Kusov, listen, I'm not promoting myself at all. I just have 10 minutes of my airtime that we've determined. I really want to report different news, different moments.

Therefore, I really think to myself: “Why do people need this?” I will even try to ask the phantom of Jesus Christ today: “Why do people do such things?” Do they really think that if they get rid of one person, they will be able to get rid of the entire Project? It is impossible to get rid of the entire Project, guys. The Project is very large, it has grown very much, and I am here as a leader, I just watch, I keep an eye on this Project to ensure that it is within the legal framework of our state. Therefore, the fact that you are arranging these attacks on me will not affect the entire Project in any way. And especially with such friends, with our star friends, who can always tell me how to work correctly with this flow of energy that you send to me. I am even very happy, because you really teach me. This is a very good teaching. This is very good work, and I will try to have even more Love, so that no magical attack can penetrate through this Love.

I would like to remind you that we have opened an online store "Cassiopeia". This online store has a huge number of cool products. One of them is probiotic microorganisms. If you have problems with your stomach, intestines, if you have some destructive formations inside you: polyps, fungi, then probiotic microorganisms will help you get rid of them, adjust the internal microflora, the microflora of your stomach, intestines. Can be taken from 0 years old, that is, even by small children. So do not worry. Go to the site, take a look.

We have a very cool product - this is "Cassiopeia Energy", a unique product in general, because it increases female libido dozens of times. Not to mention that it charges each cell with a huge energy potential. Almost the entire balanced periodic table is in "Cassiopeia Energy", which can allow your body to gain the strength and energy that you lack in everyday life.

Plus, the most important thing is that we will have a powerful retreat in Thailand. The Thai retreat is something unique. Almost all the knowledge of the Cassiopeia Project, all our most interesting interstellar friends will be present at this retreat, and, accordingly, you can receive absolutely all the knowledge that is in the Cassiopeia Project. The retreat, of course, is designed for people with great energy potential who are already working with people, but in principle, the presence of ordinary people is possible, because we cannot deprive you of the opportunity to receive the knowledge that we transmit. It's just that ordinary people will not take so much from this retreat, and many will simply not even feel or understand.

We are waiting for you at the Thai retreat. There is a link under this video, I know for sure that from the 5th to the 18th there will be two streams. And there are definitely no places left for one stream, so if anyone wanted to come to our retreat in Thailand, please sign up quickly, because there will be no places left by the end of this month.

Plus, as I already said, Alleyechka “Tree of the Pillar” will have a retreat in Israel.

And, if you want to get any consultation on the Cassiopeia Project, or learn about events, or find out where it is, what sites, meditations, services, content, you can always call the open phone number +7 (988) 910-00-40, Elena, she is my assistant - assistant to the Project Manager, and she will try to answer all your questions that arise in the process of your interest in our Project. If you suddenly call, did not get through, call, because she also has a working schedule, a working day. Sometimes it is better to write a message so that she can answer you later.

In general, you know, I am not surprised by all the things that are happening. And once again I want to congratulate everyone on this wonderful holiday of Easter, on this wonderful holiday of the Resurrection - the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. And I give the floor to our wonderful Irina - a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, a contactee with the Spiritual world, a contactee with subtle-material civilizations.

Irishenka, sit down. I am giving you the place, the word, "beautiful Bonacieux". What a beauty you are today.

12:45 Jesus Christ on the formation of the Easter holiday in the Christian egregor.

Irina: Hello everyone, dear friends. Good evening.

So. Christ is risen, dear friends. His Spirit, his phantom is with us today. He has already told me that conducting a live broadcast with him is already becoming a good tradition in the Cassiopeia Project, because this is the second live broadcast with him on this holiday.

Maxim: Yes, the first live broadcast, I confirm, was last Easter. I even saw a video of the live broadcast on one of the channels. By the way, I even forgot that we did a live broadcast that Easter.

Irina: We did a broadcast with him last Easter. And in fact, this is the second time we are doing a live broadcast, but we are not doing a live broadcast with him for the second time, but specifically on Easter for the second time. Because we also had a live broadcast outside of Easter, on another day.

And He greets everyone and says:

(Jesus Christ) I thank you, dear earthlings, for your Light of Love, which you send me on this day and on other days. Today, in all Christian churches, bright, solemn services are held, which are filled with delight, joy about my resurrection, and I feel this through the egregor of Christianity. I thank you all, my dear children, and send you the Light of my Love.

Maxim: I greet you, Jesus. I am very glad that we observe such an interesting tradition. We can always invite you on this wonderful holiday and ask you questions personally.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes.

Maxim: Please tell me, how did this holiday come into being in the Christian religious egregor?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Do you mean Easter?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Jesus Christ): This holiday was formed almost immediately after my Ascension. Already the first generations of apostles, my disciples, remembered the day of my Resurrection and the day of my Ascension, which was 40 days later. And they remembered all the years in which they were alive. And then they passed this tradition on to their disciples. And all this entered the apostolic canon.

And at the same time it was decided to celebrate Easter in different years on different days, because the Jewish holiday of Pesach or Jewish Passover is different every year, and the date of Christian Easter, that is, this holiday, which is now celebrated, depended on this day.

Maxim: So, in principle, the holiday of Easter came from the Jewish holiday of Passover?

Irina (Jesus Christ): You can say figuratively that it spiritually replaced the holiday of Passover, which was in Judaism. The fact is that the first Christians were often Jews, that is, they moved from the Jewish religious egregor to the Christian religious egregor. And they needed annual holidays, since they were accustomed to observing them in their religion. And one of the greatest holidays in Judaism is precisely Passover, that is, the Day of Deliverance from Egyptian slavery - the Day of the Exodus from Egypt. And just as the Jews were delivered from Egyptian slavery thanks to the fact that Moses, under my leadership, led them out of Egypt, so similarly, Christian believers are delivered from spiritual slavery through my Resurrection.

Maxim: Tell me, please, is it true that Moses led the Jews through the desert for 40 years?

Irina (Jesus Christ): 38 years old. Well, I didn't take them all the time, there were even a few years when they lived in one place and then moved to the next.

Maxim: Dear friends, we have a chat in addition to YouTube. There is a Telegram chat called "Question and Answer. Live". In today's broadcast I will try to voice the questions that you ask in this chat. Please go to the Telegram chat "Question and Answer. Live". And in this chat I will try to read the questions from here today.

18:40 Jesus Christ on how he spends Easter Day. The meaning of Communion.

Maxim: (Reads from the chat) “Dear Jesus, we send You the Light of our Love,” writes Irina.

How did you spend today and how do you usually spend the days when on Earth we celebrate Easter, Christmas and other Christian holidays?

Irina (Jesus Christ): How did I spend it physically, I mean, in the physical body? How did I spend it in the physical body?

Maxim: Yes. How will you spend this holiday and the holidays that we have here, in the physical body? What are you doing at this moment?

Irina (Jesus Christ): I receive a flow of Love, a flow of Faith, Hope and gratitude through the egregor, that is, a flow of high spiritual energies. And I send my energy in response. And since on this day people often take communion, the Eucharist takes place, I am busy raising my vibrations in order to cleanse the Souls of those who do it through the Eucharist.

Let me remind you for those who may not know. The Eucharist is the partaking of the Communion of my Blood and Flesh in the form of bread and wine. Physically, these substances remain bread and wine, and energetically, through a special rite, that is, an energetic action, they acquire the etheric matrix of my real Blood and Flesh. This happens in order to cleanse the believer of all the consequences of his sins, his negative actions and their causes. And so that this feeling is real, I pass everything through myself. And, raising my vibrations so that the dark spots (He now shows how there are such on a healthy apple) ... Imagine a fruit - an apple, there is a certain area, for example, affected by mold. That is, I pass all these affected states of the Soul through myself, and give people a healthy state. To do this, I need to raise my vibrations in such a way that all this, all this impurity burns in the Light of Divine Love.

Maxim: It turns out that through Communion you feel the energy of every person who touches you?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, I feel the energy of every person, and not only through Communion, but I feel the energy and state of the Soul of every person who turns to me, who prays to me.

Maxim: How is this even possible? There are a huge number of people and a huge amount of energy, emotions that you pass through yourself.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes. Since I am One with the Father, and the Father is One with Me, My abilities are equal to the Divine, and therefore I am as Omnipresent as He is, and as Omnipotent as He is. That is, I do not separate myself from Him. I AM the Father!

Maxim: Very interesting.

22:05 Crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Formation of other Christian movements.

Maxim: Tell me, please, there is such a question. They say that you were crucified right over the grave of Adam, the original Adam who was created?

Irina: If we take men, then 9 of them were created and 9 women.

Maxim: And nine women. But is it true what they say, that you were crucified right over the graves?

Irina (Jesus Christ): They were created in a different place. Not where Jerusalem is now, or where Golgotha was then. It was a different place. It was to the northwest. That is, the first people were created in the place where the Mediterranean Sea is now.

Maxim: Got it. Tell me, please, when you were resurrected, why do they say that many simply did not recognize you?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Because my vibrations changed, and when people looked at me, they had the feeling that they didn't know me. It's not so much a physical vision, it's a psychological experience.

Perhaps you have had such a situation, that you look at a familiar person and do not recognize him? They had such a state. Physically I looked the same, but because I had a different energy, the Soul of these people did not recognize me. The difference is that I passed my body through the Fire of Divine Truth and Love, high Divine energies, of which there are a great many, and changed the vibrations of my body, and it became different. Different in terms of properties, but in terms of appearance it remained the same.

Maxim: Dear Jesus, which of the Christian movements was the first: Orthodoxy, Catholics or Protestants?

Irina (Jesus Christ): None. Just Christianity. All this came later.

Maxim: It appeared later, and then everything was formed?

Irina (Jesus Christ): At first there was a small group of people, my disciples, which was called ecclesia - assembly. And Orthodoxy and Catholicism appeared only in the eleventh century. The first Protestants appeared in the 14th century, there were groups, and mainly in the 16th century.

25:03 Jesus Christ on the possibility of communion without observing fasting and rules.

Maxim: Tell me, please, is it possible to take communion without observing the fast and rules? Just come to church and take communion.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Of course, it is possible, if there are special circumstances, because not all churches, not all church leaders give communion during Lent. There are different traditions, in fact, including Protestants. They also give communion to their believers, and they may have traditions that are completely unrelated to Lent. Here, fasting before communion is more of a pious tradition so that a person who...

By the way, do you mean the three-day fast before communion, where there is no animal food, or do you mean fasting on the day of communion, where no food is recommended by some traditions? Because these are two different fasts. But I will tell you about both.

The thing is that all this is a pious tradition that came from monks, from those who, through asceticism, sought the Light in themselves, in their hearts, and united with me. Refusal of certain types of food and limiting themselves in food helped them with this. Because an abundance of tasty, high-energy food could ignite their flesh, their carnal desires. But they did not need this. And for this reason, they limited themselves in this and went into prayer. Then all this spread to the rules, to the canons that had to be followed before communion.

Of course, it is no secret if I say that most canons, that is, rules of conduct for believers, were written mainly by monks, or their disciples, or other ascetics. Naturally, what they considered the norm in spiritual life for themselves, they transferred, as a rule, to everyone. But I will repeat once again that this is a matter of tradition. When I was on Earth, I did not say a word about any fast before or after communion. All this came later.

Maxim: So, it turns out that some may allow you in without fasting, some may not allow you in?

Irina (Jesus Christ): It's all a matter of free will.

28:10 Jesus Christ about the darkness after the crucifixion.

Maxim: Tell me, please, during your crucifixion, after your death, darkness came. What caused this darkness? And did such a thing happen at all, let's start with this?

Irina: One more question.

Maxim: After you died on the cross, they say, darkness suddenly fell. Was that a phenomenon?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Physically no.

Maxim: There was no such thing physically?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Physically the Sun was also shining. Darkness came, not even darkness, many people who were standing around that place, around that hill where I was crucified, at the moment of my physical death became very upset, began to cry, become despondent, lower their vibrations, and the energetic atmosphere around them plunged into darkness.

It was already twilight, because the Roman soldiers who crucified me and other people around me were full of malice. And they poisoned, as you say now, themselves, the astral atmosphere around them with their energetic poison. And if you look through the Astral, that is, that part of the Spiritual World, that area of the Spiritual World that you, people of the 21st century, call the Astral, you could see that there was twilight, that is, like a twilight zone.

And after I left the body, the vibrations of even more people dropped, including my mother and students, who until that very moment had hoped in the depths of their Souls that I would decide to use my divine nature to save my body and destroy this cross and so on. I could do it. I could call the representatives of Burkhad, who could take me straight from there.

Maxim: Why didn't you do this?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Because when the execution began, I had to go through death in order to resurrect my body, make it immortal and start the flow, including that associated with the Eucharist.

Maxim: So this was a planned action specifically to create a certain egregor on the planet, right?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, there was a possibility that this execution would not take place. But at my birth, this probability that the execution would take place was about 85 percent, that is, 15 percent was that my body would die a natural death, and I also had my own plans there to resurrect it anyway and so on. But with each year, not even of life, but in general on Earth, with each year of my service as a preacher and healer, this probability increased.

31:58 Jesus Christ on learning about other religions during his life on Earth.

Maxim: Tell me, please, before you started preaching, they say you studied in India and in other countries?

Irina (Jesus Christ): What do you mean studied?

Maxim: They say that you accepted the teachings of different religions, different healers, different shamans.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I am always one with the Father, and I have been one since childhood. I already knew these truths. I simply became acquainted with them, and I answered them. Yes, as I already said, I was taken by representatives of Burkhad, including my physical father. I was taken on their spaceship to different countries, to different points on Earth. And in some places I stayed for several days, and in others for several months. This was when I was still a teenager. And there I listened to various teachings, sermons of sages, which also related to other religions. But I began to explain their teachings to them. They asked me questions.

Maxim: In any case, did you travel around the country and communicate with people who were involved in healing?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Well, of course, I can say that I learned. But I can say that I learned more to interact with people, and not the information that was there.

Maxim: This is the question they asked. Where is your Soul from Good Friday until Sunday?

Irina (Jesus Christ): In the body.

Maxim: And where is the body?

Irina (Jesus Christ): On the planet Burkhad.

Maxim: Thank you. It's just that many people don't watch the broadcasts, they don't know this information, so I had to ask about it.

Irina (Jesus Christ): On the planet Burkhad, on the island.

33:56 Jesus Christ about the religious movement of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Maxim: Here is a question. Besides Christians, Catholics, Protestants, there is also such a movement as Jehovah's Witnesses. How do you feel about this movement, and does it apply to you?

Irina (Jesus Christ): That is, is it included in the egregor of Christianity?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Jesus Christ): No.

Maxim: In general, what kind of current is this in your opinion?

Irina (Jesus Christ): This is a separate egregor. It is close to Christianity. But since they have a slightly different understanding of biblical truths, that is, those spiritual truths that are in the Bible, and in the tradition that my disciples passed on from mouth to mouth, then these other understandings, that is, mental attitudes, separate them from joining my egregor completely. This understanding, for example, that I…

The first idea that separates them from my egregor is that I and Archangel Michael, according to their teaching, are one person, but we are different persons. Yes, that is, they already sort of...

You know that the basis for building an egregor is ideas, that is, mental attitudes. And since their mental attitude does not coincide with the general Christian one, then this is already a seed for growing another egregor.

And the second difference between them is that they do not recognize the immortality of the Soul. They also have smaller ones, I named only two.

Maxim: They also say that you can't transfuse blood from one person to another.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, they have it based on some understanding, firstly, of some texts from the Torah or the Old Testament, supported by one place from the Book of Acts. But there it was said about the blood of animals and that it cannot be applied to people, because people have the blood that is transfused, but it is transfused not so that a person can be satiated with it, simply as food, and not so that with the help of some pagan ritual he can bring a sacrifice to another God. This cannot even be recognized as idolatry. It is done for the sake of saving life and in those cases when it is necessary. Therefore, the commandment about the prohibition of eating blood does not apply to its transfusion.

Maxim: Thank you.

Irina (Jesus Christ): How do I feel about this? I simply love all currents. But for me, this is a slightly different religion and a different egregor.

Yes, they changed the Eucharist itself, and the communion itself, and baptism, and the teaching about my second coming. That is, they have a different egregor.

Maxim: Thank you, Natalia. This is about: "Be healthy, Maxim."

37:33 Jesus Christ on the identification of other personalities with Him. Christ consciousness.

Maxim: Tell me, please, the question constantly comes up that in different cities in different countries your graves are found. Supposedly you are buried there. And each country attracts tourists by the fact that Jesus Christ is buried there. Tell me, please, how many people on the planet have called themselves by your name?

Irina: (Jesus Christ) Yes, many. And there were men and women. They could, by contacting…

The first reason is that, indeed, by contacting me, my Christ consciousness, they could dissolve in my Christ consciousness so much that they began to identify themselves with me. I even came to them and said that you are you, and I am me. And although we are one in Spirit, we are different personalities, because we have different experiences. But they still answered me that we want to always be one with you. They even told me this, that is, they said it mentally, in prayer. Prayer is a form of contact.

I want to tell you right away that any prayer is a form of contact with the person you are praying to. And in prayer they told me that they even want me to live in their body, to act with their hands, their feet, as if to live for them.

Maxim: They shift all the responsibility onto you.

Irina: (Jesus Christ) Yes, they wanted me to live their lives for them and immediately place them in Heaven.

Maxim: So many want it. It's okay, you can want a lot.

Irina: He's smiling too.

Maxim: Raisa Petrovna asks: “Why celebrate your crucifixion if you are resurrected?”

Irina (Jesus Christ): What does it mean to celebrate my crucifixion?

Maxim: I don’t know.

Irina (Jesus Christ): It is not celebrated, but simply remembered on Good Friday. They remember that there is such a day, and they remember that there is such an event when a healthy 34-year-old man, who brought good to people, and who was one with God, distorted the law given by Moses, and was crucified out of fear of him. This is remembered, among other things, as an example to other Christians. All this is given so that they would not be surprised by the persecutions that may arise, including persecution up to and including expulsion and murder, even if they bring only Light. Light does not please everyone.

Maxim: Here they write: "Vissarion claims that he is the new Jesus." What do you think about this?

Irina (Jesus Christ): He tells me that this is the incarnation of one of the apostles. He was in the body of one of these apostles and identifies himself with me, because he has memories, fragments, flashes, like memories of a past life, where he was with me, and he began to think that I am he. And he calls himself not only Jesus, he calls himself, for example, Buddha, and other names that denote spiritual teachers. This is his Soul, which associates itself with the one it worships. Lately I have been in contact with him and began to notice that he began to understand that he is a separate person from me. He began to realize this, but in order to have power over people who continued to consider him Christ, he did not talk about it.

42:10 Jesus Christ about his incarnations in different manvantaras. His level in the Spiritual world.

Maxim: The question is very interesting. Tell me, please, from what spiritual level did you incarnate on planet Earth, and at what spiritual level did you emerge?

Irina (Jesus Christ): As I incarnated on the 24th, so I came out on the 24th. I did not come out from this level in this manvantara.

Maxim: So from the 24th he incarnated and on the 24th he came out?

Irina (Jesus Christ): I want to say that I have never left this level in any manvantara.

Maxim: Oh, how interesting. I'm even afraid to ask, how many manvantaras have you gone through?

Irina (Jesus Christ): All.

Maxim: All? What does that mean?

Irina (Jesus Christ): This means that I have a continuous consciousness that passes from manvantara to manvantara. And since there were very, very many of them, I incarnated in each of them.

Maxim: Very interesting news for me right now. Every time I learn something new. Wait. Can I ask you a question? It turns out that you were incarnated on other planets?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Now I will explain. Yes, I was incarnated. Do you know why they call me the Firstborn?

Maxim: Why?

Irina (Jesus Christ): The thing is, as you know, in the Spiritual world there is no time, which means the word “Firstborn” sounds a little strange for a world where there is only eternity. Right?

Maxim: Well, yes.

Irina (Jesus Christ): "Firstborn" - the word first speaks of time, but it is not there. What does it speak of? (He smiles).

Maxim: About what?

Irina (Jesus Christ): That there was such a manvantara, where there was only Me and the Father.

Maxim: What does this mean? I can't understand it at all.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I was the only intelligent Spirit, besides the Heavenly Father, in the entire manvantara. Yes, I was the only one incarnated there. Well, not the entire manvantara, but part of it.

Maxim: Weren't you bored there in the manvantara? I'm just curious.

Irina (Jesus Christ): That is why it is called "Firstborn".

And then, when I was already incarnated, other Spirits began to appear. After all, the birth of a Spirit occurs outside of time. But when it enters a manvantara, it already enters the flow of time and becomes noticeable for those Spirits who are incarnated in the same manvantara.

Maxim: Regardless of the level they are at. Yes?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes. Regardless of that level, because the Spirit was born, it appeared from the Eternal Light, the Eternal Light appeared. And this Eternal Light acquired a temporary body in the substance separated from the Spirit, and temporarily became matter. And at that moment it became a temporary inhabitant of the material world in order to return to the Spiritual world, making a change in its spiritual structure, which helps it to make that kind of Spirit that acquired materiality.

Maxim: Tell me, please, in how many manvantaras did You create egregors that led to the Light of the Father, to the Light of God, to the Light of Love?

Irina: What?

Maxim: When you incarnated into material worlds, in all incarnations did you always lead those structures where you incarnated to Light, to Love, to God?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes. It was always like that, because I never left the 24th level. The thing is that for me, leaving the 24th level and lowering my level no longer meant the fullness of Love of being in the Love of the Father. When I was incarnated, my non-embodied part of the Spirit, which also remained, always sent me impulses that contained information packages about true knowledge, I did not lower my vibrations even despite the temptation of the material world.

47:07 Jesus Christ about the Heavenly Father.

Maxim: How interesting it all is. Please tell me how you can describe in earthly words that Heavenly Father, about whom you just spoke to us, with whom you incarnated in one manvantara.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I have a memory that this question was the first one at our first conference. Good.

(Irina) Yes, I remember too. You just reminded me now.

(Jesus Christ) Okay, I will say. Yes. My answer has not changed. I can describe the Heavenly Father as all the qualities and all the energies that I know. But even I do not know them all.

The Heavenly Father is everything that surrounds you in its various manifestations, and billions of times more. Look, you see a stone on the road – this is some part of the energy of the Heavenly Father. Then you see the Sun – this is a part of the same energy of the Heavenly Father, but larger.

In fact, from God's point of view, the difference between these masses is insignificant, because God has separated energy from himself: one type of energy - for the creation of galaxies, another type of energy - for the creation of subtle worlds, a third type of energy - for the creation of the Spiritual world, a fourth type of energy - for the birth of Spirits and a fifth type of energy - He supports everything that exists. And He himself remains in the unapproachable Light.

This Light is called unapproachable not because It forbids anyone to approach Itself in any way, but because those Spirits who have not reached Its level of Will and awareness of Love will simply feel burning in this Light, because all their ideas and feelings that are incompatible with Its will burn.

Maxim: Thank you, Jesus.

49:39 Jesus Christ about the egg as a symbol of Easter. Celebrating Easter in the spring.

Maxim: The question is asked by Christina. Dear Jesus, I heard that bashing eggs symbolizes the ramming of Selbet ships during the war 12 thousand years ago. Is this true?

Irina (Jesus Christ): No.

Maxim: What does it symbolize when people hit each other with eggs?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Glorification of the energy of fertility.

Maxim: Glorification of the energy of fertility, yes?

Irina (Jesus Christ): You understand that Easter, just like the holiday of Passover in Judaism or Easter in Christianity, is not accidentally in the spring. It is the awakening of nature, and when the power of the Earth's fertility appears, when it awakens. And the egg, as a universal symbol of life, which, by the way, can be the result of the birth of some creature, or can be the beginning that can give life to a living creature. After all, it can be both the birthing beginning and the conceiving beginning. In any case, it is what life comes from, and therefore is a symbol.

Maxim: That is, Easter itself is a symbol of the same fertility.

Irina (Jesus Christ): The thing is that this holiday fell into place... That is, Judaism and Christianity were not the first religions on Earth. Before them, there were religions that had other holidays for thousands of years. They were called polytheism, paganism, and so on. And in these religions, one of the main holidays was the holiday of the "beginning", even the beginning of the year and the beginning of the time of sowing seeds, that is, the rebirth of nature. It was a spring holiday in Ancient Egypt. And in Ancient Egypt they said that on this day the Sun is renewed, as if resurrected.

Then this image was transferred to Osiris. They said that the god Seth killed Osiris, scattered his parts across Egypt, and his wife Isis collected his parts, and Osiris's son Horus in the form of a falcon descended on him, breathed the Spirit into him, and he was resurrected. And he was resurrected on a spring day.

All these legends were told long before Moses, and even more so before my birth on Earth. And all this was a holiday of spring. And now, when these religions no longer exist, this holiday of spring has been replaced by my Resurrection in Christianity, the holiday of my Resurrection.

Maxim: Interesting. How is there such a connection between Egyptian holidays and Christian holidays?

Irina (Jesus Christ): They kind of pass the baton to each other, but the spiritual meaning remains the same.

Maxim: Got it. It's just that I read a lot that they supposedly replaced, took Christian holidays, replaced Easter with some old Egyptian ones. And now I'm definitely starting to understand that this is not a substitution, but simply a confluence of life circumstances.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Continuation. This is the development of those religions that existed then.

Maxim: Please tell me, why does the Holy Fire descend only on Orthodox Easter, and not on Catholic Easter?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Because it comes down on the day when this holiday should be according to the cosmic calendar, that is, according to the calendar that takes into account the biorhythms of all the planets.

Maxim: Got it, thank you.

53:43 Jesus Christ on euthanasia.

Maxim: They ask what happens to the Souls of people who agreed to euthanasia, to commit suicide not with their own hands, with their consent.

Irina (Jesus Christ): It is impossible to give an answer that will suit everyone. Each case is individual. In general, I can only say that this is a form of renunciation of life, that is, it is a form of suicide simply with the help of other people. You need to look at the motive. For what reason did he do it? Here you need to understand that he left the body in any case in the same energies, in the same feelings in which he was recently. And he will get to the level that corresponds to these vibrations.

54:33 Jesus Christ about his incarnation in a poor family.

Maxim: They ask: why did you choose to incarnate in a poor family of a carpenter?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Does it matter what the family’s financial situation was?

Maxim: For many earthlings, yes.

Irina (Jesus Christ): What would have changed if I had been born into the family of a king?

Maxim: You could probably influence many people with money and control people.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I could control people without money. I could create a pile of gold myself.

Maxim: How?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Just as he created bread and fish from air, for example, or wine from water.

Maxim: So you could materialize various atoms, elements in space?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes. What is gold? It is a certain element that contains a certain amount of energy in the ratios that are characteristic of the vibration of gold. You can take iron, change the ratio of energy in its atoms, and a piece of gold will appear before you.

Maxim: Oh, how interesting. Can you tell me how?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Transmutation of elements is an interesting exercise, which, for example, was carried out by the priests in Atlantis. Transmutation of elements by the power of the Spirit. But for this you must fully imagine and understand the structure of this element, the structure of the atomic lattice, and understand how it can be mentally changed, but, of course, have faith - this is very similar to the process of teleportation. The same level of energy and the same level of faith are needed.

56:33 Jesus Christ on protection from black magicians.

Maxim: Here is an interesting question: how to put up protection from black magicians? I will rephrase it a little. Please tell me, why do magicians try to harm people by taking them out of incarnation? Why do you think they do this?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Why do they do what?

Maxim: These are the bad things: they do different rituals for death, for illness, so that a person gets sick, suffers. Why do black magicians need this, what do they get from it?

Irina (Jesus Christ): When a person is overwhelmed with negative blocks, evil passions, feelings incompatible with the Light, he begins to suffer from this, because his Soul suffers without the Light. And when he sees something that does not correspond to his rather rigid ideas about the world, for example, either someone does not satisfy his desire, or simply someone is happy, and he is unhappy, he begins to suffer from this even more. And in him, these negative feelings give rise to the desire to destroy another person, perhaps by means of weapons or poisoning, or this magic.

Maxim: Do they then receive some kind of reverse karmic tasks from what they do?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, just like... That is, specifically magicians?

Maxim: Those who do, create magic, such bad things, do they then receive some kind of return in this life? Return means the same negative consequences from their activities.

Irina (Jesus Christ): The thing is that if a person uses secret, that is, as you say, esoteric knowledge, that is, knowledge that is inaccessible and unknown for a number of reasons, including because of people's disbelief, if he uses it to harm people, then his negative karma, that is, the negative energy he has accumulated, is even stronger than if he had used a simple weapon, because he takes advantage of people's ignorance. And he uses the light forces of his Soul, for example, mental, astral, for evil. That is, despite the opportunities and knowledge that God and Light entities have given him through various teachers, curators, and so on, he begins to use it to destroy, or to weaken, or to harm other people, taking advantage of their ignorance. And this means that he has been given more knowledge than they have. And to whom more is given, more will be asked.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do they fight with eggs on Burkhad?

Irina (Jesus Christ): No.

Maxim: So, on Burkhad they don't hit each other with eggs. Then the question is off the table.

So, another question. How to protect yourself from these black magicians? Are there any simple tools to protect yourself from the magical influence of these black magicians?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes – prayer to God. Observance… Again, it depends on whether the person is a believer or not.

Maxim: If a person is asking here, it means he is probably a believer.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Observance of the rules of the religious egregor in which you are, sincerely, since you came to this egregor, it means that you accept its rules, its canons, or leave, and support it with your energies, and then it will also give you protection. First.

Secondly, praying to God and believing in His help also gives Divine protection.

Third. Develop Love for yourself, for God and for your neighbor. Love gives absolute protection from all magical influences, because nothing can overcome Love in the Universe, it gave life to everything.

Maxim: Thank you.

1:01:18 Jesus Christ on the meaning of the inscription on the crucifix "King of the Jews". The percentage of the Spirit in the body of Jesus Christ.

Maxim: Tell me, please, why did they put up the inscription "King of the Jews" when you were crucified? Why did they do this?

Irina (Jesus Christ): They wanted to emphasize that it was as if I wanted to become a king, a political ruler of Judea and overthrow the Romans, who at one time occupied, that is, captured our country.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what percentage of the Spirit is contained in your physical body?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Now, after the resurrection?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Jesus Christ): After the resurrection, it is currently contained... I initially had 36 percent due to the fact that my father was physically from Burkhad, I had more Burkhad genetics. Well, after the resurrection, I have 42 percent in my physical body.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what percentage of the Spirit is present with us now?

Irina (Jesus Christ): In a phantom?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Twenty.

Maxim: Oh, how interesting. I thought you would say one percent or less.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Why?

Maxim: I don't know. You can make millions of phantoms, and each phantom can have 20 percent energy?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Now I have directed 20 percent of my energy to control the phantom. What is the percentage of energy? It is the percentage of my involvement in the conversation.

1:03:10 Jesus Christ on the authenticity of the Turin Shroud and the Sacrament of Communion.

Maxim: Listen, now this question will be very interesting. I don’t know how we will get out of this question. Is the Turin Shroud authentic?

Irina: (Jesus Christ) Yes, it really is.

(Irina) Well yes, I remember there was actually a question like that already.

(Jesus Christ) Yes, there really was such a question. And Archangel Michael was asked it, too. Yes, I remember it very well.

(Irina) Yes, indeed, they even asked about its nature, what happened to it, why is there an imprint? I just remember this question.

“Yes,” He says.

Maxim: At communion they say: "Receive the body and blood of Christ." Isn't this an initiation into cannibalism?

Irina (Jesus Christ): You do not simply take it as food, but you take it during the Sacrament, or, I will say more familiarly now, an energy ritual, or a Sacrament to raise your vibrations. And this is not cannibalism, because you do not take it to get full or to satisfy your taste buds. A completely different motive.

Maxim: Thank you. I remember how you answered that when we accept the body and blood of Christ, we accept it on an energetic level, that is, not on a physical level. Thank you very much.

1:04:55 Jesus Christ on the connection with Vishnu.

Maxim: Tell me, please, Jesus, are you an avatar of Vishnu?

Irina (Jesus Christ): No. It depends on who you call Vishnu?

Maxim: Julia is simply asking about Vishnu.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I am not an avatar in the sense that Vishnu's avatar is understood. But if Vishnu is understood as Krishna, for example, because they are sometimes identified, then I am not his avatar.

And if Vishnu is understood as it is written in the ancient Vedas? Vishnu is the true meaning of the word "Vishnu", that is, it was originally not a name, but the title of a word, it came from the common Indo-European word "vyshny". That is, it was a synonym for the word Supreme. It was the name of the Heavenly Father for those people who lived three and a half thousand years ago, who were called the Aryans. They had a language from which modern Slavic, Baltic, Finno-Ugric languages and Sanskrit came, later Turkic and so on.

Vishnu and the Supreme are the names of one being - the Heavenly Father. But, in any case, even if Vishnu is accepted as the Supreme, that is, as the Heavenly Father, I am not an avatar, because an avatar is an incarnation. When I am incarnated, I am not the Heavenly Father himself, I am His Firstborn Son. I am simply with Him in Spirit and do not separate myself from Him. But still, if you look from the outside, these are different personalities, because He gave birth to me.

Maxim: Thank you.

1:07:22 Jesus Christ on aliens in the scriptures and their life on Earth.

Maxim: Please tell me, why did they remove any mention of alien presence from other planets from the scriptures?

Irina (Jesus Christ): What do you mean, removed? Nothing was removed.

Look at the contacts of Moses, for example. How he led a crowd of people in columns behind a cloud during the day and behind a glowing cigar-shaped object at night that flew across the sky.

Maxim: Thank you.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Also read, for example, the book of the prophet Ezekiel, where he describes how a chariot descended from the sky to him, and several creatures came out.

Maxim: Thank you. Tell me, please, during your incarnation on Earth, did aliens and their descendants live on Earth?

Irina (Jesus Christ): At the bases. They were at the bases, just like now. They could just fly over cities more freely than now, for example, without fear that any weapons would be used against them, and without turning on protection.

1:08:36 Jesus Christ on what is happening with churches in Ukraine.

Maxim: Now there will be a very interesting question. Dear Jesus, how do you feel about what is happening in Ukraine now with the Kiev-Pechersk Lavra and with other churches and priests? Why have the crosses turned black?

Irina: He immediately became sad. Not that sad, he's so serious.

(Jesus Christ) How do I feel about what is happening there now?

I can express it with the word pain, but it is not physical pain and not what you call despondency. Do you know that there is pain from compassion, from sympathy? This is such a special form of pain, which is not negative energy, but it cannot but appear because you feel like your body is being torn to pieces.

So my church, the ecclesia, is my body, because they partake of one body. I feel them all, and from the side of the Orthodox Church of Ukraine, that is, I feel, for example, all the feelings, emotions and thoughts, for example, of the same Metropolitan Primate of the Orthodox Church of Ukraine (OCU) Epiphanius, and I also feel Onufriy, and I feel all the others from the side of the Ukrainian Orthodox Church (UOC).

The Orthodox Church of Ukraine and the Ukrainian Orthodox Church, it would seem, are just a rearrangement of words, they should be the same. But in fact, this rearrangement of words tears my united church, like a piece of cloth, into two parts. And this rupture goes not just through the cloth, it goes through the hearts of people, sometimes even relatives, very close people. I feel a lot of tears from that side, a lot of fear.

I am sending my Angelic assistants to harmonize this situation, to soften the hearts of the Ukrainian rulers, so that they can treat with mercy the choice of those of my children, those of my believers, who want to remain faithful to one of the churches, and at the same time remain to serve and live in the place where they have been accustomed since their youth, because religious persecution or persecution for certain things is far from new, including the covering up of this fact with some political issues.

My dear children, this is not about politics, see the other brothers and sisters that you are. Now your country is going through a very difficult period, when it has come to test all of you, all the people who live there. And if this is aggravated by a break, discord on religious grounds, and even my church - this will lead not only to a catastrophe of the church, but also to a catastrophe of the entire state.

Maxim: I thank you, Jesus. I heard you.

1:13:00 Jesus Christ about the thieves who were crucified next to him.

Maxim: Tell me, please, here are Dismas and Gestas. What happened to the robbers who were executed next to you on the crosses?

Irina (Jesus Christ): This is a well-known story. One got to the lower level. And the second said to me: "Remember me, Lord, when you are in your Kingdom." I saw that he said it for a reason, but because he fully realized the reasons for what he was doing. And not that he even regretted it, but changed his attitude to these things in general. You can simply regret, but remain the same internally, but he completely changed, became a completely opposite person, and began to correspond to the 22nd level of the Spiritual world. Although before that, when he was crucified, he was somewhere on the 5th, that is, in a few hours he went through such a Spiritual path. Of course, he no longer took any physical steps, it is clear, but spiritually he went through a colossal path, which he was not able to go through during his incarnation, when he was on Earth. Although he was incarnated from the 18th, he simply fell spiritually, and for this he raised him up.

1:14:41 Jesus Christ on being in two religious egregors at the same time.

Maxim: Tell me, please, is it possible to be in two religious egregors? Let's say, in a Muslim and a Christian one.

Irina (Jesus Christ): What do you mean by the word “to be”?

Maxim: To be there means to direct part of your energy both to the Christian religious egregor and to the Muslim religious egregor.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, you can direct the Light of your Love to all religious egregors and be in all of them. But here it is necessary to understand that due to the duality of human thinking, which is characteristic of all believers in all egregors, and for the leaders of these organizations, there is a certain competitive struggle between them, caused not by the desire to attract more believers, but to protect their faith from destruction.

Humanity has such an understanding as dualism, that is, understanding information through the prism of perception, which immediately divides information into true - false, harmful - useful, and so on. Naturally, the religion that a person loves most, adheres to, he considers the most true because of dualism, and when meeting with information from another religion, he rejects it in order to preserve his faith, and if you have already left the dualism of perception, and perceive each egregor as a beautiful facet of the same spiritual diamond, which is Divine truth, then you already relate to all egregors at the same time, even if you do not physically visit the temple, you are simply spiritually partakers of these egregors.

Maxim: Good. Dear Christ, while Irishenka is drinking water, I would like to ask you a question. If a person was a Christian and then converted to Islam, is it not considered that he betrayed you?

Irina (Jesus Christ): No. I do not consider people who have made their choice in favor of other religions traitors for the reason that, again, if he made this choice not under pressure from someone, but independently, that is, having compared these two religions and realized that this one suits him better. I treat this with complete understanding, and I will help him in the egregor where he is, because there is my image there too, in the image of a prophet. This means that this religion suits him in vibrations and his worldview.

Maxim: Dear friends. I would like to address everyone who is currently watching our channel. If you really want us to continue further and spend your personal time to conduct this broadcast, please give us a like. If we get 3000 likes, we will continue the broadcast for another 20 minutes. And while we are collecting these likes..., and by the way, please click the bell "subscribe" to the channel so as not to miss the next live broadcasts, which we are happy and lovingly conducting for you.

1:18:23 Jesus Christ on the possibility of not taking communion in the Christian egregor. The process of restoring the body of Christ after the crucifixion.

Maxim: Please tell me, Jesus, are you a member of the Council of the GFL - the Galactic Federation of Light.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I can be present there in the form of a phantom, just as I am at the meetings of the Interstellar Union.

What do you mean, I enter? Officially, no. But unofficially, as a Teacher of the Spiritual Hierarchy of the Galaxy, I am present there.

Maxim: Thank you for your answer. Vyacheslav Semenov asks: "Is it possible to be in Your egregor and not take communion?"

Irina (Jesus Christ): It is possible. It is possible to be and not to receive communion. To receive communion or not - this is decided by each person himself. There are many examples of believers who lived far from people and could not receive communion, but still they were my believers, to whom I came during prayer.

Maxim: Thank you. Tell me, please, if the Burkhadians restored your body and delivered you from death, does this mean that they can also restore any body for eternal life?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Not only did the Burkhadians restore the body, I also erased the information about death and aging with my Divine Spirit. This is because the information about death and aging is embedded in DNA. After all, DNA contains information about when to start the reaction in the cell to destroy it.

Maxim: Such a provocative question now. Lesya Malovik asks: "Dear Jesus, please tell me which direction of Christianity is more correct in your opinion: Orthodoxy or Catholicism.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I do not have dual thinking. For me, all these are my children, who are united for me in my church. And, as I have already told you about the Ukrainian churches, which are beginning to create discord among themselves, among each other and expel each other from churches, persecute, insult, and so on. This hurts me, because I feel both. I also feel my Catholic children, my Orthodox children, my Protestant children, and for me, this is all my whole family.

Maxim: Oh, come on. We've already got 3,000 likes. Guys, I understand that I won't be getting home anytime soon today, we're extending our broadcast by 20 minutes, now 1 hour 20 minutes, until 1 hour 40 minutes. Thank you very much for your support and for giving us the opportunity to get these likes so quickly. Well, shall we move on?

Now I will try to read the most interesting question.

But if you give me 5,000 likes, I'll extend the broadcast for an hour. I'll sit for an hour for these likes.

1:21:29 Jesus Christ on the timing of the end of the fratricidal war in Ukraine.

Maxim: Tell me, please, dear Jesus, when will the fratricidal war in Ukraine end?

Irina (Jesus Christ): As my spiritual brothers the Archangels have already said many times, such opportunities have already happened more than once during this time. And as the Spirit of my mother, who also came, and was asked about this, said, She told me. She looked at the Timeline and saw the probabilities that were very high, at that time they were more than 70, to be more precise – 72 percent that this war could have ended a month ago.

But humanity has chosen a different path, a less probable one. As I have already said, I am one with the Father, and I can tell you that this war will end at the moment when those forces that have now prevented reconciliation from taking place will understand that they are acting completely immorally in that they are keeping the fire of this fratricidal conflict going.

Despite the fact that many of them have already begun to understand that this support will lead to nothing but more and more victims, a decrease in the vibration of the Earth's noosphere and a rollback in awareness for many earthlings. Who are these people? I want to address them now. And I know that their curators, Angels-mentors and guardians gave them this information.

I am now addressing those who support this conflict, being in completely different countries, not participating in the battlefield themselves. My dear brothers and sisters, of course, it is good to think of yourselves that you are the defenders of the oppressed, sending huge flows of money and destructive weapons into the hands of others, the owners of which will be killed for your support, will leave the incarnation. As soon as this flow stops, an agreement will be reached.

And I will tell you again about the existence of states. Many people say what kind of state should exist, what kind of state should not exist and why. They give many arguments.

I will remind you of the spiritual law. Any state is based on the power of morality, that is, on the fulfillment of the spiritual laws of God. As soon as the majority of the people and government of any state begins to deviate from this law, it is destroyed from within or from without - it no longer matters much. Therefore, before condemning other states, let everyone look at their own.

Maxim: Thank you. Thank you, Jesus.

Irina: That is, he said, it will end when this stops.

He is speaking now. If you cannot, if some people cannot protect other people with their own strength, then giving them hope of protection with your weapons and money is immoral, because it leads to their death.

Maxim: Thank you.

Irina: That is, I already even understood.

Maxim: I found the question. Maxim, so are you married or not?

Dear friends, I am not married yet, but I have already proposed and we are planning a wedding. So everything is fine.

Tell me, please, Jesus, what kind of cross should I wear: with a crucifix or without a crucifix?

Irina (Jesus Christ): It's your choice, more of an aesthetic question. You can choose whether to wear it or not. It's not some kind of mandatory attribute.

Maxim: Question from Anna. Dear Jesus, why are wars written into the Chronicles, in which people die, if God is Love.

Irina (Jesus Christ): God is Love. And three thousand years ago He, my Heavenly Father, gave you through me, and I through Moses gave you the commandment "Do not kill" - after all, this is a spiritual Testament. So who is responsible for its non-fulfillment? The one who gave it, or the one who does not fulfill it?

Maxim: Thank you.

1:28:06 Jesus Christ on the propaganda of non-traditional values.

Maxim: Dear Jesus, what do you think about the fact that non-traditional values are being promoted very intensively in the USA and in European countries? They are instilling this in children in kindergartens and schools, and parents do nothing to stop it. What do you think this leads to? Non-traditional sexual values, orientations, people with different gender orientations, that is, a boy can consider himself a girl, a girl can consider herself a boy.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, I know about this problem. Its reasons are that some features of state laws depend on the state of the egregors of the society where they are adopted. If the laws are adopted as you said, that is, as I understand it... What do these laws want to say in a global sense? They want to say that every Spirit that comes through some body, even while still in childhood, must decide for itself what gender it chooses - this is the meaning of this law.

Why is it adopted at all? It is a reflection of a materialistic consciousness, that is, a consciousness focused on matter and on the fact that it can change its body in order to participate in forms of cohabitation with other people that they choose, and not in the one in which they could participate using the body in which they were born. All this comes from a materialistic perception and a lack of understanding that the body is not chosen by chance.

The body in which the Spirit was born, that is, the Soul (30%), the body in which the Soul was born, was not chosen by chance, its gender was also already chosen. And when a person does not listen to his Higher Self, does not communicate with it, with his Spirit, it may seem to him that his body is somehow wrong. In fact, he chose it himself. And this law leads to the fact that a person begins to believe his vicious thoughts, that is, thoughts that lead him away from the spiritual path, instead of the Higher Self. He chose it himself, and now suddenly changes this gender.

Maxim: Such an interesting question. Will Irina last another hour?

Dear friends, you know, Irina has reached the point where she can broadcast 24/7. Of course, I didn’t expect that myself. And you can check it out at the Thai retreat, where we will be waiting for you. Because she will be constantly in the flow, in contact with your curators, with our curators, with the Archangels, with the Angels, with the subtle civilizations – this will happen 24/7. Guys, this will be something phenomenal. We are waiting for you at the Thai retreat, where you will definitely understand that you will receive absolutely everything, feedback for the entire time of your existence on this planet. This will be a very cool retreat, guys, there will even be a phantom of Christ himself there to analyze the Sermon on the Mount for us.

I would like to ask Christ now: will You really be there with us to help analyze the Sermon on the Mount?

Irina (Jesus Christ:) Yes, I have already helped.

I want to address people through Irina and say that when she, Maxim and Ilya were in Israel on retreat, they physically moved to that place on the shore of Lake Kinneret, or as it is known in Russia – Lake Galilee, exactly to the place where I read the Sermon on the Mount to my students and those people who came to listen to me. There is now a temple in that place in honor of this event. And near that temple, being outside the building, that is, in nature, among the trees and on the shore of that lake, Irina began to read the Sermon on the Mount. I stood next to her and remembered that moment, which was 2,000 years ago, and how it was. And then she told all the people present at the retreat and those students who came to study at the retreat that I was nearby and if there was a question for me. People began to ask questions, and through her I gave answers. And I saw how the energy of their hearts changed.

Maxim: Yes, I was present at all of this, and, of course, it was something incredible.

Irina: Yes, there was such energy there.

Maxim: This is something incredible. Guys, we are waiting for everyone at the Thai retreat from May 5 to 18. The link is under this video, you can register.

1:34:20 Jesus Christ on the reasons for overeating.

Maxim: Maxim, please ask, who should I pray to so as not to overeat? Dear Jesus, who should I pray to so as not to overeat?

Irina (Jesus Christ): First, you can talk to your body. Because if you overeat, it can be for different reasons.

What is the reason you overeat?

Perhaps this is the reason that you lack some substances. You try to take them at the expense of large consumption of some other substances, that is, some kind of imbalance, lack of balance. First.

The second reason for this. Perhaps you are replacing some emotions, feelings, or defending yourself from something. Many people associate the feeling of satiety and a full stomach with calm. Why is it associated this way? Because since childhood, when a child, for example, was upset about something, because his mother was not there, or because he had a fight with his peers, the first thing his parents wanted was to feed him and calm him down. Therefore, as soon as he had a full stomach, he received his mother's love, and he associates this into one conglomerate of such feelings.

That is, the first thing you need to find out is whether you have enough of all the substances that you need for physical existence. The second thing you need to find out is whether you have any chronic diseases, infections, for example, that can take away your nutrients. This can also happen. That is, all these moments of the physical body.

And then you can look further, that is, look deeper into yourself, already at the emotional level. You can ask, for example, if you overeat. You don’t overeat all kinds of food, do you? You probably have a certain one, most likely, you have a favorite. Ask: “Why did I choose this?” That is, you have already found out that everything is fine with your physical balance of food, you are completely healthy, you have no infection, parasites, and so on. And you continue to overeat. Then you ask: “What spiritual problem does this solve for me?” And you begin to ask your Higher Self: “How can I solve it with another method? What can I replace this overeating with?” Because you won’t be able to just get rid of it, some other habit will arise that will give you the same emotions.

Maxim: Thank you very much, Jesus.

Guys, we have a project "CASSIOPEIA. CODES". Now the "Weight Loss Marathon" has been launched. There are special codes, different diets, there will be various kinds of advice from our interstellar friends on how to bring your body to a harmonious balanced state. So join the project "CASSIOPEIA. CODES", and there you will even be given codes so that you do not pray for weight loss, but take care of yourself.

So. We have literally three minutes left, 3,632 likes. I hope we don't get 5,000 likes, because I really want to go home and rest.

Let's continue asking Jesus questions. Is it okay to eat pork?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, it is possible. Jewish rules do not apply to Christians. This was confirmed at the First Apostolic Council.

Maxim: (Reads from the chat) So give these Codes to Irina.

You know, guys, Irina feels great in her body.

Irina: I have such a body.

Maxim: She has such a body. We took all the tests, I want to remind you again. And her tests are much better than mine. So the question about the body is very interesting.

Irina: In fact, there is also a genetic feature. Including the accumulation and deposition of water, fat masses, and so on. I just saw such people. And no matter what they eat, no matter what they do, they will have approximately the same body.

Yes, and the ratio of all this can change, by the way, with age.

Maxim: Irina, the older you get, the more beautiful you become. I notice it.

Irina: Some people just asked me, they said that two years ago I was one, now I'm different. My dear friends, we all change. Just believe that we are changing for the better.

Maxim: (Questions from the chat) How can I find out my Spirit level? Guys, go to the Telegram chat "Spiritual level", you can find this chat through our website, and there, accordingly, make a request for them to calculate what level you came from.

So. Let's move on. We have only one minute left. And I'll ask the last question from YouTube. Guys, give me your question. "Do you want to give us airtime at night?" No.

"Irina, you are simply a beauty." No, that's not a question. Thank you very much. Go ahead, I'll wait for the question on YouTube.

1:39:56 Jesus Christ on the future of Christianity.

Irina: How will Christianity change in the future?

Maxim: Jesus, please tell me how Christianity will change in the future? How do you see it?

Irina (Jesus Christ): I see ways of dialogue between different Christian churches first, and then between the Christian church, the Christian egregor in general, and other egregors on Earth: Jewish, Muslim, Buddhist, and including esoteric. That is, all this will gradually merge into one common teaching. These processes will especially accelerate before the entry of the Earth into the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Okay, okay, one more question. Let me ask it anyway. Why? Because thank you so much for the likes you gave us. Of course, I would be happy to, maybe for the whole night, if I were immortal and didn't have to sleep, eat, or do my chores.

1:41:02 The parting words of Jesus Christ.

Maxim: Oh, a parting word. Exactly. Thank you very much, Natalia Petrenko. We almost forgot about the most important thing.

Please tell me what you would like to say now to those people who are watching us, and in general to the people of our planet.

Irina (Jesus Christ): My dear Divine Souls, I congratulate you on the holiday of Easter, on that day of spring when my Resurrection is remembered. And remember that I am always with you. I will always be with you, because although spiritually, I took part in your creation. I am often asked by Angels, Archangels, representatives of the Spiritual world: “For what reason did I choose the Earth for such, as they say, spiritual feat. For what reason did I choose the Earth from a trillion planets in billions of galaxies?” I want to say that I did it for the reason, as I have already said, that when one of the scientists created the genetic apparatus of the bodies of your ancestors, in the body of this scientist there was a Spirit, which is now known to you as the Spirit of my mother. I was already in contact with her then, she was a representative of Burkhad. I directed the energies of my Love, my spiritual life to the devices where this hybrid was created. And I consider you my children. And I wish for you as my children that you will be happy, loved and loving beings. And then you can be one of the greatest races in the Universe.

Maxim: Thank you so much, Jesus.

1:43:21 Request to Jesus Christ for a child.

Maxim: I still want to pass on a request from Valentina Mednikova to you. She really asks that you give her a child, a boy.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I will talk to your Angels-consultants about sending a request to the Spiritual world so that any willing Spirit who suits you in their vibrations could incarnate with you, naturally, on the condition that your vibrations and those of your spouse suit them.

Maxim: So, Valentina, hold the boy.

That's it. Guys, thank you all very much.

Irina: Thank you.

Maxim: It was great to see you all, hear you, feel you. Until the next live broadcast. We'll meet at the Thai retreat - it'll be something phenomenal, guys. Bye.

Aliens on the spiritual books of Christianity

Question : "Is it true that the Bible has been rewritten and now does not correspond to the true teachings of Christ?"

Any ancient book was necessarily rewritten. There was even a special job of a copyist. Books in ancient times were written either on papyrus, as is known, or, much less often, on the skin of young calves. This was an expensive material, and they wrote more often on papyrus.

As is known, papyrus is paper, a material that is not durable, they wrote with sticks. These books were in scrolls, they could be in a leather bag in which they were carried. In order to copy, there were scribes. Copying a small text could take many months. When copying, scribes made sure that every letter was copied accurately. Let me remind you that all this work was done either during the day or by candlelight, so there were quite a few books, and they were very expensive.

A large number of Christ's teachings were transmitted orally. This was called "oral tradition" or "tradition." Tradition is what has been passed down to us. And for quite a long time, the Christian church lived by these traditions.

Later, when deviations from Christianity, from the single path, arose, when new people came to Christianity, who passed this teaching through themselves and began to contradict some specific common line, there was a need to form a canon of books. So that people could understand: where is Christianity, an egregor, and where it is no longer, where it ends. Those books that were selected (these are only 27 books out of many) were checked for compliance:

> Used in all parts of Asia Minor, where there were most Christians, in worship. If this text was used frequently by believers, it was considered authoritative.
> In accordance with the Spirit of Christ, which each recognized through his heart, they voted.
> When they started voting, their curators (Archangels, leaders of the Christian egregor) told them which books to choose in order to form a strong, durable egregor, which has now been preserved for 2,000 years.

These books were rewritten, but the spelling of each letter was preserved as much as possible, in the languages they were written in. For a believer who rewrote, making a mistake in spelling meant a sin, disrespect for the text, for the God who gave it.

Then these books were not only rewritten, but also translated into other languages. As you know, for example, the Apostles did not speak Russian. Therefore, the books were first translated into Old Church Slavonic by Cyril and Methodius (and not only by them, they had assistants). Later, these books were translated into Russian by workers of the Orthodox Church.

Moreover, dear friends, I will tell you that there are many translations of the Bible, the Old Testament and the New Testament into Russian, you can look at them all and compare.

There is a translation that was made by a very good contactee with the Spiritual world. Of course, he has passed through himself, there is a lot of interpretation. This is a wonderful translation by Kuznetsova, who was a student of Father Alexander Men.

Alexander Men is the same priest who was killed in 1990, he tried to explain the value of esotericism to Orthodox people. He had a student, Kuznetsova, she knew Greek and translated the Bible, specifically the New Testament. You can find her translation on the Internet. It's very interesting. 🕊

Vladimir's address to the people of Russia and Ukraine

I appeal to the people of Russia.

I understand that now in the physical space of your country, certain images are being spread by the media that cause low vibrations, low vibration feelings that are incompatible with Christian morality, and with spiritual development in general. Please, when you read something or hear about the situation in Ukraine, look into your heart, show compassion – both to the soldiers of your country who are suffering and dying, giving their lives, to their relatives, and to the soldiers of the opposite side! Send them the Light of your Love!

And if you lower your vibrations by mocking those who are perishing and wishing them even more evil and destruction, this will lower your vibrations and will contribute to the prolongation of this conflict on a spiritual level. Please be merciful! Please be able to mentally put yourself in the place of another person who is suffering from negative events and their own fears!

Now I turn to the people of Ukraine.

My dear brothers and sisters! I love you as sincerely as I love the people of Russia. Certain images are also being spread in your information space that lower your vibrations in relation to the opposite side of the conflict. And in order not to mentally support this suffering in which you are now, start each day by waking up and offering a prayer to the Heavenly Father with gratitude that you are alive, that everything is all right with you. And with a request that Russia and Ukraine make peace as soon as possible, find a common cause that they will work on on Earth. After all, these are two neighboring countries that have long cooperated with each other on mutually beneficial terms.

If you remember everything negative that was in relation to these countries during the Soviet period or earlier, you will contribute to the continuation of the suffering that you have now. Just forgive, let go, send the Light of your Love! And especially do not swear, do not argue with relatives who you have in Russia! Because now in the egregor of Ukraine there are many people who have relatives or friends in Russia, and they come into conflict. And it is not only senseless to refuse communication and accuse them of something, it lowers your vibrations and prevents the fulfillment of the term of your incarnation.

Remember that, regardless of the presence or absence of military actions on your territory, your life is still finite. Your earthly life will end anyway, and you will go to the Spiritual World with the feelings that remain with you at the moment of the end of physical life. Therefore, rule over the instinct of self-preservation, which allows you to fear for your life and hate those who can take it away. Remember that you are spiritual beings who are called to love. And Love overcomes everything, Love overcomes death. I ask you to remember this - that Love conquers death!

I send you, residents of Russia, residents of Ukraine, residents of all countries of the Earth, and to all the rulers who are above you, the Light of my sincere Love and the wish that you be truly happy, know God. I love you.

#558 ETHEREAL field - matrix, dark matter, materialization of objects. Restoration of organs by DNA.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1tnVk4Q0bg8

00:00 Start of video.

00:18 Fragments from the conference.

Irina: Ether is the general name for all material planes of reality and the layers between them, occupying from the 4th to the 59th level of density inclusive.

Prana can be like the energy of the air element, the ethereal energy of the air element, and prana can be like a very thin pranic shell in order to give the initial energy for life in the body.

After all, even to collect one atom, the participation of plasmoids of the four elements is necessary.

It is impossible to make a device in the physical world that will imitate the work of plasmoid civilizations. This is God's law.

01:44 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today our curators are present with us: MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, and specialist in extraterrestrial civilizations, LiShioni from the planet Shimor, a specialist in astral interactions, and Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad, a specialist in energy exchange in the environment. Hello, Elena!

02:15 Definition of the etheric field.

Elena: Hello, dear space scientists and specialists, hello, Irina! Today we continue the topic related to the subtle worlds, in particular, we would like to consider with your help a conference dedicated to his majesty the ether or the etheric planes of galaxies, the Earth and man. According to the data of the Interstellar Union for the construction of the Universe system, the etheric plane is located between the astral world and the world of subtle Spirits.

Irina: Yes.

Elena: I would like to first ask a few questions of a general systemic nature, and first of all I would ask Raom Tiyan to give us a definition of an etheric field or plane and thus to designate the existing main differences between these etheric planes or fields using the example of our Milky Way Galaxy, planet Earth and the etheric matrix of an earthling, all very briefly, directly in thesis form, literally.

Irina: Go ahead, just one question for now.

Elena: It’s like one: defining the etheric field for the beginning or the etheric plane.

Irina: Ether is the general name of all material planes of reality and the layers between them, occupying from the 4th to the 59th level of density inclusive, in Russian it is called ether. Ether itself has many different types, that is, these are certain energies that have passed from the spiritual plane to the subtle material and made up millions of different worlds. Ether is indeed a boundary layer between the Astral world and the physical world, the physical world itself is a continuation of the etheric world and consists of its energies in a condensed form.

Elena: Okay, quite an accessible definition for us. In that case, is it possible to designate with your help, respected Raom Tiyan, the existing main differences of these etheric planes, apparently they exist, or fields using the example of our Galaxy, our planet and the etheric matrix of an earthling.

Irina: Any planet, any star and any galaxy are a receptacle of all levels of density of both the physical and all subtle-material worlds. Planet Earth or the Sun, or any star exist in the space of the entire material world. The entire space of the material world is divided into subspaces of the physical world and subtle-material worlds, but these spaces are not at some distance from each other, but are nested one inside another, and they are all permeated by the astral world, that is, all the spaces of the material world, and the astral world is also superimposed on them, and through the astral one can get into the world of non-embodied Spirits.

Elena: Okay, so it's something like our nesting doll, if you take it primitively.

Irina: Yes, only the matryoshka will be dense, but there it will all be simply permeated.

06:25 Types of etheric energy. Ten levels of the human etheric matrix.

Elena: I see. Then the question will be the following: since the etheric planes exist in the Universe in all its structures, does the energy structure of galaxies, planets and man contain any levels similar to the same 56 etheric levels and structures of the world of subtle-material Spirits?

Irina: The whole point is that when the Soul goes to incarnation, it goes through the astral world, which, as I already said, is permeated with subtle-material spaces, they are nested inside each other, and the Soul receives a shell of a very subtle type of ethereal energy, which is called subtle prana.

Prana is of two types: as the ethereal energy of the element of air and as a very subtle pranic shell to give the initial energy to the Soul for life in the physical body. Accordingly, the very subtle prana that the Soul is endowed with is called, we have our own names, but in the earthly name we can use the Sanskrit term Purusha.

In the ancient world there was a special language for priests, it is now called Sanskrit, in which one can use terms denoting various etheric energies, because scientists in that language studied the interaction of etheric planes. And in Russian it will be simply ether, subtle ether, less subtle ether, denser, and so on.

Elena: And how many such levels are there on the etheric plane or in the etheric matrix of a person?

Irina: The human etheric matrix ultimately reflects 10 levels of density.

Elena: Ethereal?

Irina: Yes, 10 etheric density levels out of 56. This is in the human etheric body, or, as we prefer to say, in the etheric field. Have you heard of such a teaching that the etheric field is part of the aura?

Elena: Yes, finally.

Irina: The etheric field itself does not consist simply of ether; there are 10 types of ethers there (shows that they are in different relationships with each other and form the etheric matrices of organs).

Elena: I'll ask about this a little later, if possible.

Irina: Why does a person have exactly this energy structure? Because a person is a Soul embodied in a body, the Soul is a part of the Spirit, therefore it is correct to say that both the Soul embodied in the body and the Spirit embodied in the body.

The Spirit is a being that possesses spiritual energies that differ from material energies in their vibrations, the possibility of their existence in the Spiritual world without matter, and so on. Accordingly, the Soul, incarnating in the body, does not simply incarnate in such a way that it is in one place of the body, but it incarnates in the whole body, but its center is in one of the chakras, this depends on the level of consciousness. A chakra is an energy center through which the energy of the Soul manifests. Here it is necessary to understand that the energy of the Soul is not only the ethereal energies that the Soul received when it came to the material world, the energies of the Soul are also those energies that it took from its common Spirit, from its Higher Self, and all these energies manifest through the chakras, forming a person's aura, not only the ethereal body, but also the astral, mental, causal, buddhic and atman.

Elena: Okay, thank you.

11:50 Dark matter of the Universe.

Elena: Now a question that also belongs to the systemic category. Ethereal matter and ethereal energy, and dark matter, and dark energy of the Universe - is this the same concept from the point of view of the science of the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Ethereal matter and ethereal energy?

Elena: Both dark matter and dark energy.

Irina: Both dark matter and dark energy? Yes, I know about this term in your science. This is how you designate the gravitational influence of subtle-material worlds on physical objects. The fact is that etheric energies interact with the gravitational fields of galaxies, stars and planets, and begin to influence the direction and strength of gravitational fields, which leads to changes in the trajectories of various celestial bodies, and this visible effect is called by your scientists the effect of dark matter and dark energy.

Dark, because your devices do not see it and cannot record any substance, as, for example, it is still in dark nebulae of dust, but this is not cosmic dust, it is some energy that is in space, but devices cannot record it. And as far as I have researched this issue, compared the quantitative calculations of your scientists with the number of etheric levels known to us, my hypothesis is that your scientists do not call all density levels dark matter and energy, but only 16 out of 56, the rest of the density levels they do not record at all.

14:05 Possibility of transition of etheric energy into physical matter. Synthesis from surrounding substances.

Elena: I ask again. Can etheric energy be transformed into etheric matter, the prototypes of all existing objects in the Universe, which, with the introduction of advanced technologies of the Interstellar Union, can allow humanity to acquire environmentally friendly types of energy, food, housing? Can LiShioni or Raom Tiyan answer this?

Irina: He is now clarifying the question: “Are you asking whether it is possible to convert etheric energy into physical matter and make objects out of it?”

Elena: Ethereal matter, yes, materialize, let's say.

Irina: The thing is that this happens with the help of the work of plasmoid civilizations, that is, those civilizations that exist in the body that consists of the subtle-material structures of their worlds at one or another density level. Even to collect one atom, the participation of the plasmoid Spirits of the four elements is needed, who collect it in a certain sequence, transferring the etheric energies of eight density levels preceding the physical world, not even eight, the first level, the second, the third, in general, of course, all density levels participate in this, they simply sequentially transfer energy from one to another, first from the Spiritual world, then from the Spiritual world they transfer energy to increasingly denser planes, condensing this energy with their thought forms and thus connecting dissimilar energies, receiving a denser plane.

As for the physical plane. It consists, as is known, of three density levels, that is, there are three density levels in the physical Universe, it is also called a cluster, a physical cluster. How is it different from others? In that the matter in it is distributed quite uniformly, but the first, second and third density levels differ in the level of microgravity that attracts atoms to each other. If there is little of it, it will be a gas, the atoms and molecules of which are freely located in space. If there is more microgravity, there will be a liquid, they will connect, if there is even more, it will be a dense body, since they will be very close to each other, but the atoms themselves are homogeneous, therefore they say: "The matter of a physical cluster is homogeneous." So, it is impossible to make such a device in the physical world that will imitate the work of plasmoid civilizations. This is the law of God. Only plasmoid civilizations can do this: create various atoms and control their chemical reactions.

Elena: Then I have another question. There is a book by Spalding, “The Sages of the East” (note: Baird Spalding, “The Life and Teaching of the Masters of the Far East”). This book describes a situation, like in our fairy tales like a self-assembled tablecloth, which suddenly, completely unexpectedly, one might say, in a remote area of India, the expedition members managed to suddenly find themselves in completely unimaginable, from our point of view, conditions, when the entire space was transformed into a completely different, very comfortable, modern room of a village dwelling, and on their tables with the help of representatives materialized from the subtle world, including Jesus Christ or Buddha and some additional people unknown to us, this entire feast was organized, including the materialization of some dishes that were necessary at that moment, and bread, and so on, that is, it is all very similar to the Russian fairy tale about the self-assembled tablecloth, but in reality it is described by scientists who did not expect such an effect at all when they found themselves in a remote Indian village. I do not know how this can be described? As the use of universal etheric energy?

Irina: What you are describing reminds me more of events in the Spiritual world, where one can create certain products with one's thoughts, including those that will be recreated from thoughts, thought forms. Some call it spiritual materialization, but in the terminology of the Interstellar Union, Spirit and matter are different levels of the same world, but which passes into each other according to Divine laws, which are all known.

To create one hydrogen atom, it is necessary to collect 1600 quanta and put them together in such a way that this atom consists of three energy levels, distributed according to the formula, by percentage, so that the third level contains 55% of the energy, and so on, that is, this is quite a labor-intensive work, which is carried out by several Spirits. And they do this using the laws of the material world that exists at their density level.

As for this fairy tale, we have food synthesizers that can synthesize ready-made products that are familiar to different humanoids, but these products are synthesized from ordinary molecules, that is, from physical molecules that can be obtained, for example, from the air, from a mixture of air gases, from the ground, and so on. To put it very simply, you can pour a handful of sand into this device and make it take in the air of the surrounding space, and from this synthesize any nutrients of any shape, color, but again, the shape and color will use those atoms that are at the disposal of this device. That is, for example, if you want to pour a handful of sand and synthesize a piece of meat from it, you will not be able to do this, because meat contains proteins, the composition of which is very complex, and such atoms are not in the sand, you need to add other elements.

Elena: Okay, I understand, it's just that what was said in this book was not a fairy tale at all, it was a real thing that scientists recorded, they didn't know the source of this energy, but nevertheless, the results of this work with universal energy, possibly ether, they captured in this book.

Irina: I'm just saying that this doesn't correspond to the laws of God, and, of course, you can talk about anything, maybe it was some kind of image, you need to look at it.

Elena: Perhaps those who did this were, I said, representatives of a very high level, we would say in our language that they were spiritual teachers, perhaps they were able to do this, I want to talk about this.

Irina: I know that in any case, synthesis... You were just talking about devices, as for synthesis from surrounding substances, it was subject to Jesus, for example, he also synthesized various foods: fish, bread, wine from water, but again it was materialization from atoms.

Elena: This comment that you made is, in fact, on the very topic that I started, about the energy of transformation.

Irina: Yes, it is not like the ethereal prototype descended, for example, it invented a fish, and the ethereal prototype descended and assembled itself without atoms, and it is unclear where the atoms came from for it, it is all a transformation of atoms. You know that diamond and coal consist of absolutely the same substance, it is all about the crystal lattice, and the Spirit, which has its own life force and ethereal force, can control it one hundred percent and can believe in the transformation of the crystal lattices of this object, can get a diamond simply by holding coal in its hand.

24:40 Formation of the ethereal body of a humanoid.

Elena: Let's move on to the next question. Angels of what level of the world of non-embodied Spirits form the project of the future etheric matrix of a humanoid, including a human? Which of the specialists present here can answer?

Irina: Ethereal matrix.

Elena: Yes, the project of the future etheric matrix, the project, the idea. Angels of what level of the world of non-embodied Spirits are doing this? If for us everything descends from above further into the world of plasmoids, let's say so.

Irina: If you remember, I told you that when the Soul goes to incarnation, it is dressed in a very thin pranic shell, so in this thin pranic shell there is already a prototype of the future etheric matrix, and the etheric matrix of all organs itself is formed from the moment of conception to the moment of formation of the organs of the physical body.

This happens at different stages of pregnancy, but it all ends before the 7th week of pregnancy, when the Soul already fully enters the body of an earthling, if we are talking about earthlings. From the moment of conception to the 7th week of pregnancy, the formation of the thin pranic shell, in which the prototypes of its future etheric matrix existed, on which the physical body will already be built, and from it, as well as from the energies of the plasmoid civilizations of the four elements, which also participate in the construction of the etheric matrix, and are located directly in the subtle material world next to the forming body, takes place. And also the etheric matrices of the mother and father of the child participate in this as carriers of both genetic and energetic information about his body and the characteristics of his body.

And as for the prototype, who creates the prototype of these etheric matrices, the Spirit itself creates them even before incarnation, when it thinks about what kind of body it should have, what its characteristics should be, it thinks about it, and these images are deposited in its memory, the memory of the Spirit, and, if necessary, it asks for advice from the consulting Angels, they help it choose a body. And this choice of body is the prototype that it uses to create its etheric matrix, when it already has that ether at its disposal, from which this matrix can be built.

Elena: Excellent, everything I wanted to hear was said very precisely, very precisely.

28:20 Source of recharge for the etheric field of humanoids.

Elena: Please tell me, which worlds of the Universe system are the source of pranic nourishment of the etheric field, in humanoids in particular? Very briefly.

Irina: Which worlds are the source of nourishment?

Elena: Yes, which worlds in the Universe are the source of pranic nourishment for the etheric field?

Irina: The human aura exists both in the subtle-material world and in the astral world. There is such a division that not only, for example, the etheric field is in the etheric world, and the astral field is in the astral world, their parts are in both the astral world and the etheric world, they permeate each other.

A person has a physical body and physical fields, for example, his photons, electromagnetic radiation, the heat of his body, his gravity and the radiation of his cells, it happens that cells emit radiation - all this makes up the physical field around a person.

Both the physical body and the physical field are in the physical world. The etheric field, the astral field and all other aura fields, what constitutes the aura, are in the subtle world, for humans these are the first 10 levels of density, that is, the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, and at these levels of density one can notice the human aura.

From other density levels, a person's aura can simply be felt, but in a different way, since the energies of higher density levels are no longer there. Accordingly, plasmoids that are embodied in a body above the tenth density level most often communicate and see a person through the Astral. A person can be seen through the Astral from all density levels.

As for recharge, the source is all around you. The entire set of all ethereal worlds is embedded in the physical space, and all these ethereal worlds can recharge your ethereal field. But this process is especially active in sleep, when the Soul separates from the body, and that part of the ethereal body that remains in the aura of a person around his physical, there always remains a part of the vital energy of the Soul, ethereal energy, it becomes open 100 percent more, that is, it becomes twice as open to the influx of ethereal energy than it was when the Soul was in the body. This happens due to the peculiarities of the separation of the Soul.

And you can, of course, charge your etheric field while in the body, but with a conscious effort and thought forms, that is, imagining that you, for example, inhale prana, that you absorb prana in food and water, simply imagining it in the form of Light and imagining that you place it inside your body, by this you will open the flows of prana of both one of the types of etheric energy and other types of etheric energy.

Elena: I really didn’t quite catch this nuance related to the fact that the etheric body is equal to prana?

Irina: Prana is just one of the energies of the etheric body, there are many of them, ten, to be more precise.

Elena: Ten, okay. I was just trying to figure out where this prana comes from in the etheric body?

Irina: From the subtle material space that is around.

Elena: Which is around, everything, is clear. Good.

33:53 The human etheric body after death.

Elena: Then now we move on to a moment that is also connected with the transformation of etheric energy, but the moment when a person leaves incarnation before the final transition of his Soul from the Astral to the House of Memory or to the House of the Eternal Spirit. How much time, by earthly standards, is required to utilize this etheric matrix, I use the word “utilization” conditionally, maybe it happens somehow differently?

Irina: So that the Soul separates from its etheric field and unites with the Spirit?

Elena: Yes.

Irina: If you look at your earthly time - 40 days. This is an average period. Most people finish this transition by forty days, but they can finish it in three days, it depends on the strength of this etheric matrix, for example, if there was little vital energy, it will dissipate faster.

35:00 Torsion field, lepton field, Akasha, Prana, Apana, Prakriti, Kundalini, Purusha and other types of etheric energies of a humanoid.

Elena: The next question is of a structural-medical nature. Doctors, representatives of Indian Ayurveda have known for a long time about the structure of the human etheric body, they believe that it contains seven main energy centers. Hindus call them dhatu, that they differ, apparently, vibrationally by the types of cell tissue. They list these seven energy centers as blood plasma, blood tissue, muscle tissue, fat, bone marrow and nervous tissue, sperm-reproducing tissue. And they believe that these seven dhatu control, feed with pranic energy all organs and systems of a person through countless energy threads, they call them nadi, which permeate the entire nervous system of a person, thus connecting the etheric tissue and the physical body.

I would like to ask respected specialists and scientists, what is the similarity and difference in the understanding of the energy structure, energy matrix, etheric matrix of a person between our Vedic scientists and scientists of the Interstellar Union? Do we understand this energy structure correctly or are we still mistaken?

Irina: What you just named are physical structures, right?

Elena: No, these are subtle, seven main energy centers.

Irina: Seven main energy centers, that is, chakras?

Elena: These are not chakras, no, no, no, I didn't list them by accident. Hindus believe that these energy centers are united vibrationally by the types of tissues of the body's cells.

Irina: Where are they?

Elena: They are in the etheric matrix.

Irina: And at the level of the physical body?

Elena: The thing is that since this is connected with the types of tissue cells, we can, of course, conditionally separate this blood plasma and bone marrow.

Irina: I understand. So they believe that there are 7 types of energy in the etheric field?

Elena: Yes.

Irina: We believe that there are 10, of course, they can be given names, for example, the fourth, fifth level of density, now I will list these energies that we count in the etheric matrix. They count 7 energies, we count 10 energies in the etheric field of a person. Ten energies related to the etheric plane, but there is also the energy of instincts partially and the energy of emotions that charge this etheric matrix, they have already come from the physical plane and from the astral plane. But we distinguish ten purely etheric energies. This is the so-called torsion field, for us this is the etheric plane. Torsion field, lepton field, then Akasha, Prana, Apana, Prakriti, Kundalini, Purusha and also, as you can call it in your language, very similar to lepton and torsion fields, only they rotate in the other direction, you can say, anti-lepton and anti-torsion.

Elena: Okay, we will have some idea of how the Interstellar Union understands the structure of the etheric matrix, very interesting.

Irina: Raom Tiyan said, and now MidgasKaus is speaking. I have also researched this issue. On Esler they believe that what you called torsion, lepton, counter-torsion and counter-lepton are considered simply multidirectional vortices of rotation of the same energy, so we believe that it consists of all the types of energy that you listed, except counter-torsion and counter-lepton, plus instincts and emotions.

They have this little difference.

Elena: It was interesting to hear an additional point of view.

Irina: LiShioni says that they are very similar, just the direction of their rotation is different, and their functions are also similar, that is, they build etheric matrices. For example, if we take the function of Akasha - this is the energy of the element of air. And as for the torsion and lepton fields, they make up the outer part. The torsion field, for example, makes up the outer part of the etheric shell, which performs protective functions from the penetration of various alien thought forms, this is the protection of the etheric field, the protection of the etheric body - this is the outer part.

As for leptons and counter-leptons, we call this by the general word “lepton field” or “lepton etheric field”, it constitutes precisely those very threads that intersect with each other, what you called microchannels of the nadi, we call lepton threads, they build precisely the basis of the etheric matrices of the organs, and various energies of the elements are built into them.

Elena: Wonderful. At least there are some intersections, but your model of the etheric matrix is, of course, very multifaceted, multifaceted, we are still in the process of understanding it.

Irina: He just showed me an image of what, for example, the etheric matrix of the knee joint looks like, that is, it is a copy of the joint, but only consisting of bluish-white threads that are intertwined with each other, and streams of different colors flow through them.

Elena: Great, you just directly read my future questions.

Irina: They just showed me what it looks like.

42:52 The silver thread and its connection with the chakras of earthlings and other humanoids.

Elena: Wonderful. We received information from geneticists of the Interstellar Union at the conference dedicated to the origin and development of the earthly human races that the human etheric matrix has 12 main etheric DNA strands. We asked about DNA there. So, 12 main etheric DNA strands spirally, like a cocoon, surround every cell of our body and, for example, 8 of them are connected with such energy channels as the Higher Self, births, parents, the spiritual heart of a person, and four are connected with the elementals, the so-called air, water, fire and earth. I would like to ask, with the help of our specialists and respected scientists: are these 12 etheric DNA strands one of the levels in the structure of the etheric matrix, and is it connected with such a concept as the “silver thread” that is mentioned in our sacred books.

Irina: What is the first question? What is it related to?

Elena: Are these 12 etheric DNA strands connected to any level in the structure of the etheric matrix? And the second question: are these 12 strands the "silver thread", as it is called?

Irina: These are different things. The thing is that the etheric copies of DNA matrices are in the etheric copies of cells, because the cell has, in addition to DNA, other organelles, which are also surrounded by their etheric matrices, everything is repeated there, but at a more subtle level. Any cell of a person or any living creature is not just a piece of living flesh, it is an entire universe that can be studied endlessly.

As for the “silver thread”, this is an ethereal component, it consists of energies, there is the energy of Purusha, and the energy of Akasha, and the energy of Prana, and the outer part of this ethereal thread is torsional energy.

Elena: And to which chakra is this wonderful etheric-pranic cord attached?

Irina: Ether is the general name for all energies, and these different names that he just spoke about are types of ether.

To which chakra? For earthlings, in 90 percent of cases it is attached to the solar plexus area, to the chakra.

Elena: And for some reason I thought it was by the seventh.

Irina: It is this life thread that is attached to the third chakra. The third chakra contains a very large reserve of etheric energy, in addition to the etheric matrices of the organs, there is such a ball (shows), as the etheric reserve of the organism.

Elena: Alive.

Irina: The remaining 10 percent can attach to any chakra, it depends on the characteristics of both the Soul that came to incarnate and the body, what it can attach depends on their connection, I will name this word now. In the etheric matrix there is such a place from where the etheric thread emerges. When the astral body comes out, it is always surrounded by an etheric shell, and the life thread is attached to this etheric shell to the etheric body, and the other end is attached to the etheric body, which remains around the physical. This place from where the etheric thread comes out, and to which it is attached, is usually called the "key of the etheric field", and in 90 percent of cases it is in the area of the third chakra, in other cases it can be in the seventh chakra, and in the fourth chakra, that is, in the area of the heart, and in the sixth.

Elena: And according to our respected specialists and scientists, for example, on Burkhad, on Esler, where is this very etheric-pranic cord located, to which chakra is it attached?

Irina: We have a different number of chakras. For example, on Burkhad (shows) it is located in the throat area, while for the Eslerites it is most often located in the heart area.

Elena: Who haven’t I asked yet?

Irina: The Shimorians (points to the forehead) have it somewhere in their heads.

Elena: The Shimorians have it in their third eye.

Irina: Yes, it’s located somewhere around here (points to the area of the third eye).

Elena: I see. You see how interesting it is that we have become acquainted with the arrangement of the etheric-pranic silver cords.

49:16 Vibrational frequency of etheric energies and their perception in color. Emotions and DNA.

Elena: Now we have a question, a very small but important one. What explains the different colors of the twelve etheric DNA strands? Is it the difference in vibrations of the etheric analogues of the chakras or something else?

Irina: Each of the etheric energies has its own vibration frequency, and this vibration frequency is perceived by human consciousness as a certain color, because a person is accustomed to perceiving the whole world in colors through his physical body, that is, he will see and subconsciously interpret what he sees in familiar images, although, of course, this color has nothing in common with the color of the physical world, because the color of the physical world is light that is reflected from objects and enters the physical eyes.

Elena: Yes, but for some reason we have a seven-fold system of chakras, and here they talk about twelve etheric threads. What colors are there, besides the visible spectrum that we have?

Irina: For example, besides these seven colors, there is also a silver color, there are several spectra of green and violet. You know that green is not uniform (shows me another bluish-greenish color).

Elena: Surprisingly. But this is connected precisely with the analog of vibration of organs or chakras, well, you can’t say chakras, then organs?

Irina: This is connected with the difference in vibrations of the etheric energies themselves.

Elena: Those same ones, the ten of which? Or twelve?

Irina: Ten energies, but there are more threads, because these threads also contain emotional and instinctive energy, which is also enclosed in a lepton shell.

Elena: This is our future, probably, communication, it’s difficult for us now, we need to digest it.

Irina: For you, emotion is a certain feeling, for us, emotion is a certain energy that expresses the reaction of the Spirit to the events that are happening, and since all reactions of the Spirit also affect DNA, among other things, this energy of emotion is already included in the etheric matrix of DNA.

Elena: Wonderful. We don't even have an idea about the vibrations of the energies of our emotions, and what they are clothed in in the color spectrum, it is still completely difficult for us.

Irina: But at school they teach you that any emotion is reflected in the genetics of teenagers?

Elena: It’s hard to say, maybe they teach, but not everyone.

Irina: Reflected is not the exact word, emotional energy can affect the DNA of your cells, all cells, including sex cells.

Elena: We usually say that our emotions, whether they are positive or negative, in any case are reflected in the state of our nervous system.

Irina: Yes, it also affects the state of DNA, because the entire body consists not just of organs, but of cells, each cell contains organelles and DNA, and each organelle, including DNA, has an etheric copy, and these etheric copies with cells are passed on to your children, whom you conceive.

Elena: I think that our earthly children at school are unlikely to delve so deeply into the microworld at the DNA level, if they were at least informed about the role of positive and negative emotions and their influence on the whole organism.

Irina: How do you like this school?

Elena: It would suit me, unfortunately, this stage has already been passed.

Irina: Do you like it?

Elena: Me? Me, of course, and in general everything that is connected with understanding the structure of a person - it would be great if we learned about it a little deeper and earlier, we would probably make fewer mistakes.

54:18 Energy of emotions and the formation of blocks.

Elena: Now this question is very important, because it is connected with our health, our space specialists simply read the further train of thought. I would like to clarify with their help how much earthly time is required on average for a block accumulated in the current life from the etheric plane to manifest on the physical plane of a person in the form of some disease?

Irina: This is a very individual question, it depends on the type of emotion or feeling that formed the block, on the inclusion in this block of mental structures that you call thought forms, on the individual strength of the emotion, which is different for all people, and in general on the physical state of the human organism itself, which can also be different. But if we take the most average indicator, then, for example, at least by what block, what feeling, what emotion?

Elena: What block, what feeling?

Irina: For example, the energy of anger manifests itself the fastest. The energy of fear is the medium-longest in manifestation. The energy of sadness and grief.

Elena: Irritation? Sadness and grief?

Irina: Sadness and grief are the slowest. But irritation is a type of anger, a weak manifestation of the energy of anger. The energy of anger, again, it all depends very much on the person, how strong the anger was, can manifest itself on the physical level even after several hours, but on average it is somewhere around two or three days, and physiological disorders already appear in the organ for which the chakra is responsible, in which this block was deposited.

Elena: Most likely, it affects the liver.

Irina: The third chakra is responsible for the liver, which is directly connected to the etheric matrix of the liver, pancreas, stomach, intestines, and so on, for the gastrointestinal tract. In what case does the third chakra accumulate a block of anger?

Now I will explain first, because perhaps someone does not know this, that in addition to the function of participating in the work of the physical body, the chakras are also responsible for certain actions in the physical world, that is, for actions, communication and for certain areas of a person's life. So the third chakra is also responsible for communication with society and for areas related to work, career and finances. Anger is deposited in this chakra if it was directed somewhere in these areas.

Elena: I see. That is, anger can be distributed across all chakras depending on which sphere the given chakra is responsible for.

Irina: Anger can also be deposited in the fifth chakra, because if a person wanted to express it, but some personal attitude received through upbringing did not allow him to do so, or some fear prevented him from doing so, for example, fear of some consequences or something else, then this energy can get stuck in the chakra that is responsible for speech - this is the fifth chakra.

Elena: Okay, thank you, very clear.

Irina: And it happens that from the same emotion or feeling blocks are deposited in different chakras, this also happens.

58:58 Karmic knots.

Elena: Next, I would like to clarify a question that is also related to blocks, but a block that is already entered into the karmic history of a person who will incarnate, so the difference between the block that was received at the direction of the Higher Self and the one that was developed by a person, from the point of view of its manifestation on a person's health, will the time be the same, as we have just discussed, or will these be different things?

Irina: These will be different things. The block that remains with the Soul of a person when he leaves the incarnation, the block, just like the entire etheric body, dissipates, but the memory of it and the qualities that the Spirit acquired under the influence of this block, naturally, remain.

Elena: Let me clarify, it's just not about when you leave, but when you arrive.

Irina: I want to say that if you came with this, it means that you have accumulated it somewhere, and these blocks do not appear as blocks from emotions and feelings already in this life, they appear in the form of so-called karmic knots. These are certain programs built into the causal or karmic body of the aura, that is, they initially appear in the Spirit, then they pass into the Soul as tasks of its embodiment, which it must process in itself in order to raise its level.

Elena: That is, they do not manifest on the etheric body?

Irina: They can move to the etheric plane, but this will be after conception. In what time frame, it depends on the tasks of the incarnation.

1:00:54 Technologies for restoration of organs and body parts in the Interstellar Union. Meditation sessions for harmonization of etheric matrices on the channel "Cassiopeia-Meditations".

Elena: Almost the penultimate question is related to the fact that does the Interstellar Union today have technologies that allow the restoration of any organ or lost part of the human body using the DNA matrix of the etheric body or by using one's own stem cells?

Irina: Yes, we have such technologies, but we do not restore using the DNA matrix of the etheric body or stem cells. The thing is that any DNA, no matter what cell of a human or humanoid is there, contains information about your entire body, about its current state. And when a certain humanoid is born, as you know, many are implanted with chips, but they also take blood cells from him (shows how blood is taken) and store it as a storage of his DNA. And later, when he lives a certain number of years, he will be able to compare the state of his organs with the genetic state that was given to him at birth.

And if something happens to a part of his body or an organ and requires replacement, then it will be possible to do this by growing it from his own DNA, either from the DNA of the body that is now, or from the DNA of those cells that were at birth, our doctors always consider this. It is possible to grow that organ or its part in a special nutrient medium down to individual cells, only stimulating the unfolding of not all the DNA, but only the part of it that is responsible for the synthesis of cells that make up the totality of tissues of this organ, because it consists of many tissues.

Elena: These are your remarkable genetic achievements, but why did we connect this with the etheric plane? Because our idea is based on the fact that if a person has lost some part of his body, then we have such a concept as a phantom organ, this is how we understand that information is stored somewhere about how it should look, not just what cells it consists of, but this is its model, because everyone has different arms, legs and all sorts of different organs, so we focused on the etheric part of its matrix.

Irina: Through the etheric plane, it is possible to restore an organ if it is sick, if it is not lost, and if it is sick, then it is possible to restore it through the etheric plane with the help of a special meditation, this is not a technique in the physical sense, this is a special psychotechnique, a type of meditation that is aimed at harmonizing the etheric field, when a person or humanoid mentally enters the etheric matrix of his organ, the etheric copy of his physical organ that requires restoration and with its energy, as well as the energy that he receives with each breath from the surrounding etheric space, with this energy he restores all the violations that he can see in the form of a hole or any foreign objects that are inside these threads, from the interweaving of which the etheric matrix consists.

LiShioni and Mead say. We gave Irina such a meditation for harmonization of etheric matrices. The first of these meditations was yesterday, were you there?

Elena: No, unfortunately, no, Irochka.

Irina: Then I invite you, Elena, and you, dear TV viewers, to this meditation. I don't know when this video will come out, but I will tell you, Elena, that the next meditation is the harmonization of etheric matrices, we will enter the etheric matrix of all the main organs and send them Light, restoring, smoothing out everything that is damaged there, and we will pronounce special instructions so that the thought form connects with the etheric plane, and the etheric plane connects with the physical. They gave me this.

I invite you next Friday at 20:00 to our channel "Meditations", I will be leading the second part of this practice there.

Elena: Thank you very much, we accept your invitation.

1:06:30 Lobsang Rampa and his travels.

Elena: The last question with gratitude to all participants. It does not directly relate to the etheric bodies, fields, but it contains information that I would like to reveal and receive feedback.

There was such an esotericist in the 20th century, Lobsang Rampa, a Tibetan, he described his participation in some intergalactic conference with the spiritual sun in the center of the Earth. At that moment he was not in an astral body, but, apparently, in an etheric-physical one, but at the same time he observed creatures of different worlds of humanoid and non-humanoid species with his physical eyes.

I would like to clarify with our Interstellar Union specialists: have they ever participated in similar conferences on Earth, do they still continue on Earth, how often and who organizes them?

Irina: Lobsang Rampa. We were asked about him, we know who he is, he was really a contactee, and he was a physical contactee, that is, he had curators from the planet Disaru (shows), and they really could take him to the base. What he called the inner sun of the Earth, perhaps he called it that, he was still a very sensitive person and that is how he called that etheric plane, the etheric energy that he felt at this base. You need to look at this text, but he really was taken to other planets, and the curators could also take him to the base.

Elena: I can only say what I read in his source. He said that he flew to this tunnel inside the Earth with his teacher, then they somehow moved in a complicated way along the inner-earth tunnel, plunged into the center of the Earth, and eventually they reached it.

Irina: Maybe it was an astral journey? But if it was physical, then maybe they were flying... On what?

Elena: They flew to, we would call it a saucer, but it was not an ordinary saucer, it was a saucer - an intelligent entity that looked like this. It took him to a certain place, where he and the teacher traveled further along some very ancient tunnels.

Irina: Many contactees perceive our robots in our plates as intelligent beings, as artificial intelligence.

Elena: In any case, he didn't say that he was delivered to a base somewhere on a saucer, he was quite adequate in terms of the fact that there is a saucer, that there is movement in space to another planet, he described it all differently. For example, he visited Venus at one time and so on. And here he says that he traveled through these very ancient tunnels.

Irina: I can’t say anything specific without this text.

Elena: I wanted to ask: you have never participated in such conferences, right? I assume so.

Irina: We were not given any.

Elena: Then the question is removed, since such a situation took place, and I thought that perhaps the specialists...

Irina: There are different conferences, but we didn’t participate specifically with him.

Elena: Maybe there were other conferences in the center of the Earth?

Irina: A conference can be called a gathering of people or humanoids from different planets who talk about one topic. We had to participate in scientific conferences, but what happened there, we do not know, because we did not meet him.

Elena: I see. He simply described a meeting with the spiritual sun, and the conversation was about how this spiritual sun had such capabilities.

Irina: Let us still separate the concepts, the spiritual sun can be seen with spiritual eyes. Right?

Elena: Yes, that's right.

Irina: You can see it, including from the physical body, it will just be perceived inside the consciousness, or being in the Astral, and will be perceived directly in front of you. And here you need to figure it out.

Elena: Probably yes, because, on the one hand, it speaks of a spiritual sun in the center of the Earth, and, on the other hand, they were in a physical or etheric-physical body, and the word “astral” is not mentioned.

Irina: You can be either in the etheric or in the physical. Etheric-physical body, what is this new term?

Elena: If everything around us is permeated with ether, Astral.

Irina: You are now in the etheric-physical. You are now in the physical, and in the etheric, and in the astral, and in the mental, that is, all your fields are with you.

Elena: In any case, he was competent enough to describe that he had passed into the astral plane.

Irina: Yes, and that is why I say that if he passed into the astral plane, it means that it was an astral journey, and he could visit any worlds of any density, or the astral world or in general the world of non-embodied Spirits, or the world of any density that is accessible in the astral body, and see it there. Again, here the question arises: what exactly did he call Spirit, and what did he call matter, we may have different terminologies.

Elena: Well, okay, I think that maybe this issue should have been discussed with a historian who studies the history of young races, and maybe he was aware of it and maybe he is familiar with this source, then I will simply remove this question, thank you for the comment that was given on this issue. Thank you very much!

Irina: Thank you! So, dear friends...

Elena: Many thanks to the specialists and Irina - our main universal translator and specialists of the three planets of the Interstellar Union, who explained to us a rather complex issue related to the etheric fields of man, planets and galaxies. Thank you very much.

Irina: So, dear friends, thank you, thank you Elena, thank you Raom Tiyan, MidgasKaus, LiShioni for interesting answers. Dear friends, I thank you for watching this video, I hope you found it interesting, come to our meditations, come to our practices, they will help you strengthen your etheric field, and therefore, to always be cheerful, healthy, energetic and successful person, I wish this for you with all my Soul, I send you the Light of my Love, until next time!

Elena: I join the Light of Love, Irina, of my spiritual heart.

Low Vibrational Plasmoids. Plasmoid Donors. Tips from LiShioni

Destructive plasmoid civilizations of the parasitic type also create attachments. But they create attachments to people regardless of what practices they engage in, whether they were conscious astral or not, but who radiate into the world the emotion of anxiety, fear, condemnation, anger, all low-vibrational states.

Low-vibration plasmoids also have their own contactees, mostly unconscious, who accept the messages of plasmoids for their own thoughts and desires, and begin, for example, through the media to spread false rumors about the end of the world, about various secret conspiracies of reptilians, Masons who kill people through vaccination - there are many different topics that can be used to instill fear. They spread it in society to make people susceptible to this type of plasmoids, to make them donors.

In fact, having become a donor of such a plasmoid, a person enters into a relationship with it of his own free will, because he himself felt his fear, did not cope with it, did not harmonize, and since a plasmoid connected to him, then this fear is the right of this plasmoid to contact. That is, the plasmoid and the person have a mutual connection "curator-contactee", they have a mutual lesson.

The plasmoid teaches a person a lesson by making him feel bad, hurt, scared, so that he sees his fear and gets rid of it, and the person also teaches the plasmoid a lesson in that by feeding it with his energy, he does not allow him to go through his life lesson, which he must go through in his world. The plasmoid is supposed to feed on its subtle energy sources, and not switch to human life force, especially negative. If a person feeds it with his energy, he does not allow it to go through this lesson and becomes a donor.

To protect yourself from this, you need to be in high vibrations of hope, faith, trust, love, openness, light, happiness, joy, gratitude - all high vibration states.

Try in every way to avoid depression, pessimistic expectations of a bad future, try to surround yourself with bright images, which are in good kind films, songs, poems, books, etc.

Try to read less negative sources of information about crimes, especially books about crimes in which there was no bright ending for the heroes. There are such books, depressive. Try to read them less, watch less such information, especially if you are very emotional about it.

Perception of images in astral travel. Exchange of thought forms in the Astral

Travels that take place in the Astral are real, but they are real not for the material plane, but in the subjective spiritual reality. Even if you get to another planet, you will get to its astral plane and, communicating with the inhabitants there, in any case, you will perceive their thought forms through the prism of your awareness, i.e. that worldview, those filters that you have in your mental body.

What you call the mind is not just a logical mind, but a combination of memory, imagination and thinking - this is the mind. Imagination, memory and thinking do work there, but information from the astral plane of the space where you communicate passes through this prism. When you get to the astral plane of another planet, you do not communicate with words, because your physical body is at home at this time with all the organs: ears, tongue, which can hear and perceive speech, and you communicate with thoughts. The astral traveler who met you on another planet also communicates mentally.

The exchange of thought forms is accompanied by the fact that someone else's thought form, getting into your mental field, astral, i.e. into your aura, energy structure, is processed and reaches your consciousness in a form in which it can be perceived. That is why, if 10 astral travelers go to the same place in the physical world, which was unknown, they will describe it differently, because they will perceive these images differently. The fact is that the physical world itself - earthly or alien - is seen fragmentarily, i.e. some fragment of the physical world is seen, some fragment of the thought form of the person sitting next to you - this is the astral plane.

For example, I, says LiShioni, see through Irina's perception, because she allows me to look through her eyes, I can adjust through her chips to her perception of the reality of the physical body. I look at the objects that are around. And when I am in the Astral and look with my astral body, then, for example, I do not see such details as pictures that hang on the wall, etc. I just see energies. For example, in place of the picture of a woman with a child, I see a vase of flowers - a symbol of the blossoming of life - such a figurative perception.

If the astral body gets into a familiar space, for example, into some house, it can orient itself there by simply seeing familiar images and focusing on them, i.e. separating where some real table is, and if they see something that is not in real physical space, they will understand that it is a thought form. Traveling to other planets is the same. In any case, you perceive astral space.

When communicating with entities, you really communicate with them, but you understand them at your level depending on your vocabulary. If you meet a scientist physicist, for example, from the planet Burkhad, who will say some complex things and formulas, you will understand at your level how your consciousness will translate everything. And what does not correspond to your level - will simply pass by your consciousness or turn into a chaotic chain of images, which you yourself will discard, not understanding anything there.

#559 Live broadcast with the Spirit of Nikolai Levashov.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=H-NjpG7BsV4

00:00 Start of video.

00:04 Greetings. Project News.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone!

We were a little late. We had some movements here – we were expecting the whole team, the “gang”, who came to us today to help conduct this broadcast. The broadcast will be, I will tell you, very interesting, as it is fashionable to say – quite “bombastic”.

In this broadcast we will have very interesting intergalactic news. I think that it will surprise you all very much, because it surprised me very much, this news. And on top of that – Nikolai Viktorovich Levashov, his Spirit, who in his last incarnation was Nikolai Viktorovich Levashov, is present here on the live broadcast. I haven’t met him yet, though, so we will get to know him together with you.

(reads chat) "Hello from the USA." Hello.

Anapa, Lithuania, like. "No sound." Please tell me, can you hear us well?

"There is sound." That's it, Lenochka, thank you very much. These are probably more "haters"...

As always, I will start telling you about the news of the Cassiopeia Project. We have not moved away from our retreats. I am currently finishing building the Center in Voronezh. Yes, I am finishing building, finishing building, finishing building, in general, organizing it so that we can hold retreats here in Voronezh. So that it would be on the condition of "donation", so that it would not be so expensive for many, because off-site events are quite expensive. And I am already receiving feedback from you that it is expensive, inconvenient.

Guys, I will finish building the Center in Voronezh now, and we will all gather in it, that is, up to 50 people. We will be able to calmly be here in unique nature. We are in a unique place - both energetically unique and in nature. Here, where we are, we even have endemic birds, this means that these birds exist only here. And on top of that, you will be able to come here to us not only to live. By the way, accommodation with us costs from 750 rubles, plus food. And if someone can afford more, we have separate rooms, separate houses.

And, accordingly, now I will also make a large conference hall so that we can gather up to 50 people in it. For now, unfortunately, we cannot accept more than 25 people, because our conference hall is 80 square meters and is designed for 25 people. But I think that in the future we will be able to hold all the necessary retreats with our masters and generally separate events in our Center, which I am creating in Voronezh.

I will even make a separate video for you soon about what our Center is like. Because some people come home and say: "They have one toilet, one shower." Guys, this is very old, long-standing information, we already have the ability to receive guests with showers, with toilets, everything as it should be. It was simply very difficult to do at the beginning, of course. Thank God, our curators and mentors at least allowed us to move to the place where we are now. We are located outside the city, we do not disturb people, we do not irritate people with our "sect." (laughs)

Because I have already gotten used to it: my friends and comrades call me a sectarian and consider us some kind of sect. Although I don't see anything bad in this, we are an official organization – the Autonomous Non-Commercial Organization "Health Center for Spiritual and Physical Development "Cassiopeia". And our organization was created to develop people both physically and spiritually. All spiritual knowledge in the Cassiopeia Project is transferred on the condition of "donation". What does this mean? This means – as much as you consider necessary, so you support the master, psychologist, esotericist, energy practitioner who works with you not at off-site events, that is, when he is at home or at our Center.

04:50 Probiotic complexes "Cassiopeia".

Maxim: Plus, the Cassiopeia Project with our interstellar friends already has its own unique developments of probiotic microorganisms. I want to remind you all, we have our own probiotic microorganisms (shows). What is it? These are living microorganisms that are made using a unique technology. We do not dry the probiotics, we evaporate the water by freezing, and they fall asleep.

We just received a new batch of probiotic microorganisms. What is it, how to use it, what are they for? At first we thought about making dietary supplements that would help people, but then our interstellar friends told us that it would be better to work with probiotic microorganisms. These are our symbionts that are in our body. They are in a living state, and when our microflora deteriorates, immunity drops, they begin to die.

We have created a group of probiotic microorganisms that completely cleanse the gastrointestinal tract, cleanse the lymph, blood, help saturate the body with various microelements that you consume with food. You can consume it from the age of zero, that is, "Biofidum" is indicated for children who have just been born, who have sore tummies. You can consume it for those people who have a stomach ulcer, a duodenal ulcer, who have trophic internal ulcers, acute colitis, bloating, that is, any internal disorders associated with the stomach and intestines.

You can go to the site: type in "Cassiopeia Center", search. We are the first in the search engine, go in and see, read what it is. It is a wonderful thing. I myself take a course of probiotic microorganisms every quarter and I feel absolutely wonderful. I used to have heartburn all the time, now it has completely disappeared. That is, for those who have heartburn, colitis, bloating, internal ulcers and generally disturbances of the microflora of the stomach and intestines, our probiotic microorganisms can very well and quickly, within 27 days, completely restore the entire internal microflora.

07:21 "Cassiopeia Energy".

Maxim: We have a unique product, it is called "Cassiopeia Energy" (shows). These are the energies of the Earth and the Universe in each cell, it is even written on the box, because "Cassiopeia Energy" contains absolutely the entire spectrum of chemical elements necessary for the existence of the body and for the renewal of cell growth. That is, when you drink "Cassiopeia Energy", you completely give your body the entire necessary flow of physical energy that it needs for growth, development, existence and harmonization on this planet. Therefore, this is also a unique product. I highly recommend it to athletes, children who have a very large mental load. I highly recommend it to women.

By the way, this product has a side effect. I can't call it a side effect - it increases female libido dozens of times. Yes, dear women, this is a real fact, and I have very good feedback from those girls and women who took a course of "Cassiopeia Energy". Therefore, I highly recommend it to those who do not have enough energy to continue life and to restore their strength in all forms and manifestations.

(reads) "Where are we going to get men?" A good question, where are we going to get men. You know, I am glad that recently more men have been appearing in the Cassiopeia Project who are engaged in their conscious development, their spiritual development. So come to our retreats. We really have very interesting men coming. By the way, more than one couple has already formed in the Cassiopeia Project who met at our events, meetings, and retreats. Irina is sitting next to me, she will not let me lie, we even already have children of the Cassiopeia Project who were born to these couples, and I am very happy about that.

How to order probiotic microorganisms and, in general, the products of the Cassiopeia Project? Go to the website, type in the search engine "Cassiopeia Health Center", and there you can find all these products. I think the link will be below, under this video. By the way, there are links there that you can follow to find the Cassiopeia Health Center - it is very well defined in the search engine in Google. We are practically the first to appear there, there is no other Cassiopeia Health Center.

(reads chat) Thank you very much: "Looking at Max increases a woman's libido." I will regard it as a compliment. By the way, I didn't have time to shave today, but I think there is some zest in this too.

In addition to Cassiopeia Energy, in addition to probiotic microorganisms, we work with a very cool, cool company called Natural Health. They created a product - five-cluster water, which is charged with various vibrations. This is not a scam, not a rip-off, this is a truly patented product.

And here's the most important news, guys - we and our scientists have finally come to this point during all this time and developed equipment that will restore the cells of your body, your organism, at the physical level. Any structures - the immune system, liver cells, reproductive system cells. We and our scientists already have a finished product. It has already passed all the tests, it has already passed all the certifications, and literally in a month or two you will see this new unique equipment on the website of our Health Center, with which you can completely restore your health.

But again, without spiritual growth and development, without spiritual work, all your work on improving health is temporary, and I would not like to tie you to this work. Therefore, I am sure that this will be such a small galactic news: new equipment will appear on our planet, which can already act on a very deep level and restore physical cells.

(reads) "Where did "Om tea" go?" Guys, we really did remove "Om tea" from sale. Why? Because it had very ambiguous effects. It turned out to be a very strong drug, although it was made from vegetables and herbs. But it turned out to be so strong that it frightened some people: one in a hundred people had either a strong increase or decrease in blood pressure, and gag reflexes arose. We later found out what it was, how to work with it, and of course, gave instructions about individual intolerance to the drug.

But we are putting "Om tea" back on sale. Guys, there are a lot of positive reviews. We have cases of healing patients, cancer patients. We need to talk about this information quietly: we really have cases when, after drinking "Om tea" for 90 days, tumors that were in the lymph nodes completely dried up.

So, guys, "Om tea" is back on sale. You can buy it. "Om tea" is needed to cleanse the lymph, to cleanse the blood, to cleanse the body of fungi, viruses and bacteria. This is a very serious, strong drug. Read the instructions for use carefully. There are contraindications: you cannot take drugs with this tea that increase or decrease blood pressure, and you cannot drink it with alcohol under any circumstances.

(reads) "Will the equipment restore teeth?" No, guys, we haven't received these technologies yet, and in the near future, we will probably develop them, look at them. But we already have technologies for rapid cell restoration at the physical level, so equipment for restoring human body cells, rapid restoration, will soon be available for sale.

(reads) "I drink Ahmad tea." Andrey, we are for freedom of choice, you can drink whatever you want.

So, guys, thank you very much for putting up with me for these 14 minutes again. I am sure that I will extend today's broadcast for quite a long time. Why? Because I have received a huge number of questions for Nikolai Viktorovich Levashov, for his Spirit, and in general, in principle, he is a very interesting person. I would like to remind you all that he is a scientist, a figure who has been awarded various orders, medals of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd degree for his services to mathematics, physics, and energy. A very interesting, extraordinary person who deserves a lot of attention.

So, I'll give the floor to our wonderful contactee Irishka. Irina, sit down.

16:10 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Greetings to all, dear friends! Good evening. My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with the Spiritual world and with plasmoid civilizations. Today we have another live broadcast. Present next to me in astral bodies are: LiShioni from the planet Shimor - a specialist in the astral world, MidgasKaus from the planet Esler - a biologist, psychologist, specialist in extraterrestrial civilizations, and also present today is a representative of the planet Burkhad, Raom Tiyan, he also decided to be with us today.

Maxim: Welcome Raom Tiyan, I haven’t seen him for a long time!

Irina: Yes, greetings! Also present here is the disembodied Spirit, who in his last incarnation was known as a man named Nikolai Levashov. I see his image in his last incarnation. My curators also asked him to come so that he could answer questions. And when they asked him to come, he first asked - why, what questions would be asked, who, and what kind of project we are. He asked in sufficient detail.

And then, when I asked, he said: "For what? Why me? Who will ask questions?" He was told that it was a live broadcast, meaning that anyone could ask questions, and he agreed to come. Although now he says that he is surprised. He greets everyone and says that he is surprised that they want to talk to him, although he wrote everything in his books and articles and laid out his views in the video.

Maxim: Nikolay Viktorovich, I welcome you!

Dear friends, today we will have a really busy broadcast, and I want our interstellar friends to pass on intergalactic news through Irina. It is very interesting.

18:40 Galactic news about a downed alien ship.

Irina: Raom Tiyan says that from the planet Futissa, which is a fairly ancient colony of Burkhad and is itself the capital of the Galactic Federation of Light (I remind you that the planet Futissa is located in the Pleiades cluster, this is in the constellation Taurus).

(Raom Tiyan) Since the planet Burkhad constantly maintains contact with the planet Futissa, with its scientists, with its space researchers, I, as one of the representatives of the planet Burkhad, one of the first in the Interstellar Union, learned that on the evening of April 19 of this year, literally a few days ago, in the Earth's atmosphere over the territory of the Kyiv region, a spaceship was shot down, which belonged to one of the representatives of the planet Futissa.

Maxim: A spaceship was shot down?!

Irina: Yes, this is his personal spaceship in the shape of a disk, he is showing it to me now.

For what reason? For the reason that this representative of the planet

Futissa, although they were not personally acquainted…

Maxim: People don’t know what kind of planet Futissa is.

Irina: This is the capital of the Galactic Federation of Light, the colony of Burkhad. Humanoids live there - anthropomorphs who look almost the same as Burkhadians and have a similar metabolism. In fact, these are the same organisms as Burkhadians.

Maxim: Sorry for interrupting. Go on.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This ship was shot down because its pilot, who is one of the leading scientists-biologists, crisis psychologists, and also psycho-sociologists (there is a science that studies the psychology of society), this scientist decided to openly contact the representatives of the Earth in Kyiv. Because he hoped (as I learned from his immediate superiors, he had been hatching these plans for a long time), by contacting the representatives of the Earth in Kyiv, to enter into a dialogue with them and somehow show the prospects for the development of the conflict in which Kyiv, the government of Ukraine, is, to unfold before them the prospect of continuing the conflict and thus contribute to the establishment of peace on planet Earth.

I want to say right away that such an action was not approved by his management, that is, he did not receive permission for such open contact and made such a decision on his own.

And when he was descending over the territory of the Kyiv region (it was in the evening), he turned off the anti-radar and photon protection of his spacecraft, the engines of which were not powerful enough to create a gravitational deflection of air-to-air or ground-to-air missiles. But the protection that was there - anti-radar and photon - was enough to ensure that he was not detected in this area. And what happened was a direct consequence of the fact that he opened this protection independently and became visible for detection by the military structures of Ukraine.

Accordingly, fighter planes were raised into the air. The fire of one of them seriously damaged the Futissian's ship. But thanks to the fact that he turned on the antigravity beam, he managed to land slowly enough, that is, the ship itself did not crash, it was simply damaged.

Maxim: So the ship remained intact?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There was damage, but it did not fall apart. When it fell, it did not cause damage to the soil or vegetation, it simply landed, but with damage. And this damage, according to the Futissian, which he transmitted to our commission already in an astral form, could have been repaired. But after some time, about an hour after this incident, several military vehicles arrived at the ship that was damaged, on which there were people without obvious identification marks.

The Futissian came out to them, and they asked him with signs to come with them. And, as I already said, this was several days ago, and later we learned from the Futissian that his damaged disk-shaped ship was taken to one place, and he to another. And literally two days later we learned that he was moved to the territory of the United States of America.

Maxim: Futissovtsy?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. And representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light, who have direct contact with some political and military figures of this country, began negotiations for his release. Unfortunately, these earthlings set the condition of transferring military technologies for a significant advantage for the United States of America in the existing conflict. Which, of course, the Galactic Federation of Light cannot agree to. At the moment, negotiations are ongoing. This is galactic news.

Maxim: Wait, so they demanded to be given technology in order to defeat Russia?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): To gain a significant advantage, including in military force, and, as was conveyed to the commission of the Galactic

Federation of Light, so that productive negotiations could be initiated with the help of this technology.

Maxim: Irina, I have a question. Is it possible that they can transfer the technology in order to take their Futissian?

Irina: Raom Tiyan says: “I can express my opinion.”

MidgasKaus and LiShioni are also aware of this situation. Nikolai's spirit is also listening now. I can hear him mentally asking for some details.

Maxim: What is your personal opinion?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I believe that the leadership of the Galactic Federation of Light will not agree to transfer technologies that can harm earthlings for the reason that when transferring such technologies, from which earthlings have no protection (and such technologies exist), many people will die, and in essence, this will be an exchange of one life of a Futissian for many lives of earthlings. And this contradicts the moral laws of God for the reason that all lives of intelligent beings are of equal value.

Maxim: (reads the chat) They ask: “In what language were negotiations conducted with him?”

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I want to say that this Futissian studied Earth languages. As I was told, he studied five Earth languages, including English, Ukrainian, Russian, and two more European languages, I can check. He also had with him (shows) a device for automatic translation.

(Irina) This is the box that I saw at Kirkhiton's.

Maxim: But couldn’t our people take apart the saucer and use it, and find some new technologies there, in order to create some kind of weapon?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There were no specific weapons on this ship, it was his personal ship, which he used for scientific expeditions.

Maxim: Well, why did he come here? Didn't he understand where he was flying to, that we are a very warlike race?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I have learned that recently on the planet Futissa and in the Galactic Federation of Light as a whole, so to speak, a group of humanoids has gathered, who have begun to conduct a separate project on how to enter into open mass contact.

Maxim: There was information from the State Fiscal Service that they were preparing an open mass contact, I remember this information, by the way. And what, he decided to fly here alone and enter into mass contact?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There is a high probability that he decided to use his example to let others know that it was safe. Because he hoped to enter into full conscious contact and awaken to the Light and awareness those people he would meet on his path.

Maxim: And how do they communicate with him now?

Irina: Astrally, that is, through the Astral.

Maxim: So Raom Tiyan and all the other Burkhadians communicate with him through the Astral, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, I communicate with him, psychologists, specialists on earthlings communicate with him, because he needs to be told what to answer during interrogations. He is subjected to lengthy interrogations, they do not physically influence him in any way, they just ask. They ask about civilization, about the purpose of the visit, and judging by the level of questions I can say that scientists are indeed working with him.

Maxim: How does it work: there is a different atmosphere on Burkhad, how is he here?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, he needs a higher percentage of oxygen. For a limited time, about 12 hours, he can fully exist with the percentage of oxygen that is currently on Earth. He told those earth scientists with whom he is in contact about this, and they give him the necessary amount of oxygen through a gas mixture in a cylinder.

Accordingly, a problem of nutrients arose. He is given a specially selected complex of amino acids, glucose and some minerals.

Maxim: Irina, there’s just one thing I don’t understand – is there really no alien technology to fly in, take it with a beam and fly away?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): He said that they had completely changed his clothes, taken all his clothes, searched them so that there were no devices, as earthlings believe, by which his physical location could be found. That's the first thing.

Secondly, as he said, he is kept in a separate room under guard. This room is located under the surface of the Earth, and above the surface of the Earth there are some small buildings. That is, it is not even in a military unit, but in some kind of bunker.

Maxim: Wait, don't Burkhads get chips at birth?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Burkhads are given the procedure, but Futissians undergo this practice only at their own discretion, as adults.

Maxim: And this Futissovite doesn’t have such a chip?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): No, he did not complete this program.

Maxim: How interesting. I hope they will keep us updated on what is going on. Raom Tiyan, on the next broadcast will you tell us more news about this whole situation? Can you tell us?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. Why did I tell Irina about this and why am I telling you now? I did it for a reason, but with a specific purpose. The purpose was, firstly, to address those people now, and I know that such people exist, who are waiting for open contact. I believe that if this had happened in any other country, the result would not have been much different. And the second purpose that I set was to keep you informed about what happens to representatives of galactic communities if they get to Earth in this way.

Maxim: I thank Raom Tiyan.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): And I also want to address people once again and tell them that open mass contact will be possible in a harmonious way, when earthlings are ready, when they fulfill all the conditions that have been listed. And a disharmonious, forced way is possible - this is when any actions of earthlings will threaten the entire civilization, its existence. Then it will be necessary to go for open mass contact, even despite the consequences, including military ones, that may arise.

Maxim: Thank you for the galactic news. I can already see, guys, your bewilderment that there will be no broadcast with Levashov today... No, guys, there will be. We just couldn't help but report this galactic news. It shocked me very much, and in principle, we didn't want to talk about it. But I, as the Project Manager, insisted that we tell you this news, because initially we didn't plan to reveal it to you, realizing how loud it could sound.

Okay, thank you very much, Raom Tiyan! Thank you, Irina! I would like to once again greet Nikolai Viktorovich Levashov, who is present with us today, his Spirit.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Greetings.

37:06 Spiritual name of Nikolai Levashov.

Maxim: Nikolay, how can I address you? Can I address you informally, say, just Nikolay, or is Nikolay Viktorovich more convenient?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): In the Spiritual world, these earthly differences are insignificant.

Maxim: Okay, then I will address you as Nikolai Viktorovich, so that our dear viewers do not suspect me of being overly familiar.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): The thing is that "Viktorovich" is my patronymic, but besides this father, who was in my last incarnation, I had many other parents. Therefore, it does not matter at all whether you can call me Nikolai, or my spiritual name - Lai Grim.

Maxim: Lai Grim?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): This is my name, which is now my spiritual name. I decided to leave it from my previous incarnation, which was before Nikolai. This is the name of the Spirit.

38:18 The Spirit of Nikolai Levashov on free will.

Maxim: Nikolay, I apologize right away, there will be a very large number of questions, they will be of very different formats. I hope for an open, honest dialogue with you. And I was even asked if the Spirit can deceive from the Spiritual world. Can you somehow deceive us when you are in the Spiritual world and in contact with us?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Any Spirit decides for itself what and in what form to say, free will is not taken away from it.

Maxim: The answer is interesting.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I'm not going to lie.

38:51 Spiritual levels of Nikolai Levashov.

Maxim: Tell me, please, from what spiritual level did you come to planet Earth and to what spiritual level did you reach?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): According to the terminology of the Interstellar Union, I incarnated from the 18th level.

Maxim: From the level of the Guardian Angel.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes.

Maxim: And to what level did you go?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): And I left on the 10th.

Maxim: Very interesting.

39:21 Other incarnations of Nikolai Levashov.

Maxim: Tell me, please, have you had any significant incarnations on planet Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I was incarnated on planet Earth a very long time ago – 300 thousand years and 850 thousand years ago.

Maxim: So long ago?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes.

Maxim: And who were you incarnated as 300 thousand and 850 thousand years ago?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): In both cases I was a man who held the position of ruler in different areas of the Earth. There were simply no modern countries then.

Maxim: I know that you, even when you were embodied in this Spirit, Nikolai Viktorovich, also wanted to take some kind of high leadership post.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, that was the case. Indeed, I planned it for the sake of Russia's prosperity.

Maxim: Tell me, please, before your incarnation on planet Earth, where were you incarnated?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Are you asking me about my previous incarnation, where I was called Lai Grim?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I was incarnated a little over 12,500 years ago on the planet Tumesout. My name was Lai Grim.

Maxim: So you came here to us from the planet Tumesout?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes.

Maxim: Was it your conscious choice to come here, to this planet?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, of course.

Maxim: What tasks did you set for yourself when you came to this planet?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Development in people of the ability to heal themselves and others, to treat each other with love and mercy and to help each other, despite the temporary difference in bodies or social classes.

Maxim: When you were incarnated here, you said that you were a representative of the hierarchy of light forces. What did you mean?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I meant Angels. In the terminology of the contactee, these are Angels, that is, those beings who serve God. "Serve" - again, this is an imprecise term: they work selflessly for him, without expecting anything in return.

41:58 Spirit of Nikolai Levashov on the reasons for the decline of the spiritual level.

Maxim: But tell me, please, what was the reason for the fall from level 18 to level 10, what do you think?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): There were many fears, anger, malice, suspicions, and all this lowered my level. Although I completed my planned task, I accumulated several other karmic knots that were not connected with my task.

Maxim: Is it true that you specially disembodied from Tumesoutz, as you are now saying, in order to come here, to this planet?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): There I lived a fairly long, full life and left incarnation at the age I planned.

Maxim: So, in principle, everything went according to plan?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes.

Maxim: Very interesting.

43:05 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his activities in the Spiritual world.

Maxim: What are you doing now in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I am now analyzing, fully sorting out my past incarnation and its connections with other incarnations and communicating with other Spirits at my level.

Maxim: But they say that after leaving incarnation, part of your Spirit joined the so-called "Teacher system" - the highest hierarchs of the Spiritual world, overseeing planet Earth. Is this true?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): No.

Maxim: Thank you.

43:46 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his influence on the end of cataclysms on Earth.

Maxim: Before today's broadcast, before meeting you, I watched a very interesting video about you. And there you talk about how, when you were here incarnate, you saved civilization from earthquakes, for example, in California, from some fires, from explosions in Fukushima. Is that true?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I directed my energy to save the Earth from these and many other cataclysms and to cleanse the ecology of the planet. I personally believe that my energy worked because I am the Divine Spirit, I am a part of God, and my energy worked to stop these cataclysms. That is why I say that I stopped, but I do not mean that only I did it. I never said: "Only me, and this is only my merit."

Maxim: But in the video, they directly present that it was you who stopped the explosions at the Fukushima nuclear reactor, you saved the reservoir from contamination, you saved the United States from the earthquake.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I believe that any bright thought materializes, that is, is embodied in the material world. And for this reason, I believe that all my bright thoughts that I released into the Earth's noosphere cleanse the Earth, stop cataclysms, heal people, and not a single bright thought of mine will be wasted, because it is Divine energy.

Maxim: Thank you.

45:53 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov on the cause of his wife’s death.

Maxim: Tell me, please, you said about your wife's death, that she was killed by the special services. Is that true?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I thought that they were guilty of this, because I had heard a lot from other scientists about similar developments that were unknown to most people. And I thought that I had crossed the path of many people who worked in the special services, because I was revealing the truth, that is, my vision of the truth, because I understand perfectly well that everyone has different opinions. This was my truth, which I believed in and believe in.

For me this is the truth and I believe it is dangerous for those who rule with dirty manipulations and technologies over people on Earth. Therefore I believe that people like me and my relatives have been persecuted, are persecuted and will be persecuted.

But when I saw her... You're talking about Svetlana?

Maxim: Yes, about Svetlana, your wife.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, she came to me. She is on the 17th level at the moment. When I came to the 10th level, she came to me. She sent me healing calming rays of her Love, that is, she calmed me after the transition. And I asked her who was guilty of her disembodiment. And she told me that she consulted her Angels-consultants about this, and they answered that it was her time to exit the incarnation, because she had already done everything she had planned. She said so, and I believed her.

Maxim: Thank you very much, Nikolay.

48:28 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov on psychophysical attacks by special services.

Maxim: When I watched the video, I saw a lot of emphasis on the fact that you were also subjected to various psychophysical attacks, they were carried out with different space equipment. Was that really the case?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I thought so because I studied a lot, read literature about similar experiments on people using infrasound, using radiation, electromagnetic radiation, using so-called psychotronic weapons. Such developments were in all the special services of the Earth. I heard about them, read special literature, even got the one that is not available to most people.

In addition, I know the capabilities of the human brain - that most brain cells are inactive when consciousness is awake. And that means that through these inactive brain cells, it is possible to influence the entire body if you bring them into resonance with certain waves. And all this was studied in closed KGB laboratories.

Maxim: Yes, we know about these studies, and, by the way, the equipment that we invented with our scientists also affects different resonant frequencies.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): The last 3 months before disembodiment I felt bad (shows how she holds her heart, suffocates).

Maxim: Nikolay, but I know, I watched the video: you have gained a lot of weight in recent years. What caused this, why did you gain so much weight?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I saw people of the same weight, older than me, who felt good. But I felt bad.

Maxim: And why did you feel bad?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I thought that it was like in the case with my wife, that they were influencing my heart, me through various waves, to stop my heart. Because I even saw in the window (shows the street from the apartment where he lived: the street and a car parked there). I thought that they were emitting a directed beam from this car into my apartment.

I really thought so, and I had anxiety. And when I had already left the incarnation, I realized that with this anxiety I had accumulated a block in my spiritual heart, which lowered my level and my vibrations.

Maxim: With such energies, it turns out that you yourself formed your murder.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I suspected, I had a feeling of suspicion, that I was not pleasing to some high-ranking people, officials. I also suspected many of my former colleagues, with whom we walked the same path in our project "Renaissance", of envy, and then they left. And they, I believed, wanted to harm me because of anger and envy.

52:35 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about the cause of his death.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): And when I had already left the incarnation, I asked my Angels-consultants what the spiritual reason was. When I connected with what is called the Higher Self, I learned that my incarnation period was 68 years, which I had planned for myself. I did not live to see it, my physical body died earlier for the simple reason that one man named Yuri from one organization - "Rodnovera", with whom I had previously been acquainted, performed a magical ritual against me, which is called "damage to death".

Maxim: But was it really a magical ritual?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, my Angel-consultant showed me, but he also told me that I attracted this magical program for death because of my disbelief in the protection of God and anger at many people, internal aggression.

Maxim: I understand, like attracts like.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): And this death curse worked.

Maxim: Yes, thank you very much, Nikolay.

53:59 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his frequency generator.

Maxim: Tell me, please, I heard that you created a generator of radiation of some frequencies, at which plants grew in sub-zero temperatures and even bore fruit.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I wouldn't say that it was created – it was on paper, as a project.

Maxim: Did he even really exist?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): It existed in the form of a model and existed in the computer in the form of drawings and a project.

Maxim: Tell me, please, were there trees that bore fruit in sub-zero temperatures? Many people have asked me this question.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): It was just a project, and there were experiments. Yes, there were such experiments, but they did not fully satisfy me, because I was redoing everything there.

Maxim: I'll ask the question again: you said that this generator exists in the non-physical world?

Irina: He’s showing me a computer now, and there are drawings of some kind of device.

Maxim: And when you lived in an estate in France, did this device exist, did it really work?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I conducted experiments on a model.

Maxim: And did the plants really produce fruit in sub-zero temperatures?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Fruits did not appear, but damage to plant cells slowed down (shows that he investigated this with his biofield).

Maxim: I understand. And where did those drawings go, where did those devices go?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Everything remained with my students and colleagues in the “Renaissance” project.

Maxim: But I understand that development has stopped because we haven’t even heard about these developments yet.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): It all remained in the form of my diaries, on the computer.

56:34 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov on the reasons for the deformation of his face.

Maxim: Nikolay, I will ask a very awkward question now, even some of our viewers may judge me. I saw that your face was slightly deformed: the left half was different from the right. Please tell me what happened to you, why was it like that?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I also saw this in myself and considered it a confirmation of energetic and psychic attacks on me, since I thought that it was a distortion of energy that was reflected in the physical body, the energy field. Now I can say that the different expressions of the left half of the face and the right half were a consequence of my energetic blocks.

Maxim: Expressed on a physical level?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes.

Maxim: This is probably connected with your manic thoughts about persecution?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): In your opinion, it will be like... Maybe, you know, there is such a form of hidden depression and despondency that the person himself does not notice?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): That is, a person is constantly in this state, and it seems so familiar to him that getting out of it seems like something unconstructive.

Maxim: Guys, I will definitely read out the questions from the chat, I am reading them out, I see. I want this broadcast to be as useful as possible, so please wait. I think we will have time to ask all the questions during this broadcast. Thank you for understanding what I do during live broadcasts.

58:44 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov on the reasons for refusing to cooperate with the special services.

Maxim: Nikolay, please tell me, have you been offered a job in the Russian special services?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, there were such proposals, even before the collapse of the Soviet Union.

Maxim: Why did you refuse to work with the special services?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Because they oppressed the people with a deceptive ideology.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): A false ideology that made people slaves. At the expense of the labor and work of ordinary people, a bunch of slave owners, one might say, rose up and lived well, who called themselves party functionaries, but in fact they were only puppeteers who pulled the strings. I did not want to interact with such people or help them in any way, because that was not my task. My task was to liberate the people and return them to awareness, but there they would not let me return people to awareness. I would then say what was written to me.

1:00:15 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov on the reasons for his departure to the USA.

Maxim: Why did you leave for the US then, if you wanted to bring people back to awareness here?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I went to the USA to live freely, in a freer society. At that time, I thought that they would let me live there in peace, work, and do my own thing. Specifically, I wanted to do healing.

Maxim: So, how did it work out for you? How long did you live there, and were you able to practice healing there peacefully?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I was doing healing there, I did it calmly, I was not persecuted. I just saw that the society there is also peculiar, it also has its shortcomings, and there is also a slave mentality there. If a person says something wrong, he is punished for it, but differently than in the Soviet Union. There, a person is simply isolated, and no one talks to him about serious topics.

Maxim: Nikolay, they say that you worked together with the special services in the United States. They say that you helped stop the earthquake in Florida, helped overcome the drought.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): These were my actions in the direction of thoughts and thought forms about ending these disasters. The special services have nothing to do with it.

I was doing healing there. Yes, people of completely different professions turned to me, including military men of fairly high rank, and officials, and bank employees - everyone turned to me for help, for healing. I sent them energy and mentally imagined that they were healthy, that all their illnesses were disappearing.

1:02:31 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his return to Russia.

Maxim: There is information that you left the USA because cancer patients came to you, you were healing them, and they died. Is this really true?

Irina: He was a little surprised.

(The Spirit of Nikolai Levashov) No one has ever made any claims against me regarding my allegedly failed sessions. I sent thoughts to any patient, including those with cancer, connected with the energy that this person is healthy. And then, if the person himself began to reinforce this thought form with his thoughts, he really recovered, because his cancer cells died, they were deprived of energy, and his body simply needed to remove these dead cells.

But sometimes there were cases when these cells were in a limited space, for example, in the brain, and to remove them from there, the body needed a lot of energy, but it did not have enough of this energy, because it spent it on something else. And in this case, necrosis of these dead cancer cells began, and the person could die from intoxication. But I warned about such effects, and therefore there were no complaints from my patients.

I returned to Russia for another reason: I still have my family here, that is, my mother, brother, sister, and I wanted to live with them.

Maxim: Please tell me, what was the reason for your move back from the USA?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Since in Russia there was no longer a totalitarian Soviet system, which persecuted, among other things, esotericists. It is not a secret for you that this was persecuted at that time?

Maxim: Yes, I know.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): So, that time has passed, and I decided to return, work in Russia and live, as I already said, with my family. I really wanted to see my mother and my friends.

1:05:37 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his contact.

Maxim: Tell me, please, have you had contact with extraterrestrial civilizations?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes.

Maxim: With which ones?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): But he was erased from my memory. I remembered when I came out of incarnation.

Maxim: So you had contact, but these memories were erased. Were they erased at your request or by the extraterrestrial civilizations themselves?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): By extraterrestrial civilizations themselves.

Maxim: Have you been in contact with subtle-material civilizations?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I was a contactee with the planet Tashig, physically. I made physical contact several times, but each time the Tashig representatives erased my memory, citing that my psyche was not ready for memories, although it was ready for contact.

Maxim: I understand. There was information that you created clones of your physical body.

Irina: Smiling.

Maxim: Is that really true, you knew how to create clones of your physical body?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Maybe they mean phantoms?

Maxim: Maybe.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I have done energy work with people living in different parts of the world, even in Australia (shows how he sends his phantom, that is, separates a copy of himself and sends it). I called it "telepathic healing".

(Irina) We now call it a little differently – simply “astral contact”.

Maxim: I understand.

1:07:21 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his devices for improving people's health.

Maxim: Have you invented any devices that helped people improve their health?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Probably not by me. I collaborated with some scientists who created the devices and tested their operation (shows several people).

Maxim: But have these devices become widespread? Do they even exist?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): At the moment, perhaps, I think so. But at that time they were not particularly popular, in my opinion.

Maxim: So at that time you were already developing these devices?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes.

Maxim: And on what basis did they act?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Based on the restoration of the correct frequencies of each organ, the informational cause of the disease was eliminated, because the disease is a record in a certain information matrix of the organ about its incorrect, distorted work. And these devices recorded the correct, reference frequency, the cells were already dividing differently, and the disease went away. They were dividing differently, and the necessary substances were secreted differently.

Maxim: Thank you Nikolay, we have this equipment in our Health Center called the “Light Chamber”.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I am very glad. Very interesting.

Maxim: Thank you very much for starting this development with our scientists.

1:09:02 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his extrasensory abilities.

Maxim: They ask whether you really had the abilities you wrote about in your books: putting up invisible walls in a matter of minutes, growing new teeth, resurrecting people, and the like?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I had the ability, as I already said, to influence reality with my thoughts (in fact, any conscious person has this ability), and I even taught this (shows students).

As for growing teeth and resurrecting the dead, I want to say that I could direct my thoughts to resurrecting the dead. But death, it can be non-random, and then the materialization of what I want simply will not happen, because the Soul itself wants to go further. I want to say that this is not the management of Souls, the Soul itself wants to go further.

As for growing teeth, a person must have enough energy, enough substances in his body, which, following this thought, will be able to materialize this tooth. That is, there are still conditions there too.

Maxim: I understand. We didn't get to the point of growing teeth, but we got to the point that it's possible.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I think it is possible.

Maxim: And were there any cases when someone's tooth grew under your influence, a real living example? I already know that it is possible, I heard from our alien friends that it is possible. But a very large flow of energy is needed. Have you sent someone a flow of energy so that their tooth grew?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I sent a flow of energy to materialize, but my flow of energy is not enough. They themselves should have thought about it, but they did not have enough energy. Because a large amount is needed there, after all, it is a solid tissue.

Maxim: Thank you very much, I heard you. Thank you for your frank answer. Thank you, Nikolay!

1:11:29 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his attitude towards Christianity during his incarnation on Earth.

Maxim: Why did you have a very negative attitude towards Christianity during your life?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Because it is the religion of the Jews.

Maxim: Did you know that one of your books was recognized as extremist literature and banned in the Russian Federation?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, I've heard about this already.

Maxim: And what did you dislike about the Jews, tell me? I don't care what religious denomination – Jews, Judaists...

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Okay, I will answer this question. Look: two religions arose on the territory of Israel (namely on the territory of Israel itself) - Judaism and Christianity. Judaism is based on the Torah, it teaches its followers that wealth is good, that one should accumulate wealth, that one can lend money at interest, that one can have slaves, etc.

Maxim: Who is speaking?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Torah. And on this same land Christianity arose later, also among the Jews, in which opposite things were said - that everything must be given to the one who asks, that it is easier for the poor to enter the Kingdom of Heaven than for the rich. Opposite concepts were expressed.

And we see that these two opposite concepts came from the same country, and for some mysterious reason Russia accepted only the second of them. But the representatives of the first concept, that is, the Torah, after the adoption of Christianity in Russia came to Russia and began to conduct this or that business with people who had been processed by Christian ideology. And in the most mysterious way, the representatives of these Jews suddenly began to get rich, and their workers to get poor. And everyone was happy.

You, I don't know, but I consider it a form of slavery, only religious. That is, I believe that Christianity is a specially created project under the name of Jesus Christ, who taught the exact opposite in order to justify social inequality and the slavish dependent position of people, who are simply considered a herd of animals.

Maxim: Okay, then I'll ask another question. Tell me, please, from the point of view of being in the Spiritual world, what do you think, not as Nikolai Levashov, but as the Spirit?

Irina: He is now describing his beliefs.

(The Spirit of Nikolai Levashov) You asked me why I treated Christianity this way, I answered. Did I answer this question fully enough?

Maxim: Very clear, everything is very precise and quite strict.

1:15:11 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his current attitude towards Christianity and Jews in the Spiritual World.

Maxim: Tell me, please, now that you are in the Spiritual World, what do you think about the religion of Christianity?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Now I remembered, as I already said, my life, my incarnation on the planet Tumesout, which I spoke about. And among other things, I remembered who Jesus Christ is and why he came to Earth, because I knew all this in my previous incarnation. And having compared all this, I decided that Christianity is one of the teachings, as I now think, which can be used both for development, for good, and for evil, for degradation.

Because everything depends on a person's awareness. If a person is sufficiently aware, he will take the bright from this religion - that you need to love, you need to help people. There is even something about healing - the Gospel says: "Heal others." That is, I lived, I believe, according to the Gospel, because I also healed others - in this regard. But you can take fanaticism, ignorance from the same Christianity, you can take pride in your exceptional position, and then a person thinks that he will get to heaven, but ends up on the lower levels.

Because Christianity can be used to achieve the Light, as, for example, the saints did: Sergius of Radonezh, Seraphim of Sarov and many others. Or it can be used for murder and degradation, as the inquisitors and those who called for crusades did. They were Christians too, in fact.

Maxim: I understood about Christianity. Now tell me about the Torah, what do you think from the point of view of the Spiritual world?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Having already connected with my Spirit, I know that the Torah was also given as a law by representatives of the planet Tumesout – the planet where I lived, where I studied history.

Maxim: I remember that the Tumesoutians gave us the Torah.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Moreover, this was during my incarnation on the planet Tumesout, I just did not participate in it. I was in a completely different area of the Galaxy, I was also engaged in medical activities at one of the bases. But this was in a completely different area of the Galaxy, which did not belong to Earth. And therefore for me the creation of the Torah, the creation of Judaism is only the history of my planet, in which I did not participate, although I was a contemporary of these events.

Now I treat this as an adaptation of the cosmic laws of the Interstellar Union (I lived on a planet of the Interstellar Union) to Earth. But I still think that Yahweh (I know who he is) did not convey these laws in the Torah quite correctly, because many things related to violence remained there, for example, the death penalty in a cruel manner and the national pride of the Jews. I think it should be removed.

Maxim: Thank you.

There was another interesting question. There were stories that you somehow teleported your wife Svetlana. Did you really carry out the process of teleporting your wife Svetlana?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): What do you mean teleported?

Maxim: I moved my physical body from one place to another place.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): No, that didn't happen.

Maxim: Thank you very much.

You had a statement that there is a cosmic parasitic system behind the Jews. What did you mean when you said this about the Jews?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I meant that I (as I already said, I was a contactee) had the feeling that the Earth was captured by certain evil galactic forces that control people. And despite the fact that I did not know about the planet Tumesout, I still considered the Torah to be brought from space.

Maxim: Cosmic, parasitic, right?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Parasitic, I have already explained why – in relation to Christianity.

Maxim: So, from the planet you came from, you thought that they brought a parasitic system, is that right?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes.

Maxim: Interesting, very interesting.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): You could say it this way.

Maxim: I know for sure that if you hate Germans, then in your next life you will definitely be reincarnated as a German. (laughs)

1:20:58 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about his plans for incarnation.

Maxim: Are you planning any other incarnations of yourself?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, of course, I plan to, but not now.

Maxim: If it's not a secret (I understand that in the Spiritual World there is no time as such), where would you like to incarnate with your curators, on what planet?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): To Earth.

Maxim: Back here?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, because here, as I already said, I have tied several karmic knots, and I would like to untie them here.

Maxim: Can you tell me in secret what these karmic knots are?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): These are nodes of mistrust of God – in the sense that I already spoke about anxiety – and these are nodes of condemnation of a certain nationality. That is, I would have chosen to be born into an Israeli family, and not just into a Jewish, Israeli family, but also into a sufficiently religious family, in order to study the Torah myself, as one of the participants of this egregor, this society.

Maxim: I understand. I just wanted to ask one more question.

1:22:08 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about Radomir and his identification with Jesus.

Maxim: There was one, Radomir, whom you called Christ.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, Svetlana told me this.

Maxim: But you presented this information as the truth.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I believed her.

Maxim: And what did Svetlana say about Radomir?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): That this is Jesus.

Maxim: And she actually said that he was there, in 1300 or something, right?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, all this happened.

Maxim: So you were just passing on this information. But in reality, is it not true or not?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I have now received information about who Jesus was, moreover, I spoke about this to the Spirit of Svetlana herself. She said that she also remembered this, and that this information came to her because of certain contacts, she was a contactee.

Okay, I'll explain where this came from. The thing is that Radomir really existed, he was a person, it's not a myth.

Maxim: (responding to a comment from the chat) Mira, we know that teeth grow, they are planted, which grow. We were just talking about growing teeth with the power of thought. So don't confuse it with me laughing at growing teeth. Thank you, sorry, I just commented on one of the comments.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Radomir really existed. He was a fairly bright personality who repeated many of Christ's words and deeds. He was also a healer, a sorcerer, and a fairly bright person. I believe that he was a contactee with Jesus, and that is why his personality began to be identified with Him.

Maxim: So you understood this when you had already crossed over into the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, I have already analyzed everything and talked to my Angels-consultants, asked them where the understanding of Radomir as Jesus came from. Svetlana told me about this, and indeed, she did not deceive me. The whole point is that she believed in it.

Maxim: Thank you. Tell me, please, there is information that you managed to steal an alien ship from an American military base, is it true?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): No.

Maxim: Thank you.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I have not been to this base.

Maxim: Guys, let me pay attention to the chat now. I'll try to read your questions from the YouTube chat. I read them, and if they matched my questions, I asked them as my questions.

Artem Agafenko asks: “Is there life on the Sun, and does God live there?”

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes, there is life on the Sun, and the God of the Sun lives there – subtle life. (laughs)

Maxim: Tell me, please, what shape is our Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): For people - a sphere. After all, you are now in the Northern Hemisphere, and there is a place in the Southern Hemisphere, where even the season is opposite.

Maxim: Dianochka thinks that we are charlatans. But it's okay, Dianochka, for you we will remain charlatans, so don't worry.

1:26:03 The Spirit of Nikolai Levashov about religions.

Maxim: What do you think about religions in general now: why are religions given to the planet?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I believe that religions are given to teach the difference between what is good and what is bad for unconscious people - those who do not realize this themselves, they need a carrot and a stick, that is, hell and heaven.

Maxim: I understand. Nikolay, I know that you had a very large number of students. And our Project also has its own School.

I would like to remind everyone that we are moving to Thailand soon, where we will hold a wonderful retreat. This is a unique retreat of a new format. There you will receive absolutely all the knowledge – open and closed, which exists in the Cassiopeia Project. If you want to join us at the retreat, there is a link under this video below.

And I would also like to remind you: if you buy products from the Cassiopeia Project, you help our Project grow and develop. All proceeds from the sale of any products go to the construction of the Center in Voronezh, to the maintenance and development of the Cassiopeia Project around the world. I still expect that we will open in every large country.

So, what? Thank you very much, you answered... now I'll quickly look through all the questions again... practically all the questions that were asked of me.

1:28:09 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov and MidgasKaus about the psi-generator.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did the psi-generator really exist at the time when you spoke about it?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Yes.

Maxim: And is this information confirmed from the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I call the settings that I spoke about initially a psi-generator – to influence the brain.

Maxim: That is, installations that affect human consciousness with resonant frequencies, right?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): These experiments, I think, are known to representatives of the Interstellar Union - that there are certain frequencies that can cause changes in brain tissue, and therefore in the mood and behavior of people.

Maxim: Yes, I agree with you.

Irina: Now MidgasKaus is ready to comment, if there is a desire.

Maxim: Yes, finally.

Irina (MidgasKaus): As a biologist, I know that such experiments were conducted: both on recognizing the frequencies of the physical body at which the brain operates, and on their artificial change by inducing certain frequencies. But I believe that such an impact through frequencies, even directed waves of a certain force of impact, is not as strong as they say, more myths.

(Irina) MidgasKaus believes that this is more of a myth, although such developments do exist.

Maxim: I see. Question for Nikolai.

1:29:58 The spirit of Nikolai Levashov about the planet Nibiru.

Maxim: You once spoke about the planet Nibiru – Nibira, Nemesis. This is the 12th planet "X", which brings death to the Earth. Did such a planet exist, and where did you get this information?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): From the books of Zecharia Sitchin.

Maxim: From the books of Zecharia Sitchin?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): Basically, yes. I studied various literature, including on paleontology and paleocosmonautics, that is, about contacts with extraterrestrial intelligence in ancient times. And there was written about the planet Nibiru, and I believed in its existence. Then I began to receive information through my channels.

(Irina) He is showing me his channels now. As I understand, they are of plasmoid origin. He said that he had contact with plasmoids. Now he is showing me: there are silhouettes behind him, similar to people, but as if drawn.

(Spirit of Nikolai Levashov) And I received information that Nemesis, or Nibiru, is approaching the Earth and may collide with it and cause cataclysms. And I also directed energy to stop it.

Maxim: And was this planet really heading towards Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I received the following information.

Maxim: That's it, I understood, I heard, thank you.

Guys, Petr Goryaev and I organized a conference.

Irina: With his curators. He said that he is not ready to remember earthly life yet. We asked him too, the curators came.

Maxim: People on this planet have gotten on his nerves too much to talk to them now, I'll translate it differently.

1:31:58 Appeal of the Spirit of Nikolai Levashov to his relatives.

Maxim: Nikolay, imagine that you now have the opportunity to transmit some information from the Spiritual World here. What would you like to transmit? Would you like to tell someone something?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I would like to convey to all my friends and relatives, including Marina and Natalia, that I still love you, I send you the Light of my Love. I am always with you.

Vika, I know that you miss me (shows some girl).

Maxim: I don't know either Vika or Marina.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I know that you think about me, that you miss me. Thank you for the kind words you said about me.

And I also ask my relatives to reconcile with Natalia, not to offend her. And everything that I indicated in the will - that was my will. Please, there is no need to change it somehow.

Maxim: This is very interesting information, Nikolay, thank you very much. I have a huge…

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I don’t know what he meant.

Maxim: I don't know either. I didn't understand, but it's something serious, connected with relatives. As always, after death there's some kind of division.

1:33:26 Appeal of the Spirit of Nikolai Levashov to the audience. The egregor of "Cassiopeia" in the Spiritual world.

Maxim: Nikolay, and now I would like to ask you. We are watched by a large number of people who believe in the existence of extraterrestrial civilizations, who understand what energies are, what esotericism is. What would you like to say or wish personally to our viewers who are watching us now and who hear you and love you very much?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I want to say that I learned about the Cassiopeia Project from Irina's curators, who came and told me about it. During my life on Earth, this Project did not yet exist. As Irina told me, I asked her curators about who they were, what kind of Project it was, what the purpose of its activities was, and what they said about the issues that worried me. To study this issue, I was even brought in, even before this broadcast, I was introduced to the egregor of Cassiopeia in the Astral.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what do we look like there? I hope we are not behaving too badly? How do we look from the Spiritual World, I am very interested?

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): It is a huge funnel, white and blue on the outside, and inside it there are all the colors of the rainbow. It is quite pure and, as you say, high-vibrational. But I want to say that sometimes people place more hopes on you than you can give them.

Maxim: There is such a thing, I agree. Sometimes people come and for some reason think that miracles should happen here. In fact, there should be very deep work on oneself here – so that in the future these miracles will happen to people.

Irina (Spirit of Nikolai Levashov): I agree. I got acquainted with the egregor of "Cassiopeia" before this broadcast, because I have always distinguished myself by cooperating only with those people who will not use my name for their own low selfish purposes. And I have a good opinion of Irina and you. I believe that you carry the Light, and I thank you for telling about extraterrestrial life and the Spiritual world.

I also thank everyone who is participating in the Cassiopeia Project, and I thank everyone who is participating in the Revival Project, in my project. I believe that despite the external disagreements that were between our information (I noticed them), everything must be smoothed out, hidden by that Light of unconditional Love that created this world and continues to support it.

Dear friends! During life, any person can make mistakes in something, it is not scary, it is the path to development. And I really honestly told about my mistakes and achievements and I wish you to always be honest with yourselves, even if you do not like the truth about yourself.

Maxim: Nikolay, thank you very much! I am sure that you answered quite sincerely, because I felt your sincerity and felt your Light. I wish you to incarnate on our planet and raise your level at least back to 18, and of course, to 24. Thank you very much! We all thank you for your presence. We thank Raom Tiyan, thank you very much for controlling this information! Thank you, LiShioni, thank you, MidgasKaus.

Guys, please like this broadcast if you liked it! This one small like will help the entire Project to exist and develop. A large number of people will see us if our video has a huge number of likes. I do not demand, do not ask, but simply say: like those who really like us and like our Project. Just like, do not hesitate and click on the bell so as not to miss the next broadcast.

Guys, I hugged everyone, I love everyone, I feel great, I don't have persecution mania. And I even love everyone who makes me stronger.

Thank you all so much!

Irina: Thank you, see you soon!

April 24, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Features of plasmoid worlds

We call plasmoid worlds subtle-material life forms, of which there are tens of times more than dense-material or humanoid ones.

Their bodies are also material, but their matter is more discharged, it is subtle. These are not elements of the periodic table, like atoms in an already condensed form, but certain energies.

Conventionally speaking, these are intelligent balls, rays of Light, intelligent radio waves, only the vibrations are higher. There are tens of thousands of types of them, they are inside stars, high temperatures do not affect them, do not destroy their bodies, it simply feeds them energetically.

They are on all planets, for example, of the earth type. These are the so-called Spirits of Nature, which are various elementals, Spirits of the elements, as well as various Spirits of houses, forests, fields, rivers, mountains, etc. - all these are subtle-material plasmoid civilizations of the earth type.

There are civilizations of the cosmic type. For example, on the planet Venus, Jupiter, Saturn, on planets with such powerful atmospheres where no protein life exists, numerous plasmoid civilizations live, but they exist on a different level of density and are also intelligent, i.e. the same Spirits that incarnate into humanoids, i.e. into you and me, incarnate into these bodies.

For example, the planets Esler, Shimor and Burkhad, with which Irina contacts, belong to the physical world, dense-material. We have the same dense body only on another planet several hundred light years from Earth. But our Spirit comes from the same Spiritual world from which they come to Earth, and from this same Spiritual world the Spirit comes to all plasmoid worlds, i.e. the Spiritual world is one for the entire Universe.

The spiritual world is the source and cause of the material, and the material consists of the dense-material and subtle-material worlds. And the spiritual world, as I have already said, consists of the astral world, some classify it as a subtle-material world, but there is no matter there, it is the world of our feelings, sensations and emotions.

Further from the material world in vibrations comes the world of disembodied Spirits, which is called the Spiritual world in the teachings of the Earth, i.e. the astral world is an intermediate zone between the material and the Spiritual. 🤍

#560 Mirrah Count on war - how the image of the enemy is created. Dialogue with the Higher Self is the MAIN THING! Meditations on peace.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hD88mRRd5pA

00:00 Start of video.

00:19 Conference fragments.

"...Firstly, it is necessary for each person to communicate with his Higher Self constantly, and then he will not fall under the influence of the egregor of war. The second is the impact on the noosphere, the cleansing of its egregorial structure from all negative energies and the weakening of the egregor of war by creating opposite images..."

“...that is, give a person an instrument for communicating with God within him, and he will make everything around him Divine...”

“...if you see an evil person, it does not mean that he is guilty, it means that his Soul is sick, his Soul is sick with malice, and you need to help him heal...”

01:39 Welcome. Introduction of participants.

Maria: Hello, dear friends! We have another meeting with Irina and our curators. Today we have a very interesting guest from Germany, his name is Heins Krug. He will introduce himself now, I will translate for you. And today we have an interesting topic - about meditations, getting to know Heins and his system. He is also into esotericism, so I think there will be a very interesting conversation today.

Hines says he has been in the esoteric field for 50 years. He is especially interested in Vedic culture. Hines teaches people meditation and higher awareness. I talked to him, of course, about what he does. It seems that he helps people reach their Higher Self. He has translated many works from Sanskrit and developed a system that he calls “brain software,” if literally translated into Russian.

This topic interests him very much, he has developed his own system, he actively works with people in this area. His teacher was the Indian Guru Maharishi, he studied with him for 14 years, received a lot of different knowledge from him, which he applies in his work, among other things.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we are joined by a representative of the planet Burkhad, a political scientist, sociologist and the leader of our egregor "Cassiopeia" - Mirrah Count. His spiritual name is Archangel Gabriel.

Maria: Hines just told us what he knows about the conditions for our planet to join the Interstellar Union. I gave him all these points, and one of the points is five years of peace on our planet. That is, there should be no military actions. And Hines just told us that he, his teacher and other students in 1978 were able to establish a state for a whole month when there were no active military actions on our planet. That is, they and their group traveled around the world and meditated. Their groups meditated in such a way that for the first time in 200 years, or even, I think, more, there were no military actions on our planet.

Hines is excited about this idea of bringing at least five years of peace to our planet, and he believes that this can be done in meditation groups, if people actively meditate all over the world. He believes that this is possible.

05:15 Mirrah Count on the causes of wars.

Maria: And a question for Mirrah Count. How effective does he think this is, and is it possible to stop military actions within five years with the help of such meditation groups?

Irina (Mirrah Count): This is, in fact, a very important question, but I can simply answer it and limit myself to this. But I want Hines to answer his own question, and for every person who watches this video to be able to understand the causes of wars. And for this, I will ask one question to the esteemed interlocutor.

Tell me, please, what do you think is the reason for wars on planet Earth? In general, what is the reason for any wars?

Maria: Hines is convinced that the cause of wars is stress and tension in each individual, in each individual person. And, as a result, tensions in the community, which then ultimately express themselves in wars.

Irina (Mirrah Count): What causes stress and tension?

Maria: He says the root cause is poor upbringing.

Irina (Mirrah Count): What's wrong with it?

Hines: The reason is that connecting with your Higher Self is not part of education.

Irina: Well, excellent! Mirrah Count thanks him for his answer.

And I want to ask: “Mirrah Count, who is holding the conference with whom?”

He says that he is conducting with us: “But I want us to have not even a conference, but a live conversation.”

Maria: Dialogue, yes?

Irene (Mirrah Count): Yes, live dialogue.

Maria: Hines is very happy that he is asked questions.

07:51 Mirrah Count on the root cause of all wars.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Yes, indeed, you named the deep reason for all wars - this is the absence of a connection with the Higher Self in each representative of the people, or a weak connection with the Higher Self.

And did the connection with the Higher Self weaken because of the Higher Self's unwillingness to communicate or because of the person's unwillingness to communicate with it?

Maria: Hines says: "Mirrah Count, you know the answer to this question yourself, it's obvious – of course, people don't maintain this contact."

Irina (Mirrah Count): And now we come to the following conclusion, that wars occur because of negative desires of people. And what is desire? Desire is a conscious need. Is there a need to fight in the list of needs of a rational immortal Spirit, embodied in a human body?

Maria: Hines says that 5,000 years ago Krishna believed that sometimes there was a need to wage war.

Irina (Mirrah Count): We have physical, instinctive and spiritual needs. And what kind of need is this? I can list them: physical needs are what the physical body cannot live without, instinctive needs are needs that are dictated by instinctive programs, spiritual needs are needs that the Spirit brought with it into this incarnation.

Maria: Hines says that Krishna 5,000 years ago claimed that war must take place precisely so that those who want war would leave the earthly plane, that is, to take them out of incarnation. That is, these are not instinctive needs, not physiological, but so that peace would be restored, let's say.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Yes, indeed, this happens, but now we are talking about the reasons even of these people who were taken out of incarnation. For what reason did they want war?

Maria: Fears. Hines says that those people who wanted to wage war against Krishna, they were in a state of fear, in a state of stress and tension. That is, the state of these people was...

Irina (Mirrah Count): What were they afraid of?

Maria (Hines): These people had, accordingly, a wrong upbringing, they had fears, and they, naturally, wanted to take all the power into their own hands and negatively control others. That is, it was about seizing power.

Irina (Mirrah Count): And if you stand in the place of this soldier, this warrior, who stood on the other side, so to speak, of the battlefield from Krishna, did he perceive the army of Krishna and Arjuna as those who bring good?

Maria: No.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Here. And since Krishna's warrior and the warrior who was against Krishna perceived each other as enemies, not as friends, does that mean their perception was the same?

Maria: Hines says that from what he understood, Krishna did not perceive them as enemies.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Not Krishna, but the warrior who stood there, it wasn’t just Krishna there, there were also ordinary warriors.

Maria: Hines agrees that the other warriors who fought on Krishna's side were naturally not in high vibrations, and he says that with this war the dark time of Kali Yuga began on our planet.

Irina: Now Mirrah Count asks about the perception of two warriors, two men.

(Mirrah Count) Let's imagine that these are two young men who already have their own desires, their own needs, feelings, emotions - all these human qualities, and they are standing opposite each other on the battlefield, holding weapons. Can they think that it is they who are preventing each other from living?

Maria: Hines agrees that these two men, naturally, have no personal claims against each other, but their leaders consider each other the cause of evil, and each of them believes that the other must be eliminated. But the soldiers themselves, the warriors themselves, do not.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Then the question is simple. If that's what the leaders think, why don't all the warriors turn around and go home, do their own thing, leaving the leaders to sort things out in private.

Maria: Hines says that when they did their meditations around the world, that's exactly what happened. That is, somehow the mediators and the warriors themselves decided that they were stopping the military actions, turning around and leaving. That is, their meditations had this effect.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Well, okay, but why is it that such an effect is not produced without meditation? What prevents them from realizing, these warriors, that they are killing others and risking their lives not because of personal hostility, but because of the hostility of another person?

Maria: Hines says that he has thought about this for many years and has come to the conclusion that this is a kind of mass manipulation, one could even say mass hypnosis, when large masses of people are influenced in this way. But he believes that such influence can be interrupted.

14:43 Mirrah Count on the essence of manipulation of consciousness.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Yes, indeed, if the word manipulation is translated as "action to achieve some goal." Action in this case is with the psyche, with the consciousness of a person, with his brain (with the brain not as a material body, but as a physical reflection of reality, that is, with the psyche).

Indeed, I recently passed on information to Irina about the formation of the war egregor. Explain to Hines that this is an artificially created being in the Astral, which consists of emotions, desires and thoughts of people.

Maria: That's exactly how I explained it to him. They also have this concept, they call it "collective consciousness".

Irina (Mirrah Count): But besides awareness, there is also the energy of feelings, ethereal energy, that is, there are different sections of the egregor.

(Irina) So, Masha, Mirrah Count is now asking: “Have you read about the egregor of war?”

Maria: Of course, I read everything.

Irina: How do you like the article?

Maria: It's clear to me. And we talked about this with Jesus two years ago.

Irina: I’m saying, how did he write about the formation of the egregor of war?

Maria: Very clear. For esotericists, I think, in any case, this is an understandable topic.

16:26 Mirrah Count on the formation of the war egregor.

Irina (Mirrah Count): I want to say, I want to briefly repeat now, that in order for a person to agree to become a warrior and go kill his own kind and risk his life, his consciousness needs to be influenced. This influence on consciousness can be carried out in two ways - through instinctive programs and through the creation of an image of an enemy in the mind.

The first way is through influencing instincts, mainly the instinct of self-preservation. For this, the idea is created that some community of people threatens the existence and life of other people, threatens their property and the existence of the state. That is, it expresses the so-called vital threat.

The second type of manipulation is through the creation of an image of an enemy in the mind, that is, in that part of the mind called memory. For this purpose, an artificially created image of another nation or part of one's nation is formed in the mass media, as well as in all means of political ideology, in an exclusively negative way. That is, the characteristics of this nation are fully described as stupid, bloodthirsty, dangerous criminals, that is, completely devoid of any good moral qualities.

If a person perceives this information without criticism, without passing it through his spiritual heart filled with Light, this image gradually becomes fixed in his memory. When this image is already fixed in the memory, a feeling of revenge, hatred and a desire to remake that person, or to destroy him, in order to restore justice, including divine decrees, are artificially evoked in this person. That is, the spiritual need of a person for justice is exploited here.

Moreover, the one who creates this image of the enemy may well believe in it himself, and a person's faith determines his reality. And in this case, in the person's reality, every action of the opposite side will confirm the idea that he is an enemy. It reaches such a degree that a person forgets that in front of him is the same person as himself - a beloved child of God, and wants to take him out of incarnation. And his hatred, revenge, malice and other forms of aggression block his spiritual channel with his Higher Self.

And he no longer feels bright emotions, does not feel the voice of his conscience, which dissuades him from this step. And almost every soldier on each side is sure of the justice of this war. And if he begins to doubt, he can be eliminated, destroyed by his own comrades.

And there is another rule of war. It sounds like this: the more the soldiers feel their defeat, the easier it is to become a traitor in this army. This is not at all accidental, because they understand that defeat will lead to their death or to captivity and punishment for all their crimes. No one thinks that the other side will spare them for everything they have brought to it, and therefore they become especially suspicious of their own comrades.

Right at the moment of battle, the soldier's instincts of self-preservation often turn on, and he acts automatically in order not to die - he kills as many enemies as possible in order to stay alive himself. And even after the war, if this soldier survived, came home from the battlefield, his etheric field matrices are very badly damaged, and there is a mental trauma from fear for his own life, and the killing of other people, which can result in mental illness, addictions and sociophobic behavior in society.

Well, I've explained the reasons for wars. Ask Hines if he agrees with it?

Maria: He would like to return to his original question.

Irina (Mirrah Count): And does he have anything to add? Because without determining the causes of wars and full agreement between both sides, it is impossible to talk about eliminating these causes. So ask him if he has anything to add to what I said?

Maria: His teacher Maharishi explained the reasons for wars to him in approximately the same way.

Irina: Interesting. Is he also a contactee?

Maria: Yes, I think he is a contactee. He understands the reasons for wars in about the same way.

Hines asks Mirrah Count if he believes we can achieve five years of peace on our planet?

22:48 Mirrah Count on actions to end the war.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Based on what I have already explained, the following problem arises: what needs to be done to prevent people from having the desire to fight?

Firstly, it is necessary for each person to communicate with his Higher Self constantly, and then he will not fall under the influence of the war egregor. The second is the impact on the noosphere, the purification of the noosphere, its egregorial structure from all negative energies and the weakening of the war egregor by creating opposite images.

Maharishi could use such a term as "spiritual psychosphere". Every thought of yours, every feeling of yours, every emotion of yours gets into the noosphere. And to what was asked me about this meditation at first - is it possible to stop wars for 5 years by participating in their meditations, I will say this.

You can help stop wars with these meditations. But in addition to them, each person needs a strong-willed action. That is, meditations are only help. But in addition to them, each person needs a strong-willed desire to get rid of their negativity, cleanse their heart and live in peace.

24:27 Mirrah Count on the influence and role of meditations and prayers.

Maria: So, meditation alone won’t be able to influence people, their consciousness?

Irina (Mirrah Count): If the majority of the Earth meditates, of course it will work. But, as I understand it, the majority is out of the question. Even being near Christ and living with him did not prevent one of his apostles, who had received initiation, from passing it on to the Roman soldiers for money. Therefore, being by itself near a holy person or in a holy atmosphere without working on oneself is ineffective for spiritual growth.

Jesus Christ said: "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." Only the person who sees God in his heart can see God in the world and in another person - God who cannot be killed, and for this it is necessary to purify it. This is the spiritual work of each person. In order for a person to feel the value of another person's life, he must see in him not just a person, but the embodiment of God. And in order for a person to see God in another, he must first see God in his heart. This refers to the spiritual heart. And in order to see God in your heart, you need to purify it. And this is the spiritual work of each person on himself.

Meditation cleanses the Earth's noosphere and weakens the impact of negative egregors. And it helps people to free themselves from the shackles of negative entities and to open a channel for communication with their Higher Self. Prayers for peace have the same effect. Because when a person prays to God for peace, he imagines images of this world and wishes for this peace to manifest on Earth.

He who strives for peace feels like a beloved child of God, because Jesus Christ said: "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God." What does this mean? He who strives for peace will always feel himself an integral part of God. This is a great help on the path of spiritual growth.

Yes, you can certainly do these meditations. But you must understand that there are other people on planet Earth who throw out, radiate completely different images into the noosphere.

Maria: So he wants to say that the ratio is unequal, right? There are fewer people who meditate than those who are negative?

Irina (Mirrah Count): You can count, for example, how many soldiers there are in even one warring army. And then you can count how many relatives these soldiers have who are waiting for them back with negativity and who treat their enemies with hatred. And to these people we must also add those people who have already lost their sons, husbands and brothers in the war and will never see them again in the physical world. How high do you think their vibrations are if they do not realize the immortal existence of the Spirit?

Therefore, due to the fact that the Earth is a point of radiation of negativity, when wars are going on there, I recommend engaging not only in meditations and prayers, but also in helping people connect with their Higher Self, eliminating blocks, necrotic attachments, their spiritual enlightenment. That is, discovering the true picture of the universe.

Maria: Thank you very much for your recommendations! So, can we summarize that meditations by themselves without spiritual growth and work will not be effective?

Irina (Mirrah Count): They will cleanse the noosphere, but if there are more people who pollute it again, there will be something in the arithmetic mean. That is why your meditations worked, for example, for a month, and not for five years. For them to work for five years, more awareness of the majority of earthly humanity is needed.

Any other questions?

Maria: I asked Hines what he thought. He says that they have experience, they have results, when, for example, one percent of the population meditated, and thus they reduced crime in some settlements, in some cities.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Now let him count one percent of the Earth's population. How many people are needed so that they can reduce the amount of aggressive energy in a significant way?

Maria: I just told him that I can assume that it is not necessary for such a large number of people to gather in one place, on some field or stadium. It is enough for there to be more meditating and conscious people all over the planet in specific places.

Irina: Yes, you say that we at Cassiopeia also conducted a meditation for peace on Earth.

Maria: I just told him that in our Project we try to make this knowledge and meditations available to as many people as possible, free of charge or on a heart-felt basis. So that as many people as possible receive this knowledge and meditate with us.

31:06 Mirrah Count on the effectiveness of group and individual meditations.

Maria: So this is a question for Mirrah Count: how much more effective is the meditation of people who have gathered together, for example, 100 people in one room, or thousands of people who are in different places?

Irina (Mirrah Count says): It all depends on their involvement in this process. You can gather a hundred people together in one room physically, but mentally they will not be together, they will think about different things. Or you can gather far away from each other physically, but think about the same thing and create a single spiritual space.

Maria: Hines confirms that when they do online meditations together, the impact is just as strong as if they were all in the same room, so distance doesn't matter.

Irina: Good. Are there any more questions? Let him ask.

32:05 Mirrah Count on Meditation in Confronting Aggression.

Maria: He would still like to get an answer to his first, original question. Was it a coincidence that when 6 different groups near military actions around the world were conducting meditations, and for a month these wars, these military actions stopped?

Irina (Mirrah Count): It was not an accident. It was a consequence of the fact that they cleared the space where they were, around these military bases. They cleared the negative space, and the people who were there felt doubts about the justice of this war.

Maria: Hines asks if they can assemble such groups all over the planet and thus help to stop military actions more quickly where they are happening?

Irina (Mirrah Count): Whether he will be able to collect them depends on many factors. Everyone has free will – every person. But if he collects them, it will contribute to the purification of the noosphere.

Maria: I just gave him Mirrah Count's answer. And as far as I understand, it will help stop wars for some time, but as soon as these groups disperse again, everything will return to its original state. And he himself said that the participants in these military actions tried to interfere with them. That is, they did not want people to meditate, and wanted to stop their meditations, which confirms Mirrah Count's words.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Because negative entities provoked them so as not to lose energy food in the form of negative energies. This is not surprising, because it is not subtle entities that risk their lives, but people. What do they have to worry about - they just eat and enjoy themselves.

34:37 Mirrah Count on the most effective way to resist wars.

Irina (Mirrah Count): The greatest effect will be if you resist the egregor of war not only in meditations, but also by explaining to people the tricks of those who create the image of the enemy, so that they do not fall for them. And it is very good to remind all people that all people are united, all have a single destiny, that is, they are all from the same planet. You are all from the same planet, and you are connected by a common destiny. And it is very good to remind people that all of them, regardless of nationality, are beloved children of God.

Maria: Hines asks again, does Mirrah Count think that the dissemination of spiritual knowledge and its inclusion in the educational process has a greater effect than meditation?

Irina (Mirrah Count): It depends on what for. For the elimination of wars, the most important thing is to work with the Higher Self of a person. Teach him to communicate with the Higher Self - and then he will not be involved in destructive processes on the planet. That is, give a person a tool for communicating with God inside him, and he will make everything around him Divine. If you see an evil person - this does not mean that he is guilty, it means that his Soul is sick, his Soul is sick with malice, and he needs help to heal.

36:23 Mirrah Count on the general benefits of meditation. Conclusion.

Maria: Mirrah Count, in principle, meditation, when people learn meditation, is also a kind of tool that helps in connecting with the Higher Self.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Yes, it is very useful to meditate, and also to teach it to others.

Maria: This is exactly what Hines does in his project – he teaches people meditation and connection with the Higher Self. Only he calls it “the all-knowing Higher Self.” He has such a term, but, in principle, it is the same thing.

In conclusion, Hines thanks. He says that everything was very clear, interesting, and he believes that we do not lose hope. We will continue to work towards achieving 5 years without wars on our planet.

Irina (Mirrah Count): I also thank and thank Hines, and send him the Light of my Love.

It is also necessary to remember that any war is a manifestation of negative energies accumulated in the noosphere on the physical plane. And in order to avoid wars, it is necessary that the noosphere of the Earth is always clean. Become a happy and loving person and show your example of happiness and Love to others, so that they can also become them and pass this Light on. And then the whole Earth will shine with the Divine fire of Love, like a star in the Spiritual sky.

Maria: Irochka, I thank you!

Irina: Mirrah Count now feels our energy in the common space and speaks.

(Mirrah Count) There are now three Souls of you, and you shine so that you are visible from the astral space of the orbit of Mars, that is, in space. And this serves as proof of those words that no distances can separate loving hearts.

Maria: And we want to strengthen that, we are going to strengthen that.

Irina (Mirrah Count): Okay, thank you for the conference!

(Irina) Dear friends, I would like to say something else on my own behalf. I thank Masha, I thank Hines, I thank Mirrah Count for an interesting conference! I thank you for the questions and answers. And Mirrah Count too – for the interesting questions and answers.

Indeed, as they say, everything is in our hands. The main thing is for each person to realize that responsibility is not a restriction of freedom, but on the contrary, its manifestation.

Maria: Mirrah Count, thank you! Thank you, Irochka and Hines, for this wonderful conference and I think we will have many more interesting topics. Thank you from the bottom of my heart!

Hines: Thank you! Thank you, Mirrah Count! Thank you, Irina! Thank you, Maria!

Irina: Thank you all!

Maria: Thank you! Thank you!

Interpretation of magical objects from fairy tales: an invisibility cap, a self-assembled tablecloth, boots of speed, a saucer with an apple

Interpretation of magical objects from fairy tales: "invisible cap", "self-assembled tablecloth", "seven-league boots", "saucer with an apple".
The image of "saucer with an apple" appeared much later. All the others describe in figurative form certain elements of usually astral travels, which naturally happened to ancient people no less often than now, and according to many sources, even more often.

"The Invisibility Cap" described the process of invisibility of such a Spirit, who came out of the material body and is among other people, as if seeing them, can pass through walls, fly. Most often in fairy tales it was described that a person in an "invisibility cap" can move by flying.

As for the "flying carpet" - yes, indeed, there is a description of not only astral travel. The form of the carpet is, indeed, such antigravity platforms in the worlds of the Interstellar Union, which can be repelled by the gravitational field from the surface. Even before the war 12,000 years ago, indeed, some of them were widespread on Earth. And even some specialists of the Interstellar Union at that time gave such devices for flights, one can say in modern terms - to their contactees. Then it was not forbidden, since people and aliens lived practically next to each other.

They did not reveal their technologies (their production), but shared them, for example, with the purpose that the contactee could explore the world according to his capabilities, etc. At that time, it was not forbidden. Aliens were perceived as Gods.

As for the “seven-league boots,” this was also a symbol of the fact that in astral travel one can instantly find oneself in one place or another.

Then there is also what is called a "self-assembling tablecloth", but this is just a figurative description of life in the Spiritual world. When food (its prototypes) is created from a spiritual substance by the power of thought.

As for the "saucer and apple" - these are like devices. They saw similar ones among aliens, which resembled your modern cameras, phones, through which you could see visual information at a great distance.

#561 UFO shot down over Ukraine. Alien from Futissa captured by the US. URGENT galactic news!

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7wGRrtD0kio

00:00 Start of video.

00:10 Breaking galactic news - a UFO was shot down over Ukraine.

Irina Podzorova (Raom Tiyan): On the evening of April 19, literally a few days ago, a spaceship belonging to a representative of the planet Futissa was shot down over the territory of the Kyiv region. This is the capital of the Galactic Federation of Light, the colony of Burkhada.

This ship was shot down for the reason that its pilot, who is one of the leading scientists-biologists, crisis psychologists, and also psychosociologists (there is a science that studies the psychology of society), this scientist decided to openly contact them in Kiev, as he hoped to enter into a dialogue with them, to show the prospects for the development of the conflict in which Kiev, the government of Ukraine, is, to unfold before them the prospects for the continuation of the conflict and thus contribute to the establishment of peace on planet Earth.

Such an action was not approved by his management, that is, he did not receive permission for such open contact, he made such a decision on his own. This is his personal spaceship in the form of a disk, and when he was descending over the territory of the Kyiv region, he turned off the anti-radar and photon protection of his ship. He opened this protection on his own and became visible for detection.

The Ukrainian military structures raised fighter planes into the air. The Futissian's ship was seriously damaged by fire from one of them, but thanks to the fact that he turned on the antigravity beam, he managed to land quite slowly. That is, the ship itself did not crash - it simply landed, but with damage.

Within about an hour, several military vehicles arrived, people without obvious identification marks. The Futissian came out to them, and they asked him to come with them with signs. It became known: his damaged disk-shaped ship was taken to one place, and he was taken to another. And literally 2 days later we learned that he was moved to the territory of the United States of America, and representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light began to negotiate his release.

Unfortunately, these earthlings set conditions for the transfer of military technologies to give the United States of America a significant advantage in the existing conflict, so that productive negotiations could be started with the help of these technologies.

MidgasKaus and LiShioni are also aware of this situation. I believe that the leadership of the Galactic Federation of Light will not agree to transfer technologies that can harm earthlings. For the reason that when transferring such technologies, from which earthlings have no protection, many people will die, and this will be an exchange of one of the lives of a Futissian for many lives of earthlings. And this contradicts the moral laws of God for the reason that all lives of intelligent beings are equal.

03:16 News from Irina Podzorova about Griar Murati.

Irina Podzorova: I talked to him yesterday evening, April 24, 2023. I went to him in the Astral with Mid. He can also contact through the Astral. He is more or less okay now. He looks like a man from Burkhad. He explained his motives to me in detail. Raom Tiyan initially said that he flew alone, and Grear confirmed that he was physically alone, but perhaps he had biorobots or plasmoids with him. They do not consider biorobots to be separate individuals, and plasmoids to be physical beings.

He is very grateful to everyone for the mental support. He feels it very much. He also said that the attitude of the American military towards him changed after he told them that Project Cassiopeia knows his fate and openly talks about this event on Internet platforms. He claims that they began to treat him more carefully and politely.

He used a multiple-entry pass issued by the head of the SFS Science Department to visit Earth. During the "Light Body" practice, on Sunday, Ashtar himself told me that he knew about this case and was closely monitoring the fate of this scientist. Ashtar even said that he spoke with representatives of the US intelligence services in the Astral through Griar. Ashtar will not make physical contact with those who are not ready, and not everyone can hear him mentally. Griar Murati flew out from one of the ships of Ashtar's fleet, but not from Ashtar's ship itself. No one knew about his plans. There are rebels in any society, and this must always be remembered. Perhaps they discussed some plans, but no one knew that he was going to do exactly that.

He said that scientists are developing food for him that he can normally take, and he hopes to return home after all. Especially since, according to him, there is a high probability of this in his Timeline, which he looked through. He told me that his Spirit is cheerful, despite some weakness of the flesh. Rather, he lacks not nutrition, but rather oxygen: his biochemistry is different from ours. He is given oxygen, but not in the amount that he really needs.

The Intergalactic Health Service works with him constantly. Everything is not going according to his plan, but he assumed it. He is 628 Earth years old, this is a completely conscious age. He is practically the same age as Raom Tiyan. 10-15 thousand is the maximum age, on average they can live a thousand and 2,000 years.

He can mentally communicate with any personalities that come to the Astral, but during interrogation, it is really better not to distract him. Although, it is quite possible that he can send phantoms: many in the MS and GFS can do this.

He has a personality that could not remain on the sidelines when he saw his earthly brothers suffer from political and economic manipulations on the blood and lives of people. He has contacts on Earth, through them he learned a lot and through our egregors too, traveling here, in the Astral.

I did not notice any energy of disappointment in him. He said that he had expected such a development of events, but decided to show himself to people first in Ukraine, as the country that suffered the most from the manipulations of other countries. In any case, he says that all people on Earth are equal, regardless of nationality and language.

He had already spoken to the military about his release, but they told him: "You came to us to contact us - so contact us! We are ready to listen to you and ask you about many things ourselves." He also told me that for the last two days he had been talking to some American psychologist or psychotherapist, who was almost 80 years old and who himself was actively interested in ufology, esotericism, the existence of extraterrestrial civilizations. He said that his room was full of cameras and listening devices.

They gave him a whole medical examination there: they took his blood for tests, x-rayed him and did MRI, etc. He doesn't see anything special in this, because he himself once studied biology and understands scientists who want to study his body. For now, he is an object of research for them.

He said he has a wife and two children. I hope to do a live broadcast with him on Sunday. I can tune in to him, because I remember his energy. We have already agreed on this with Maxim. Griar Murati has already said that he is ready to do a live broadcast at this time, but I do not know yet whether he will do it himself or through a phantom. I know that many people on Futisse sympathize with him, regardless of the motives of his actions.

08:47 Greear's internal state.

Irina Podzorova: I am now tuned in to him in the Astral. It feels like there is a man next to him to whom he is explaining something, but the man does not hear him. Grear is a little upset about this. And he also misses his wife and children, wants to go home. On the part of the man, there is a sincere interest in him and in what he is telling, but also some mistrust. His goal now is to establish cooperation with the scientists who work with him.

The probability of his release is over 70% at the moment. Physical death is not as terrible as spiritual death, that is, separation from the Light of God as the source of life. They are very sensitive to energies, and they really like the Light of Love and support. We all hope for the best and build positive images of his release.

#563 Philosophy of Number. Institute of Numerology on the Planet Esler. Integration of the Science of Numbers on Different Planets.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7TErpJp022g

00:00 Start of video.

00:21 Science of numerology on the planet Esler.

Irina (MidgasKaus): The science that you call numerology has always been part of the knowledge of the world on the planet Esler. That is, it was a science that you, I can't even find an analogue for, certainly not mathematics. Something like the philosophy of numbers. There were many interpretations, many teachings about the meaning of numbers. Again, not interpretations, but personal explanations, one can say that the same information, the same number can be understood in different ways.

It also played a role that Esler has an octal number system. That is, we have eight basic signs that represent single-digit numbers. And there are signs that increase these basic signs and add others to them to represent two-digit numbers, three-digit numbers, and so on.

He shows me some squiggles, like Chinese characters, patterns, I would say. Squares, and some hooks are drawn in them.

(MidgasKaus) Each of these eight numbers denoted one of the eight states of the energy of the Universe. Why did we study this? Because we had the idea that each number is an energy wave. And they appeared one after another during the creation of the Universe, during its manifestation from the Spiritual World.

The institute you are talking about now was founded a long time ago. Almost before Esler joined the Interstellar Union, our scientists were already doing this. They were developing various formulas so that it would be possible to create a numerological map of a person as a hint to the incarnated Spirit about what his tasks are, what his level is, and so on. It's just that for the Eslerites, these formulas are somewhat different, since they have a different alphabet, a different system of calculation. But when Esler joined the Interstellar Union, I know the history of this institute, since my good friends work there, and I often go there. Although I myself am already a biologist and psychologist, I have always been interested in numerology, I often talked with them and was at their workplace.

04:05 Purpose Numerologies.

Irina: After the planet Esler joined the Interstellar Union, numerological institutes began to study the creation of formulas necessary for other planets. In our Galaxy, that is, in the Interstellar Union, the planet Esler is one of the leaders in the study of numerological, philosophical and numerical systems in relation to identifying the conditions of incarnations and karmic circumstances of past incarnations. There are simply various formulas that are used in one case or another in order to calculate many parameters. And naturally, when I began working with earthlings, I paid special attention to integrating the science of numbers of the planet Esler and the earthly way of counting, earthly calculus and earthly alphabets in order to create formulas suitable for earthlings.

I also raised this issue in one of the largest institutes in the capital of our planet. It was in 1989 according to Earth time. And there, together with my friends, leading numerologists, philosophers and specialists in incarnations, formulas were compiled for earthlings directly in contact with the Angels-consultants from the Spiritual world. And only then did I begin to use these formulas and check their accuracy on specific contactees or people whose data was known to me.

06:40 Numerological codes on Esler.

Irina (MidgasKaus): The importance of such a science as numerology on the planet Esler is such that at the birth of each child, a special computer issues a personal card to the parents, where his numerological codes are indicated. It is like receiving your birth certificate, only here the codes are entered that will be necessary for his parents. It is believed that this is necessary for his parents so that they can better adapt this Spirit to the material world on our planet.

All this is also connected with education in our schools. As I have already said, our schools have a subject called "Family Psychology". One of the topics of study in this subject is "Ways of raising children". That is, teenagers are taught using examples, various schemes, how to find a common language with their own child, how to create a safe environment for him, how to feel his feelings as your own, and so on. And there is also a large chapter on how to help a child who has come from different levels, with different tasks, to adapt. That is, all this is taught in harmony with numerology and astrology.

True, astrology was not similar to earthly forms, because there are other forms of constellations, stars, and so on. But we still paid attention to the stars, planets, to the combination of stars at the moment of birth of our humanoid, the Eslerite. And as I already said, this was very closely studied on Esler even before joining the Interstellar Union. After joining, we shared these discoveries with the entire Galaxy. In addition, our civilization began to study similar systems on other planets, because many planets paid attention to the sacred meaning of numbers. In particular, I know that there is numerology on Earth.

09:38 Features of sciences for adaptation to the material world on Earth.

Irina: There are different systems of numerology on earth: the system of Pythagoras, his students, and so on. I also studied earthly numerological systems through my contacts, through the Akashic Chronicles, and through the media in different ways, how numbers are described, their meaning and similarity, studied with Esler's systems. It is quite difficult to compare them, because you have a decimal system of numbers, and we have an octal system. In addition, the images and meanings of numbers are different. But I understood the basic principles of the earthly numerological system, what this or that number means on Earth.

And already from the position of the earthly numerological system, I began to consider all your earthly teachings that relate to this subject. I studied the methods of calculating various numbers of fate, karma numbers, various numerical matrices that reveal character, and so on. I also studied your astrology. In particular, I consulted with the Angels-consultants who keep in their minds information on both astrological and numerological parameters of any planet in order to incarnate Spirits there at the time and place they need.

11:47 MidgasKaus on choosing a name for a child.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I also seriously studied the question of the influence of the Spiritual World on numerology. I was seriously interested in the question: how does it happen that this or that Spirit is incarnated in the very family in which it is given, for example, a certain name.

Olesya: I see it as parents periodically, before the child is born, when Angels whisper a name into their ear. How do you see it?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It's simpler here. The thing is that God has given the right to consulting Angels to look at a child's future birth documents. And to look at the version that will manifest itself in the material world 100%. That's why the Angels already know what the child will be named, but they themselves do not influence this choice in any way. They just know it in advance.

For example, if you watch a movie and there is a name of a character, you will know him, but you did not choose this name for him.

Olesya: I see. So, in the Spiritual World, one of the Angels does know the future with absolute certainty.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is not the whole future, but precisely what pertains to official documents. The Heavenly Father, God, gives access to this information so that the consulting Angels can direct a specific Spirit into this incarnation.

14:04 Connection of the name with the past incarnation.

Irina (MidgasKaus): After all, the name denotes first of all the totality of all the karmic influences that he has collected over all his previous incarnations, but especially over the last one. That is, 80% of the influence on the name is from the last incarnation. On average, it is considered so. And only 20% is from previous incarnations.

Why does this happen? I have also researched this question. Because the last incarnation had the greatest influence on what qualities were developed by the incarnated part of the Spirit, and which were not developed. That is why the Soul, which came out of incarnation and merged with its Higher Self, continues to consider itself to a greater extent the personality into which it was incarnated last. And it simply remembers the others.

Olesya: Well, yes, because the memory of the past incarnation is fresh.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes. But the Spirit will have a next incarnation, and when it comes out of it, it will remember its last life to a greater extent, and the one it had before will already be pushed into the background.

15:58 MidgasKaus on the meaning of life.

Irina: Mead, what significance does our life have for us then? He says that it has enormous significance. It is not a matter of memory, but of the possibility of acquiring those vibrations that will expand the spectrum of the possibility of the Spirit's immersion in the Light of God. That is, raising the level is an expansion of possibilities and an increase in the level of happiness.

Possibility of transition of etheric energy into physical matter. Synthesis from surrounding substances

Question : “Is it possible to convert etheric energy into physical matter and make objects out of it?”

This happens with the help of the work of plasmoid civilizations, that is, those civilizations that exist in the body that consists of the subtle-material structures of their worlds at one or another density level. Even to collect one atom, the participation of the plasmoid Spirits of the four elements is needed, who collect it in a certain sequence, transferring the etheric energies of eight density levels preceding the physical world, not even eight, the first level, the second, the third, in general, of course, all density levels participate in this, they simply consistently transfer energy from one to another, first from the Spiritual world, then from the Spiritual world they transfer energy to increasingly denser planes, condensing this energy with their thought forms and thus connecting dissimilar energies, receiving a denser plane.

As for the physical plane. It consists, as is known, of three density levels. There are three density levels in the physical Universe, it is also called a cluster, a physical cluster. How is it different from others? In that the matter in it is distributed quite uniformly. The first, second and third density levels differ in the level of microgravity that attracts atoms to each other. If there is little of it, it will be a gas, the atoms and molecules of which are freely located in space. If there is more microgravity, there will be liquid, they will connect, if there is even more, it will be a dense body, since they will be very close to each other, but the atoms themselves are uniform, so they say: "The matter of a physical cluster is uniform . "

It is impossible to make a device in the physical world that will imitate the work of plasmoid civilizations. This is the law of God. Only plasmoid civilizations can do this: create various atoms and control their chemical reactions.

In the Spiritual world, it is possible to create certain products with thought, including those that will be recreated from thoughts, thought forms. Some call this spiritual materialization, but in the terminology of the Interstellar Union, Spirit and matter are different levels of the same world, but which pass into each other according to Divine laws, which are all known.

To create one hydrogen atom, it is necessary to collect 1600 quanta and put them together in such a way that this atom consists of three energy levels, distributed according to the formula, by percentage, so that the third level contains 55% of the energy, and so on, that is, this is quite a labor-intensive work, which is carried out by several Spirits. And they do this using the laws of the material world that exists at their density level.

Food synthesizers can synthesize finished products from ordinary molecules, that is, from physical molecules that can be obtained, for example, from the air, from a mixture of air gases, from the ground, and so on. To put it very simply, you can pour a handful of sand into this device and make it take in the air of the surrounding space, and from this synthesize any nutrients of any shape, color, but again, the shape and color will use those atoms that are at the disposal of this device. That is, for example, if you want to pour a handful of sand and synthesize a piece of meat from it, you will not be able to do this, because meat contains proteins, the composition of which is very complex, and there are no such atoms in the sand, you need to add other elements.

As for the synthesis from surrounding substances, it was subject to Jesus, for example, he also synthesized various foods: fish, bread, wine from water, but, again, it was a materialization from atoms. It is not so that, for example, he invented a fish, and the etheric prototype descended and assembled itself without atoms, and it is unclear where the atoms came from for him, this is all a transformation of atoms. You know that diamond and coal consist of absolutely the same substance, it is all about the crystal lattice. A spirit that has its own life force and etheric force one hundred percent, can control it and believes in the transformation of the crystal lattices of this object, can get a diamond simply by holding coal in its hand.

Types of Etheric Energy. Ten Levels of the Human Etheric Matrix. Dark Matter

When the Soul goes to incarnation, it goes through the astral world, which is permeated with subtle-material spaces, they are nested inside each other, and the Soul receives a shell of a very subtle type of ethereal energy, which is called subtle prana.

Prana is of two types: as the ethereal energy of the element of air and as a very thin pranic shell to give the initial energy to the Soul for life in the physical body. The thin prana that the Soul is endowed with is called, we have our own names, but in the earthly name you can use the Sanskrit term Purusha.

In the ancient world there was a special language for priests, it is now called Sanskrit, in which one can use terms denoting various etheric energies, because scientists in that language studied the interaction of etheric planes. And in Russian it will be simply ether, subtle ether, less subtle ether, denser, and so on.

In the human etheric matrix, 10 density levels are ultimately reflected. 10 etheric density levels out of 56 (editor's note: three levels are the physical cluster). The etheric field is part of the aura.

The etheric field itself does not consist simply of ether, but there are 10 types of ethers (they are in different ratios to each other and form the etheric matrices of organs).

Why does a person have exactly this energy structure? Because a person is a Soul embodied in a body, the Soul is a part of the Spirit, therefore it is correct to say that both the Soul embodied in the body and the Spirit embodied in the body.

The Spirit is a being that possesses spiritual energies that differ from material energies in their vibrations, the possibility of their existence in the Spiritual world without matter, and so on. The Soul, incarnating in the body, does not simply incarnate in such a way that it is in one place of the body, but it incarnates in the whole body, but its center is in one of the chakras, this depends on the level of consciousness. A chakra is an energy center through which the energy of the Soul manifests. Here it is necessary to understand that the energy of the Soul is not only the ethereal energies that the Soul received when it came to the material world, the energies of the Soul are also those energies that it took from its common Spirit, from its Higher Self, and all these energies manifest through the chakras, forming a person's aura, not only the ethereal body, but also the astral, mental, causal, buddhic and atman.

Dark matter of the Universe

This is how you designate the gravitational influence of subtle-material worlds on physical objects. The fact is that etheric energies interact with the gravitational fields of galaxies, stars and planets, and begin to influence the direction and strength of gravitational fields, which leads to changes in the trajectories of various celestial bodies, and this visible effect is called by your scientists the effect of dark matter and dark energy.

Dark, because your devices do not see it and cannot record any substance. It is also in dark nebulae of dust, but this is not cosmic dust, it is some energy that is in space, but devices cannot record it. And as far as I have researched this issue, compared the quantitative calculations of your scientists with the number of etheric levels known to us, my hypothesis is that your scientists do not call all density levels dark matter and energy, but only 16 out of 56, they do not record the rest of the density levels at all.

#564 "Cassiopeia" - "Gikhor" School. Cosmoenergetics from A to Z. Irina Podzorova and Ivan Yonten. Part 1.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TyJbEozKpmU

00:00 Start of video.

00:19 Main theses of the conference.

Irina: Cosmoenergetics is a universal system in which there are many energy flows aimed at restoring all layers of the aura, all chakras and all structures of the physical body, and the very state of a person already affects his behavior, including in interpersonal relationships. Other areas of a person's life are restored, which are not even related to health.

Cosmoenergetics is a versatile system aimed at self-improvement, healing and knowledge of the Universe. But energy work requires the involvement of consciousness, thoughts, emotions, feelings in this process. Why is that? Because emotions, thoughts and feelings also have their own energy, and it, connecting with the energy of the channel, strengthens, and not only strengthens, but harmonizes.

01:44 Introduction of participants.

Ivan: Hello, dear friends! We are glad to welcome you to the Cassiopeia channel. Today we have an unusual broadcast. Firstly, because we are in such a line-up. I should say that today our guest is Irina Podzorova, but in fact this is not so. Today is Irina Podzorova, and today my guest is Ivan Yonten, the head of the Gihor School of Cosmoenergetics. And today we will talk about the planet Gihor, the Gihor civilization and, of course, about cosmoenergetics. For the first time, a public conference on this topic on the Cassiopeia channel. Irina, hello!

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have a conference on cosmoenergetics, and with us is a representative of the planet Gihor in an astral body. His name is Siomoni Grihtori. He is a specialist in the creation and management of external energy fields for use in healing and raising vibrations and other needs of cosmoenergetics.

Ivan: Taking advantage of such a wonderful opportunity, we will ask questions today. In advance, I collected questions from our cosmoenergetics specialists and in general from all those who wish to ask questions to Siomoni Grihtori on the topic of cosmoenergetics and Gihor.

And it so happened that literally in a few days these questions accumulated more than three hundred, and, of course, we will not be able to cope with such a number of questions in one, two, or probably even five conferences. Therefore, today we will voice the main questions that we have selected specifically for our first conference on cosmoenergetics.

But before asking our listeners questions, let's first figure out what cosmoenergetics is from the point of view of our interstellar friends? Siomoni, I am glad to welcome you!

03:46 The origin of cosmoenergetics.

Ivan: Please tell us briefly what cosmoenergetics is? Why was it given to us, earthlings, and what should we do with all this?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Cosmoenergetics is a system of theory and practice that was initially created by the planets Gihor, Gissam and Saama. Later, other civilizations of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light joined this system.

The purpose of its creation is to create special energy external fields, flows, energy channels in order to help people on Earth to undergo their incarnation. Not only to help as a healing, but also as, for example, a source of information, restoration of chakras, aura and also increase of their spiritual vibrations. That is, cosmoenergetics is a versatile system that is aimed at self-improvement, healing, and knowledge of the Universe.

Ivan: Thank you! So, do I understand correctly that cosmoenergetics is a technique that was given to earthlings by the Interstellar Union?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes. Initially it was given by the Interstellar Union, but now representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light and representatives of the Spiritual World also participate in it. They also transmit their energies.

05:17 The purpose of cosmoenergetics.

Ivan: Okay, thank you! Can you elaborate on what tasks, in addition to the well-known healing and recovery, cosmoenergetics can be used for?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): To obtain information, learn astral travel, communicate, contact humanoids, plasmoid civilizations and the Spiritual world, to cleanse space, increase the vibrations of space and to harmonize your contacts with various egregorial systems of the Earth's noosphere.

Ivan: Good. That is, it can be used for egregorial work too. And do I understand correctly, is it true to say that cosmoenergetics is capable of helping a person in absolutely any sphere of his life?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, of course. Cosmoenergetics is a universal system in which there are many energy flows aimed at restoring all layers of the aura, all chakras and all structures of the physical body, and the very state of a person affects his behavior, including in interpersonal relationships, and other areas of life are restored in a person, which are not even related to health.

Ivan: Okay, thank you! Now we'll move on to questions from our subscribers. I'll open it.

06:52 Cosmoenergetic channels and their location.

Ivan: So, is the source of the channels on Earth, or in Space, or specifically on Gihor? Where is the source of the energy of the channels?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Energy sources of channels, there are several of them. In general, there are 52 sources in our Galaxy. These are only technical means. The thing is that channels are energy flows that consist of many frequencies. The number of frequencies in different channels varies from 12 to more than 500 (shows the number). And some channels are created by man-made means with the help of special devices, some channels are created telepathically, that is, by creating thought forms by specialists who are engaged in mental work.

In your opinion, it will be, they sit, meditate, but they meditate directed at the planet Earth and constantly create a channel of energy.

The channels themselves consist of different frequencies, which are created by man-made means and telepathically. Those devices that create channels by man-made means are located on the planet Gihor, and on the planet Gissam, and on the planet Saama, and on the planet Burkhad, and in the Pleiades cluster, and also exist on bases on the Moon.

There are bases that amplify these frequencies and translate them specifically to Earth. Yes, there is a base on the Moon, for example, on the planet Gihor, where there are devices that collect these frequencies from the entire Galaxy and translate them into a form in which they can be used on Earth.

Ivan: Thank you! So, the next question. Just in case, I will explain for the cosmoenergetics who are listening to this broadcast. I would like to draw your attention to the old terminology, where we called channels. Then Petrov said that it is correct to say "frequencies". Therefore, in different schools of cosmoenergetics, there are both channels and frequencies. They mean the same thing. But in the information that we have just listened to, the word frequencies means certain components of channels.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, there are separate streams in the frequencies.

Ivan: That is, in this case we say "channel" about a specific channel, for example Farun Buddha, and what it consists of, these subchannels - we are now talking about frequencies. This is the terminology within the framework of this conference.

So, the next question. Usually, when teaching cosmoenergetics, we say that there are so-called subtle bodies, physical, then we have etheric, astral, mental, causal, buddhic, and so on.

Subscriber's question: which of these structures, which of these subtle bodies, are capable of being influenced by cosmoenergy channels?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Different channels of cosmoenergy are capable of influencing all these structures, because they contain frequencies that are suitable in vibrations to all these seven fields of the human aura.

Ivan: Good! So these or those channels are capable of influencing anything?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, on the aura in general.

10:19 The principle of operation of cosmoenergy channels.

Ivan: Okay. Next question: do the channels have their own mind, or pseudo-mind, or some kind of software component? Are they living beings or is it closer to a robotic system? How can we best understand this?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Each channel or each frequency is an artificially created data packet, and this data packet contains wave characteristics, for example, of ideal states of internal energy organs and other information data. The channels themselves, what do you mean, are alive? They do not have such self-awareness as, for example, a living being, but they have a program that is embedded in them, which is very similar to the instinctive programs embedded in animal Souls. That is, it is like a program or like computer programs, but they are more adaptive to the surrounding reality than your computer programs. More flexible.

Ivan: That is, these are some kind of automated, very complex triggers that allow channels to behave one way or another in a given situation.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): And the thing is that, in addition to the work of the channels, there are also specialists present at cosmoenergetic sessions in the astral bodies who observe the action of the channels and, if necessary, correct their work, including by influencing the devices.

Ivan: We are accustomed to the fact that in the practice of cosmohealing, which also exists within the framework of the Cassiopeia Project, specialists always come in the astral body. This was announced in the relevant conferences. Then I have a question about this.

12:03 Primary diagnostics in cosmoenergetics.

Ivan: Will these specialists always be present at all cosmoenergetic sessions in the Astral?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): In the Astral they are present in most cases, but not always. Usually they are present if a person has come for the first time, and they scan him. In the channels, if a person is put under it, there is a scanning action, and they transmit data about the person to Gihor or to another base where specialists are at that moment. Because they can change, like duty bases. And most often, the specialists who are the curators of a given cosmoenergetics can be representatives of the planet Gihor, and any planet that is included in the cosmoenergetics system. This is a community of scientists.

For you, this is cosmoenergetics, but in the Galaxy, it is considered a community of scientists studying devices and telepathic fields, studying the impact on humans, their health and the external environment. They are scientists, after all. There are biologists, sociologists, doctors, and so on. When a new patient comes to a cosmoenergetic person, most often the curators of this cosmoenergetic come and scan him additionally.

But there are cases when a person has few problems, and then they get by with scanning with just devices, but in difficult situations, representatives of the cosmoenergetic system can still appear at any time. Most often, these are representatives of the planet Gihor, because on our planet at present 38 percent of the population is connected to this system in one way or another. These are most often representatives of the planet Gihor, but not always, because we cooperate with other civilizations. Also, if a person has been attending cosmoenergetic sessions for a long time, and certain work is being done with him, then sometimes it happens that channels simply work with him, and specialists observe from the outside using devices.

Ivan: So it turns out that when, for example, a new patient comes to a cosmoenergetic therapist for the first time, then in most cases someone from there comes and creates a new patient's registration card to facilitate further work with him, is that how it works?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, this happens in about 90 percent of cases when a new patient comes, and only in 10% of cases, which are the easiest, it is possible to get by with just information that has come through the scanning frequencies of one or another channel. In each channel, starting with Farun Buddha, and in other channels, there are also scanning frequencies, i.e. diagnostic ones.

Ivan: That is, certain frequencies for receiving feedback there.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes. To read information from the etheric matrices, to determine their state and to read the state, for example, from the causal body of a person, which carries the imprint of his personal, social and ancestral karma.

Ivan: Very interesting, thank you! Next question.

15:57 Patient's actions in the cosmoenergetic channel.

Ivan: Can we direct the work of the channels in one way or another with our intention to heal a specific problem? Let's say we have opened a set of channels for a session. Can the patient himself, during the session, somehow additionally strengthen the work of the channel with his attention, modify it, direct it to specific problem areas, and so on?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): It is better for the patient to relax and observe the work of the channel. Because if he directs somewhere, strains mentally, then this strain of thought can interfere with the passage of energies. It is better to just be an observer, then the healing process will go better, faster. And here it is very important to internally trust what other intelligent beings of the Cosmos are doing.

Ivan: I am so pleased with this answer, dear friends! Therefore, please, our dear subscribers, who attend our sessions, remember: you don't have to do anything. Just maximum relaxation and basic trust that something good will happen. That's all. You don't have to do anything else during the session.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes. Because the energy of trust in us and the energy of trust in the channels enhances their effect, because the instinctive part of your brain is additionally included in the work, which begins to carry out intensive work on self-restoration of the tissue together with the channels.

Ivan: Okay. So, about the efficiency of work. Now there will be just a top question.

17:36 The patient's body position during a cosmoenergetics session.

Ivan: Top question: why is it necessary to stand during the session?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): In cosmoenergetics there are such channels that work in any position. In addition, in case of serious illnesses, when a person is unable to stand for some time, channels can also be opened for him. Any channels to harmonize his work. And the recommendation for everyone else to stand was given for several reasons.

The first reason: when a person is in a standing position, he is more conscious. It is more difficult for him to go into a state of sleep, that is, to leave the physical body and travel somewhere. The thing is that we, as developers of cosmoenergetics, have always said that when healing takes place, it is better for a person to be aware of what is happening. And when a person goes into the Astral, and not just into the Astral, but into the unconscious, that is, falls asleep, then he kind of misses this time. And in order to avoid this, it was decided to conduct sessions standing. This is the first reason.

The second reason: when a person is standing, the position of his body, the position of his spine, the etheric channel inside the spine, as well as the etheric channels inside the arms and legs are ideally open and free for the passage of energy. That is, the conductivity of energy is better. If it is difficult for a person to stand, and he is distracted by his fatigue, then it may be better to select a combination of sessions for him so that he does it little by little, but often.

Ivan: That is, fewer sessions, but more participation.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes. Again, it depends on whether he comes to a session or he is initiated himself. Because if he is initiated himself, naturally, he can open this channel on himself at any time convenient for him, including repeatedly. And some cosmoenergetics practitioners, I know this, for example, open channels on themselves before going to bed. They motivate this by the fact that the channels will protect them in their sleep. There is such a request. I want to say that the channels themselves, of course, provide protection, but the fact is that the desire to protect oneself comes from hidden fear, which in turn can attract some entities that enjoy fear, and also cause psychosomatic disorders in the body.

Ivan: Do I understand correctly that the recommendations to our cosmoenergetics are not only to build the necessary defenses, to protect themselves with channels, including during sleep, but still the most important thing is to work on yourself, to work on developing your spirituality, on accepting and eliminating fears from yourself, right?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes. Let's imagine that a person lives, he does not put up any protection, he is completely healthy and feels harmonious. For what reason? For the reason that he believes in himself, in his Light and in his contact with God, the Heavenly Father, that is, with the source of everything. We call the source of everything God.

And what does the source of everything mean? It means that any event that happened came from the Divine reality, and it is very valuable when a person trusts this divine reality and does not just automatically build protection, but builds a dialogue with the world, including with those entities that may not be entirely pleasant to him. After all, around him, for example, in his room, there may be different plasmoid entities. And a person may be afraid of them, close himself off, and so on. And they may not cause him any harm, but are simply nearby.

Ivan: I see. So, as always, to my fellow cosmoenergeticians: please note that the development of our cosmoenergetic protections and the state of energetic protection in general is necessary, essential, and there is no way around it. But we should not under any circumstances lose sight of the aspects that have been voiced, because without this, harmonious development and existence will not work. Okay, thank you. Next question. A wonderful question about the planet Gihor.

22:58 Use of cosmoenergy by aliens.

Ivan: Tell me, please, are all the inhabitants of the planet Gihor themselves involved in cosmoenergetics?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): As I have already said, at the moment 38 percent of the adult population of the planet Gihor is involved in this activity. The rest of the inhabitants know about it, but they are engaged in other areas of life on our planet, other research and work on the planet itself. But they can, for example, practice some other energy practices, because in general on our planet there is a very developed understanding that it is necessary to work with one's energy so that the embodied part of the Spirit can more easily and harmoniously carry out this incarnation.

Ivan: Okay, thank you. Well, and, accordingly, as a continuation of this question. Do many other civilizations also use the practice of cosmoenergetics for their own health and so on?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): In general, at the moment 34 civilizations are working on the cosmoenergetics project (shows the list). Basically, besides Gihor, these are Gissan, Saama, Desnit, there are also Tashig and Burkhad and the colonies of Burkhad, Tumesout, Esler is also participating and Shimor. From the planets known to you. There are also Lyrian civilizations and also civilizations of the Galactic Federation of Light, which are not part of the Interstellar Union. Including recently, representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light have joined our project and began to actively participate in it (shows the fleet of Ashtar Sheran).

Ivan: All ours.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Specialists. They also, by the way, have devices that we also study and combine the radiation of various devices for more precise adjustment of channels to certain needs of humanity. Because humanity is going through a quantum transition, the energy is changing, and it is necessary to change the channel settings.

25:18 Cosmoenergetics and quantum transition.

Ivan: So, it turns out that we immediately get, I remember, there was a question further. Is cosmoenergetics relevant today? Couldn't it, let's say, become obsolete? We just heard that.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): The fact is that we are observing the quantum transition, the quantum frequencies of various substances, including those that enter the human body, and new vibration values are being selected so that the channels always work in such a way that this is relevant in the quantum period that your planet is currently going through.

Ivan: Thus, it turns out that cosmoenergetics is always relevant here.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes. Because she is being monitored and corrected if necessary.

Ivan: Okay, thank you. So, next. There is a question here: is there a limit to the development of cosmoenergetics? But in general, in essence, this has already been answered. There was a question about schools. This is a very pressing question. Really pressing.

26:20 Reasons for denying the extraterrestrial origin of cosmoenergetics.

Ivan: And why do all other, at least to us, schools of cosmoenergetics, except for the School "Gikhor", deny the extraterrestrial origin of cosmoenergetics, the planet Gikhor itself, and in general all this, let's say, ufological flavor? Why do they still insist on their own?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, I know about this problem. Because initially, as I already said, our contactee Vladimir Petrov (shows) knew perfectly well that he was a contactee of the planet Gihor, but the thing is that he told only a few people, his close ones, about it. And when he taught cosmoenergetics, he taught it as something received in a meditative state, as he explained, from the inhabitants of Shambhala and so on. That is, from several spiritual beings. It was his decision. He decided so in order to increase the percentage of trust in cosmoenergetics specifically among the esoteric part of the population. And also for the reason that there were too many negative images associated with aliens, especially at the time when he lived and worked, such that they could cause harm. That was the first thing.

Second: there were many stories connected with aliens, when people told about them who were not believed and whom your medical structures considered crazy. And for this reason, the contact with aliens itself was somewhat discredited. He told us about this. He told me and told his other curators that he was not ready to tell his students specifically about the alien origin of these channels. He even said that he tried to tell some of his close students about this (shows three people through his perception who came).

He tried to talk about other planets and that these channels could simply be created by alien beings, and even his assumption caused some, not even rejection, but criticism and a desire among these people to find out where he knew this from, and during the conversation it was clear that if he were to claim that he received the channels from us, then people would demand either proof of the existence of aliens or his adequacy.

Ivan: It turns out that there is a purely social aspect to why he chose such a concept.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, he chose such a concept that he received from yogis from representatives of Shambhala, one could say, from ancient spiritual teachers who practiced yoga, practiced meditation, Buddhism. That they transmitted these yoga channels to him through the so-called parampara, that is, the chain of succession. And, indeed, he was telling the truth here, not lying, because in general, cosmoenergetic channels were known on Earth before this contactee. Because we had contactees, including in Ancient India and in Mexico. Everything, as he wrote, we also transmitted these opportunities to them, that is, connected them to these channels. This is all true.

Ivan: That is, the truth is conveyed so exquisitely that, in essence, he didn't even lie. But people make things up in their own way.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): He simply did not mention the words "aliens" and "planet Gihor", he even told us that he was not ready, including not for reasons of his personal safety, but for the reason that because of these words he would discredit the very idea of cosmoenergetics.

30:58 Perception of earthlings of hidden contacts with aliens.

Ivan: At that stage it was different, indeed, it was cosmoenergetics. Its creation on Earth, according to our data, dates back to 1984. That was precisely Peter's. Therefore, at that time, imagine, to start talking about little green men so openly.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): If we now take the territory of the Soviet Union, where he lived and taught, and those people with whom he communicated. He communicated a lot, by the way, with scientists, with physicists, with doctors, and he even suggested doctors to check the action of the channels, to do experiments, experiments on the action of the channels on various diseases, for example, on stomach ulcers, with intestinal pathology. He suggested that they check how the channels work even without treatment with drugs.

He told us that if he had told us that he had been on another planet, and that these channels had been transmitted to him, and that they were coming from another planet, the first question I would have asked would have been: for what reason would they not show themselves?

These people, even friends and even relatives, to whom he told this, close people asked him: "Why are you talking, and they themselves do not show up?" Even relatives did not quite understand him. And when he said that in general contact is established only with him, and no one should witness these physical contacts - this only irritated them.

Ivan: We actually still see irritation on this topic, so it's easy for us to understand the situation.

Irina: I want to speak for myself now. I am a contactee myself. As Siomoni Grihtori says, indeed, when you start telling people about aliens, there is a reaction that they say: "And why don't they come to everyone and, even more so, help stop wars or do something else?" And when contact is established only with the contactee, no one should know about it, people start saying that even if they exist…

I spoke with a ufologist who studies flying saucers. This woman told me: "Yes, I believe that they exist, because I have seen many contactees, and they, independently of each other, tell approximately the same thing, what they see, what they are told. Of course, each through their own subjective perception, but the topic is the same, and they do it independently of each other, all this can no longer be called fantasies. But if they are hiding from our public structures, I am not even talking about politicians, from our scientists who are generally looking for extraterrestrial life, and they do not contact them, then it means they are hiding something." She believes in aliens, believes that they fly to Earth. But she suspects them of hiding something.

And now Siomoni Grihtori spoke about the same thing, that even if Vladimir Petrov was believed that he meets with aliens, they could begin to suspect that they do not show themselves because they want to harm somehow. Because if the contact occurs secretly, it arouses suspicion in a large number of people.

Ivan: That is, that they do not have good intentions. Otherwise, why would they hide? Well, that's our human logic.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): That is, they would have flown in, made contact with the scientists and conveyed what they wanted to say, why they were conveying it to individual contactees, who no one would believe anyway. Maybe they would believe, but only a limited number of people. But if they had appeared before them, then a large number of people would have believed them.

35:40 The reason for the lack of contact between aliens and scientists.

Irina: I told my supervisor, at that time I had a supervisor named Kirkhiton, I told him that people ask: “Why don’t aliens show themselves to scientists, even to politicians or the military?” And he answered me that scientists at the present time are more connected with politicians and the military than you think.

Ivan: A natural answer, actually. It's quite believable.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): They are somehow connected, and there is even such an unspoken verdict: if scientists have discovered something, their discovery goes through the study of exactly the same scientists, but working in the military sphere. The special services.

Ivan: It’s natural, in general.

Irina: Yes.

Ivan: Okay. So.

36:46 Activities of the first earthly cosmoenergetician Vladimir Petrov.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): And he didn't tell for the reason not to cause mistrust not even towards himself, but towards cosmoenergetics. Because he sincerely wanted to help people, so that they would start using the channels, and he did it. Indeed, he had a pure heart in that he did not want personal gain. He really wanted to help people. And he even accepted those people who were poor and needed help themselves. He accepted them, treated them and even helped them financially. He actually had such cases.

Ivan: Yes, Petrov’s students also talked about this.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Not only did he not take anything from them if they did not have money to give for treatment, but he already had money from other people, and he even helped them financially out of his compassion. This happened, and therefore he did not do it for personal gain, but to really help people.

He did everything to avoid discrediting cosmoenergetics. Well, and when he told me about it personally, for example, I was not against it, because he is on Earth. He knows your life, your society better than I do. I am from another planet, so I trusted him in this and said that you can tell what you want, in any form, as long as it is in the Light. That is, not to build a negative image of cosmoenergetics. And I was not against the fact that he does not name us, because he lives in these conditions.

Ivan: Well, yes.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): I couldn't take on such a responsibility to somehow persuade him to talk about aliens, so that he would get some kind of, for example, conflicts from this. It was his choice.

And later, cosmoenergetics, as I already said, formed its own egregor, which is already within the framework. Although it is within the framework of the egregor of esotericism, it itself is already a rather powerful egregor. You know that many others can be in one egregor.

Ivan: Daughters, yes.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes. And in this egregor, the idea of the extraterrestrial, so to speak, origin of these channels is not initially embedded and therefore, as soon as you or another cosmoenergetics, or the School "Gikhor" talks about this, naturally, cosmoenergetics who have read the books of Petrov, Bagirov and other students of their students, they, naturally, will say: "And for what reason did they not tell us about this?"

Ivan: As I just asked. Why?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): For this reason, they already have mistrust, because they believe that in their place they would definitely say so. Although this is not a fact, of course.

Ivan: If they were in that place in those conditions, I don't think they would have said anything. I imagine myself in that place, I probably would have kept quiet too.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): But now it’s a different time.

Ivan: And now it's different, yes. Now esotericism is much more widespread, and ufology of all kinds.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): There were more materialists at that time. In the late eighties, early nineties, there were more materialists.

Ivan: We are still moving forward, despite everything. This is great! So good, thank you. So, now let's talk a little about free will.

Our subscriber asked the following question: "Is it possible to, so to speak, heal in cosmoenergetics, but what is meant is, in principle, to exert cosmoenergetic influence?" By the way, pay attention to the paradox: without aliens, but it is called cosmoenergetics from the very beginning. He still called it that way. But as if without aliens.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): But the word “Cosmos” was, among other things, in the same books of Agni Yoga, which, by the way, he read and studied.

Ivan: Well, yes. But still, it’s paradoxical for me. Good.

41:04 The need for patient consent in cosmoenergetics.

Ivan: So, can we work with people without their explicit consent or even with their explicit disagreement in special cases, for example, with close relatives?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Free will is preserved here. Of course, you can work with anyone you want, but if a person resists these energies, they will have practically no effect. Because treatment with energy vibrations is not exactly the same as treatment with chemicals, such as pills, injections, and so on. If you give a pill to a patient without his knowledge, it will still have some effect on his metabolism, on his body, because he has a body, and this is a chemical effect.

And if a person does not agree, he expresses this protest, including mentally and astrally, and this process, the refusal of these energies is written into his aura, like a seal is placed, and even if a channel is opened on him, his natural defenses, which are in everyone's etheric field, simply will not let these vibrations through. And even if the Gihorians or representatives of other civilizations come, they will feel a clear protest, that is, a person's unwillingness to come into contact with these energies or his disbelief in them. They will simply not waste energy and leave, this channel will close itself.

Ivan: It turns out that its use is actually simply impractical.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, firstly. And secondly, healing with cosmoenergetic channels necessarily presupposes the participation of the person himself, including his spiritual work on himself.

Ivan: It’s not just that you, a patient, came to get treatment, but he is ready to change something in himself, to improve something in himself.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, finally.

Ivan: Okay. So, the next question is from our subscriber.

43:07 Energy exchange between people during communication.

Ivan: There is an opinion that a healer - we are talking about classical healers now, not cosmoenergetics - can pull negative energy onto himself when working with a patient and then he himself needs time to recover. Is there such a situation in cosmoenergetics? Is there a danger of pulling something onto yourself?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): There are several types of healers. I divide them into two large types - a healer, a bioenergetic, who shoots his energy, and the type that heals with the energy of an external source, be it cosmoenergetics or another source, which, for example, is in the plasmoid worlds or in the Spiritual world. That is, there are different contactees who conduct different energies through themselves.

As for "pulling over". This means that if a person works energetically with another person, and he himself has hidden and similar problems related to energy damage (for example, some energy blocks in the chakras), he can take part of this energy.

After all, blocks in the chakras in any case sooner or later cause damage, including on the physical level. It's just that each person, one might say, has a different margin of safety in this regard. If a healer has a similar block on this topic, he can take some of the energy from this block for himself, especially if he is afraid of it. That is, if he builds such a reality that this is possible. The thing is that if he is absolutely sure that he is protected, that is, he believes in it, does not doubt it, then his natural etheric protection repels these energies.

But if he has a similar block, he can still attract, and he can attract it not only during healing. The thing is that similar blocks can be strengthened in two people, even if they just communicate. That is, any communication is already an energy exchange with a person. And therefore, it is very important for a healer to cleanse himself, his chakras, from all negative blocks and negative beliefs, including fears and doubts about whether he will attract something, because this can also create a block. Then he will not attract anything.

46:05 Protection in cosmoenergetics.

Irina: As for cosmoenergetics, a cosmoenergetic practitioner has protection, which is given to him by channels and special protective systems, of which there are several, including frequencies built into the channels that protect both the patient from the impact of some negative blocks or damaged etheric matrices of the healer himself, it happens that the healer is not entirely healthy energetically, and the healer from damage to the patient.

Each channel has such protective frequencies, protective flows. But the thing is that a person may not overcome them, but cancel their actions with his faith, attracting these negative energies into himself. If he believes in this and does not believe in the protection of these channels, then his faith itself will attract it, and the protective frequencies in this case will not work, because he himself will cancel their action.

Ivan: I see. So, summing up the above, it turns out that if we are talking about classical bioenergetic healers, then these difficulties and moments are indeed present and require due attention.

If we are talking about cosmoenergetics, then a healer-cosmoenergetics, who has correctly built protections, and who is simply elementary confident that he is doing everything correctly, and as Petrov actually taught us: confidence and protection, then there is simply no chance to pull over any negativity and create problems for himself?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, fear can be in the fact that, for example, there is such an event when suddenly the healer himself for some reason becomes physically ill, but it is not connected with the session, for example. He simply has some reason of his own, for example, weak immunity or something else, and he, for example, became ill after a certain patient and begins to think that he pulled something too tight. These fears form a block in him.

Ivan: So it turns out that this is the suspiciousness and auto-induction of the cosmoenergetician himself, and not a tug-of-war?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes. That is, if you have a headache after someone, it is not necessarily that you have pulled in some energetic dirt. Perhaps you are simply overtired, or you do not have enough fluid, or not enough oxygen, not enough glucose in the blood, and so on.

Ivan: As they used to say in the old days: “after” does not mean “as a result of”.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes.

Ivan: In our esoteric community, we actually really like to connect things that look similar.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, there is such a thing, for example, that a person has had a session and his head hurts or he starts feeling sick, or he wants to sleep, or he cuts himself, and so on. He thinks that it is from those entities and energies that he pulled. No, you don’t need to think that way. You need to take responsibility for yourself. Don’t blame anyone and deal with yourself and your body.

Ivan: Admit to yourself that you needed to get some sleep earlier, and you stood for another forty minutes. You really are tired.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Indeed, for example, a person's head can hurt simply because they drink too little liquid. The frontal part of the head can hurt especially because the brain is dehydrated, and a person's blood pressure can even rise because of this. And this is simply because they lack liquid. And they start taking blood pressure pills. But they won't help until they replenish their fluids.

Ivan: In short, comrades cosmoenergetics, we don't invent, we just work. We just follow the rules, have absolute confidence in the quality of the work, and everything will be fine from now on. Thank you. So, the next question. An absolutely wonderful question. I like it very much.

50:09 Energy processes in cosmoenergetics.

Ivan: Why is the principle "where attention is, there is energy" used in cosmoenergetic channels? That is, while the operator holds attention on some area, the open channel actively heals this area. Why couldn't they design a more convenient system in which the operator does whatever he wants, for example, drinks tea, whatever, and at the same time it heals itself in the best possible way? What did our friends from Gikhor do so carelessly?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Do they drink tea?

Ivan: In short, for those who don't know, during the session the cosmoenergetician stands and observes the process just like the patient. That is, he doesn't walk, doesn't drink tea, doesn't stroll, he is focused on the process. Here's the question. Why, why is that?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Because he is a conductor of this energy. Even if he opens a channel to a person, he opens it through his aura, and therefore his thought images, his thought forms for the healing effect should be directed at the patient and help these channels, not to mention help - this is a condition for the correct conductivity of this channel, because it is he who opened and is the conductor. And here the same principle applies, according to which a person who opened a channel to himself should also be focused, even if he opened it to himself, he is initiated into it, he should be especially focused and not be distracted by extraneous thoughts or, especially, by some actions.

Here the channel will act at a minimum, because it is not focused on the healing process, and for this reason these energies, encountering its thought forms, will be distorted, will pass incorrectly, because the thought forms will not be about healing, will not be focused on the process of self-healing, but will be on a completely different topic. That is, those thought images that fill the aura will interfere with the channels. In the same way, if you open this channel to another person. By the same principle.

Ivan: Here is an abstract question. It is good that we have outlined it. But an abstract question from a subscriber: "Why couldn't it be done so that you could do anything at all, and it would work normally?"

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Because this is energy work, and here it does not work like a pill. That is, you can take a pill and go play a computer game, it will still act chemically somehow. But energy work requires the inclusion of consciousness, the inclusion of thoughts, emotions, feelings in this process. Why is that? Because emotions, thoughts and feelings also have their own energy, and it, connecting with the energy of the channel, strengthens, and not only strengthens, but harmonizes their action.

Ivan: So it turns out, if I understand correctly, that the issue is not that cosmoenergetics is somehow imperfect, but that this is precisely the foundation of human energetic work in general, that otherwise, without attention, emotions, and so on, it is generally impossible to work normally.

53:25 Comparison of cosmoenergetics and cosmohealing.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): It would be possible to work without attention and emotions, if these were not channels, but simply some entities came and carried out some specific actions with their energy.

I've just been to some cosmo-healing sessions, and the channels themselves, such as energy flows, are not opened there. What is this process based on? On the fact that certain entities, humanoids and plasmoids of the Galactic Federation of Light are invited, and a person lies down, it is necessary to lie down in order to relax, to open up to this work, but it is carried out not by channels, but by the energy force of these beings themselves.

Ivan: You probably meant the Pleiades, if it’s cosmo-healing.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, cosmo-healing. The Pleiades are humanoids, plasmoids from the Pleiades. There are already some from other planets, and the center of all this is the Pleiades. When they come, they do not open any channels, artificially created energy flows. They come in the astral body and, using their skills, heal etheric matrices, pull out blocks, and so on.

Yes, I understand what he is talking about. There is such a method when a person stands and physically directs his energies without opening channels and, among other things, pulls out blocks, fills various energies, I know what he is talking about.

(Siomoni Grihtori) Now I don't want to say which method is better and which is worse, of course it's individual, but I want to say that in cosmoenergetics, energy flows work, created for many purposes at once, and in such things as cosmohealing, certain entities come who diagnose a person and begin to help him with their energy, that is, heal him.

Ivan: So they come as bioenergetic specialists, each of whom works as best they can?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, bioenergetics, only they come through the Astral.

Ivan: I see. I remember there was a question further: what is the difference between cosmohealing and cosmoenergetics? So we answered it at the same time.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, I just gave such an example.

Ivan: Such a vivid example, it gives a good impression, a good idea. Okay, thank you. So, let's move on. Next is a great question, more as a joke, maybe, but I'll voice it to ease the tension.

56:18 Safety precautions at Gihor School.

Ivan: Why does the head of the Gihor School forbid us everything and anything?

Irina: Now I'm interested, what does this mean?

Ivan: The thing is that we are building the Gihor School as a large-scale school for a large number of students, in which there are certain safety rules and regulations for everything, so that the training is suitable for the maximum number of different people.

Irina: What do you mean "forbids everything"? Sleeping on red bed linen?

Ivan: We probably prohibit opening incompatible channels at the same time.

Irina: Or celebrate Easter, sing the Russian anthem?

Ivan: No. We can't prohibit that. In fact, we have safety regulations, which currently have 55 points.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Just the word "everything" - that surprised me somehow. If there was a specific question about what exactly is prohibited. But all this is very abstract.

Ivan: So, from what we prohibit, we prohibit, for example, opening channels that are incompatible in terms of safety at the same time. But in general, we have quite a large number of prohibitions in cosmoenergetics.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Well, people simply understand this as a prohibition, they have dualistic thinking, and they perceive any spiritual advice as a prohibition.

Ivan: Uh-huh.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): The thing is, for example, you bought a package of medicine. There are instructions. For example, it says: "Keep this medicine out of the reach of children." Is this a ban or a recommendation? But you can, of course, keep it in accessible places, but you will have to worry about the consequences of your child being poisoned by this medicine.

And in the same way, safety precautions, which are naturally quite strict in the Gihor School, as in all similar schools connected with serious energy work and human restructuring, they really exist. This does not mean that the spiritual teacher himself will go and check whether you observe these prohibitions. You simply take responsibility for yourself if you suddenly do not observe them.

Kalachakra Digital Code for Transforming Fear into Confidence Energy

Fear is the energy of protection. It is the energy of confidence that has stood up to protect a person, but it has stood up inharmoniously, and it prevents him from developing and going his own way. The code below is intended to transfer this energy of protection back into confidence.

103 206 303 616

Each triple of these numbers signifies the energy of a certain etheric element and a certain planet, so to speak, in their interaction. And the sequence of writing these numbers signifies the unfolding of the energy of fear into the energy of love.

The numerical series begins with one and ends with six. One is the energy of confidence, like the Sun. Zero is its zeroing. Three is its transformation into the energy of aggression, because fear is auto-aggression.

Then comes two - this is like harmonization. And again the energy of confidence, that is, harmonization into the energy of confidence and love. And further, all the other numbers show amplification through the quality of other planets until the last part of the code 616.

Between the two sixes there are ones, that is, love has strengthened confidence and has again turned into love, that is, they support each other.

You need to imagine them in your mind as they are written above - with spaces. If you read one digit at a time, you need to pronounce three digits quickly, then pause for 2-3 seconds, then pronounce the next three quickly.

In part of the code 303, Martian energies are represented, that is, fear, aggression, they are again reset, and after zero there is 3 again, because the energy of Mars arises in a new quality, as courage.

You can write it in the color of the Sun or Mars, that is, either yellow or red. You can read it seven times according to the number of your chakras. You can imagine numbers of a certain color, you can imagine these numbers written inside the chakra in its color. As for helping children, for example, or people who experience fears, various phobias, various anxiety states for themselves and for other people, now this is very common in your world, you can write this code on a clean white sheet of paper in red or yellow, write it so that you can put a glass vessel with water on these numbers. You can charge the water for 20 minutes and then drink it. These numbers will structure the water.

You can also put any decoration with metal and mineral or precious stone on this code for 3 hours. It takes longer to charge, but you can wear it so that no fears from people around you and negative entities penetrate your field. That is, this is the creation of a talisman.

Earth

A planet created by God and plasmoid civilizations. An integral part of the Cosmos, just like the planet Burkhad. This is the beloved home of the Heavenly Father, the beloved temple of the Spirits incarnated here.

Planet Earth is the sister of Burkhad and all other planets. A transfer station for the Soul to have the opportunity to go home to the Spiritual World. A multi-level complex system of different energy layers that have different material density, if density is understood as the frequency-vibrational range of matter oscillations that came from the Divine Light. A symbol of the dense-material world.

The Earth is one of the manifestations of the Spiritual worlds and part of the Kingdom of Heaven. If you treat the Earth this way, it will respond with the fruits of joy, pleasure and easing of the spiritual path. The light energy that is invested in it, it reaches its core and returns with bright flowers and tasty fruits.

Low, dirty, heavy energy of rejection, negativity, envy, condemnation, anger (directed at oneself or others), settles down in a dark stream, goes to the core of the Earth and begins to be processed in the core of the Earth. Because of this process, the Earth responds with earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, hurricanes, forest fires. This is how it processes negativity.

There is a plasmoid that is responsible for the entire Earth. Its subtle body is very large, it is several times larger than the Earth. It has a thirty-third density level. This plasmoid is responsible for the Earth, for all Spirits, it is their boss and all localities. Each locality has its own plasmoid and its own Spirit of nature. They are the same full-fledged earthlings, the same masters of space, just on different density levels.

The spirit of the entire Earth in a female form is "Mother Earth". She feels the entire Earth, the entire planet not with her body, but with her part. She can hug and caress it. She protects, gives tasks to the plasmoids of individual countries and cities, who are responsible for specific areas, for the creation of animal Souls, and the purification of nature. The Earth's plasmoid is more than four thousand years old, the name is known as Demeter.

Planet Earth is considered a very generous planet. In many languages of the Galaxy it is called "The Heart of the Generosity of the Universe". As a center.
And getting to such a planet is an opportunity to learn how to manage both natural resources and the resources of the biosphere, and to interact correctly with the Spirits of nature.

According to the laws of the Interstellar Union, not only the earthly civilization, but also those civilizations that are on other levels of density are full-fledged owners and earthly inhabitants of the Earth. These are plasmoid civilizations: Spirits of nature, Spirits of the elements, Spirits of individual places of nature, mermaids, brownies, wood goblins and other Spirits of air, water. They are also full-fledged inhabitants of the planet Earth and its owners, who have the right to live in its space. They are also responsible for its condition before the Galactic Spiritual Council, which embodies Souls here.

00:20 MidgasKaus on twin flames.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I have once again researched who is called on Earth by such interesting words as twin flames. And it turned out that in the cases of people who feel themselves as a part of another person, and the other person as a part of themselves, there is such a fact that in one of their past incarnations, which were shortly before that, but not necessarily in the last one, but, for example, in the penultimate one or two incarnations ago and so on, these two Spirits were incarnated in the same plasmoid civilization, at the same density level, although they were in different bodies, but these bodies constituted one conglomerate with a group mind. And now they feel a very great community with each other. Such cases also exist.

Olesya: Interesting, a very great sense of belonging to each other, great.

01:36 Astrology and astral influence of planets.

Irina (MidgasKaus): There are also cases when one person feels another as a twin flame, but the other does not feel it. That is, they may also have different sensitivity.

We also have a developed astrology, and each number belongs to a specific planet. There is also an astral influence of planets, because on Earth there is a slightly different system, but I have also adapted to it.

Olesya: Does it take place or not?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, because you are born in a solar system in a completely different part of the Galaxy than we are. You have your own systems, your own orientation of the Earth to the stars, and so on.

Olesya: The position of the planets is changing.

Irina (MidgasKaus): The thing is that here it is more the astral influence of the planets that is calculated, not as physical objects, but as objects that are in the etheric plane. Because each planet has its own energy, its own astral shell, etheric shell, and so on. Therefore, all calculations are valid according to astrology. And if you make a natal chart for a specific date, it is also valid, because the influence of the planets means its astral atmosphere, it does not depend on the change of physical orbits.

Olesya: On your planet, is astrology as popular as numerology?

03:15 Astrological year on Esler.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Numerology is more popular with us. There is astrology. But since we have different constellations, the planet rotates differently, more slowly than Earth, the year there is longer. One year on Esler is 96 Earth months.

Olesya: Birthday every 96 months?

Irina: Yes. Although you see, in 96 months earthlings have managed to congratulate me 8 times.

Olesya: I thought about that too.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And I am very pleased. Because, according to the earthly calendar, I incarnated on August 4, 1932 on Earth. And every August 4 I am congratulated on my birthday, which happens almost 8 times in my year. I told my wife, mother, relatives that earthlings congratulate me 8 times on my birthday, because their Earth rotates 8 times faster. Eight years pass on Earth, where my contactees live, while our Esler makes one revolution.

He shows me that they are laughing.

Olesya: Nice things.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Just imagine if we discover a planet where it will be like Mercury, where one year is three of our months. And that means that four years will have passed there in one Earth year. And imagine that the contactee congratulates you on your birthday four times a year. How do you like that?

Olesya: Great.

05:54 About the influence of planets.

Irina (MidgasKaus): According to the natal chart, a person may belong to the influence of other planets. Namely, according to his date of birth, according to his natal chart, other planets may be strong. That is, the interpretation of planets differs in astrology and numerology. Therefore, if you want to track the influence of a planet, I would not call it the influence of a planet. In general, planets in a horoscope are signs to a person about what qualities to pay attention to. But they may not come true. Even the best horoscope with strong planets in the leading signs may not come true if a person does not work on it.

And what's more, a horoscope that is full of so-called dangerous signs that warn of some danger may also not come true if a person eliminates the spiritual causes of this danger. That is, unties his karmic knots that led him to the formation of that negative karma that manifests itself, including through birth on this day and in this place.

07:16 Calculation of life task and practical application.

Irina: As for the planet of the life task, the sum of all the numbers of the date of birth is the number of the life task. What planet do you have?

Olesya: Jupiter.

Irina (MidgasKaus): So Jupiter is your life task number. But I will only say that Jupiter was in mythology in general... What is the astral influence of a planet? It takes into account its mythological significance, that is, what was reflected in the myths, in the legends, thanks to which these planets received their names.

For example, Jupiter is now considered the largest planet in the Solar System, but back then it was considered the king of the gods. So your task is everything related to power, to develop all the qualities of a leader. You can also look at the position of Jupiter in your natal chart. The sign where it is, the house of the horoscope where it is. Specifically in the natal chart, how you were born. What aspects are there. And all this data will suggest the path to fulfilling your task, to achieving those leadership qualities that you need to develop.

Olesya: Very-very-very interesting. Thank you. Is the life task number a lucky number?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes. The numbers of the month, for example, which can be reduced to the number five, the numbers of the month 5, 14, 23 are the days that are most favorable for achieving these qualities. Also the fifth month of the year. You designate it as 05. 0 + 5 = 5. And pay special attention to the fifth days of the fifth month. For example, 5.05, 14.05, 23.05. These will be three days a year when you can fully reveal your leadership potential.

Olesya: Thank you, great.

Irina (MidgasKaus): You can also use the vibrations of the number five to connect with your astral planet Jupiter. That is, you can, for example, make the number five your personal talisman in the form of some written numbers, for example, on clothes, so that your number will accompany you in life.

Some people simply write the number five on a clean sheet of paper in blue, because its color is blue. And then they put a glass of water on this sheet of paper at the hour when Jupiter is highest above the horizon, that is, at its zenith. Look in the astronomical calendar. Jupiter, like any planet, makes one revolution across the earth's sky per day. You need to find the time when the constellation in which Jupiter is located will be at its zenith. This is two hours a day. And for these two hours, put a glass of water on this paper on the windowsill. This glass should stand for two hours, and then you can drink this water. It is believed that the charge of this leading planet Jupiter, which will be in the water, will give you strength for a whole week. It will help you achieve your life goals.

Olesya: Thank you for such valuable information.

Irina: You find out when Jupiter is at its zenith, not Jupiter itself, but the constellation where it is. First you find out where Jupiter is now, then you look at the calendar to see when this constellation reaches its zenith, and you set the time for that. How do you like that?

Olesya: Great. At the same time, you keep your life tasks in mind, concentrate on them and you will definitely complete your life tasks.

Irina (MidgasKaus): It can be different here. Some planets are at their zenith, by the way, only at night or in the morning. You need to look here. And you can do the same for any planet that is responsible for any area of a person on the tree of life for the physical body, astral body, mental body, and so on.

Only each time you need to take a white sheet of paper, on which there are no lines, just a sheet of paper. And in the appropriate color, for example, with a felt-tip pen, marker or pencil, draw a number. It should be large. And I also noticed that when the sheet of paper is not in the form of a square, but in the form of a circle, the effect of the etheric energy of the written number is increased by 3.5 times.

Olesya: Thank you for all the answers you gave us.

Irina: I also found it interesting, thank you. Thank you for interesting questions and answers, Olesya and MidgasKaus. Thank you also, dear friends. I hope it was interesting. I love you, sending you the Light of love until we meet again.

Help for Souls of Suicides

In the modern Christian church it has never been stated that it is impossible to pray for the Souls of suicides at all. Every person can do this outside of the church meeting, at home, that is, to pray before God that God will have mercy on this person.

What does it mean to "pardon the Soul of a suicide"? To use a terminology that is understandable to you, he assigned to him such mentors in the Spiritual world who would be able to explain to him all the consequences of what he did, having voluntarily abandoned life in the body, and explain to his mentors in the Spiritual world exactly what conditions for the next incarnation to select for this intelligent Spirit so that he could correct in himself those destructive qualities that led him to such a decision in his previous life.

Having killed his body, the Spirit remains with the same problems that he developed in life, and which led him to kill his body. Only the body dies, and these problems pass with it into the Spiritual world, and then into his next life. Here, prayer to God, prayer to the saints can help him. When a person prays, he does not just pronounce words like a robot, he releases the energy of love for this person who killed himself. This energy of love goes to the Spiritual world and there spiritually supports him, i.e. he understands that they remember him, that he is not alone in this world, that they help him want to change for the better, turn to mentors and go through the incarnation that they choose for him.

But because he is on a low spiritual level, because he does not feel the Light of Love, which led him to suicide, the mentors will most likely choose a life for him in which he will develop through acceptance of what is happening as the Will of God. In your language - through humility.

It also happens very often that such Souls, having been born again, live only a short time on Earth in order to live out the term that they did not live out in their previous life, and that they had appointed before incarnation. They do not live out their term, kill themselves and then die in childhood in the next life, having lived the few years that remained to them. The Soul goes through such a lesson so that it understands that the term of life that it has appointed for itself in union with the mentors, when incarnating, cannot be violated.

Reasons for Refusing to Perform Funeral Services for Suicides

The funeral service is a ritual that is performed not just over any person, but over someone who sincerely recognized Christ as God, who was a Christian not just by ritual, but in his life. Only then does the funeral service make sense.

With this rite, this ritual, the community that buries him confirms that he lived a Christian life. But since he voluntarily renounced the life given by the Creator, this cannot be said about a person who left of his own free will.

A true Christian who accepts everything as God's will will never kill himself, no matter what his circumstances, because he loves this life, no matter what it is.

But there are also exceptions when suicides are given a funeral service: if it turns out during the investigation of this case by your church hierarchs that this person was not responsible for himself, for his mind, was in a state of either illness, clouded mind, or the influence of a dark Spirit, or the influence of some substance that alters consciousness.

If it turns out that he himself, by his own will, did not want to do this, in this case the funeral service for such a person is possible. He still tried to live a real Christian life, i.e. he did not renounce life by his own will. He tried to live a real Christian life, but he did not cope, and due to his negative moments, either illnesses, or dark forces, or substances affected him, and he passed away, but this was not his voluntary act of will.

#566 Cosmoenergetics - energy from the planet Gihor. Recommendations for the proud. "Cassiopeia" about donation. Part 2.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_S70JCVkmpk

00:00 Start of video.

00:19 Financial support for a cosmoenergetician.

Irina: Despite the fact that some civilizations are part of the Interstellar Union, and other civilizations are not, we all come from the same Spiritual World. There were contactees in different countries: in India, in Tibet, in Mexico and in Russia, but they were in previous centuries and did not spread it widely, but simply received it for themselves. And they themselves, one might say, closed themselves off in their narrow priestly caste, which could be called differently.

If you, dear friends, come to a session with a cosmoenergetician and do not want to support him financially, then he will either have to move to another job or write a statement asking to be put on the payroll on the planet Gihor.

Ivan: Yes. Sometimes at these conferences you hear something like this and you start to rethink, rethink and rethink the previous things that you received before, you also look at it in a new light - this is extremely interesting, of course.

02:00 Safety precautions in space energy.

Irina: When you are given a recommendation, you have received it, but, naturally, no one takes away your free will. You decide for yourself whether to follow it, but if you do not follow it, you clearly understand that you have been warned, and all the consequences are your responsibility, and not the responsibility of this teacher.

Ivan: The teacher warned, that's all. I'm actually pleased to hear this, because just as we insisted on the need to know and follow safety precautions, we will continue to insist on this.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Of course, if someone comes and says: “I felt bad” or “I suffered because of such and such use, which is prohibited,” you can always answer: “You received the instructions, and now you will have no reason to blame me for not warning you.”

Ivan: Forewarned is forearmed. Well, and then it's up to you. Good! Now one more question, more of a clarifying one, but it's asked very, very often.

03:02 Petrov is the first official popularizer of cosmoenergetics.

Ivan: We insist that it was Petrov who was the first cosmoenergetician of that very same Petrov line, which everyone now knows as modern cosmoenergetics. It was he who was the first, and no one else, to receive the channels of the Gihorians. Is that so?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): I have already said that there were contactees in different countries: in India, in Tibet, in Mexico and in Russia, but they were in previous centuries and did not spread it, but received it simply for themselves, and they themselves, one might say, closed themselves off in their narrow priestly caste, which could be called differently. But not all channels were received, only some. Some were really given only to Petrov. Why him? Because he was the one who agreed to broadcast it to the general public.

Ivan: It turns out that Peter the Great’s cosmoenergetics is the most successful experience of the wide dissemination of cosmoenergetics?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, because cosmoenergetics are people who were contactees with the planet Gihor, and who, through certain chips, were given the ability to distribute these channels, including the initiation of others and so on.

I remember a case when 162 years before the birth of Christ, before the new era, in India, some mystic yogis were given the channel Farun Buddha. There were five of them. It was given with the ability to initiate others. A recommendation was given that they spread it for the treatment of various diseases, for healing people, helping in spiritual development. It all ended with them using these energies only for big money among the upper castes. The same lower castes, which are called Shudras, were left practically without help. That was the experience.

Ivan: Okay. It's just that sometimes there are funny rumors that Petrov wasn't the first, but someone else got it, and Petrov stole it or something else.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): No, we handed it over to Petrov ourselves. We know him.

Ivan: So our answer to this is absolutely unambiguous, without options. Very good, thank you!

And now a question. It is also asked periodically, and the question is very reasonable. Here we are the civilization of Earth. We are not part of the Interstellar Union today. There is a practice of cosmoenergetics, given initially by the Interstellar Union and other intelligent civilizations. In order to support cosmoenergetics, this entire system in general, the equipment, the scientists who work, all this requires large resources in one way or another. Maybe not even as much as we, earthlings, have in money, but still it is a resource one way or another.

06:11 The concept of cosmoenergetic assistance from the planet Gihor to earthlings.

Ivan: Question: when they do it for themselves and use it themselves, it is completely clear to us, as if for their people. But why should they spend these resources to give us, earthlings, the opportunity to work with cosmoenergy? What is their benefit?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, indeed, a good question. The thing is that I myself was at the origins of the creation of cosmoenergetics, when I was still young. I and three of my friends and employees of our, one might say, institute for the study of outer space began to study the possibility of healing the inhabitants of other planets, not included in the Interstellar Union, with the means that were available at that time.

We had our own theories on how this could be done without direct physical contact, which, as you know, is prohibited en masse for civilizations outside the Interstellar Union. A special theory was developed, which I presented at the Council of the Government of the planet Gihor. Similar questions arose there.

I answered them because I had developed a concept, thanks to which the government of the planet Gihor, and a little later, more precisely 158 years later, the government of the Interstellar Union, also allocated their resources. This happened because my staff and I developed such a theory, which was agreed upon by the majority of the council of the government of Gihor.

This concept was that despite the fact that some civilizations are part of the Interstellar Union, while other civilizations are not, we all come from the same Spiritual World. This means that our brothers and sisters, who are incarnated on those planets, are not yet part of the Interstellar Union due to the unpreparedness of the egregor, one might say, the military-political elite and the decrease in the vibration of the Earth's noosphere (naturally, they themselves agreed to incarnate there). But assistance in their recovery and spiritual development will bring them closer, among other things, to joining the Interstellar Union. This was the first reason.

And the second reason was that, since they are not part of the Interstellar Union, and they have seriously ill people physically, mentally and with spiritual problems, they cannot receive all the available help from the inhabitants of the Interstellar Union. And the little that we can give them and help them with in this situation is cosmoenergetics. In this case, one of the systems. And if we spend some energy resources of our civilization on this, it will not be wasted, but on helping the same Spirits as we are, just embodied on another planet. This is the concept.

Ivan: What interesting governments they have. These arguments convinced them.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): I don't know specifically, I don't understand the nuances of your political state structures, but as far as I know, if you have a country that needs help, it can also receive humanitarian aid, including from the resources of a more financially stable country.

Ivan: On the one hand, yes, but there is still a secondary benefit in this. There are tax breaks for those who do charity work and so on. There is always some kind of benefit hidden there.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Here, yes. But the thing is that they expect retribution from those people who receive this help. Not gratitude, but for them to pay for this help, because it is provided to them because they found themselves in a more dire situation, lower vibrations precisely in their social environment.

For example, there is no work, no opportunity to earn money for food, clean water, medicine, etc. And then they start sending aid. And I even heard that if a disaster happens somewhere, for example an earthquake, a war, or something else, then other countries can even gather a significant amount of their resources and send them to help.

Ivan: An analogy came to mind. From their point of view, they are sending humanitarian aid to these distressed earthlings who cannot figure things out on their own?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): I will now explain the reason for this. The fact is that each Soul that has come into incarnation on Earth goes through a certain upbringing. And when it goes through a certain upbringing by Souls that are not themselves familiar with the higher laws of the Universe, the spiritual laws of the Universe, they can, one might say, psychologically traumatize this Soul and cause various kinds of blocks to appear in it.

By analogy, this can be called a form of spiritual warfare. All earthlings have suffered to some extent since childhood in this war, and therefore civilization sends them help.

Ivan: So bossy. Got it. Really cool.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Spiritual war.

Ivan: Yes, sometimes at these conferences you hear something like that and you start to rethink, rethink and look at the previous things you received before in a new perspective. This is extremely interesting. Good, thank you! Now here's a question.

12:40 Possible negative influences of cosmoenergetics.

Ivan: Should all earthlings engage in cosmoenergetics or, let's say, can the unreasonable use of cosmic channels by unconscious people lead to a deterioration in the lives of people and the planet as a whole?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): The planets as a whole cannot. But, for example, if you combine incompatible channels, do not observe safety precautions, you can cause damage to the etheric matrices, for example, health. Because, as I have already said, any tool has a sphere of its application, and here it is better to observe those safety rules that were developed so that a person could harmoniously use and benefit himself and others.

Ivan: I see, good.

13:48 Financial and energetic exchange between the healer and the patient.

Ivan: Such a question. Also a very direct and vivid question about money. Periodically we are asked: if you are a healer, then you seem to have this gift, and you should only work with people for free. That is, if a healer takes money for his work, a fixed fee or a donation - it doesn't matter, then it seems wrong.

Why do we, both within the framework of Cassiopeia and within the framework of the Gihor School, insist that the work of, for example, a cosmoenergetic healer must be paid for in one way or another?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): We will now figure out what payment is in general? What is financial exchange in general? What are finances?

Finance is a measure of energy, the energetic interaction that people exchange in their society. After all, finance does not appear to a person just like that. Usually, he spends his energy in a certain way, either physically, or mentally, or in some other way, and he receives an equivalent in the form of money, that is, he receives for his work. Of course, I know that in your country, people who do not work are provided for, society itself provides for them, for example, those who are sick, or those who are already on a well-deserved rest. But in any case, these energies are compensation for his energetic and physical defect, that is, society itself compensates for it.

Why am I saying this now? So that you understand that money is not just some specific papers or coins, it is energy flows. And when a person comes to a healer with some specific problem, he begins to use not only the cosmoenergy channels that are given to him through the healer, but also the resources of the healer himself, for example, his and not only his time, but also his physical and mental work.

It is necessary to understand that time itself is also an energy resource. Naturally, we, as a civilization, as I have already said, have allocated energy resources for cosmoenergetics, so we ourselves do not need monetary payment on the planet Gihor. We have enough of everything, we receive certain financial support from our government for working in this system, we have our own families, and so on. But we are not directly involved in healing a person. He comes to an earthly person who does not live on the planet Gihor.

Ivan: Does not receive a salary from the Gikhor government for his work in space energy.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): In short (he wants to say it humorously), if you, dear friends, come to a session with a cosmoenergetician and do not want to support him financially, then he will either have to move to another job or write a statement asking to be put on the payroll on the planet Gihor.

Ivan: Wonderful!

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): This is the first.

I found it funny. What do you think of the answer?

Ivan: Excellent! Put me on rations. I'll have a food card from Gikhor, please.

Irina: Can you imagine, such a card will say “Bank Gihor”.

Ivan: And signature, countersigned by Siomoni Grihtori.

Irina: And there will always be a score.

Ivan: I once made joke diplomas for our cosmoenergetics specialists who had distinguished themselves for the first of April and personally signed them with squiggles. It was something like Siomoni Grihtori. I asked him in advance if it was possible to make a joke like that. It was supposedly his signatures.

Irina: I wonder what the signatures are?

Ivan: I didn’t take it with me, but I’ll show it to you later when the opportunity arises.

Irina: Interesting, yes. (Siomoni Grihtori) Yes, indeed, I answered more in a joking manner now. We also like to joke.

But I want to say this now in all seriousness. There are many life situations. It happens that a person is really objectively in a difficult life situation, and he urgently needs help, and he can always tell the healer he came to about this, and explain what situation he is in, ask him to conduct sessions for him, for example, on the condition that he will thank him later, when he can recover, go to work and earn money. Because he may not be able to work due to illness, and his relatives may not give him money for this. Such cases happen.

But why was payment by heart introduced in Cassiopeia, and why did I support it when I learned about it? Because payment by heart is a flexible system, when a person can evaluate not only the amount he is ready to support the healer according to his own desires, but also according to his own capabilities.

As you well understand, desires and possibilities are different for everyone, and they do not always coincide. It was payment by heart that opened the way to cosmoenergetics for those people who in the past would have liked to do this, but could not because of the fixed payment of other cosmoenergetics. But if payment by heart is open, this means that you are trusted, that people trust you with their financial security, on which, by the way, the effectiveness of their work depends, because if the thoughts of a cosmoenergetics are occupied with how to feed his family, then he will spend less energy and thoughts on how to help you. For example, what session schemes to develop, how to diagnose and, perhaps, a cosmoenergetics, who once again has nothing to pay for utilities, which, by the way, on your planet are not free, unlike Gihor, then he will listen to you with half an ear about your problems, because half of his brain is occupied with something completely different.

Ivan: Yes. A well-fed cosmoenergetic will work more thoroughly than a hungry one. Yes? Logical.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): But not only food, there are certain expenses that are necessary for the life of his family.

Ivan: Yes, yes, of course.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): He, of course, does not live on the street, but in a building that also requires care. Here on planet Gihor, everything is done by robots, there is no natural payment for utilities, because all this is already included in the social minimum of every citizen of Gihor.

Ivan: Sounds great – citizen of Gihor. The phrase itself is beautiful.

Irina (Siomonie Grihtori): Citizen on the planet Gihor.

Ivan: Yes, yes, yes. I understand.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): And the person who has the opportunity to thank his healer does not experience any financial shortage, namely, does not experience a state when he himself needs financial help. That is, if a person is financially stable enough, and for some reason does not want to thank the healer who worked with him, I suggest asking yourself: do you agree to give your salary to your boss or colleague at work?

Ivan: A very vivid example, especially about the boss. Right? Just take it and give it to the boss, and you'll understand everything right away.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): When you are given your salary, say: “No, don’t, leave it for the needs of the company, please.”

Ivan: And in the audience, this feeling started creeping up everyone’s spine: “What?”

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes. You went to work, spent your energy and time. Just give it away. You say what you will exist on then, but on the same thing that you want the healer to exist on.

Ivan: Well, yes.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): It’s called the law of karma.

Ivan: I like this interpretation. I remember from my own experience, when I was just starting out, I had only recently become a devotee, I conducted a lot of individual sessions. I had several sessions a day every day, and this moment, that you are constantly thinking about your communal apartment, about this, about this, about the tenth, really, this work with a stream of clients is gradually turning into such a conveyor routine, and this is actually a potential hack job if you don't take control of this process and don't calm down. So I can tell myself exactly the same thing.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): And the third aspect: the fact that the healer, having accepted you and conducted the energies through himself, gave it to you out of the motive of his love. Without instilling love in him in the form of his financial support, you devalue the energy that he gave you.

Ivan: That's right. Okay, thank you.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Of course, again, payment by heart means "by heart". What is that? By desire and by possibility. When you want to contribute, that is, to thank the healer with some finances, that is, financial energies, you ask yourself, your heart, how much will be enough. And then you look at your finances. This amount should be harmonious for you and for him, that is, there should be such a balance.

Ivan: Good. Usually at the initial initiation, when newcomers come to be initiated into cosmoenergetics, I always say that donation is your payment according to the heart, which you calculate yourself, based on, firstly, your sincere understanding of the value of the knowledge and skills received and, secondly, based on the possibilities of your financial situation.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, because everyone has different opportunities.

Ivan: Yes.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): For example, some people have one monthly income, while others may have a completely different one, and although they will have the same desire, they will have different opportunities.

Ivan: Uh-huh.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): This also happens in reality. But I think that those people who come and say: "Why is it not completely free?" - have a donation to "Cassiopeia" or "Gikhora". Such a person can be recommended to dedicate themselves and engage in cosmoenergetics themselves.

Ivan: Yes. Absolutely right.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Nothing teaches better than one's own experience.

Ivan: And my own labor.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Personal experience of going through these nuances.

Ivan: In fact, the topic of donation is about cosmoenergetics, and we spent enough time to really chew it all over. But you know, this question about donation and about the paid-free nature of the work of cosmoenergetics and other esotericists arises very often, and I would like to somehow specifically put a bold point in this issue. Now we have considered this in great detail, so that in any case it would be possible to always refer to this material.

Irina: I remember we had a conference about the Higher Self. They asked: "Why do they give money to the masters? They are also paid according to their hearts for the Higher Self. Why not just refuse to work for God? Why do they take it?" I said: "Okay. Let me teach you," I said, "how to lead to the Higher Self, you will do it for God. Do you want it?" They refused.

Ivan: Strange. Why? And you will work for free. I immediately lost the desire.

Irina: “No, I’m not ready,” she says.

Ivan: Dear friends, remember this wonderful formulation from Irina Sergeevna. If you feel that you do not want to work for free, say: "I am not ready." Excellent. Thank you! The next question. The question itself is controversial, but interesting.

27:58 The subjective picture of the world of each person.

Ivan: How do they feel on the planet Gihor about the fact that many schools of cosmoenergetics have a personality cult of Vladimir Aleksandrovich Petrov, who was essentially just a contactee? They made a de facto prophet out of him, his ideological delusions are being cultivated, his methodology with the attunement of training is not subject to modification. The writer speaks about this as if it had already been decided. But I ask this more as a question. And further, what delusions and mistakes of Petrov does Siomoni Grihtori consider significant and would like some of this to be corrected?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): The thing is that he was my contact. I won't say that he had any particular worldview errors. He had his own, I would say, some views, including on the Interstellar Union, his own worldview. I don't judge people by what mistakes they have or what delusions they have, because I look at the subjective picture of the world of each person, through which the truth that exists for everyone is refracted.

If you think something is a mistake, you must have a certain conclusion why you read it as a mistake. So you have a certain experience that contradicts his experience. But he had his own experience, not yours, so it was his opinion based on his experience.

As for the cult of personality. You know, the cult of personality is not created in organizations. It is created by those people who are looking for a personality they can rely on. The cult is created by the people themselves, who are not confident in themselves, regardless of the desire of this person.

Ivan: I see. Excellent answer. Thank you! I really liked this answer. Next.

30:05 Possible reason for wanting to open a channel without initiation.

Ivan: Why is it forbidden to open channels that are not initiated, and what could be the consequences of this?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): What is initiation? Let's start with this. It is a certain energetic access key. A code that is placed in your aura, like a key on an energetic level. And if you try to call this channel without this key, it will not be able to enter your aura. You will simply call it, its name will simply attract it, but since you do not have the key, it will not be able to enter your aura.

But, as I have already said, there are always various entities around a person, plasmoid civilizations, for example, they can read your desire and send you a flow of energy, which you can take for this channel. Then there can be a connection to completely different civilizations with unclear consequences, because the purpose of this plasmoid will be unclear. This is simply energetically unsafe, because it creates the illusion that you will use something that you do not have.

Ivan: I see, thank you! That is, friends, it is really very important that all schools of cosmoenergetics prohibit attempts to open channels that are not initiated, and this is not social motivation at all, it is real in the questions, it is really in the interests of the safety of the cosmoenergetics themselves.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): If you have a desire to open a channel that you do not have, just follow this desire and ask where it came from. Perhaps it is not even your desire, but some plasmoid that is nearby and wants to connect to you sent you this thought.

Ivan: And he needs this clue?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, by sending you energy, which you will let into your aura, accepting it as the action of the channel, and then it will send you further thoughts, how to work with it and so on. At the same time, you will be sure that you have this channel and, for example, when talking to other people, cosmoenergetics, you can say that you received this channel without initiation, which will cause quite understandable questions about this, which can cause anger, irritation, resentment and so on in you. And you will feed this plasmoid.

Ivan: I see. Thank you! Next. The next question. Very interesting, by the way, a sore one. Cosmoenergetics is, first of all, a spiritual practice.

32:50 Spiritual causes of arrogance and pride, their development.

Ivan: Why does it often happen that people who initially came to practice as seemingly adequate, as they progress in training, begin to "put on a crown". They begin to think that they are better than others in something, and at some point people seem to be replaced. Look, yesterday he was still normal, and then they initiated him into the master of cosmoenergetics, and he immediately turned up his nose. This situation really does take place. I can't say that it is super common. We observe it sometimes. And the question of the connection with this situation. Firstly, how can this be avoided? How can you track, by what criteria, that the process has already begun, and how can this be eliminated?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): You know, a person's pride, arrogance is actually his hidden lack of self-confidence, and it manifests itself in such a form that he pointedly expects, for example, certain compliments or praise, or constantly seeks attention, or considers himself higher, better than others. Because if he considers himself equal, for his insecure ego, for his insecure self, this will already be humiliation. Because if he does not elevate himself above others, he feels lower. For example, he was humiliated in childhood and did not work through it, did not forgive, did not dissolve this block of resentment. This is the most common reason for this pride.

This is what psychology calls hypercompensation of self-doubt. That is, a person tries to compensate for it in order to be on par with others. But he exalts himself too actively inside himself in order to somehow stay afloat, not to fall into despondency because of this lack of confidence. In fact, all these attempts require a colossal energetic effort of this very person to maintain this arrogance of a high bar, that is, high self-esteem, and, in the end, the energy reserves are quickly depleted, and he can fall into even greater despondency. Especially if his desires do not coincide with the reality in which he lives.

This happens quite often, because a proud person who considers himself superior to others for this reason, then he already builds in his mind certain schemes of how other people should behave with him. He begins to build such ideals.

When people, completely unaware of these ideals, begin to violate them, he begins to understand that despite the fact that he is above others, he cannot control them in any way. And this can plunge him into even greater despondency and uncertainty. And usually in this wheel, which is one of the components of the so-called earthly wheel of samsara, this person can rotate for more than one life, that is, his Soul.

By doing this, she accumulates karma, which will manifest itself, for example, in arrogance towards this person from others. By humiliating others, he will attract those who can humiliate him. And even more so, he will have a hyperfixation on those moments that will contradict his, for example, convictions, his goals, that is, the slightest criticism can drive him crazy.

What to do in this case? This person can be recommended to work on himself through his Higher Self. Determine the initial block that arose. And how to do this? Ask the Higher Self: for what reason did this arrogance, this pride arise in me, and what problem does it solve? And then the Higher Self will answer, and this reason needs to be processed.

I want to say that pride is not only in cosmoenergetics, it is in any sphere of human activity, be it science, religion, sports, art, and so on. There is a place for pride there too.

Ivan: Apart from communication with the Higher Self, what methods specifically within the framework of cosmoenergetics can be recommended for working with pride in such situations? Some channels, some schemes?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): If a person himself understands that he has pride?

Ivan: Yes.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): What are the channels from pride?

Ivan: We have such a big methodology in cosmoenergetics. If we now add a channel from pride, it will be really great.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Again, it depends on whether he has the initiation of only the master or the magister. If he has the initiation into the master's channel, it is good to cleanse his energy, for example, with such channels as Firast. And as for the master's channel, Perun can act, Shiva can support, that is, there are appropriate settings.

Shiva acts with the help of a special installation for working with this channel. And, accordingly, it is necessary to give an installation to see the true Light in other people, the true Light of love in oneself and in other people. Then a person will open up energy vision, energy vision, the sixth chakra, a connection with his Higher Self, and gradually he will begin to feel that others do not want evil to him, and that there is no need to think about people, that they are lower, in order to feel higher.

Ivan: Good. We'll write it into the manual: Firast for pride. Excellent! I like it.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): This is a kind of universal cleansing channel.

Ivan: Good. Now a few questions about Petrov. Also interesting questions. First, why, actually a top question. Often asked.

Why did Petrov die so early?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): It was his life path, connected with his fulfillment of life tasks. I met him, talked to him, and he said that he had fulfilled the main tasks of his incarnation. But I think that for such questions you can try to invite his Spirit. I think he will talk to you about it himself, because I have not talked to him about it in detail.

Ivan: Good. We'll use this advice later.

40:03 The level of Petrov's Spirit in the Spiritual World.

Ivan: Where is Petrov now? Is he incarnate or still in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): He is not incarnate at the moment. He is currently at the nineteenth level.

40:14 Tasks of the incarnation of cosmoenergetician Petrov.

Ivan: Good. Was his incarnation's goal to found the direction of cosmoenergetics?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Yes, his incarnation task was precisely physical contact with us and healing. And he also had a task of incarnation - scientific work, that is, writing books.

Ivan: He managed to do that too. True, he only has one book, but, as they say, it's worth many.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): But he still has many articles that would definitely be enough for two more books.

Ivan: That, yes, by the way.

Irina: He shows some articles, and some documents, like manuals or something, he typed something on a typewriter when there was no computer.

41:00 Siomoni Grihtori on the habit of smoking.

Ivan: Yes, indeed. So. A tricky question: why didn't Petrov solve his problems with health, finances and relationships using cosmoenergetics?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): He solved these problems. And we discussed them with him in astral contact. And he solved them as much as his personal karma, the work done in the past and in this life, certain developments allowed.

Ivan: Great! Why didn't you decide? He decided everything normally, in my opinion. Yes, the fact that he smoked, for example. Well, he smoked, he liked it.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Smoked. I want to say something about smoking. I have seen contacts who smoke, especially men. And among, for example, doctors! And even more so, imagine, cardiologists, oncologists, who should at least know more about the harm than other people who do not have a medical education. There are so many smokers among them, and women. And not just women, but those who get pregnant, give birth to children and continue to smoke.

What is smoking? It is self-soothing with a certain habit associated with movements, sensations and chemical effects. There is a whole complex of effects that then fit not only into physical dependence, but also into a psychological habit. Of course, you can get rid of it, you can overcome it, but only if the person himself wants it. But it happens that a person is satisfied with everything.

Ivan: Good. Another question about Gihor. Not about Gihor, but, on the contrary, about people.

42:53 Siomoni Grihtori on the number of cosmoenergetics on Earth.

Ivan: Can Siomoni tell us at least an approximate number of people who are currently alive on Earth and at the same time attuned to at least one channel of cosmoenergy?

Irina: One more question.

Ivan: The exact number of cosmoenergetics on Earth.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Several tens of thousands (he shows: around 14,200).

43:27 Siomoni Grihtori on the vibrations of each substance.

Ivan: Question about Gihor. Why, how did it happen that the main mission of the planet Gihor is to support the development of cosmoenergy? Is this true, and if so, why did it happen?

Irina: Why what?

Ivan: Why did the planet Gihor make its mission the maintenance, creation, and development of cosmoenergetics?

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Because from the very beginning of our civilization we have been studying various energy channels as created in a natural way. That is, at first we studied the flows created by various crystals, that is, our ancestors. Various crystals, planets, stars, because from each planet and star there are also some frequencies.

We also studied the impact of, for example, the cosmic rhythms of planets, stars, our star, that is, our Sun. We studied the correspondence of cosmic cycles to biological cycles. And later, our ancestors began to create devices to artificially create energy fields at certain frequencies and transmit them through special oscillations of the etheric space and with an exit back into physical space at other points.

Ivan: How interesting! What a great question you asked. It reveals something completely new. Great. How do they get this nationwide fascination with frequencies and energy, and as a consequence, that's it.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): I just don't know how developed this is on Earth. For example, if you have a certain register of energy vibrations of those substances that are part of the objects you are accustomed to?

Ivan: Interesting. I know the atomic weight in the periodic table, and this is not very good. But I am not an expert.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Look: a certain substance vibrates in its purity, which depends on, for example, the arrangement of the crystalline atomic lattice and the degree of density of the object and so on. And all this can be measured. Our ancestors did this, and when they compiled a register, they compiled it for the organs of our body and for the objects around us, and they studied how changes in frequencies in the external environment affect the frequencies of the body's organs.

Ivan: Amazing. We've come to a good point with this question. Yes. We'll have to prepare separate questions on this topic about the Gihor civilization. I think our people will find this very interesting, because there are very few channelings about Gihor.

In fact, Irina and I had many conferences on the topic of cosmoenergetics with Siomoni Grihtori, but all the questions there were very narrowly specialized for the cosmoenergetics themselves. Therefore, today we have the first public conference on the topic of cosmoenergetics for all interested people.

Also, taking this opportunity, I would like to remind you that today the Gihor School, working in alliance with the Cassiopeia Project, is currently the only school that provides full training in cosmoenergetics at all levels on a donation basis. And all our training is conducted online.

At previous conferences we have already talked about why distance initiations work, this is correct and normal. Now we will not repeat this topic. Almost all training can be received remotely and on the terms of donation. And initiations are held with us constantly, and anyone who wants can apply and study at our School. All detailed information is located on our website gihor.ru, the link is in the description of the video. Therefore, who is interested in cosmoenergetics, start studying it at our School, you are welcome.

At this point our current time gradually comes to an end.

47:44 Siomoni Grihtori on cosmic energies.

Ivan: And as a finale, I will ask Irina for some parting words from Siomoni to those who are watching our conference now.

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Dear friends! I greet all people who are engaged in cosmoenergetics, are interested in cosmoenergetics and are generally involved in this egregor, including as healers, patients and simply interested. I remind you that the word "cosmoenergetics" was not chosen here by chance. The word "cosmos" comes from the Greek root of the word, which meant "decoration". That is, the words "cosmos" and "cosmetics" have the same root.

The stars, the planets, the galaxies are an adornment, that is, a beauty, which is a manifestation of the Love of our Heavenly Father, and I ask you to remember this when you look at the stars or when you look at the views of earthly nature, which are also part of the Cosmos.

Cosmic energies exist everywhere around you. Even solar energy is cosmic energy. And the use of all types of cosmic energies that are around you should be harmonious, and then it will lead you to your personal happiness, raising vibrations, fulfilling the purpose of your incarnation. I wish you this!

Ivan: Thank you, Siomoni Grihtori! Thank you, Irina Sergeevna, for this conference, for this wonderful opportunity!

Irina (Siomoni Grihtori): Thank you!

Ivan: I hope we will continue to communicate with our Gikhor curators, to receive new information. Thank you, dear viewers, and I also wish you all the best! Goodbye!

Irina: Thank you all! Goodbye!

Source of recharge for the etheric field in humanoids

The human aura exists both in the subtle material world and in the astral world. There is such a division that not only, for example, the etheric field is in the etheric world, and the astral field is in the astral world, their parts are in both the astral world and the etheric world, they permeate each other.

A person has a physical body and physical fields, for example, his photons, electromagnetic radiation, the heat of his body, his gravity and the radiation of his cells, it happens that cells emit radiation - all this makes up the physical field around a person.

Both the physical body and the physical field are in the physical world. The etheric field, the astral field and all other aura fields, what constitutes the aura, are in the subtle world, for humans these are the first 10 levels of density, that is, the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, and at these levels of density one can notice the human aura.

From other density levels, a person's aura can simply be felt, but in a different way, since the energies of higher density levels are no longer there. Accordingly, plasmoids that are embodied in a body above the tenth density level most often communicate and see a person through the Astral. A person can be seen through the Astral from all density levels.

As for the replenishment of the etheric field, the source is all around you. The entire set of all etheric worlds is embedded in the physical space, and all these etheric worlds can replenish your etheric field. But this process is especially active in sleep, when the Soul separates from the body, and that part of the etheric body that remains in the aura of a person around his physical, there always remains a part of the vital energy of the Soul, etheric energy, it becomes open 100 percent more, that is, it becomes twice as open to the influx of etheric energy than it was when the Soul was in the body. This happens due to the peculiarities of the separation of the Soul.

And of course, you can also charge your etheric field while in the body, but with a conscious effort and thought forms. For example, imagining that you are inhaling prana, that you are absorbing prana in food and water, simply imagining it as Light and imagining that you are placing it inside your body, this will open the flows of prana as one of the types of etheric energy, as well as other types of etheric energy. Prana is only one of the energies of the etheric body, there are many of them, ten, to be more precise. Prana enters the etheric body from the subtle-material space, which is everywhere around you.

Timecode: 28:20, #558 ETHEREAL field - matrix, dark matter, materialization of objects. Restoration of organs by DNA.

#568 Sacred meaning of the female cycle. Hormonal balance, pregnancy. Cassiopeia - Irina Podzorova.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Od3VU5XBLRg

00:00 Start of video.

00:20 The female cycle among aliens.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This was adopted from the earthly primate.

Olesya: What about the Burkhadians and Tumesoutians: do they have this?

Irina (MidgasKaus): They don't have a cycle like that of earthlings. They have a different hormonal exchange, that is, the exchange of hormones in their body happens differently.

00:44 The sacred meaning of the female cycle.

Irina (MidgasKaus): The sacred meaning of this process is that it is a sign for a woman that she has not conceived a child, no matter how the Spirit comes, and that is why she has such a loss in the form of blood. This is, to put it very figuratively, like tears of a woman's body over the lost opportunity to conceive. That is, it is a loss: a woman has lost one of her eggs (it died), and the tissues that were supposed to accept the child come out of it.

For what reason do they come out, and, for example, are not absorbed in the body? The point is that if we take the animal world of the Earth, namely primates, that they thus showed the males in the pack that they were not fertilized. It was like a sign, because not all animals of the Earth have such an ability.

Olesya: I see.

02:33 The biological meaning of the female cycle.

Irina (MidgasKaus): It is genetically determined, but it is not only in primates, but also in their ancestors. For example, they did not have menstruation during pregnancy and during lactation. They are mammals, they breastfeed.

After that, when the woman, the female of this animal was ready to conceive, she would have this period again. And she could give birth to a child every season - a cub or two. But since they grew up quite quickly, there was no socialization period like in humans, she could do this often, as animals can do. Let's take cats and dogs - they can give birth to offspring every year. After a year, their offspring becomes adults and does not require care. This is typical of animal life.

Olesya: Yes.

04:02 Energy processes during menstruation.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Of course, it was arranged that way, such genetics, by plasmoid civilizations. Including so that when a woman or a female animal loses blood, the energy of her sexual organs, her sex hormones, would come out with this blood, which also fed the plasmoid civilizations.

Yes, the blood of every creature contains etheric energies. It is like a small sacrifice to the plasmoids from a woman that she did not use this month for conception. This was relevant in the animal environment, because there the cubs quickly became adults and did not require long-term care.

During this period, the woman's second chakra is activated, and it is possible to establish contact with the plasmoids of the earth group, plasmoids of water, plasmoids of the Earth, places of nature, etc. with greater efficiency. That is, she secretes hormones that make her more sensitive to the subtle world.

05:24 Recommendations for women during menstruation from MidgasKaus.

Irina (MidgasKaus): It is advisable to be at peace on this day, to rest, to meditate, to read spiritual literature, to raise your vibrations. That is, to be calm in the outside world and it is advisable to rest on this day. I would generally suggest that all days when a woman is cleansed from the accumulation of these tissues, so that she is given a day off.

In terms of nutrition, nothing special is required here, just drink more fluids to replenish fluid reserves and so that new blood plasma can form.

06:20 Deviations in the female cycle, its hormonal and other causes.

Irina (MidgasKaus): But not everyone has the same effect of this gene that I mentioned, which determines the rejection of these tissues. Some women have so little endometrium that it is practically not rejected. This also happens. And then, despite the fact that the egg has died, there is no period, but the woman can still get pregnant, without periods, without menstruation. She simply will not have a cycle, and she will not know when her days are suitable for pregnancy. Accordingly, at any moment she can get pregnant, conceive a child.

Olesya: I see.

Irina (MidgasKaus): There is another type of hormonal disorders, when, as you said, ovulation does not occur, or it does not occur completely (shows how some kind of bubble opens in the ovary, and the egg does not come out of it) - this is incomplete ovulation. This happens from various cysts, inflammatory processes accompanied by fluid accumulation, from stress, from poor nutrition, bad habits, various intoxications.

And if ovulation does not occur, then this is not a disorder, this is a woman's peculiarity. The cycle can depend - its beginning or end - on nutrition, on spiritual reasons in general, on various experiences, even on the mode of sexual intercourse. This also has an effect, because during sexual intercourse not only an exchange of energies occurs, but also an exchange at the hormonal level. All this affects the hormonal cycle of a woman.

08:37 Causes of pain during the menstrual cycle, its duration.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I would also like to say a few words about pain. Normally, this process is practically painless. If there is pain, it means that in some part of the reproductive system there is an infection, an inflammatory process, that is, the tissues are damaged, and the pain begins from the compression of the muscles. If there is severe pain, it is a sign of a sluggish inflammatory process in the ovaries, uterus, cervix, or somewhere else along this line.

Only for some women this cycle coincides with the lunar month - 28 days. But it can be 19 days, 21 days, 22 days, 30, 36 days. And for some - 42 days. It's all individual.

Places for confession. Rudeness of church workers. Clothing for visiting church

Question: "Archangel Michael, please tell me what to do about those people who come to church for confession, but their priests throw them out, shout bad words after them and say that they are excommunicated from the church? They do this only because people do not come in the standard clothes that the priests would like to see a person in. If we take the situation that our population is not very rich, and not everyone can afford, especially women now, the clothes that are quite loyal in the church. What to do, where can I confess? Can I do this at home in front of an icon or is it only possible in church?"

Every word and every thought that comes out of your mouth or your brain, or rather, your mental body, is known to God. Therefore, naturally, every person can repent, confess, perform metanoia even without saying any words and without going anywhere.

The temple, confession - the whole environment is created precisely to achieve this state, to help in achieving it. Any ritual aspect of any religion is called for only one thing: to help in achieving the necessary state of the Spirit.

Each person perceives Christianity through the prism of his convictions, and each person has, naturally, an indisputable right to do so. If a person believes that it is in the Orthodox Church that he should bring his confession and nowhere else: not at home and not in another church, if he thinks so because of his convictions, and he considers it to be the truth, then, naturally, he has the right to think so and truly believes in it, then it is in the Orthodox Church that he will be able to tune in to this, to bring himself to the right state of Spirit.

Another confession in front of an icon or in another temple of another religion - he simply will not believe it, because it does not correspond to his beliefs, which means he will not tune into this state. If such an Orthodox believer, who believes that only in the Orthodox Church can one bring repentance, and this is the truth for him, then he creates this world. As Christ said:

> "According to your faith it will be done to you."

So, he should go to an Orthodox church. What to do if such a person came and met the attitude you described? Two completely different questions arise here. Who exactly met the person in church like that: the priest himself or the parishioners, or the church workers who are in this church next to him?

The thing is that a priest hears confession in a certain place, and when he hears a penitent's confession, as far as I know the psychology of priests, he pays the least attention to what he is wearing. He is completely focused on listening.

Most likely, you mean here people who are employees of the temple, for example, the same deacons, etc., but not priests, who are close to believers, expressing their criticism, their condemnation, naturally, having the good intentions of raising a person to correspond to the image that has developed in the tradition in which Orthodoxy is located.

They reprimand a person for coming to the temple in the wrong clothes, that he needs to change because this is a holy place. For them, the temple is a sacred place, and therefore, for a person to appear there in a form that is inappropriate for a sacred place, as they understand it, is, one might say, a disease for them. They get the impression that this person does not respect, does not love the holy place he has come to.

They consider themselves obliged to protect, firstly, this holy place, and secondly, to guide a person, as they understand it, on the path to God. They understand the path to God in such a way that, among other things, this includes women in long robes, etc., and men without headgear in the temple. They believe that these traditions in clothing, which have developed over centuries, are also divine, because a religious person is inclined to deify, to sanctify everything that is connected with religion - this is the psychology of a person. This is present in absolutely any religion in one form or another.

What to do if you encounter such an attitude, and you are driven out of the church if you are not dressed properly? Firstly, the word "driven out" itself. In what form does this happen? Directly driven out or dragged out into the street? If a person behaves correctly, respectfully towards the church, no matter how he is dressed, it is hard for me to imagine this. I understand that inadequate people can be found everywhere, but in no case can the church itself, the temple itself, be blamed for this.

In any case, if you come to an Orthodox church, you will ask in advance at the entrance, if you yourself do not know the rules of visiting, so as not to confuse the believers, not to irritate them, even to get angry - after all, all people are different, they will also sin in this - familiarize yourself with the information.

You now have a lot of literature on the topic of Orthodoxy, you can get information by requesting your technical devices, you call it the Internet. Find out on the Internet how a person, a man or a woman, who comes to church should look. Indeed, if you come there in a form that does not correspond to the idea of the majority of these people, you will involuntarily irritate them, anger them, negative emotions, i.e. they will lower their vibrations. They came there to pray, and a share of responsibility for this will also be on you, because you did not foresee this situation.

When you go to a society where a certain dress code exists: to your work, to a financial institution, you do not dress in a way that everyone will pay attention to you, that you will be judged. Roughly speaking, you would not go to a store or a bank in what you wear to the beach to swim. Of course, you can go, but then be prepared to tolerate such an attitude towards yourself that not everyone will understand you. This will already be your choice, and you will accept the consequences for this choice, therefore, if you have familiarized yourself with the information on how to behave in the temple, how to dress, it is better, of course, to adhere to this. You have come, you are not alone there, there are people around you who may be embarrassed by your appearance.

Now about the money, that there is nothing to buy. The thing is that the Orthodox tradition does not require such large expenditures on clothing. All that a woman needs to wear is a long, covering the legs below the knees and covering the elbows outerwear, which exists in your country, and a headdress. These women have money for other clothes. She is quite capable of buying at least one set of clothes for visiting the temple, if she is interested in going there. The same with men, their dress code is simple: arms must be covered up to the elbows, legs must be covered, and you cannot come in what you call shorts, even in the summer. These are simply rules of decency in a religious place.

Eschatology of Aliens. Irina Podzorova

For the Daralians, the Universe will never cease to exist. Matter, having a beginning, cannot be completely destroyed: God did not create the world in order to destroy it.

Some stars die - new ones are born, some planets are destroyed - new ones are created, etc.

The end of the world, according to their concepts, can be caused by the actions of one or another civilization, if other space civilizations do not manage to save it.

The Eslerites believe in cosmic cycles that replace each other in a certain order. There are seven of these cycles in total, and they last for about three thousand of our years.

The cycle countdown began with the incarnation of the first intelligent Spirit in the material world. According to the Eslerians, this did not happen in our Galaxy.

In the first cycle, most Spirits were devoted to God, their Creator, and loved Him, but in the process of incarnation, some of them began to do evil, taking advantage of their freedom of choice.

With each cycle, the number of embodied evil spirits increased: they were given the opportunity to correct themselves until the end of the seventh cycle.

Each cosmic civilization has its own rhythm of cycles, which does not coincide with the cycles of other civilizations.

If by the end of the seventh cycle there are more embodied evil spirits than good ones, the destruction of the planet/planets where they live occurs, by their own hands, the evil Spirits are sent to the planets going through the sixth cycle, and the good ones - to the planets going through the first cycle.

And if at the end of the seventh cycle a civilization has more embodied good Spirits than evil ones, the destruction of the planet does not occur: the first cycle begins anew.

The Earth is now somewhere at the end of the sixth cycle.

#570 Spirits of nature - who are they? Plasmoids - subtle-material worlds? Creation of matter. Birth of a star.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3Gz8Jzws_-I

00:00 Start of video.

00:18 Conference fragments.

"...I want to tell you that plasmoids often contact people, because people are Spirits embodied in a body, who often continue communication started in past lives, or attract plasmoids from space with certain qualities of character, vibrations, aspirations and even interests. And it sometimes happens that this contact is incomprehensible to a person from the outside, strange, and the person begins to be considered inadequate to the reality in which he is. This is, indeed, a problem, and we are working to ensure that plasmoids and humanoids understand each other better and adapt to each other better..."

01:43 Introduction of participants. Conference topic.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with plasmoid civilizations and with the Spiritual world. And today, representatives of plasmoid civilizations are present with us. Erwin is a plasmoid of the 37th density level, and he lives inside a star called Betelgeuse, this star is located in the constellation Orion.

Elena: Alpha Betelgeuse.

Irina: Yes. At the 37th level of density, as I already said. Also present here is a representative of the earthly plasmoids - the Spirit of the area, the Spirit of our settlement where we live. I invited him to come today. His name, as I perceive him, is Baalber, he is from the 16th level of density, and he is the Guardian of the area and belongs to the group of earthly plasmoids, that is, those plasmoids who live with us on the same planet.

Elena: I greet the wonderful Spirits of such different clusters, but without whom it will be difficult for us to build our other worlds and learn much about them.

Irina: Introduce yourself and tell us about the topic of the conference.

Elena: My name is Elena. And the topic of our conference is dedicated to subtle-material plasmoid worlds, Spirits of intergalactic spaces, Galactic nuclei, chromosphere, star nuclei, star clusters, nebulae, magnetospheres of planets, interplanetary spaces of our Universe. This is how we tried to unite various clusters, which include Spirits of various levels of subtle-material plasmoid worlds.

Thanks to the contactees of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, we learned that plasmoids, or Spirits of the subtle-material worlds, occupy a niche of the 4th dimension in the universe and are located between the etheric plane, which is connected to our three-dimensional dense-material world, and the Veil of the Astral, behind which is located the zone of various levels of the astral world. The range of vibrations of the subtle-material worlds, or more precisely - 56 levels of these worlds, fluctuates from hundreds of thousands to several million terahertz.

Irina: Yes.

04:24 Clusters of plasmoid worlds and their tasks.

Elena: Therefore, a question to the respected representatives of the subtle-material worlds (perhaps Erwin will be the first to answer this question): what is the main task, or mission, entrusted by the Creator to billions of civilizations of various Spirits of these worlds in the structure of the universe?

Irina: Erwin answers.

(Erwin) I greet everyone in the Spirit of Light of our Creator!

The tasks of all levels of density of worlds are different. But the fact is that many civilizations can exist on one level of density. This is the first. The second is that the existing material existential reality, that is, the manifestation of being God in material reality is such that the existing 59 levels of density are grouped into so-called clusters.

Each cluster contains three density levels, excluding the last cluster, which includes two density levels - 59th and 58th. All the rest are grouped into clusters, and one cluster constitutes a relatively homogeneous space in which Spirits are embodied, which carry with them the characteristics of one or another density. But the point here is that I am embodied on the 37th density level, I am aware of myself as embodied on the 37th density level, but in my cluster these are also neighboring levels - 36th and 35th.

As for the tasks. The tasks are very diverse. Each type of plasmoid has its own tasks in this Universe, and besides, each Spirit who has incarnated into a subtle body also has its own individual tasks that it solves when it comes to this world. And I can only say that there are groups of plasmoid civilizations that, for example, are responsible for collecting the structures of space and matter into denser structures, right up to the physical world.

07:51 Tasks and mission of plasmoid worlds in the universe.

Elena: Maybe I asked a more global question, but the conversation was only about the mission of the Spirits of the subtle worlds in general. In practice, they fulfill Divine laws, and they are entrusted with some mission within the framework of the universe, despite the huge number of their civilizations.

Irina (Erwin): There is creation, gathering of denser worlds, there is management of dense worlds up to creation of planets, stars, galaxies and creation of conditions for life. That is, if there is some planet with suitable conditions for life of an organic type, then organic types of bodies with Souls are created. This is the so-called creation of plant, animal Souls and Souls of microorganisms - they are needed to begin evolution in this world for the gradual creation of a being in the dense physical world, in which an intelligent Spirit can incarnate. This was also one of the missions of many earthly plasmoids at that time of Earth, when there was no intelligent human life here.

Also, if we look at space globally, this is the movement of planets, the establishment of orbits, the harmonization of different movements of different celestial bodies with each other, etc. And also the creation of certain molecular structures. And also helping Spirits who come to incarnate at different levels of density, to make a special energy framework for connecting with the energy reality of their world. For example, on Earth, when a Spirit incarnates into a human body, it is helped by plasmoids, which...

Elena: They create an etheric matrix.

Irina (Erwin): Yes, they create an etheric matrix and special frameworks for connecting with the planet's biosphere - namely with the earth, water, air, fire.

Elena: Thank you. Excellent answer, it is very complete and gives an idea of what global tasks are assigned to the subtle worlds.

Irina (Ervin): Only this is on planets. And there are also tasks of creating an information matrix of the future Galaxy, star or planet. Because each object in the Universe has a creator or a group of creators who are working on this project. I have just said something that you can understand. For example, your Sun is also an object, it is also a project on which various civilizations of the plasmoid type have worked and continue to work.

If a star lights up in some place in space, it is not just like that, but because in that place in space, at more subtle levels of density, many atoms have already been collected that will enter this star, and a certain level of pressure, temperature causes the release of thermonuclear energy from these atoms and, accordingly, part of it is processed back, sending it to the subtle world - in order to have energy for its life activity. And the greater part is radiated into space, into outer space - in order to fill other spaces with this Light, these photons, electrons, etc., and provide material for the birth of planets.

Elena: Even what I heard, if it is transposed to the levels of galaxies, clusters, nebulae and so on, are grandiose tasks!

Irina (Erwin): Yes, the tasks range from building galaxies and clusters of galaxies to creating the Souls of each bug.

Elena: And the spider. Okay, thank you, Erwin.

12:31 The timing of the incarnation of plasmoids.

Elena: Next question. I would like to ask, how long do the respected representatives of the plasmoid civilizations live, and is this connected with the terms and cycles of existence of the planets, stars, galaxies, clusters themselves? Or is this completely unconnected, and you have your own plans for life?

Irina (Ervin): The lifespan of subtle bodies is different, but it is longer than the lifespan of physical bodies, since those types of matter that enter subtle bodies are less subject to entropy, destruction, the transition of some types of matter, which you call substances and we call energies, into other types. And accordingly, the lifespan at each density level can vary from several thousand Earth years to several hundred million Earth years.

Elena: Since the respected Erwin is connected with the remarkable star Betelgeuse Orion, is it possible to find out what his age is today, if it can be conveyed in earthly measures?

Irina (Erwin): My current age, if we take one revolution of the Earth around the Sun in one year, would be (shows a number) – 132,971 years.

Elena: Yes, a wonderful age.

Irina: (laughs) It even became funny.

(Erwin) I would like to say that getting into a subtle body does not mean at all that the Spirit will exist for exactly that long until it is destroyed. When the Spirit has completed its task, it can at any moment contact its Angel-consultants and leave the incarnation, leaving its subtle body to be decomposed by other plasmoids.

Elena: The law of conservation of energy is right there!

14:43 Plasmoids of the parasitic type.

Elena: Okay, dear Erwin, please tell me, does such a concept as "destructive worlds" exist in your worlds - by analogy with the lower worlds of the Astral or the world of non-embodied Spirits. I called them conditionally - "destructive", maybe minus?

Irina (Erwin): Yes, we know what you call "destructive plasmoid civilizations." We call them "parasitic type civilizations," that is, those that have closed in on their ego, stopped fulfilling their life task, and lost contact with the power source that is open at each density level for the type of bodies that live there.

And when the plasmoid itself blocks its path to this source, it begins to incorrectly perceive the Divine energies that feed its subtle body, and begins to seek nourishment from negative energies, that is, from destructive programs, from destructive emotions, desires, etc. of those Spirits that are embodied in a denser world. But, of course, this applies most of all to the physical world, because the more densely the matter is grouped, the more powerful the vital energy that comes out, radiates from it.

Elena: I see.

16:21 The number of density levels in material space.

Elena: Now I would like to ask you about the following, dear Erwin. The Interstellar Union classification lists clusters of Spirits of the subtle worlds, and they have a slight discrepancy with what you voiced at the beginning of our conference. At least, the question is not even how many levels a particular cluster of Spirits, elements of nature, star clusters and nebulae or galactic nuclei contains, but the question is whether the levels in these clusters differ depending on the type of planets, stars, galaxies, nebulae? Or is the number of these levels always constant, unchangeable and standard?

Irina (Ervin): I want to say that in any material space where something is, some material filling, all 59 levels of density are always present. But not necessarily some, for example, plasmoid civilizations are present there, because they are also grouped by their worlds. But the levels of density are everywhere.

Elena: I see. We would say: the GOST version, according to GOST - 59, please, will always be there.

Irina (Erwin): Right now you are in a room, the room itself has 59 levels of density. And besides, all 59 levels of density are penetrated by the Light of the astral world, which leads further - to the world of non-embodied Spirits, and further - to the world of the presence of the Absolute Divine reality.

Elena: That's good.

18:08 Plasmoid civilizations and clusters of planet Earth.

Elena: Erwin, please tell me, if it’s not too much trouble, what are the main clusters of plasmoids of the planetary level that are represented in the subtle-material planes of our Gaia, or Demeter?

Irina (Ervin): You don't have words that can be used to translate the names of the clusters. You can simply take some earthly words by analogy.

Elena: For example, if you allow me, maybe you could just add to me or clarify something else from what I said. Simply at those conferences that I was able to watch, so as not to repeat myself, one of Irina's curators said that Gaia contains a cluster of Spirits of the four elements, a cluster of Spirits of the creation of collective Souls of the biosphere of our planet, which includes animals, plants, minerals. And they also talked about the Spirits of nature, which include elementals and genies. Did I correctly grasp the meaning of what was said?

Irina (Erwin): We can say that there are certain clusters in which the Elemental Spirits live - this is from the 4th to the 8th level of density. Then - from the 9th to the 16th, we will divide it like this, there are certain Spirits of various places of nature. And then you need to add eight (shows the chain).

Further, after the Spirits of natural places come the Spirits, plasmoid civilizations, which I would call the plasmoids of Akasha. That is, this is the creation of information matrices of types of space, types of interaction - everything that is connected with digital interactions of energies between themselves. They just like to express themselves in numbers, these are the so-called digital civilizations.

And then there are plasmoids, which create Souls of different types of plants, microorganisms, animals. Then there is another cluster, which consists of plasmoids, which, one might say, observe all the others and teach them, it is as you call it - the Teacher system, only it is plasmoid.

Elena: This is interesting: you also have advanced training courses.

21:20 Activity of planetary, stellar, galactic plasmoids.

Irina (Erwin): These are plasmoids that, for example, control everything that happens in a particular sector of the Galaxy, in a particular star system, or in a particular sector of space, including a planet.

There are also further space clusters that are responsible for the energy exchange of different density levels between themselves: they establish lines of interaction, portals so that energy - what you call subtle-material energy, it can also be called etheric energy, but this is not the ether that separates the material world from the plasmoid, but a special type of ether, because there are also many types of ethers, and in these etheric worlds, interaction between different density levels is necessary. This is done by special, you would call, "communicators".

Elena: Oh, great!

Irina (Erwin): And there are also clusters that are responsible for safety when interacting with different levels of density. That is, if, in your opinion, to translate, there are clusters that are responsible, for example, for observing the laws of contacts, for protecting spaces from negative influence.

23:07 About the Guardians of the Order of the Mages of the Ice Fire.

Irina (Erwin): For example, I belong to the community of plasmoids called the Guardians of the Ice Fire Mages.

Elena: Once again: magicians?

Irina: Guardians of the Order of the Ice Fire Mages. How do you like that?

Elena: Ice and fire... It's somehow difficult to combine all this, but, probably, since Erwin says...

Irina (Erwin): You know, there is a type of fire that kind of causes a feeling of cold?

Elena: I don’t think I remember.

Irina (Erwin): Or there is a type of frost that causes burns.

Elena: For us, we only use carbon ice, which causes a burn, for ice cream.

Irina (Erwin): This is a type of fire, but not the same fire element to which, for example, salamanders belong, but there is also a special type of fire - one could say, the Higher Ethereal Fire, and it is a prototype or prefiguration of the element of fire.

Elena: Is this a special type of plasma?

Irina (Ervin): This is a special kind of etheric energy. There is etheric energy, for example, Kundalini, and there is etheric energy of Ojas.

And this is even higher - like Agni, approximately.

Again, I can only speak in earthly words here, because each element that is located from the 4th to the 9th cluster has prototypes in more subtle worlds, and these prototypes are also included in certain clusters.

(Irina) He is now showing me a table or information that needs to be clearly structured according to a table.

Elena: Okay, then we won't go into details because we don't have much time. I thank Erwin, and if he allows, Irina, we'll go further.

Irina (Erwin): Yes, but the thing is that it is best to take names for these clusters from an earthly language, for example, Sanskrit, because there are terms there that reflect the energy processes in the Universe.

Elena: In the on-air conference we touched on this point a little, that Sanskrit is very convenient for naming some types of energies that we cannot voice in ordinary language. Well, shall we go further?

Irina: Yes.

26:15 Time of creation of the etheric matrices of a person, a humanoid.

Elena: Next, we would like to clarify with the help of our respected space guests, how much time on average, by earthly standards, does it take plasmoids to create the etheric matrix of a humanoid? Is this time always the same for any humanoid and earthling or not?

Irina (Erwin): For an earthling?

Elena: For an earthling or for any humanoid, is it always the same time?

Irina (Erwin): No, for each humanoid this is a different time, because they have a different, for example, number of chakras - large active energy centers, and also a different number of energy points that are located at the intersection of energy etheric channels.

Elena: That is, there is a different number of etheric levels, and therefore the time of creation of the etheric matrix for any humanoids will be different?

Irina (Erwin): Yes. Baalber would probably tell you more about this - he studied more earthly types, the creation of etheric matrices for earthlings.

27:31 The structure of the etheric matrices of the human body.

Elena: If possible, Baalber, very briefly! And at the same time, please tell us: we, clarifying questions related to etheric fields, found out that in the matrix of an earthling there are two types of fields - etheric-pranic and etheric-lepton, but they rotate clockwise or counterclockwise. What is this connected with?

Irina (Baalber): In general, we distinguish 10 types of fields.

Elena: Yes, we know about the 10 types, but within these ten types there are pranic fields and lepton fields, and for some reason they are so dual: one field rotates clockwise, and the other counterclockwise - right-handed and left-handed. What is this connected with?

Irina (Baalber): This is related to the need to maintain balance in vector rotating systems.

Elena: Earthling?

Irina (Baalber): In general, in vector rotating systems that create etheric matrices of internal organs for further filling these matrices with organic forms of matter.

Elena: The explanation seems simple, but in order to understand that our organs are rotating objects...

Irina (Baalber): Not the organs themselves, but the etheric matrices, and not even the matrices, but the energies that enter them - they are formed there like from cubes (shows).

Elena: In order for everything there to develop harmoniously, it is necessary for the energies to rotate both clockwise and counterclockwise, within the framework of that lepton or pranic level - so that an earthling...

Irina (Baalber): Yes, but since this rotation does not occur on a plane, but is present in a three-dimensional space, it rotates in different directions of this three-dimensional space.

Elena: It's still a bit difficult for us, but maybe those who are approaching the study of some things related to etheric energies, if we have such...

Irina (Baalber): Look, now, when you say "clockwise" and "counterclockwise", do you imagine the dial of a watch?

Elena: Roughly speaking, yes, a flat version.

Irina (Baalber): And the clock face is a flat image. Now imagine that it is a ball. And if we imagine the surface of a ball or sphere, we will see that it is possible to make opposite rotating contours in different planes.

Elena: Yes, I understand that it is possible. This multi-level, absolutely incredible type of rotation ball, in which one plane rotates in one direction, another in another, and so on, and so forth. Well, this is for the harmonization of everything that is embedded in our etheric matrix: it is necessary to have these...

Irina (Baalber): Yes, because each of your cells, each of your organs and the entire system as a whole, which you call "the organism", requires vital energy to connect the Soul with the body. It takes about 40-42 days to create the etheric matrices of all the organs of the human body, including the brain.

Elena: Forty, forty-two days? I see, this is the time needed to create a full-fledged etheric matrix with all the nuances that we have just discussed, so that the earthly humanoid could further develop and improve, and create.

Irina (Baalber): This begins after conception.

Elena: We've already discussed this before, I just don't want to duplicate what we've already discussed about the etheric fields. Now, if you'll allow me, can we move on?

Irina: Yes.

32:12 Attachment and detachment of the “silver thread of life” by the Guide Angels.

Elena: Please tell me, dear representatives of the subtle-material worlds, which level of Spirits out of ten are involved in connecting or disconnecting our etheric-pranic “silver thread” at the moment of a humanoid’s arrival or departure?

Irina (Baalber): By joining the Soul to the etheric field?

Elena: Yes, by connection and disconnection. Here the Spirit came - it was connected, here it left - it was disconnected. Who is engaged in this "silver thread", Spirits of what level, who specifically from the ten levels of the etheric plane known to us is involved in this work?

Irina (Baalber): Both are handled by the Guide Angels.

Elena: Yes?

Irina (Baalber): They bring the Soul to incarnation and help to connect, that is, this “silver thread” is formed at conception with the first cell of the body.

Elena: I never thought that Guardian Angels deal with this issue; for some reason I decided that this is the lot of representatives of the subtle worlds.

Irina (Baalber): These are not guardians, these are guides. They are called "guides between worlds", that is, between the Spiritual and the material. And the "silver thread" is formed from a part of the ethereal matrix of the Soul, and plus a special silvery (shows why it is called - "silver thread") energy of the impulse of existence is given. The impulse of existence is given only by the Angelic world.

Elena: I see. Okay, thank you!

Irina (Baalber): And when leaving the incarnation, in order for this thread to break, it is also necessary to interrupt it only by the influence of the Angel-guide. He takes from this thread this energy of the impulse of existence, which is also called in different teachings - "the impulse to launch the event series of the material plane."

Elena: Sounds beautiful!

35:03 Splitting of the etheric matrix of earthlings by plasmoids after disembodiment.

Elena: Please tell me, authorized representatives of the subtle-material worlds of the Earth, and the Spirits of what level are engaged in the 40 days of the complete splitting of the matrix of the etheric body of that earthling who has completed his incarnation? Is the splitting carried out by representatives of the subtle-material worlds?

Irina (Baalber): As I already said, plasmoids are engaged in splitting. If we are talking about Earth, this is mainly done by plasmoid civilizations from the 4th to the 12th density level.

Elena: I see. It's like a collective mind.

Irina (Baalber): There, depending on the type of ether embedded in the etheric matrices, they utilize it, that is, direct it to another type of activity, plasmoids, to whose world the given energy is closest in vibrations.

Elena: Good. And in that case, the Spirits from the 4th to the 12th level have done their work, and then where does the spent etheric matter return according to the law of conservation of energy?

Irina (Baalber): For the needs of the planet's biosphere, where the Spirit was previously embodied, where this etheric matrix was taken from. For the needs of the planet's biosphere - this means that this energy is directed to the creation of the Souls of plants, animals, insects, to the creation of their etheric matrices, and is partially directed to the creation and maintenance of atomic structures.

Elena: So this is a completely waste-free technology?

Irina (Baalber): Imagine: each quantum of energy consists of many... For example, the quantum of gravity is a fairly complex structure. One graviton of one type of macrogravity consists of 9 types of energy, and another - of 9 types of energy. And it doesn't even consist, but so much was involved in its creation, invested in it.

Elena: I see, it's not that simple. For example, I am amazed by the very fact that even the issues of utilization of etheric matter are solved so brilliantly that they are used further to create new creatures of the planet's biosphere. This is very cool.

Can I continue asking questions?

Irina: Yes.

38:19 About portals to plasmoid worlds.

Elena: How many etheric portals does the Soul of a humanoid cross at the moment of transition from the dense world to the Astral? We have a version from sources that the Soul meets three Guardians of the Threshold, who are on the ether-torsion, ether-pranic levels and further on at the level of the Veil of the Astral. Is this true, or is this an incorrect version?

Irina (Baalber): The Soul goes straight to the Astral. Since it has an astral body, it immediately takes it to the astral world, which permeates all levels of density. In order for the Soul to start traveling from the astral world, using its ethereal shell, through the plasmoid worlds, it needs to go through portals.

Elena: That is only if she wants to, and if she is allowed to do it?

Irina (Baalber): Yes, portals are made specifically for traveling through different levels of density through the Astral. And they are also made in dense-material space, for example, in houses, above houses, and so on, when some frequent interaction with the dense world is needed. They are built in the Astral, but lead to the plasmoid world.

Elena: Are there any passages?

Irina (Baalber): Yes, you can get there. And not only the Soul that has left incarnation, but also the Soul that is in an astral journey can get into these portals, if it wishes and if it has received permission, an invitation (that's what we call it) from those who built this portal. When the Soul enters this portal, they already feel it and scan it, and either the portal closes or it is let through.

Elena: That is, if it is possible to pass this control vibrationally, then the Soul can travel. Understood.

40:34 Types and features of astral travel.

Irina (Baalber): Yes, it can travel and go out into the plasmoid world. Moreover, there are different types of astral travel. There is a type of astral travel, when the Soul itself with its energy or the energy of the surrounding space creates a mini, very mini portal, which itself will throw it into one or another plasmoid world. It will be small and will exist for a very short time.

Elena: Does any Soul have such an opportunity, or one that is interested in studying plasmoid worlds and, perhaps, is preparing to incarnate there?

Irina (Baalber): In general, there is a possibility, but I would say that you need to learn this. There are methods for creating certain thought forms and activating this portal by your own willpower. There are such methods.

Elena: It turns out that in the astral world one can undergo some preparation and then travel through some plasmoid worlds that are of interest for a future incarnation.

Irina (Baalber): Because not everywhere there are portals to the world that you need to visit. Therefore, you can create your own, if you clearly know what world you need, have already received permission from the inhabitants of this world, and with their help or independently, when leaving the body, you can build a portal. It will exist at this point in space where you create it, astral in this case, and will annihilate, that is, disintegrate after you move to a plasmoid world of one or another density level. And in order to return to your body through the Astral, you need to create this portal there again.

Elena: It's not easy either. Well, okay, there is an opportunity, that's great!

Irina (Baalber): It’s just the same skill, for example (I’ll give you an analogy now), like cutting out a door and stepping somewhere there.

Elena: A little mysterious.

Irina (Baalber): Well, not to cut out a door, but to create such an image.

Elena: The image is clear.

Irina (Baalber): And at the same time you need to imagine (you are not just creating an image of some door, you are creating an installation where it should transfer you and you are endowing it with your life force) - to what level of density, to what world, because in one level of density there can be many worlds.

For example, you want to see the 19th density level of the Moon. You simply move to the 19th density level in your own room where you are, in this astral space using a portal, and go to the Moon in this same density level. You can do it this way. Or, being already in the space above the Moon, you can move to its 19th density level. I just gave one example.

Elena: I see, good.

44:07 The ratio of embodied Spirits of different densities on Earth.

Elena: Next there will be a question of a statistical nature. I don't even know, to be honest, who to ask - Baalber or Erwin? Maybe both are in the know? Please tell me, do the Angels-consultants have some statistical bases, speaking in earthly language, about the number of incarnated Souls that are in the material and plasmoid worlds? Is the parity of incarnation observed or is it always different?

Irina: Yes, the parity of incarnation is observed, for example, for the Earth, the entire number of Spirits that are incarnated in one time, in one generation at different levels of density is listed. Baalber says: "For the Earth, this percentage is as follows: 2.8% of all Spirits incarnated on the Earth are incarnated on the physical plane."

Elena: Good. And I asked about parity between those who are embodied and those who are in the plasmoid worlds, because we incarnate in both. So, here we can put an equal sign: what percentage is embodied in the material world - the same amount is embodied in the plasmoid?

Irina (Baalber): There are more in the plasmoid, because there are more density levels there.

Elena: So, there is no parity as such, or am I wrong?

Irina (Baalber): Parity is observed in that at each density level approximately the same number of Spirits for a given planet are embodied. But this is not always observed, however, because it also depends on the needs of the planet - depending on which plasmoids it needs more.

Elena: Then the answer will be: not always, but depending on the planetary, galactic or some other situation.

46:10 The ratio of embodied and non-embodied Spirits in our Galaxy.

Elena: Then the next question. Does parity exist between incarnate and non-incarnate Spirits or is it also dependent on the situation?

Irina: Erwin speaking.

(Erwin) It is known that now, if we take our Galaxy, approximately a quarter of all Spirits who are waiting for their turn to incarnate here are incarnated at all levels of density.

Elena: It is clear, in general, quite a lot of Spirits are still thinking about their next incarnation.

Irina (Erwin): This includes those Spirits that have already been embodied, these are simply those that are in the Spiritual World.

Elena: I understand. The filter is very serious.

Irina (Erwin): And again, this takes into account all levels of density.

Elena: Yes, I understand.

47:09 Meeting place of plasmoids and humanoids in the Astral.

Elena: And on what levels of the Astral do representatives of various densities of the Galactic Federation of Light of the plasmoid and humanoid type communicate? Where do they communicate, for example, Erwin, when he needs to communicate with representatives of Futissa?

Irina (Erwin): We meet in the Astral.

Elena: Yes, in the Astral. And on what floors do you mostly meet?

Irina (Erwin): It depends on where we are, because the number of floors is different on each planet. On Earth it would be the sixth or seventh floor.

Elena: Yes? That's interesting. Sixth-seventh. Is it always like that, no matter what level the representative is?

Irina (Erwin): We are comfortable here. We can be on lower floors, but we are comfortable here.

Elena: Got it. Energy-information exchange. Excellent.

48:08 Language of communication in the Astral.

Elena: Now I would like to clarify what language of communication is accepted in the Astral between civilizations?

Irina (Ervin): Telepathy, thoughts, thought forms, because each plasmoid civilization has its own type of language, interaction during communication, and so on. Because each subtle body is structured in its own way, it can, for example, emit its own types of signals accepted in one world or another, and receive them too, but those that will already be at a different level of density, they will not perceive.

Elena: Understandable, that is telepathic language, language of thoughtforms?

Irina: Yes.

Elena: Good.

49:00 Capitals of plasmoid worlds and unions.

Elena: And now, if we turn to your capital of the Galactic Federation of Light on the planet Futissa, does such a concept as united information resources in the form of some kind of galactic computer light network across various highly intelligent plasmoid civilizations of planets and stars exist?

Irina (Erwin): Futissa is the capital of the Galactic Federation of Light, and there is also the capital of the Light Network of the Galaxy or some sector of the Galaxy. The capital of the Light Network of the Galaxy means all plasmoid worlds, embodied, for example, in stars, and this is located in the center, in the core of the Galaxy.

Elena: Betelgeuse is not the capital?

Irina (Erwin): No.

Elena: What is the capital of the Light network in our arm of the Galaxy in that case?

Irina (Erwin): In your sector of the Galaxy there is the star Deneb, and the capital of your sector of the Galaxy is located there.

Elena: How interesting! Deneb is the alpha of which constellation?

Irina: Swan.

Elena: I see. Swan - so it's something close to Burkhad?

Irina: Yes, there is such a thing.

Elena: The star Deneb and its core, and there is the capital of the Light network.

Irina (Erwin): There are two factions in the Galactic Federation of Light: humanoid and plasmoid. The humanoid faction has its capital in Futissa, and the plasmoid faction has its own capital, and it is located right in the center of the main star of the Pleiades - Alcyone.

Elena: I really like Alcyone! That means the capital of the light civilizations is there...

Irina: Galactic Federation of Light.

Elena: Galactic Federation of Light, but subtle worlds.

Irina: Yes, factions of subtle worlds.

Elena: Alcyone. How many interesting things!

51:30 Intergalactic connections of plasmoid civilizations. The system of systems TAANA OM-AR-IS.

Elena: Then we move along the line of intergalactic connections. Since the respected representatives of the subtle worlds have no barriers in terms of movement, they apparently don’t really need ships either?

Irina (Erwin): Yes, ships are not needed. We can create them with the power of thought, but for me, for example, I don't need it, for me it's just a waste of energy.

Elena: Erwin, please tell me, are you aware of such a system, which is called "The System of Systems TAANA OM-AR-ISA"? This is the so-called intelligent plasma-matter of the Universes of various intergalactic systems of multi-level order, it includes 617 galaxies, as I understand it, of the plasma type, Ashtar Sheran said about this. Is this so?

Irina (Erwin): Yes, such a system exists, and it is an intergalactic system, we just call it something different, but I understand.

Elena: Since you are representatives not of dense-material worlds, which this does not concern, but of plasmoid ones, are you a member of this system? If so, can you give some examples of the direction of cooperation within this system that are understandable to earthlings?

Irina (Ervin): Yes, our system is part of the unification of these galaxies, this, as you said, TAANA OM-AR-IS. And its goal of activity is intergalactic interactions, that is, determining the distances, rotation, types of rotation and trajectories of movement of different galaxies in harmony with each other, as well as the creation of information systems reflecting the work of all plasmoid civilizations in each Galaxy.

Elena: Wow! Is this some kind of super-informational, I don't even know how to say it, a light computer or some other unimaginable system?

Irina: Computer system. (laughs)

Elena: Probably computer-based, but not in our understanding, but in yours, that is, it is some kind of unique system built on different principles?

Irina (Erwin): This is exactly what you can understand. You can understand that each object can be described in words, numbers, and this information can be put into some data package?

Elena: It turns out that this is a super-powerful intergalactic information-light environment, which contains information about each galaxy?

Irina (Erwin): Information and also the ability to change these information matrices with the ability to transfer this change to material environments.

Elena: The etheric matrix of the galaxy is, of course, difficult to imagine!

Irina: It is already difficult to imagine even the etheric matrix of the body's organs. (laughs)

Elena: And what can we say about the galaxy?

55:12 Divinity of matter.

Elena: I have almost the last question. What is it connected with? Raom Tiyan, a representative of Burkhad (Interstellar Union, dense-material worlds), at one of the conferences on etheric fields informed us, earthlings, that approximately 99% of the matter of the Universe is plasma of Spiritual Light. Then the question is this. Is there a fundamental difference, from the point of view of representatives of the subtle-material worlds, in the concepts of plasma of the subtle-material worlds and plasma of the Divine worlds, because we call you Spirits and plasmoids at the same time? We assume that there is probably a difference, after all.

Irina (Erwin): These energies can be called differently. It has already been said how many material energies exist from the point of view of the Interstellar Union, and I know this terminology. We use a slightly different one, but if we use what you are accustomed to, then from these 6048 types of plasmoid worlds, you can give any name to each energy, and all of them will be Divine in any case. I hope this is clear.

56:33 About the contacts of people with plasmoids.

Irina (Ervin): I want to tell you that plasmoids often contact people because people are Spirits incarnated in a body, who often continue communication that began in past lives, or attract plasmoids from space with certain character traits, vibrations, aspirations and even interests. And it sometimes happens that this contact is incomprehensible to a person from the outside, strange, and the person begins to be considered inadequate to the reality in which he is. This is, indeed, a problem, and we are working to ensure that plasmoids and humanoids understand each other better and adapt to each other better.

Elena: It's good that such interaction is happening.

Irina (Erwin): The thing is that a person who has come into contact with plasmoids, for example, digital or, as you call them for some reason, technogenic civilizations (because you associate numbers with technology, with computers, for example)...

Elena: Yes, that's our cliché.

Irina (Ervin): Yes, you have such an understanding. It happens that a person who has entered into this contact has certain thoughts, because the contact is in a mental, thoughtful form. This person has certain thoughts, for example, to walk down the street (shows an image) and look at all the numbers of cars that he meets, and add them together or calculate something from them, do arithmetic operations. Tell me, is this a meaningless action for your world?

Elena: I agree.

Irina (Erwin): And to contact these plasmoids, a person thus transmits information in digital form about the reality that surrounds him.

Elena: Yes, everything depends on the point of view and on the task that is set before a particular contactee.

Irina: (laughs) Can you imagine: he walks around and counts everything!

Elena: Yes. So it turns out that the concept of plasma of the Divine worlds and plasma of the subtle-material worlds are identical - both have plasma.

Irina (Erwin): And it often happens that the plasmoid that is engaged, for example, in the creation of space and material structures of various galaxies, since it is an intelligent Spirit, it can also contact a person through the Astral and can show him various images and endow him with energy. It will charge him with its energy, which will reflect his feelings that he can create galaxies, and then this person can say that he is omnipotent, that he is God, and so on.

Elena: Yes, I think that on the earthly level they will quickly find him and “help him.”

Irina: (laughs) Can you imagine, he’s like: “I’m God!”

Elena: Actually, this is probably the right attitude, but if he keeps saying that he is creating galaxies, it will probably be difficult for those around him to understand him.

Irina (Erwin): And imagine how a person feels who feels like a creator of galaxies!

Elena: It’s hard to say how he feels, because you have to become like that, try to imagine it.

Irina (Erwin): This can lead to complete disidentification with the physical body and with the physical life of this person.

Elena: That’s what I’m saying, they’ll ask him to go to a certain institution and leave him there for some time so he can come to his senses.

Irina: (laughs)

Elena: Okay, Erwin and his planetary level colleague Baalber, I would like to ask you, most likely Erwin, if he knows anything about the 21st Galaxy, since its representatives have been working on Earth for 18 years on environmental issues?

Irina: What does 21st mean? We need a more precise name.

Elena: It seems to be located in the constellation Pisces.

Irina (Erwin): I have not worked with extragalactic plasmoids.

Elena: Okay, then the question is removed. And then follows my enormous gratitude for the fact that the respected Baalber and Erwin honored us with their presence! I thank Irina for doing an excellent job and conveying such complex information to us! Especially since they were representatives of different levels, and they successfully explained many questions that we will have to further understand and think about them deeply. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

Irina: Thank you! It was also very interesting. Erwin, Baalber, thank you! Thank you Elena for interesting questions! Thank you, dear friends, for watching this video, I hope you found it interesting. Thank you for everything, see you soon!

Scenarios of the development of religions. Why do Spirits need to go through the horrors of war, epidemics, devastation?

Tell me, please, did you see in the Timeline in the Spiritual World the scenarios of the development of all three religions, that they will oppose each other, that they will wage wars, that this will lead to discord. Was such a scenario known?

Of course it was known. But the whole point is that the polytheistic religions that existed before these religions were created did not reduce discord.

I have already said that there were many groups of people in different tribes who competed with each other for the influence of one or another God, and this could easily develop into a war if only one follower of one God insulted a follower of another. Insult was more a feeling of the one who was insulted, if in his understanding justice was violated.

All this happened because of the lack of awareness of people as spiritual beings. They did not recognize themselves as immortal Spirits, parts of God. And they did not recognize their neighbor, a representative of another people. They could recognize a representative of their people as their brother, but they did not recognize a stranger.

There were such unconscious things on Earth and this is the period that many civilizations go through.

Why does this happen? In order to understand that on any planet it is better to build peace, tolerance, respect for any life, many Spirits need to go through the horror of wars, destruction, epidemics, hunger, in order to understand how terrible it is, and to reach out to the Light.

Christianity. The reason for the emergence of Islam in the Arabian Peninsula.

Based on the experience of the polytheistic religions that you just listed, why was it not decided to spread one monotheistic religion, perhaps taking into account the peculiarities of the climate, the peculiarities of the people, but to carry one idea and one principles.

This was done in the case of Christianity. I told my disciples to bring all nations to me through baptism, that is, with this word I opened the door for them to preach and at the same time for the entry into the egregor of people of other nations and religions, not only Judaism.

Why then was the decision made to introduce Islam, and not Christianity, into the territories of those peoples?

Because at the time when Islam was introduced, Christianity was not accepted in the Arabian Peninsula, there were many Gods, Spirits. There were some attempts to preach Christianity, but they were harshly rebuffed, again by local priestly and governmental circles, who were afraid of losing power and influence. And, as you can see, it was necessary to introduce a monotheistic religion on a basis closer to the Arabs, in order to unite them.

Is there a danger in astral travel? Entities in the Astral. Energy exchange with plasmoids

If you look at it strictly from the scientific point of view, from which our science in the Interstellar Union studies these phenomena (and our science really does study this, because it is built on explanations from a spiritual point of view, not from a materialistic one, like yours), if you look at it strictly from a scientific point of view, astral travel brings no more danger than sleep.

But does sleep bring danger? It is not the sleep itself that brings danger, but the phenomena that can accompany it. They bring purely psychological danger, which a person can later believe in and damage his mental or physical health. Those entities that are in the Astral belong to different levels: they have different levels of consciousness, different characters, different goals. Your Spirit, leaving the body, gets to the level of those entities with which it has most closely merged in vibrations.

Moreover, it takes into account not only what is open in your character, but also your hidden features: long-hidden fears, grievances, pains, hatred, which you may have had, but you did not process them, but simply hid them from yourself. All this is in your astral body, and will not allow you to fly very high in the vibrational plane.

If this happened, then having become aware of yourself in a dream, or having gone on an astral journey (and these are simply different phases and different stages, types of the same phenomenon), from your physical body in any way, you will feel aggression coming from beings, which provokes you either to fear or to retaliatory aggression. In this case, if you give in to an emotional impulse and go into emotion (and in the Astral this is very easy to do, since self-control is only present in awareness, but it is still partial, i.e. it is very easy to go into emotion and lose awareness), then to the energy that will be released from your ethereal body, along the life thread, energy from your ethereal body, remaining near the physical, will rush to help.

The etheric energy will dissipate in the astral space around your astral field, and plasmoid civilizations, whose representatives can feed on energies (it may suit them in vibrations), will absorb it. This can be called an analogue of human food intake. It can also be more or less tasty, but it cannot be compared with physical taste. They usually have a feeling of satisfaction and increased strength. The purpose of many plasmoids' existence is to gain personal strength at the expense of those people on Earth, whom they can frighten in the Astral and suck out energy charged with fear from them. But according to the law of energy exchange, any, even the most evil plasmoid is obliged to give his energy in return. But the energy that charges the astral traveler from the plasmoid will have the same vibration, only it will be from another world. What he gave, he will receive, but already in double size.

Plasmoids usually have stronger energy due to the fact that the vibrations are thinner. That is, a person will give away fear and receive much more of it. From this fear, he will be even more frightened, and other plasmoids can come to take this energy too, and usually at this the astral traveler loses self-control, his instinct for self-preservation is triggered and pulls him along the life thread back to the body. This return happens quickly, not harmoniously, incorrectly, because of this the person can be immobilized for some time, because a complete connection has not occurred, and the body has not fully woken up. Then everything returns to normal, but in the physical body from this fear, which was transmitted along the life thread, there is a release of adrenaline, stress hormones, etc.

If these trips are repeated quite often, and at the same time the person does not analyze that all this happened because of his own internal attitudes, but blames these plasmoids, then he will have chronic stress, insomnia, anxiety in ordinary earthly life, which will not have the best effect on his mental state and health. ☙

01:43 Introduction of the meeting participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today with us is a representative of the planet Disaru - Refu Stamark, a specialist, we will speak in earthly language, in the formation of cities.

"We let robots do the construction," says Refu. "And I do the space planning, kind of like landscape design."

Sergey: Good, very nice to meet you.

Irina: Please introduce yourself.

Sergey: I am Sergey Boluto. I am an architect, we have a small architectural company "Union of Logical Architects", and I am the president there. I am engaged in the study of Vedic architecture. This is the influence of architectural space on a person. I design, publish books and teach Vedic architecture.

I would like to talk about the topic of "The Future of Architecture", which, I suppose, will be different on Earth, a little bit different from what it is now, because current architecture has a bad effect on people, unfavorably. It needs to have a positive effect on health, on human evolution, and that's what I want to talk about.

Irina: Ask questions. Whatever he answers, he answers.

Sergey: Good. First of all, I would like to say a few words that at present architecture, architectural space on Earth, as I have already said, has an adverse effect on man.

Irina: Let's expand on this concept a little bit so that everyone understands. What does it mean that architecture has an adverse effect, what do you mean by that?

Sergey: Architecture has several levels of influence. First of all: the houses are not aligned with the cardinal directions, the layout of the houses does not correspond….

Irina: I understand that. I just asked about something a little different. What do you mean by unfavorable or favorable influence?

Sergey: Such an energetic influence improves a person's health, improves his internal emotional state and improves his destiny. Maybe even tones up evolution.

Irina: What do you mean by adverse influence?

Sergey: The influence that oppresses a person, that is, he feels worse than he could feel. Let's say, in nature he can feel better than in an urban environment, because the images of the urban environment...

Irina: I never noticed.

Sergey: (laughs) I think that this does not exist on your planet.

Irina: I never noticed - Irina.

Sergey: Oh, you haven't noticed that? The thing is that I study, first of all, and I do correction. And there is a big difference. If I corrected your space, I think you would feel the difference.

Irina: I feel great in any space.

Sergey: But let’s say, maybe, being at a certain level of development of consciousness, a person already stops reacting to unfavorable factors?

Irina: If you came to this conclusion, maybe this is something worth doing?

Sergey: I am an architect and I am engaged in the influence of architectural space. There are doctors who practice medicine, there are teachers who teach. And I want to create such architecture that has a positive influence on a person.

Irina: About the path of influence, please, a little bit. What do you understand by the paths of influence of architecture?

Sergey: Well, look. If you live in the city, or you live in the suburbs... If you are in the city, then if you paid attention, you could see that all the houses are faceless, that is, it is like a box that has the simplest, most economical form, and this economical form does not invigorate a person with either joy or any aspirations. Now if you look, let's say, at the architecture of the 19th century or at the architecture of the Stalinist Empire style, Stalinist houses calmly, attentively. Now remember, let's say, this architecture, then you can note to yourself that it brings joy when observing, contemplating it.

07:55 Refu Stamark on the influence of energy flows on space.

Irina: I am such a person, it is not the architecture that brings me joy, but my inner content. If there is no joy inside, architecture will not bring it. It is an internal process.

Refu says that the concept of beauty, of the harmony of forms comes from within, from the understanding of the spiritual harmony of the dimensions of different mental, that is, psychological processes among themselves, and precisely for this reason….

Take a multi-story building. In this multi-story building, although it is located in the same place, many different people live, including those with different levels, as you just said, of happiness and unhappiness, health and ill health, harmony and disharmony, and, ultimately, the Spiritual level. We will come to this now in any case, because the concept of happiness is not about temporary joy, which brings even to people who are at a low level of spiritual development, they can also temporarily rejoice, including from the fulfillment of some of their negative desires. I am not talking about temporary joy now, because people tend to confuse these two states, but about unconditional divine happiness. So, if we now talk about this state as success, happiness, prosperity, we will inevitably come to consider the spiritual level of these people. Everything follows from this.

Remember: the root cause of everything is the Spiritual world, including architectural forms, colors, clothes, food, etc. You have probably noticed that different people, for example, your female acquaintances, like different clothes. Maybe you and your friend liked, for example, different colors of shirts, trousers in different periods, and you could also say that in this I feel happier, more harmonious, and in that - not. And in the same way, if you visited your friends, relatives, visited many people, went to visit, then you saw that the furnishings in the houses are different. Some like this color of wallpaper, others like small rooms, others - large ones, etc. And you saw the difference that a person himself makes in his home. Why does such a difference exist? Because people are not robots, they are living, intelligent beings who strive to ennoble, that is, to bring nobility. What is nobility? It is the birth of grace. Grace is the divine energy of happiness. I will explain, these are Russian words, but we will agree on the terms now.

The space where he lives - be it a house, a plot of land, a place of work and even (he shows) a public transport stop - a person strives to make everything beautiful in his own way, of course, to his understanding. This begins in childhood.

Have you seen many times little children who take (now shows) a piece of chalk and start drawing on the asphalt. They start drawing all sorts of flowers, little people, some incomprehensible lines on the wallpaper. This is how they decorate their space. Why do they have such a desire? And not only their space, but the space around them in general, where they are, they can even do this when visiting. Because this is how they express their desire to create. And the desire to create is a need for creativity.

Certainly, some physical and energetic influence of the forms of housing and the materials from which they are made can be traced. Why did I come to this conference? On the planet Disaru live your genetic relatives, who are closer to you in energy and in the chakra system, as well as in the structure of the body, including the functions of the brain, than, for example, the Tumesoutians or Burkhadians.

That is why I came to answer your questions, because I am practically the same earthling, there is a small difference in genetics, but it is very insignificant, it is connected with different types of nutrition. And as for the perception of external geometric forms, their influence on energy, on consciousness and on the ways of harmonizing this influence, in this we are very, very similar. Why did I start the answer with such an introduction, so that you would immediately understand that the ennoblement of space comes from within, from the spiritual heart. And what does this mean? It means that every cubic millimeter of space around you is filled with different types of energies, but all energies have one source.

In your Russian language, this source is usually called "God". What do you understand by the word "God"? It is the creator of all that exists, all that exists, and who necessarily has a mind, even a supermind, and a spiritual heart full of love. Such a feeling of love, as energies that give life to everyone, unconditionally, without demanding anything in return. From this it follows that all space is permeated with divine energies of different types, different levels of density, etc.

In any room where you are, there is a material space of 59 levels of density. In addition, in this room there is an astral copy, an astral space, getting into which, the Soul of a person can get into the following areas of the Spiritual world, more distant from the material world than the Astral, the astral world. Why am I telling this now? Because the influence of different types of material objects on the energy of the etheric field depends on the location of the so-called etheric flows, that is, flows of subtle energies.

I am now deliberately saying "subtle energies". You know what material energies are, you know what physical energy is, and there is also subtle energy, from which all physical energies then originate. I want to say that any space where a person lives can be improved by various means, namely in the energetic sense. No matter how it is located relative to the cardinal directions, all sorts of etheric, so-called grids, which are located in the nodes of the Earth's magnetic field and are, as it were, superimposed on them. And even if a house or room is located in the place of a portal leading to a negative plasmoid world, it is possible to close it all, improve it, cleanse it and live there calmly, happily and, approaching God.

On the contrary, if any bright space, built according to all the canons of Feng Shui, even if all the bright energies are directed there, you can not use it in any way, but create evil there and even mentally emit negativity, and spoil it with your own imprints of dark thoughts and feelings.

Sergey: You told me all this. I have also studied all this for many years - that there are subtle energies that form flows that influence a person. And there is, as you know, most likely, a resonance, a resonance mechanism. If some positive energies surround a person, and in a person there are all sorts of energies: positive, negative, both good and evil, then the more positive energies of a person resonate with the positive space, his more negative energies resonate with the negative space.

Irina (Refu Stamark): There is no negative space.

19:34 Refu Stamark on the energy of a loft-style building using the example of the cycle of life in the biosphere.

Sergey: If we go into a ruined building, which is now called a “loft”, there is a style when a room is made from ruined buildings, and there, for example, people gather, eat, communicate, etc., then this ruined space itself tones up possible unfavorable associations in a person.

Irina (Refu Stamark): If you build houses from destroyed buildings, it is no different from building your body from the destroyed bodies of other living beings.

Sergey: Yes, that’s why I don’t eat meat (laughs).

Irina (Refu Stamark): I'm talking about living beings now, including plants. Or do you not consider them living?

Sergey: No, I consider plants to be alive.

Irina (Refu Stamark): Are they made of living cells?

Sergey: Yes.

Irina (Refu Stamark): Do they have any signs of life?

Sergey: Yes.

Irina (to Refu Stamark): You will not be able to digest a plant in the same way as an animal until your enzymes can kill this cell and break it down into simpler, as you said, fragments of the destroyed cell. Here, practically the same thing happens as with a destroyed house. Just as you can take bricks, rafters, etc. from a destroyed house and build something new, your organism, programmed by the divine mind to do this, does exactly the same. An instinctive program is transmitted through DNA, which, naturally, was invented by the Creator. But, of course, other Spirits have already implemented it, including through hybridization.

But if you look at any living thing, excluding the plants themselves, you will see that they all consist of fragments of other creatures whose bodies were destroyed. So, your body, every bone, muscle, were in nature in the form of elements that were part of other bodies - both animal and plant. Because even if you do not eat animals, in any case, those cells that come out of them, somehow get into the environment, then become part of your body. So, your body is your house, you yourself live in a house that is built thanks to the deaths of other living things.

This is a natural law of nature, it is the same for all planets, and it is on this that the cycle of creatures in the biosphere is based. This cycle of creatures in the biosphere is a copy of the picture you saw in the textbook, which is called "the water cycle in nature". Only this is called "the cycle of life in the biosphere". And since you yourself live in a body that consists of fragments of other destroyed bodies, then the energy of destruction itself is harmless to you, since you are already made of it.

I will tell you even more. I was very interested in the structure and biology of people, we are people, we also call ourselves "people", I want to tell you that even now, most of your cells that are in your body are dead. The energy of death is present in a person from birth. Even when he was born, there are dead cells in him, and this is completely natural, because the energy of death is only a component of the general energy flow of the biosphere.

Sergey: That's all true, but I think it's better for us to live in the flow of life.

Irina (Refu Stamark): You will not be able to live in the flow of life, because death is already present in you. Moreover, its program is embedded in every cell of your body in the form of a special genetically determined program that is embedded in you, and which includes the mechanisms of aging, cell destruction and subsequent exit from incarnation. This mechanism is embedded even in the embryo.

Sergey: Okay, let's get back to the architecture. I suppose Disaru is a beautiful space.

Irina: He just said that about destroyed houses. Well, okay, let's get back to architecture. He said that houses are made up of destroyed houses, just like our bodies.

25:54 Refu Stamark on beauty from the point of view of divine energy.

Sergey: So, why is there beautiful…, I suppose, beautiful architecture, beautiful space between architectural buildings on Disaru? I suppose that it is precisely this beauty that has a positive effect on a person’s mood and condition.

Irina (Refu Stamark): Your state influences the space and makes it beautiful.

Sergey: Is there no feedback?

Irina: What does feedback mean?

Sergey: Well, the reverse influence of space on a person.

Irina (Refu Stamark): No. Even beauty can be perceived ugly, that is, not harmoniously.

Sergey: It is possible to perceive it, but a sick person may perceive it not harmoniously, but naturally, normally, when something beautiful is perceived as beautiful.

Irina (Refu Stamark): You have again overlooked that the reason for the appearance of some forms in space is the movement of spiritual energies. What is Spirit? It is a vector of directed thought and a vector of directed feeling, and it already creates space for itself.

Wherever you are, you are the creator of your space. No matter what body you are in: subtle or dense, you create space around you in the world of the density where you are. If you are, for example, in the 37th, 38th density and are in the world of the 38th density, you begin to create space filled with Light, which descends to lower vibrational levels, and, eventually, a star flares up in this place in the physical world.

And it all started when someone decided to fill the cells of the future atoms that would enter it with Light. Whether it is beautiful from your point of view, I don't know. Probably not very much. But for them, it is the highest degree of perfection. Look at the flower. Have you ever seen ugly flowers?

Sergey: No, I haven't seen any ugly flowers.

Irina (Refu Stamark): Have you ever seen, for example, ugly insects?

Sergey: Yes, some insects are kind of unsightly to humans...

Irina (Refu Stamark): And have you studied them in detail, examined them?

Sergey: Yes, as a child I looked at them in detail.

Irina (Refu Stamark): What is imperfect about them?

Sergey: Not imperfect, but unpleasant to look at, some of them.

Irina (to Refu Stamark): You see, you can no longer distinguish your emotion from what caused it. And we will talk about beauty. If you think that something disgusted you, then it is not beautiful? And it was not the insect itself that caused the disgust. Do you know that all processes, reactions come from within?

Sergey: Yes, the relationship opens up...

Irina (to Refu Stamark): Did you see any ugly insects back then?

Sergey: Yes, I saw them – caterpillars, worms.

Irina (Refu Stamark): For some, they are the pinnacle of perfection and beauty. You see, it is the same with the space of houses, cities and the landscape of the Earth in general. No matter how many people you meet, there will be so many different answers about what is beautiful for him, what is not beautiful. Now try to look at this caterpillar through the eyes of the Heavenly Father. What do you see?

Sergey: Through the eyes of the Heavenly Father, I suppose that... But I am not the Heavenly Father. I suppose that is absolutely true.

Irina (to Refu Stamark): Is there anything imperfect for him?

Sergey: For him? I don't think so.

Irina: And if there is one for you, then how are you different from him?

Sergey: Because I am not a Father. I am a man.

Irina (to Refu Stamark): But you were born of Him?

Sergey: I was born in body from Him.

Irina (Refu Stamark): And are the concepts already different from those of the Father?

Sergey: Yes.

Irina (Refu Stamark): For what reason?

Sergey: If I were like Father, I would probably be enlightened.

Irina (to Refu Stamark): So, as soon as your concepts, convictions and will are the same as the Father's, you will comprehend how to transform any space into a space of love. And for this, it is necessary to see God's creations...

What do I mean by God's creations? Anything created by someone from Divine energies, even if it is a house, a chair or a table. They are also Divine creations, despite the fact that they were created by man, because he took the material from nature. After all, any chair, any brick consists of atoms, and they consist of Divine energies. I hope now you understand why I call everything Divine creations?

Sergey: Yes.

Irina (Refu Stamark): So, when you learn to see beauty in everything - in any form, any house, any geometric shape, any color, you will only look at how you can combine different forms in order to achieve some effect that you need. For example, it is generally accepted that if a person has problems with low blood pressure, he should be in a room with red walls. These are well-known things.

Since you are a landscape designer, an architect who calculates, as I understand, a place to live. When people call you to help them build a house, you will first ask about their preferences, not even, but understand what state of mind they are in, what spiritual level they are at, and what kind of aura defects, blocks, etc. they have, for example, then you will select an individual space for them that is suitable for them. Of course, it is not a fact that it will be suitable for someone else.

If you are called to an existing house and they say that there are some problems, and they ask you to help solve these problems, then you will arrange objects or bring in new colors, bring in something new, so that this space will have the most favorable effect on these people in such a way that they can look into themselves and eliminate the spiritual cause of their misfortunes.

After all, what is our task? Through form, through color, through the size of objects to encourage a person to remain in contemplation of his infinite divine beauty and perfection. Our task is - through form, color, through various decorations and other means that are used in construction, not only to make it comfortable and practical to live there, but so that every millimeter of this space reminds of God.

35:58 Principles of creating a living space that has a positive impact on a person.

Sergey: We have now finally come to the most important topic that I would like to talk about. That is, about such a space that would have a positive effect on a person, would remind him of God, would invigorate his evolution, would make him perceive beauty more, would want to become better. Because there are images that direct a person to the best, and there are architectural images, artificial ones, that invigorate, awaken in him his worst qualities.

Irina (Refu Stamark): This is all, as I have already said, very individual and depends not even on the spiritual level, but on his personal blocks, even on his leading chakra. For example, if a person's leading chakra is the fourth, the energy center, then he will be more drawn to the green color and its shades. If he has some hidden fears, especially of people, social phobia, he will subconsciously avoid, for example, portraits and paintings in his room, because he will not like the look from the wall from these paintings. They can even irritate or frighten him, since there is some block in him associated with fear or resentment, that is, with relationships with people. And all this must be taken into account when designing a room.

Sergey: Yes, but I suppose there are forms that, on average, have a positive effect on everyone: the external forms of houses, buildings, roof shapes, house shapes, some architectural details that have a positive effect on a person's mood, their condition, their joy. Not individual. Individual ones – yes, they are in the rooms a person lives in, we also figure it out, but to a greater extent in a conversation about what a person needs, looking at his horoscope, comparing the horoscope with the layout of the apartment, because the horoscope is also reflected in the layout of the apartment, the same unfavorable qualities are revealed, both in the horoscope and in the apartment. And these qualities are softened, as it were, by explaining to the person what his problem is, why it is, where it came from, so that it would be easier for him to move on, to realize himself. But the external space between the buildings, I could also talk about this…

Irina (Refu Stamark): Any architectural form also did not appear by chance. In any case, it was created by a rational being for some purpose. And all this creation of an architectural form, roof, windows, walls did not just appear out of nowhere. It was the result of the work of some people who showed their spiritual qualities in this way.

Sergey: Yes, at present it is mainly not spiritual qualities that are manifested, but economic considerations, because...

Irina (Refu Stamark): Aren't economic considerations derivatives of spiritual qualities?

Sergey: Yes, of course they are. It is precisely economic considerations that are one of the levels of spiritual qualities.

Irina (Refu Stamark): What you call economics is, as I understand it, the science of handling financial flows. The form of a person's relationship with finances in any case depends on his beliefs, and all this is part of his Spirit.

Sergey: That's right, the economy can be in first place, second, third, fifth, and other things, not the economy, can be in first place.

Irina (Refu Stamark): A person consists of a Soul and a body. If his Soul or body is in first place, and something in second place, this will already cause disharmony. Therefore, ideally, it is better to pay equal attention to the Soul and body. These are equally important parts of the being called a person. If we take a person's body or his Soul separately, then this is no longer a person. This is a person's body or a person's Soul, and together they form a spiritual-physical unity.

In the human body there is an intersection of two worlds - Spiritual and material, Spiritual and physical, that is, dense material. Finances here are more material energy that allows a person to live in society. If you live far from society, where there is nothing to exchange the finances that you have for, there are no goods and services, finances become useless. Therefore, it is more of a social tool of the world where your body and your Soul live. Precisely the social world.

What is the social world? It is a world of intelligent beings who have united with each other in some specific state or social formations, forms for achieving common goals. And while you are part of society, finances are important to you to the extent that contact with this society, which produces the goods and services you need, is important to you.

Sergey: Yes, but there is always a priority, the priority of one over the other.

Irina (Refu Stamark): You can make the harmony of both a priority.

Sergey: Yes, you can.

Irina (to Refu Stamark): I see, a philosopher. So it's clear. I'm listening to the question.

44:13 Architectural images for raising the spiritual level of people. Materials for the construction of residential buildings.

Sergey: What architectural images could you recommend to raise the spiritual level of people?

Irina (Refu Stamark): I would advise... For me, the shape of a sphere is more harmonious. Here on Disaru, many people live in spherical rooms that stand on the ground on special supports. Of course, there are also more traditional rectangular and square rooms for Earth, but there are many round, spherical rooms. It is believed that for a person who is in an unbalanced state, a round room from the inside will bring him into harmony, will calm him down.

And in a square, rectangular or any other room where there are corners, the appearance of these corners and the energy that is distributed across the corners can increase a person's irritability.

After all, what is a corner? It is a place where energies from the entire house gather, in the center there is usually a zone that is cleaner from energy clots, and near the walls and in the corners, energy etheric clots gather if negative people live there who emit negativity. There are even special methods for cleansing a room with corners.

Sergey: Yes, but on Earth, I think it will be difficult to implement round shapes in architecture.

Irina (Refu Stamark): You can inflate a balloon and live in it (laughs).

No, it's a bit cold for our country.

Sergey: I live in the Urals, in winter it's minus 30-35.

Irina: And what shape is our chum?

Sergey: The chum is heated. If you don't heat it…

Irina: It can also be round.

Sergey: Not round, but half a circle. But it won't work without heating, it won't work in a hot air balloon.

Irina: Then you can live in a tent.

Sergey: In the tent? The thing is...

Irina: I saw such houses in Buryatia, they are like round yurts, and covered from above. But again, they have a triangular roof. It is clear, otherwise precipitation will accumulate on it.

Sergey: We also have people who build dome-shaped houses, but a person cannot live in one dome-shaped space. He needs a separate toilet, a separate bedroom, a separate shower, a kitchen. And he begins to divide this circle into parts, into segments. And a segment is no longer a circle. It is already a crooked space, a space with corners. And the whole idea of a round space disappears.

Irina: Well, that means he should at least leave his room round.

Sergey: Well, yes, or make a lot of small round ones.

Irina: Put up tents in the house, I get it (laughs). They simply don't have any problems with that, because there were other building materials, artificial in origin, and they consist of some kind of foam, which, when hardened, takes any shape. First, the frames are put up, and then they are filled with foam, consisting of carbon and various carbides.

Sergey: But isn’t it better to live in natural material than, say, in frozen foam?

Irina (Refu Stamark): I don’t know of a material more natural than carbon.

Sergey: Well, yes. But for carbon to turn into foam, a chemical reaction needs to take place, gas needs to be released…

Irina (Refu Stamark): So what? There are chemical reactions in nature too.

Sergey: It exists in nature, but in our building materials all chemical reactions are based on such harsh chemistry that…

Irina (Refu Stamark): There is no hard or soft chemistry. There are general laws of chemistry that are true for both organic and inorganic chemistry, wherever it occurs.

Sergey: Yes, but again, returning to economics, those foam blocks that are made on Earth, from which houses are then built, are made from a material that then has to be protected from.

Irina: Foam blocks, they are cold, in my opinion. They are cold. They need to be insulated, because they are concrete, right? They are foam concrete.

Sergey: No, if you make the wall wide enough, 50 centimeters…

Irina: All the same, as far as I understand, it is colder than wood.

Sergey: Colder than wood, yes. But twice as cheap.

Irina: Better then from dung. By the way, the house will be warm. Ref, do you know what dung is? I'll explain it to him now (laughs).

Sergey: Straw is mixed with clay and dung.

Irina: I’m saying that Sergei obviously knows.

Sergey: I know, yes.

Irina: He says it's more for warm countries. But I'll say that it's not quite so. In Kazakhstan, for example, there are houses made of dung, and there are very severe frosts there. True, of course, stoves are fired there, but nevertheless, it's warm there. They are also called adobe.

Sergey: Straw, too.

Irina: But this is more, of course, in the south.

Sergey: In the middle zone they mix clay, straw and dung. Straw is a heat insulator.

Irina: Yes, there is such work there. And this is also a natural material, although there is also clay, sand, straw added. I saw all this. Straw between clay and sand, there is also some kind of chemical reaction going on there. But this is more of a natural material, because it is taken from nature. Although all the components of concrete are also taken from nature.

If we even take glass. What is it? Silicates. Sodium silicate, potassium silicate. You've probably seen silicate glue? It's the same as liquid glass, it just hardens. Where do these silicates come from? We even have a deposit where they occur in nature. This is if we're talking about artificial materials, plastic, rather. But plastics are too flimsy for houses. I just imagined plastic bricks.

Sergey: Plastic is unpleasant for the body.

Irina (Refu Stamark): It is not durable, firstly, it is very easy to break. Even dense plastic is easier to break, because such a material is made of different molecules that are repeated many times. For example, the first one we had was polyethylene. It is simply ethylene gas. Its molecules are repeated many times, and polyethylene is obtained. Well, ethylene gas itself, by the way, exists in nature. It also lies underground. So it is also a natural material.

Sergey: Oil is also a natural material.

Irina: Naturally, both oil and gasoline are all natural materials.

Sergey: But not all oil products, of course, some have an adverse effect on the human body.

Irina: What products are made from oil?

Sergey: The same cellophane, it doesn’t let the field through.

Irina: I thought it was tar.

Sergey: Tar too. It has a bad smell.

Irina: Some people even chew it.

Sergey: Some. Do you know what some chew?

Irina: Didn't you chew when you were little?

Sergey: Chewed.

Irina: Such a black chewing gum. For some, the smell is even pleasant.

Sergey: If you cover a roof with ordinary roofing felt, and open a window in the summer sun to air out the house under this roof, you want to close it right away, because the smell of this…

Irina: The smell of hot asphalt and the smell of tar - I associate them with each other.

Refu says it's an individual association.

This smell is associated with a hot summer day for me, when the sun is shining, because the asphalt also contains petroleum products, there is this tar, and when the sun is hot, it even sometimes melts. You walk and smell it, so if I smell it, it reminds me of how we walked somewhere on a hot summer day, and on the contrary, I like these memories, and this smell does not cause any unpleasant associations for me, that is, tar.

And if we take gasoline, I will already feel unpleasant, because as a child I did not like to ride in buses because of the smell of gasoline. When I was less than five years old, I remembered it well, and therefore the smell of gasoline, kerosene is unpleasant to me. And tar - summer, heat, how I walk barefoot to the river (laughs). Immediate memories. Therefore I have no unpleasant feelings from it.

Sergey: I also have, let's say, things that I like, for example smells. I like the smell of wormwood.

Irina: I like it too.

Sergey: My wife, for example, doesn’t really like it.

Irina: Wormwood, tansy. Yes, I like all these steppe smells.

Sergey: But this is also connected with childhood, because as a child I loved to walk in the steppe. Especially in the summer, the burnt-out degree, and it smells of wormwood, a strong smell.

Irina: When wormwood grows, you just want to pick it and smell it.

Sergey: Here, here. Rub like this.

Irina: Again, this is a reminder of childhood. We have great memories.

57:48 Strengthening the human etheric field.

Sergey: Here's a question: on all planets there are energy grids, which you also mentioned today. When a house is built on your planet, and some rooms fall on this grid, these negative nodes sometimes have an adverse effect on people. What is being done on your planet so that these nodes do not have an adverse effect. Is there some kind of general protection from negative nodes under the house, for example?

Irina (Refu Stamark): This is not a negative influence. It is just that some parts of space can emit energies that are unusual for the human etheric field, due to their different density level, etc. The thing is that when strengthening your etheric field, your energy, your chakras, all these influences from the external environment are leveled, that is, a person simply does not feel the radiation of the etheric plane. Therefore, we do not know such a problem, because even children are engaged in the prevention of various diseases, including energy, and are engaged in energy practices that resemble your breathing exercises, pronunciation of various energy syllables, reminiscent of your mantras, meditations. Due to this, their etheric field is strengthened, which contains prana, kundalini and other forms of ether.

The human etheric field has a natural protective shell. If a person is affected by something like the Hartmann network, this already indicates that his etheric protective shell is weakened by some negative process. Perhaps he has some attachments, for example necrotic ones. Perhaps he has large blocks. And the etheric shell weakened by this process does not repel various…, that is, it lets in radiation that can disrupt the etheric matrices of various organs. But this is not because they are negative or harmful, they are simply not natural for a person.

Sergey: 99% of our people are exactly the kind that let in unfavorable…

Irina (Refu Stamark): This can help. If a person engages in strengthening his etheric field using different methods, he will be inaccessible to these influences. As for protection, everything depends on the type of this grid, and where the energy is directed, what kind of energy it is.

You just haven't studied it, I'll explain it now. There are 6048 types of material energies in the material world. Of these, only 9 are physical, the remaining 6039 types of energy are subtle energies or etheric energies, and they are everywhere around you in space. 10 of them are part of the human etheric field, out of these 6039. And the rest can be either positive, that is, restore the human etheric field, or be neutral, not affecting it in any way, or be destructive due to, for example, a sharp incompatibility with the etheric matrix, this happens.

We usually immediately invite the subtle-material keeper of the house to contact, he is at that level of density where he can see all these grids, and we ask him what can be done to direct this energy to another place where it will not destroy people.

For people, this can replace a conversation with their brownie. Ask him mentally: "For what reason does this energy have a bad effect on me?" - the first question, and "Where can I divert it, how?" Because there are 6039 types of them.

Can you imagine how much?

Sergey: Okay. But that's not our option, because talking to a brownie... Let's say someone can talk to a brownie, but not everyone.

Irina: Why not all?

Sergey: Because if you even suggest to some people to talk to the brownie, he will just twist it and that's it. We don't have such a tradition - to talk to brownies. There are people, of course, who are more sensitive.

Irina (Refu Stamark): What, don’t you know that the keeper of this space from the subtle world lives next door to your house?

Sergey: Probably every thousandth person knows.

Irina (Refu Stamark): As far as I have studied earthly folklore, people are still more informed.

Sergey: I am constantly in contact with people, I am constantly adjusting their space, therefore…

Irina (to Refu Stamark): Have you asked them: do you know who a brownie is?

Sergey: No, we talk differently. I try to talk in images that are more understandable to these people.

Irina (to Refu Stamark): How do you know if he will understand this image if you didn't even ask?

Sergey: As we say, older people, those who are already elderly, who live in villages in huts, believe in house spirits. But younger people, who live in cities, do not believe in house spirits, and talking to them about house spirits is…

Irina (Refu Stamark): You could say "etheric assistant".

Sergey: You can say that. That's what I'm saying, I speak differently. I say this: there are energies there, favorable, unfavorable, influencing this or that.

1:06:11 Refu Stamark on contact with the brownie as an ethereal assistant.

Irina (Refu Stamark): It can be said that on the etheric plane lives the etheric assistant of the house, who is in the etheric body, and he sees on his level of density all the energetic influences in your house. You can talk to him mentally. You can say that he has no tongue, ears, etc., because he consists of subtle energies and can look like anything - like a ball, like a crystal, like a person, can take such a form as a cloud.

But there lives a reasonable Soul, the same as in people, the same as in you, therefore it is accessible to contact. But since you are on different levels of density, it will simply communicate with you mentally if you contact it using a special method.

It is very simple, and by the way, the best way for a brownie to get in touch is with the owners of this house, because they are already energetically compatible and similar to each other.

Sergey: Good.

Irina (Refu Stamark): And the technique: lean your forehead against the wall, close your eyes, put both hands on the wall. Because there is a third eye here, that is, the sixth energy center, which is responsible for contact with the plasmoid worlds, put your palms to direct the energy of love, and say: "I greet you, Spirit of the house" or "... my ethereal assistant, I send you the Light of Love." And he will immediately feel it, you can even try it yourself in your home.

Have you tried talking to him?

Sergey: I tried, yes.

Irina: So what?

Sergey: Interesting. But it was a very short conversation, it was just when I was at Irina's seminar, we tried it there. I looked at how everyone tried it there.

Irina: We were just talking here. How about it? Have you tried it at home?

Sergey: I don’t have it myself, I haven’t tried it.

Irina: Don't you want to talk?

Sergey: I'll talk, yes. I didn't have such a thought, but now I'll talk.

Irina: Say hi to him.

1:08:55 The impact of building materials on human health.

Sergey: Okay, I'll pass it on. I have a question, if we have more time. We have a theory that there are building materials - diamagnetic and paramagnetic. Diamagnetic are organics, including humans and plants. And paramagnetic are building materials that, if they are on Earth, enhance the Earth's magnetic field. These are, as a rule, solid materials of volcanic origin. And there are also metals that also interact with each other, creating a magnetic field between themselves - stones, metals.

And, let's say, if we take two building materials - one, for example, paramagnetic at the bottom, and the second - diamagnetic or any other building material, which relative to the bottom acquires a positive pole, let's say, take two building materials, separate them. One acquires a minus field, the other a plus pole. And between them a magnetic field appears, weak, but it exists.

And so, if a person is in such a field, which has a minus at the bottom and a plus at the top, then this field strengthens his biofield, the electromagnetic component of his biofield. And thus strengthens his health. For example, let's say there is limestone at the bottom, some kind of mercury flask at the top, or a copper-covered roof, and an electromagnetic potential difference arises between them. Small, but it arises. And this difference in electromagnetic potential has a positive effect on a person's biofield. Do you have such a thing, and can you say anything on this topic?

Irina (Refu Stamark): Our research shows that materials influence magnetic fields, of course, especially if they contain metals. But magnetic fields that are emitted to a person mainly influence his physical body, his physical aura, but there is no influence on the etheric body, where etheric fields are needed.

Sergey: But can they have a positive effect on his health?

Irina (Refu Stamark): The fact is that the magnetic fields that are created by building materials are very, very weak compared to the Earth's geomagnetic field.

Sergey: Yes, but there are building materials that actually enhance, paramagnets, for example. I just research old architecture, and in some architecture you can clearly see, say, lead plates between marble blocks, and it turns out like a battery of these electric batteries. Or, say, a roof covered with copper. This is generally an expensive material, but there are cheaper options, and there are studies, well, studies - with the help of pendulums, frames, that if there is copper on top, and, say, marble or limestone below, then a field appears.

Irina: He already answered this question for you, that it does not affect energy.

Sergey: Okay. Are there any architectural methods that you could recommend to improve health?

Irina: No. There are other solutions there. What does improving health mean? We need to be more specific.

Sergey: Methods that would influence the etheric field.

Irina: Do you understand what the physical world is and what the ethereal world is?

Sergey: Of course.

Irina (Refu Stamark): They have different levels of density. And you can't influence the etheric field with physical radiation.

Sergey: But every building material also has an etheric field.

Irina (Refu Stamark): Not in the building material, but in space. And if we consider in the building material, then the etheric field is around each atom. Will you take into account each atom?

Sergey: No, it is impossible to take into account every atom, but, let’s say, to select such…

Irina (Refu Stamark): We do not use solutions in the construction of any buildings that can improve health. We have no need to do this, because all this does not have the same effect as the prevention methods of the person himself.

Sergey: Well, okay. I've run out of questions. I've prepared them a bit. Maybe you'll say something?

Irina: Me?

Sergey: Yes, advise me as an architect.

1:15:15 Ref Stamark's tips on color design for living spaces.

Irina: Ref, what advice would you give to Sergei as an architect?

He just reminded me again about the color red.

(Refu Stamark) The thing is that color has a greater effect on health. You have research methods, the so-called color therapy. How does it affect not even health, but the state of the body? Each color has a vibration that can activate or weaken some biological processes. And all this happens because each color has its own vibration, which is a manifestation of etheric vibrations. You know for sure that each chakra has its own color?

Sergey: Yes.

Irina (Refu Stamark): And why is there a color, although it is not a physical object? The spectrum of chakra radiation, which is called color, is an ethereal reflection that can be expressed, manifested in physical color. And therefore, if you know which organ of the body this or that chakra is responsible for, then, for example, by wearing clothes of the corresponding color, you can strengthen this chakra and the organs that are there. And clothes of the opposite color weaken the organs that are there. But it is better, of course, to have harmony, and it is better to decorate the rooms in the house depending on their purpose. For example, in the bedroom, colors that activate the sixth and seventh chakras for peace and going to sleep are good. These are precisely blue and purple colors. In the kitchen, the colors of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd chakras are good for activating the instincts of digestion and pleasure, so that food brings pleasure, etc. These are red, orange, yellow colors.

Sergey: Okay, and the office probably depends on the type of work.

Irina (Refu Stamark): But it would be good to make the office so that there is no stress there, the harmonizing color of the fourth chakra is green. It is not for nothing that people like to place green plants around themselves. This is not only because plants emit oxygen, or because they like them, but because green harmonizes a person. This is the color of his fourth chakra. If you are engaged in creativity, it would be nice, for example, to have blue there, as the color of the 5th chakra.

Blue and green, as I understand it.

Sergey: Okay, thank you.

Irina: Thank you!

Sergey: Thank you for the conversation.

Irina: Thank you for the questions, thank you Refa for the answers, it was also interesting for me to listen. So, dear friends, thank you for watching. I wish you harmony, Light, and beauty. See you soon!

Zaliatar on the Time Tape and its components. Transformation of spiritual energy into the energy of the material world

The Time Tape consists, to put it simply, of Probability Lines. Everything I say is images, because in the world where the Time Tape exists, there is no matter, that is, these are all forms of images, as perceived by my consciousness and the consciousness of the one who will observe.

And when you go beyond the material world and get to the level of the border between the transition from the astral world to the world of disembodied Spirits, there is an area there that is called the Time Tape area.

In another way, this can also be called "Akashic Chronicles", but in a broader sense, because Akashic Chronicles can also be called egregorial records, this is already in the Astral, in the astral world. And this is somewhat different: this is the information field of the Universe, on the basis of which energies are collected, and these energies then collect atoms.

It is like a glowing ribbon, you can't see its beginning and end, and if you get closer to it, then many green dots come out of it, turning into waves of energy, and from these waves of energy the material world, atoms, begins to be built. These dots are the transformation of information into energy. This is such a constantly forming energy structure, including the material world itself, any choice of a person can influence it.

It is very difficult to find words in modern Russian, because the meaning of many terms is simply not indicated in your language. It is necessary to pronounce many words to denote the concept, which in my language means only one word. I want to say that the embodiment of the information field does not mean that it influences the choice of those who are embodied. Those who are embodied in the body continue to be in the Spiritual world as well. Their consciousness is also an integral part of one of the streams of this Time Tape.

The Time Tape is not simply in the Spiritual World, it passes through the material world as well, that is, when incarnated, it passes through it. The very flow of energy along this Time Tape, the flow of time energy, one might say, itself causes the appearance of time in the material world.

As for the past and the future, when you are in the Spiritual World and look at it from the outside, then for you all the processes that happen there can happen simultaneously. That is, you just look at a certain point, for example, it will be displayed as such and such a year, if this is your own Time Tape, the line that is responsible for your life.

If it is another person's Time Tape that you are watching, then the perception of his life, his Time Tape will go through your consciousness, because this is the Spiritual world, and this will be an exchange of information. It is not like on TV, but will be reflected on your inner screen at the energy level through your energy.

That is why, if 10 people who have the ability to dive into the past, independently of each other, look at the same event, they will have a different vision, because it will go through their energies, their associative series. ❤

#573 Live broadcast communication with the Spirit of Saddam Hussein.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mHJlAuEm4eg

00:00 Start of video.

00:06 New channel "Cassiopeia" and Project news.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello to all. We haven't talked for a long time, a whole week has passed, I have a huge amount of very interesting news.

182 people is a small number of people. Why? Because today we are not broadcasting on our main channel and we are doing this only to see how YouTube will react to a live broadcast with Saddam Hussein. Our live broadcast today is a broadcast with the Spirit who is aware of himself and perceives himself in a previous incarnation as Saddam Hussein. I think it will be a very interesting conversation.

Only 99 people... So unusual. How can you hear me? Tell me, how can you hear me, how many people do we have already? 130 is not that many, of course... Good. You should have given a normal link. So, everything is good. Yulia Zinnurova: "You can hear, you can see."

How was it to enter this channel - difficult or not? Please write, because we used an additional channel "Cassiopeia". By the way, this channel will host very interesting videos that cannot be posted on our common channel on YouTube. I think many of us will understand, especially with such very... How to say it correctly? Ambiguous topics.

"Maxim, there are just 460 on that video, on the main channel, no one knows about the new channel, no notifications about the start of the broadcast come in." So, how do we get everyone to this channel? "Maxim, there are 400 sitting on this video." Very interesting. But how do we let people know that we have this video? How can we do that? "Everyone is waiting there." Well, I understand that everyone is waiting there, and we need to somehow... We wrote there that we need to come here. There are 400 there, 100 here.

Irina: Someone should give a link.

Maxim: The link to the channel. Where is it even located? Okay, two seconds, dear friends, I apologize for the delay in the broadcast, but we now need to set it up, get people back here, to this broadcast. Now I'll... Two seconds, I'll turn off the sound... (talks on the phone without sound).

Dear friends, we are now trying to transfer everyone from the main channel to this channel, so that people can finally see, hear, understand that we are now on another channel. This is also our channel, by the way, everyone who has come here now, you can subscribe, because interesting broadcasts will also be broadcast from this channel.

"There is no sound temporarily, Maxim turned it off." No, I have already appeared. I am here. Here, 309. I think they have begun to understand that they need to follow the link.

Dear friends, I greet everyone who is new. This is also our spare channel. And we, in order not to run into another "strike", decided to conduct a live broadcast with the Spirit of Saddam Hussein here. So, everyone, slowly move here, to this channel, I will wait for everyone. For now, I will not start anything, I will not even indicate anything, I have a huge amount of news.

"Yes, we have already written there that the broadcast is going here." Well done, clever girl, you have already written there, everything is correct. Write there, give us a link, please, to this channel, guys, help us, because it seems that our technical service did something a little wrong today, send a link from the old channel to this one.

"Hooray, I found it. Irina, hi!" We are also glad that you found us.

Irina: I sent three links.

Maxim: You sent three links, right? Great, I'm waiting for everyone here, guys, go to this channel, we're going to have a really interesting broadcast today. It's 7:21 now, I'll tell you all the news in literally 10 minutes. "Throw me a link from one... Found it, found it."

Everyone who wants to is on this channel. It has already been written three times. Germany: "Hurray, I found you." We found you too, Germany. Nikita, Stas, Gena, Turbo and Dyusha Metelkin. Yes, Alex81, this is our secret channel, where we will conduct very secret broadcasts. So don't forget to subscribe to this channel, everyone who has come in now, everyone who has found us in this live broadcast.

So. So much in total! Follow the link.

Why is it secret? Because there is not a single "strike" on this channel yet, it is still a very young, unpromoted channel, there are only 1000 subscribers. But we were just thinking about developing cosmohealing on this channel. But Gulchka is great, she organized an independent channel for development, and there she is supported by a whole group of our IT specialists, helping you to pass the sessions that she leads.

"Greetings from Krasnodar." Greetings to Krasnodar. "What a handsome man, he moves his lips so playfully." What else can you move on live TV?

Listen, guys, I have a request for you, I wanted to ask you: what do you think, should we open Irina Podzorova's personal channel, where the life of the contactee will be shown? Irina? No, she doesn't agree, you see? I just came up with it, and she already doesn't agree.

"Good evening, Happy Trinity to all!" Oh, by the way, dear friends, I want to congratulate you all on this wonderful holy holiday – the Trinity holiday! Yes, and shalom is also from Israel. Although, Irina, can we say that Christianity came from Israel?

Irina: Yes, you can.

Maxim: You could say so. And happy holiday to you too! Kuzbass, great. "And so big..." By the way, Irina really has a very big workload. "Personal life is taboo." Irina, is your personal life "taboo" or not?

Irina: It depends on what you mean by “personal”.

Maxim: So they ask us: is personal life taboo or not? Okay, now, I'll find where we have... Well, guys, we've gathered here, 626 people already. In principle, I want to greet everyone again, this time I gave ten minutes to get ready from that channel. "Greetings from Latvia." Yes, greetings to Latvia too. And greetings to Karelia. "I'm for Irina Podzorova's channel." Well, of course, we're also for Irina Podzorova's channel. "Good evening from Karaganda." Listen, our geography is very cool. You know that we're going to hold an offsite event in our Moscow center in Domodedovo, where we've finished renovation work, and the most interesting thing is that in this Domodedovo Center we're going to hold all the events that relate to our specialists from the Cassiopeia Center on a donation basis.

If this Center is used by specialists of the Cassiopeia Project who have undergone training with us - either on-site or in Voronezh on a donation basis, you can come and hold events and practices there, and most importantly, there is a senior administrator whom you can contact to hold various events by phone at +7 (988) 910-00-40. Her name is Elena. You can contact Lenochka with absolutely any question concerning the Cassiopeia Project. Plus, in the near future we are holding an off-site event of the entire Voronezh Health Center - this is both the Health Center and the research laboratory, this is Alexey, a visceral therapy massage therapist, this is Yulia Kulagina - bioenergy massage with visits to the Higher Self. That is, our entire Center in Voronezh is coming to the Center in Moscow, Domodedovo.

I want to tell everyone very interesting news - our events in this Center are held on the condition of donation - payment by heart. That is, you come to our Center, and for the training that we will give you there (and we will conduct the first stage of training there, training in bioenergy massage, visceral massage, in three different techniques, specialist Alexey will teach this, and, accordingly, the training is conducted by Nadezhda Viktorovna, our specialist, the head of the Health Center "Cassiopeia", she will train you on the "Oberon" equipment.

That is, this is a full-fledged event where you can not only get your body tested on "Oberon", plus we bring with us absolutely all of our products from the Cassiopeia Project. You can come to our Center, get tested, get tested, examined and buy these products. Oh, and by the way, we have a fresh batch of "Cassiopeia Energy". Guys, if anyone doesn't know what it is, I definitely recommend you at least try it, because the charge of strength, vigor and energy from "Cassiopeia Energy" lasts almost the entire day.

"Maxim, Saddam will get bored, how long will it take to talk to him?" I don't know. Irina, is Saddam Hussein bored with us? Ask him if he gets bored now, when I talk about Project Cassiopeia?

Irina: No.

Maxim: Doesn't he miss us? Can he hear us now, what I'm telling you, saying?

Irina: No, he watches through me, and I watch another channel.

Maxim: You're not participating in the live broadcast with me?

Irina: I give a link, people ask us.

Maxim: On our channel? Well, go ahead, fine. Hand out the links.

Hello to Irkutsk! So, Saddam Hussein is not bored yet. But I must tell you all about our upcoming off-site events. You call me every time, ask, text me, and are interested.

So, we have the next off-site event on June 15-17, we will be the entire Health Center, the entire training team in the Moscow center in Domodedovo with the program of the first level of contactees on the condition of donation. This is the program that we have in Voronezh. We promised to pass on spiritual knowledge to you on the condition of donation and we are fulfilling our promises.

Guys, if you don’t know where to call or write, all the links will be under this video, it’s not there now, but it will appear after the live broadcast, at about nine o’clock this broadcast will already be completed with all the links.

So, June 15–17, Domodedovo Center, + 7 (988) 910-00-40, her name is Lena, call and sign up.

Plus, we are finishing the repair work in our Voronezh center, five houses are almost ready, an indoor pool with ozonized water is ready, plus an outdoor pool, heated, in which today, let's say, the water is + 30°. Therefore, everyone who comes to us for health courses, everyone who comes to us for training courses, can use the warm summer pool. I would like to try to make this pool year-round.

Yes, I would like to remind you once again that today is a great holy holiday – the holiday of the Holy Trinity. And to you, dear friends, happy holiday!

I think that the "Kukotsky case"... I just wanted to talk to Saddam Hussein personally for a long time and ask him very interesting questions. Therefore...

"Who suggested a meeting with Saddam Hussein?" I suggested a meeting with Saddam Hussein, Elena. I've wanted to meet him for a long time, to ask him questions, because I'm very interested in what really happened to him, how it happened, and how it could have happened.

Guys, we also came up with a fantastic course in the Cassiopeia Project, it is conducted by a married couple. It is called "Immersion in the Spiritual and Metaphysical Practices of the Cassiopeia Project". This course is more focused on physics along with working through all the spiritual aspects, but there will be a lot of physics - there will be morning yoga in front of the pool, and the morning solstice on our huge plateau-porch, which we have downstairs, with a gorgeous view.

"Where to propose candidates?" While I'm telling you, you can write here what meetings you want next. We'll launch a bot now that will poll... "Thanks for the information about all of Cassiopeia's work." That's not all the information, guys, I'll tell you now.

The course of immersion in metaphysical practices of the Cassiopeia Project will allow you to lose weight on a physical level up to five kilograms in seven days. Why? Because here they will work very well with your physics, and the program is thought out to the smallest detail. You can watch it under this video, there is a link. This "immersion" program will be on June 12 and 16, it will really be a water immersion, and a spiritual immersion, and a physical immersion, and a metaphysical immersion. Well, and, accordingly, at this time you will be able to visit the research laboratory in our Center, where there is the "Da Vinci Egg", the Nostradamus camera and, accordingly, a camera based on the effect of Kozyrev's mirrors. You will be able to take this course. But at this time we will be in Moscow, in Domodedovo, conducting a contactee course. Yes, Irisha? The first stage of contactees on the condition of donation.

Well, I want to greet you, if there is... "Ufa". Ufa, hello to everyone, because soon we will be moving towards you. We have an off-site event of the "Cassiopeia" project, we are bringing to you a training retreat, the first stage of contacteeship, which will take place in Ufa from August 2 to 5. We will come with a wonderful course and plus, we will probably take Nadezhda Viktorovna, the head of the Health Center, with us, she will be able to see what is happening with your body, with your physique, on the "Oberon" equipment, and recommend what health moments you need.

So, "will we be in Kazan this year?" We won't be in Kazan, guys, this year in Ufa, then in Minsk from June 10 to 11 we will have "The Tree of the Pillar". That is, Minsk on June 10-11, "The Tree of the Pillar", spine alignment, a unique technique of our wonderful master Alleiya (Hello, Alleyechka!).

Well, and, accordingly, in Tver there will be... Guys, suggest where we should go. "Will you be in Rostov this year?" No, we didn't plan to go to Rostov. In principle, the full schedule of the Cassiopeia Project...

Oh, I forgot – we decided to celebrate the New Year in Egypt, at the price of Abkhazia. Guys, we found a great tour – whether to go to Abkhazia or to Egypt – the price is approximately the same. And we will celebrate this New Year in Egypt with communication with the Spirits of those who built the pyramids, who erected them. We will go on an excursion to these pyramids, the local Spirits will tell us what it is, how, where, where and what it is for. Therefore, we will be in Cairo on New Year. Guys, who are with us for the New Year – you can also slowly plan, write to Lenochka Kuznetsova +7 (988) 910-00-40.

999 people. I'm sure it's time to start.

A two-day course of training in healing. Look, guys, we have a program of courses so that you understand us, what the Cassiopeia Project is, we transfer all spirituality, when we are in our centers, on the condition of donation. This is payment from the heart, this is your support, this is your gift to the Center itself so that the Center develops.

If you want us to come to another city, this is an offsite event. At any offsite event of Cassiopeia, the master, if he travels with accommodation, with travel, with flights, has the right to indicate some minimum amount. If you do not want any rates to be assigned to you, come to us in Voronezh. In Voronezh, in our Center, without going anywhere, we transfer all training practices on the condition of donation. In Moscow, the same thing - our Center does not assign any prices for training, if this master belongs to the Cassiopeia Project. And, accordingly, the master also has the opportunity on the condition of donation to be present in this Center and conduct practices there.

Plus, I completely forgot to tell you that we already have the second stage of our contact course, and all those people who were with us at the off-site training events, who received the matrix of the planet Burkhad, call Lena Kuznetsova and sign up for the second stage of the training contact course, which is conducted by Irina Podzorova together with Ilya Alexandrov and our interstellar friends.

Guys, we already have more than one and a half thousand students, two groups of the second stage have passed, so sign up for the second stage, if you have already at least participated in either an off-site event, or came to Voronezh and studied at the first stage. The matrix of the planet Burkhad for the second stage must be installed. All who have installed the matrix of the planet Burkhad have the right to connect to the galactic network of the Galaxy and conduct energies through them, structures that many call differently, but at the second stage we connect to the Light network of the Galaxy, more than a thousand different civilizations that are ready to transmit and retransmit huge flows of energy of Love of our Creator into this space of the Earth.

So we are waiting, the second stage is also a bomb thing, there will be transferred deep knowledge so that you can open your projects, work and teach people. So call Lena +7 (988) 910-00-40 and sign up for the second stage of the contact courses, if you have already completed the first stage, and you have the energy-information matrix of the planet Burkhad installed. The second stage is open to all comers, to all developing contactees.

And the most important thing that I will tell you now in secret: we are preparing a cool investigative film, which we actually conducted about Grear, about the flying saucer. We even went specially to the place, Ashtar Sheran gave the coordinates, where this saucer fell, and there "Cassiopeia" conducted an independent investigation along with a survey of those people who live nearby. I think you will really like it.

"Why is there no airtime with the Rothschilds and Rockefellers? It would be no less interesting." Well, guys. Two people already want Michael Jackson. No questions at all.

I will tell you honestly, we are finishing the repair work now, today is the third day since we launched the warm spring in Voronezh in the Cassiopeia Center, now you can swim here all year round, the temperature in the pool is +30°, so I really want to tell you all this and see you here, you can get acquainted with your Higher Self, come to us, only due to this we exist, we develop. And we will continue to develop for people.

So, Irishenka, are we ready?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: "The film is super." "It would be cool with John Rockefeller." "On the topic of the film..." Well, guys, please give it a like, subscribe to this channel, and I'll know we're ready to start. 395 likes, 1073 people watching, let's give it a like and off we go. Let's subscribe to the channel, because this channel will host the most interesting and mysterious videos of the Cassiopeia Project. This will be our secret channel. Yes, I'm done. Irishenka, come on, sit down.

29:11 Introduction of the meeting participants.

Irina: Hello everyone, dear friends, I wrote for you to move here.

Greetings to all, congratulations to all on the holiday of the Holy Trinity! This holiday is a symbol of the date of birth of the Christian egregor, which influenced the increase of the vibration of the Earth, as it was created and supported by Jesus Christ himself, the Firstborn Son of God.

Yes, thank you, greetings. Happy holiday to everyone! Thank you all for your kind words.

So, our curators are present with us today, they will help to conduct the broadcast, answer questions of the Spirit of Saddam Hussein, he is a disembodied Spirit, and our curators will help me to tune in with him, and help him to tune in with me - we have very different energies, and in order for the answers to be the most accurate in this situation, without distortion, they will help to do this.

30:35 Levels of the Spirit of Saddam Hussein, past incarnations and his views.

Maxim: Greetings, Saddam Hussein. Please tell me, what spiritual level are you on now?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): At the moment I am on the sixth level.

Maxim: Archon. Tell me, please, what does this level look like from your point of view? What kind of level is this?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): This is a space in which you can build various buildings or even entire planets with the power of your thoughts, or even live as in nature. That is, this is a space for free creativity.

Maxim: But the sixth level is not such a high level to create this creativity in the Light of Love, or am I missing something?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): In the Light of Love? Only spiritual hypocrites call their feelings love, and at the same time despise the feelings of others, which they see, and which are also called love for their people, for example, or for their relatives - this is also a form of love, and those who are on the sixth level, the archons, as you said, also possess love, and no less than the Spirits on the highest levels. It's just that according to the law of the Creator, according to the law of God, it must be shown differently than we do. And so we possess it.

Maxim: And what does “to show differently” mean?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Without destroying the world and oneself, and without violence against the free will of other intelligent beings. I know very well that from the point of view of the Creator, love must take into account the free will of other beings, even if this free will is destructive.

I know that such a law was invented by the Creator for the reason that He Himself is a being who does not violate the free will of His creations, His children, even when they go against Him.

Maxim: Tell me, please, from what level did you come into the dense body of Saddam Hussein?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): On your scale, from the ninth level.

Maxim: From the ninth... And up to the sixth... I understand. Tell me, please, did you have any other significant incarnations on planet Earth and incarnations on planet Earth in general?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I had a significant incarnation on planet Earth, I read in the memory of the contactee (he shows). Perhaps you know King Nebuchadnezzar?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): He lived almost 600 years before the birth of Jesus Christ, and I incarnated in him.

Maxim: I see. And you came out of there... And was this your previous incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): No. I was also incarnated in my family, in my family egregor.

Maxim: What does it mean “incarnated in his ancestral egregor”?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): In the country where I was born in the body of Saddam, but in the body of his ancestors (he shows his maternal grandfather).

35:18 The earthly life and activities of Saddam Hussein, his cooperation and quarrel with the West.

Maxim: Please tell me how you became a leader, how did you approach running a country? What kind of family were you born into?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I was born into a very poor and despised family, which was at the lowest level of our society. I became a ruler thanks to a combination of circumstances formed by my mentors and myself through participation in military coups and an active life and political position. I also underwent training, including as a lawyer. This helped me to competently govern my state later.

Maxim: And when did you start governing your country? In what year?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I began to govern my state (he shows) in 1970.

Maxim: In 1970.

Irina: He shows me the numbers “1-9-7-0”.

Maxim: What did you want to achieve in your country?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Naturally, happiness and prosperity for all citizens of the country and the unity of the Arab world, so that we are not the dirty half-animals that the civilized West considers us to be, but equal partners with Western countries.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how did it happen that your business was connected with the United States of America? It was connected with the United States of America?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Only in the interests of the state.

Maxim: Only in the interests of the state. And what did you do, what resources did you exchange? Did you borrow money from the United States? Did the United States lend you money?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Yes, to fight for our territories and to develop minerals. You know this very well. You are very well connected with the financial egregor in terms of energy, and you understand well that the seller of any product must have great prestige, that is, a wonderful image in the eyes of a potential buyer. So, we were the sellers of the resources that exist in our country, and America and other countries that it controls directly or through its protégés were the buyers. It was very unprofitable to quarrel with them.

Maxim: How did it happen that you were declared "persona non grata" in general? Were you involved in the September 11 terrorist attack? This is the terrorist attack when the twin towers were torpedoed by planes.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): These are their games, I am not involved.

Maxim: I have nothing to do with it. It's their game. How did it happen that the United States put a huge reward on your head?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): It happened because I pursued a decisive foreign policy and decided to gather all the historical territories of my ancient state of Iraq. And for this I used military actions, which did not please those from America who were appointed as observers of the processes in our politics. You understand that the revolution that took place, the overthrow of the previous government, was financed by the CIA.

But all this was hidden from the Soviet Union's secret services. I came to power directly with their knowledge and permission. But despite the fact that I outwardly agreed with many of their theses, with which I disagreed internally, I waited to gain full power over the army, police, courts, the entire political system in order to gain independence, so that my country would gain independence in its decisions.

Yes, I made deals with the United States, and not only in relation to oil and other minerals, but also in relation to the development of chemical and bacteriological weapons. I authorized with my signature the opening of various laboratories on the territory of my state under the guise of medical hospitals.

Maxim: So, medical and biological laboratories of the United States officially existed on the territory of your country?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Of course. And they officially financed, for example, our chemical laboratories, which, together with American military chemists, developed new types of chemical weapons capable of bypassing the types of anti-chemical protection that were known in the world.

Maxim: So it’s true that you were developing chemical weapons?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Yes. Not only by ourselves, but by the Americans too.

Maxim: Then why did the Americans shake a test tube with chemical weapons and shout that you were using them against civilians? And they say that you used chemical weapons to suppress the Kurds, is that true?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Any ruler will use any weapon if they want to kill him. They wanted to overthrow me, and more than once, and they also wanted to separate part of my state and establish their own on my territory.

Maxim: So you used chemical weapons?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): They used religion, the fact that the Kurds were a certain Islamic group, which was a minority in our country. And using the religious issue, their leaders wanted to stir up discontent and separate the so-called Kurdistan from Iraq. Iran actively helped in this. Naturally, I could not allow this, since my country had to be a united state, and return its territories and oil fields, and not lose them.

Maxim: And how did it happen that you gave the United States the opportunity to make chemical laboratories and extract minerals, and then they declared you "terrorist number one" and organized a hunt for you. How and by whom was this planned, and did you know about it? That a hunt was declared for you?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I knew. I knew that they were hunting me because I stopped obeying their orders, namely the orders of the American intelligence services.

Maxim: And what orders did you stop obeying? That you didn't do what they ordered? And what did they order?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): They ordered, firstly, to open more laboratories, they ordered not to begin our independent development of nuclear weapons despite the fact that neighboring Iran was already actively developing them, I had evidence of this.

They ordered to sell oil at a certain price and to give ownership of some oil fields to their proteges, so that it would be controlled and to prevent a large increase in prosperity in our country. Because they did not want a level playing field, they wanted to dominate our peoples and occupy the first leading positions in the world.

And when I decided to return the original Iraqi lands in Kuwait, an American called me, John, the FBI or something like that, and said: "What are you doing? Leave immediately, withdraw your troops, otherwise you will be overthrown and arrested." And I reminded him that when America was developing, it did not hesitate to annex neighboring territories with much greater violence, repression and destruction of dissatisfied people in its own country. Take, for example, the war between the USA and Mexico. At this he cursed and hung up.

What I want to convey to you now is that they use double standards: when it is profitable for them, they attack, and when they lose their profit, they begin to worry about the lives of those people who just a month ago did not bother them at all.

No sound?

48:41 Childhood and personal life of Saddam Hussein.

Maxim: How come there is no sound? There is sound. Guys, please write if you have sound. There was no sound at the beginning of the broadcast. "There is sound." Thank you very much.

So, I have more serious questions prepared. There is a man named Boris, who was preparing, as I understand, for this broadcast.

Tell me, please, were you a welcome son in the family?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): No.

Maxim: Why were you an unwanted son?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I guess you should ask my parents.

Maxim: Did they treat you differently than other children? Did they beat you, humiliate you, what was wrong?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): My mother showed little love to me. My father... I didn't know my real father, my mother said he died. But when I came out into the Spiritual World, I found out that it wasn't so, he just abandoned her when I was little.

Maxim: Have you found out about the Spiritual World yet?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Yes. I believed even more that this earthly world is unfair, because it is possible for a father to abandon his wife and child, his son, and nothing happens to him for it. But this is also the destruction of life, the life of a small child, his inner world. And in fact, this is no different from war, it is just done on a smaller scale.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how many wives have you had?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Four.

Maxim: Is it true that your cousin, Adnan Kheyrallah, objected to your second marriage?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I don't care that he objected.

Maxim: Your brother died in a plane crash. Are you involved in this death?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): No.

Maxim: He died under rather mysterious circumstances.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): These are his showdowns with local criminal structures.

Maxim: I understand. Tell me, please, how many palaces did you have?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Three.

Maxim: Is it true that you spent two nights in each of your palaces, no more?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): There was such a period, but not always.

Maxim: Why was there such a period? Did you spend two nights in different palaces?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): When the American intelligence services were persecuting me.

52:10 Saddam Hussein's relations with the USSR. Arming Iraq.

Maxim: Please tell me, what was your relationship with the Russian government and the president?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Soviet? Not very good. They also wanted to sell old rusty weapons in exchange for a large amount of our oil, gold (shows), jewelry.

Maxim: Who did you buy the weapons from?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Part of it belongs to the USA, part to the USSR, part to China.

Maxim: That is, he took weapons where he could take them.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Of course, we are a backward agrarian country, what kind of production of machine guns and bullets, not to mention more complex weapons. And if the country wants to grow and develop, without weapons it is impossible, just as it is impossible to survive without a dagger in a pack of wolves.

Maxim: Is it true that before the war you took all your valuables by plane to Russia?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): No.

Maxim: Where are all your valuables?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Probably the Americans found it. After my execution, they effectively began to rule there.

Maxim: In your country, right?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): They captured the state. Naturally, they interrogated my close associates, relatives on my mother's and father's side.

54:10 About people who went missing in Iraq during the reign of Saddam Hussein.

Maxim: According to one human rights organization, almost 300,000 people went missing during your tenure. Please tell me, did such a large number of people really go missing in your country?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Perhaps even more.

Maxim: And in connection with what did this happen?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Due to the fact that with any development of the state there are victims - this is inevitable. They are simply expendable material for the future powerful state. Do you think that any soldier of any army who gives his young life in the battle to preserve power in his country is not expendable material for this country? This happens everywhere, and in America first of all. Not only in America, in general all over the Earth, including in your country. This happens everywhere, this is the norm for everyone.

Maxim: There is information that twelve ministers have disappeared, and even two of your sons-in-law have gone missing, is this really true?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): If you are talking about these people, they did not go missing, they were simply killed by the Americans, they are hiding this fact because there was a war there. And I was just talking about other missing people, of whom there were also many during the war with Iran, for example, and also during the suppression of the Kurdish rebellion. There, too, many went missing.

56:10 Capture of Saddam Hussein.

Maxim: Please tell me, how were you even able to be arrested?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): They found me because those who knew where I was simply sold this information to the American military.

Maksym: Did you sell it for a high price?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I wasn't interested. And I'm not interested at all.

Maxim: Did you have your own prisons?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): What do you mean “ours”?

Maxim: Were there prisons in your country?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): (Smiles) Do you know of any country without prisons?

Maxim: Who was kept in these prisons, and what were people mainly imprisoned for?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): For crimes, naturally.

Maxim: And did you have many crimes in the state?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Enough, the people there are very hot-tempered, prone to impulsive actions.

Maxim: Please tell me how it happened that you were arrested, how did it all happen?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I was already old. I (he shows) was hiding, not in the palace, but in the basement. My head was hurting all day, I was lying down, I had a bad feeling, and I didn't go outside all that day. Then I heard screams outside, and my guards from the inner room where I was went to the room where the door was to see what had happened. I heard the crackle of machine gun fire, and my assistants and guards did not return. I immediately realized that this was an attack. I had (shows) a pistol, and I decided that before I killed myself, I would take with me at least one or several (not a very nice word) enemies.

But when I took out the gun, my hand was shaking because I was about to appear before Allah (sighs, shows that he is upset). Then five guys in gear, helmets, vests ran into the room. I turned the gun towards them, fired, wounded someone (he shows how he bent over), the rest pounced on me, and before I could point the gun at my head, they knocked it out of my hand and put handcuffs on me. Then they started patting me on the shoulder, laughing: "Grandpa, stop fooling around, come with us," they said in English.

1:00:30 On chemical weapons testing on humans in Iraq.

Maxim: I understand. And when Colin Powell shook a test tube at the United Nations and proved the existence of biological weapons, did he know for sure that you had these biological weapons?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Chemical.

Maxim: Chemical, yes.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Naturally, they themselves provided many tons of sarin, mustard gas, and much more. And they set up production in our laboratories. They themselves supervised it and tested it, including on people who were sitting in our prisons. This was our form of death penalty. Naturally, we did not inform relatives about this, but reported that he was simply shot or hanged, or even escaped, killed while trying to escape.

But in reality, they conducted various experiments (he shows), people in white coats dressed the test subject in military chemical protection equipment and in a special sealed room changed the concentration of substances and their formula in order to understand how to bypass this protection.

Maxim: Have you met Colin Powell in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): No.

1:02:08 Other incarnations of the Spirit of Saddam Hussein.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did you have incarnations on planet Earth 12,000 years ago?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Not on Earth. I was incarnated 12,000 years ago as a representative of the planet Tashig, a Tashigan. At the time of the war with the Selbet people, with the reptilians, I was on Phaeton.

Maxim: The planet that was destroyed.

Irina (Hussein): Yes, I was a scientist, a biologist, I was researching different forms of organic matter, from which life could potentially arise on Europa, a satellite of Jupiter. Or rather, under its soil. At that time I was conducting such research, and at the moment of the attack I was on Phaeton and saw only a bright flash through the windows of the dome (the bunker shows, the dome), I felt a strong heat in my body, as if all the blood boiled in me, and I only remember that I raised one hand, protecting my eyes from the bright light, and my body fell to the floor, I felt a blow to the floor and that was it, I left the incarnation.

1:04:17 On Iraq's attack on Kuwait.

Maxim: I understand, thank you. Tell me, please, why did you start the war in the Persian Gulf when the Iraqi army invaded Kuwait?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): To get back their territories. Kuwait is, in your opinion, an illegally created state on the original Iraqi territories, with a puppet American government. At that time there was…

He emphasizes, and the curators say, they help him answer me more clearly, since, naturally, he did not know Russian, and I, accordingly, do not know his language, we only communicate with thought forms, and they are now saying that everything he is saying now is not for the moment now, but for what was then.

01:05:23 Appeal of the Spirit of Saddam Hussein to Americans and all people.

Maxim: Tell me, please, if you were given the opportunity to address the American president now, what would you say?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I don’t keep track of who their president is.

Maxim: Now... Irina, who is the president of America? For some reason it slipped my mind.

Irina: Biden.

Maxim: Yes, Biden. Joe Biden. Did you know the politician Joe Biden?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): No.

Now I'll show him the image.

Maxim: In general, what would you like to say to the Americans? You now have such an opportunity to say something to them. You are no longer on this planet, but you can say something.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I understand that I will not say this to those Americans who brought me out of incarnation, many years have passed on Earth, and these events have already been forgotten by you. I know that many other events are happening on Earth now, no less important, and in some ways tragic for the earthly world. But I want to address precisely those Americans who support the state policy that was directed against me, which discredited my efforts to unite the Arab world and build a socialist society.

I am turning to you with such a request that before discussing me, you take a more sober look at your rulers, the American rulers, and I emphasize once again that a lot of what they do is hidden under the heading "secret". A lot of what they do with regard to nuclear, chemical, biological weapons, as well as attempts to create weapons with special waves that affect the psyche and suppress it and the human ability to resist - there are such experiments.

Of course, it is easy to call a dictator someone who fights for his people, for the prosperity of his people by violent means. It is fine to call oneself "democrats". But true democracy is manifested in openness to the people, to those voters who elected them.

They conduct secret experiments, including in other countries, taking advantage of the illiteracy and greed of local leaders, temporary tsars and presidents. Yes, I admit, I was greedy and provided them with this territory and laboratories for money. But I was not greedy for myself, I directed everything towards the development of the country, and it is not my fault that I could not do this by other methods.

I appeal not only to Americans, but to every person in general with the desire to be heard. Hear me! Your world is arranged in such a way that only those who can speak beautiful words, smile in the face and at the same time stick a dagger into the heart from behind win the political struggle. Such cruel people, who have no heart, become the leaders of the leading states of the world. I have not yet seen any exceptions.

What you see on your TV screens and read in newspapers is just a pretty picture that is shown to you so that you sleep peacefully and your digestion process is not disturbed.

Maxim: So all governments that are elected are puppet governments?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): It depends on where... To understand whether a government is a puppet or not, you need to immediately look at where the leading figures of the state keep the majority of their financial assets - that's the first thing. And secondly, you need to look at the extent to which foreign investors are allowed to interfere in the economic affairs of that state.

1:12:38 The Spirit of Saddam Hussein's address to his daughters.

Maxim: Thank you, everything is very interesting. And tell me this: if you were given the opportunity to simply turn to someone, who would you turn to now?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): To my daughters.

Maxim: What do you want to tell them?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): My dear girls (smiles). I want to tell you that despite the fact that tons of dirt was poured on me, I never hated all people. I hated only the greedy, traitors and betrayers of our Motherland. And I believe that this hatred is completely justified. I also want to tell you once again that I love you and wish you happiness. I wish you that your children, and now my grandchildren, whom I did not see, were safe and achieved everything they want.

I also want to ask your forgiveness for sometimes being insensitive, rude and cruel to you. I have hardened my heart, and it is very difficult for me to love you, but I try to do so, because you are the only Light that remained in the earthly world until the end of my days.

1:14:55 About current events on Earth and about the war in Ukraine.

Maxim: Thank you very much! I wanted to ask you: do you even know what military events are happening on planet Earth right now? Do you follow this somehow?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I don’t specifically track, but other archons share (he shows how they tell).

Maxim: You probably know about the events in Russia and Ukraine?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): They talk about it. I know from the stories of others, including the stories of those who disembodied and came to the level where I live, from there, from these territories.

Maxim: Please tell me what you hear at the level of the archons from those who come to this level and disembodied.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Different sides tell different stories. When they get into the Spiritual World, each Spirit continues to carry the idea that it adhered to during life. That is, if it got there from Russia, it tells its version of events, from Ukraine – its version.

Maxim: And which version is real?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): All realities are there - your feelings and your thoughts.

Maxim: Which can be controlled.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Of course. You can only govern if you allow yourself to be governed. I did not allow myself to be completely governed by the Americans. You know, of course, what this led to. But, nevertheless, it was my choice, which means that everyone can resist influence.

Maxim: Dear friends, please write and put a plus sign if you want to go on air with Zadornov. Just put a plus sign and indicate that we are ready to go on air with Zadornov.

Saddam, I have one last question for you: will you incarnate on planet Earth again?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I don't plan to yet. I don't plan to incarnate anywhere. And what's the question about your situation?

He says there is some other question.

Maxim: Yes, there is a question. When will this whole situation end, as you see from the Spiritual World, Archon? Although I know that you may not tell the truth.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): When will the situation end?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): This is a purely mathematical calculation. The situation will end when those people who create it end. And they will end when... From the Spiritual World, different probabilities are visible. The first probability is that this situation will end when one army defeats the other. The second situation is when this is not allowed and a truce is concluded earlier. But at the moment, the first is more likely.

Based on this probability, it is necessary to make a simple mathematical calculation: take the number of active participants in this situation, that is, a military situation. Take the number of people - from the outside, as I see it, as a policy - in each of the warring countries. Calculate by a known percentage the number of combat-ready people in each of these countries. And then, based on how many warriors, soldiers from each side are disembodied, die every day, you can roughly calculate how many days, months or years it will take to completely destroy the army that is smaller. This is a simple mathematical calculation, you can do it yourself.

Maxim: And what do you think, when the army ends, will one defeat the other?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): If everyone goes to the victorious end, then approximately 38 months.

Maxim: 38 months... If everyone goes to the victorious end, right?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): For some, victorious, for others, the opposite. But to the end. I mean to the end, victorious for myself. Every warrior, every soldier believes or wants to believe, or convinces himself that he, his people, will win, otherwise he will not be able to risk his life.

Even if someone does not believe, falls into despondency, this is usually noticeable to his colleagues, and they begin to convince him of this. Do you know what the destructive power of the crowd is?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): This is exactly what we are talking about here. One crowd, which believes in the image inspired by its government, is fighting against another crowd, which also believes in the bright image inspired by its government. The only question here is whose crowd is larger, because the level of weapons is approximately the same. So, it's all about quantity. And if someone decides to stop earlier than, as I said, that is, not to go all the way, then it will end earlier.

Maxim: Well, of course, there are still many questions, our broadcast is coming to an end, and...

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): What questions are there many of?

1:22:36 About plans for irrigating the desert.

Maxim: Yes, different ones. Now, two seconds, I'll find some last interesting question. Guys, please write some very interesting last question in the messages or in "live Q&A". Okay, here it is.

Is it true that Mr. Saddam Hussein and the Egyptian President Mr. Hosni Mubarak tried to irrigate the desert? An underground reservoir of water the size of Germany was discovered. Is it true?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): No (does not confirm).

Maxim: There was no such thing, right? And did they try to irrigate the desert?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): Not me, but my close associates. Ministers.

1:23:46 The task of incarnating the Spirit of Saddam Hussein.

Maxim: So, the very last question. What was your task before incarnation, and did you fulfill this task?

Irina (Spirit of Saddam Hussein): I did not. My task before incarnation was to develop patience, humility, and overcome difficulties. That is why I incarnated in that poor family where everyone treated each other cruelly, and lost my father early, was raised by a stepfather who treated me cruelly and beat me with a big stick because I refused to steal goats from neighbors. I was ten or twelve years old. Because of this, I ran away from home to my uncle, who taught me about life and eventually led me to education. And this was the first step to that high position that I occupied.

If I had stayed with my mother and stepfather, I would not have achieved this. But then, if I had overcome these difficulties and remained myself, developed humility before God, patience and love, forgiveness of offenses, I would have fulfilled my task, even if I had not become, let alone a president, but even just some officer, a military man, but just some shepherd - and then I would have fulfilled my task, because when, after the execution, I came out of incarnation and united with my Spirit, I saw those options that I had missed, which I have just spoken about. The only option to fulfill my task was to be in the family that I left.

Maxim: Thank you very much. Thank you very much for coming to us and helping our Project communicate with you.

Dear friends, I would like to remind you once again: be sure to subscribe to this channel, because the next video will be posted here with Osama bin Laden. We did a live broadcast with him, but we cannot post it on our main channel, subject it to "strikes". Therefore, if you subscribe and "like", I will ask the technical service on this channel within a week to post the broadcast with Osama bin Laden in the form in which we did it. Therefore, guys, subscribe to this channel. Thank you very much to Saddam Hussein.

Irina: Thank you.

Maxim: Thank you very much to all the Spirits who helped us conduct this live broadcast!

Guys, come to Voronezh, we have made a cool Center, where you can receive spiritual knowledge on the condition of "donation". And most importantly: do not forget that in the near future we are going completely, the whole center, to do an off-site event on the condition of "donation" to our Moscow center.

So hurry up, we are waiting, we will meet in our centers, at our various programs, and once again, thank you all very much for supporting our Project, for participating in astral travels in meditations, in mental healings, cosmo healings and other projects, such as “Atma”, “Sacral School”, which are in the Cassiopeia Project itself.

Guys, thank you all, I hope we will continue our broadcasts in the same format. This will be our secret channel, where we will post those broadcasts that are not very suitable for YouTube and the rules it adheres to.

That's it, bye everyone!

Children interacting with homeless animals. Raising vibrations when interacting with animals

Question: "Please tell me, is it possible to allow children to pet stray animals? Constant warnings that an animal can bite imposes a distrustful attitude towards the world and gives rise to unnecessary fears. On the other hand, there is a real danger of contracting rabies. If an animal is controlled by plasmoids, can they thus influence the outcome of another Soul's life?"

You as a parent, as an adult who is nearby, must see and feel whether this stray animal is safe from the point of view of rabies. If it has obvious signs: aggression, inappropriate behavior, you will recognize it. If you see that even if there are no signs of rabies, but the animal does not want to communicate with it - there are animals that do not allow people and children to come near them, and the child wants to communicate with it, then the animal may show aggression. You need to explain to the child that this animal does not want to communicate now, it is tired and wants to rest, it is not in the mood to talk now, we will come later, and let's do something else. Do not scold the child, but gently explain.

If you see that the animal treats the child calmly and affectionately, then there is nothing wrong with him communicating with it, on the contrary, it will increase the love in the child’s Soul and tune him to sympathy and to raising his own vibrations, because when he strokes the animal, and the animal shows signs of joy, the child will also feel joy that this love is shared with him.

An animal also has a Soul that can give love. And this can also raise a person's vibrations, but, naturally, after communicating with unfamiliar animals, you should not immediately give them, for example, a pie. You need to observe hygiene measures so as not to get infected. But the fear of getting infected should not come before teaching a child to love. That is, you need to be careful, but do not stop communication completely, see how safe it is, and explain that you do not need to tease the animal, say that it can bite, hurt, because it does not understand that you are playing with it, it can be offensive for it. You need to explain the safety rules.

If a child wants to feed, for example, a stray dog, you can feed it, but do not tease it by showing and taking away the treat. It may bite for this. If, for example, you meet a female dog with small puppies, you do not need to approach and attack the puppies, if you see that the dog is wary, it may rush away from this. An adult should explain how to behave correctly with these animals, first you need to approach the mother, pet her and very carefully, if she does not mind, pet the puppies and in no case hurt them, so that they somehow express their pain. In any case, you need to teach the child safety.

#574 Genghis Khan of the Mongol Empire - Son of the Eternal Sky. The story of life and great victories. Revelations.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LxcMlGveTDM

00:00 Start of video.

00:20 Fragments from the conference.

"...In the beginning, when I was a child, there was no writing. Writing came later, when I became a khan, I invited scientists to me..."

“...they put me in this vat so that only my head was sticking out of the blood, like a big, round cauldron, they put it on a wooden stretcher together with me and dragged it around the fire.”

“The state in which he ruled was a medieval state that included hundreds of different tribes, from completely different language families, such as Slavic, Turkic, Mongolian and Chinese…”

01:26 Introduction of participants.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): That was my name.

He greets you too.

(Spirit of Genghis Khan) Now you can call me Orlai - this is my species name at my density level, and Timershin is the name of the person in whose body I incarnated at the 3rd density level. This is what they called me in the language of my people.

01:53 Timershina's birthday.

Gaan: So, you, Timershin, incarnated on Earth from the third level of density in the 13th century?

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): At that time there was no calendar in our country, we calculated from major natural events or major natural cataclysms. For example, I was born in the third year of the red sun. That was the name of the year after which our clan, in which I was born, calculated the calendar. And the year of the red sun itself, which was three years before my birth, was the year of the great drought in our steppe, the steppe area.

He shows the pictures. I ask Archangel Michael to translate into a calendar that is understandable to us when he was born. Archangel Michael says: "According to your usual calendar from the Nativity of Christ, Timershin was born on January 12, 1155."

03:40 The percentage of negative plasmoids in the Earth's noosphere during the time of Genghis Khan.

Gahan: Okay. Then the second question. On one of the live broadcasts of "Cassiopeia" I heard that at that time, in the 13th century, negative plasmoids occupied more than 60 percent of the noosphere of our planet. Is this true or not?

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): Yes, that was the case. Not only in the 13th, from the middle of the 11th century, until about the 15th there were fluctuations. The largest percentage, yes, was 60%.

04:37 The purpose of the incarnation of Genghis Khan.

Gaan: Timershin, what was the main purpose of your incarnation at that time, and do you consider your task accomplished?

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): I incarnated as a human in that incarnation with the goal of going through the experience of a city builder, that is, organizing the processes of material construction.

He now says that he incarnated from the 12th level.

(Spirit of Genghis Khan) I incarnated in order to pass this level and become an "inventor", that is, to move to the 15th level of the Spiritual World. I incarnated in order to develop my creative and organizational abilities. This was my purpose of incarnating in this tribe through my parents.

But I did not fulfill the purpose of my incarnation, because I began to execute, kill people, developed pride and arrogance in myself, and lowered my vibrations. I left the incarnation of Timershin, to which, as I already said, I incarnated from the 12th level, to the 3rd level.

06:26 Incarnations on Earth after Genghis Khan left incarnation.

Gaan: Timershin, after your exit from incarnation, did you incarnate again on our Earth and how many times?

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): Yes, twice. I was incarnated once and now I am incarnated for the second time. The first time I was incarnated after 120 earthly years in a subtle-material civilization of the sixth level of density, in which I was the Spirit of the Earth, that is, the Spirit of the element of Earth.

I incarnated in order to overcome my pride and to learn to value life again by creating the Souls of soil microorganisms. I lived in this incarnation of the Spirit of the Earth element for about 80 years and was taken out of incarnation because I had already raised my vibrations from the 3rd to the 14th level of the Spiritual world. And almost 50 years after that I was incarnated on the 14th level of density of the plasmoids of the Kryon group, where I am now.

08:02 Parents and ancestors of Genghis Khan.

Gaan: Timershin, who were your parents? Some sources say that your great-grandfathers have Xiongnu roots, Scythians, etc. What are your connections with the Xiongnu?

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): I was born near the city of Kiyat and belonged to the Kiyat people. My mother, Oina, was from another clan, some Merkhits.

Gaan: We call it Mergits.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): Father Essyk.

Gaan: Yasuhe?

Irina: I hear Essyk. I don't hear it with my ears, it's a thought form that is transmitted.

(The Spirit of Genghis Khan) I would have written, but there were no letters.

Essyk - I hear the sound of a thought form in my mind. That was his name, and he was one of these kyats.

(The Spirit of Genghis Khan) That is why I was considered a representative of the Qiyat people. I had three brothers and two sisters. I lived with them until I was 9 years old, and then my parents died of a disease that was like an epidemic in our land. It was something related to dysentery or cholera (it shows an intestinal disease). And I survived because at that time I was in another settlement, with my relatives. We had a large family, and I was in another settlement with my father's brother. Thanks to this, I did not get sick and survived. And then my father's brother began to raise me instead of my father, and his wife became my mother.

Archangel Michael adds, he says: "If we tie this to the modern area, the city of Kiyat was located 700 kilometers from the city of Tashkent to the west." (He shows a point on the map somewhere between Tashkent and the Caspian Sea).

Gaan: Were there any roots from the Xiongnu, Scythians, Tartary?

Irina: So, were there ancestors?

Gaan: Ancestors, yes.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): I only know that my father's grandfather was also from these kyats. And my mother's grandfather and grandmother came from another land, from another country, which was to the northeast. Her family, my mother's grandfather and grandmother came from another land, they were nomads, and they came from a family that roamed to the northeast. I know this, my uncle told me about it.

Northeast of the city he just mentioned.

12:57 Genghis Khan's appearance.

Gaan: When Timershin was Genghis Khan, what did he look like?

Irina: What did you look like?

(Spirit of Genghis Khan) When I was an adult or a child?

Gaan: Height, face, hair, eye color?

Irina: Tell me, when you were young, what kind of eyes did you have and what color were they?

Now he will show me an image. I see. I see a man with a dark reddish beard, with a reddish tint, the beard is curly. He is tall, above average height. Quite stocky, I would not say plump, he is so stocky. His eyes are dark, and there is a greenish tint in them, like dark green. Straight nose, dark skin, not white. Not quite dark, brownish skin. Normal eyes, European. That is, I do not see slanted eyes. Maybe just a little, they are towards the temples, but they are not like those of modern Mongols. His skin is not yellow. At least, I see him, he is just dark.

Mint: Mongoloidnogo tipa.

Irina: He doesn't have those slanted eyes. They're normal.

Gaan: There are several hundred portraits of Timershin in the modern world, of which only one is considered to be the original, depicting the first khan of the Mongol Empire. This portrait is now in Taiwan, Taipei. This portrait depicts a middle-aged man with narrow black eyes and a sparse beard.

Irina: I don't see either a sparse beard or narrow black eyes. What I saw, I described.

Gaan: Yes, good.

Irina: He has a curly beard.

15:36 The Spirit of Genghis Khan on Writing in the Mongolian State.

Gaan: Next question: what was the writing system like during the Great Mongol State?

Irina: What do you mean, what was the writing like?

Gaan: In some literature it is written that Genghis Khan could not read and write, is this true?

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): I understood the question. In the beginning, when I was a child, there was no writing. Writing came later. When I became a khan, I invited scholars from different tribes to invent letters, an alphabet. This alphabet had 104 different symbols that denoted syllables, as well as individual letters and numbers. There were even symbols that denoted stress at the beginning or end of a sentence, to highlight the meaning of that sentence. Individual symbols were part of the alphabet. These symbols…

He shows: they look like runes - hooks in different directions, some zigzags. I don't see what resembles letters in our understanding, European ones.

17:48 Archangel Michael on the tales of "Yuan-chao bi-shi".

Gaan: In Chinese sources there is a book called "Yuan-chao bi-shi", this is "The Secret History of the Mongols" or "The Secret Tales of the Mongols". This book was translated from Chinese for the first time by the Russian scientist P.I. Kafarov in 1866, and now world scientists use this history. The question is: is this book the real history of the Mongols?

Irina: "The Secret History of the Mongols", which was found where?

Gaan: From China source, "Yuan-chao bi-shi" is called in Chinese.

Irina (Archangel Michael): There is real history there, but it is mythologized. There are myths and real stories, and it is all intertwined. I know what book you are asking about. It is like legends, like a bylina. Like among Russian bylinas there are, for example, bylinas about heroes, how they fought with various Gorynych Serpents, etc.

It was based on real events, but the dates, the names of the characters, the locations of the events and the story itself were epic. That is, they told children about times long past, it was not a historical chronicle, but stories that fathers passed on to their children in the form of an epic, and only then was it written down. That is, there are real events there, and there are mythological ones. That is, real events are depicted in a figurative form.

20:15 About the authors of the text of the book "Yuan-chao bi-shi".

Gaan: They say that this book was written by the wife of Genghis Khan's youngest son.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): No, it was written by several people, there were no women among them. Several men (he shows), who wrote it and rewrote it. That is, it was not even written all at once, it was rewritten, rewritten.

Gaan: Okay. In general, Timershin, did Genghis Khan give orders to write the history of the Mongol Empire?

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): History was written, even in my time, during my lifetime, chronicles of events were written. There were such chroniclers. And they were necessarily men who recorded various events in the state, already when I was khan. But these records remained with them, in their personal homes, there were no archives then.

21:30 The coming of Genghis Khan.

Gaan: According to the Secret History of the Mongols, Timershin disappeared without a trace for 10 years - from 1187 to 1197. Some say that Timershin was a hostage.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): No, I was not a hostage. You just need to repeat the years again.

Gaan: From 1187 to 1197. For 10 years. Some say he was a meditator or a shaman. He was studying to be a shaman, shamanism.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): The thing is that when I was 15, a shaman who was in our tribe predicted my fate. Not for me, but for my uncle, whom I considered my father. He talked to him and said that I would be a khan, a ruler. But for this, I need to be prepared for this mission. And for this, I need to undergo a rite of initiation. And at 15, being near the city of Kiyat, I underwent initiation in the steppe.

They show me. Now I'm just picking up an analogue in Irina's memory.

(Spirit of Genghis Khan) I was initiated into the shaman's assistant so that his Spirits would give me strength and teach me state management, and so that they would give me strength to become a ruler, to become a khan, and so that I could gather the tribes into one state. From 15 to 28 years old, I studied with this shaman. I did not live with him constantly, I came to him, I could leave him. And at the same time, I studied with warriors who believed in this shaman, learned military affairs, how to fight with weapons.

The warriors who also came to this shaman taught me this craft when I was still a teenager, and I was good at it. I quickly mastered various weapons: a bow, a sword, different types of weapons. We even had mock fights (he shows with men on sabers that are carved from wood). And I even defeated them, because these Spirits gave me strength.

25:25 The rite of initiation of Genghis Khan into the Khanate.

Gaan: So he was not a contactee with plasmoid civilizations?

Irina: You ask who these Spirits were?

Gaan: In the "Secret Legend of the Mongols" it is said that before each of his campaigns, Genghis Khan stood for a long time on the top of the sacred mountain Burkhan-Khaldun and silently looked at the sky. And after this ritual, he made the final decision about the military campaign.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): I was a contactee, but I was in contact with plasmoid civilizations, to which this shaman connected me at the age of 15, when he conducted an initiation, and already in that initiation he called me the great khan - Genghis Khan, which was translated from our language approximately as "Khan, who received the opportunity to connect to the mountain beam." This initiation was conducted on a hill. On the hill where I was with the shaman and his students, they made a fire, sacrificed 12 one-year-old mares - according to the number of constellations visited by the Sun. This is what the shaman said. And I was initiated into the khans, although I was not yet a khan.

I was not the ruler's heir and I myself did not fully believe in it. But the shaman said that he had a vision that I would become the great khan and would be able to found a large union of tribes, which I would rule, and I would have much wealth, much gold, many servants, slaves. He often told me this before my initiation. And when they sacrificed 12 one-year-old mares, they poured their blood into a large metal vat and sat me in this vat so that only my head stuck out of the blood. This large round cauldron was placed on a wooden stretcher with me and dragged around the fire. They carried me around 12 times, and then sat me on a large wooden chair, like a throne, which was covered with the skin of a white ram (he shows a sheepskin). I sat there, and the shaman and his assistants read spells and sang spells and appeals to the gods, circled around this throne, and they even worshiped it. And above all this the moon was shining, it was night.

An interesting ritual.

(The Spirit of Genghis Khan) This dedication lasted almost until sunrise. When the Sun showed its first ray, this ritual stopped. And it began at the moment of sunset, when it touched the horizon with its lower edge, 12 mares were sacrificed to the gods at the same time.

I was still a teenager then, and understood little, but later I began to feel how strength was growing in me, and thoughts appeared about how I could control people, what to tell them so that they could listen to me. And after that, at night, I often saw Spirits in the form of huge light people who were taller than a mountain. They came to me, introduced themselves as gods, said that they were gods, and filled me with the power of the Earth and the sky, and it was I who must decide the fate of all the peoples of the Earth, because I was chosen for this by Tengri (sky).

31:50 The meaning of the title of Genghis Khan: “By the power of the eternal sky, Dalai Khan of the entire great Mongolian people.”

Gaan: Yes, interesting. All the Mongolian khans in their letters to the leaders of other states began with the title: "By the power of the eternal sky, Dalai Khan of the entire great Mongolian people." Please explain the meaning of this phrase: "By the power of the eternal sky..."

Irina: The thing is that the word "Mongol" people, this is later. Archangel Michael says: "I will add now. The modern names of states and peoples who live there have nothing to do with the time when Timershin lived. Because then these states did not yet exist in the form they have now. There were simply tribes that lived in the steppe, in the mountains, in the territories of Central Asia, Central Asia, China, etc. The states in their modern form had not yet been formed. There were proto-states that occupied a certain area, but many tribes lived in them, and the ruler of this state was the tribe that conquered all the others by military means.

So, to say about him that he was a great Mongol ruler or something else, it’s just… The state that he ruled, it was a medieval state, which included hundreds of different tribes, from completely different language families - both Slavic and Turkic, Mongolian, Chinese.”

Gaan: Okay.

Irina: And as for “Son of the Eternal Sky”, read it again, he said this about the Mongols.

Now ask the question again.

Gaan: The sons and great-grandsons of Genghis Khan, in their letters to the leaders of other states, began with the title “By the power of the eternal sky, Dalai Khan of the entire great Mongolian people.”

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): Mongolian, that was later. As for the "Son of the Eternal Sky", that's what they called me, "Son of the Eternal Sky". There was no connection to nations then. I was considered the forefather, the forefather of all nations, I wanted as many children as possible to be born from me, to give my sacred seed to every woman.

When I became a ruler, I saw that my warriors were defeating other tribes, and the representatives of these tribes were becoming loyal to me. I had a multinational state, and I had not conquered all the tribes with blood and metal, that is, with weapons.

Many entered my state voluntarily, because I always chose the best scholars, priests, so that they would rule the state and issue fair laws. But I also paid great attention to the army, and any boy born on the territory of my empire belonged to it, and not to his family, and could be drafted into the army.

I considered myself a holy man, because the Spirits told me that I was a man in whom the heavenly power had entered. This was not the saint accepted in Christianity, these ideas did not exist then. This was a saint in the sense of "messenger of heaven". The Spirits told me in a dream, there were 5 of them, that only a messenger of heaven can have such power that even the movement of his eyes is heard.

He is now showing how he blinks his eye, and with just one blink of his eye a person could be executed.

(Spirit of Genghis Khan) The spirits said that the great sky gives only its chosen ones such power. I believed in this and decided that my seed is sacred and should be distributed to as many women as possible so that many children, other offspring, sons of the sky would appear. The seed of the Sun, the seed of the sky.

He shows: The sun is in the sky, and as if through its seed it was spreading.

38:20 Curators of Genghis Khan from the Spiritual World and plasmoid civilizations.

Gaan: Then here's a question: who was Genghis Khan's curator in the Spiritual World? From Burkhad or only from the plasmoid civilizations?

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): My curators were five Spirits. They were my main curators. I had a Guardian Angel, but I did not communicate with him, I was with these five Spirits.

Archangel Michael says that these were plasmoid civilizations of the Earth of different density levels. They were all of the earthly type, but they performed different functions. Two were, for example, Spirits of the area where he lived. One was the Spirit of another area, which was on the border of modern China and Mongolia (he shows a map). There was also the Spirit of Fire and the Spirit of Air. That is, these are different density levels and different functions of these plasmoids. But they all united, and their goal of contact was to create on Earth in the third level of density and educate such a person who could fight, that is, start a war and annex other tribes by violence. That is why this Spirit of Timershin lowered his vibrations from the 12th level to the 3rd, because he submitted to these Spirits and himself became similar to them in vibrations. At first, he was a little similar to them in vibrations because of his own blocks, and later he became completely similar to them.

Gaan: So there was no connection with the constellation Pleiades, Sirius, etc.?

Irina: He says that he had Earth plasmoids, including the Spirits of the area and the Spirits of the elements.

41:02 About the victory of Genghis Khan in the battle with the Jurchens.

Gaan: When Timershin made a campaign against the Jurchens, this is China, in 1211. The Jurchens had about 500 thousand soldiers, and Timershin had 100 thousand.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): I did not gather them at once. I negotiated with the leaders of other tribes so that they would side with me, so that we would go on campaigns together.

Many agreed, because I captivated them with my eloquence - the Spirits helped me with this. This was later an army of 500 thousand, but at first this army was from the city and its environs where I lived. Initially there were about 20 thousand. It was only later that this army that you named was gathered.

Gaan: How could he win with 100 thousand soldiers and five times more soldiers?

Irina: He said he had more than 100 thousand.

(The Spirit of Genghis Khan) Among this Chinese army there were those who were on my side, that is, traitors to their Chinese people, who also fought against the Chinese army because they wanted to join the empire. This betrayal was. There was even such a thing as poisoning their own military leaders, and in this way they brought my victory closer.

42:52 The Spirit of Genghis Khan on the selection of people for the council.

Gaan: I want to ask: Timershin had a political council, which consisted of 9 people. How did he choose these 9 people? Were they also shamans?

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): I know who you are talking about. They were like ministers who formed a council, a council, and consulted with each other. The Spirits pointed them out to me. When I looked at those who were chosen by the Spirits, who came with the desire to get into this position, and there were many candidates, a crowd, I felt a push in the back.

It shows how the impact was on a physical level.

(Spirit of Genghis Khan) I felt a push in the back from the patron Spirit and chose him.

Good contact person (laughs).

(The Spirit of Genghis Khan) You asked a question about me going up the mountain and praying to the gods before the campaigns. I not only prayed to the gods, but I also made sacrifices myself. Because I knew how to do these rituals, I sacrificed various animals and birds. In exchange for the power contained in these animals and birds, the Spirits gave me victory. For example, at night they could scare the enemy warriors, and they would run away, only hearing the noise of my army, without even starting the battle. That is, the Spirits instilled fear in them.

45:25 The Spirit of Genghis Khan on the law of "Great Ihyasa".

Gahan: Was there really a law called "Great Ihyasa"? It was the main law under Genghis Khan.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): There were several laws.

Tell me a little bit about the gist of it.

(The Spirit of Genghis Khan) There was a law on the army, there was a law on religions, on taxes from defeated peoples that were paid into the treasury.

Gaan: According to the law of the Great Ihyasa, the fundamental law, polluting any source of water, including rivers, lakes, was prohibited. Anyone who committed such an act was severely punished.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): Yes, indeed, it was forbidden to pollute not only rivers, but also to leave garbage in the parking lot where people were leaving, to set up toilets next to the river, etc. There were such laws, and for repeated violations of them, they could even execute this person, and there was even such an order - to clean streams, rivers, lakes by planting a special plant that cleaned the water.

Wherever the warriors came, they brought the roots of the plant with them and planted it. It propagated by roots. This plant (Archangel Michael tells) in Russian this plant is called calamus. It purifies water.

Gaan: As I recall, Timershin is now embodied in the plasmoid civilization of our world. I want to ask a special question to our plasmoid civilization. Our Earth is in a not very easy situation now.

Irina: Yes.

48:10 Archangel Michael on the role of plasmoid civilizations in the harmonization of the Earth's noosphere.

Gaan: As we understand it, the plasmoid civilization has rebelled against human actions to destroy the balance of nature. We are concerned about the attitude and determination of the plasmoid civilization. What fate awaits humanity in the near future?

Irina (Archangel Michael): I would not say that the plasmoids rebelled against humanity, they perform their function of cleansing and harmonizing space from negative energies that can lower the vibrations of the Solar system when spreading through the etheric networks, or even the vibrations of the Galaxy can be lowered, because the Earth is not a separate isolated part of the Cosmos.

The Earth is that part of the Cosmos that is fully integrated into the energy exchange of celestial bodies with each other, and therefore plasmoid civilizations always keep Divine energies in harmony in all planes of your planet's existence. And if people, as representatives of the Earth of the third density level, change the vibrations of their Divine energies that God gave them and generate conglomerates of negative energies in the Earth's noosphere that oppose Divine goals, then, so that these conglomerates do not spread, plasmoids cleanse them, including through natural disasters and the creation of certain types of microorganisms that can be dangerous for people because they are aggressive.

Not every person is aggressive, but aggressive thoughts can give power to these plasmoid civilizations to create life forms that are harmful to people so that they can clear their consciousness of destructive attitudes.

50:42 Archangel Michael on the amount of negative energy in the Earth's noosphere.

Gaan: Negative energy in the noosphere. Can you clarify in percentage terms what the ratio is?

Irina (Archangel Michael): At the moment, thanks to prayers and meditations, the situation has improved somewhat compared to what it was, for example, 6 months ago. Now there are about 73% of negative energies in the Earth's noosphere, and six months ago it was 82%.

Gaan: Is there still a danger?

Irina (Archangel Michael): When you achieve harmony in 50% of negative energies in the Earth's noosphere, then many people will feel the Light in themselves and the Light in space, and this will help them achieve enlightenment.

51:46 Archangel Michael on the birthmark on the lower back of Mongolian children.

Gaan: Most Mongolian children are born with a blue spot on their lower back. What does this blue spot mean in almost 100% of Mongolian children, Archangel Michael?

Irina (Archangel Michael): You could say it is a feature of the body that denotes belonging to this people. If you look at it physically, it is a certain structure of proteins that is determined by the genetic feature of your DNA. And if you look at it from a spiritual point of view, it is a mark not of all the peoples of Mongolia, but of a certain people.

Similar marks are found in representatives of the same family, who are born, for example, with a birthmark. And it can be repeated in different generations. Something similar is happening to you. It is like a sign of a national egregor.

53:15 Exit from the incarnation of the Spirit of Genghis Khan. Appeal to modern humanity.

Gaan: Genghis Khan, Timershin, your appeal to modern humanity, to the Mongols.

Irina (Spirit of Genghis Khan): I want to say that I came out of the incarnation in which I was this man – the Great Khan, at a fairly old age, when I was 72 years old. Despite my fairly old age, I was still a strong, able-bodied man who traveled on horseback with his troops quite far and still continued to fight.

I was taken out of incarnation not in battle, but because I had been wounded in battle about two weeks earlier, and from this wound an infection gradually developed, I died in a state of fever, delirium (he shows). This happened on the territory of China.

Archangel Michael shows a modern map, it was in the territory of southwestern China. There are no mountains there, but foothills near Tibet.

Gaan: Tangut at that time.

Irina: It shows hills, valleys, foothills, but there are no high mountains yet, peaks like the Himalayas. But there are sometimes quite steep climbs and descents, and steppe is spread out here and there. Foothills.

(Spirit of Genghis Khan) In a battle with one of the Chinese tribes, there were many tribes there too, I was wounded by a short spear. A piercing weapon that looked like a spear, but with a short handle. After the wound, it was in the left shoulder, I, as always, came to my healers, who treated me with herbs. I also prayed to my gods, and at first there was no pain, but gradually an infection developed, from which I died at night. And when I realized that I was dying, my consciousness cleared up, and I said: "There is no greater shame for a warrior than to die in his bed during a military campaign."

I was very sorry that it happened this way. I am dying from a simple wound that I could have survived. I left behind not only those 13 children that everyone knows about from 4 official wives. I had many mistresses or concubines, and they also bore me children. Later, in the Spiritual World, I learned how many children in total - sons and daughters - were born from me to different women, there were 523 of them. This is for all time. I had sexual intercourse from the age of 13, and at 13 I became a father. My last night with a woman was literally three days before my death, and it also ended with the conception of a child.

I have just told you that I felt quite happy then with what I was doing on Earth, and I considered it my destiny. I considered those gods who came to me as light gods. But when I came to the 3rd level of the Spiritual world, I saw only darkness, but it was spiritual darkness. It was the darkness of my ignorance about the Spiritual world. And only then I turned to God, the Creator, and he showed me pictures of what I should have done, and what I did not do.

I want to address you now, dear friends. Never seek fame, money, women by destroying other people's lives. This will only lead you to degradation. And even if the whole world worships you, the whole world recognizes your merits and considers you a hero, this heroism is worth nothing in the eyes of the Heavenly Father, for whom only the Light of His Divine Love in the heart of man is valuable. Remember this.

No earthly glory can be a consolation after you get to the lower level of the Spiritual world, where hatred, malice, curses and lamentations towards God reign.

I asked for a new incarnation because it was very painful for me to be on the 3rd level, and they helped me incarnate into the Spirit of the Earth, which I was, and rose to the 11th level, that is, almost to the one from which I originally came as Genghis Khan. And after this incarnation, I realized that it is better to be a simple earthly worker than a great khan who ruins lives. It is better to be a poor, but honest and pure person than a hypocritical liar who is worshiped by the whole world.

And also, when I found myself in the Spiritual World, I also forgave my plasmoid curators who came to me under the guise of gods. I was also offended by them, that they brought me to this state, to this swamp. I blamed them for this, but I did not take responsibility for it. And already incarnated as the Spirit of the Earth, I understood that the responsibility was only mine, and they were my teachers who tested me for my pride or love for people.

Also, when I got to the 3rd level, I blamed the shaman who conducted my initiation and declared me a great khan at the age of 15. But after the incarnation of the Spirit of the Earth, I realized that he was not guilty of anything. He was also my teacher, who was sent to me as a test of my love for people, but I did not pass it.

I am now at the 14th level of density, and at the moment I am almost 600 earthly years old, my spiritual level is 18, although I incarnated from the 11th spiritual level into the body of this subtle being. That is, in two incarnations I rose from the 3rd level to the 18th. And my incarnation is not finished yet. I can improve further.

Now I am telling you this from the memory of my non-embodied Spirit, and my embodied part knows about it intuitively, and always communicates with its non-embodied part. That energetic essence that is now talking to Irina is a part of my personality, in which is located the memory that is needed for this conversation, this conference. I have now explained who I am.

I want to address you from the position of the 18th level, which remembers these incarnations and has analyzed them. And now I can tell you that even if you have fallen very low - do not despair. There is a way out of any abyss. God loves everyone. He is waiting for everyone, regardless of who people consider you to be. And despite my difficult incarnation as Timershin, I do not regret it. It gave me invaluable experience of existence in the energies of human glory without true Divine Love.

I realized that I was only feared, but not loved, but quietly hated. And I send everyone the Light of my Love from the 18th level of the Spiritual world and wish that you would go a brighter path, and that you would have less suffering than I did. But the path of each of you is your experience. I can only give you spiritual advice: always listen to your heart, full of love. But there is a heart full of hatred, and you don't need to listen to it. You need to listen to God's commandments. And they are simple: value the life of every person as you value your own.

Gaan: Thank you, thank you very much.

Irina: Congratulations that you are now at level 18. This is already the level of the Guardian Angel. He says: "This is not the limit, my incarnation is not finished."

Gaan: Thank you, dear Irina, for this broadcast. And thank you, Archangel Michael.

Irina: I also thank Timershin. I thank Archangel Michael for the answers, I also found them very interesting. I also thank you, Gaan, for the interesting questions and for leading the conversation. And I thank you, dear viewers. I love you. Until next time.

The reason for the fear of earthlings before reptilians and the negative attitude towards them
Such opinions in your society arose from the memory of that war that took place twelve thousand years ago. It entered into religious descriptions, mythology, ideas about your various ancient civilizations and became part of your noosphere, what you call archetypes of consciousness. That is, a certain dragon or serpent, possessing intelligence, is perceived as threatening your security.
People who are contactees are a product of your social egregors. And their consciousness is a product of the influence of various social opinions, religious teachings, historical doctrines, and the like. This happens with any contactee, as well as with any person.
Why does this happen? Because any contactee went through a "childhood stage", a "youth stage" and went through a period when he actively became acquainted with various mythologies, with descriptions of religious texts about the evil brought by various snakes, dragons, lizards. This is especially common in Christian culture, for the reason that the Jewish and Christian egregor was created based on the views of the Burkhadians and Tumesoutians, who, naturally, put into it the spirit of that war with the reptilians, which they had recently experienced. For them, this is one life, it was not interrupted.
This is especially developed in Western civilization, which has been created for two thousand years on the basis of Christian and Jewish egregors. The egregor was created mainly by representatives of Tumesout and Burkhad. They came to contactees in their spiritual bodies. But it is necessary to understand that for them that war with the reptilians twelve thousand years ago was in the memory of their own generations. They tried to create a more or less neutral attitude towards these creatures, but this may not always work out, especially if you have in your memory an image of how the ship of the Selbetians directs a beam that destroys your ship with five hundred of your compatriots.

All the same, it remains in the subconscious. And it is transmitted through contact. It is necessary to understand: the attitude is formed by the fact that the evil force, mainly in Christianity, began to be called a dragon or a serpent. This is the first thing.
Second: because of the peculiarities of the psychology of the reptilian races, they are perceived as cold-blooded. If they are cold-blooded physically, then they are perceived as cruel and emotionless creatures. This archetype of consciousness is already embedded in your society. This knowledge is embedded in the subconscious part of each of you.
Image by Madina
When any plasmoid civilizations, which are dozens of times more numerous than humanoid ones, come into contact with your contactees, and if this contactee has even the slightest fear towards his curators, he will express this fear as fear and anxiety. And then, if these were low-vibration plasmoids that feed on the energy of fear, reading an image from the subconscious of a person, they read that the most terrible thing for him is precisely such a race from an alien world. They accept this image and pretend to attack in the Astral, that they set up various channels for taking energy and even just bite them, and so on.
These images are aimed: firstly, to take away more energy of fear and, secondly, to further set the person, the contactee and the one who will listen to him, against this image. Everything is reinforced by your mass culture, cinematography, which, making fantastic films about the confrontation of good and evil cosmic forces, in order to cause fear and disgust towards the force that they call evil, make it unattractive in appearance: eyes, teeth. They can make it in the form of a lizard.
All this also leaves an imprint on your culture. Therefore, you already automatically perceive (many of you, including contactees) this image as something hostile, from which you need to free yourself.

00:00 Start of video.

00:05 Greetings and news from the Cassiopeia Project.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello to all. We had some minor technical difficulties. Yes, we are on air here. But now, thanks to the fact that I watched all of you, I know our entire geography. "Hurray!" I am also very glad that we launched. You know, while this situation was happening, I positioned the camera a little differently. And it seems to me that this angle will be more favorable for you, because the camera is a little higher. I will communicate with you. It is a pleasure. Good.

As always, I will start with the news. I will not keep you. I will not tell you about our essential oils, which are the best in the world, about our probiotic microorganisms, the reviews of which are simply mesmerizing sometimes. People get rid of ulcers, various gastrointestinal infections, cleanse the lymph, blood. I will not tell you about natural health products. You can simply go to our website of the Cassiopeia Health Center and look at all our products that we use. These are not chemicals, but they are very effective for healing your body.

We have a website "Cassiopeia Center", there is a website of the Health Center "Cassiopeia". We have functioning houses, in our Center there are two luxurious buildings, a summer heated pool, where we will conduct meditations.

Yes, by the way, I want to tell you that we are starting a new course tomorrow, it’s called “Immersion”.

Yes, I really did participate in the marathon, took our probiotics and lost about eight kilograms. I think that if I lose another 12-15 kilograms, I will get back into shape. Therefore, if you also want to participate in marathons, cleanse your body, you can use our probiotic microorganisms. By the way, Irina also started taking them, and she also has very interesting, good results. Plus, we gradually started doing sports. Irina and I have more time.

"Are you gay?" No, I'm not, guys. And I have a special attitude towards people of non-traditional sexual orientation. I am an absolutely normal Russian man, a Slav, and I do not belong to this category of people.

Irina and I started doing sports, started drinking our probiotic microorganisms. Plus, you know that the process of weight harmonization can also be done with the help of our essential oils. And, accordingly, I would like to tell you about "Cassiopeia Energy". This is actually cool too.

So, "Immersion". All those who want to break away for a week and fully immerse themselves in practices in warm pools, meditation, yoga, various spiritual practices, we have launched a new course "Immersion". And from tomorrow you can just break away for a week and have fun at the Center to the fullest. Therefore, if you wanted to go somewhere far away from people in order to get a new pumping, new knowledge, you can dive into our Center right from tomorrow and immerse yourself in all spiritual practices for 6 days.

If you suddenly liked this offer, or you were waiting for this offer, call the phone number +7 (988) 910-00-40. I will check the phone again. You know, I have recently begun to doubt something, something is happening, some kind of restructuring with the memory. My huge files load well, but short files have stopped loading normally. Everything is correct, call this phone number. My assistant is there, my right hand, her name is Lena. She can answer absolutely all your questions that concern our Project.

I would also like to remind you that we will be at the Domodedovo Center in Moscow with a contactee program starting from June 14. And we are bringing this program to our Center on a donation basis. That is, if you have not yet completed the contactee course, or you do not have enough time to come to us, we are going to the Domodedovo Center from June 15 to 17, four days of full intensive training on the first stage of the contactee courses. Therefore, call +7 (988) 910-00-40, sign up for this course. I do not know if there are any places left, but when I inquired this morning, there were still three or four possible places.

And the most interesting thing is that you can live there and stay in tents, in sleeping bags. Lena will explain everything. The only thing is that there is a fixed fee - this is food and, accordingly, accommodation in the Center itself on normal beds.

In general, we have had a huge amount of different news lately, so much so that sometimes I don’t even have time to process it all.

"For about a year and a half?" Guys, I have some good news for you, or maybe some bad news, I don't know. I can't help but tell you about it. In general, I am a very open and frank person, and I have nothing to hide, basically. I broke up with my girlfriend. As two adult, educated people, we realized that a person who is not deeply immersed in esotericism cannot live next to an esotericist, a schizoteric. I am a schizoteric. I realized that my whole life is responsibility and paying attention to the Project itself. I will tell you honestly, I really don't have enough time for my personal life. And I want to thank Tatyana, who has been with me for these three years. She helped me run this Project, helped with the Wellness Center. But the time came when we stopped understanding each other. This also happens.

I understand that there is no such thing as one wrong person and the other wrong person. There are always two wrong people in a breakup. But I will tell you the good news that we broke up as two absolutely literate, sensible people so that each of us could set up our lives in those necessary, needed life circumstances that suit both of us. That is, Tatyana, so that her advancement would suit her. I really spent very little time with my girlfriend because I spend a lot of time on the Project. Therefore, if suddenly something was wrong, Tatyana, I ask your forgiveness. I am probably a schizoteric person and am completely immersed in the Project.

We have Pavel Yakovlevich, the chief caretaker, he says that I am married to the Cassiopeia Project. Perhaps this is my destiny. And I will devote all my time to the Project, because I believe that this is my destiny.

And family relationships are really a big responsibility. A lot of time that needs to be devoted to the family, and to be responsible for it. And I, unfortunately, devote a lot of time to the Project and cannot devote time to the family. Therefore, if in this life there is that schizoteric woman, of the same format, who will understand me and the Project, then something may be different. And now, at this moment in time, it is exactly like this. Therefore, do not be upset. I think that the space is formed exactly so that it will be good.

No, guys, I don’t think I’m alone. I devote all my time, my whole life to the Project. For the last four years, I’ve been living in the Cassiopeia family and devoting all my time to it. Of course, it’s hard for a girl who wants attention, who wants more love, more time, to be around me. Unfortunately, I can’t do it. But now I’m completely immersed in the Project, and all the tasks, all the construction moments, all the development will go a little faster. So there’s a big plus in this, that I’ll be devoting time to the Project.

Let me remind you once again. The Immersion project starts tomorrow. This is a new unique project with practices in the water in our new pool, warm, thirty degrees. You know how interesting. When it's twenty outside, and thirty in the pool, and you don't want to get out at all. Next - from June 15 to 17 we have Domodedovo. This is exactly when the Immersion project is here, we will be in Domodedovo. There we conduct the first stage of the contactee group. That is, this is not self-healing through the Higher Self, these are not astral travels, this is not the science of imagery. This is a real contactee course, where we will introduce you to the structure of the Universe, where you will learn who the curators, mentors are, you will get to know your curators, mentors. And, accordingly, then you will be able to get an appointment with Irina Podzorova.

Zadornov is here, yes, Zadornov will be here. I have literally one more minute and that's it. And I forgot the most important thing. Ufa, I welcome you. From August 2 to 5, we will be in Ufa. Moreover, we will not be alone, Guzel Maliarova is coming with us. She has a separate evening program. There will be an hour and a half of internal lectures on cosmohealing, feedback from Guzel's curators and full-fledged sessions with cosmohealing. Guys, sign up. There are limited places, we cannot accept everyone there, unfortunately. Call +7 (988) 910-00-40, sign up.

Thank you all very much, very much. Thank you all for your support, for your help, for how you do it, with what Soul you do it. Thank you all very much and I pass the microphone to the "gold of the party", the "scarlet flower". Meet Irina Podzorova and her curators.

Irina: Good evening, dear friends! I greet you all. Thank you all!

Maxim: You know that Irishka has also lost a little weight. If I were you, I would notice this, because Irishka is a great girl. Although she is a contactee, although she devotes a lot of time to people and contact, but recently we have decided to direct the Project and all of our people in the Project to complete harmonization in order to look good, feel good and transmit information even better.

Irina: Dear friends, so much kindness, compliments, love. I am just bathing in your ocean of love. I thank you and send you the Light of my Love, gratitude and greet you. Good evening.

Maxim: Who is with us now?

Irina: I will introduce myself. Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with plasmoid, subtle-material worlds and representatives of the world of non-embodied Spirits. I am a universal contactee, I transmit information from different entities.

15:49 Greeting from the Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov.

Irina: Today's live broadcast is dedicated to the non-embodied Spirit, who in his last incarnation was known as the artist Mikhail Zadornov. He agreed to come. He made contact with great pleasure and interest. He is very interested in communicating with all of us. He thanks all of us and you for the invitation and says: "I am very flattered."

Maxim: And we are very flattered.

Irina: He says: “I’m even a little sorry that I didn’t live to see your Project on Earth.”

Maxim: Mikhail, I greet you. I want to express my gratitude to you for who you were on this planet. I watched you very often and a lot. And, you know, everything you said was just on topic and you hit the nail on the head. How did you do it?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I felt what was happening intuitively, with my heart. I always spoke, as you call it, in the flow. I was in the flow of information and very often after my speeches I listened to them again. Information was lost from memory, and I listened again.

Maxim: I understand you perfectly well, what you are talking about now. Sometimes I also listen to myself again. I am serious. When you speak in a stream, a large amount of information just passes by, like one second. It seems like you are talking for a long time, but it passes by like one second.

How can I address you, tell me? Can I just call you Mikhail, Misha?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): You can be Mikhail, you can be Misha, Mishenka, Mishulya.

Maxim: Mishulya. I won't be so familiar. Mikhail, please tell me, from what spiritual level did you come to this planet and to what spiritual level did you leave?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I came according to the terminology of the Interstellar Union, which LiShioni gave me...

He is also with us now, by the way. Greetings from LiShioni to you all. He came with Mikhail.

(Spirit of Michael) According to the classification of the Interstellar Union, which LiShioni gave me, I incarnated from the 10th level and went to the 17th spiritual level thanks to the care of my Soul of Father Andrey.

Maxim: Thanks to the care of your Soul, who?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Father Andrey, who heard my last confession.

Shows the priest.

19:28 Mikhail Zadornov's attitude to God. Formation of the bloc.

Maxim: How did you feel about faith in general? Did you believe in God?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): The thing is that I have reached this level recently. A very big spiritual breakthrough happened during the last year of my life on Earth. Analyzing my incarnation, I realized that I spent most of the years of my life, coming from about the 12th, 13th, 14th level, from the middle.

Maxim: And what happened last time? Please tell us in detail.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I accepted the will of God. I fully understood and realized what God's care for humanity consists of. Before that, I was offended. I was offended by God, I was grumbling about fate and had a lot of condemnation towards political egregors, towards my country and towards other countries. And because of this, I had accumulated a huge block in the area of the seventh chakra.

Maxim: What kind of block is this?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Condemnation and grumbling against God.

Maxim: What does God have to do with it?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I thought that he created an imperfect world. And that means he is hypocritical, calling us to goodness, order and love, but he himself allowed evil to arise.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you very much, Mikhail.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I realized that it is not so. I realized that I was wrong, and this was my repentance. When I realized that without this admission of evil there is no true love, because love accepts absolutely any being.

Maxim: How interesting.

22:17 Oncology at Mikhail Zadornov.

Maxim: Tell me, please, is it true that you have been suffering from cancer recently?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, I had an oncological tumor caused by a long-term presence of a negative energy block in the area of the etheric matrix of the head. And even despite my awareness, repentance and dissolution of this block, the physical body was irreparably damaged. But I did not live to the time of exit from incarnation that I had set for myself, seven and a half months.

Maxim: You didn’t live to see the end of your incarnation, which you had planned for yourself, right?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Before incarnation.

Maxim: In principle, it turns out that this is a short period of time. Did you plan all this?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, but from another illness, not from cancer, not from an oncological disease. I planned to leave the incarnation due to cardiac arrest, that is, from a disturbance in the rhythm, but there was another reason.

23:32 Spiritual causes of oncology.

Maxim: Tell me, please, is there some spiritual reason for your cancer?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Rejection of God, rejection of the world and condemnation.

Maxim: Tell me, please, oncology, what is it on the spiritual level? Now from the Spiritual world, understanding this, can you say?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes.

Maxim: Please tell me, what is oncology on a spiritual level?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Do you understand the word “self-flagellation”?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): This is self-eating. Self-flagellation in the sense that a person begins to destroy himself with his thoughts about either he is not perfect, or the world in which he lives. And these thoughts take up a lot of time. Naturally, I was an optimist by nature. I strove for the Light, fortunately, that is why I chose the path of humor, the acting profession. Because behind this humor I hid my pain.

Irina: That is, there was a manifestation, he is showing it to me now.

Maxim: I understand. That is, you translated destructive internal emotions into constructive humor.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): When I was very often painful to look at something, emotionally painful inside, I could not accept it, I devalued it, turning it into a joke, and I myself sincerely laughed at this joke, and this problem no longer seemed so terrible to me, from which one can experience pain.

He shows that he does everything from the Soul. But in many ways it was provoked. But not all his jokes, but many of his jokes were from condemnation. Some jokes were to bring joy, to bring Light, to give people the opportunity to rejoice.

26:13 Mikhail Zadornov's tasks for implementation.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what tasks, in principle, were defined by you for this incarnation on Earth as Mikhail Zadornov?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): My tasks were to learn to manage my leadership instinct, that is, to organize people and create organizations.

Maxim: Did you cope with this task?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, I did it. Because I organized many projects in the field of art, in the field of directing, I wrote books and organized my performances. And all of this was a project.

27:04 The spirit of Mikhail Zadornov about his incarnations.

Maxim: Listen, I just remembered something cool. You've been really into Vedic Old Russian culture lately, I think, right?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, but it was not accidental. My non-embodied part of the Spirit or Higher Self, as it is recorded in the memory of the contactee, sent me information that entered my subconscious that I spent several lives among the Slavic tribes as sorcerers.

Maxim: How interesting. Now, being in the Spiritual World, can you tell how many incarnations you had on planet Earth, and what kind of incarnations they were?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): On planet Earth I had 11 incarnations, including Michael.

Maxim: Can you tell us briefly? Because many people who will watch this now are really interested in who you incarnated as on this planet.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I have incarnated in different countries, in different tribes. As I have already said, I have incarnated three times in Slavic tribes in the sixth century of the new era. I incarnated in the ninth century, also in a Slavic tribe. Another 200 years later, in the 11th century, not far from Novgorod in a village that was only 20 kilometers from the village where I lived before.

Maxim: What is the reason for such a large number of incarnations on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I also incarnated in the Jewish egregor. Maybe you heard, there was such a religious figure before the Christian period after the Babylonian tribe as Nehemiah.

I understood who he was talking about. This was the priest, the prophet, who restored Jerusalem after the Babylonian captivity. He was incarnated in it. But this was not the last incarnation.

Maxim: So it turns out that you now remember all your incarnations, right?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes. But my last incarnation before Michael was not on Earth.

Maxim: Where?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I incarnated on another planet. In a humanoid race. It was a reptilian race in the constellation of Orion on one of those planets that you call the "Order of Six".

Maxim: So it turns out that your previous incarnation was on the planet of the reptilians of the “Order of Six”, which does not treat our planet very well?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, but I was a female there.

Maxim: How many children did you have?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Fourteen.

Maxim: Fourteen. It is clear why the reptilian race is one of the largest in our Galaxy. And how many years do they live there?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I lived there for 744 years.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what did your Spirit gain from incarnation on a reptilian planet before coming to Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): In general, on this planet the vibrations have decreased from 18th to 10th.

Maxim: So before the reptilians you were at the 18th level?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes.

Maxim: And now on the seventeenth?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes. Almost returned the level. I lowered my vibrations because I had accumulated a lot of internal aggression towards the government of my planet of the Orion constellation, which oppressed dissenters, that is, those who did not agree with the government's course. That is, there was internal aggression.

Maxim: I understand. They ask you to tell them what you think about Yeltsin and to express your point of view... But no, guys. We try not to get involved in politics, no need.

Irina: He says: “I’m accepting everyone now...”

Maxim: Do I accept everyone?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I have changed radically after connecting with my Spirit.

Maxim: They write: "Maxim has somehow become lighter, as if a burden has been lifted." Nadezhda, to be honest, yes. Now I understand that I can dedicate my whole life, every second of my life to the Project. For me, this is very, very important. So everything is right, Nadezhda, you noticed. And I really want Tatyana to find herself a worthy man who will devote maximum time to her and love her in all her forms and manifestations.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I send the Light of my Love to Maxim, the Light of my gratitude for the creation of this Project. Remember: the entire angelic world is with you.

Maxim: Thank you, Mikhail, I feel it, I know it and I try to live up to it. True, I don’t always succeed, but I think that with time everything will work out.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): The worst thing is not when a person falls, but when he does not want to get up.

Maxim: Yes, I have fallen a lot in my life. Getting up is normal for me. In all senses and respects.

Irina: He's smiling.

Maxim: Please tell me, which of your incarnations do you consider very important, significant for you? How many incarnations has your Spirit had?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): In total, I have had 748 incarnations.

Maxim: We are talking about this manvantara now, right?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes.

Maxim: Have you ever incarnated in other manvantaras?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, he was incarnated.

Maxim: Is the counting different there or is it all incarnations in the manvantara?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Each manvantara begins from zero.

Maxim: That is, when we now speak of eight hundred and forty-something incarnations, we are speaking from the zero of this manvantara. Is that correct?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes.

Maxim: I'm just clarifying why, dear friends, because many people are watching us, new people appear, and they are a little out of touch with such questions, nuances. That's why I've now even clarified for myself once again what I understand. Thank you very much, Mikhail, for your answer.

35:15 The spirit of Mikhail Zadornov about contact with Archangel Michael.

Maxim: Another question. Did you consider yourself a contactee and were you in contact?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I realized that I was constantly in contact with my patron, after whom my parents named me - this is Archangel Michael. And I understand that I often felt this contact, and he often protected me from various dangerous situations, saved me from various injuries, illnesses, although I led a fairly active lifestyle associated with a careless attitude to my body. And when after leaving the incarnation I met Archangel Michael, he revealed himself to me as my curator.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what do you feel when you go from the Earth world to the Spiritual world?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): A feeling of expansion of your body, a feeling of weightlessness, dizziness. A slight fear that a person has at that moment, perhaps, when you had the feeling of a sharp fall. That is, the instinct of self-preservation is activated. And at the same time, when you understand that you are free, and you are not held back by space, not held back by the body, joy appears, even to the point of delight.

And at that moment you see the Light, you look into it and you see that it comes from two very light figures dressed in all white, who gradually appear as men. They appear to have male faces.

Maxim: But the Spirit has no gender. That is, they manifest themselves to you as they want to present themselves to you, so that you understand them, right?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes. I have now also accepted the image of my last body, my last incarnation, that is, a male image.

Maxim: Not a female reptilian, right?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I can remember him too. I am more accustomed to feeling the last body.

Maxim: Is it really possible for you to remember your female reptilian image?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes.

Maxim: Can you show it to Irina?

Irina: He shows me a dark green reptilian with a long neck. There is a ridge on the back of the neck. And I see small wings. A long neck, like an ostrich.

(Spirit of Michael) This is exactly what our race has. Such a dark green color, and the neck is lighter. A small head, teeth quite large, like fangs. The eyes are deep-set, and the jaw is slightly forward.

Maxim: That's it, I got it. I've even drawn an image. Thank you very much. This is an experiment. I just wanted to see. We never do this. Tell me, please, when you came out of incarnation, did you meet Archangel Michael. Who else met you, besides the Archangel?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): First I was met by the Angels-guides. And already in the Spiritual world, in the eternal spiritual home, that is, in that space of my level, where I had already been for some time, my subjective, some duration had passed, some interval. And only then, after that, I met with Archangel Michael.

39:43 The Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov about aliens.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did you believe in aliens?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes.

Maxim: Have you had any contacts with aliens?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): There are no conscious ones. I wanted to contact them, but not all of them, but those who bring goodness and Light. But I had some concerns about the takeover of the Earth. Maybe you heard what some esotericists say, that aliens are creating a Secret Council and influencing the government.

Maxim: Yes, finally.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I believed in this too.

Maxim: So you believed in the World Conspiracy, that aliens were ready to take over the Earth through our people?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Not all aliens, some of them, who have enslaved the light aliens. And the light ones are kind of thrown back and have no opportunity to help. Have you heard such theories?

Maxim: Yes. And what do you think now that you have found yourself in the Spiritual World? What can you become about this?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I remembered all my incarnations, including the incarnation on the planet Burkhad, on the planet Tumesout, on the planet Esler, as I already said. It was a long time ago. And on the planet of the Order of the Six and on other planets, in other galaxies. I compared all this and came to the conclusion that such information does not accidentally get into the earthly media space. It is deliberately exaggerated by some people who serve to denigrate the image of aliens.

Maxim: Yes, I also often encounter this information. Basically, this information is due to people's fears and rejection of other forms of life. We often encounter such theories, such contactees in the Cassiopeia Project. Therefore, for me, this is also normal information, I know it.

41:55 Mikhail Zadornov's meeting with parents in the Spiritual World.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did you meet your parents there, in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, I saw them. Mom is on the 18th level, Dad is on the 12th level. Mom came to me, and then we went together to Dad.

Maxim: Svetlana Ignatovich asks me to tell you that she still listens to your speeches and thanks to your speeches she raises her vibrations.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I am very glad about this, Svetlana. I thank you. Indeed, many of my books, magazine articles, speeches, and film roles were bright, because I always rejected evil humor, which lowers vibrations.

Maxim: I know that you have had a very ambivalent attitude towards Christianity lately and have been fascinated by various old Russian Vedic cultures. Is that true?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I was fascinated by various studies on the topic of Slavophilism, on the topic of the anti-Viking idea in the history of Rus'. I was generally fascinated by studies of the Aryan civilization, Hyperborea, and so on.

But I always loved Jesus. I always held him up as an example. I read about him, I read the Bible. And I sometimes criticized the church. But not the church itself. I never laughed at faith. Only at the distortion of faith. That which spoils it.

Maxim: I understand, thank you very much for your answer.

44:19 A source of humor for Mikhail Zadornov.

Maxim: Tell me, please, where did you get your humor from? Where did you get your lyrics from?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Where did I get this from? I took it from life. For example, I could go, see some scene on the street, in a store and make a video out of it. For example, I remember it was in Moscow. I arrived by car and went to the trash bins to throw out the trash. When I was throwing it out, I saw a homeless person rummaging through the neighboring trash bin, and an iPhone was sticking out of his pocket.

I decided to joke about it. Because, having sold this iPhone, I assessed its model and thought that it was not broken, because it was in my pocket, and that having sold it, he could rent an apartment. Not an apartment, but a room (he shows an inexpensive model). Eat comfortably for a whole month and find a job during this time.

Maxim: That's right. Dear friends, I ask you, please, if you like our broadcasts, if you like what we talk about, please give us a like. Just like and be sure to click the bell, subscribe to our channel so you don't miss any broadcasts. Today we started at 20:00. Our broadcast ended, and everyone who is subscribed to our channel was able to receive a notification that the broadcast would be at 21:00. So please give us a like if you like our broadcasts.

And we continue the great conversation with the Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov. Please write questions. I read questions from chats, from broadcasts, I read questions from YouTube.

"Put." Thanks, AstroDuster, for the like. "Awesome, thank you." And we thank you, guys. Because if it weren't for you, if it weren't for your likes, no one would know us. Thank you so much!

47:13 The Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov on a Sense of Humor.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you continue to joke while in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Rather than joking, I simply look at everything around me with good humor. Because a sense of humor is the ability of the mind to look at any events from a different angle, not standard for most people around you, which makes them laugh.

Maxim: Mikhail, I have a serious personal question for you. Aren't you afraid of being incarnated in America? Because you always joked about them, mocked the Americans. Aren't you afraid of being incarnated there?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I made fun of Russians no less. I made fun of Americans in the context of our Russian people's too easy adoption of their culture and language. But I made fun of Russian laws, the system of law enforcement, officials, including those in education and medicine, no less. And on many other topics.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did you cooperate, interact with our government structures, with our authorities?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): What do you mean interacted? Paid taxes and slept peacefully.

49:08 The Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov about his activities in the Spiritual World.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what are you doing in the Spiritual World now, what can one do there? I don’t understand what one can do in the Spiritual World.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Being in the Spiritual world does not prevent one from continuing to explore and study this world. I am on the 17th level, which is called Angels of Nature. I am one of the curators of the plasmoid civilization of the 16th density level as part of a group or, as we call it, a host of Angels. Since I was incarnated on Earth, these are earthly plasmoid civilizations. I am a curator and I pass on information to them about how to properly and in the Light of God take care of the biosphere.

50:21 About Vladimir Megre and the book “Ringing Cedars of Russia”.

Maxim: Many people are interested: tell a story about some Siberian witch. I honestly don't know this story. But I already see the question.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I communicated a lot with esotericists, shamans, sorcerers. I communicated with them both on the Internet and in person, met with them. That is why it is about the Siberian… (he shows how he met all over the world)

If you are talking about Anastasia specifically, I have not seen her personally. I have only read books. Specifically about Anastasia from the book series "Ringing Cedars of Russia", if we are talking about her. I am closely acquainted with and consider Vladimir my friend. That author, that writer, who wrote about her.

Maxim: So you personally know Vladimir Megre?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes.

Maxim: Please tell me what kind of person Vladimir Megre is, and is it true that he later married this witch?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): If he had married, he would have taken her out to the city. I have known him since about 1996, I met him in the mid-90s. He is a very bright person, very impulsive, emotional, very frank and honest. A lot of dirt was poured on him from all sides after the publication of his books. He took it hard, sometimes, but always held on. And as long as I talked to him, it was not typical for him to invent something, to embellish something. He was very honest.

Maxim: I thank you for this information. They ask: is Vladimir Vladimirovich Putin acquainted with Irina? You won't believe it, but for Vladimir Vladimirovich we are probably some kind of schizoterics, and we are definitely not interesting to him.

Irina: Maybe in a past life?

Maxim: I am sure that he has great tasks, Vladimir Vladimirovich, and he clearly has no time for us. Therefore, I am sure that no.

Now I will try to ask questions that I receive from other sources. By the way, we have a chat in Telegram "Q&A Live". If you want to ask a question, you can write it there. We have a link under this video.

Do you think, Mikhail, that your work has helped to preserve folk traditions and folk cultures?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): To some extent, of course, it helped. After all, I was not only writing humorous texts or scripts. I also studied, as I already said, the cultures of the peoples who live on the territory of Russia. I also studied history and traditions. This is in my book.

Maxim: Guys, I didn't know that your question, which I read about the witch, would be about the books about Anastasia. So when I asked about the witch, I didn't even think that it would be about Anastasia. And by the way, witch is not a bad word. A witch is someone who knows.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: That's why when I asked the question about the witch, I didn't even imagine that it would be an answer about Anastasia. You wrote about some witch yourself. That's why I asked. I also became interested in the witch.

Mikhail, do you think your work has helped viewers better understand their homeland and people?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I think it helped. Because humor shown over some qualities or events attracts people's attention to these events and these qualities. In that body, when I lived, I was a Russian, and accordingly, it was directed at our medicine. I think that this allowed those doctors who also watched my performances to treat patients and their work better. Well, and the same in all professions.

Maxim: Lyubov Sergeevna writes: "Damn it. Anastasia is a fiction."

Mikhail, what would you say about this when they tell you: “Anastasia is a fiction.”

Irina (Spirit of Michael): What would I say about Anastasia being a fiction? There are many things that some people cannot believe or could not believe before, but which were discovered later. I know a very funny example related to the word "fiction". About 150 years ago, most newspapers in Europe and Russia published an article by the Russian Academy of Sciences that stones falling from the sky were a fiction. Now it seems funny, but it is a fact.

Don't rush to judge with your mind, listen with your heart to the information that Anastasia gives. Even without reading Vladimir Megre's descriptions of nature, its actions, just take any book and read the words that are highlighted in the dialogue as Anastasia's words. And especially the fourth book, "Creation." I have read it many times. Take it, read how it is written there about God, about the world. What feelings does this information awaken in you? Listen to it with your heart, it will not deceive you. The mind can be easily deceived, simply by presenting it with the picture that it will accept based on its worldview. And everyone's worldview is different, based on experience.

And your heart knows the truth because you have a feeling there. For example, a feeling of love. The feeling of love is the Divine energy. It is connected with the energy of truth. The feeling of truth is where the feeling of love is. Just read the text without bias. That is, do not even think about whether Anastasia conveyed this or Vladimir himself wrote it, or some other person. Just read the words yourself. And when you read them and feel them, ask yourself: could a person who was engaged in business all his life and practically did not engage in any spiritual practices, was quite tough and cynical in his past before meeting Anastasia, experience such feelings that can be expressed in this book?

Maxim: Mikhail, thank you. "Mikhail, you are our people's love," one of the viewers says. The people love you very much.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Thank you all. I feel your love very much. When I stood on stage and felt that my work, my labor distracts you from your hard life, from your suffering, from your disorder. You temporarily forget about it and are in high feelings, in high vibrations.

1:00:39 Anecdote from the Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov.

Maxim: Mikhail, this has never happened live. I will now ask you to tell a joke through Irina.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): About what?

Maxim: Let's say something about politics, about Yeltsin.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I will tell you a joke more relevant to your time. This joke is not that harsh, it is aimed at certain qualities. Do you like satire?

Maxim: You know, we've never asked Duh to tell a joke. It would be some kind of highlight in this broadcast. We've had a lot of broadcasts. A joke from Duh Zadornov himself is nonsense.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): For example, this one. This is a question and answer. Do you know what Russian doctors dream about?

Maxim: I don’t know.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Russian doctors dream that the poor will not get sick and the rich will not recover.

Maxim: Thank you, I understand.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): What do you say?

Maxim: Great, Mikhail. I'll tell you honestly. I valued your work so much. And now I understand for sure that I'm talking to you. This joke is in your style. It seems simple, but at the same time very profound.

Tell me, please, was there a situation where you actually congratulated people on New Year's instead of Yeltsin?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes. It was strange to me too, but, nevertheless, it was exactly like that. Because dear Boris Nikolayevich, how to put it more gently, celebrated the New Year a little earlier than the rest of the country.

Maxim: Thank you. You said it very civilly, "celebrated the New Year before the rest of the country."

Tell me, please, were you acquainted with Maxim Galkin?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes.

Maxim: Why do you think he disowned you?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I think you need to ask other people about the reasons for their actions. I have never renounced my friends.

Maxim: I understand, thank you. Short, clear and understandable.

1:04:13 The spirit of Mikhail Zadornov about his work.

Maxim: Do you consider your work an important element of national heritage?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Personally, I think that each person can have their own opinion on this, and everyone will evaluate my contribution as they see fit. I can tell you only one thing, that I have always wished prosperity for both Russia and America. In fact, I was not joking about people, but about their negative qualities. Like that joke I told. I was not joking about the doctors themselves.

Maxim: Did you meet Zhvanetsky in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): No.

Maxim: And there is no such desire?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): No.

Maxim: I understand. Good.

1:05:16 Laughter and humor are helpers in difficult times.

Maxim: Do you think that laughter and humor can help in difficult times and why?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, of course. As I already said, humor allows you to look at your difficulties and shortcomings from a different angle, and thereby remove despondency, grief, sadness, that is, what stops a person from changing the situation, as if to give him strength.

Maxim: I understand.

1:05:51 Source of inspiration for Mikhail Zadornov.

Maxim: What was the source of your inspiration?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): As with everyone. The source of inspiration for everyone is the Spirit. The word “inspiration” itself comes from the word “what the Spirit breathed in.” The Spirit is our Divine part.

Maxim: Tell me, please, have you ever truly loved in your life?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Of course he loved.

Maxim: Who?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I loved everyone, and my love was manifested in all my creativity. Because without love it is impossible to do the work I did for a long time.

1:06:46 Mikhail Zadornov's wives.

Maxim: How many wives have you had?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Two.

Maxim: Which wife is more interesting: the first or the second?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): More interesting in what way?

Maxim: In different ones. Maybe one in one, another in another.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Each is interesting in its own way. In fact, each of them gave me the opportunity to know and love not only myself, but also others. That is, one wife with whom I lived, the first (Valya, Violetta, Valentina, he shows her image). She gave me the opportunity to go through the experience of responsibility for the first time, and this allowed me to love Elena more consciously. And Elena, when I met and gave birth to my daughter, allowed me to more consciously express my love for my first wife. That is, they complemented each other.

1:08:41 The spirit of Mikhail Zadornov on the return of Vedic culture to Russia.

Maxim: Do you think the old Vedic culture will ever return to Russia?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Old?

Maxim: Will Vedic culture ever return to its previous level in Russia?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Will return if it will be useful for the development of the egregor.

Maxim: Mikhail, a question from the chat: do you know anything about the bookworm and have you used it in your work?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I have heard about it. It is a collection of the meaning of different letters. Like a book, an encyclopedia. What does it mean used? It was part of the study.

1:09:46 The Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov on the news in the Spiritual World.

Maxim: Tell me, please, is there any news in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): News is from the word "new". New is an adjective, it means the appearance of something, that is, a change. And we have no changes.

Maxim: So, changes exist only in the material world, which is why we incarnate here. Am I right?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes. We incarnate here to change ourselves by changing the material world.

Maxim: Thank you very much.

1:10:23 The spirit of Mikhail Zadornov about the blessings on Earth, favorite authors of satire.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what blessings, in your opinion, should one enjoy on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Good question. The word "good" itself already means receiving pleasure, because it consists of two syllables "bla-go". The syllable "bla" means Light, including the Light of happiness. And "go" means ascent. Ascent to the Light of happiness.

Maxim: That is, when I give thanks, I send the Light of happiness to a person, right?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): When you give thanks, you send Light to a person so that he can ascend to the level of happiness and grace where you are.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you, thank you. Did you have any favorite satirical authors whom you considered your inspirations or teachers?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Rather than the authors. For example, I liked comedy actors such as Yuri Nikulin. I also studied many books by ancient Greek philosophers. I liked the good humor of Omar Khayyam.

Maxim: They write: “Zadornov’s first wife’s name is Velta.”

Irina: The names sound a little familiar to me: Valentina, Violetta. Interesting name.

Maxim: Violetta, Velta - they sound very similar.

Tell me, please, now that you are in the Spiritual World, do you communicate with any of your colleagues on the stage?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): No. As I already said, I saw my parents.

Maxim: Have you had colleagues with whom you didn’t really enjoy communicating?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I left all these temporary disturbances of the mind in my etheric field. They are not important.

All the disagreements that arise on Earth, which seem to you here, one might say, almost the end of your personal world, a very terrifying event, when you find yourself here, in the world of silence and peace, they seem to you no more significant than the sea waves when you look at them from afar.

1:14:06 The Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov on the series of films about the Slavs.

Maxim: They ask about your series of films about the Slavs. How close to reality is the information given in these films?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Closer. I know what you are talking about. I took this information, a lot of information from these films about the way of life, customs, laws and even about the territory of the Slavic tribes from my subconscious, as I already said. Where did it come from? From my Higher Self. And the Higher Self took it from memories of a past life.

Maxim: Thank you.

1:14:51 Ghost of Mikhail Zadornov about Maksima Galkina.

Maxim: The question is this. Mikhail Nikolaevich, please tell me what happened in your opinion from the Spiritual World to Maxim Galkin, and why does he now hate Russia so much?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Why does he hate Russia?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I think he hates not Russia, but the course that Russia has taken recently. He shares these concepts. I know him as a person. Do you know the term "heightened sense of social justice"?

Maxim: I know.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): He was and is now quite a tough person. In fact, he is an atheist, a non-believer and somewhat of a cynic. We even talked about the role of the Creator, God in history, and he spoke quite harshly both in terms of religion and in terms of the history of Russia, the greatness of its historical path. And even then he told me that all the greatness of Russia's historical path is a Soviet myth that was invented to justify the genocide of different peoples. He expressed himself quite cynically.

At that time I was still indignant in my soul, but now I understand that even this view that he has, like other people who did not accept the choice of the majority of the Russian people, expressed in the actions of the government, has the right to be heard and understood, even if they are wrong.

Maxim: Thank you.

Dear friends, we cannot show the entire broadcast with Osama bin Laden, which we held on our additional channel. Because we will fall under the criminal legislation of the Russian Federation. Guys, this is very serious and very important. We gave you everything possible, which, in principle, will not affect the Cassiopeia Project. Of course, I apologize for this, but this is for the benefit of the Project's security. Thank you very much for your understanding.

Thank you very much, Mikhail, for the explanation about Galkin. Because there are a huge number of questions in the chat about this.

Tell me, please, Mikhail, do you think there is a person in our government who sincerely loves the country and cares about the people?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): My personal opinion?

Maxim: Yes, your personal opinion.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): At the time when I was incarnated, it was Zhirinovsky. And also at the time when I was fulfilling my civic duty at one of the polling stations during the presidential election, it was Zyuganov. I saw real care in him. Not even in words, now everyone can talk beautifully, of course, just to get closer to the trough and seat their relatives and friends there. But I saw in his eyes faith in what he himself was saying. But in the eyes of other candidates, unfortunately, I did not see this. And I say quite openly that my vote was cast in the last elections for Zyuganov.

Maxim: Thank you very much, I heard.

1:19:34 Selection of the Spirit for communication in the Spiritual world.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how do Spirits choose which Spirits to communicate with in the Spiritual World? This is also a very difficult question for me.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): How do they choose what?

Maxim: How do Spirits choose who to communicate with in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): You can communicate with any Spirit at your own will, if he or she also mutually desires it. Whomever you wish to talk to, you address. Only we do not have telephones, Skypes and the like. We do it mentally.

Maxim: You have a library in Riga, and it is now lost. What do you think about this?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Lost to whom?

Maxim: I think for Russians.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I will answer with humor. Study my books, they have everything.

Maxim: I understand.

1:20:38 The spirit of Mikhail Zadornov about the conflict on the territory of Ukraine.

Maxim: Please tell me what you think about the current events and the conflict that is currently taking place on the territory of a neighboring state?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Do you mean what is happening for me now?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): For me, this was news and nothing unusual. It was quite expected. The trend of events happening now in the material world was already visible in 2014. Personally, I saw this trend in 2008 after the sharp turn of the deeply respected Vladimir Vladimirovich Putin from the West to the East. I was surprised back then after his Munich speech in 2008 (he shows how he watches it) and thought: “Has Vladimir Vladimirovich finally realized that Eurasia cannot be called Eurasia? Because Europe occupies a smaller part of this continent than Asia. In terms of meaning, this continent should be called Asiape.”

Maxim: Is this a joke or serious?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Look where the Ural Mountains are in Russia specifically - this is the division between Europe and Asia. And look how much of the territory of Eurasia is occupied by Europe and how much by Asia. Look at the map, what kind of Eurasia is this? Why is the word "Euro" in the first place? Because they wanted to include all of Eurasia in the Euro zone? But no one will succeed.

1:23:28 The spirit of Mikhail Zadornov on the true history of Rus'.

Maxim: We are taught the history of Rus'. Is everything in it true? Mikhail, please tell us what is written in our history textbooks.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): No. Not everything. As in all textbooks of the world. In order to write the truth, first of all, it is necessary to admit the intervention of alien civilizations. This is not in the textbooks. And it is necessary to write about where we came from, who created us. I remember this too, because as I have already said, the memory of the representative of Burkhad, who also participated in this large project called "Earth", is in me. And now I clearly understand that all textbooks on the history of the Earth in any country for schools, for universities and even for academics are filled with lies from the very beginning about the origin of earthlings.

Maxim: Yes. And why do you think they are rewriting history for us?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): So why do they invent or distort historical facts?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): In order to create images in the people, with the help of which they will fulfill those narratives that will be put into place by those who are interested in creating these images.

Maxim: For some reason, they always write to me in the chat about Rurik and Oleg. Rurik was the grandson of the Novgorod prince?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I think you'd better ask him about it. Especially since we've met. Do you want to invite him?

Maxim: Can we invite Rurik?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): If you want.

Maxim: Guys, if you want us to invite Rurik to the next broadcast, by the way, we already have the next broadcast. You won't even guess who we'll have the next broadcast with. Our next live broadcast will be with the captain of the Titanic.

Irina: They write: “We want to go with Rurik.”

Maxim: We'll try to do the next broadcast with Rurik, I understand. Everyone wants it. We saw it, thank you very much.

"Vlad Listyev" is a dangerous political figure, guys. He can say such things there that we will not be able to cope with them. If only we move him to the second channel. "We want Rurik too", "Give us Rurik". Mikhail, thank you very much for the idea about Rurik, to invite him personally and talk to him.

1:26:54 The spirit of Mikhail Zadornov on rejuvenation procedures.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did you really undergo a rejuvenation procedure on your face or body?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, there was a period in my life when I devoted a lot of time to my appearance, because I wanted to like myself before I showed myself to people.

Maxim: I understand, I heard you. I had some good question.

1:27:35 About the shape of the Earth.

Maxim: Tell me, please, Mikhail, is the Earth round?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): It all depends on what your head is like. If it is round, then the Earth is round, and if it has turned into a plane, then the Earth is flat.

He answered that it depends on perception.

Maxim: "Why did Vladimir Goldstein leave the Project?" Because he decided to create his own project. We respect the choice of any person who participates in our Project.

Irina: I wanted to say something else. I heard that Vladimir Goldstein claims that he was kicked out of the Cassiopeia Project. The first thing I want to say is that it is impossible to kick a person out of the Project without reason. If he does not want to leave, he will try to harmonize in any case. Especially being in the Project, in which he himself wants to be. And if he did not take these steps, again we have freedom of choice, in fact, he has every right to create his own project. And let him create it, gain his experience, and I do not see any critical moments here at all. This is his right.

Maxim: I'll go to the "Live Q&A" chat and from there I'll try to ask questions.

1:29:57 On the reason for self-flagellation.

Maxim: How to get rid of self-flagellation?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Realize why you need it. Usually self-flagellation is needed in order not to change anything.

Maxim: Absolutely true. Yes.

By the way, we still haven't continued about the situation that is happening in our country with a neighboring state.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): It was obvious, and it was only a matter of time for this situation to mature. Because, as I already said about Vladimir Putin's Munich speech, it was already clear to me that all this would lead to a conflict with Ukraine. Because too many different interests clashed in a state that is truly dear to me. I was there. And I want to say that not all the people, but their rulers were taken advantage of by certain people from a completely different state, who decided to change the financial and political system of the entire world, using certain military levers. That is, to tell you frankly, this is sabotage directed against the people and disguised as concern for them.

Maxim: I understand.

Once again I would like to remind everyone that from tomorrow a completely new and interesting project "Immersion" in the Project "Cassiopeia" in the Voronezh center starts. Therefore, if anyone else wants, we have free places in this project, you can just rush off and come for a week of full drive with immersion in meditation. Plus, from the 15th to the 17th we have an off-site event - these are contactee courses in our Domodedovo center, which we conduct on a donation basis.

And in August from the 5th we are in Ufa. If you are interested in what I said, call +7 (988) 910-00-40. Thank you very much, let's continue further.

"We want Rurik." Do you plan to incarnate on Earth again?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Yes, I plan to, but not now.

1:33:13 Message from the Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov to his wife Elena and family.

Maxim: Please tell me what you would like to convey to your last wife? I know for sure that she constantly prays for you.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I want to tell Elena: I am grateful to you for your prayers. And I ask forgiveness for the decision regarding my first wife, which I made in connection with the inheritance. It was my decision, because my love is directed towards her too.

I also address my beloved daughter. I wish you happiness with the man you have chosen. I wish your baby to be a happy, loving and self-sufficient person. And that you always find mutual understanding with him, just as we did in childhood and adulthood.

I also thank my sister Lyudochka and Lyosha for what you have done for me. I constantly pray to God for you. Being in the Spiritual World does not interfere with prayer, but rather strengthens it. Always believe in the best and hope for yourself, but do not forget about God.

Maxim: Thank you, Mikhail. I have another question for you.

1:35:40 Wishes of the Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov to the Russian people.

Maxim: What would you like to wish to all our Russian people?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I would like to wish all Russian people to get rid of fear of each other and of other nations, as well as of anger and pride, which, unfortunately, are present in many people. When you begin to create your life in your country, you will see that the path of creation is much more joyful than the path of fear and destruction.

Maxim: Thank you, Mikhail.

1:36:29 Wishes from the Spirit of Mikhail Zadornov to the Cassiopeia Project.

Maxim: What would you like to wish for our Project?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): I would like to wish your Project, your bright undertaking, a bright path, high aspirations, ever higher states of consciousness, interesting contacts with different levels of the Universe, with different entities and, of course, prosperity, happiness and material well-being as a gift and reward from the Universe, for which you bring good.

Maxim: I want to ask you for some advice as a father.

Irina: Smiling.

Maxim: What instructions could you give me as the Project Manager in order to competently continue to lead and develop the Cassiopeia Project?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Never doubt the path of your heart.

Maxim: I don't have that. I always go from the heart and feel with my heart.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): If there is any choice, do as your heart tells you. And the mind can tell you a lot, but without the heart it often leads to a dead end.

Maxim: I want to ask you another interesting question.

1:38:07 About the Mongol yoke.

Maxim: Tell me, please, was the Mongol yoke real? Tell me from the Spiritual World, everything is visible there.

Irina (Spirit of Michael): There were some wars, but it wasn't like that. It wasn't with the Mongols.

I understand what he's talking about. I hope you all watched the conference with Genghis Khan. Did you watch it?

Maxim: Irina, do you want me to tell you honestly, I haven’t watched it.

Irina: I remember what happened there. And I know what Mikhail

Zadornov is talking about. He confirms it. The thing is that the man we call a Mongol was a Kazakh. He told us where he was from and what he was. And in fact, what is called the Tatar-Mongol yoke…

Maxim: Wait, let's create intrigue. Guys, if you want to know whether the Tatar-Mongol yoke was real, please watch the broadcast with Genghis Khan. It's called "Broadcast with Genghis Khan". And in this broadcast, he himself directly tells what the Tatar-Mongol yoke was like, and what kind of yoke it was in general.

Let's have one last question. And, to be honest, I'm already a little sleepy. Because you have Sunday, and I have a whole working day today. Let's have one last question.

Irina: What does "there was no Kazakhstan" have to do with it? I didn't say that there was Kazakhstan. There were Kazakhs. When there is a certain nationality, there is not necessarily a country.

Maxim: That's how we explain it: there were Kazakhs, there was no Kazakhstan yet. Kazakhstan was called Kazakhstan later, right?

Irina: Certain tribes lived there. Certain nations were already being formed at that time.

Maxim: Guys, we are not on air with Genghis Khan, but with Zadornov Khan.

Irina: Look about him. It's there.

Maxim: By the way, Mikhail, I can't let you go, I have a question. As the head of the Project, which includes Health Centers, I have various health equipment of the latest format, which does not even exist in the world, which was created by our Russian scientists.

1:40:57 The spirit of Mikhail Zadornov about healing from cancer.

Maxim: Tell me, please, from the Spiritual World: what recommendations would you give to defeat cancer in a person?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): Cancer in a person can only be defeated by influencing both the body and the Soul. That is, it is a complex, spiritual-physical disease that requires physical intervention. At different stages of cancer of different organs, there can be different interventions, including spiritual ones. For example, reassessment of values. As I already said, what happened to me. I simply did not have time, the body was too badly damaged, and the organism was already worn out and old enough to fix what was damaged in the brain.

In order to beat cancer, you need to believe in it. And you need to not be angry at this disease, but accept it and ask yourself why it was given to you in the first place, and then act.

Maxim: Well, dear friends, I hope you enjoyed our Sunday broadcast today. Honestly, I had a lot of fun personally asking your questions. And one more question, it kept coming up: please tell me, what do you think now, being in the Spiritual World, about Arkaim?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): This is one of the cities of the Aryan civilization. Not the cradle, because they came there later, but we can say that it is one of the main cities.

Maxim: And right at the very, very end: when will the war that is going on now end, what do you think?

Irina (Spirit of Michael): It depends on you, on the people.

Maxim: It depends on us. Again, we failed to shift responsibility.

Guys, thank you all very much again for your support, for your financial help, for your spiritual help, for your moral support. And the Cassiopeia Project is always waiting for everyone at its Center in Voronezh, at the Center in Moscow. In the Voronezh Center we will soon build a 20 times smaller pyramid of Cheops and connect it with crystals to the energy of the pyramid of Cheops itself.

I'll tell you a little secret that we haven't told you about yet. We'll be celebrating New Year's in Egypt, closer to Cairo. And we'll be going to the pyramids and doing practices there.

Irina: With the Tumesoutians.

Maxim: Friends, thank you all very much. Don't worry, don't fret about Tatyana. I see you're writing messages. We parted as two adults, clearly understanding what we both need to be happy. So don't worry, don't fret. Everything that happens in life is an experience. If we accept it with love, then this love will catch up with us. Guys, bye everyone.

Thank you very much, Mikhail, for your openness, for your humor. Even in the Spiritual World, you have not lost it. And I am very glad that we talked on this broadcast.

Irina: Until next time!

Maxim: Guys, see you soon! Bye everyone.

Astral form of Spirit. Access to the world of non-embodied Spirits. Lucid dream

The etheric body is what you call a special form that the Spirit creates for astral travel. When traveling, the Spirit takes only part of the etheric substance with it to create a thread of life force that connects it to the physical body, and goes on an astral journey to those levels to which it is drawn by its dominant chakra. On Earth, this is from the 1st to the 7th floor. If it gets to the astral plane of another planet, then there it ends up on the astral level where it is most suitable in vibrations.

The Human Spirit can travel not only on the earthly astral plane, but also practically throughout the Galaxy and not only ours. All astral worlds are open to it. Access is usually required when going out only to the world of non-embodied Spirits. There are indeed Guardians at special portals, usually 17-18 levels, Guardian Angels of the world of non-embodied Spirits, and if a Spirit from the Astral is coming, they scan it. This visit is possible, but a goal is needed. Why are you going? Usually, to communicate with one of the Angels or with your relatives who have left the material worlds, etc.

There are unconscious astral travels, and because of the unconsciousness of the actions performed in the astral world: the meetings and images that he saw were created partly from his thought forms, which change the astral world around him, and partly they were created from meetings and astral images that the surrounding beings radiate, since there may be other travelers nearby, non-embodied Spirits, as well as plasmoid civilizations - depending on what vibrations he corresponds to, those entities will be attracted to him. Because of the unconscious state, he loses self-control, the part of his memory that recorded what was happening in the Astral is switched off.

When returning to the body, some stress occurs for the organism due to the connection with the body, and during the transfer of information from the astral body to the physical brain, most of the information goes into the subconscious, and fragments of images remain in the consciousness, which are there until he completely comes to a waking state, i.e. while he is still in a semi-trance, semi-astral state, this memory is preserved. If this is not immediately recorded, not written down, then in half an hour or an hour it will not be possible to remember anything. This applies to the unconscious Astral, and with the conscious Astral everything is different.

I want to say what is the usual difference between astral travel and lucid dreaming. There is one difference: lucid dreaming is a form of astral travel, in which a person goes, having first immersed his body in a normal sleep, and becomes aware of himself in the Astral, without performing techniques to exit the physical body, i.e. a person falls asleep, and, using special techniques, becomes aware of observation, palpation, etc.

And astral travel is a form of lucid dreaming, in which a person, without falling asleep, in a trance state, in a state of self-hypnosis, self-hypnosis, without disconnecting from the surrounding environment, leaves his body, observes it from the outside, etc. 💜🌟

The Legend of Daksha and Shiva. Images in Legends and Myths. Ganesha

Question: Who actually cut off Daksha's head and how did it happen? As far as I know, Shiva's first wife, Sati, had a father named Daksha. She went to a meeting where Shiva was not invited, although they should have invited him, and out of rage she burned herself. And Shiva got upset, angry, came and cut off her father's head. And then, when his wife started asking him to revive him, he put a donkey's head in place of his father's head, I think, and he walked around like that for some time until he realized who Shiva was.

Shiva answers:

Have you ever read fables, fairy tales? Just imagine, they cut off a man's head, put on him the head of a donkey or a goat, or a bull, and he went like that? What does this image say? What does it mean to cut off a head? What is this a symbol of?

The head is not only a symbol of knowledge. It is a symbol of a certain way of thinking. Yes, there was such a story, it was connected with certain intertribal disagreements between two tribes. It was in ancient times, and it resulted in one person giving his daughter in marriage to another person, who just happened to be a contactee of Shiva, my contactee. He was a yogi, an ascetic, but at the same time, many yogis, you probably know this, had a wife and even children.

The yogi was an ascetic, engaged in meditative practices, merged with me. His wife loved him very much, but her father treated his son-in-law, his daughter's husband, negatively because he considered him too poor, because he worshiped me and worked, distributing his wealth. He scolded this contact of mine, they had scandals. They lived in different tribes and therefore rarely saw each other.

And then it happened that the father stopped communicating with his daughter and did not invite her to one of the big holidays, which was like the beginning of the year, it was not in winter, but in spring, then there was a different calendar, the beginning of the year was in spring, on the day of the vernal equinox. And it happened that he did not invite his daughter to this big holiday for this people, where he lived, and she came to this holiday herself. They had a scandal there, she saw that the whole family neglected her, and she killed herself. She committed suicide, but not by self-immolation, as it was in the myth, but simply poisoned herself, and then her relatives cremated her.

Her husband, who loved her very much, found out about this, he came, wanted to sort things out, find out the reason why it happened, and he was told that because of neglect of this daughter she committed suicide. And he began to take revenge for her, or rather restore justice, in your opinion, he wanted to punish the father and all his relatives.

Just when it says that he cut off his head and put a goat's head, what does that mean? It means that he created such an image of this man in front of his tribe, that he has the features of an animal, he dehumanized him, he created a negative image, and then in the end, after several, admittedly, decades, all this led to a fairly large military conflict between these two neighboring tribes.

They adhered to the principle of blood feud, this is one of the reasons. Of course, you can ask, why then did he not immediately kill this father and did not commit blood feud? For the reason that the representatives of his tribe still believed that she, his wife, decided to commit suicide herself, no one forced her, she did it simply because of resentment, no one killed her, why take revenge with blood? It was simply because of resentment, she had a choice to forgive this offense or not. But gradually, through dehumanization, my contact, who himself harbored a very strong resentment and revenge, set his friends, who were, one might say, the nobility in his tribe, against this father, told them that he was not a man, but an animal, and he must be destroyed. And in the end, a war began, which at that time, if I remember correctly, took somewhere around twenty thousand lives. All this was approximately a little more than 3 thousand years ago.

Question : "But Ganesha, he also cut off his head, and then put the head of an elephant on it."

Again, the elephant is a symbol of what?

Shiva says:

This shows that I called Ganesha's mind inclined to the correct management of material wealth, because the elephant is also a symbol of wealth. Why did I call it that? Because Ganesha is, by the way, a very good patron of the financial egregor.

The Legend of Shiva and the Fifth Head of Brahma. Science of Imagery

Brahman is again not a single being, I would not even say a being, it is a certain service, like an Angel. Here you have a Brahman, a certain person who performs, and in the Spiritual world there is also a Brahman, like an Angel, a servant of God, that is, the Supreme Light Spirit. He can express ideas that can, when they are embodied, when these ideas are developed, they can lower his vibrations and take him out of the level of Angels.

The Vedas are a symbol of Divine knowledge. If some Angel has doubts about the usefulness of some kind of Divine knowledge or some Divine wisdom, or even information, it happens that such doubts appear, then I or another Angel, I myself am now on the 23rd spiritual level, can convince this Angel who expressed some idea of doubt about the usefulness of Divine knowledge or something else, and this doubt will be removed from his Spirit. And therefore, in figurative language it will be said that I cut off one of Brahma's heads. This means that I removed this doubt from his field.

LiShioni greets and says :

I just listened to your conversation, really what Shiva said about images, about what certain objects or images symbolize in legends, in stories about Gods, they symbolize certain spiritual qualities, spiritual qualities, their changes, interactions with each other. The science of recognizing the meaning of images is taught to us from childhood in school, so I think that this subject is necessary for earthlings.

In your fables, animals also talk. For example, there is a fairy tale where one animal ate the Sun or the Moon, these are also certain images of natural phenomena.

#577 Captain of the liner "Titanic" Edward John Smith. Communication with the incarnate Spirit.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wc2u-q0MIvI

00:00 Start of video.

00:02 Greetings, introduction.

Ilya: On air. Excellent! Dear friends, good Sunday evening! Today on the Cassiopeia channel, together with Irina (Irina is next to me), I will host this broadcast. My name is Ilya Alexandrov, I am a member of the Cassiopeia team, a teacher at the School of Contactees and one of the organizers and leaders of the School of Mental Health. I am glad to welcome you. Please write how we are heard and seen. Can you hear and see well?

(reads the chat) They write greetings. "Greetings from Krasnodar! Greetings from Zaporozhye!" Good evening to all! Just today our whole team returned from our Domodedovo Center, where we had a wonderful three-day retreat, where there was a program of the School of Contactees, a great atmosphere. To all Muscovites who were at the retreat, a huge hello! I am very glad that you are watching this broadcast with us.

(reads) "Hello from Krasnodar! Hello from Bulgaria! Everything is clearly audible, everything is excellent!" Super, I'm glad that everything is audible and visible.

We have a wonderful broadcast today. I hope it will be interesting. I already know many details. This is a broadcast with the captain of the ship "Titanic". There was an opportunity to find out first-hand what actually happened there, and how it all happened in reality. The most interesting thing is that it is embodied. When I saw the intro, it really surprised me. Therefore, I hope the broadcast will be interesting, and we will all have great fun.

I won't drag it out for long, 20:02 is a wonderful time, we can go on air and ask our guest questions. Edward John Smith is the captain of the Titanic. I give the place to Irina. Irina is simply a beauty today!

Irina: Good evening, dear friends! I greet everyone. My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Thank you all! Today we have a very interesting broadcast - with the Spirit, who came out of incarnation as a result of the crash of a huge liner called "Titanic". I asked the curators to invite him, they looked through the Spiritual world, found out from the Angels-consultants who it is and where he is.

Everything turned out to be very interesting. Now he is already embodied on the planet Gihor, he will tell about it himself. Since he himself does not contact space civilizations on Gihor, he is engaged in something completely different, scientists visited him, including from the planet Gihor, together with my curators - LiShioni, MidgasKaus, and told him about this incarnation on Earth, about which, naturally, his memory was blocked. They told him about Earth, told him about the Cassiopeia Project, about our ether and asked him to give permission, as an embodied part of the Spirit, to talk with his non-embodied part, with his Higher Self, so that we could arrange this ether. He agreed, he was interested, of course, in learning all this, he gave permission. And today, with the permission of the embodied part of the Spirit, the energetic phantom of the captain of the Titanic with his memory is present with us.

When the Spirit is already embodied, and the embodied part gives permission to talk with one of its personalities from past incarnations, then the non-embodied part of the Spirit allocates a phantom containing the memory of this particular person, this being - the memory and his habits, character. And, as LiShioni explained to me, all this is allocated precisely in the moment containing the entire memory of the incarnation from beginning to end. And, naturally, there is already a memory of what happened to him in the Spiritual world, how he reviewed his life and recognized the spiritual reasons for the event that occurred, and whether he fulfilled his task or not. The result of the analysis of the incarnation - let's say so.

Ilya: Wow! Interesting.

Irina: That is, I just told you how he explained it to me. I myself was interested in it.

Ilya: I wonder how this analysis went. I think we will approach it.

Irina: He says: “I greet everyone!”

The contact with the phantom is a little different. He introduces himself to me and says, "You can call me Ed."

Ilya: Ed. Good.

Irina: Edik! (laughs) In our language it would be Eduard. It just sounds different in English, but in our language, if he were born in our country, this is how the name would sound. I speak Russian. He introduces himself and speaks.

(Says the Spirit of Edward Smith) I am already incarnated on the planet Gihor, but I am ready to give information about my past life on Earth. For me, this is a previous life that ended with an exit from incarnation with the help of a natural phenomenon.

Ilya: Interesting. Thank you for coming. From what spiritual level did you incarnate into Edward?

Irina: From the sixth.

Ilya: And which one did you get off on?

Irina: On the fifteenth.

Ilya: Wow! Excellent. What question shall we move on to? Probably the most important one?

Irina: He says he's interested in what questions you'll ask.

Ilya: To the most important thing!

There are a lot of mystical theories about the Titanic, especially about your life as the ship's captain, who appeared in different guises. It was found in 1991, there were many different versions. So what really happened there? How did the Titanic perish?

Irina: So the question is - how did the Titanic die?

Ilya: Yes. The first question is - what happened to the ship?

Irina: He shows me images.

(Says the phantom of the Spirit of Edward Smith) My ship was going at high speed in a place where, according to my calculations, there should not have been any icebergs. But for some reason, which I did not know then, there was still a collision (shows) with the underwater part of an iceberg. And there was a relatively small crack in the side of the ship, through which water began to pour in, and gradually it began to tilt, became heavier than water and sank.

(Irina) He shows me pictures that have flown around the world. This is common knowledge.

Ilya: So it was an iceberg after all?

Irina: Yes. He says, "I didn't see him. That was the assistant who noticed him and tried to turn the ship away from him." And he felt the blow.

Ilya: And the fact that you were going at high speed, is there a version that this was pressure on you from the owner of the shipbuilding company?

Irina (Edward Smith): It was not the maximum speed. It was a high speed, but not the maximum.

12:16 A sign from the Spiritual World about a possible catastrophe.

Irina (Edward Smith): I ordered to increase the speed to meet the schedule, because the ship was late due to an incident before departure. There was a warning, as I understood later (shows the part of the memory that is after disembodiment), there was a warning from the Spiritual World that this ship should not set sail, and they tried to delay it. There was almost an accident, and because of this, the departure was postponed. And in order to meet the schedule, it was necessary to go at high speed.

Ilya: What kind of incident is this, what kind of accident? What kind of warning?

Irina: He shows me another ship that almost collided with the Titanic when they were just sailing away from the city where the passengers got on. He shows me the sea terminal, and many ships in the bay. And there one of the ships began to approach, because the current from the Titanic's propellers began to attract it.

Ilya: Have you seen this already in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Edward Smith): I saw that it was not accidental. That is, it was a warning that this voyage could end in an accident. That there was a high probability of a catastrophe on this route, which began with such a dangerous incident.

14:32 Spiritual reasons for the death of the Titanic passengers.

Ilya: We know that accidents are not accidental. But is there a Spiritual reason for the sinking of the Titanic?

Irina (Edward Smith): Yes, of course. Spiritual beings can have a spiritual reason for leaving incarnation, and the Titanic is matter. It could have simply collapsed from old age. And as for the exit from incarnation of many people, including those who lived a short time and did not have time to fulfill their task, this does indeed have a spiritual reason. It lies in the fact that this is a spiritual lesson for the owners of such ships so that they do not neglect safety precautions. Disregard for people's lives - that is the spiritual reason. This is about the first thing.

And the lesson for each person who disembodied there, of course, is also some individual one. I am now talking about a common spiritual lesson for everyone. Each person who ended up on that ship, including me and many others, people I knew and did not know, had their own spiritual reasons for why they ended up there. In the Spiritual World, I learned that many people, despite having bought tickets, either did not make it on that flight or postponed it.

Ilya: Yes, by the way, more than a hundred people.

Irina: There were a lot of empty seats, it was not completely full.

Ilya: Is this precisely spiritual supervision - to return tickets?

Irina (Edward Smith): Some people gave up their tickets, and some just didn't make it in time due to some circumstances, seemingly accidental. Even I later met the Spirit of a man I knew before, who was in the maritime business - he resold ships (shows his image), he died on Earth later. I was still in the Spiritual World then and met him. He told me that he wanted to make it on that ship to sail to New York, but literally a couple of days before that he broke his leg. He was in severe pain, and he couldn't sail there because he had to be home.

Ilya: Excellent! Super! They are protecting us.

Irina: He says that when he broke his leg, he didn't think it was great.

Ilya: How they protect us!

What were the spiritual reasons for neglecting safety precautions? After all, it is known that there were few lifeboats.

Irina (Edward Smith): Indeed, there were few lifeboats. When I spoke about disregard for safety precautions, I meant the entire complex, including the number of lifeboats that were provided for by the instructions. But contrary to the instructions, I and other people who were responsible for the voyage - port workers, including the one who created this ship, we all decided that the life-saving equipment that remained would be enough. They were removed because they took up a lot of space where there should have been a deck for people to walk. So that there would be more space for them.

That is, they did not simply remove it to neglect safety precautions, but to create convenience for people. Moreover, they believed that it was a very strong ship that could stay afloat even if something pierced its sides from several sides. There were even such experiments when ships similar to the Titanic continued to sail despite serious damage. And so they decided that it was very reliable. Many were surprised and did not believe what was happening until the very last minute, that this was serious damage. People did not believe it and even thought that it was a joke.

Ilya: And did you believe it yourself?

Irina (Edward Smith): I believed because the designer who made the ship said that it was doomed. He was with us, he also needed to go to New York, and he examined the damage and said that, despite its strength, the damage was very serious, and that the ship would sink.

And he even named a time. But I want to note that he named a time shorter, about an hour shorter than it actually was.

Ilya: Okay, thank you.

21:44 The spirit of Edward Smith about his condition at the time of the disaster.

Ilya: Where were you at the moment of the strike? Because there are many different versions.

Irina (Edward Smith): In my cabin.

Ilya: Were you sober? Because there is a version that you drank alcohol.

Irina: Yes, I drank a couple of glasses of champagne because there was a wedding, or rather, more than one. That is, there was a celebration, I was in a restaurant with the guests at this wedding, which was celebrated on this very day. There was a restaurant, there was music, and I drank a couple of glasses of champagne to the health and happiness of the newlyweds, but nothing more. I did not feel any intoxication, because there was very little alcohol in this champagne. It was just a tribute to tradition. I did not feel sleepy or anything else.

I went to my cabin and had not yet decided to go to bed (he shows how he looks through some newspapers and writes something in a magazine, that is, he was busy with his own affairs).

23:20 Probabilities of avoiding a catastrophe. Warning from the Spiritual World.

Ilya: There is another version about binoculars. Thanks for reminding me. I read your comments on YouTube. Ask questions there.

It is said that there were no binoculars on the Titanic, so there was no way to see the iceberg. They were locked in some cabinet.

Irina (Edward Smith): This was also one of the warnings from the Spiritual World. Because the person who was responsible for these binoculars, he went ashore, his partner replaced him. And the one who went out did not leave the keys to this compartment.

In principle, they were not necessary, because during the day the sea can be seen far away, and at night, you understand, with the lighting that was from kerosene lamps, lamps, binoculars in the dark sea are of little use. Therefore, they were not necessary. However, their absence was also a warning from the Spiritual World to postpone this flight for at least a day.

If this flight had been delayed for a day (I looked at the probability feed in the Spiritual World) - this would not have happened. That is, this iceberg, it would have simply floated away. Their paths would not have crossed each other - the path of the ship and the path of the iceberg, they would have passed each other. And moreover, naturally, the paths would have passed each other if the ship had sailed in this place just a few minutes earlier or later.

But circumstances developed in such a way that many Souls left incarnation to teach a lesson to all living beings that no rules of human safety can be neglected for the sake of convenience. This is a general spiritual law. Naturally, this was not accidental.

Ilya: Thank you!

26:08 Actions of the crew and captain of the Titanic after the collision with the iceberg.

Ilya: And so you encountered each other, what did you do next? There are many versions.

Irina (Edward Smith): Pump out the water (the pump shows).

Ilya: So you went to the pumping station to pump out the water?

Irina: Yes. And he shows me that there was electricity on the ship, something like a generator, but it still wasn't enough light, so there were some big kerosene lamps, combined lighting. And the pumps were running on electricity, because I can hear the hum.

(Edward Smith) They started pumping out the water, but it was still coming in faster. And then they started rescuing people, waking them up: some had already gone to bed, and they were waking them up.

(Irina) He is now showing me young people dressed like stewards, guides. They are walking around and waking everyone up. He is now showing me that there were people who took it as a joke and were indignant because they did not feel that anything had happened. That is, everything was fine, and therefore even the first few boats took fewer people than they could. They could not have pushed them in by force.

Ilya: Thank you! They started rescuing people, and how long did it all take? Where were you at that time, and how did it all end?

Irina (Edward Smith): I walked around the ship and gave orders. First, I gave the order so as not to frighten people, so that they would not push each other - to announce very carefully that they needed to get into the boats. I myself said that it was necessary, but when they asked me why, I said that our ship was damaged and could sink. But I did not say 100%, so as not to cause panic. And I said that it would be better to wait for help from another ship in lifeboats, they were calling for it. I did not say that it would sink 100%, although the designer had already told me that this was the case. That is, I did not frighten them.

And, of course, we had specialists who were establishing communications, and they began calling other ships on the air and calling them for help. There were several of them, but they were far away. Then, later, the officers who were with us saw a light in the distance from one of the sides of the ship. It was very dim. They began to find out from the map who it was, and found out that it was one of the ships. They called it, but it did not respond. They began to launch missiles, but they did not come. And all this lasted a little more than two hours.

And then suddenly the ship began to shudder, shake and tilt. And then all the people rushed to the boats that remained, and began to push each other. One of my assistants pulled out something like a pistol and began to shoot in the air and cursed that they should save the weakest first. Why did they save the weakest, women and children? Because it was the moral duty of men. But men who could steer the boats still got into them. I did not get in, although I was offered. I could not take a place from a child and his mother, who still had to live out their life. Although I knew, of course, what awaited me. The water was very cold. I knew that the survival time in it was no more than half an hour.

(Irina) He is now showing me that he is wearing something like a vest that does not sink, supports the human body. That is, it is impossible to drown in it, to choke. He put it on. But the person in it simply freezes and stops breathing. He does not even drown, but turns over and loses consciousness. That is, it was not drowning that was the reason for leaving the incarnation, but freezing, because he was wearing a vest.

Ilya: So you froze in the water after the ship sank?

Irina: He shows me that he had a vest on, he put it on. Then he shows a picture of how he got into the water, the water washed him away, because there was such a crack, something was breaking. And one half of the ship disappeared for some reason, and the other half still remained.

Ilya: So it broke in half?

Irina: It broke under the weight of the water, as I understand it. He is now showing me a picture that he sees from the side, because he was washed away by a wave. And the last thing that remains is the sound, and already from the water he sees that one half is leaving. And then he starts to swim away, so as not to fall into the funnel. Then he feels the cold, and his breath catches.

I see it with my eyes: by the way, I don't see any waves, everything is calm. As if the water is calm, there is no wind and there are stars above. A calm night. I don't see any bad weather, there are no waves. And there are a lot of people around. Some wooden pieces are floating, chairs, tables, some things, people are among them, and everyone is shouting.

And he shows me that he saw a woman who was without a life jacket. She was holding a child with one hand who was drowning, who couldn't swim, and with the other she was trying to swim, but he was pulling her along with him because he was clinging to her. He was about five years old, a child, and she couldn't let go of him. And at the same time, she couldn't swim out with one hand because he was immersing her head - he was clinging to her neck. And he would have drowned her because he didn't understand what he was doing.

(Edward Smith) And then I tore off this life jacket and threw it to them. She grabbed it with one hand, pulled it, began to hold on, and I helped her drag the child onto the jacket. Then in this confusion I was carried away from them. I was left without a life jacket and just began to swim.

(Irina) They still show me that he swam until he fell asleep.

36:18 The Spirit of Edward Smith about his transition to the Spiritual World.

Ilya: If you fell asleep, does that mean you have already disembodied?

Irina (Edward Smith): It was like sleepiness: I didn't want to open my eyes anymore, and it became hot. The heat came from inside, as if the water had heated up. I really wanted to sleep, and I wouldn't say that I was so tired, because I just lay on my back and just lay there. I didn't waste my energy, and I wouldn't say that I was tired of swimming, I didn't swim anywhere, I just stayed afloat. It was just such fatigue, like after a hard day at work. I really wanted to sleep, I closed my eyes and felt such lightness and as if I was rising somewhere up. Then I fell into unconsciousness and don't remember anything else.

And my next memory is of me sitting on the seashore, and two tall young men dressed in all white are walking towards me. And it turned out that this was already the Spiritual World, because the image of the sea simply surfaced from my memory. At first I even thought that I had been thrown ashore, but of course, it was too far. This was already the Spiritual World, as they explained to me. At first, when I saw them, I thought that I had been saved, that I was alive, because I remembered everything that had happened.

Ilya: And when they came up, what did they say?

Irina (Edward Smith): "We greet you, spiritual brother, you have left life, left the body." I looked at them, wanted to say something and then I realized that they were telling me, but their lips were not moving. As if I heard them with my ears, it seemed so to me, but for some reason the lips were not moving. Then I thought: "What kind of dream is this? I am sleeping," I began to pinch myself. "Maybe this is some kind of delirium? Maybe I have malaria and am delirious, as if from a high temperature?" Because it seemed strange to me that I could hear their speech, but my lips were not moving.

Ilya: And what next, where did they lead? To the Spiritual World? How does this happen?

Irina (Edward Smith): They took me by the hand, and we immediately found ourselves in another place, near a beautiful house (he shows a large house, like a tower, with a triangular roof, like in a gazebo, decorated with carved wooden, painted flowers. He told me that this is your Soul house, your non-embodied part lives there. And then I saw that my copy, only taller, came out onto the porch of this house, and Light was coming from him. He greeted me and said: “A little later you and I will be one being.” After that, pictures from my life began to flicker.

Ilya: By the way, what helped you rise from sixth to fifteenth?

Irina (Edward Smith): I believed in God and fulfilled my life's task. I tried to do good to people and untied those karmic knots that brought me to the sixth level. And what brought me to the sixth level was that I, too, was incarnated on Earth as a woman who was a harlot and committed suicide.

Ilya: Interesting.

41:12 The spirit of Edward Smith on his options for leaving and his doubles.

Ilya: And death like this, was it planned?

Irina (Edward Smith): I had a different scenario for leaving the incarnation. I had a scenario for leaving the incarnation in another nine years. Not in 1912, but it was supposed to happen in 1921, due to heart disease. But for the reasons that I ignored these signs, which I have already mentioned, and went sailing anyway, I left the incarnation earlier.

So I want to tell you all: listen to yourself and be sure to watch all the signs that happen around you, even if they seem insignificant to you. Perhaps this is a warning.

Ilya: Thank you very much!

Your body was not found. From the Spiritual World, did you see that you were found in different cities, people appeared who...

Irina (Edward Smith): I know they didn't find it, but they didn't find a lot of people there, in fact, they didn't find a lot of people.

Ilya: People appeared who called themselves by your name, saying that it was 1912, although it was 1991.

Irina (Edward Smith): Perhaps they simply imagined themselves as me (shows that he was already incarnated at that time). In 1991, I was already incarnated on Gihor. Because I incarnated on Gihor in 1974 according to the earthly calendar.

43:33 On the development of the Spirit.

Ilya: And what, Gihor or Earth - which is better? Question from dual consciousness: which is better for you?

Irina: He thought about it and said that the conditions are very different: natural conditions, and the living conditions of society, and different bodies, different organisms.

(Edward Smith) I can't say that it is better somewhere, but the conditions are very different, and everywhere there are advantages and disadvantages. But I can't say that I miss the Earth, because that part of me that is in embodiment, it does not remember these events. That is, I have come now with another part of my Spirit. And that part that is in embodiment, it has not even left the body now. But it knows that it gave permission for our conversation.

But for me, as a spiritual being, life on any planet is a unique opportunity to gain experience in solving various problems to develop my inner spiritual qualities, which cannot be developed in the Spiritual World. In the Spiritual World, one can only think about their development. Development is a change in time, and one can only change in time with the help of matter. That is, development imparts variability to the Spirit. Therefore, if this part of me, which is now on Gihor, could compare its life now and life on Earth, perhaps it would say something, but it does not remember this, does not perceive it. Because the memory is blocked.

Ilya: Thank you for answering this question.

46:13 The spirit of Edward Smith on the cause of the damage to the Titanic.

Ilya: Let's get back to the Titanic. About the speed at which you were sailing. Was the order about the speed given by you?

Irina (Edward Smith): Yes, because the weather was calm, and especially because I had given the order to sail south of the areas where there were icebergs that could be encountered. I looked at the map to see where this was possible: the ship was in the North Atlantic, and it was not the first ship I had ever commanded. I knew about this danger, of course. Especially because the entire previous day and the entire evening, when the disaster occurred - April 14, 1912 - there were warnings from other ships that were sailing in these areas that they had seen very large icebergs, the mass of which was unknown, and it was unknown how big their underwater part was. Because it could be that you would sail past the above-water part of the iceberg, but the underwater part could be larger.

(Irina) He is now showing me that it is possible to collide with an underwater one. In principle, that is what happened to this ship. And the ice there is very hard, because it breaks off from the glaciers of Greenland, which have generally been lying there for centuries, as if compressed. And therefore it can damage a thin layer of metal. Only specially adapted ships can navigate in ice and even break it, it will not harm them. But the Titanic was not adapted for this, it has a completely different design, and a different metal was used.

Ilya: Thank you! So speed was the cause of the collision?

Irina (Edward Smith): Yes. As I already said, the sea was calm. And, taking advantage of the good weather, I decided to compensate for this gap in time that delayed the ship, to fit into the schedule, and even to arrive earlier than the schedule, because when the ship arrived earlier than the schedule - the passengers always liked it.

Ilya: Good.

40:03 About mystical stories associated with the Titanic.

Ilya: Was there a mummy on board the Titanic? Because there is a version that it was the mummy's revenge.

Irina (Edward Smith): You know, it's quite possible. I had too much to do on the ship. What was loaded into the holds was managed by one of my assistants, who, in your opinion, was the steward, who managed the property. I didn't delve into what was loaded where. Of course, they showed me the documents that I signed as the person financially responsible for these cargoes, because they, naturally, belonged to someone. But I didn't read them carefully, there were so many of them.

Ilya: Good. There is also a mystical story about one or more builders walled up inside a ship, because a knocking sound could be heard from it when it was still in the docks.

Irina (Edward Smith): Never heard of it, although I walked around it many times.

Ilya: Okay, thank you. They are asking an interesting question. Maybe it is also connected with financiers who were against the financial system? What famous people were on board then?

Irina: He shows me a few: Fred, John - he calls them by name.

(Edward Smith) Yes, they were quite famous people, but I can say, for example, that I personally persuaded one of them to get into the boat. Just as one of those men who were supposed to steer the oars, sail away with the women and children and, naturally, take care of them on the open sea.

Ilya: Good.

51:30 Egregor of the Titanic.

Ilya: Does Titanic have an egregor? Because there is a film, I don’t know if you’ve seen it.

Irina (Edward Smith): No, I haven’t seen the film, unfortunately.

(Irina) He hasn't seen the film. They don't show our films on Gihor yet.

Ilya: Does the egregor itself exist in the Spiritual World?

Irina: I want to say that according to the rules of the Spiritual World, an egregor is generally formed by any book or any film, if many people watch or read it. Not just many, but even more than three. For example, if you read a book - "Diary of a Contactee" - there is already an egregor. If you watch a video - there is already an egregor. Our egregor is called "Cassiopeia".

And if a film has been released, which millions of people have already watched, put their thoughts, feelings and desires, emotions and experiences for the characters into it, of course, an egregor has formed from these millions of people, from their life energies and energies of feelings, thoughts and emotions. But it is part of the egregor of art, because cinema is related to art.

Ilya: Exactly - to the egregor of art! Now that's interesting.

Irina: He shows me: there were some books written there, and there was more than one film. Therefore, many people read and watched all of this, and with their thoughts about it, of course, they formed an egregor.

53:26 Myths about the Titanic passengers.

Ilya: Another most interesting moment is about the passengers of the ship. Maybe it was visible from the Spiritual World? Because they find people who claim that this catastrophe was literally yesterday, and they are saved from the Titanic. There is a version that at the crash site, space and time are refracted, and people appear, and some disappear, at this geographical point.

Irina (Edward Smith): I think that everything is explained much more simply here, and the explanation is different. Such people can exist, but this is the result of the fact that they are in very close contact with the egregor, and they feel like these people.

Let me ask you now: do you have a favorite book?

Ilya: Of course.

Irina: Have you ever imagined yourself as her hero?

Ilya: Yes.

Irina: So there is such a type of personality, when he imagines himself as someone so much that he already forgets who he is. This is such a contact with the egregor that his personality begins to adapt to the egregorial image, and this happens quite sincerely, as if even part of the memory is replaced.

And it is also quite possible that these people had something to do with this in their past life. This, by the way, is not even necessary. Perhaps they were in some similar catastrophe in their past life. And that is why this egregor influenced them so much that they began to sympathize, empathize with these heroes so much that they began to feel like them. And they developed the so-called confabulation, that is, substitution or such a phenomenon as cryptomnesia - replacing part of the memory with images from the film, in this case. Such phenomena of consciousness are well known.

(Irina) What do you say? Do you understand?

Ilya: Yes. A certain mental disorder.

Irina (Edward Smith): We don't consider this a disorder, it's just a feature of working with egregors - temporary adaptation to the role that he sees as relevant for himself. For us, this is part of normal mental activity, because it happens for certain reasons and in most cases does not cause any harm. Of course, if the person himself maintains self-control in this.

It's about the same phenomenon as getting into character. For example, you have actors, right? By the way, when they play a role, they can even feel like that person and speak with their thoughts, and think with their thoughts, and even in everyday life feel the influence of that role on themselves, that that character kind of lives for them. But that's a mental peculiarity, many people have it. A peculiarity of the Soul.

Ilya: Thank you! Thank you for your answer!

57:30 About the woman and child saved by Edward Smith.

Ilya: Many were worried about the woman. But was the woman with the child, to whom you gave the vest, saved?

Irina: I didn't speak to her specifically, to her Soul, when I left. But now I have addressed my Angel-consultant through my Spirit and asked to read this information from the general database of all Souls - it's like a library. And I received the answer that she held on to the child for quite a long time, more than an hour. But in the end, when there were already fifteen minutes left before the ship arrived, she also lost consciousness, her hand unclenched, and they drowned. The hand that held the life jacket unclenched. After all, it was a life jacket, not a lifeboat. The child had already suffered from hypothermia, at that moment he was already in a state of hypothermic coma and drowned together with her when she stopped holding him and lost consciousness.

Ilya: Thank you.

Irina: He says he asked because you asked.

Ilya: Our viewers are worried and concerned.

59:34 The Spirit of Edward Smith on the Olympic.

Ilya: And a question about the Titanic and the Olympic. There is a version that it was substituted, or it was made from the old Olympic.

Irina (Edward Smith): No, it was not made from the old Olympic, it was just a similar situation. But it was not an iceberg, there was another ship that the Olympic collided with. I was also on the ship Olympic, and this was also one of the warnings to me that the next ship I would command would be in danger. But I did not know how to read these signs of fate then.

Ilya: There was also a sign. Thank you!

01:00:17 The Spirit of Edward Smith on the book "Titan".

Ilya: And then about the biggest sign, probably. Fourteen years before the Titanic sailed, there was a book called "Titan".

Irina (Edward Smith): By the way, I heard about it.

Ilya: How did this author write it? Is it visible in the Spiritual World or not? Did he count the events or create an image that was embodied?

Irina (Edward Smith): I haven't read it, although it came out before the Titanic set sail. But at that time I didn't read this book, and I learned about it later, in the Spiritual World. By the way, I learned about it from my Angel-consultant, who showed me different scenarios of events. And he showed me this writer (shows his image) and his book, and the coincidences that were. I remember that I was also very amazed by this. And I asked my Angel-consultant, for what reason did all this come true as described?

Ilya: And for what reason, I wonder?

Irina: He is also already interested in the reason.

(Edward Smith) The angel-consultant said that the person who wrote this book, he was a Spirit who had the ability to look into the future. They manifested themselves not at his will, but spontaneously. And he saw this version of the future in a dream, that is, this ship. And when he woke up and began to describe it all, then the thoughts came to him precisely from that version of the future that came true. Why precisely from it? The angel-consultant said that a person died on this ship who in a past life had a very close relationship with him - they were relatives. That is, there is an interesting interweaving of some such things.

Ilya: And didn’t the writing of this book help the tragedy happen, like a kind of folding of the branch of probability?

Irina: That is, like materialization?

Ilya: Yes.

Irina (Edward Smith): I would take it more as a warning that something like this could happen, and a call for the ship's crew to be more careful. But I repeat, I did not read about this ship and learned about it later. But I do not think that this somehow caused the crash, it was simply a warning.

Ilya: Thank you very much!

01:03:48 The embodied part of the Spirit about the planet Gihor, its age and astral travel.

Ilya: We have been on air for over an hour. And I have a request - to give some parting words from the Spiritual World, maybe from the planet Gihor. Does he know, by the way, that Gihor cooperates with "Cassiopeia"?

Irina (speaking as the incarnate Spirit of Edward Smith): I know that on my planet Gihor...

By the way, I send you greetings from our entire group of interns. I am studying now, getting one of my degrees. I will have several degrees in different professions. Our government allows this, and now I am studying in one of the student groups to become an art historian. I am studying the art of the planet Gihor - paintings, music, literature, sculpture and other forms of manifestation of the Spirit in matter.

I have already told (that is, the part that is embodied in the body of a Gihorian) about this contact with Irina to the entire group in which I study. They all send their greetings, they were very surprised and they became very interested that I will have an astral contact with an earthling.

I had heard little about Earth before. I had only heard in the news on my planet that scientists from Gihor were creating energy channels, energy frequencies, to help people from a planet that was not part of the Interstellar Union to be healthy, beautiful and happy. Of course, I was interested in this news, but not so much that I spent a lot of time on this interest. For me, it was just news, and I was not particularly interested in space, because you are a space civilization for us.

I want to say that I rarely left Gihor in my physical body: I was on the planet Gisan once and on the planet Burkhad once, and that was in my teenage years. But I live permanently on my planet. I was on the planet Gisan with my student group, we were doing our practical training there. And I was on the planet Burkhad for tourism purposes, when our class was taken to the capital of the Interstellar Union to get acquainted with this planet - with the culture, science and art of the Interstellar Union. There we went to museums and so on.

Naturally, I have not been to Earth, but, like all children of our planet, I have taken mandatory classes in conscious astral travel. This is what allowed me to come now, understand your questions and consciously answer them. I cannot say that I have devoted too much time to the practice of astral travel, for example, like your curators, but still I can do something.

(Irina) He says he just studied it at school.

Ilya: From what age do they teach astral travel on Gihor?

Irina (Spirit of Edward Smith): We have 12 levels of training.

(Irina) He searches for a word in my memory. Now I will tell him: we call it "classes". They have twelve classes.

(The Spirit of Edward Smith) Astral travel is studied with us from the fifth level, from the fifth grade. And it is studied quite actively, because it is believed that with the help of astral travel you can communicate with your Spirit, you can communicate with spiritual curators, you can even heal your body. Many goals can be fulfilled, as well as desired states of consciousness can be achieved - such as joy, confidence.

By the way, with the help of astral travel, the person or humanoid who knows how to do it, easily tunes into any brain frequency and can change their mood absolutely without any psychoactive substances. That is, it is considered that this is a certain degree of control over one's body.

I have never been a big fan of astral travel, but I do it sometimes when it is necessary to contact my Guardian Angel, my Angels-consultants, or when I want to explore the Universe through the Spiritual World, through that part of the Spiritual World that you call the Astral. It is interesting, and thanks to it I have learned to maintain awareness and to make contact.

Although I want to say right now that, indeed, this is the first time I am in contact with an organism of the earth type. We have different frequencies with earthlings, so it is somewhat difficult for me to convey those thought forms that the contactee can put into words. How this happens is up to you.

Ilya: And how is the contact?

Irina: He says that at the beginning there were some glitches, that is, it was difficult for him to get into the right mood, but now he has already adapted.

Ilya: How old are you now on Gihor?

Irina (Spirit of Edward Smith): On Gihor, I am almost seventeen years old.

Ilya: And how much is that in our terms?

Irina: He said - 1974, so count it.

Ilya: They ask here if you have a family, but as I understand it, you're still young.

Irina (Spirit of Edward Smith): No.

Ilya: And how many years do people live on Gihor, what is the average life expectancy?

Irina (Spirit of Edward Smith): We live from 350 to 450 local years.

Ilya: Excellent! Thank you very much!

01:11:53 Guidance from the Spirit of Edward Smith from the Spiritual World.

Ilya: Well, will there be some kind of message from the Spirit, from the Gihor, from any part - some words for us, some parting words?

Irina (Spirit of Edward Smith): I want to say right away that I know your world quite poorly. But in any case, wherever you live, whatever surrounds you, I know that your planet is not part of the Interstellar Union, and that you have many injustices, wars, crimes, social inequality and other signs of a young civilization that has not yet found its path of development, consistent with the will of the Source of all that exists, which is called the Supreme Mind of the Universe.

I want to address each of you and wish you to worthily go through the path of incarnation that you have chosen on this planet and return home, to the Spiritual World, spiritually enriched and carry on that Light of Truth, Love and life that you will acquire on this planet, which is also a part of the Divine Absolute Universe. And in the Universe there are no useless parts, all parts are equally important.

Ilya: Thank you for the wonderful words! Thank you for the wonderful broadcast, the deep, very informative answers! Thank you to everyone who was with us - all the viewers! Thank you to our irreplaceable Irochka! It's just cool - to have such an opportunity to communicate and get such deep answers. Thank you all! Thank you, friends!

Irina: Thank you! The spirit of Edward Smith says that he incarnated from the fifteenth level, and for the years that he lived there - he is now already at the seventeenth. Oh, he has already raised himself two levels! Congratulations! I wish you to rise even more, as they say. He says: "Thank you!"

(Spirit of Edward Smith) I thank everyone who is interested in space! I thank everyone who is interested in the Interstellar Union! I am far from calling and agitating you to join something, it is up to you to decide, and agitation only clouds your thoughts and prevents you from making a free choice. Always listen to your heart, and not the arguments of your mind.

Ilya: Super! Amen - I want to say! Excellent words!

Irina: Thank you! I'm interested too.

Ilya: Thank you and accept! With Love I bless these words.

Irina: So, dear friends, I also thank the Spirit of Edward, Ed or Eduard, whatever you call him. Thank you, dear friends! Thank you Ilya for the wonderful questions and you too! Sending you the Light of my Love! It was very interesting for me to learn all this. Until next time!

Ilya: Bye friends! Until next time!

Was Krishna Jesus' mentor?

Was Krishna Jesus's mentor? Jesus's constant raising of vibrations. The Eucharist. Erasing information about the death of Christ's physical body.
When I incarnated on Earth, I had several Spirits, they are called mentors, from those who are known in the Spiritual world as Angels. By the time I came to Earth, if you look at me as a physical person, I was a contactee in the Spiritual world. Indeed, Krishna was not incarnated at that time, he was in the Spiritual world, came to me. He is formally considered my mentor. From this position, he came to me as a spiritual curator.

After I was executed, my body was pulled out of the cave and transported to the base on Burkhad's ship, where they began to restore it using the technology of the Interstellar Union, I was next to the body. My mentors came, including Krishna. I saw that the life thread was broken, and I began to direct energy into every cell of my body so that the thread of DNA vibration would connect with the body forever. Krishna asked what I was doing. He said that he did not understand why I was doing this.

> "You want to return to the body and erase the information about death. What is the purpose?"

I answered him mentally:

> "To raise the vibrations of earthlings while in this body."

And he asked:

> "How?"

I answered him:

> “Through an energetic process, through the Eucharist, through certain actions, through an egregor.”

I explain all this at length, but it is conveyed much faster in my mind. He was amazed. I felt his surprise. He said:

> "So, those sufferings that were here for several hours, about a day: while the execution was going on, before the execution you were punished, these blows will continue in the energetic sense now until the Earth in your absolute Divinity practically passes to your level of vibration, because if they are lower, they will be perceived by you as energetic poison. And the lower these vibrations, the more sensitive they will be for you."

This is not pain on the physical body. When something appears before your inner eye, it causes you not just disgust, but a desire to get away from it, but at the same time you understand that it is impossible to do so. Only it is intensified. A feeling arises before the inner eye, as during the Eucharist. Almost around the clock, constantly, and in order for me to send them purer vibrations, purer energy, I need to raise my vibrations to a level at which practically no one in the physical body can be in the surrounding space, because the level of these vibrations will not only be unbearable, it will be unpleasant for the being that was in the physical body. 🕊

But if we look at this event from the point of view of the Spiritual world, such words cease to be relevant, because they only reflect the dual consciousness that one is guilty, and the other is the victim, the guilty must be punished, the victim must be pitied. But in fact, this is their common joint lesson: for the culprit - a lesson in humility, harmonization of his ego and victory over egoism, and for the victim - a lesson in forgiveness, Love and mercy..."

02:07 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world. Today, Elena, already well known to you, is once again holding a conference, and since she has many questions, I invited the spiritual curator of the Earth, Archangel Michael, to come.

Elena has many questions, she has already held conferences many times, and I hope it will be interesting now, especially since our topic, as I understand it, is "Karma and the spiritual path of earthlings". I think that the representative of the Spiritual world, the disembodied Spirit, who is the Archangel and patron of the Christian egregor, and the spiritual patron of the Earth, will be able to open up the answers to the questions that Elena has. Hello, Elena!

Elena: Hello, Irina! Hello, Archangel Michael! It is very nice that you have honored us with your presence.

Irina: And we are very pleased that you have honored us with yours. I am listening to questions, and Archangel Michael will listen through me.

03:36 The main law of Divine harmony, justice and karma.

Elena: I will try to formulate the main topic first, Ira has already given it in a short version, but I would expand on it: we are talking about how the law of Divine harmony or justice operates, how it probably sounds in the Divine worlds, or the cause-and-effect relationship, in the aspect of its influence on the life of a person, a nation and humanity?

Irina: How does what work?

Elena: The law of Divine harmony and justice, or, as we call it, the law of cause and effect or karma in the aspect of its influence on the life of a person, a nation and humanity.

Irina (Archangel Michael): It is very simple. What actions a person takes, what words he speaks and what thoughts he emits into space, he attracts the same energy to himself. And very briefly, the question of karma can be described as the image of a sower: what a person sows, that he will reap. This indicates that a person himself is the creator of his reality, like any Spirit incarnated on any planet, and the posthumous fate of a person depends on what vibrations he left the incarnation with.

Karma is the result of activity. Karma is the experience of the Spirit in its totality. What do I mean by experience? A person's experience includes his personality traits, his memory, his character, his relationships with other people, his attitude to himself, and, of course, his attitude to God. That is, all the feelings, desires of a person, from which thoughts and emotions and actions already emanate - all this is experience. Simply put, the choice that a person makes can be determined by his character traits. But they are formed by him himself - both in past incarnations and in the current incarnation. And this means that he himself is the creator of his destiny, and this is the main law of Divine harmony, justice and karma.

Elena: Good.

06:40 The emergence of the law of karma in the universe.

Elena: Then I would like to clarify this point. What was the reason for the necessity of creating this law in the universe? Did it arise as soon as the dense worlds of the Universe were created, or was this law there from the very beginning, at the very origins of the creation of the universe?

Irina (Archangel Michael): He stood at the origins of the birth of Spirits. Because the moment of karmic transfer of experience, that is, the transfer from the past self through the present self to the future self, that is, karmic succession, karmic responsibility, as it is also called, is the main law that appeared at the moment of the birth of Spirits. That is, it appears when the Spirit is born: it has a certain structure, which on Earth is known as the karmic or causal body. But the karmic or causal body is already a manifestation, naturally, through the physical body, this is the aura layer. And in the Spiritual world, this is a certain part of the memory of the Spirit, which contains its karmic developments.

This part of the memory is created at the birth of the Spirit. Why? For what reason? For the reason that the Spirit is born from God, who is absolutely free. And since the one who gives birth puts his qualities into the being being born, he passes them on, so to speak, by nature - just as a father and mother pass on many features and qualities of their body and their personality to a child, because he is born from them. In the same way, the Creator of reality, God, who is absolutely free, puts his quality of freedom into each born Spirit, and this quality of freedom, in turn, gives birth to the possibility of karma arising at the very first incarnation.

09:25 About the karma of the Spirits of galaxies, stars, planets and asteroids.

Elena: Dear Archangel Michael, since in our universe there are such dense-material structures as galaxies, stars, planets, asteroids, and they also have, as is known, their subtle structures, does the law of karma apply to the Spirits of galaxies, stars, planets and asteroids?

Irina (Archangel Michael): The law of karma applies to any intelligent immortal Spirit that goes to incarnation at any level of density of the material world and to any part of its space.

Elena: If I understood correctly, then karma exists in galaxies, stars, planets, and asteroids?

Irina: Everywhere.

Elena: In the dense material world and in the subtle material world?

Irina: He said “the material world”, which means both the dense and the subtle.

Elena: Good.

10:33 About the meaning, the idea of the law of karma.

Elena: Then such a rather important question. What is the main meaning or purpose of this law, besides the fact that it was originally created as a certain system of transferring the experience of the Soul in its endless improvement, from the point of view of humanity, race, people and man?

Irina: What do you mean by the word “meaning”?

Elena: The meaning, the idea of this law. Besides the fact that it is the improvement of the accumulated experience of both humanity, and nations, and the race, and man himself, what other main meaning and purpose was put into the creation of this law and its work?

Irina: Freedom of choice. He answered: freedom of choice.

Elena: Okay, then here's the thing.

11:50 About the hierarchy in the Spiritual world.

Elena: Is there such a concept in the universe as a hierarchy of representatives of the causal plane of the universe, in which the Angels-consultants are located and work, having access to the Divine worlds of the 7th dimension? And in general, is there such a concept as a hierarchy of the causal plane, the world of Spirits who work there?

Irina (Archangel Michael): There are certain Councils in the Spiritual World, which are assemblies of Spiritual Consultants, Angel Consultants, Angel Arhats, Angel Devas, and also other Angels, if necessary, from other levels. The hierarchy here is not in subordination - who commands and who obeys, but in the delegation of various powers: someone is responsible for the entire area and must know and understand everything, and someone for individual fragments of this space.

For example, for the Earth there are 59 levels of density, as in any area of space, and accordingly, there is a Council - the Karmic Council of the Earth, or, as you know it, the Council of Lords of Karma, and I am a part of it. I am a part of it as a leader, in your opinion - the Supreme Hierarch, who determines in general the number of incarnated entities from different levels, from each level of the Spiritual world separately, at different levels of the Earth's density at each moment of time - in your opinion, earthly years. That is, I determine how many Spirits from which level should go to incarnate at different levels of the Earth's density, for example, in one generation.

Elena: I see. It turns out that there is no system of subordination as such, it is rather horizontal and connected with numerous functions of the Angels-consultants, and exists within the framework of those tasks of the causal plan, which...

Irina (Archangel Michael): We have obedience in the Angelic world, but it is voluntary.

Elena: Wonderful, such a high level of consciousness!

Irina (Archangel Michael): Yes, this is the level of Angels.

Elena: Good.

14:48 About the storage location of information about the karmic accounts of Souls.

Elena: Next, I would like to clarify whether there are - in this case, on Earth, or in general - certain information resources that we could call "databases" about incarnated and disembodied Souls? And if such databases exist, are personal karmic accounts of Souls reflected in them, and what information do they include?

Irina (Archangel Michael): These information databases in the form of energy matrices, but consisting of spiritual energies, are in the hands of the Angels-consultants, who can guide a certain Spirit through incarnation through many reincarnations.

Elena: So, some semblance of a computer base does exist?

Irina (Archangel Michael): They don’t even store it in their memory, but in certain spiritual matrices, so to speak.

Elena: So, there is information there about karmic debts and about developed or undeveloped character traits?

Irina (Archangel Michael): Yes, it’s all there, and it’s all read there when scanned by an energy beam (shows).

16:21 On the definition of the karma of the Soul after disembodiment.

Elena: Is this before the connection with the Higher Self or after? That is, when the Soul comes (let's call it that) to the state of the reporting period before its Spirit, then before that the Angel-consultant scans its accumulated experience - all moments connected either with the positive or with the negative (with accumulated debts). And then...

Irina (Archangel Michael): And this is left to the discretion of the Angel-consultant. He can either meet with the Soul before its connection with the Higher Self, or after - already with the whole Spirit, or do this several times. That is, it is a question of a certain consultation.

Elena: Is this not connected in any way with any sequence of stay in the Divine world?

Irina (Archangel Michael): This is all given to the discretion of specific Angels-consultants. And they, already having extensive experience in karmic psychology and knowledge of karmic laws at different levels of the Spiritual world, build a certain tactic and strategy of communication with one or another Spirit under their wardship. And often they also take into account the opinion of the Guardian Angel of the 18th level of the Spiritual world, who was in the Astral next to this embodied Spirit and observed him, and sent him bright thoughts and ideas.

Elena: It's good that we mentioned this status option.

Irina (Archangel Michael): (shows) Angels-consultants can come to the Guardian Angel, because Spirits from the 22nd level can come to the 18th. And they can come to the Guardian Angel of a specific Soul that has left incarnation, and together with him arrange a council not only about when to meet, but also about how to give information about his karma to the Spirit in a more understandable form - both about karma and about the results of his incarnation.

19:07 On the practice of working off karma through the development of the Spirit. Creation of event series.

Elena: I would like to clarify one nuance in this case. Since the Guardian Angel and the Consultant Angel work very actively with the Soul after its stay in the World of non-embodied Spirits, then when the incarnation of a specific Soul occurs, the Guardian Angel has access to some codes that help him, or maybe not him, but some other Angels, to include situations for working out the karmic knots of the Soul of a specific person? Is this done by the Guardian Angel or someone else?

Irina (Archangel Michael): The Guardian Angel can participate in this, but the information that will be provided to him is always agreed with the Consulting Angels. Because they have been leading the Spirit for many incarnations, and they are at the 22nd level, that is, they already have access to the Kingdom of Heaven. They have a more expanded worldview, expanded consciousness, and it is they who decide what information to provide to the Guardian Angel.

But the usual practice is that when a Guardian Angel agrees to be a Guardian Angel of a specific Soul, this is also not by chance, they have a certain karmic connection, most often associated with meetings in past incarnations and in the Spiritual World. Therefore, information about karmic knots, for example, is given to the Guardian Angel and, by the way, with the permission of the Spirit who is going to incarnate.

Elena: If I understand Archangel Michael's thought correctly, then the Guardian Angel in certain cases turns this "switch handle" and says: "Well, now it's time to work it out, friend, come on!"

Irina (Archangel Michael): It's all more subtle there. What is working off? It's the creation of certain event series associated with the possibility of raising your vibrations. Naturally, where there is a possibility of raising your vibrations, there is a possibility of both remaining in the previous vibrations and lowering them.

Therefore, the Guardian Angel is usually warned in advance, according to the subjective time of the Spirits, that a person will soon enter that stage of his development that will be associated, for example, with the working out of a specific karmic knot or the dissolution of an energy block that has already been developed in this life, or with cleansing from negative mental beliefs. And a mental plan will be presented, the Guardian Angel gets acquainted with this and, already being familiar with this plan, begins to prompt the person how to behave in these circumstances.

Elena: Oh, how we must thank our Guardian Angel! He tells us everything.

Irina (Archangel Michael): The Guardian is that Spirit, one of the first spiritual curators, who helps to set up connections with the Higher Self, and connections with all the bright spiritual worlds, and connections with bright civilizations, and also helps with healing. He has many tasks that he takes on completely voluntarily, because he is at that level of spiritual development when he considers it very important for himself to help others.

Elena: Thank you.

23:13 The main types of karma, its processing.

Elena: The next question, which, it seems to me, was also touched upon by esotericists. What are the main types of karma that operate in the universe, from the point of view of the peculiarities of their working off? If you allow me, I will name three types of karma that esotericists talk about, but in fact, perhaps Archangel Michael will correct us. Usually they talk about mature karma, about character karma, or in other words - accumulated karma, and about karma that is active at this time.

Irina (Archangel Michael): Yes, that's right. This is already formed karma (we call it "formed karma"), this is karma that is being formed now, and this is karma that is now being worked out, processed from the formed karma, that is, the vibrations are increasing.

What is working off karma? It is reviewing your past actions, beliefs, feelings and changing them in such a way that the Spirit treats that situation differently than when it acquired that karma.

24:32 About destiny as a plan for incarnation, karma and freedom of the Soul.

Elena: Is the connection between a person’s destiny and karma always a predetermination coming from past lives, or is it a sufficient degree of freedom, depending on what kind of karma a given Soul has accumulated in the current life?

Irina (Archangel Michael): A person always has freedom. That is why any karma can remain unprocessed and even more negative karma can accumulate than the part with which the Soul came into incarnation. In fact, this is a lowering of the spiritual level, and predestination is only a plan for incarnation, but it does not take away freedom from the Soul. If freedom were taken away, it would be impossible to lower the level in incarnations.

Destiny is the realization of the plan of incarnation by an already incarnated Soul, taking into account the memory block and the influence of the environment in which this Soul found itself in childhood, youth, maturity, and so on.

Elena: That is, the degree of previously developed blocks can either be worked out or significantly aggravated precisely with the help of freedom of choice?

Irina (Archangel Michael): That's right, yes, that's right.

26:18 Positive and negative karma.

Elena: I would like to clarify one more point. Let's say that if mature karma is coming, then when mature karma comes, the Soul has significantly less choice than if we are talking about the current one, when freedom of choice can be more vectorial?

Irina (Archangel Michael): It depends on freedom of choice of what?

Elena: Freedom of choice in thoughts, in actions, in deeds - everything revolves around this. But if the karma is mature, already, as they say, so "the vessel is overflowing", what else is needed so that the person still has to go through the situation?

Irina (Archangel Michael): This depends on the specific karma - on what exactly the problems are for this Soul, what kind. There are problems associated with excessive pride, lust for power, self-confidence, and so on, and then the karmic conditioning becomes such that the Soul needs to go through lessons of humility.

Elena: And they will be given?

Irina (Archangel Michael): And they will be given, yes. And the Spirit, when he comes to the Angels-consultants with a wish for reincarnation, naturally, he will be shown what he will need to go through to raise his level. Accordingly, he himself will see that this is humility, patience, overcoming trials associated with various difficult circumstances of life, illnesses and so on, or with hard work.

And there are situations when karma (meaning negative karma) was accumulated in an incarnation, but under other circumstances, related, for example, to a person's unwillingness to defend his opinion, build his own life and make a choice, take responsibility. That is, a person lives a life that is not his own, and therefore does not fulfill his tasks - due to the fact that he is not confident in himself and does not want to take responsibility and defend his interests, including the interests of his body, his Spirit. And then such accumulated karma requires a certain working off, related to placing this Soul in the next incarnation in such circumstances where the development of self-confidence, courage in decision-making and even leadership qualities will be required.

Elena: And will the accumulated goodness help to pass this test in a not so severe form? In general, the goodness that the Soul accumulates along with the problems that it does not have time to work through, helps to pass these very tough situations with mature karma?

Irina (Archangel Michael): Of course, all the bright feelings and qualities of the Soul that it has developed in itself, despite the negative karma, will be its positive karma. And positive karma, of course, will help the Soul to go through negative karma, because it will give hope, fortitude, faith, Love and help to endure those circumstances more easily. The fact is that a kind, loving and self-confident person, he even treats the work that is given to him differently than a person who is in anger, hatred, resentment, fear, even if this work is the same for them.

You can see this on Earth too. If you ask, for example, your daughter, or your daughter-in-law, or a person who lives with you, to wash the floor in the house, and the person believes that he does not owe you anything, is not obliged to, he will do it with resentment towards you. It will be very difficult for him - to take and wash the floor, because he has negativity, he has negative feelings that he has not expressed. But if a person wants to help you and does not consider it an obligation, but simply believes that he is providing you with voluntary help, then it will be very easy for him, even physically, to do this. Do you understand what I am talking about?

Elena: Yes, finally.

Irina: Here's an example for you. (laughs) He will now move on to earthly examples.

Elena: Okay, can we move on?

Irina: Yes.

31:47 Special karmic protection of Christians.

Elena: Archangel Michael, let's move on with your help. The situation is this. Buddhists and esotericists believe that every thought, word, desire and action of ours necessarily has its karmic consequences either in this life or in the next. And Christians have such an understanding as complete remission of sins through the sacrifice that Jesus Christ brought to us. So, I would like to clarify: it turns out that karmic consequences do not weigh heavily on Christians. Is this true?

Irina (Archangel Michael): Christians what?

Elena: Christians are not so much burdened by karmic consequences, they are sure that Jesus accepted everything for them, worked everything out, and there is a complete absolution of sins. So, their karmic consequences are somewhat weakened? Or not?

Irina (Archangel Michael): I'll tell you now. The whole point here is that such a term as absolution of sins, or taking sins upon oneself, says that in the Christian egregor, Jesus, with the help of confession and communion, that is, the Sacraments of repentance and the Eucharist, exchanges energies with the communicants of the Christian egregor, who sincerely participate in this, with Love, and not just do it for the sake of it. He takes their negativity, that is, those negative qualities of personality, including karmic ones, and also those developed in this life and in past incarnations, passes it through himself and gives them through communion a part of Himself, His body and blood, the energy matrix of which is actually recorded in wine and bread.

He really passes this flow of low vibrations through himself in order to raise them and return them back to people at the same moment in time. This is called - the absolution of sins. That is, He helps to go through these lessons, but, as you well know, no religion, belonging to a Christian church is not a guarantee that a person will be happy and that he will not suffer. You know that any Christians of any Christian churches can also get sick, get into certain cataclysms, natural disasters, be attacked by criminals, etc. You see this, right?

Elena: Yes, but it turns out that, taking into account this aspect that Archangel Michael just spoke about, there is some other form of divine protection over them, or what?

Irina (Archangel Michael): This is help, but it does not guarantee that a person will be freed from all the negative moments associated with karma. Help in passing a lesson does not imply getting rid of the lesson, it is only help.

If someone offered you help in solving a mathematical problem (if it is real help, and not doing it for you), then, accordingly, he can tell you a mathematical law, remind you of it, so that you remember and can apply this or that formula. Right?

Elena: Yes.

Irina (Archangel Michael): And if he decides for you, it will not be help, it will be a form of depriving you of experience.

Elena: Yes, it turns out to be a violation of karmic law.

Irina (Archangel Michael): So, you will not pass, you will not complete this task, this task will simply be solved for you, and you will show the teacher that this task has been solved as if by you. The teacher will consider that you know this law, and will give you a corresponding document that will certify your knowledge, without knowing anything about the fact that you do not know this.

Elena: A common situation.

Irina (Archangel Michael): I'm just giving an example from earthly life.

Elena: Yes, very good, most importantly relevant.

Irina (Archangel Michael): What do you think, if you come to the profession you are studying for with such a document, will you have real knowledge for this profession?

Elena: I would say that it is dangerous for others and the environment.

Irina (Archangel Michael): So that means the one who completed the task for you, he didn't help you?

Elena: I think he worked up his karma.

Irina (Archangel Michael): But he wanted to help?

Elena: Of course, he is sincere, yes.

Irina (Archangel Michael): And the person wanted help, right? But this led to the person not getting the experience he wanted for this profession. It is the same in the Spiritual world, only there the teacher cannot be deceived, that the Spirit itself has solved this problem, it will be immediately visible - whether it has solved it or not, and in what percentage.

Elena: Yes, this is all very clear and objective, thank you.

Irina: (laughs) Now that he started giving earthly examples, everything is clear, right?

Elena: Of course. We are to some extent clarifying the situation that comes from the Divine world. But it is always clearer to us when some specific examples are given, so that it is clear how the mechanism works.

Can we move on?

Irina (Archangel Michael): Therefore, as you see, a Christian, although Jesus takes his sins upon himself, is not completely freed from the consequences. For example, if a Christian has received communion and crosses the road at a red light, this does not guarantee that he will not be hit by a car: karma, the consequences of his actions can immediately lead to death or injury, although he has just received communion. And Christ will not stop the car, will not fly from heaven and pull him out of this situation - this is his karma. Is this clear?

Elena: Yes, of course, it is clear. Everything is very accessible, at the level of our earthly consciousness quite well.

Irina (Archangel Michael): I will speak on the level, yes, earthly.

39:38 Archangel Michael on coincidences.

Elena: Now I have a question that is also very, very earthly. Can a person, a nation or humanity, or even the planet itself suffer undeservedly in some wars, catastrophes or epidemics that will be perceived by both people and humanity as some kind of terrible accident?

Irina (Archangel Michael): They can be perceived in any way.

Elena: And in reality? In reality, this is the period of paying off some karmic debts, because it turns out that there are no accidents and cannot be? Is that so?

Irina (Archangel Michael): Yes, there are no accidents and there can't be, because any accident is a manifestation of a certain spiritual energy that was embedded in the person himself or in other people. Naturally, there are certain things, for example, if we take a crime. The life of another person is given to the will of the criminal, and an interesting question: was it by chance that this person became the victim of the murderer?

I want to say this - it was not by chance, they attracted each other, but this does not remove the karmic responsibility from the killer himself, because the fact that they attracted each other did not force him to commit this act, he was free.

Elena: So he had a choice, he could have not killed?

Irina (Archangel Michael): He could, even if they met in the world: you know that meetings are not accidental. Firstly, they are visible from the Spiritual world, the probability of these meetings, and it is possible to highlight the event series or make it less probable, and so on. And if there was a meeting of certain two people, in which there was a certain probability of murder or theft, or violence, rape, or something else, some negative behavior, - there was a probability, but this probability was conditioned by the past thoughts, feelings, desires, actions of these people, by the way, two people - the murderer and the murdered.

Accordingly, what happened - the killer, as a Spirit who made a free choice, is responsible for it. And if he had made it differently, in a different direction, then this event line would not have been realized. Accordingly, the murder is not accidental, but the responsibility still lies with a specific intelligent Spirit. Is that clear?

Elena: Of course. Understandable, very much so.

43:01 Karmic reasons for the war with Selbet. About the duality of thinking of earthlings.

Elena: In this regard, I wanted to ask a question that is connected with the war 12 thousand years ago that took place on Earth and affected our star system, and the star systems of the Galaxy, and even the four civilizations of the Interstellar Union, their numerous representatives at least. So what was, from the point of view of Archangel Michael, the real karmic reason for this terrible event?

Irina (Archangel Michael): Karmic reason from whom?

Elena: On behalf of all participants in this conflict.

Irina (Archangel Michael): Karmic reason... There is also the concept of “personal karma”, and there is the concept of “egregorial karma”.

Elena: If we take a broad view, then the conflict turns out to be even interplanetary.

Irina (Archangel Michael): Yes, there is a conflict at the level of egregors. The thing is that certain egregors of these planets - both those that started the war, and those that were destroyed, and those that were greatly changed, they have accumulated some karma, based on their actions, on the actions of their civilizations for many thousands of years.

I will repeat that before this there were egregors on Earth that were in a certain way composed of the thoughts and feelings of people who wanted to control others with the help of the magic of plasmoid civilizations. Such attempts on Earth were 40 thousand years ago, and 200 thousand years ago, and even earlier. That is, there were clans of priests who wanted to create a caste system and accordingly control others - their minds, their feelings with the help of plasmoid civilizations and various consciousness-altering herbs, etc.

Elena: Is this the Lemuro-Atlantean civilization? Is that what we're talking about?

Irina (Archangel Michael): We are talking about the entire set of all proto-states, there were no borders there as there are now - the primary states. And all this was in the egregors and attracted a certain civilization - this entire internal aggression and arrogance of the higher in relation to the lower strata of the population of this caste system, which existed for many millennia.

It was not on the whole Earth, it was introduced in certain regions, then it was cancelled. But in the egregors it all remained, and eventually led to the accumulation of a certain unlearned lesson of this civilization. And it attracted a civilization with similar ideas, that is, the superiority of some over others, only on the basis of race. Only this civilization was much more technologically advanced, and this made a physical attack possible - the Selbet war and the attack on Earth, and later the war with the Interstellar Union.

Selbet has a reason - a lack of humility before the decision of the Interstellar Union to create people and about the genetic ratio that was accepted. That is, again, this situation developed for a long time: 3 million years ago, the first physical people were created on Earth, and at the beginning, there was even an attempt by the Selbetians to bring these people out of incarnation. But then many generations lived on Selbet, there were various societies there that let this idea into the Selbet egregors that "they treated us unfairly." This lack of humility led them to war: they were also drawn to this event.

As for the Ashtar civilization, whose planet was destroyed, their egregors had a certain condemnation of reptilian races in general and also races that were not similar to anthropomorphs. This had been the case in their civilization for many thousands of years, of course, not at the level of official ideology, but rather, as you say, popular rumor.

Elena: Some kind of mental cliche.

Irina (Archangel Michael): As for Burkhad, Tumesout, whose bases suffered both on Phaeton and on the Moon, and in space there were also many disembodied representatives, the spiritual reason that led them to this war was that, firstly, they also had a certain disregard for the feelings of the Selbet people. They did not allocate, did not terraform a separate planet where the Selbet people could conduct experiments, for example, with earthly dinosaurs, crocodiles, and so on, to create their own race or a race united with people. That is, they did not create, did not provide them with a planet for experiments. And there was some disregard for the feelings of the minority for the sake of the majority. Do you understand what I am talking about?

Elena: Of course. This is a very serious point.

Irina (Archangel Michael): This is the unwillingness to hear each other. And all this together: the Selbet people did not want to hear these, and the Burkhads, Tumesout and the Ashtar civilization - Ederpeset, did not want to hear the Selbet people; and the karma of those, and the karma of these, and the karma of the Earth, which I just spoke about, all together in the aggregate led to a catastrophe. But this did not lead to a catastrophe immediately, long, long thousands of years passed, because all this was not so expressed in the egregors, it was implicit, hidden, there was even a struggle with this at the ideological state level, therefore everything was delayed in time.

Elena: So this is hidden mature karma that has manifested?

Irina (Archangel Michael): Yes, but it is egregorial. What does egregorial mean? It means that those Souls that incarnated in egregors during the period when there was a high probability of war and destruction, and exit from incarnation, they were aware of this possibility when they incarnated on these planets. Accordingly, when they agreed to this and took on part of the egregorial karma, it also became part of their personal working off - for example, their non-acceptance and dislike for each other. It was a lesson in forgiveness.

Elena: Very wonderful, such a complete explanation of the situation, I didn’t even expect to hear such a detailed answer, thank you very much!

Irina: Is everything clear?

Elena: Very much so. Everything is extremely clear and deep enough for us to understand that it didn't all just happen that way, that there were many deep reasons for this, which ultimately affected the egregors of each of the participants - representatives of the planets or a specific people.

Irina (Archangel Michael): You, earthlings, simply have a dually structured brain, and consciousness manifests itself through it in a special, dual state. This is when, in any negative incident, you look for the culprit and the victim. But if we look at this event from the point of view of the Spiritual world, such words cease to be relevant, because they only reflect the dual consciousness that one is guilty, and the other is the victim, the guilty must be punished, the victim must be pitied. But in fact, this is their common joint lesson: for the culprit - a lesson in humility, harmonization of his ego and victory over egoism, and for the victim - a lesson in forgiveness, Love and mercy.

Elena: This is also a very important addition.

Irina: How do you like the addition?

Elena: I think it's very valuable, because it just says that we should think about this a little, move away from our stereotypes that have developed in our dual consciousness.

Irina (Archangel Michael): That is why wars happen on Earth... Take any war, whether in the past or in the present - in any case it is karmically conditioned on both sides of the conflict. But even if these are not two sides, but more, then on each side - in its own way.

54:01 On the conflict between Russia and Ukraine. Advice from Archangel Michael.

Elena: For example, we have a very difficult situation now, we have so many karmic lines intertwined and unraveling...

Irina (Archangel Michael): I have already transmitted information about this, but now I will say it briefly. The situation that has now developed on Earth in general, it is the same as 12 thousand years ago in the Galaxy, arose because of the unwillingness of different parties to listen and hear each other.

Elena: I just wanted to hint at this at the moment when Archangel Michael spoke. How familiar this is to all of us!

Irina (Archangel Michael): This is also an unlearned lesson. For the Galaxy, it was already learned 12 thousand years ago, during these 12 thousand years there were no more conflicts in the Interstellar Union. Now the Earth is facing the same exam as the Interstellar Union faced then.

Elena: I don’t know if we will learn anything from past experience, everything is still somehow shaky.

Irina (Archangel Michael): How? We need to look at their experience: how they went through this experience at that time, what decisions and what laws were adopted because of this conflict. That is, all this can be studied, and you can hold a separate conference through Irina with questions about what has changed in the Galaxy, in the Interstellar Union in the legislative sense, in the sense of taking into account the needs of all civilizations in certain issues, including the creation of new races. All this was taken into account and brought to the legislative level.

Elena: Yes, but the thing is that we need to take into account the moments that are connected with our evolutionary development, and the fact that we are orders of magnitude behind you in terms of accumulated karmic experience, and this, of course, also has an effect.

Irina (Archangel Michael): Right now your earthly civilization (all this is happening at the third level of density), all of it, all of the states are now facing a certain choice - either to meet each other halfway, sit down and start listening and hearing each other, or to continue to build walls around themselves, fencing themselves off from each other and recognizing each other as enemies.

Elena: I don’t know, it seems to me that from the point of view of the level of our country leaders, this is all very difficult, they are not ready yet.

56:49 Materialistic understanding of the world among leaders.

Irina (Archangel Michael): The leaders are not random either (smiles).

Elena: Of course, we understand all this, we already know a little bit. Considering what was said earlier, and considering today's conference, I don't know how it will all turn out: do our leaders or at least their specialists even look at such sites? Maybe it would somehow illuminate their consciousness.

Irina (Archangel Michael): They have a certain material conditioning and materialism of a certain order, but it is also more connected with the egregor. Because in that egregor, in which the materialistic understanding of the world prevails among the majority of the population, a spiritually and idealistically thinking ruler cannot come to power.

Elena: Yes. We just recently had the opportunity to contemplate, to see a situation that was connected with a representative of the Interstellar Union, who sincerely wanted to help and communicate specifically with the leaders of certain countries, but, unfortunately, this turned out to be impossible.

58:18 Help from an earthling to civilization in passing the lesson.

Irina (Archangel Michael): How can you help your civilization, your egregors and generally all the governments and peoples of the Earth in passing this lesson (this exam even: now the lesson has already passed into the exam stage)? Accordingly, how can you help?

Elena: I don’t know.

Irina (Archangel Michael): You can, first of all, naturally, conduct meditations to fill the Earth's noosphere with Light. This greatly inspires all plasmoid civilizations, they begin to help you, this begins to attract the light forces of the Spiritual world to incarnate and help you, etc.

Secondly, you can mentally imagine the rulers of certain states, and not only your own country, but any country in general, because for the Spiritual world there are no borders and there are no distances for contacts. And simply imagine the rulers (you can imagine them in turn), send them the Light of Love and at the same time imagine that they meet, smile at each other in a friendly manner, shake hands, sit down at the table and sign those agreements that will suit everyone.

This is called "building a sphere of mental reality", and it will also be inscribed in the egregor. And the more people, and the more often they do this on Earth, the more such thoughts will come into the mental fields of the rulers.

Elena: Good.

Irina: Let's imagine how they sign.

Elena: Yes, we will imagine. I think that on Earth, at least a certain category of people are doing this work, and I think that these meditations are happening.

Irina (Archangel Michael): But this must be done without accusing either side of aggression, because everyone has enough aggression.

Elena: I think that such people do exist on Earth, and maybe, at some level, this qualitative advantage in the egregor will do its positive work. Let's hope for it and also contribute to it.

Elena: Let me go further, because we have been talking with Archangel Michael for about an hour now...

Irina: He just spoke about the real situation.

Elena: No, it’s wonderful that he extrapolated a distant event to our near one, this will be very important for those who listen to his point of view on this matter.

1:01:17 Conditions of incarnation and karma.

Elena: I would like to ask Archangel Michael: is the division of people in the world by gender, wealth, social status, talents and abilities all a consequence of the law of Divine justice of karma?

Irina: Dividing people by what?

Elena: Man and woman, wealth, social status, talents and so on.

Irina (Archangel Michael): The soul chooses to incarnate in a certain family, a certain gender, this is really determined by its karma as a combination of its qualities and energies.

Elena: Let me quote what Helena Petrovna Blavatsky once said. She said in one of her sources: "Faith in karma is the highest consideration in favor of reconciliation with one's lot in this life and the strongest incentive to try to improve one's subsequent birth." How does Archangel Michael relate to this statement?

Irina (Archangel Michael): Yes, indeed, knowledge and recognition of your karma is a good opportunity to improve it, to improve your position.

1:02:32 Forced disembodiment from the point of view of the Spiritual world.

Irina (Archangel Michael): And I would like to say a few more words about the concept called “exit from Samsara.”

Elena: Oh, how good! I have a question, Archangel Michael.

Irina: He already counted it from the field.

Elena: I counted for sure, because I just wanted to ask, is it possible to completely extinguish karma and for a person or humanity to leave the wheel of incarnations? I am listening very attentively.

Irina (Archangel Michael): Of course, exiting the wheel of incarnations is possible, but the whole point here is that it is possible at different levels of spiritual development.

The embodiment of the Soul is the result of work on endowing the Soul with energy shells both by the Angels-consultants, and by the parents of this child, that is, their etheric bodies, and by the plasmoid civilizations of this planet. That is, the embodiment of the Soul is, in fact, a rather complex project. If we compare it this way, it is not just like a person went and ate.

Elena: Having listened to the information related to the etheric body, the astral body, and partly to the questions that concerned representatives of the world of non-embodied Spirits, we understood what a grandiose task it is to send into incarnation.

Irina (Archangel Michael): You, people on Earth, simply take this issue very lightly, you have the illusion that if conception happens easily, quickly and pleasantly, then the Soul is incarnated in the same way. In fact, conception and incarnation are somewhat different things.

Conception is a physical process of joining cells that leave the parents' bodies in a way known to you. Incarnation is the work of many, many entities that show the way to the Soul, surround it with various energy shells, create an incarnation plan for it, advise it and constantly accompany it at all stages.

Elena: Yes, firstly, it is a very complex process - it is multidimensional in itself, and secondly, a very large number of all sorts of structures of the universe are connected, which help the Soul.

Irina (Archangel Michael): Now feel what it looks like from the position of these entities who help each Soul to incarnate and love each Soul, wish it the realization of all its tasks, what it looks like when this Soul disincarnates, for example, because of a piece of land or because it crosses itself with two fingers instead of three.

Elena: These are the peculiarities of our specific development, the level of a specific Soul.

Irina (Archangel Michael): Imagine what it looks like from that level.

Elena: I can’t say from that one, it’s difficult, but from this one, ours, it’s clear how.

Irina (Archangel Michael): To make it easier for you to imagine, imagine a child whom you helped, dressed, fed, put certain energies into him, and suddenly you find out that someone didn’t like him, and he took him out of incarnation when he hadn’t yet managed to do anything. How would you feel?

Elena: This is grief, really! On the physical plane, this is grief.

Irina (Archangel Michael): I mean mentally, mentally.

Elena: The plan is destroyed, this is a close being, and his life path is destroyed, the Soul was taken out of incarnation. This is completely incomprehensible to an ordinary person.

Irina (Archangel Michael): Well, it's completely unclear. You're absolutely right. And what if you find out that it was your child who brought you out of incarnation?

Elena: This is a completely tragic option!

Irina (Archangel Michael): Now try to understand what our Heavenly Father feels, who sees thousands of disembodiments of some of his children by others in one day.

Elena: Irina, I can’t even imagine!

Irina: What do you feel?

Elena: I don’t know, His heart is probably breaking from what He sees.

Irina: Spiritual in this case.

Elena: The spiritual heart, of course, is simply close to a heart attack, if we put it in earthly language.

Irina: Again, the physical heart can have a heart attack.

Elena: And the spiritual one has some kind of spasms, I don't know if I can say that. Something like that is happening - an energetic spasm, probably.

Irina: Energy spasm. Archangel Michael, how do you comment?

(Archangel Michael) Naturally, the Heavenly Father is on high vibrations, and He understands what is happening and why it is happening, He has an absolute level of awareness and happiness, He is still happy. But you see, what is the matter: happiness - it does not interfere with compassion, regret about the choice that His children made, although He wants the same happiness for them as for Himself.

Some people think that for spiritual beings disembodiment means nothing, including forced disembodiment, because it resembles, as it were, throwing off old clothes, which no one pities. And many followers of Eastern religions, Hinduism, as well as some esotericists believe that murder is a certain karmically conditioned activity, when one Spirit simply deprives another of clothes, and this is not a tragedy.

But the whole point here is that the task with which the Spirit came is not fulfilled in this case or not fulfilled completely. Moreover, he got into the Spiritual world unprepared for this - he did not gradually come to the extinction of his life force, but got there full of life energy, and this also gives rise to certain problems.

Elena: Yes, but probably among those who get into these situations, there are those who, speaking in theoretical language, have mature karma. And someone, really, thanks to the vector of free choice in the current life, having found themselves in this situation, gets an early exit from incarnation, and divine energies were spent on his program, on this entire very complex procedure of bringing the Soul to the physical plane. Probably, from the point of view of the law of Divine justice, disharmony arises here.

Irina (Archangel Michael): Therefore, a certain karma arises. Indeed, the murderer's etheric bodies are damaged, etc., which then even affect his health, his offspring. And besides, karmic responsibility can lead to the fact (not necessarily, but can lead) that his Angels-consultants will decide that if he does not realize the reasons that led him to murder in this incarnation, and falls to a low spiritual level because of this, they can lead him through a certain incarnation in the same conditions.

Elena: If we take, for example, the Patriotic War: a fairly large number of soldiers died in this war, and for us it had the character of defending the Fatherland. And the people who died and, of course, killed other people who attacked our country, then in this case it is considered as the fulfillment of their karmic task?

Irina (Archangel Michael): They were in any case with different feelings, just like the attackers. Their vibrations were still different. You can defend and attack with different feelings and with different motives.

1:11:57 The onset of karmic responsibility.

Elena: So I would like to ask: is the motive of an action more important than the action itself for the occurrence of karmic consequences? And does a noble motive always soften the consequences?

Irina (Archangel Michael): The content of the heart is more important. The motive is a mental plan, it is already a certain plan, and behind it there is a specific desire, aspiration, which is conditioned by instincts, feelings and desires of the spiritual heart. This is the most important thing - an indicator of the spiritual heart.

That is, a person can commit the same act for completely different reasons, and his karmic responsibility and the degree of lowering of his vibrations in this case will be accordingly determined by the state of his spiritual heart. Because why he killed and what he felt at the time - this will be said by his spiritual heart. One can defend with hatred, even with more than attack, and vice versa, respectively. And this hatred will lead him to greater karmic responsibility.

When you talk about defense, you admit: "I was attacked, I am defending myself." And this is less scary. Here it is not a matter of defense or attack as such, but of the state of the spiritual heart. Because there are many such battles, when from the battlefield the Spirits, who were enemies there, fell to the same level. Such cases exist.

Elena: This was probably due to the fact that the feelings of their spiritual heart were at the same level of vibrations, is that how it turns out?

Irina (Archangel Michael): Yes, that's right. They were on the same vibration level and ended up on the same spiritual level, and even then, depending on what it was - low, medium or high - they could continue to quarrel and fight.

But in the Spiritual world, in order to fight, you can come up with various images of weapons and try to fight with them, but it is already impossible to disembody. It will simply be a potentially eternal battle, a fight, you can feel real pain, which will be taken for physical, but it is impossible to kill anyone. And in the end, when these Spirits understand that this cannot be done, they simply begin to do some other things. Because to fight forever - the energy does not return, it is depleted, accordingly they understand that no matter how much you hate the enemy, you will not be able to destroy him.

Elena: I see. Well, of course, there are still questions, but in any case I am very grateful to Archangel Michael and Irina for the time they devoted to this problem, for the way it was discussed, for the very valuable comments that were given. Therefore, I can only express my deepest heartfelt gratitude, or, as Ira says, gratitude from the spiritual heart. And if there is such an opportunity, perhaps we will continue at some point what was planned, but due to lack of time we were unable to implement the intended program.

Irina: Thank you, dear friends! Thank you, Elena! Thank you, Archangel Michael! It was very interesting for me too. Thank you, dear viewers, for everything, I send you the Light of Love, until next time!

Seven Types of Religiosity https://blog.cassiopeia.center/sem-tipov-religioznosti
There are many religious and philosophical teachings on planet Earth, each with a more or less complex organizational and legal structure. These teachings arose in different historical periods and in different national and everyday conditions and continue to develop today.
Every religious society, once it arose on Earth, was divided into small sects, differing in doctrine and practice of faith from each other. This process continues now in both ancient and new religious movements.
For what reason are there so many religions and philosophical systems in the earthly civilization, if God, the Source of the Universe, is One and if each of these religions and philosophies declares its own exclusive truth and the falsity of all the others?
The fact is that people have seven energy centers (chakras), each of which determines a certain personality psychotype and type of religiosity. Each chakra is a concentrated channel of etheric energy, tuned to its own vibration frequency, therefore a person with one of the chakras more active than others understands God differently and sees the path to him.
For this reason, there are seven main types of religiosity among earthlings and many transitional forms between them, since a person can have two or more chakras equally active.
Below is a table that identifies these types:

It is important to remember that each religious egregor consists of many people with different active chakras, and therefore each of the listed religious types can be found in any of the religious and mystical organizations.
Examples of individual religions in the table are given as systems that were created by people with certain active chakras, which influenced the creation of religious norms, rules and canons.
If a person has several equally active chakras, then the religious type of such a person will be average between the types related to these chakras. If a person has complete harmony of all chakras, that is, they will all be equally active and free from negative blocks, then the type of religiosity of such a person will be mosaic, that is, it will include all seven types, which will manifest themselves in different circumstances in different ways.
The type of religiosity changes throughout life. As soon as the active chakra changes, then within seven to eight earthly months there is a corresponding change in the understanding of God and the path to Him. This is not necessarily accompanied by a change in religious affiliation, but can lead a person to a crisis of faith, which can serve as an impetus for a more detailed study of religious doctrine and deepening of religious practice, as well as to disappointment in religion and a transition to materialism.
It is necessary to remember that Divine Truth is One, but unknowable in earthly languages and in earthly concepts, therefore it manifests itself differently in various religious and philosophical movements.

Monotheism. Polytheistic cults religions https://blog.cassiopeia.center/S7Eu7iSznGg

Monotheism, which became known in a slightly different form than it is known on Earth, is characteristic of the worlds of the Interstellar Union, at least of those worlds that became the creators of your race. And as soon as the bodies of the first intelligent people were created and they were raised as children, naturally, special educators told them about the surrounding world, about themselves, about God, about the Spiritual world. And the system of monotheism, the concept of God the Father as a being who is simultaneously in the external world, that is, in the Universe and outside the Universe, and in themselves, such an omnipresent Spirit - this understanding was already laid down in the first people by the first educators of these children. After all, they did not immediately appear as adults.

After the tragedy with the scientist Selbet, known to you, who decided to interrupt the experiment and destroy the first people by a method known to him at that time and which seemed fair, but his plan did not materialize, did not work, then after that people were sent out from the Tumesout and Burkhad base. This Tumesout base was then so that they could start building their civilization, for which people were created.

After they had children and generations passed, they began to communicate with representatives of plasmoid civilizations, who seemed to them a word that can be translated into Russian as "gods", that is, somewhat luminous beings. You remember that the word "God" is related to the Sanskrit word "bhaga" - shining, shining light being.

Why did they present themselves in this way? Because the energy of love, worship, veneration, and for some plasmoids, sacrifice, supported them, nourished them, allowed them to feel comfortable, gave them strength, and, ultimately, simply gladdened the hearts of these Spirits. Although they were incarnated in another density, they still remained intelligent Spirits who feel love, understand it, strive for it only in such a form in which they could communicate with Spirits in the third density.

And from this moment on, polytheistic cults of religion begin their march. They were not yet such formalized religions as we are accustomed to seeing now, that is, there were no such temples, holy scriptures, priests who serve according to the same canon.

When I say the word "cults", I mean a religious trend of very diverse forms, which differed in different places at different times, and the content of this cult depended, first of all, on the personality traits of the contactee, who then, of course, was not called a contactee, but a prophet, a shaman, in different places a priest, for example, etc. The cult, into which those plasmoids who were in contact with him put it, depended on this. In order to attract people to it, they arranged, you would say now, miracles: they changed the weather, eliminated symptoms and cured diseases, sent animals to meet hunters, etc.

By controlling the animal world, the natural world, plasmoid civilizations created the appearance that the priest, the contactee, was controlling it. And seeing this, people went to him. He acquired a certain authority, and from this the first proto-tribes were formed, in which there was theocratic power. The priest occupied the position of chief.

Then it split up a bit, but the leaders of all the tribes, from which emperors, pharaohs, kings and other rulers later came, much later, always kept priests, sorcerers, magicians, astrologers nearby - those who were in contact with the subtle world.

And even now, at the present time, the situation on Earth has not changed much.

The purpose and time of emergence of monotheism

Why did I decide 6,000 years ago to bring monotheism to the territory of modern Palestine? In order to form a people.

Why did Krishna bring monotheism to that particular country? In order to raise the vibrations of the people where he was, to reduce, for example, caste hatred towards each other, hostility, since faith in one God would allow the people to be more united, and, moreover, he showed the path of love, the path of bhakti to this one God.

In general, the purpose of creating monotheistic egregors in the noosphere of the Earth is to unite the people with a single idea, to direct energy to the development of spirituality, love, and in polytheistic egregors, the energy of people is most often directed at understanding what sacrifice to make to which God so that another God will intercede.

This gives rise to a certain, what you now call, magic, magical thinking.

The Appearance of Kalki Avatar. The Point of Destiny for Earth https://blog.cassiopeia.center/yavlenie-kalki-avatara-tochka-sudby-dlya-zemli

Question: "In the Vedic scriptures it is said that at the end of Kali-yuga Kalki-avatar will appear. Will this really happen? Please tell us about this incarnation. Is it Yours? After how many earthly years will this happen?"

I know what it is about. All the numbers that are indicated there have a symbolic meaning. The one who is called Kalki-avatar is not one Spirit. It is an image of light Spirits who change reality. Now the Earth is in the process of changing reality, because many light Spirits are incarnating. Those who incarnated in tama-guna gain Light. This is also the "birth of Kalki-avatar".

In how many Earth years will he come? What does "come" mean? It means a complete victory of light vibrations, when there will no longer be darkness enveloping the Earth. (He concentrated and looked at the Timeline from the Spiritual World). In a favorable version of the Timeline, this will happen in the next 80 years, in an unfavorable one, the period will increase four times. Branches, from which smaller ones diverge. In other periods.

He named two he saw.

The fork has not yet happened. The planet, it is like a person. Like a person, a civilization has turning points. That is, a civilization or an individual is faced with a choice. The "branch of the tree", the Tree of Destiny, that a civilization or a person will take will depend on the result. This is the fork.

The point that will be a turning point for your planet, you call it the "Point of Destiny", will happen around 2032. For the entire planet. You will face a choice, your entire civilization - to follow the path of increasing vibrations, to the Light, or to decrease. For many, the second path will be easier.

Question: "What caused this choice? What events? What will happen, in a little more detail?"

It's not the dangers, it's not the war, but the atmosphere where it could start at any moment.

Question: "Global war?"

It won't start, but there will be danger. (He shows me) Like flammable gas, hydrogen, when it's sprayed before you light a match. But it won't light. It's more likely that it won't light. There will be tension, a confrontation of the entire civilization. One word is enough.

Question: 2032?

In this year or so, a series of events will occur that will force civilization to make a choice. Depending on the results of this choice, it will go down one "branch" or another.

The story of the transition to the Spiritual world from the earthly incarnation of the Mother of God https://blog.cassiopeia.center/istoriya-perekhoda-v-duhovnyj-mir-iz-zemnogo-voplo

Question: "Please tell me, are there any special features of your transition to the Spiritual world from your earthly incarnation, which we know as Maria? And, in general, is Maria the name by which we can address you? Or maybe we should address you differently?"

There was a time when I was called Maria, but the most common address among my people when I was incarnated was Mariam. But now many thousands of people on Earth address me as Maria. Every day, every hour I hear everyone who sincerely calls me and offers me a prayer. Yes, indeed, Apostle Luke wrote correctly in the book "Gospel" that from now on all nations will honor you - from the time when I decided to make contact with Mirrah Count and incarnate Christ. And therefore, since they honor me with the name Maria, then I ask that you address me in this way.

Okay. Were there any special features when leaving the incarnation from Mary's body?

At the time of my exit from my last earthly incarnation, very important for me, I believe the most important, I was 81 years old. I was next to the disciples of Christ. My second husband, who appeared after Joseph, had returned from a journey with the Apostle Paul.

He traveled with Apostle Paul for several years. But shortly before my departure to the Spiritual World, he arrived, because I spiritually called him and all my children who were alive at that time. In the last day before leaving for the Spiritual World, I told them about my Spiritual path, about the planet Burkhad, about Jesus Christ's father from another planet. I called it "from another star", because there was no such understanding as now.

My son had long been on the planet Burkhad by this time, but we communicated mentally: he often came to me in the Astral. When I left the body, he met me himself. Not an Angel-guide, as usually happens, but he himself took me to the Spiritual World to the level where I am now.

Mirrah Count and other Burkhadians took my physical body: my son decided so that I could live in an earthly body on Burkhad for some time. When the body was transported to Burkhad, they noticed that it could be restored, but not like Jesus Christ, who was younger when he died, but so that I could temporarily live on Burkhad and then go out into the Spiritual World.

It took time to coordinate with my Spiritual Guides in the Spiritual World so that I could temporarily return and restore my body. All this was agreed upon, and so I did. Several earthly weeks passed, and my body was restored on Burkhad. I spent another 35 years there. I could have stayed longer in this restored body, because they have such opportunities. But I understood, and we agreed with my son that my presence in the Spiritual World is more important, more important for me - to fully connect with my Soul, with my Higher Self and do what I am doing now, what I am doing now. If I were partially in the physical body at this level - it would be impossible: I would be distracted by physical life. 🙏🕊️

Feeling of hunger. Feeling of satiety. Reasons for overeating.
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/chuvstvo-goloda-chuvstvo-sytosti-prichiny-pereedan

Why do some people eat more than others?

Question: Is there such a gene, of course. If there isn't, how can it be explained?

No, there is no such gene. Everyone has family and clan differences in terms of food processing, but they are insignificant. The amount of food depends largely on family traditions, firstly. Secondly, on the character of the person himself, on his personality type, on his physique. There are many factors on which the quantity depends. Even on the quality of food.

If, for example, he does not receive some necessary vitamins or minerals from some type of food, his body will signal that he is hungry. Even if he has eaten a lot of other food, he will absorb it, this happens. You need to look at the microelement composition, what kind of imbalance is going on there.

It may contain parasitic life forms, which also require vitamins and microelements for growth and development. For example, vitamin B12 is used by various helminths, and a lot of food is needed to replenish it.

Perhaps a person is experiencing some kind of stress, and in order to suppress his instinct for self-preservation, he eats, because in the subconscious the feeling of satiety is associated with calm, since after birth, immediately after the child has eaten mother's milk, he is put to bed, and he is loved and protected. It can be different.

The feeling of satiety is usually associated with a feeling of calm. This is already on a subconscious level from deep childhood. Absolutely all people have it, and as far as I understand, all mammals have it. It is necessary to test the physical body, perhaps it lacks something.

Food diary. Thirst as a feeling of hunger. Sweets

If you eat too much of something, first of all, you need to write it down. Without changing anything in your diet, just start writing down not only the food, but also the amount of liquid, for example. You need to remember to do this for at least 14 days. If you drank or ate something, whatever it was, without changing your eating habits, just observe. You forget a lot.

Then, when you read this, you will see those products that are repeated or, on the contrary, are in short supply or not available at all. You want them, but for some reason you replace one with another. This happens, they are not all replaceable.

It happens that a person (I am talking about the liquid deficit again), who experiences (thirst) for many days, he already stops feeling thirst as thirst, he feels it as hunger. Therefore, when a person feels that he needs to drink water, and he eats dense food, which makes him want to drink even more, to dilute it, so that it is digested, and he again understands this as hunger. This is another moment that needs to be analyzed.

Help from a competent doctor will not hurt here. If you ignore thirst once, do not drink, then later it turns into a feeling of hunger in the human brain, that's how he feels. A person confuses them, because if you feel that you want to eat, drink water first and after 15 minutes ask yourself again. Just not sweet water.

Sweet water can easily replace any food intake, but it will not contain many essential vitamins and microelements. Many people eat a lot of sweets, and they get a lot of energy from this food, but they do not get the necessary substances that are in other food. The body, experiencing an acute deficiency of these substances, essential amino acids, microelements, again signals the body that it needs food, although it has received a lot of energy. Such an imbalance is also possible.

What is the illusion of the mind, delusion? How to feel reality?
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/chto-takoe-illyuziya-uma-zabluzhdenie-kak-pochuvst

An illusion of the mind is those ideas about the world that you call not just ideals, but mental attitudes about how it should be, not as it is in reality, but as it should be according to your idea. An illusion of the mind can also concern the person himself. The translation of the word illusion is "delusion".

A delusion is an opinion that differs from reality. Now we need to clarify what reality is. Reality in the understanding of the science of the Interstellar Union is not divided into objective and subjective. There is a single world of reality - this is what exists in all worlds and levels of manifestation: in the Divine world, mental, astral, etheric, physical, that is, your dreams, fantasies are also quite real in the mental world. The mental world is considered reality.

An illusion is, one might say, a lie to oneself about the reality that one perceives. The simplest example: two people are talking, and one of them expresses his opinion, criticizing the opinion of the other, and the one who is being criticized perceives this as aggression directed at himself. This perception is an illusion. That is, aggression as an emotion did not really exist in this person, in his inner world, but there was a perception of this aggression, and this perception is a product of the mind about another person who did not experience this feeling. This is the simplest example.

How to feel the true reality? To do this, you must dive into yourself, because the source of the true Divine reality is in you. You are a part of this Divine reality, you are a part of your Spirit, your Soul, which is embodied in the body, and to feel the true reality, you must believe, first of all, that the Spiritual world exists. To believe this, you need to feel it, and to feel it, you need to experience the experience of diving into yourself, communicating with your inner Light.

Again, the simplest way, which Saint Germain has already given, is to start simply asking yourself: who am I? Who am I? Where am I in the body? That is, the exercises that we teach our children, you call it meditation, but for us it is like a simple exercise in feeling your Spirit. And in fact, for us there is one single spiritual reality - Divine reality, and the material world is only a part of it, its reflection, its embodiment. And you really live now, each of you is now in the body, in the Astral, in the world of non-embodied Spirits and in the Source, that is, you are in several worlds at the same time. And they are all real.

If you think that you do not live in the real reality, then most likely this conviction itself that you do not live in it is already an illusion, and you need to look at the reasons for its appearance. Usually such thoughts, attitudes and beliefs appear from hidden depression and rejection of this world. You need to deal with this. 🤍

#579 Let's share the secrets of Rurik_ One day live with the Spirit!

00:00 Start of video.

00:05 Greetings. News from the Cassiopeia Project.

Artemy: Greetings, friends, everyone! How many participants we have today! For technical reasons, Maxim will not be with us on air, I am replacing him today. My name is Artemy, I am a member of the Cassiopeia team, the head of the Immersion project. This is a new project of the Cassiopeia Center, where much attention is paid to the physical development of the individual and the development of consciousness.

By the way, I'll tell you a little bit about it in a few words. On July 24, we will have the "Immersion" project, it is designed for five days - five days of relaxation, healing, rebooting. We will have conscious breathing, there will be nail standing, and also laughter yoga - we will pump up joy, life energy - "prana". We will have meditation in the flow, and also - a thematic bathhouse, the author's, according to the rules of our ancestors, how they steamed before. We will have transformational games, where our Higher Self will be involved. Also, our second person - Alena, a master of meditation in the flow - will conduct such meditations. It will be very interesting! I told you in general terms, there will be a rich program, friends, get ready!

I would also like to remind you that an off-site event will be held in Ufa from August 2 to 5, where Irina Podzorova with Ilya Alexandrov and our star friends will teach the first level of contacteeship. So all the information will be below, under the video, at the link. I would also like to remind you that we have an online store with unique goods "Cassiopeia". Details are also at the link.

Friends, you all know that the Cassiopeia Project exists on the "donation" system - due to your help we build and develop this Project. So we thank you for helping us, for being with us, for being one big family. This makes us happy and gives us energy to develop further, to move forward.

I also wanted to tell you that today we have... in fact, he has been here for a long time, I can just feel that he is here. He has such great energy, to be honest, I am going to fall asleep now: it is so relaxing, such warm, joyful energy! Today we will have an interesting broadcast with the Spirit of Rurik, with whom the emergence of Rus' began. I introduce you to Irina Podzorova, a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Let's greet her! Thank you. Irina, please!

04:10 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello everyone! Dear friends, good evening! Thank you all for being here with us! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, plasmoid civilizations and non-embodied Spirits. And today we have another live broadcast, which will be dedicated to the person known to many on Earth under the name Rurik. At least, that is how he is written in our history books, and there is a lot of contradictory information about him from different sources. That is, some information contradicts others. And today, at your numerous requests (many asked to talk to Rurik), I asked the curators - by the way, they are also here today: LiShioni, MidgasKaus send you their greetings. Thank you!

Artemy: Welcome!

Irina: Yes. And today the Spirit is present here, he will now tell us about himself, who is known to us under the name Rurik. As is known, he lived a little more than a thousand years ago, at least in this incarnation. He is greeting you now, and he is not incarnated now, at this moment, although he had an incarnation on one of the planets of our Galaxy, which is a colony of the planet Esler.

This is not the planet Esler itself, this is a colony of the planet Esler, which is located in the constellation Ursa Minor. That is, it is like a branch: colony means "branch". They flew to the planet, discovered it, it was suitable for them to live in, they founded a settlement there. And naturally, this planet is also part of the Interstellar Union, because they actually did not separate from Esler as state entities.

Artemy: Interesting.

Irina: And so, he came out of his incarnation from this planet, this Spirit, as he is now showing me, in 1974. That is, he literally recently came out of incarnation and came out to the 20th level. So now, at this moment, he is on the 20th level, and his name is (he says: “This is my spiritual name”) – TideHar. That is, this is a spiritual name.

(Spirit of Rurik) After incarnating as a man on Earth, whom you call Rurik, I incarnated again on this planet. I don’t know it…

(Irina) MidgasKaus and LiShioni also say that they do not know the Daraal name of this planet, but the self-name of this planet in the constellation Ursa Minor, where he incarnated, is Sirtesh.

(Spirit of Rurik) This is a self-designation, I don't know it in Daralian. But to avoid confusion, you can address me as "Rurik", because I have allocated a special fragment of my memory about this incarnation on Earth, in this person. And you can, to avoid confusion, not even address me as "Rurik", they called me a little differently there, that is, I had a different name.

08:43 Rurik's real name.

Artemy: What did they call you?

Irina: Rayirik. For him, "ai" turns into "i". "They," he says, "read "yu" because they wrote this letter of the name in Cyrillic with that Slavic letter, which they later forgot how to read."

Artemy: Interesting.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I am very grateful to you that I am with you again. I can even admit that I miss the Earth, our beautiful planet. Although I was incarnated in the constellation Ursa Minor, I still consider the planet Earth as my homeland.

Artemy: We want to tell you more. We greet you, Rurik! I will still, if you don't mind, call you as we, earthlings, are accustomed to. Because it is such an interesting, complex name.

Irina: I just read what they write - "Rarog". But he tells me: after the second "r" there is more of an "i" - Rayrik. There is not "o" there, but a letter that softens the consonant.

Artemy: Good. We welcome you, we feel that you have come to us.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): You can just call me Rurik, because I am already so famous in your history.

Artemy: Thank you.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I understand perfectly well that my name is not me. I am separate from my name, because a name is only a temporary characteristic of an entity that can be changeable.

Artemy: Okay. We have some questions for you. Are you ready to talk to us?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Yes, I am very interested in what questions you have.

(Irina) Thank you.

He also says that on Sirtesh he was incarnated as a doctor, a physician.

Artemy: I can feel such energy coming from you – kind, healing.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Thank you.

Artemy: Okay, then let's begin, if you don't mind, questions.

11:39 Rurik's levels before and after incarnation, tasks of incarnation.

Artemy: We have a question for you: from what level did you incarnate into Rurik and to what level did you leave.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I incarnated into Rurik’s body from the 12th level, and left at the 10th.

Artemy: Okay, and do you know what the task was to implement?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Yes, of course. The task for embodiment - my personal, public or family, which one interests you?

Artemy: Personal.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): My personal task was to develop organizational skills in myself, the family task was to unite my family, that is, all brothers, sisters and distant relatives into one hearth, as if under one roof. And the public, or national, task was to create an egregor of a new state entity.

Artemy: How interesting. And how successful were you in completing this task?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): You know, I managed to fulfill it by about 30-32%, because I left the incarnation when I was 49 years old as a result of poisoning (shows murder by poisoning, some snake was planted).

Artemy: So it was an unnatural death, right?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Yes, I didn’t have time to do what I wanted. I didn’t have time to do everything.

Artemy: Okay, thank you, thank you!

13:28 Place and time of Rurik's birth.

Artemy: Please tell me, in what modern territory of the country were you born?

Irina: He shows me that he was born near Lake Peipus.

Artemy: Interesting.

Irina: Yes, I also heard that he came... But it is what it is, as they say. He just showed me Lake Peipus on the map, that is, he showed me what it looks like, and it is signed. And he showed that there was a small settlement on its shore, and that he was born there.

Artemy: Interesting. And when were you born from the Nativity of Christ?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): You know, when I had already left my last incarnation on the planet Sirtesh, I remembered my incarnation, accordingly, in Rurik, and began to study this through my Angel-consultants. And I learned with surprise, I want to tell you right now, that they attribute to me a different place of birth and a different year, a different time. I was born almost a hundred years earlier - not in the ninth century, but in the eighth!

Artemy: So, it turns out that history has been shifted?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): If from the Nativity of Christ, I was born in 713.

Artemy: Thank you.

15:36 The spirit of Rurik about his ancestors.

Artemy: Tell me, please, who were your parents, ancestors?

Irina: What were your nationalities?

Artemy: No, by profession.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): They were hereditary, how do you say that... We had such priests - senior priests were called "volkhvs", and their assistants were called "varaks".

"Varaki" - in our language it was translated as "creating the Light of God in the Soul". That is, it is a priest who can govern a society under the control of the Magi. That is, it is like (maybe you heard?) in ancient India a Brahmin. A Brahmin is one who was a priest, and there was also a Kshatriya, but only a Kshatriya is a king or a military man. And in the area where I lived, it was a junior priest. That is, like a ruler, but at the same time also performed the functions of a priest, and this was called - "varaki". That is, it is like a separate class.

Artemy: Thank you, Rurik.

You have almost answered some of the questions, but there is one more question: what role did your ancestors play in the political life of your homeland?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): My parents?

Artemy: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): My parents ruled separate, how is it, in your opinion... Each tribe was divided into several clans, and they ruled the clans (shows a clan, and there is some kind of aksakal). This is my father. And my mother, she was with the children, because I had three brothers and five sisters, I was the third child (shows them all).

Artemy: Good. Interesting.

18:37 The spirit of Rurik about the Varangians.

Artemy: Were you a Varangian?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): This is a Varak. I know that later they began to call them Varangians, seafarers. This happened as a result of a translation error, because it was believed that they came from overseas. And we simply sailed on our lake - various tribal communities that were on the other shore. That is, it was big.

We also sailed on rivers. For us, moving on rivers was even faster than walking on land, because there were a lot of forests, and accordingly, there were few roads, and therefore it was difficult to move on land. We preferred to raft on rivers in the summer, and only where it was inconvenient to walk, we dragged (shows ropes) - with these ropes we dragged the boats behind us. Such trips on rivers and lakes.

Artemy: Interesting. Good, Rurik. And tell me, please, where did this word “Varangian” come from?

Irina: Paper?

Artemis: Yes, then.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Varaka is a name that translates...

Have you heard anything about a syllabic language? Our priests used this language, it was their secret language. That is, it was not the common language, one of the dialects of our tribe, but the priestly language. And it was syllabic even at that time, this priestly language. And in this language, "va-ra-ka", or simply "varak" (in general, "varaka" was pronounced): "Va" means "to create", "Ra" is "Light of the Sun", or "Divine Light", because the Light of the Sun was considered a manifestation of God, and "Ka" is "Soul".

Artemy: Interesting. So who are the Varaks, or Varangians?

Irina: These same priests, I mean class. That is, it is not a nationality. He is now showing me that it is a class, and it was even in different tribes and was called that.

21:07 Rurik on the "Varangian Truth".

Artemy: Did you participate in the creation of the Varangian Truth?

Irina: Very interesting title. What kind of newspaper is this? (laughs)

Artemy: Yes, the name is strange.

Irina: Ah, he probably means the law, the one who asked the question. Did you participate in creating the law for your tribe?

(Spirit of Rurik) I participated, but the main increasingly here were wizards. For example, wizards Rhodium, Parshan.

Artemy: Okay, thank you.

21:55 Life of Rurik before the beginning of his reign.

Artemy: Please tell us about your life before the beginning of your reign, mentioning significant and interesting events, in your opinion.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I studied because I was born into my tribe...

By the way, perhaps this is important – my tribe, where I was born, was called “rosy” or “rusy”, but most often – “rousy”, “rous”. But in general, we usually said “rosy”, the name “Russia” came from here later – it was named after the tribe from which I came and began to collect after training…

Like all boys, I was brought up mainly with my mother, her sisters, my grandmother and my older sisters until I was 10, that is, mostly in female company. But at 12, I was initiated into male power (he shows the initiation: they are led around a fire, they are watered, sprinkled, some prayers are read to the gods).

Artemy: Is this the transition to adulthood?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Yes. After this ritual is performed – it is done in the evening, when there is a full moon (indicates summer time, full moon) and overnight they leave it in something like a stone bag. You know, maybe something like a dolmen – one made of stone? And they close it with some kind of stone plug at night and leave the initiate there. It is like the period of growing up. And when in the morning they pull out this plug, and the boy comes out – this symbolizes childbirth.

Artemy: Rebirth.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): It's like giving birth to adulthood: I came out of my mother's womb and was small, and here I came out already an adult.

Artemy: Interesting.

24:21 Rurik's training and character traits.

Artemy: And please tell me about the important, in your opinion, habits, character traits and desires of Rurik.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): As I already said, at the age of 12 I went through this initiation, and I began to be taught by three teachers, a mentor, a sorcerer, who passed on to me knowledge about how to govern people, how to pass laws, how to govern what you call an army, and we called a squad, how to honor the gods, what are their names. Most attention was paid to the religious side - not political, not economic, this was considered secondary, more to the religious side. And I also learned a lot by heart (shows how he, a boy, learns something like prayers by heart). They were short, like spells, I learned them for different occasions in life.

What was my character like? I was very eager for knowledge, and even then one of the Magi, that is, my mentors, showed me my divine destiny, that is, given to me by the gods.

(Irina) He is now showing me how they told his fortune using some runes - an oval bowl, yellow, like gold, and they throw stones into it with runes drawn on them.

(Spirit of Rurik) The gods showed me through these runes that my destiny was to be a ruler, first of my tribe, and then to unite with others, but only in a peaceful way. It didn't always work out, though, but I tried to keep it that way.

And I, especially at the beginning, was very dreamy, romantic, felt my Soul, communicated with my Soul, communicated with my ancestors who had already gone to the Spiritual World (that is, I was like a contactee). And only later, of course, after the first disappointments in people, attempts to lead these nations that I united to that happiness to which they did not want to go, I, of course, hardened my heart and accumulated some anger, irritation and disappointment in myself. This was especially later, in the middle of life.

And at first I was a very dreamy, trusting young man. I loved my wife very much. By the way, I had only one, although at that time in my tribe, in the surrounding tribes this was frowned upon, because my status implied at least five wives. But I loved her so much! Naturally, she loved me too. She even offered me to bring more wives from some noble families, the elite, for the sake of status. But I simply could not share this happiness with anyone else.

(Irina) That's what he's telling me now.

Artemy: Interesting.

28:29 What gods did Rurik worship?

Artemy: We also have a very interesting question: what gods did you worship?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Rod, Svarog, Makosh, Lada, Stribog, Yarilo and Perun. The main one was Rod. That is, it is like the progenitor, hence the word "rod". All the clans came from him, that is, all the families, in the sense of clan egregors.

You call a community a family, but for us this concept included not only those people who live in one house, but also their ancestors. It was like one family, one clan. And all these clans came from Rod - a creature who was imagined as a powerful elder (shows), who looks at the Earth during the day with the help of an eye that is visible as the Sun, and at night - in the form of the Moon and in the form of stars. That is, he constantly watches people with celestial bodies.

Artemy: Interesting. (laughs)

Irina: She just tells it so interestingly that it makes her laugh. (laughs)

Artemy: He has such a pleasant energy.

Irina: Yes, exactly. So cheerful, I want to say.

30:35 The territory of Rurik's reign and his age.

Artemy: Tell me, please, were you really invited to Rus' from another country?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Not from the state. I was invited by other settlements on the shore of Lake Peipus, and also near the rivers (shows a map and settlements: there by the river, there by the river, and around this forest). I wouldn't call them cities, specifically modern ones, but they were fairly large settlements for that time.

Artemy: I understand. And why were you invited, can you tell me?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): They invited me so that I could unite everyone and help them proclaim laws and appoint managers. Because it won't work to manage another tribe from afar, you need to appoint a manager. And so I chose the most intelligent person from them, who was then accountable to me for all actions that were performed in this tribe.

That is, I was appointed as a legislator - and because the Magi said, and I believed it sincerely, that I was destined for this as a messenger of the gods. I believed that all the gods were with me: Perun, Rod, Yarilo, etc.

Artemy: Good. Tell me, please, how old were you then, what age?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): When did I begin to rule?

Artemy: Well yes, when did they start inviting you for management functions?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I studied from the age of 12 until 23. For another two years I was dedicated to myself, my family – I lived with my wife, and I was invited at almost 26 years old.

Artemy: Interesting. Such a young age.

Irina: Yes.

33:08 History of the emergence of Veliky Novgorod.

Artemy: Tell me, there is still such a question: who founded Veliky Novgorod, and for what purpose.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): This city was founded back in… It is very ancient, in fact. What you now call Novgorod, there were several small settlements on this territory, and they are very ancient, they were there before me. They were founded by my ancestors.

Artemy: Good.

33:39 Duh Rurik ob Askolde i Dire.

Artemy: Tell me, who were Askold and Dir to you, and how did your relationship develop?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): The names are a little strange. Maybe they sound different somehow?

Artemy: But there are historical…

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): In the squad of this tribe of dew there were similar names - Askard and Gor. They were from the warrior class, as guards, if only about them we are talking. In fact, they were not alone there, my squad consisted of 56 warriors.

Artemy: Thank you! Tell me, please, did you send Askold and Dir to Constantinople?

Irina: No. He doesn’t confirm.

(Spirit of Rurik) No, that didn't happen. I traveled through Slavic tribes.

Artemy: Interesting.

35:10 The spirit of Rurik about the Polyan tribe and Kyiv.

Artemy: Okay, tell me, please, did they really betray you and begin to reign in Kyiv independently, separating from your power, separating from you?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Kyiv... I understand what city you are asking about. This is, as I understand it, the land of the Polyans. And there really was the forefather of a large clan of this tribe, and his name was Kiy. He was, of course, even before I was born. All these legends, stories, histories were called saga, rasskazy, bylina.

In Kyiv, it was the Polyan rulers who ruled. I sent a detachment there to negotiate, negotiators. But at that time, I was unable to negotiate with them, they did not want to join, those who were princes.

The Polyans had a union of five tribes. Where the city of Kyiv is now, two tribes lived there at that time. It was not that big, there were just small settlements. It grew later. Of these five princes, three agreed to negotiate with me on certain terms, to join the union of tribes and form a new state, but two resisted, and even discord began between them, some intrigues (shows).

These are Polyane, not the Rosa tribe. These are Polyane, that is, the Southern Slavs.

I also used some tribes of the Drevlyans and Severians to act as intermediaries in relations with the southern Slavs, because they were just joining this state.

Artemy: Good.

38:39 The spirit of Rurik about the Prophetic Oleg.

Artemy: Please tell me who Prophetic Oleg is, and how did he take his place next to you?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): This is my wife’s brother, her name was Apiina, he called her Appa.

(Irina) Names are perceived strangely in thought forms.

(Spirit of Rurik) Oleg is her older brother. He was not much older than her. We had very good brotherly relations, like with a real brother. Why was he called the Prophetic? He was, in your opinion, a prophet. Not a sorcerer, but he predicted many events and predicted not to scare, but as if to warn.

Artemy: I had a premonition, it turns out. Good, thank you.

40:13 The spirit of Rurik about his children.

Artemy: Tell me, please, have you appointed Prophetic Oleg as the guardian of your son Igor?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): "Appointed" - this sounds strange, of course. I asked him and several of my friends to look after my two sons - the eldest, Igor, and the youngest, Sungir. I also had a daughter named Olga, but then, when she turned 15, she married one of the Vyatichi princes, with whom I had a very good relationship.

Artemy: Thank you. Please tell me, how many children did you have in total?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Three: two sons and a daughter.

Artemy: How actively did you participate in the upbringing of your son, your heir Igor?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I could not see him for months, and then spend a whole week with him. It depended on my travels. When he was still little, he could not share with me all the difficulties of hiking along rivers and horse roads. There were such - horse roads. Of course, you can't call them roads in your understanding, but we used them and rode horses. He began to ride with me at about 12 years old, when he had already passed the initiation.

Artemy: Started taking him with you?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Yes.

Artemy: Okay, thank you.

42:26 The spirit of Rurik about his wives.

Artemy: Tell me, please, who was his mother, Igor’s mother?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): This Appa, he had one wife. That is, he did not take another wife, he did not want to.

Artemy: I think you already answered at the beginning, but just in case, I’ll clarify again: how many wives did you have in this incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I had one wife, although I say that I was repeatedly offered, including by my parents, and my wife herself, and the Magi offered me not to discredit my princely family. In your opinion, it is like a prince, but in ours, as I already said, it was called "varaka" - a priest who performed the duties of a ruler. And other priests, Magi - they were teachers of children, healers and those who perform various magical rituals.

And they also recommended me and even brought me (shows how they matchmake different women, or rather girls). Naturally, it was not customary to marry married women who had already gone through a man's life. According to my status, they brought girls who had not known a husband, but I refused because I loved one, and they even convinced me (shows how he refused).

Artemy: Good, interesting.

44:38 The spirit of Rurik about his death and transition to the Spiritual world.

Artemy: Please tell us in more detail what caused your death? What was there?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): A snake bite. It was planted on me. In the Spiritual World I saw the reason – that it didn’t just crawl into my room, but it was planted, and it wasn’t in the settlement where I lived permanently, it was on a journey. It was set up, one might say, by those princes who didn’t want to join the common state of Rus. That is, the entire state began to be called by the name of my tribe, because I came from there.

I was on a journey. It was a journey to one of the tribes. Maybe you heard, they are called Merya? And it was a journey to the Volga River, not far from where the Oka flows into it, upstream. And in this Merya tribe, where we traveled on horses, somewhere on boats, changed horses, came and began to negotiate the annexation of this tribe. They gathered a veche, that is, a meeting, and began to tell the whole tribe about the advantages that joining would bring.

Naturally, they had to pay tribute, but it was not a capture, it was a voluntary annexation, because in the event of an attack by any nomadic tribes, the entire union of tribes would defend. In addition, they helped each other - some tribes in this union of Rus helped others in the event of crop failure, death, loss of livestock, famine, epidemic. That is, they helped each other with food, and even (shows) silver bars, with which they traded with other peoples.

Artemy: Interesting.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): And they could also help in various needs. That is, these were not just relations between a tributary and the one who collects tribute, but these were precisely general contributions so that it would be possible to form a strong treasury and a strong state. Strong means one that can survive all cataclysms, upheavals and improve its space, its territory, where it lives, and increase, spread across the Earth.

Artemy: Interesting. Thank you. A very detailed answer.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): And there, in this Merya where I arrived, there was a prince named Uchura. This Uchura, he first greeted me so kindly, tenderly, courteously, spoke many kind words and hurried to feed and water me from the road (shows how he gives him some food and a drink made from grain, like beer).

When I got tired and wanted to sleep, they took me to a room. I went to bed, and when I woke up in the middle of the night to relieve myself, I heard a hissing sound under my ear (he shows how he is looking with his hand to take something, to light a torch, and feels a bite). I caught my breath, and I shouted a word – I called my warriors. I heard a stamping sound, three of my warriors ran into the room and started to light torches. And I saw this snake, which was already under the bed. That is, it was put under me. Later, in the Spiritual World, when I had already left the incarnation...

When I saw them, everything went dark before my eyes, my heart was beating fast, I couldn't breathe and started asking for water. And I was overcome with fear, because when you feel that something is holding you by the throat and not letting you breathe, you become afraid. Not because of death, you become afraid because of instinct - your body wants to run away from what is happening. And I realized that I was bitten by a snake.

Then the light went out, I could no longer hear the voices of my warriors, who were talking to each other in a very excited state, shouting something. And then I heard music, it was like a bell ringing. And I felt like I was flying somewhere, like a bird. I thought that I was dreaming, and that all of this was a dream, including the snake. And then I saw that two people dressed in all white were descending to me from above, as if on a white ball, like a cloud. They greeted me, saying: "We greet you, brother!" They took me by the arms - one by one arm, the other by the other. I asked them: "What happened? Who are you?" And they said: "Your body has finished its life, and we will take you to your eternal home."

Artemy: Interesting. Good.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): And already in the Spiritual World I understood that this was planted by this Uchur. Not by him himself, but by his order.

Artemy: Were there any premonitions the day before that something was going to happen? Maybe there were some signs, or did you accidentally see something?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I arrived at this settlement in the evening, as I already said, on the banks of the Volga. And we were moving all day. It was raining, we were moving through the forest. There were, you could say, five miles left, and the horse twisted its leg (shows how it limped). I even got off the horse, it couldn't carry me, and I led it myself. I didn't understand it then, but this was a sign for me to stop.

Artemy: I wonder how! They did give a sign, right?

Irina: Yes.

Artemy: Thank you.

53:46 Place and method of burial of Rurik.

Artemy: Please answer this question: where and according to what customs were you buried.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I did not feel my body, but I knew how others were buried in my tribe - they were burned in large fires. First they laid the body, then they covered it with dry firewood, pieces of peat and burned it.

Artemy: Interesting. Tell me, please, did you have a will, and did you monitor its execution from the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): There was no such will, I did not plan to leave at this age. But in fact, of course, those who remained alive began to take care of my children and my wife, who was 42 years old at the time of my death, because she was 7 years younger than me. She already began to take care of the children and so on.

Artemy: Did you keep an eye on the Rurik dynasty from the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): No. After 186 years, I incarnated on that planet in the constellation Ursa Minor.

Artemy: Okay, thank you.

Irina: (reads Tat) They write that it is amazing how well Rurik speaks Russian. You know, dear friends, he does not speak Russian! Since he can no longer speak with his voice, he has no body. He sends me thoughts, it is telepathic, and you do not need to know the language for this. He sends me thoughts, and I translate them into Russian myself. If the contactee were at least Japanese, they would send him thought forms, and he would translate them into Japanese. Because telepathic language - you do not need to study it, you feel it and translate it with your vocabulary.

Artemy: Rurik, we also have this question: why were you expelled from Friesland?

Irina: Who?

Artemy: Why were you expelled from Friesland?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I don't know what Friesland is.

(Irina) He doesn't know what this word is, doesn't know how to comment on it.

Artemy: Maybe it was called something else?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): What do you mean, banished? I just told you about leaving the incarnation. But I was not banished from other tribes. There was simply such a conspiracy, because part of this Merya tribe was for joining, but its prince, priests, tribal leaders - they wanted to preserve their power and, in order not to banish me before the people, decided to eliminate me in this way. And then, naturally, they said...

(Irina) He is now showing me that he received information from the Spiritual World that those who poisoned him with the snake told their people that he simply died in his sleep. Naturally, no one showed them the snake, they made it look like an accident. And those vigilantes who said that they saw it, they simply did not believe them. Because where did the snake come from? It was a closed room. He shows me like this.

58:30 The Spirit of Rurik on the concept of “Slavs”.

Artemy: Tell me, please, was there a concept of “Slavs”, and who was called that?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Slavs is a general name for tribes that lived, so to speak, in Europe – eastern, western, north, south. That is, it is a multitude of specific tribes that spoke similar dialects of one language. There were many of them, specifically – 38 tribes, some larger, others smaller.

59:18 Was Rurik a Scandinavian?

Artemy: Tell me, please, was Rurik really a Scandinavian?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): No, I am not a Scandinavian. I know about this theory and I don't know why they wanted to make me a Scandinavian, but I have never even been there in my life.

Artemy: And who collected tribute from whom before the beginning of your reign?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I don't understand the question, I need to clarify. The tribe where I grew up did not collect or pay tribute to anyone at the time of my birth.

59:59 The spirit of Rurik about his brothers.

Artemy: Have you come to rule alone or with your brothers?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): My two brothers – they helped me (shows). One was called Sinyar, because when he was born (he was my mother's eldest), he almost died in childbirth and was born blue, blue. And then the grandmother who delivered him somehow revived him (shows how she does artificial respiration, blows something into him). And the second brother – Traviy, he was born in the month when the grass began to grow.

Artemy: Interesting.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): They helped me.

1:01:00 Rurik's appearance.

Irina: (reads the chat) People have been asking you many times what you looked like. Lots of questions about your appearance: beard, hair and eye color. So, interesting.

(Spirit of Rurik) My height was…

Artemy: They ask about nationality.

Irina: One of the Slavic tribes named Rosy is a nationality. And the appearance...

(The Spirit of Rurik) My height was somewhere around 180 centimeters.

(Irina) He would be above average, quite a solid build. That is, like he is now showing, a strong man. I see that his beard is dark, but not black, like a dark brown color, and his hair is lighter and also a little reddish. His eyes are some kind of greenish-brown.

(reads the chat) There's Rurik writing! Rurik, I'll read you what you're writing now. We have it written - Rurik, that is, that's how one of the users called himself: "I looked and look just gorgeous now! Now I don't have a body, but I have a very beautiful Soul!"

He laughs and says.

(Spirit of Rurik) I thank, of course, for such a compliment to me, but I want to say that all Souls are beautiful if they are in the Light of God. But if they lose the Light of God, they lose the image of God and become ugly, and hence the word ugly.

Artemy: I see.

1:03:31 The spirit of Rurik about his sons.

Artemy: Another question, Rurik: did Rurik's lineage really continue among the rulers of Rus'?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Well, yes, my son, he became the continuer. One of the sons - Igor - became the continuer of the family, and Sungir - he went more into seclusion, began to practice herbalism, went into the forest. I knew this, because even after disembodiment I communicated with my sons - he came in the form of the Spirit, he came in a dream, like other ancestors, by the way.

Artemy: Interesting. What is your most pleasant memory of the incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): The birth of my sons, the first son – Igor, the eldest heir, the beginning of my male strength. The beginning is like the first harvest.

I remember how I was very worried and anxious when my wife was giving birth. And how I could not sleep that night, although I had had a very tense day before – there were very difficult negotiations with those tribes that had already joined. They expressed their dissatisfaction with many of the orders in the state, in Rus'. I had a very bad headache, but nevertheless I could not sleep, although I felt very weak and dizzy. I could not sleep because my wife was giving birth, and I wanted to burst into that room, but they would not let me in. I shouted to her across the room: “My Soul is with you!”

When they brought my son to me, my wife was lying down, resting, and the midwife brought him out. It was already early morning, the sun was already rising, and I saw his gaze. He was so beautiful, it was as if he was glowing. I took him in my arms, and it was the happiest moment in my life. As a father, you understand me.

Artemy: Yes, I understand you. I even feel your joy.

Irina: What do you feel?

Artemy: Trepidation and warmth.

And I immediately want to ask you in contrast: what is the most negative memory in your incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): The most negative memory of my incarnation? You know, I don't have any. In any case, I don't have any negativity even about my exit from incarnation. It was just an experience. Although at that moment, of course, it was very scary, and I wanted to live. At that moment, when I was dying from a snake bite, I even asked the gods to leave me. And not because I was afraid of the transition itself, I understood that I still had a lot to do. But even now I don't treat this experience as negative.

Artemy: The prime of life, right?

Irina: Well, 49 years old.

01:07:24 Other incarnations of the Spirit of Rurik.

Artemy: Tell me, please, have you had other significant incarnations on the 59th density levels on the territory of the Russian Federation, planet Earth, planets of the Interstellar Union?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Have I had any other incarnations?

Artemy: Yes, significant.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): In total, at the present moment, I have had 1647 incarnations in different worlds and at different levels of density. I was incarnated on Earth 36 times at different levels of density, including 11 times as a human. I was incarnated in different countries, in different eras, and in times, as you say, pre-war, antediluvian, that is, before the war 12 thousand years ago. And I was also in ancient peoples, such as Persia, African peoples. In different women, men (shows). And I was also incarnated in Israel - I had an incarnation in a person, a woman who knew Abraham closely.

Artemy: Interesting.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): You could say she was his niece, his relative. There were many children there, and I was his niece, and I communicated with him personally.

And I was incarnated on the territory of India, I was a Brahmin there. I am now talking about earthly incarnations. And on other planets I was incarnated on Selbet, on Burkhad and in other Galaxies. That is, there were many incarnations.

Artemy: And the levels, accordingly, were also different, right?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Yes.

1:10:04 Reasons for the decline of Rurik's spiritual level.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Here they also asked why I lowered the level from 12 to 10. Because I went out in a state of war. 10 is the level of the Spirit that defends justice through violence. That is, I was angry, and I had hatred and anger towards some people who put obstacles in my life. These were mainly people from other tribes who prevented me from creating and developing this state.

Artemy: Interesting, thank you.

1:10:57 The spirit of Rurik about his contact.

Artemy: Tell me, please, did you have physical, astral contacts with aliens when you were in Rurik's body?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): As I already said, when I was still young, I contacted various Spirits. I did not have physical contacts, but I saw many subtle worlds.

Did I have contacts with aliens? You know, I had a curator, but he came to me in a subtle body from the planet Burkhad, this was when I had already come to power. It was Arthas Quir, a close friend, comrade and employee of Mirrah Caunt - Archangel Gabriel. And I also contacted him several times, he also came to me.

I also contacted the Spirits of Nature, my ancestors, the gods (shows): Yarilo, Perun, plasmoid worlds – and they also prompted me. But over the years this became less frequent. I simply lost sensitivity because I went into this earthly vanity.

Artemy: Okay, thank you.

1:12:30 The Spirit of Rurik on the military conflict between Russia and Ukraine.

Artemy: Another question: can you see from the Spiritual World when the current military conflict involving Russia will end? You probably know?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Yes, I know about this conflict, of course. I am on the 20th level and, by the way, I am taking part in helping the Earth during this period, because I am a healing Angel.

You know, there are many probabilities of when this conflict will end, and how it will end. There are many probabilities, and what's more, they change. They change, one might say, if not every minute, then certainly every day. That is, the balance of power changes, people's choices change, and the events that influence their choices change.

I just want to say: what is happening now is a continuation of a very old egregorial conflict between the Polyans and the Vyatichi. This conflict existed even in my time, and I heard about it from my father, from my grandfathers, from my older generation - that the Vyatichi and the Polyans often clashed with each other and fought. That is, they attacked each other, won some territories from each other. And it was such an egregorial confrontation. Therefore, now, although more than a thousand years have passed, all these energies in the egregor have not gone anywhere, and they continue to manifest themselves through modern people in this form.

I just want to give spiritual recommendations on what needs to be done to cleanse our egregors in both Russia and Ukraine, and to become completely independent from the opinions of others, to fully reconcile and find something in common. Naturally, as I have already said, this conflict is very old, it is already more than a thousand years old. At that time, all these groups of Slavs, even before my birth in the body of Rurik (maybe you have heard of such a custom?) had a blood feud.

Artemy: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): That is, it all began with a certain blood feud, they began to take revenge on each other for minor offenses. And the more they took revenge, the more malice, contempt and fear they released into their egregor. Although they had temporary alliances, but the next generation of people came, they were imbued with this egregorial spirit, and strife began again.

There is a possibility to stop all this. Here it is necessary to realize, first of all, all the people who are part of these nations - this is the first, and secondly - the rulers of these countries, who are now responsible before God for the path of these nations on Earth in the world community.

The first thing is that we must sincerely forgive each other, let go of all the grievances and all the evil done to each other, because a lot of evil has been done to each other. If people start reminding each other: you did this to us, and you did that to us, you killed so much, and you did so much, you destroyed so much... These accusations, in fact, lead nowhere. Everything that was in the past, dear friends, must remain in the past. If you want to live on a renewed Earth, on one renewed by the so-called quantum transition, that is, by raising the vibration, if you want to live in a new world, you need to leave your old, torn clothes in the past, and not drag them along with you into the future. You need to cleanse yourself with forgiveness.

Forgiveness is purification. There is no act that cannot be forgiven if you see a brother in another (here a brother is not descended by blood, but by Spirit). And if you endlessly blame each other: he killed these, and that one killed these, this one attacked, and that one also attacked - this is a road to nowhere. This charges the egregors with even more malice. And this means that if your generation does not cleanse these egregors now, then even with temporary reconciliation, perhaps the next generations that come after you, to your nations, they will again enter into these strife and fight again. In order for this not to happen...

(Irina) (reads the chat) Here, please, do you see what they write?!

He just answered your question.

Artemy: Yes, there is an interesting question there, we will ask it now, we still have a few questions left.

Irina: Here, please, I will read it to him now, to Rurik. Dear Irina, I will now read to Rurik what you are writing. He just answered, and here our viewer writes: “What are you freezing? Let go of the enemy who came and kills, destroys? Let the enemy first leave our land, and then we will start kissing his gums.”

What do you think, Rurik, with what feeling is this written? What energy are you currently charging your egregor with, what do you think?

He's telling me now.

(Spirit of Rurik) I appeal to this Divine Soul and once again ask you to look not at the physical actions of these peoples - Russian and Ukrainian, but at those inner desires, impulses and feelings that guide them. After all, for you, if you are really engaged in spiritual development, esotericism, that is, secret knowledge, it should be clear that every person who was born into some people is already connected with an egregor. And, as I have already explained, this enmity has been going on for a very long time, even before Christian times, and in these two egregors a lot of different energies have accumulated, to cleanse which is now your lesson, since you have incarnated.

Why exactly your lesson, you may ask, and not someone else's? Because it was you who agreed to incarnate at this time and in this egregor. This means that you have already taken upon yourself a part of the egregorial karma. And you, like any Ukrainian and any Russian who has incarnated at this time in this place, have taken upon yourself this national lesson.

Here you say: "It will come out - then we will forgive him." Forgiveness should be unconditional - when you forgive and accept him as he is. And why did he come to your land? Because this is a manifestation of the egregor: the egregors collided again - and they felt the urge to go there, to you. And in order for them to cleanse their egregor, you must also begin to cleanse yours. This is a mutual process, in fact.

I just commented on what they write, dear friends.

Artemy: Okay, thank you! Thank you for the detailed answer.

Irina: I just read to him what they wrote, and he just commented.

1:22:09 Formation of the state of Rus', the first rulers.

Artemy: Another question from our viewers: what territories were included in the state of Rus, created by Rurik?

Irina: The territories of the Vyatichi, the territories of the Chud, partly the Krivichi, who lived further north, the territories of the tribes called the Drevlyans and Severyans, also partly, and also the Ves tribe. He is now showing me the territory from approximately Lake Onega to the Volga, this is in the north. And in the south - somewhere where Ryazan is, maybe a little further south - such a piece. That is, this is the territory that existed.

Artemy: Good. And who ruled Rus or these tribes that were before Rurik?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Council of priests. It's like a veche, that is, not a prince, but a council of authoritative elders.

Artemy: Okay, thank you.

1:24:14 Slavery during the time of Rurik.

Artemy: Tell me, please, was there slavery, and how did they treat prisoners at that time?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Specifically in our tribe?

Yes, slavery existed, but it was not as widespread as some people think. It was quite rare. A slave could be a person who was captured during a raid, or who could be bought from other peoples. But there were special laws on how to treat such people. They were still equal to us before the gods, it was just their destiny - physical labor and patience. That is, if he got into such a situation, then the gods intended him to pass this test and remain pure. That is why, for example, we punished not only for killing or beating a slave, but even for a rude, disdainful attitude towards him. According to our laws, the owner had to let him go. That is, these are more lenient laws.

Artemy: Okay, thank you.

1:25:33 Rurik's occupation in the Spiritual world.

Artemy: Here's another question from our viewers. Tell us what you do in the Spiritual World.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Healer, Angel-healer. I direct the energies of the Spiritual world, various energies of Love, healing, harmony, transformation, salvation, chastity, that is, all these spiritual qualities. I radiate them from my heart and direct them to heal the Souls of people who accept it.

Artemy: Thank you, interesting. What other questions do our viewers have?

01:26:28 Cause of death and burial place of Prophetic Oleg.

Artemy: Here's an interesting question: is the grave of Prophetic Oleg located in Old Ladoga?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): I met him after the disembodiment, and he told me that he died as a result of a battle with nomads, but not directly in the battle, but from a wound: he was wounded and later died from this wound. This was already further south, somewhere, as I understand, in the Tambov region. He died there, and where he was buried... I already told you how we buried people, how it was customary to treat the bodies of the dead.

Artemy: So he died from a wound, and not from a snake bite?

Irina: He shows me that they met, and that Oleg said the reason for leaving the incarnation.

(Spirit of Rurik) He told me that it was during the battle. No, there was no snake there. He showed me that it was something iron, like a metal weapon.

(Irina) It's just that Pushkin wrote it, I remember that too. Dear friends, in fact, I also remember this poem, I read it, we studied it at school. And in fact, I am also surprised by this answer, but in any case I can't say if it is not confirmed.

1:28:15 The spirit of Rurik about his descendants, relatives.

Artemy: Tell me, please, do your relatives now live on Earth, in Russia or somewhere in other countries?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): In what sense are they relatives? Descendants, of course, live on, there are a lot of them. Just imagine: one man had, for example, a son or two sons, he could also have sons and daughters. And as I already said, I had three children, and they all had their own children, and then they had their own children. Can you imagine how many there will be in ten generations? I'll even tell you now…

(Irina) (reads the chat) Look, Rurik, they even offer you to incarnate. (laughs)

(Spirit of Rurik) I'll even tell you who your ancestors are. Mom, dad, their parents, their parents' parents, and in just 10 generations that's more than a thousand people.

Artemy: Interesting. Tell me, please, did you meet your wife in the Spiritual World? At what level did she disembodied?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Yes, she disembodied at the 14th level. She was more involved in housekeeping than religion or her spiritual development, her Soul, so the average level. We communicated: I was at the 10th, and she came to me.

Artemy: Okay, thank you. Here's another question from our viewer (reading from the chat): "Ask: was his mother's name Umila, and his grandfather's Gostomysl?"

Irina: I'll ask you now. What was your mother's name?

(Spirit of Rurik) Small. And my maternal grandfather's name was Orast. And my paternal grandfather's name was Gordy.

(Irina) At least, I perceive such names.

Artemy: Here's another interesting question from our viewer: what was the average life expectancy at that time?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): They were different, they could live up to 80 years, and they could live 50–60.

Artemy: This is also an interesting question. You communicated with Prophetic Oleg, you probably had a conversation. Our viewer also asks (reads from the chat): "Ask, did Prophetic Oleg capture Constantinople?"

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): He didn't tell me anything like that, I don't think so. You can find him, call him. I don't know where he is now, we're not talking now. I don't think he captured Constantinople, it was just unnecessary, because there were many other concerns. Moreover, we had peace, and we even traded with them.

It wasn't called the Roman Empire then, the Greeks lived there. That is, it was already the empire of the Greeks. So he shows me: the Hellenes.

1:32:44 Appeal to the Spirit Rurik with a request for health.

Artemy: A girl named Irina asks this question (reads from the chat): “Under what name should we address you with prayers and requests for health?”

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): As you imagine. That is, since I am at the level of an Angel, you can turn not to me, but to your Guardian Angel. You have a Guardian Angel, you have Angels-consultants, and you can turn to them and to the entire Spiritual world, and to all the saints, not even with a prayer, but with your own words.

For example, with these: “Dear to my heart, Holy Spirits, who have achieved holiness, enlightenment. I ask you to send me the Light of your Love. I promise to pass it through myself into the surrounding world and to help every person who needs support, as you do, that is, to become like you.” And this desire – to become like us, it will attract divine grace to you in different forms.

Artemy: A humorous question, let's answer it too (reads from the chat): "Does the Spirit of Rurik know what a computer is?"

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Only from the incarnation in the Esler colony, we also had computers there, that is, such machines that automatically perform certain actions, devices. These were more robots, but they were also for negotiations, including at a distance. Only from the life of this alien.

Artemy: So, what other questions do we have?

Irina: (reads the chat) Did he encounter Vikings? Please look at the beginning, he already explained that it is a completely different word.

1:35:23 The spirit of Rurik about the chronology in his time.

Artemy: What was the calendar system in his time?

Irina: He shows me: one year was divided into 13 periods, and there were a few days between them. And the chronology itself went from the progenitor of the tribes. All Slavic tribes had several progenitors. The Eastern Slavs had a progenitor who was named Rodislav - the one who gave birth to the Slavs. At least, that's how he tells it to me now. And according to the chronology from his birth, the year I was born was already 453 - according to the chronology from the birth of this progenitor.

Artemy: Good. Irina also asked an interesting question (reading from the chat): "What was the climate like in those days, and how many moons were there?"

Irina: There was one moon. And those were the times – cold winters, quite a lot of snow, and hot but rainy summers. That is, there was a fairly harmonious climate: winters were not very cold, because it often snowed, and there were very large snowdrifts.

Artemy: Thank you.

1:37:39 The spirit of Rurik on the origin of the Slavs.

Artemy: Please answer one more question: are the Slavic tribes the descendants of the Hyperboreans?

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): What do you call Hyperboreans? I just need to explain a little.

The Slavic tribes are the descendants of a single people who lived in Eurasia, and they began to diverge. That is, there was a certain people, who by clans were spread in certain regions of Eurasia. And gradually, where they lived, they began to diverge in different directions. And it happened that they began to diverge, as you say, even before the new era, that is, before the birth of Christ. That is, it was long before my birth, and accordingly, the Slavs originated somewhere around the beginning of the 4th century already of the new era.

Artemy: Thank you. Please tell me, maybe you have some parting words for us, the people of planet Earth?

1:38:58 The spirit of Rurik about the Christian faith in those times.

Irina: So, one more question in very large letters, so I will read it (reads from the chat): "Was there Orthodoxy in Rus' when you lived?" Meaning Christianity, naturally. That is, was there Christian faith?

(The Spirit of Rurik) Individual people who went to the Hellenes (you say – to Byzantium, and we said – to the Greeks, to the Hellenes), they accepted this faith and brought it with them, that is, they were baptized. They were in different cities, there were relatively few of them, but they were there.

They were considered a bit eccentric because they had different rituals, a different understanding of the world, and they rejected offerings to our gods in the form of wooden statues. They rejected offerings to our gods, and when the whole tribe asked them: "For what reason do you not respect our gods, who give us everything - food, life, family," - they said that it is not the gods who give this, but the one God, whose name is Yeshua.

I even talked to such people several times in Novgorod, in Izborg, in the settlement that later became known as Kostroma, in Pskov, etc. I talked to them and asked: "What kind of god is Yeshua?" And they said that he came down to Earth in the form of a man, he was executed on the cross, and he was resurrected. I was very surprised when I listened to these stories, they were implausible. I then said: "Well, how can you believe in this?" And those who were Christians, they said: "And how can you then believe in those gods whom you also have not seen? Yarilo, Perun, Svarog - you have not seen them either, so how could you believe in them?" That is how they answered me.

And I told them that I communicated with them and talked to them mentally, so I saw them, even if not with my physical eyes. But you can't see Love, or resentment, or anger, or joy with your physical eyes, can you? You won't see it with your physical eyes, but that doesn't mean it doesn't exist. And so, naturally, the gods are invisible, but they exist. They influence our lives, and you can communicate with them.

To which they answered me: "We also communicate with Yeshua (with the one you know as Jesus, that is, with Jesus Christ). We also communicate with Him, and we pray to Him, and He also answers us." And I told them: "Well, if you feel your God, then you need to love Him and worship Him, because this is what the moral duty of a person requires of you."

(Irina) That is, he shows me that there were no conflicts, but there was a certain interest around Christians. Not everyone, however, accepted them. Some perceived them with rejection, and some with interest. There were Christians, but few.

Artemy: Interesting.

Irina: So, parting words, as I understand it?

1:43:10 The Spirit of Rurik's parting words to earthlings.

Artemy: Yes, parting words for earthlings, for us.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Dear friends! Thank you for this very warm atmosphere, very interesting and important questions. True, I want to say that some questions and the wording that they contained surprised me, because they were, for example, about events that did not happen. It’s not that they surprised me, but I found them interesting.

There is no rejection or indignation, because I understand that over more than a thousand years, these events could have been embellished a little, and various legends could have been invented. Because human thinking is very imaginative and can convey reality in the form of some tales, epics, which are then written down and become a chronicle, and this already becomes the basis for studying history by future generations. I understand this perfectly, so I am surprised and interested in what they tell about me. But at the same time, I understand why this happens.

I thank you for all your questions. I hope that you have become more aware of me and the image of the time where I lived, and what I did. I wish you that the Light of Divine Love always shines in your Souls, and that you love each other. After all, Love is the greatest healing and creative force that gives life. I wish you to always be in this energy, in this beautiful Light! And the more you love, the more you are imbued with these energies, the more they will be attracted to you from the outside world in the form of manifestations of other people. I wish this for you and send you the Light of my Love.

Artemy: We thank you for this broadcast, for your presence, for your warmth, energy! We thank you, we send you the Light of our Love. It was very pleasant to communicate with you. You gave us a large number of answers to questions. You have such a pleasant energy.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): Yes, and I thank you, you are a very bright person. And I thank Irina, who conveyed my words, translated my images that I showed her into her language. Thank you for the energy, thank you for the time! I love everyone and wish you the fulfillment of all your goals of incarnation.

Artemy: Irina, thank you for the broadcast! It was very interesting.

Irina (Spirit of Rurik): And of course, I wish for peace between the peoples of those states in the formation of which I took part. I wish for peace between Ukraine and Russia, and between all the countries of the Earth!

And I also want to say that please do not rush to shift the responsibility for what is happening in your states to some other states and countries. You are in any case responsible for what is happening in your space. Where you show Light - Light will be attracted there, where you do not show Light - its absence will be attracted there.

Artemy: Thank you!

Irina: Thank you! So, dear friends, I also thank Rurik and thank each of you for these questions. There were a lot of interesting questions, I was also very interested in learning this information. Yes, it is not the same as at school, to put it mildly, but nevertheless, it is interesting. I also thank Artemy for his wonderful questions. I love you all. Until next time!

Artemy: Dear friends, two more minutes of your attention! Thank you for finding the time and being with us! Thank you for your questions. Interesting questions, unfortunately, we did not find time to answer all of them. But we are not saying goodbye, or rather, maybe we are saying goodbye, but not for long.

Friends, I would like to remind you once again about the off-site event that will take place in Ufa from August 2nd to 5th, where Irina Podzorova with Ilya Alexandrov and our star friends will teach the first level of contacteeship. So plan your vacations and come!

I also wanted to remind you that on July 24th we are starting a five-day project called “Immersion”. I already told you what will happen there. It will be very interesting, there will be a powerful immersion, transformation!

Also, dear friends, in the Moscow center Domodedovo there will be training on the author's method "Tree of the Pillar". The training will be conducted by masters Alleiya and Alexander. This method allows you to align the spine, put the atlas in place, eliminate problems with the gastrointestinal tract, restore the nervous system, eliminate nervous obsessive states. Learning healing using the "Tree of the Pillar" method, you will acquire a profession of the new time. The training will last for two days. The recording is at the link under the video. And in general, all the information regarding what I said before will also be under the video. So until next time! All the best! We send the Light of our Love, thank you! All the best!

The Impact of the Cleanliness of the Contactor's Energy System on the Quality of Transmitted Information. Explanation of the Meaning of the "Law of One" https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vliyanie-chistoty-ehnergosistemy-kontaktyora-na-ka

If a person has something that attracts low-vibrational non-embodied spiritual entities and plasmoids to him, they have the right to come to him in any form, because he has already invited them to contact with his vibrations.

If this is a sensitive person, a medium, a contactee, then he will call for contact those who match his vibrations. This does not exclude contacts with higher vibrations, both will come to him.

Low vibrations will present themselves as different to gain trust. This will be clear from the information. If you have blocks, they will distort the mental body as well. You will think that this information comes from the Light Forces, from God, from the Divine Truth. You yourself may not be able to discern this.

Therefore, before starting contact, you need to maximally cleanse your energy structure, your aura, from all energy blocks, completely trust God, know the “Law of One”.

What is the "Law of One"? It is the infinity of creation and the diversity of its forms. But behind the diversity of its forms, there is one and the same infinity, which we call "One".

Why does this unity manifest itself in diversity? Because Love cannot manifest itself in unity without diversity. It is in this diversity that freedom of choice is given, having learned which, a reasonable person gets rid of fear, since fear slows him down in his development. If he learns freedom of choice in the true wisdom of Light, which was given by Odin, then he learns that whatever he chooses, he will choose the one path that will lead him to the Light. Only in different ways, in different images of the same thing. ❤

#580 Ashtar Sheran's Fleet. Life on Ships: Medicine, Finance, Society. Practice "Light Body".
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/flot-ashtara-sherana-zhizn-na-korablyah-medicina https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HtP3rCJ3q7Q

00:00 Start of video. Excerpts from the conversation.

“...Ashtar, please tell me, are there any medical problems in general that your civilizations of the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light cannot solve?

“No, there are no such problems, we work more on prevention now.”

“…That is, even if a person does not see during an astral flight, but is tuned in, he still gets to you for treatment?

- Yes, it still hits the mark."

“...Our finances exist in the form of various systems, for example, metal alloys (shows beads, balls, and on each one there are some symbols).”

"...I see. A sixty-kilometer ship. I can now imagine where we could land it..."

“...If we use all the resources that exist on Earth correctly, economically and properly, then 24 billion intelligent inhabitants can live and develop here.”

02:00 Planet-ship of Ashtar Sheran.

Maria: Hello, dear friends, we welcome you to another meeting with very interesting interlocutors: our Irochka Podzorova, and today our guest is Ashtar Sheran again.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today, Ashtar Sheran, a representative of the Galactic Federation of Light, about whom we have already spoken many times and to whom we all fly together every Sunday in the Astral, answers questions.

This is approximately what one of the rooms of his ship looks like (behind my back) (this is according to the drawings of contactees), however, this is really a room that many remember when visiting Ashtar’s ship, I myself remember it.

Maria: Very interesting. Ashtar, thank you very much for finding the time to meet with us. You are a very interesting person for us.

Irina: And also (behind Masha) – this is what the ship looks like. It’s a large ball with a diameter of 60 kilometers. And what you see as a hoop around it is a temporary protrusion of the skin so that robots can move along it, repair and restore the surface.

Maria: Thank you for the description, we tried to find interesting images so that you would have an idea of how the Ashtar civilization lives.

Ashtar, you are a very interesting, simply unique, legendary personality on our planet! We are very grateful to you for what you do for us, on the border of our Solar system, protecting our civilization, our planet. And including, as Irina mentioned, on Sundays inviting our astral travelers to your ship for healing, for strengthening, for raising vibrations.

As I understand it, your civilization in our Galaxy has a unique planet-ship, a unique system. Are there no more such civilizations, or are there other civilizations that also live on ships?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): There are no such civilizations, but there are separate groups of humanoids of various types, who also move in space, or even single humanoids who live in their ships, in your opinion, like hermits. They can be there, for example, with their robots.

Maria: But these are not entire civilizations?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, these are not entire civilizations, but individual representatives of different civilizations.

05:26 Ashtar on the creation of his ships.

Maria: We were very interested to learn about your civilization in the Sirius system. Your civilization turned out to be aliens in our Milky Way galaxy. You told us about this story. And now it would be interesting to know the details: how do you live now, what is your system of governance?

We are getting acquainted with all the civilizations of the Interstellar Union. For us, your civilization is also very dear, very close. We already consider you our brothers in the Galaxy. And therefore it is very interesting to find out in general how, where and how long these ships on which you fly were built?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Our ships are assembled right in space, on special space bases where robots live (shows). Large robots are located right in space, and these are robots that control their flight and can create ships. As for materials for ships, they are mined on the asteroid belt, on the satellites of planets: various minerals, elements, which are then transformed into devices, into the hull and into the casing of the ship using molecular fusion.

Maria: You now belong to the Galactic Federation of Light. Do they help you with materials, with construction, or is it all done by you alone?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We are all building together – the Galactic Federation of Light and our civilization. We are all together. What does this mean? This means that representatives of, for example, civilizations of the Galactic Federation of Light can work on the ships of my Fleet. We also have an agreement with representatives of the Interstellar Union about their missions to us for various purposes, and they can also be on the ships – scientists and representatives of the Galaxy Security Service.

08:20 Ashtar on the size of his civilization.

Maria: Thank you. Please tell me, what is the current population of your civilization on all your ships?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): There are currently more than one and a half million humanoids living on all the ships.

Maria: Quite a large number.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): But these are ships not only around the Solar system. They can also be in the Galaxy, in outer space. And they still belong to our civilization. This number also includes the population that lives on bases, on various planets, including Earth, on the bases of the Solar system.

Maria: I see.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): This is the total number of civilizations. And in my ship's fleet there are currently 21,846 representatives of my civilization.

Maria: Thank you.

Irina: Shows: two, one, eight, four, six.

Maria: By our standards, it’s simply a huge ship!

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): This is not one ship, I currently have 163 ships.

Maria: Yes, a large flotilla!

10:10 Ashtar on the leadership of the Fleet ships.

Maria: Ashtar, we are very interested to know about the social and political structure of your civilization, how is this huge number of ships and their population managed?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Each ship has its own, in plain language, "captain". But this is not exactly a "captain", but rather a political leader of the ship with assistants in various spheres of life. For example, my ship accommodates more than two thousand (more precisely - 2137) humanoids, including all men, women and children - this is the permanent population. But other humanoids can also fly in for quite a long time on business trips or as guests, so to speak. And they can even create various conditions suitable for their planet.

And I am the leader of these ships. I have four "ministers", so to speak, in different areas - as "deputy leaders in different areas".

Maria: So you have all spheres of social life fully organized: training, education, medical service – absolutely everything that is needed?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes. We have education, and medical service, ship infrastructure. Even the robots that service the ships' engineering networks are also controlled, for example, by the ship's engineering system, for which a certain manager is responsible - from among the deputy managers.

12:23 Ashtar on the economy, production and art of the Ashtar civilization.

Maria: Tell me, please, does the population of your ships produce anything? For example, what do you trade with other civilizations or with each other? I wonder how the economic sphere of your civilization is organized?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Since the fleet of ships is in space, then on the ships themselves and in the space around them there are space stations where various parts, microcircuits, medical devices, food products, drugs are produced - not medicines, but simply life-supporting ones, as well as various art objects, which we would call "literature", "music", etc. That is, there are special departments on the ships where they do this.

And we can create trade unions. We have agreements with various civilizations - both with representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light, and with those belonging to the Interstellar Union or with those civilizations that have not yet entered these unions, but are independent, have already entered outer space and are engaged in interstellar flights.

Maria: You mentioned art objects. What kind, for example? We are very interested. What kind of physical art objects do you create and exchange or trade?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Various artifacts, figurines, badges (shows), that is, memorable paraphernalia that relate to the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light. And also various decorations that include metals, minerals, various crystals, etc. and which, among other things, have not only an aesthetic value, but also an energetic one.

Maria: Yes, we already know that all metals, all stones have their own energy and affect the bodies of humanoids. So you have precious stones?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We have greenhouses where various plants are grown, experiments are conducted with them, including hybridization. There are also microbiological laboratories where various microorganisms are studied, symbionts of microorganisms are sold for various needs of the Galaxy. We also have laboratories of space materials science, where various alloys, element compounds for space technology, for space suits, for example, etc. are manufactured.

The conditions of vacuum and gravitational distance from large stars and planets are used to create devices and equipment that would be difficult to produce on a planet.

16:27 Ashtar on the nutrition of representatives of his civilization.

Maria: Very interesting! Tell me, please, are you lacto-vegetarians, do you not eat animal products?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We can eat a limited number of types of animal food because our ancestors were more insectivorous animals. As I already told you about beetles, larvae. The thing is that we have enzymes that break down the hard tissues of insects, such as chitinous covers. And due to this enzyme, we have the opportunity, for example, to eat raw parts of plants, the same cereals, nuts... That is, all these hard shells, consisting of fiber, can also be digested.

Regarding proteins, we have limited consumption. We can eat animal food, including meat, but in limited quantities, and we can do without it. Our body is such that it can adapt to any type of nutrition.

Maria: Almost like ours.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, but we can adapt more. For example, to eating a larger amount of raw, uncooked, thermally processed plants and insects, their parts, various shells, etc. (shows some shell, and they can even process this shell somehow). It contains the necessary calcium and phosphorus compounds, which are broken down by our body and can be absorbed.

Maria: Very interesting. Tell me, please, do you breed animals and insects for food on your ship?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We have greenhouses where they are bred, but we use them for food in limited quantities, because we have special devices that produce, extract various substances we need from their bodies, which we then synthesize artificially. We have developed food chemistry. We also make food products, artificially synthesized for almost all the races of the Galaxy. We even have our own synthesized products, for example, for the Tashigans, with whom we have a trade alliance.

Maria: Very interesting! Tell me, please, from which planets did you bring plants and grow them? Do you have plants from Earth?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): There are experiments where they grow various nuts (shows something similar to peanuts), cereals, there are also cacti (shows). Cacti contain a substance that improves our digestion. There are such experiments.

We also conduct research on corn. We crossed it with a plant that we got, by the way, from the constellation Cassiopeia. There is a planet there that belongs to the Galactic Federation of Light (they show some white creatures), and there is a local plant there that we crossed with corn, and now it is a hybrid. It was a long time ago, it grows on our ships, in greenhouses and resembles... It is no longer corn - a tree with branches, like a willow, and small ears hang from each branch. Something similar to ears.

21:11 Ashtar on the hybridization of humanoids and genetic correction.

Maria: Very interesting! And do you also participate in the hybridization of humanoids, as it happened on our planet?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Such experiments can theoretically be conducted by scientists. But for our genes to participate there... Such experiments were conducted before, but now they have been pushed into the background in front of other research.

Maria: So you don't have hybrids of your race with any other races that live somewhere? As far as I know, in the Galactic Federation of Light, in principle, this is not very welcome.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We have a hybrid, but it appeared a long time ago, 15 million years ago, with the Burkhads. But we are not doing this now, it was a long time ago.

Maria: These hybrids no longer exist now?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): They exist now, but this is a separate planet, it is also part of the Interstellar Union.

(Irina says): He shows them to me, but I don’t really know what kind of planet it is, but it exists.

Maria: And you don’t have marriages with other races because there is no compatibility?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Theoretically, it is possible. Compatibility can be created through genetic micromutations, for example, of sex cells. But we do not see the need for this. We have marriages within our race.

Maria: And you don't have the problem of "incest"? You say that there are two thousand people on your ship. After some time, they will all be quite close relatives!

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): The problem of "incest" can only exist in a civilization that does not have developed genetic science. And if genetic science is developed, then all hidden defects in the genetic program, in DNA, in RNA, in nucleotides can be eliminated in each generation. It's like your concept of "genetic medicine", for example. When you take not even drugs, but various radiations that correct your DNA. And then there is no difference, in the genetic sense, from whom the child was born.

Maria: I see. We know that your medicine is very advanced.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): You know that in ancient times on Earth they could give birth to children from brothers, from fathers, etc.

Maria: In Egypt.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, I remember this situation. For example, Abraham's nephew, who lived four thousand years ago, conceived children for his own daughters. This story is well known. And there were many such cases, for example, in Ancient Egypt. But only with the passage of generations, errors accumulated in the genetic apparatus, and in close relatives this combination of close genetic information can result in a combination of their genetic latent diseases. Not even diseases, but mutations.

Maria: We know this from the example of monarchical families in Europe.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): This distorted information can be removed.

Maria: We know that your medicine is very advanced in all respects.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): It is possible, for example, to diagnose the genetic profile of a man and a woman, to create so-called “genetic maps” and to predict with an accuracy of up to 98 percent what genetic profile and with what problems the child will inherit.

Maria: Ashtar, please tell me, are there any medical problems in general that your civilizations of the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light cannot solve?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): No, there are no such problems, we work more on prevention now.

Maria: So there are absolutely no problems that you could not solve?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Even if some new disease appears on some planet: a new infectious disease or some kind of failure of the humanoid organism itself, which, for example, is genetically determined – all this can be diagnosed and eliminated.

Maria: Wonderful! We are very happy, but now, of course, we understand why you have lived so long.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, medicine, and also, as I already said, there was permission for this from my Soul, my Higher Self and my Angel-mentors.

27:06 Ashtar on the prospects for the development of planet Earth and overpopulation.

Maria: Yes, we know about your noble mission, about the goal you have set for yourself. And we at Project Cassiopeia are trying to help you fulfill the mission of your incarnation. And we hope that soon, at least by your time standards, our civilization will be able to enter the Interstellar Union. And then, perhaps, you will think about your one and a half million population or some part of it moving to our planet.

Do you remember, I already invited you to planet Earth? I think that we still have a lot of undeveloped, uninhabited territories, and with the technologies of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, we will be able to develop these territories.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): These undeveloped, uninhabited territories can be improved and built up with cities. It is possible to create, although wild nature, but improved for people to visit, that is, to leave such a corner. All this can be done quite quickly with the availability of technology, the same robots that work on solar batteries.

Maria: In our desert regions there is plenty of sun. Tell me, please, what is the climate like on your planet, what is the atmosphere like?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): The thing is that even in the northern regions there is also sun, sunlight that penetrates through the atmosphere. And there are robots that can feed on this light. And during the period when there is a short sunny day, in the winter, when there is no sun, you can use a battery.

Maria: Our scientists, our government will be only too happy to develop. We have such fears in some layers of the population that we have overpopulation, that we have too many people.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): No. You do not have overpopulation. If you use all the resources that are on Earth correctly, economically and properly, then 24 billion intelligent inhabitants can live and develop here.

Maria: We've heard about this before. It's true.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Indeed, if we populate all possible places where a person can live, taking into account the requirements for food, water, waste disposal, etc., if we organize all this with the economists of the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light, then there will be enough for everyone.

Maria: And not only for your civilization, but for many others, these territories could be used.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Many civilizations, when they do not have enough space on the surface of the planet, use, for example, underwater or underground cities. They can also build huge high-rise buildings, in which (shows) people can settle on several tiers. That is, each tier will be raised above the surface of the planet by a certain number of meters, and on each tier there will be houses, streets, etc. And thanks to, for example, special reflective mirrors, all this will be illuminated by the sun, there will be fresh air everywhere... That is, there will be no problems there.

31:34 Ashtar on the climate and composition of the atmosphere on the ships of the Fleet.

Maria: I see. I am very interested to know what the atmosphere and climate is like on your ships? Have you chosen a climate zone for yourself?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We feel comfortable when the air temperature approaches +40°/+45° Celsius.

Maria: Like on Shimore, right? Are you just as heat-loving?

Irina: Our north doesn't suit you, you'll freeze (laughs).

Maria: Bigger than ours.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Our atmosphere consists mainly of a mixture of helium, there is some hydrogen, oxygen, nitrogen and water vapor. That is, we must have sufficiently humid air (shows), there are always humidifiers.

Maria: Tropical humid air.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, and if the temperature drops below plus thirty, then it is considered to be already cold.

Maria: Russia then, our stripe...

Irina: Well, in Israel, it's just then that things are good for them.

Maria: Yes, but the air in Israel is quite dry. I think our tropical region would be suitable. And is the composition of the air on our planet suitable for you, or is it different for you?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): You have more nitrogen. In principle, it is possible. But from such an amount of nitrogen, bacteria that live in our digestive tract and in the body in general, begin to switch to feeding on this atmospheric nitrogen, which causes disturbances in the immune system, in the body. There are also problems associated with the pollen of some terrestrial plants, which can cause the death of the microorganisms we need.

There is enough oxygen for us, we can breathe with 20-25% oxygen, but we need less nitrogen, because it accumulates (shows how) in our microbiota, and this causes digestive problems, immunity, etc. That is, you can get sick. Of course, there are special drugs that can reduce this negative impact. Therefore, when we fly to your planet, if it is warm enough there, we can walk without suits.

Maria: Do you use the suits as spacesuits that provide protection?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We can breathe in your atmosphere without masks for 2-3 hours for sure. Without taking any medications.

Maria: By and large, life in our Galaxy is not available everywhere for all humanoids. Before going somewhere on a business trip, you need to find out how long a humanoid can live there permanently. And not just a few hours, but for a long time – months, say, or years.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Of course. For this purpose, there are research laboratories that issue special tables for inhabitants of different races: what conditions are suitable for them there, what are less suitable. For earthlings, such a table can also be compiled, how they can be on this or that planet.

For example, on the planet Daraal, where Kirkhiton, Irina's curator, is from, the concentration of sulfur dioxide is too high for earthlings. And you can stay there for 15-30 minutes without harm to your health. After that, you need to protect yourself: go indoors, filter the air there, etc. And even then, you should not visit it often, because frequent visits to such an atmosphere can cause respiratory diseases, heart disease...

That is, it is necessary to protect your body from these substances. Although for the representatives of Daraal this is an absolutely normal atmosphere. Sulfur dioxide is included in their metabolism. If they, for example, live on Earth for a long time, they will need an additional source of this element. There they get it from the atmosphere, and here they will need an additional source of this element to consume with food, with injections or with inhaled air.

And there can be quite a lot of such problems during a person’s long stay on other planets, not in artificially created conditions for him – under a dome or on a ship – but specifically on the surface of the planet.

37:33 Ashtar about planets with conditions suitable for life for earthlings.

Maria: Tell me, please, do you know of any planets where a person can live without additional conditions? On Disaru, for example.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): It can live on Disaru. On Esler: there is a fairly suitable atmosphere. On Burkhad: there is a lot of oxygen. On Tumesout: there is a composition of hydrogen that is unusual for earthlings, but a person can adapt, I think.

Maria: I see. Is it related to our genotype? Because we have genes from these races?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, it is connected with the genotype. And gradually, if a person will give birth to children there, then with each generation these children and grandchildren will become more and more adapted to this planet.

This is similar to how, for example, people living in high mountain areas of the Earth adapt to a small amount of oxygen and low atmospheric pressure. And vice versa, when people who have lived in the highlands for generations descend to the lowlands, they need to adapt. Just as people who climb mountains also need to adapt. But in the end, they can adapt.

Although the fluctuations in the amount of oxygen are not that big. It depends more on the pressure than on the amount of oxygen. Because if the atmospheric pressure is low, then you need to, for example, inhale more often, and you need a higher percentage of hemoglobin. After all, a certain number of atmospheric pressure helps you breathe, so to speak, pushing air into your lungs.

39:40 Ashtar on scientific research of other civilizations by earthlings after joining the Interstellar Union.

Maria: Very interesting. I think in the future there will be many new topics, new areas in science, in medicine, when we get closer to the Interstellar Union. At least when open contacts begin.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): When open contacts begin, naturally, all information about our planets will be given - the Interstellar Union, the Galactic Federation of Light. And I am sure that scientists who will live on Earth will also study various conditions and make schedules of possible human presence on certain planets.

Maria: I think that our civilization is already being studied quite intensively, our planet. We have many bases of different civilizations. I think that preliminary work is being done.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, that is if from the side of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union. And I am sure that the same graphs will be from the side of the earthly civilization. Your scientists, after joining the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, will also study all of us, just as we studied them.

Maria: Of course. Our scientists are no less curious.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): I just know that when a civilization joins the Interstellar Union, an interesting moment comes for the Galactic Federation of Light and for the interstellar community. When a new civilization joins any interstellar community, an interesting moment comes for it. Because those scientists who live on the joined planet begin to study representatives of other civilizations as extraterrestrial beings.

Maria: Indeed. We are all aliens to each other.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Earth biologists can fly to Tashig and say: “Who is here who wants us to study them?” Or to Selbet.

Maria: You know, Ashtar, I think that in order to study completely new forms of humanoids of a non-anthropomorphic type, our civilization must first get used to the fact that there are other forms of life. Even if we know about it from films, from your information. But when you see it with your own eyes, then there must be a completely different type of psyche. And not everyone will be as open as Irina, who can see any entity and calmly relate to it.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): I think you can get used to this – to any kind of intelligent beings. And in fact, scientific research is only welcomed in the Galaxy, in all galactic communities. Therefore, even if earth scientists after joining the Interstellar Union fly to the same Selbet and say: “We want to study your race. We want to study anatomy, physiology. Give us dead Selbetians for autopsy, for study by the forces of earthly science” – this will be provided to them. And any Selbetian can sign an agreement that after leaving incarnation he gives his body for study of a new civilization that has joined the Interstellar Union. This is considered the development of science.

Maria: A very noble deed.

Irina: They will open Selbetovets (laughs).

Maria: I think there are already enough other materials, so to speak, in digital form.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): In digital form, of course. I just know that scientists who are passionate about researching the world around them are not satisfied with digital form. They need to touch, weigh and describe everything themselves. And for me, these are completely natural desires to understand the world.

Maria: I completely agree with you, and I think all our scientists do too.

44:45 Ashtar on contacts with the mother civilization in the Andromeda galaxy.

Maria: Ashtar, please tell me, have you maintained contact with your mother civilization in the Andromeda galaxy?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, survived.

Maria: Do you support it? And have you ever wanted to go back or move to another Galaxy?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): I have already said that I consider the Milky Way my homeland. I was born here. And the civilization from which my civilization comes is perceived by me as an interesting planet, but no longer my homeland.

Maria: You have been living in such conditions for many generations, everyone is used to it, everyone agrees?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes.

45:25 Ashtar on elections, electoral rights, executive body on the ships of the Fleet.

Maria: Tell me, please, how is the election of a new ship's leader or the entire Fleet conducted? Is there a leader of the entire Fleet? It's you, right? How does the election take place? Is it hereditary, or should there be a vote?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We have a system where each ship of the Fleet chooses both the leaders of its ships and the leader of the entire Fleet. But this happens, if you look at it in earthly time, once every 17 years.

Maria: Elections after all? This isn't a hereditary position?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, we have elections. And, according to our legislation, they can choose a new leader, but then he must provide a program - a new program for managing the civilization, the Fleet, which he wants to apply. But also, the inhabitants of our civilization have the right every 17 years to simply extend the leadership of one leader.

Maria: Tell me, please, how is this resolved?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We have three types of electoral rights.

The first type is when the current manager is left in the position. A vote is held for this. For example: no vote, we leave the current management. There is a special column.

Second column: there may be one or more candidates, other than the previous leader, who have previously spoken about their program. They can be chosen by a majority.

And the third way is early elections, when for some reason all the residents of the Fleet believe that they need another leader. This can be done early, but for serious reasons - for example, violation of the law, moral standards by the leader, etc.

Maria: Tell me, please, how is the problem solved if the inhabitants of different ships have different, contradictory visions, for example, of some foreign policy issues, or of the main important laws that are fundamental?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We have a Council – the Fleet Council, in which the leaders of all the ships participate, and I am the chairman of this Council. And already at this Council decisions are made about policy. But also by voting, and not only voting, but also discussion.

(Irina says): He is now showing me how the Council meets, and they discuss. If someone disagrees with something, they offer their own vision. And they consider, analyze from all sides. And in the end, even the one who put forward a law, under the influence of criticism, can abandon their idea and accept another.

Maria: I see.

49:36 Ashtar on the economic and financial systems on the Fleet ships.

Maria: Please tell me, what kind of economic system do you have? Private property or common property? How do you regulate these spheres of life?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): All ships are the property of the Fleet. But each humanoid has his own living compartment, he disposes of it. For example, he can move to another ship and get a compartment there, and transfer his to the ship, that is, to a part of this Fleet. Accordingly, personal property is all sorts of objects (shows), money, finances.

In our country, finances exist in the form of various systems. For example, metal alloys (shows beads, balls, and on each one – some symbols).

Maria: So the monetary system exists in material form?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We have a monetary system, there are also electronic monetary systems and financial ones. That is, there is no paper money, but there are these metallic ones.

(Irina says): I wouldn't call them coins. Some kind of beads.

Maria: I see, an interesting form. We already know what form money takes on Daraal.

Irina: There are diamonds there.

Maria: Yes, rhombics.

51:20 Ashtar on family law, birth rate, distribution of housing.

Maria: As far as I understand, you have some kind of birth control system, because the territory of the ships, the number of compartments is limited. You can't build multi-story buildings, as you said before, or underwater structures. Do you have to limit your population somehow?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We have a law according to which you can give birth to any number of children, but only they will have to live in this section. That is, they allocate, for example, for a couple, if, in your opinion, there was a marital cohabitation, that is, the union of a man and a woman, officially confirmed by a special notification that they are together.

Maria: Registration.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, if there is registration, they are allocated a compartment in which there will be space for the two of them and (it is different for each ship), for example, on mine – for three children.

Maria: I see, that is, the birth rate is limited and controlled by housing conditions.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): And if they want a fourth or fifth, etc., they already place them together.

Maria: Good. And since you have a very long life expectancy, it is clear that these children will live a very long time. And their children too. So, at some point there will still be a problem with living space?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): You see, we have a limited number of compartments, and if someone gets married, he comes to our deputy manager, who deals with compartment distribution, housing issues. And he says: "I got married to a woman, and the registration has already taken place, we need to allocate housing, a living compartment." If there are no vacancies, then they will tell him so. And then he will be faced with a choice: to live on the territory of his parents or to fly to another ship, and there, too, it will be possible to settle in. There are special laws. If there is a vacancy, then they are taken there.

And usually they find out from us, not even that they find out – the information is freely available, how many free places there are on a given ship.

Also, if it is already clear that overpopulation is occurring, another ship can be built. And it will be located nearby with all the infrastructure, housing conditions, utilities, etc. But the construction of this ship (on average, let it be for 700 humanoids) requires somewhere around (now I will calculate according to your chronology) three years.

Maria: This is just an incredible time frame for us.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): To build for 700 residents.

Maria: How big are the compartments?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We do have this. When it is necessary to allocate housing, and there are no vacancies. And then a decision can be made to build another ship. A special task is given to the robots that carry it out.

Maria: It’s of course wonderful that such an opportunity exists.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): It's just that the problem may be that the one who wants to start a family will want to be on our ship, for example, or on some other one. Maybe he has relatives, friends there. And he won't want to part with them, go to another ship. Then a problem may arise. But it can be solved quite simply, because everyone has freedom of choice. If he persuades someone to give up their place for him, that's always welcome.

56:35 Ashtar on the construction of ships and housing standards.

Maria: I see. How big are these sections? What do they look like, what do they represent?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): According to the norms, each adult resident is supposed to have 21 square meters, and a child is supposed to have 2 times less. And they are all isolated.

Irina: I told him that for two adults that means 21 m^2 for each, and 11 m^2 for three children.

Maria: Does this include living quarters, kitchen, and bathroom?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, it is a section where everything is placed. But we (shows) have a technology for building in furniture: when at first there is an empty space, and then it slides out as if from the walls.

Maria: Of course, wonderful technologies that help to improve spaces. And, accordingly, do you have any public places on these same ships where people relax and work?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): I want to say that it is 60 kilometers in diameter. What is diameter? Diameter is the distance from one wall of the ship to the other, passing through the center. And, accordingly, the circumference of the ship is even larger, and the internal volume is occupied by various sections and passages, rooms and premises. They are arranged like this (Irina shows), like in layers, or something.

Maria: I see. But is it possible to further build on these ships, to expand them, or do they already have their finished form?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): They already have their finished form. And what's more, they still have, for example, an engine room, where various devices are located, thanks to which flight and even landing on planets can be carried out, that is, there are engines, etc.

Maria: Any ship can land on a planet? If you say, they are spherical?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Their supports can extend.

Maria: I see. A sixty-kilometer ship. I can't imagine where we could land it, in what place? Should there be landing pads? Or should it hover above the planet, perhaps?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, hovering, of course. But I am now talking about the fact that there are technologies that can allow landing on planets and taking off from them. There are special types of engines: intra-atmospheric, planetary and gravitational, which can make jumps that are powerful enough to move this mass.

Maria: This is simply the realm of fantasy for us. Our scientists, our engineers…

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): As I already told you, there are rooms for the treatment and recovery of the crew, their children, wives and all the guests who come to us, including earthlings who come in the astral body.

1:00:31 Ashtar on astral flights to the ships of the Galactic fleet and the practice of "Light Body".

Maria: We are very grateful to you for organizing our flights on Sundays. I think that this is also a very interesting acquaintance for you, albeit in astral bodies, with representatives of our planet. And I think that this is probably carried out by a specially trained team of specialists - doctors who, firstly, know how to go into the Astral, and secondly, to do treatment and diagnostics.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes. Our specialists go out into the Astral, and I go out into the Astral. And others come to us in the Astral – from the Interstellar Union, from the Galactic Federation of Light, humanoid civilizations, plasmoid civilizations, as well as representatives of the Spiritual World.

Maria: Tell me, please, what are you interested in and what do you observe or research when earthlings come to you? And how many earthlings? You count them, surely? After all, not only those from our project come?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Around 900-1500 people come to us every time.

Maria: Do you count from all over the planet? They can come at different times?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): They can come at different times. And since this is the astral space of the ship, all the devices are located there somewhat differently. And we can pay attention to each one.

What devices? For everyone who came to be healed on the ship to me. Other ships also accept. There are such ships where there are devices for treating certain diseases, for example.

Maria: I see.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): And for each person who comes, a card is drawn up, so to speak.

Maria: Information base?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes. An information matrix is created, into which information about their condition is mentally (in the form of a thought form) recorded and saved. And those specialists who then come into their physical body even enter this knowledge, this information into the computer.

Maria: Very interesting. Tell me, please, then it turns out that your specialists go out into the Astral continuously on a watch basis 24 hours a day?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We have a certain duty: when some are resting, others take their place.

Maria: And how long can they stay in the Astral at one time, during one shift, let’s say?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): About five hours.

Maria: About five hours. A lot. This is a very valuable gift for us, very valuable support. That is, even if a person does not see during an astral flight, but is tuned in, he still gets to you for treatment?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes. It still hits.

Maria: Great! I think this is good news for all the newbies. For all those who cannot yet see in the Astral and consciously perceive the situation. Very interesting information for us! I think more and more people will be able to fly to you.

Irina: I always invite everyone. Come to our Ashtar Sheran practices, to the practice called "Light Body"! It's on Telegram.

On Sundays at 14:00 Moscow time, we fly in the Astral to his ship, walk there through different astral rooms and heal, raise our vibrations, cleanse ourselves. And fill ourselves with their mood, their thoughts, their feelings. And, of course, we share, give them ours. Let them also feel how beautiful earthly feelings and emotions are.

Maria: Thank you, Irochka. You are a wonderful guide. You conduct these meditations so well. You tell them very clearly, very interestingly, you prepare any newcomer who comes to the practice.

Irina: Thank you.

Maria: And, indeed, if you regularly perform these meditations, then at some point you can consciously receive a vision and be an active participant.

1:05:39 A wish from Ashtara Sherana.

Maria: Ashtar, do you have any questions for us or wishes? What would you like to wish to our viewers, our project?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): I would like to thank everyone who supports the Cassiopeia Project. I would also like to thank you personally, Mashenka. The Light of your Soul greatly strengthens the Cassiopeia egregor.

And I also want to thank every Soul that participates in this Project and supports the contactees, the masters. Thanks to your support, it becomes possible to accept all people, regardless of their financial well-being, for a session with the Higher Self. This is all thanks to you! And many people, in fact, found their Higher Self, their Spirit and were able to solve their problems.

Maria: This is the mission of our incarnation, our Project. And we are very grateful to all the curators, all the mentors, from all the Unions of our Galaxy, who support us.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes. And I also want to wish all earthlings awareness, peace in their hearts, peace between nations and awareness, awareness that every human life is priceless in the eyes of God. Learn to look at every person through the eyes of the Heavenly Father.

Maria: Thank you! Very heartfelt words, very important wishes for our civilization. We thank you with all our hearts for your time, for your attention, for your unconditional Love!

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Thank you!

Maria: We send you the Light of our Love, the gratitude of our Souls!

Irina: Thank you, Masha! Ashtar, thank you too! And thank you, dear friends, for being with us! Thank you for the development of our common Project – for the fact that we are developing and growing so actively and quickly. And we help others come to the Light, to learn the secrets of the Universe and their own Soul. I send you the Light of my Love. Until next time!

Maria: Until next time, friends!

Hyperactivity. Causes of hyperactivity https://blog.cassiopeia.center/giperaktivnost-prichiny-giperaktivnosti

Question: Children are very often hyperactive, and they are prescribed various medications that inhibit their activity. But at the same time, most likely, mental development is inhibited, and the entire body and brain are intoxicated. How can such children be helped? Should they be helped pharmaceutically? How else can they be influenced to provide assistance?

Hyperactivity manifests itself in distraction of attention. It is possible to help without pharmaceutical methods. To do this, you need to find the cause of the manifestation of hyperactivity.

Hyperactivity is the desire of the Spirit, embodied in the child, to attract attention. Parents need to find out through their Higher Self what emotion the child lacks, what he wants to convey through his activity, but does not yet know how to do with words, and give him this emotion.

Perhaps he is afraid of something, lacks tenderness, and cannot express it. In order to attract the attention of his parents, he does things that will get him attention. It is possible that he wants to convey some information, for example, from the Spiritual World, but he cannot do it because of the insufficient development of his speech apparatus.

Helping hyperactive children

To help a child, you don't need to limit their activity with violent methods, it's better to find a useful use for it. It's very useful for such children to be in nature, to communicate with animals. It's useful to direct their energy to help adults with some simple actions. Usually, such children learn motor skills very well and quickly. It's easier for them than other children to do something with their hands if they are taught and shown the action once or twice, for example, to plant seedlings.

Because of hyperactivity, the child has hyperactive attention. It may be short-lived. If you show him several times, he will remember faster, he will develop motor memory.

Due to the rapid manifestation of the Spirit's energy in a child, the speed of thought, the speed of emotions are high, the body's movements are fast and dexterous, correctly inscribed in space. He has no clumsiness and uncertainty. If he is hyperactive from childhood, then he knows how to move very precisely and save his movements to achieve the goal.

If you show and tell him that each seedling bush is a living creature that wants its root to be planted in the ground and watered, and it will give a tasty fruit. Show, tell, call by name. You will be surprised: he will learn to do it. If you give him several bushes, he will plant faster than an adult. While you are planting two, he will plant five. He will do it quickly and will not break anything, if you explain to him that you do not need to press on the plant, it will break and die.

If something hurts, do not scold him, he is not used to doing this yet. Stroke the bush, say: "We will not be able to get fruits from it now, we need to bury it, dig it into the ground and wish this plant Light." Explain in accessible language that it will not grow, so that he understands.

The second point. What can be done if you do not have nature, a plot of land? The child will quickly get bored of playing with artificial toys, drawing, sculpting. These activities are not interesting. Such children feel nature, plasmoid worlds well. They receive energy and joy, become calmer. At home, in a city apartment, you can show how you cook, wash dishes, clean, accompanying this with interesting stories. You do it so that people come, rejoice. That is, captivate him with some activity, and he will do it faster than you. He has an innate energy, which significantly exceeds the energy of adults, because he is a growing organism. The Higher Self directs a greater flow of spiritual energy to the cells of his body to enhance metabolism in the cells, for growth.

#581 Postpartum depression. How to make childbirth easier? Child from birth to one year. Maternal energy.

00:00 Start of video.

00:20 Greetings to participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today, my curator, a specialist in biology, psychology, extraterrestrial civilizations, MidgasKaus from the planet Esler in an astral body, is with us. Madina will be asking questions today. Hello, Madina.

Madina: Hello, Irina. Hello, MidgasKaus. Thank you for meeting.

Irina: Please introduce yourself.

Madina: I'll tell you briefly about myself. I'm married. I lived a very eventful and active life: mountains, hikes, tents, waterfalls and esotericism, among other things. For example, energy practices, channeling and so on. I had no plans to have a child. I asked the Spirit of the child to postpone this moment so that I could first work on myself, and then he would come when I had already harmonized with myself.

When I got pregnant, I started to put my whole active life aside and completely immerse myself in motherhood so that it would go well for me, because I had no experience in either communicating with children or taking care of small children. I attended courses called "Hypnobirthing", if you have heard about it, "Natural Motherhood". I will say very briefly that I did everything in order to bypass postpartum depression, as far as I had heard about it.

And so it turned out that what I was most afraid of happened, I could not avoid it. And it was all so tough that for some time I even felt sick almost to the point of losing my pulse. And I collected questions to ask dear Mead and you, Irina. I can start now.

Irina: Yes, good. So, today we have the topic "Postpartum Depression", am I right?

Madina: Yes.

Irina: And MidgasKaus as a psychologist studying man will answer these questions and, perhaps, tell about how these problems, if they exist, are solved on his planet. He also has children - two sons and a wife, with whom he is constantly in spiritual contact and knows all her feelings, all her experiences. That is, something personal that she shares only with him.

Madina: Wonderful. I wish our husbands were like that too. This topic will concern children from birth to one year for those mothers who are acutely experiencing motherhood, for whom everything is going hard. Then the first question is what I myself have encountered.

03:44 Causes of toxicosis on the physical and energetic plane.

Madina: Toxicosis, its causes. What causes it, and what is happening energetically to the mother?

Irina (MidgasKaus): This phenomenon occurs due to the intoxication that a woman receives during the period when the fetus is developing in her womb. Naturally, any absorption of nutrients leads to the fact that it releases certain substances into the blood, and the woman's liver does not always have time to cope with this. This is the first reason.

And the second reason is hormonal changes. Hormones are certain enzymes, protein substances that are released into a woman's blood, they can also cause a reaction in her, including not only toxicosis, but also problems with the kidneys, with heart pressure, that is, with hypertension, and other problems. This is a combined effect of factors. Intoxication from the metabolic products of the developing embryo and its own hormonal changes.

As everyone knows, this process is different for different women, and a lot depends on her attitude.

Madina: About her mood. That is, if she is more stressed, does the toxicosis, weak or strong, depend on this, on her emotional state?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes. If a woman does not accept something in her life, herself, her husband or child, and this non-acceptance forms a block in the second, third and fourth chakras, which can negatively affect the stomach and cause nausea not even in a pregnant woman, but simply due to the fact that information or some part of reality is not accepted. That is, nausea is like rejection, an emotion of disgust.

06:09 Causes of threatened miscarriage.

Madina: I see. The same can be said about the threat of miscarriage, right?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It needs to be more specific. There is a lot of what is called a threat of miscarriage.

Madina: I experienced it myself. I had two threats of miscarriage. At first there was not much bleeding, and then there was heavy bleeding. At the same time, I did not move much, did not run, did not carry heavy things. I did not do anything like that, by itself. Could this be due to my emotional state or something else?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It can be from an emotional state, from stress. It can also be from illnesses, infectious diseases, including flu, intoxication, and so on.

Madina: I see. And does the Spirit of the child know about this, that such threats can happen?

Irina (MidgasKaus): He feels it on the level of the Soul as a threat to his continuation in incarnation. He feels that his body begins to suffer, to get sick.

Madina: I see. Is it possible to somehow help the child get stronger without medication or is it impossible to do without doctors?

Irina (MidgasKaus): In such cases, I recommend mentally communicating with the child's Soul and telling him that everything is under control, so that he can calm down, so that he is not afraid: "I will do everything so that you appear in this world," and thank him for incarnating through this woman.

The Spirit chose these parents for incarnation, by doing so it trusted them, because when you incarnate with certain parents, you trust yourself. Since the memory of past experience is completely blocked in the Soul during incarnation, the Soul becomes like a clean slate, in terms of memory. And therefore, if the Spirit chooses certain parents, it trusts them to record in its memory the very first impressions, which will then influence to one degree or another its entire incarnation.

It's like trust, openness.

Madina: Okay, then next question.

09:03 Perception of the Spiritual and Subtle World by Children.

Madina: Do children see the subtle world when the fontanelle in their skull is open?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes. But they do not see physically, it is an energetic vision within themselves. Children especially often and vividly see the Spiritual world and the subtle worlds that are embedded in it, until about the age of nine.

Madina: Until 9 years old? It doesn't even depend on when the skull will completely fuse or not?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes. Up to 9 years old, all layers of the aura and all chakras that are in the projection of the body are being formed. And up to this time, due to the sharply changing frequencies of its aura fields and chakras, such, one might say, breakthroughs in the perception of the Spiritual and subtle world are possible.

Madina: Yes, I noticed that. Next question.

10:08 Newborn's sleep, the meaning of closeness to mother.

Madina: What is the best way to sleep with a baby in the maternity hospital - together or separately? When the baby is separately in a box, and you are separately on your bed.

Irina (MidgasKaus): What does better mean? For whom?

Madina: For both. Because there is an opinion that when a mother and a newborn baby sleep together, then the mother's lactation improves. That is, milk is produced immediately, more, and the baby feels safe.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I have seen more than once that when a mother sleeps with her baby, her sleep is more anxious and restless, because she is subconsciously afraid of harming the child.

Madina: There is such a thing.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Therefore, it is more correct and environmentally friendly for them to sleep separately, but not far from each other, that is, in the same room.

Madina: Will the child feel comfortable without the warmth of his mother?

Irina (MidgasKaus): He will still feel her presence if she is in the same room. Children are very sensitive. Newborns can even sense their mother's closeness by smell. Even when his eyes are not fully formed, he can sense by smell whether she is near or not. And if she is in the same room near his crib, he will feel it as if he is lying next to her.

Mead shows that he will feel her and will be calm if she is with him.

Madina: I see. Before, I thought that I needed someone to sleep next to me.

12:05 Infant perception of darkness.

Madina: Next question. In one of the posts of "Cassiopeia", as now, you said that you need to sleep separately. Isn't it better when the baby sleeps next to you? This already means at home in your own bed. For example, at night you both sleep. The child wants to eat, whines, you quickly give him the breast, feed him, and then everyone sleeps, and everything is fine. But when in another room or in a separate crib, the child begins to cry loudly, because he does not feel his mother nearby and he is scared, it is dark. Then the mother's sleep is also interrupted, she quickly runs to the child. Both are stressed. And then you need to calm yourself down after this, you need to fall asleep again.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I understood the question. The Soul itself, which has incarnated, as I have already said, collects information about the surrounding world and records it in its childhood memory, that is, in the memory of the Soul that has incarnated. And it does not yet understand that darkness is dangerous. This is formed later. Especially at the moment when it was in the womb, in the mother's uterus, it could open its eyes there in the last months of pregnancy and saw there mainly twilight or darkness. And therefore, darkness itself is not scary for it.

For him, it can be scary only if a negative scenario has already formed, negative beliefs in relation to darkness. And this can be for completely different reasons, in no way connected with the distance or closeness to the mother. There may be other reasons.

Maybe he woke up at night. Crying for him is not stress. Crying for him is a means of communication. At a certain age, it is not even crying, but a scream that calls parents. He may not show negative emotions by screaming, but simply call parents.

Madina: Up to what age does this happen, the screaming when calling parents?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Approximately (he shows up to 3-4 months). He cannot say anything yet or simply make a vowel sound. He has an instinct to attract attention to himself with just such a sound. If this happened at night in the dark, and he, for example, felt discontent, irritation of his mother, albeit subconscious, suppressed by the fact that he woke her up, and she wants to sleep. This irritation, since they are connected energetically, can penetrate into his Soul, into his chakras. And this irritation itself, this emotion itself can frighten him, and then he will be afraid of the dark.

Madina: Won't the child also have fear of the world and anxiety or a feeling of loneliness if he sleeps separately in a crib?

Irina: He already answered this question. If mom is in the room, he will feel her.

16:20 The importance of rest and restoration of mother's energy resources.

Madina: How can mothers restore resources and be filled with strength and energy when they have insomnia and no strength?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It is necessary to discuss in advance with your husband, mother, other relatives, friends and, possibly, other children, how much time they can devote to the baby, because the mother definitely needs a certain amount of time for herself. Both daily and weekly, so that her previous way of life, for example, playing sports, meeting with friends, reading, listening to music, chatting on the Internet, everything that brings her joy, definitely remains. Even if in smaller amounts, but so that she definitely devotes time to her favorite activities that she had before the birth. And she must do this every day and fulfill this in the same way as her duties to care for the child. Because she still has the responsibility to take care not only of the child, but also of herself, including her peace of mind, peace and joy.

Madina: Yes, I agree with you. What should mothers do who do not have such support? It happens that there are no grandmothers or girlfriends.

Irina (MidgasKaus): So, look. It depends on how old the child is, because at different ages he behaves differently. For example, at the age of up to a year, he sleeps much longer than a child after a year, who is older. And if there is no one to help mom, use those moments when he sleeps, do your favorite thing.

Madina: Okay, I understand.

18:38 Energetic preparation of parents for the embodiment of the Spirit of the child.

Madina: Postpartum depression. How to prepare to avoid it? What to do if depression has already hit?

Irina (MidgasKaus): The right question. The main thing here is prevention. You need to prepare for childbirth and raising a child long before this process. Every mother and father must prepare their daughter when she reaches adolescence, for this period of her life.

That is, every mother and father need to talk to their daughter during the period when she is ready for the birth of a baby, when her female hormonal systems and female organs begin to awaken. This happens during the period when she has her first menstruation. This is the border of growing up. And during this period, the mother and father, preferably both of them, should talk frankly with the girl and tell her how to prepare to become a mother, what difficulties she will have to overcome, what she will feel and be sure to tell her about the spiritual side of this issue. About the fact that the Soul chooses parents. By this time, she should already know that it was not by chance that she chose her parents and incarnated with them.

Tell her that the incarnation occurs in contact with her beloved man, when they choose each other as husband and wife. And be sure to tell her that this is a continuation of the family egregor of the clan, including telling about family, clan karma in an understandable form, as well as how the pregnancy period goes, and what she needs to do. For example, engage in certain energetic spiritual practices, cleanse her chakras.

In each period of pregnancy there is a certain energy work. And it is also necessary to talk with the Soul of the child during the period of pregnancy. It is also necessary to tell that the moment of conception is the first acquaintance of the Soul, which came to incarnation, with the energy of the father and mother, because it begins to introduce its life force into its first cell, which was formed from the cells of the father and mother. All this must be told.

The energetic state of the parents at the moment of conception will determine the first impressions that the child will receive from contact with their aura, it is like an acquaintance. In order for the instillation of the energy of the Soul into the first cell and the acquaintance to proceed harmoniously without fear and rejection in the Soul of the child, then from this the pregnancy proceeds easier, it is necessary that at the moment of conception the man and woman connect with each other in high energies without any offense against each other. And not only with physical love, but also with spiritual. It is necessary to talk about this.

And it is also necessary to tell how the child is formed in the womb. That is, to show her certain pictures, to tell about the periods of pregnancy. And it is better if the mother tells about her experience, what she felt in the first month, in the second and so on, what changed in her.

It is also necessary to tell that fear of childbirth, of pain during childbirth, greatly increases the pain. The mother should tell about this, because, as I understand, this is not taught in your schools.

Madina: No, only in private ones. There are private courses.

Irina: And right at school for children they have a subject called "Family Psychology", and they tell all about it there. Can you imagine?

Madina: Yes, great.

Irina: What do you say?

Madina: A very comprehensive answer, thank you very much.

Irina (MidgasKaus): It is also necessary to tell about the birth itself, about the stages of birth, how it goes, how to relax, and remind that this pain is natural. It is caused by certain spasms created to allow the baby to be born. This pain and birth should not cause rejection, they should cause joy of the future meeting.

You also need to tell her that during spasms it is very good not to focus on your feelings, they will only get stronger from this, but to talk to the Soul of the child and ask him not to be afraid. Because at this moment his body is being squeezed by muscles from all sides, he is passing through fairly hard formations, for example, through the pelvic bones, and it is not painless for him either, there are painful sensations.

It is necessary to address the child's Soul with a request to calm down and invite him into this world. Say: "I am waiting for you, it is good here" - so that he is not afraid.

Madina: Yes, I agree. And he will be born faster, and there will be no ruptures.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And so that he is not afraid. Then tell him that the prevention of any depression is understanding the goals of life, and the prevention of depression is gratitude to God for every day lived.

Madina: Got it.

Irina (MidgasKaus): That is, when you wake up, thank for the fact that you remained in embodiment. You understand perfectly well that during this night many earthlings did not remain in embodiment.

Madina: Yes, we often forget about this.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is prevention of depression of any origin. What I have just told you is part of the upbringing of a child, which should be in any family that wants family happiness for its children.

Madina: Good. So we prepare the girls in advance.

Irina (MidgasKaus): But also tell boys. Because you need to understand that any boy, even one who is three, four, five years old, is a future man and a future father. And when he enters puberty, for boys this happens at the moment of the first wet dream, at about 13-14 of your earthly years, I am talking on average, more or less, it is different, you can tell mom and dad the same thing about conception, about pregnancy, childbirth, because he will go through this together with his wife.

Madina: Yes, support from a husband, from a father is very necessary.

Irina (MidgasKaus): In any case, he should understand what is happening with his woman, what feelings she is experiencing. So that later, for example, he does not develop some jealousy towards the woman if she spends a lot of time with the child. He may feel unnecessary if he does not understand what, for example, maternal instinct is. And the task of explaining this lies on the shoulders of the parents, since state educational institutions for some reason have abandoned this responsibility.

Madina: I had the same thing happen, my husband didn't understand and somehow distanced himself from me when I gave birth to a child and tried to completely readjust and adjust to the baby, he felt either unnecessary or superfluous and also distanced himself. That was the situation we had. And I had a misunderstanding, why my husband was distancing himself, when I, on the contrary, want everything to be in harmony with us, everything is great.

Irina (MidgasKaus): In general, the word "mama" in all languages of the Earth is reflected as "life-giving". Mama is not just a word. It is a certain state of a woman, female energy, when she gives the opportunity to another Spirit, a divine child, to know the material world. And, in fact, this is always a certain sacrifice on her part.

Madina: A great sacrifice indeed.

Irina (MidgasKaus): But here we understand why women and to a large extent men also make these sacrifices. It is not just the instinct of procreation. They can easily suppress it and not want children, because they have agreed in the Spiritual World with certain Spirits that they will embody them.

For example, you also incarnated through your parents and were a baby, and you were also formed in your mother. And she also sacrificed a certain amount of her peace, time, to incarnate you, just like dad. In any case, this did not happen by chance, but because your Spirit agreed with the Spirit of mom and dad.

But this can even happen when the Spirit is already incarnated. Another Spirit negotiates incarnation with them with their Higher Selves.

Madina: Yes, all this is known, thank you.

31:06 Ways to overcome postpartum depression.

Madina: If depression has already hit a woman, what should she do, how can she get out of this state?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Talk to your Higher Self and ask the spiritual reason. Why am I depressed?

Madina: Let's say she misses her own previous state. Many mothers miss their previous way of life, state.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Ask your Higher Self: “For what reason did I agree to incarnate this Soul if I was not ready to part with my previous life?”

Madina: Yes, you need to ask your Higher Self. Good question.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Any woman understands perfectly well what causes conception of a child. The fact is that by performing actions sufficient for conception of a child, she already gives consent to its implantation into the egg cell that will unite with the man's sperm. A woman who does not want children will perform actions that will not lead to conception. Sexual intercourse itself is consent. After all, everyone understands what it leads to?

Madina: Yes.

Irina: “Well, is it funny?” he says to you.

Madina: It's not funny. I know this topic. He tells me about it from a different angle. A woman knows what sexual intercourse leads to, and she goes through with it in good faith. But she doesn't know that after that, after childbirth, there are even more difficult stages. It's easy for us to bear a child, and it turns out that giving birth isn't difficult either. But then, after the child is born, the difficulties begin.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Here then it is necessary to understand how reality diverged from expectations.

Madina: For example, the expectation that it will be easy. But in reality it is not easy to be a mother.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And what will be easy?

Madina: It's easy in everyday life, let's say. Feed the child, put him to bed, do the housework. Mom has enough for everything. She will be active. And she has enough for her husband, and for the child, and for herself. But it turns out that it's not at all like I imagined.

Irina (MidgasKaus): If you don’t have enough energy for something, you need to ask your Higher Self: “Why do I lack energy for everyday activities? Where does my energy go?”

Madina: For example, mothers can say that energy is spent on putting the child to sleep, understanding his wants. Let's say he is hot, he is wet, or he is hungry, or he wants to sleep, or he is teething. All this takes energy to intuitively know what the child wants.

And when the child sleeps, the mother begins to understand how much energy she spends on all this and has no strength left for anything else. This situation happens.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Here it is necessary to understand the child's situation. Because if he does not sleep for a long time, he also develops stress. Again, understanding what the child wants, as you know, comes with experience.

Madina: Yes, you need experience. That's why it's hard for young mothers with their first children. Why is it hard? By the time you get used to it, by the time you understand the child, all your hair will have fallen out, you won't have the strength for anything.

Irina (MidgasKaus): That is why I recommend that whenever a child cries, you should not blame yourself for being a bad mother. This happens to all children because that is how they communicate. If a child cries, many mothers fall into a slight panic, anxiety. And they start thinking and blaming themselves for not taking good enough care of the child, not looking after the child well enough, and that is why the child cries.

For some reason, young mothers often have the idea that a child with good treatment and care should never cry. In fact, this is not true. It is necessary to relax and simply trust the situation, trust yourself, your Higher Self, the Higher Self of the child and not worry, do not panic if the child cries, seemingly for no reason. It may have a reason simply in adapting to the environment, adapting to the new food that the mother ate and that got into him.

He may also be worried because of the shared energy with his mother and father. Because if the mother starts to worry, this is transmitted to the child, and he starts to cry even harder. That is, it can be connected with anything at all. Even with a changed smell in the room that you do not notice. For example, you used new perfume or essential oils, and the child was alarmed by this. He is very sensitive to smells, and begins to give signals of anxiety. He can do this only with sound, he cannot say anything meaningful, since the speech function of the brain has not yet formed.

Therefore, you need to calm down and try to distract him, show him a bright toy, do not rush to feed him, talk and, of course, smile. And do not rush to pick him up, he may just want to communicate.

Madina: I see, a universal answer.

Irina (MidgasKaus): A child has an instinct for learning, that is, the ability of the brain to absorb all new words. This is the language that a person will then speak in adulthood. Therefore, all children have a special sensitivity to words. And at the moment of crying, the mother needs to talk to him for a minute, two minutes, naming different words only in a soft tone and a little bit, as if stretching them out, singing, children perceive better this way. Because they do not yet perceive quickly spoken words.

He will start crying more quietly, because his instinct to remember these words will awaken, and he will try to understand the situation and remember these words in order to understand how his mother reacts to his signal. He will listen, and at this moment you can distract him, usually by showing him something bright and arousing his interest. He will get carried away by this and forget about the reason for his crying.

Madina: Yes, everything is correct.

Irina: How do you like it?

Madina: A very universal answer. Yes, this only comes to mothers with experience. It will be useful for all young mothers.

Sorry, I asked: if depression hit, what was your answer?

Irina: Ask the Higher Self for the reason.

Madina: Yes, the reason. What is missing from mom, right?

Irina: My Higher Self, what is the reason for my despondency?

Madina: Okay, I understand.

Irina: Bad mood or irritation. You can ask about any emotions and feelings. And the thought that comes to you will be the answer.

41:20 Working through negative emotions towards your child.

Madina: Lowering of vibrations, irritation, anger, breakdowns. What should a mother do when she experiences this towards her child?

Irina (MidgasKaus): First, forgive yourself for it. This happens to many, many parents. This is a certain stage of learning a parenting lesson. Forgive yourself for these feelings, forgive yourself for these emotions and transform them into confidence, interest, inspiration, love. And if a child irritates you with some quality of his, some action of his, you need to look for it in yourself, but in relation to other people.

Madina: How interesting. And how to transform? Is there any way?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Usually by mental attitudes. For example, if anger comes. As soon as a person realizes this anger, he first asks himself: "What am I angry about?" A certain answer comes to him. The next question: "For what reason does this make me angry?" The answer comes, for example, in order to change this environment or the child. And then ask the next question: "Is it more important for me to love him, to accept him as he is, or to change him with the help of emotional violence?"

Madina: Wonderful answer.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And then, when the answer comes that love is more important, say: “I forgive myself for this emotion, I ask forgiveness from the child’s Soul for misunderstanding, for condemnation, for anger. With the power of my Spirit, I transform the energy of anger into the energy of confidence, wisdom, love and calm.”

Madina: Great.

Irina (MidgasKaus): That is, energy always follows thought. When you say these words, these will be certain thoughts. Words are also thoughts, only spoken out loud. And energy will obey you, because you ordered it to transform into something. Only you must believe in it.

What do you say?

Madina: Great, yes. I'll try this method. I really liked the answer.

It turns out that a person has jumps of lowering and raising vibrations. But basically, when people become parents, they often experience a decrease in vibrations. Will a person get stuck at that low vibration level? I'm afraid of this. For example, I myself was very interested in esotericism and raised vibrations, and then there was such a sharp decline that I began to get sick often, almost every two weeks, and some illnesses came out.

Irina (MidgasKaus): These ailments are your body showing you your negativity. And if you eliminate it, it will show you the beautiful divine image of your Soul.

44:52 The importance of emotional closeness with a child in the Light of unconditional love.

Madina: Yes. How to stay on high vibrations, without lowering your vibrations?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Recognize the reasons that irritate, that lower vibrations and change your attitude to these reasons. The thing is that people cannot always change any external environment or person, since there are circumstances that are connected, for example, with the will of other people. And here it remains either to refuse communication, or to change your attitude, so as not to fall into negativity, into condemnation.

It is clear that refusing to communicate with a child is a destructive path, a path of fencing off from him. If he feels a wall between his parents and himself, he will naturally also build a wall for the reason that his openness and open expression of emotions were met with indifference.

I also want to say that it is very important for the child's parents, for harmonious relations with him, to harmonize relations and dissolve blocks connected with their own parents. This will strengthen relations in the family egregor.

Madina: That's right. Why is it so difficult with newborns at first? For example, for the first two or three months, mothers do not belong to themselves. When our alien creators created us, did they take into account these features, that babies would be so difficult?

Irina (MidgasKaus): As you know, this happens not only with people. Many animals also have difficult first few weeks, they just have accelerated development, the young require increased attention for several weeks or even months. For example, if we take birds, we see that parents have to do more than just hatch them. After they hatch them, they have to spend the whole day feeding them insects.

Madina: Yes.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is also a certain concern. They are in work, in labor. They have to put in a lot of energy, effort to feed each young one. Because in some periods of its life, the young one eats its own weight or even more than its own weight in order to grow, so that its cells divide. Birds also have certain responsibilities: to clean the nest, repair it, and so on. They also have a lot of concerns.

And this happens not only with birds, but also with mammals. You can see how dogs, cats and other animals take care of their babies. The only thing is that they do not take care of them in terms of care with various swaddling and so on - they do not need it, because they themselves are without clothes. In terms of feeding, yes, there is also this. They take care of them. Washing them replaces licking.

That is, the maternal role itself consists of a special emotional closeness to the child and the development of unconditional love for this creature, for a still helpless person who cannot take care of himself and cannot thank him in kind, that is, with his care. And without any guarantees that when the child grows up, he will thank her with something. After all, when a mother raises a child, she does not know that maybe he will not maintain a relationship with her at all or maybe he will not even live to adulthood. Such cases also exist. Both the mother and his father have no guarantees that they will receive some kind of reward for this love, care and material resources, among other things. Therefore, all this teaches unconditional love.

Madina: Yes, it turns out to be a lesson. Couldn't our creators make us a little easier in terms of care?

Irina: What does this mean?

Madina: A stupid question. I'm just asking this on my own.

Irina: What do you mean “simpler”?

Madina: Simpler means it’s not so difficult to take care of a child.

Irina: What exactly is difficult for you?

Madina: Me myself? Well, I'm just inexperienced and didn't know how to look after children before. And only now, with my first child, I can do it.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Tell me, what was the most difficult thing for you at the first stage?

Madina: The difficult thing is to understand the child, why he cries, his routine.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is the moment of trust. That is, when you begin to trust yourself, the space and stop controlling his condition. In any case, nothing bad will happen, even if he cries. Here it is necessary not to worry, but to be calm at this moment.

Madina: I guess I was an anxious mother.

Irina (MidgasKaus): That is, this condition is transmitted.

Madina: Okay then next question.

52:03 Child development through contact with nature and society.

Madina: In what environment is it better to spend a child's time: outdoors, at home, or in a large social setting?

Irina (MidgasKaus): You know, I think that time should be devoted to all three components. Because being in nature has a good effect on a child in terms of energy and contact with the Spirits of nature, as well as observing plants and animals. All this greatly stimulates the brain to develop.

But also being in society and at home teaches the child to interact with other people, with whom he will then easily interact when he goes to school, for example. You need to alternate.

52:53 Growing up of the first people on Earth.

Madina: The first people on Earth. How did they differ in development when they were babies, and did they have any special features?

Irina (MidgasKaus): They were simply (he shows) taller. And so they went through the same period of growing up. They were also taught language, communication skills, work skills, that is, practically the same. Only the first people were taught by the Tumesoutians themselves.

Madina: I see. So quickly, one more question.

53:31 Energy practices during breastfeeding.

Madina: What energy practices can be done while breastfeeding a baby?

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is a very simple practice. Imagine that milk filled with Light is coming out of your breast. It is not for nothing that it is white. It is not by chance that this color is a symbol of the energies of the Spiritual world. And imagine that you are the Divine Spirit who gives life through this milk to another Divine Spirit. Imagine yourself as God who creates the Spirit and gives it energy from your breast, from the place where the heart is close. From your heart. What do you feel?

Madina: Excellent. Next question.

54:31 Practice while the baby is awake.

Madina: What energy practices should be done in conditions when there is no time to sit down, when the baby constantly demands time. That is, you, as an esotericist, love practices, but here with the baby, it turns out, you sit. And how to use them?

Irina: He already said that the child will sleep because he needs to sleep more than you. His nervous system is not yet formed, it requires more time to restore its neural connections. And therefore he falls asleep more often and sleeps longer than, for example, you, than an adult. If he stays awake as much as you, he will simply get tired and switch off.

It is also good to use, taking into account what age and what energy practices are meant, at the moment when you play with a child, show him some toys, tell him something, still mentally be with your Higher Self and ask the Higher Self to do this through yourself.

Madina: I see. You play with the child, but at the same time you also spend time with the Higher Self.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, say: “Higher Self, I ask you to speak and play through me with my baby now.” And you will feel certain thoughts that will come to you. And when you relax, let go of control and allow them to manifest, you will often be surprised to observe from the outside how you behave with your child.

Madina: Yes, by the way, that happened. I tried, I tried. It's great.

56:45 Traveling with babies, providing assistance on the road.

Madina: If the parents' lifestyle - traveling and moving - is not stressful for the baby? Is it better for children to live in one place or can they be taken with you on long trips?

Irina (MidgasKaus): A very general question. It depends on what kind of trip it is and how the child feels about it. Usually children like to travel, they are interested in everything new, as I already said. The main thing is that it is safe and comfortable.

Madina: Traveling in a car or on a train is difficult for children. How can you spend it harmoniously?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It's all about how the child is accustomed. Because some children actually fall asleep when they are rocked by a car. Children are different. If it is stressful for him, then you need to distract him with some toys, sounds, show him landscapes from the window, and so on. And gradually he will get used to it.

The thing is that not all children can easily tolerate riding and moving. Their vestibular system is not yet formed. And they may feel unwell in terms of nausea and dizziness. You can give them liquid to drink often, and it is good in this car or in the train compartment where you are traveling for there to be a scent of eucalyptus. It will reduce nausea. You can put a few drops of eucalyptus or lavender essential oil on a handkerchief (he shows) and let him smell it so that he does not feel sick, to distract him.

Madina: I see. Thank you for your answers. I am pleased. Thank you, Mid, thank you, Irina. I was glad to meet you.

Irina: Good. Madina, thank you for the interesting questions, Mida for the interesting answers. It was very interesting to listen.

Dear friends, thank you for watching this video. I hope it was interesting and useful. Until next time!

Raom Tiyan on the Main Principle of the Universal Trinity Code https://blog.cassiopeia.center/raom-tijan-o-glavnom-principe-vselenskogo-troichno

The Universal Trinity Law of Being can be expressed in the phrase:

> "Matter and energy originated from information and consist of special states of information substance, and all of this is one. The unity of trinity and trinity in unity."

Information is not just data, it is a spiritual substance containing the characteristics of a particular object. And it is with the help of information that energies can appear, including etheric ones, that is, what is called plasmoid worlds.

In general, there are 6048 types of material energies in the material world, and only 9 of them are physical. As you can see, the number 9 appears again in the physical world. Again, I want to emphasize that this is according to the teachings of the Interstellar Union, because there are civilizations that break down the number of material elements into other numbers.

According to the teachings of the Interstellar Union, matter and energy are, one might say, manifestations, incarnations, avatars of information. Any material process occurs in time - this means that it consists of three phases: the beginning; the blossoming, or highest point, the zenith; and the end. But one can also consider this cycle, including more detailed components, that is, other numbers, for example: the beginning, the period of growth, the highest point, the period of decline and the end.

But if we shorten all this, we can say that any material process (and the existence of a material object of any density, the very existence is a material process), be it an atom, a star, an object of the plasmoid world or a body of any density, - in any case, the existence of this object on the time axis will consist of three points. And the information component of each of these points changes. At the beginning, a change in the information matrix occurs, and then the state of this object changes along the vector that I said.

Timecode: 26:12, #526 Universal trinity code. Matter, energy, information in the Universe from the standpoint of extraterrestrial sciences.

What does it mean to "sell your soul to the devil"? "God's slave" - who is that?
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/chto-znachit-prodat-dushu-dyavolu-rab-bozhij-kto

This image is taken from the Christian idea that the Lord Jesus Christ, you may have heard, redeemed, that is, bought your Soul from the devil. In the New Testament, you read that the Lord redeemed us with his blood, that is, you people. We all read in the Bible that the Lord Jesus Christ redeemed us from the power of the devil with his blood.

What does it mean to redeem? It means to buy us out of his power. All these were images understandable for the 1st century AD, when there was a slave system. This is where the understanding of "God's slave" comes from. To redeem or buy out the Soul, or sell it back - this comes from images understandable specifically for a person of the 1st century.

This image means that the slave who was bought for silver belonged entirely to his master and could not leave him, could not run away from him, had no right to do so. He had to carry out any order of his master, otherwise he could lose his life. His master would not be punished for this, that is, he was entirely in the hands of his master. It was in this vein that theologians, apostles, prophets of the New Testament and contactees reasoned, in the concepts of that time.

What is a "slave of God"? At present, it is a person who is fully aware of his belonging to God, his complete dependence on Him in energies, manifestations and in his actions. That is, he is fully aware that he is a part of God. That everything he has on Earth is given to him by God through various people, through circumstances, through his own life force, which is also given by God. All that a person has is only his thoughts, deeds and words, which he will take with him into eternity, and everything else belongs to God and is given to us for a time. This awareness of humility and at the same time a feeling, not just of service, but a feeling of cooperation with God, but in the form of serving Him as the highest form of energy - this is the feeling of a "slave of God".

According to the images of the 1st century CE, "the Lord Jesus Christ redeemed" - this means he gave his blood to buy your Souls out of the slavery of the evil master. What does this mean? In the language of images, it means that the Lord Jesus Christ sacrificed his life, sacrificed his incarnations in billions of worlds in order to make you his particles. So that you could feel yourselves as Light, truth, life, live as He lives and become his "slaves", in the language understandable for the 1st century. This is what "to redeem" meant, that is, he bought you out of evil slavery.

What does it mean to "sell your Soul to the devil"? In the language of images, it means to leave God again and give your Soul into slavery to the devil. To put it very simply, this image means to return to evil deeds again, to forget about God and lower your vibrations, not to feel Him, that is, to become a slave to the devil, that is, to feel the need to serve evil.

Nowadays the expressions: "to redeem the Soul", "to sell the Soul", "slave of God" are losing their relevance, because 2000 years have passed since the Resurrection of Christ and more than 500 years have passed since the almost universal, with some exceptions, abolition of the slave system. In any case, people's consciousness has now become different.

MidgasKaus says:

> "I call on modern preachers of the Christian church to pay attention to this and in their modern sermons to speak in a language that is already understandable to people of the 21st century. So that they are not repelled by the symbolism that was given to people for whom slavery was the norm. You are already living in a different time." ❤

00:04 Help the Cassiopeia Project.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello to everyone! Can you please tell me how to hear me? "Hello from Chicago!" Chicago, hello! If I point the camera up now, I wonder what will happen? That's better! Oh, great! So today is my destiny to have a wonderful broadcast with a very interesting person. Mikhail Sergeyevich Gorbachev. His Spirit is here with us today, but, as always, I will take the beginning of the broadcast.

And the first most important news for you all: there will be no more advertising on air. A huge number of complaints, a huge number of people who miss the broadcast because I advertise various products of the Cassiopeia Project.

But I would like to explain why I am doing this. To be honest, the entire Project is built on the condition of donation. What is donation? Donation is your opportunity and your desire to help our Project grow and develop. Unfortunately, in the territory of, probably, Russia, the word freebie has always been present, and I will tell you, we have reached such a height of development of the Project that I have to earn as an individual entrepreneur in order to develop this Project. To be honest, I will not go with an outstretched hand and ask: "Help, good people, please, believe in aliens, give money for development."

I tried and did the best. I tried to give people high-quality products, understanding all the spiritual responsibility for these products, and, accordingly, by buying these products you would help our Center, but, unfortunately, many do not like that I occupy the airtime with these products, so there will be no more advertising at the beginning.

I want to thank all the people who are trying to help and really help the Cassiopeia Project. This is very important to me and not only for me, but also in general for the development of the entire Project. If those people who knew what the Cassiopeia Project was, understood what a great responsibility it is, and what a large number of specialists, projects, subprojects are in the Cassiopeia Project, they would definitely understand why I am engaged in advertising, and would understand what amount of donations come to the Cassiopeia Project.

"No sharpness." I definitely have it, everything is fine. Another piece of good news. I want to thank all those people who are involved in black magic, dark deeds, who do cool things in relation to our Project and me personally as a leader, who try to take away finances, luck. Guys, please don't do this. Call me personally, ask for my finances, ask for my luck, I will gladly, without any magic, without anything, share everything that I have. There is no need to do any strange things, attack my energy structures, attack the energy structures of the Project in order to take something away from it. Our Project is built for people, nothing needs to be taken away from us.

You can come to our Project, and we will give you everything we have. Call, come, I will gladly share all my successes, all my finances and all other moments that are in the Cassiopeia Project, because this Project was created for people. Not to deceive people, not to lure something out of them, but so that people acquire that form of awareness when we all together can unconditionally love each other, unconditionally treat each other well, unconditionally help each other and many other things that our Project and those subprojects that exist bring.

04:40 Institute of Transpersonal Psychology of the Cassiopeia Project.

Maxim: We have officially opened the Institute of Transpersonal Psychology. In this Institute we will train psychologists, not just schizoterics, not just those people who are engaged in inflating their egos, in some cases. Highly qualified psychologists who will really help people, and I want to note that even in the Institute of Practical Psychology you have the opportunity to take online courses on mental healing courses on the condition of donation. If you show me another psychological project where you can get knowledge on the condition of donation, then we can close our Project.

We have moved very far away from our main topic on the air. Our main topic is contacts with extraterrestrial civilizations, and we have followed the path of, probably, Blavatsky, who contacted Spirits and contacted Spirits of the dead. Why? Because people like it very much.

05:46 Contacts with extraterrestrial civilizations in the Cassiopeia Project.

Maxim: News. Dear friends, we are ending all contacts with the Spirits of the Dead and returning to contacts with extraterrestrial civilizations. I will ask each of you to write a message in this broadcast about what civilization you would like to see on our broadcasts. We can invite representatives of any civilization. We can invite representatives of the Spiritual World. We can invite any other forms of subtle-material structures that could give us feedback on our development and our existence.

Therefore, the Spirits of the dead people are probably good, but I think that today's broadcast is probably one of the last broadcasts when we will call upon the Spirits for communication so that they can give us feedback. We are now moving back to extraterrestrial civilizations. We are moving to communication with those who helped develop our Project, and any aliens.

"Let's do it 50/50", no, guys, it won't be 50/50. We are a Project that concerns contact with extraterrestrial civilizations, contact with the Spiritual World, with subtle-material civilizations, so let's probably return to our true nature and to the awareness that those who created us give us.

Regarding events: from August 2nd to 5th in Ufa we will have an off-site training event, the first stage of contacting, we are going with our Health Center.

There will be Nadezhda Viktorovna - a highly qualified specialist in the field of medicine with the Oberon equipment, and there will be a representative of visceral therapy, who studied in three systems, he will be engaged in recovery and healing.

Yes, the Bible says: "The dead are cared for by the dead." That's right, but it's a very interesting topic, yes, to summon Spirits, to communicate with them. A large number of my friends who find out what I do, what we do in our Project, ask: "Can I talk to my dead grandfather, can I talk to my grandmother?" Guys, of course, everything is possible, but what is the goal? What is the goal? Just to find out? We can just find out from the idea that we have.

08:26 Levels of the material world according to the Interstellar Union program.

Maxim: And I have another colossal piece of news. You know, Irina, in secret from all of us, for six months compiled, how should I say it correctly, probably an encyclopedia after all, an encyclopedia of all levels of the material world. According to the Interstellar Union program, which exists, there are 59 levels. She was able, traveling in the Astral together with our curators and mentors, to explain and describe in simple accessible Russian language the structure of the universe in 59 levels up to the Spiritual world. You cannot imagine what a colossal work this is for those contactees who have contact with various levels of these civilizations.

Guys, this is just a phenomenal article. It will be in the Cassiopeia. Publications Project, it will be the basis for Irina's next book, and in this book, when you read this article, you will draw yourself a picture of the universe in the form in which it really exists. It is like a nesting doll, which includes different levels, and these different levels feed their energies to the levels that are below. In general, this is for those who are engaged in contacts, for those who are engaged in research of the Spiritual world, for those religious figures who are generally interested in the spiritual, the universe, and how everything is arranged. At 9 o'clock in the evening, this article will be published on Cassiopeia. Publications, and all 59 levels of the structure of the material universe will be described there. This has never happened on this planet.

That is why Irina created, I don’t know how to say it correctly, probably content for contactees, which will help them determine the level of contact and who they are contacting. There are architects and subtle structures, which include universes, galaxies, cores of stars, planets. In general, it is something unreal! I recommend everyone to read this article, which will be on the channel “Cassiopeia. Publications”. I hope the link will be under this video, and you will understand that the universe is very interesting.

And so, of course, that's probably all. I won't torment you any more. 10 minutes of my personal time. I hope you enjoyed this time without advertising products that were made with such love that now you can't even talk about them because you're not interested.

Therefore, I am handing over the palm, the reins, the conduct of this broadcast to that “party gold” that has disappeared, by the way, we will try to find out today where this “party gold” has disappeared to our dear Irina, a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, a contactee with the Spiritual world, with subtle civilizations and, in general, a wonderful person who knows how to find contact with any person with whom she enters into it.

Now we'll adjust the camera for you. Wait a second, I'll put the chair right for you. Sit down. Like this, sit down. Now we'll lower the camera a little bit under you, make a more correct, beautiful angle. Irina, I think you put on a special dress for Mikhail Sergeyevich, right? Right now, three seconds.

12:38 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends!

Maxim: That's it. Dear friends! Please write in the comments if you are ready for this broadcast. If you are ready, just write: "Ready".

Irina: Yes, hello, dear friends! About communication with Spirits. Yes, of course, well, yes, it is interesting. By the way, I am also sometimes interested. Most often, very interesting personalities. We invited all the Spirits at your requests. You asked us, and we invited them. I hope that this was useful to you.

My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle worlds and the Spiritual world. Today we have a non-embodied Spirit, who in his last incarnation was known as Mikhail Gorbachev. He is here today and is ready to talk to us, as he said, frankly. He welcomes everyone. He said: "I am ready to answer any questions as frankly as possible."

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, I cannot address you as "you", because you are a very extraordinary person for me, a very odious person, you are a person who has changed people's perception of power, of the country and of many other things. Can I address you as "Mikhail Sergeyevich"?

Irina: Smiles. It makes no difference to him. Yes, you can.

Maxim: Thank you! Actually, we've been preparing for this broadcast for the second week now. Last time, something didn't work out for us, but I remember that last time you said why it didn't work out for us: "Because, probably, the person who would ask me the right question hasn't been found yet." Has that ever happened?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

15:30 Gorbachev's Spirit on trust in conference information.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me, how can a person really be sure that he is communicating with the Spirit that was Mikhail Sergeyevich in his previous incarnation? What do you think? You are now in the Spiritual world, we are in the material world. How do you think a person from the material world can be sure that we are communicating with the Spirit of Mikhail Sergeyevich Gorbachev?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): The word "convince" means to believe. Am I understanding this correctly? How can one believe?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Anyone who is ready for it will believe it.

Maxim: I understand. Anyone who is ready for it will believe it.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Ready for recognition of the Spiritual World.

Maxim: I saw that the guys wrote that they were ready. "We are ready." So, well, I accept the interesting position, and let's go.

16:42 Gorbachev's spirit about his previous incarnations.

Maxim: Dear Mikhail Sergeevich, please tell me, have you had any other incarnations on Earth and as whom?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, there were previous incarnations on Earth. Before incarnating into the body of Mikhail, I also had an incarnation into a man on the territory of France during the war between France and the Russian Empire, during which I died. My soul left the incarnation.

Maxim: What year was it?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): 1812.

Maxim: 1812.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): When I died.

Maxim: What position did you hold, and who were you?

Irina: He shows me, he was a soldier, he died in battle during the offensive.

Maxim: And were there any incarnations on Earth before 1812?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I had three more incarnations on Earth, but all of them were before the New Era. One incarnation was in Japan 300 years before the birth of Christ. One of the incarnations was (shows) 70 thousand years, that was before the war.

Maxim: Before the war 12,000 years ago?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, before the war 12,000 years ago. And another incarnation on Earth was in a woman. My very first incarnation in a dense body on Earth was around 357 thousand years ago.

And not on Earth, I had an incarnation on Esler, on several planets in the Pleiades cluster and on Tumesout.

Maxim: And tell me, please, have you incarnated on the planet of the reptilians? Because people wrote that your previous incarnation was somewhere in the reptilian race. Have you had incarnations in the reptilian race?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, but not in our Galaxy.

Maxim: Not in our Galaxy, right?

Irina: Shows some snake-like creatures that live in the forest, like in the jungle. Shows that intelligent Spirits are incarnated there in these snake-like creatures, but they are intelligent, and he lived there.

Maxim: How long ago was that?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Around one and a half million years ago.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how many incarnations does your Spirit have in this manvantara?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): 159.

Maxim: 159 incarnations.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): The 159th has passed.

19:58 Gorbachev's spirit on his spiritual levels.

Maxim: It's not that much. It's even interesting. Tell me, please, from what spiritual level did you come to incarnate as Mikhail Sergeyevich Gorbachev, and to what spiritual level did you come out of incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I came to incarnate into the body of Mikhail Gorbachev from the 10th level.

Maxim: From the 10th spiritual level?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: And at what level did you leave?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): And came out on the 14th.

Maxim: To the 14th, by 4 levels did you increase your level of embodiment?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: We have a project called "Cassiopeia. Codes", it calculated your spiritual tasks that you had for the incarnation of Mikhail Sergeyevich. I would like to ask you.

20:58 The Spirit of Gorbachev on the tasks of Gorbachev's incarnation.

Maxim: According to the personal codes, the main task of spiritual growth was physical labor, humility and service. To what extent does it coincide with the plan of your incarnation from the Spiritual world?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): This was one of the stages of my incarnation, but I still had a task - the development of creativity, the development of the ability to organize, the ability to organize some kind of work.

Maxim: That's what I just wanted to say. The second task occurs in two periods of your life, the intermediate tasks of spiritual growth are teaching others, creating an organization and responsibility.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: We're in trouble, right?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): And also creativity.

Maxim: Yes, creativity. There is creativity written here too. The most interesting thing is that your tasks of spiritual growth did not include love, acceptance, forgiveness and preaching about God.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, they did not. My tasks, when I incarnated into this body, were precisely organization and creativity, because the tasks that you just listed will be the next stage of my experience in the material world.

Maxim: I thank our project "Cassiopeia. Codes", which provided me with this information.

Mikhail Sergeevich, I would still like to hear from you in more detail: what tasks did you have to implement?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): The tasks for implementation really changed (shows). At one stage there was the development of hard work, at another stage there was the development of creativity. At the third stage there was the training of others and, I would now call it the organization of thinking, not the organization of people, but the organization of one's own thinking. That is, to do everything in order, and this also included purposefulness.

23:21 Irina Podzorova on the qualities of the Spirit of the fourteenth level.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, this is not a very good question. Do you know that you are considered a destroyer of the country and a Judas who sold the country? What do you think about this?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I know. I advise those who think so to remember history, how it all happened. The government of Boris Yeltsin and the people who gathered around him bear full responsibility for the destruction of the Soviet Union (shows: closer to the criminal group).

Maxim: Do you consider Yeltsin's government a criminal group?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): There were those who, in your opinion, were involved in criminal groups as authorities.

Maxim: Guys, I see you are perplexed about the "scoundrel on level 14". Let's first find out all the reasons.

Irina: I will explain about the 14th level now, I just see the comments too. Dear friends, the 14th level is the middle level. It is called a researcher. That is, those Spirits whose vibrations corresponded to the interest in studying the material world get to this level. Again, this is at the end of the incarnation. We are not talking about the levels he was at in life, to which he rose or fell. It could be different. We are talking about the end of the incarnation now.

Maxim: And he was given the 14th level not for the collapse of a great country, but for his inner spiritual qualities with which he left this incarnation, but we will now come closer to this. I have a lot of questions.

Irina: Level 14. The thing is that it corresponds to such a state of the Spirit at the moment of disembodiment that its attention is almost entirely focused on the study of something material.

Maxim: Guys, I see your questions. I have these questions too, so don't worry.

Mikhail Sergeyevich, we are all interested in, let's say, I call Irina "the gold of the party" because I finally found her. For me, she is a priceless, I don't know, grail of knowledge.

26:01 Gorbachev's spirit on the use of the gold of the Soviet Union.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me where the party's gold went? Because this question interests many people. What do you think about this?

Irina: Now, he's a little indignant about this question. Yes, interesting energy. Okay.

(The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev) The gold, not even of the party, I would call it the gold of the Soviet Union, went to Western countries in exchange for essential goods that were taken out of our country, although they were necessary for the people due to sabotage at the local level during the implementation of the law on cooperation.

Maxim: Once again, I still don’t understand what this means?

Irina: I understand, he is showing an image. He passed a law on cooperation, thanks to which businessmen appeared. And they began to export abroad what our factories produced, because they bought it more expensively abroad, and our people were left without necessary products and essential goods. They had to be purchased for gold.

Maxim: And all the gold is gone?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Not everything, but a fairly decent amount.

Maxim: So it was really true that gold was taken out of here by the trainload, and disposable noodles were brought in here?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Even toilet paper, sometimes.

Maxim: How interesting!

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: Interesting.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

28:14 Gorbachev's spirit about a birthmark on his head.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, please tell me, what did the birthmark on your head mean?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): By the way, I had it at birth, but it was (shows) smaller and not so brightly colored. In fact, it manifested itself, do you understand the words "karmic knot"?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): This is the result of damage to my past body, which, as I have already said, was taken out of incarnation due to a wound on the head inflicted in a bayonet attack.

Maxim: And this was during the French Revolution of 1812?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: Ah, so this is a reflection of the wound on the head, it turns out, in this life?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): In life, his name was, in your opinion, Pyotr, Pierre. This soldier who was killed, this man. He was not yet 30 years old (shows 28 years). He was not killed right away, first he was wounded in the head area, then night fell, no one was in a hurry to carry the wounded off the battlefield, because our regiment was practically destroyed. Night fell, it was already cold, autumn. And Pierre (shows that he was lying and dying from a wound on his head, from pain) was very angry from the pain. He hated this country, the Russian Empire. I took this pain and hatred with me, into my Spirit, that is why I got to the 10th level because of my hatred for this people. And that is why my Angels-consultants sent me to this country so that I could overcome this hatred. This was also one of the tasks to get out of the 10th level.

Maxim: Dear Alexander Pavlyukevich, what does the French Revolution have to do with this? Watch the broadcast from the very beginning.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): This is not a revolution, this is a war.

Maxim: War of 1812.

Irina: He is talking about his previous life. He is simply answering the question of where he got the birthmark on his head, and he says that it is because of a wound in a past life, when he brought this pain and hatred with him. It was registered in the etheric matrix at the conception of the already forming body of Mikhail Gorbachev and thus appeared in the form of color, as if in the form of a reminder that he was wounded in the head. But it is still good that this karmic knot manifested itself in this way, because there could have been a brain disorder in general.

31:39 The Spirit of Gorbachev about meetings in the Spiritual World.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, please tell me, have you met with the Spirit of Yeltsin, Zhirinovsky or anyone else in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, I met with Yeltsin.

Maxim: And what level is he at now?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): 4th.

Maxim: Wow, how interesting! Boris Nikolaevich is on the fourth demonic level.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I came to him.

Maxim: And what does he say?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): We talked with him mainly about the events of the fall of 1993, in which Yeltsin acted as a murderer and usurper of power.

Maxim: And what does he think about this?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): He explained to me the reasons for such an act, his unconsciousness at that moment, because he was afraid of losing power. But I think it's better to talk to him about it, if you want.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, thank you very much! I think that you are probably the last Spirit with whom we will communicate, so you see how the USSR fell apart, and you are the last one. It turns out that we have destroyed the entire structure of communication with Spirits.

33:08 The Spirit of Gorbachev on the main stages of his biography.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, please tell us a little about your family, and how you came to the position of General Secretary?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Tell me about my family and how I came to be. I was born into a simple family of a front-line soldier and a believing Orthodox woman who was a collective farm worker. My father, Sergei, was a distinguished soldier, a warrior of the Soviet Union, who had military awards. He was a very respected person, he helped manage the collective farm, and my grandfather did the same.

I studied, was very interested in all sorts of sciences, but when I was still a child, the war with the Germans began, and, as I already said, my father went to the front. We stayed with my mother. (shows how his small village, a collective farm, was captured by the Germans, and he hid from them, he was 10 years old).

But then, when the war ended, my father came with the awards I mentioned and started working on the collective farm again. I started helping him. Two years after the victory, my brother was born. A year and a half later, my father and I received awards (shows some kind of award for work from the collective farm). It was some kind of medal or order (shows an image of a star). Because of the award, because I helped my father, the Komsomol sent me to Moscow to study at the university to become a lawyer, although I didn't even think about getting there. I was one of the youngest people to receive an award, and the board of our collective farm issued a petition, it was granted, and I went to Moscow.

Then I met Raya, my wife, while I was in Moscow. We got married. I was studying at the institute and lived in a dormitory, then we were given a room in a family dormitory. Then we came back. I graduated from law school, and I had, maybe you know the word, "distribution."

This is such an order of the state. Since it spent money on my education, it was not me who spent it, it distributes it over several years, and I was obliged to work it off in a certain place. They sent me to my own region. I am from Stavropol Krai, they sent me there, to this place, we lived there with my wife (shows something like a dormitory in which they gave me a room). And then I did not want to work as a lawyer and filed a petition to work in the party organization, they took me into the Komsomol and then on.

Maxim: You went up the stairs to the secretary, right?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): At first I worked as the chief manager of the Stavropol regional committee for party propaganda, and then, when our daughter was already born, I was voted into the position of secretary of the regional committee.

Maxim: Thank you very much, Mikhail Sergeevich! Guys, in fact, I asked for Mikhail Sergeevich's biography in order to make sure that it was Mikhail Sergeevich, because Irina, fortunately, does not prepare for broadcasts, she transmits the information that she can transmit.

I have studied all the information about him, and I will tell you that so far I do not see any contradictions, because if you think that I also do not check who communicates with me, then you are very much mistaken. Mikhail Sergeyevich, thank you very much for what you told me, and I immediately have a question.

39:46 Gorbachev's spirit on resignation.

Maxim: What caused hyperinflation, and how did it happen that people’s deposits became worthless?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): I'm telling you that you need to call Yeltsin. This is what happened when I resigned as president. Ask the next person who came after me.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, can you name the true reasons why you resigned?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Because they signed the treaty on the collapse of the Soviet Union in Belovezhskaya Pushcha, and I became the president of a state that practically no longer exists (shows three people). That is why I resigned.

There was no hyperinflation during my time, and moreover, I place full responsibility for this suffering of the people on the one who took power, and to whom I personally, while in the Kremlin in December 1991, transferred all powers, including the nuclear briefcase and special codes for launching missiles.

Maxim: Very interesting!

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): And that was, naturally, Boris Yeltsin. Therefore, he is responsible for everything that happened after December 21, 1991.

Maxim: I understand, thank you! Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me why after Ukraine declared independence there was no referendum on the territorial affiliation of Crimea and Donbass?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Good question. I was against the collapse of the Soviet Union in the form in which it occurred. But this question is also in the wrong place. I did not sign the document together with Shushkevich and Kravchuk. It is Yeltsin's signature, not mine.

Maxim: How interesting it all is, Mikhail Sergeevich, I understand.

Guys, okay, look, in principle even from the 4th level Yeltsin, if anyone wants a live broadcast with Yeltsin, this will be our last broadcast with the Spirit. Please write in the comments: "We demand a broadcast with Yeltsin." If there are many comments for the broadcast with Yeltsin, then I will ask Irina and our interstellar friends to conduct the last broadcast with him, that is, not with Gorbachev. I thought Gorbachev would be our last, it turns out, probably not.

Irina: You want.

Maxim: We demand it, yes.

Irina: Yes, we want, we demand Yeltsin.

Maxim: Guys, well, look.

Irina: “Let’s have Yeltsin.”

Maxim: Yes, if you want a broadcast with Yeltsin, please write in the comments.

Irina: Look how many!

Maxim: Now we'll see, if there really is a lot, then we will. Yes, "we demand, we demand." Excellent! I still haven't fully understood whether there will be a broadcast with Yeltsin. So, Mikhail Sergeyevich, we'll continue further. I have another question.

43:26 Gorbachev's spirit on the ownership of the Bering Strait.

Maxim: Please tell me, did you receive money or special privileges from the leaders of the United States of America to make decisions and laws that were asked of you.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): It's just funny, you get money from them, and they'll tell you that. These are not the kind of people who will give money so that I can make some decisions. They drove us, not even them, we drove ourselves into such conditions that we passed laws ourselves, without any money that they needed. They didn't pay for it. Moreover, they received many territories of the sea area in the Bering Strait instead of me receiving money from them.

Maxim: What did you demand again?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): They got it from me, or rather from Shevardnadze, but I gave the order. You probably know the story that several thousand (I see the number), the water area is a sea territory, where Alaska is, there is a strait. I gave it to America. This is instead of them giving me money.

Maxim: Wonderful, overall!

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): In order for Ron Reagan to sign, for him to agree to sign some kind of disarmament treaty, something connected with weapons.

Maxim: I understand. It was a nuclear disarmament treaty, right?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Not even about disarmament, but about the abolition of missiles that can cause great destruction.

Maxim: Ah, long range.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: Guys, 3600 people are watching our broadcast. 1322 likes. We will organize a broadcast with Yeltsin one hundred percent, we will get two and a half thousand likes, I guarantee, there will be a broadcast with Yeltsin then.

Irina: Yes, of course, I will also talk to him in the Astral, because I haven't spoken to him yet.

Maxim: Let's go, 2500 likes. Dear friends, I won't advertise anything with likes at first. Let's at least help the channel advance, because YouTube has started blocking and banning our channel. We were black-banned because we were leading the wrong topics for them. Let's get 2500 likes. Let's give this YouTube a run for its money so that other people who are also interested in these topics will see us. Thank you all so much, dear friends!

So, basically, no one gave you money. You made the decision yourself, am I right?

Did the United States of America interfere in perestroika, and did they participate in the privatization of factories and ships through front men?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Boris Yeltsin started mass privatization, I already talked about this. Accordingly, he passed a law that foreign investors have the right to take ownership of large enterprises.

Maxim: Let's go back to Yeltsin again. Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me...

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): You just need to look at the dates of the signed documents.

47:05 Gorbachev's spirit on the need for perestroika.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, did we need perestroika at all?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Of course. I'm sure it is needed.

Maxim: Why are you sure it was needed? What was wrong with what was there?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Why was I sure of this? Yuri Andropov, Chernenko and the entire party nomenklatura, which was still around in the 70s, told me about this.

Maxim: And they definitely didn’t have selfish goals in carrying out perestroika?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): You see, the thing is, I came to the post of General Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union for only one reason: those who voted for me to be elected to this post expected me to make changes. Otherwise, I would not have gotten there. Accordingly, I wanted this myself and saw that it was necessary for our country.

What kind of changes were needed? So that our people, ordinary people, common folk, peasants, workers, intelligentsia could really start enjoying the benefits of our country, and, accordingly, have the best of everything. And when you start assigning a pension of, say, 50 rubles to a collective farmer-milkmaid, whose hands are all cracked from hard work, and at the same time a large portion of your gross product goes to the military structure, and when your country is waging a war in Afghanistan, it is not clear who benefits from it, when practically everything that Soviet people earned goes there, and in return only zinc coffins without identification marks come, you probably understand that some changes are needed.

Maxim: Okay. Very interesting. Really very interesting.

49:52 Gorbachev's spirit on the war in Afghanistan.

Maxim: Tell me, please, why did we need the war in Afghanistan? What was the reason that we sent troops to Afghanistan? What were we looking for there, as a country?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): What were we looking for there? The party leadership wanted. Do you know what the Warsaw Pact countries are?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): So that there would be a country like, for example, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, and so on, but already in the east, as if a shield from the aggressive USA, and plus, naturally, oil, gas, which were in Afghanistan, and plus they also hoped to somehow block the flow of opium, which simply flooded our country in the mid-seventies, especially Central Asia. There were several goals, and all of them, under the guise of wanting to establish a socialist government, wanted to solve the problems of their country.

Maxim: I understand. They were hiding from drugs and from the US by introducing troops into Afghanistan, right?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes. Of course, everyone was talking about protecting the workers of Afghanistan. Do you understand what the matter is? When a person is in real power and understands what needs his country has, then the interests of the workers of other countries fade into the background, especially the workers of a country like Afghanistan. There, opinions are divided about the socialist future.

52:07 Gorbachev's spirit on the promise of non-proliferation of NATO to the East.

Maxim: Please tell me, why was an agreement on NATO expansion to the east not signed when troops were withdrawn from Germany?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Shevardnadze and I were quite satisfied with the verbal promise.

Maxim: So, is that possible? Should we take verbal promises at their word that NATO will not expand to the east?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): We were told that this treaty would be signed later, after consultation with all NATO countries that were present at that time.

Maxim: And why was there no consultation? Why was there no agreement?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Because after the troops were withdrawn, the contingent in general from Germany and not only (shows the reunification into a single country), there were several statements. And American people from the government, and German, and Great Britain and so on, that there was no need to expand NATO anymore, because at that time there was no threat for them to accept other countries. And I and other politicians, including from the democratic echelon, believed it. You understand that there are radical democrats, there are average democrats, and there are conservatives?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Even the conservative democrats thought that they did not need to include any country in NATO given that we were ending the Cold War.

Maxim: As Vladimir Vladimirovich said: "They fooled the fool with four fists." Right?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): When I was still incarnated in the new Russian reality, I repeatedly said that the United States of America, as well as France, Spain, Great Britain and, of course, Poland and neighboring countries such as Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, whose rhetoric is to accept new NATO countries into their military alliance, I always said that the NATO project's desire to expand will lead our Earth, our humanity to great trouble.

Maxim: Which is basically what is happening now. Am I right?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I've always talked about this, I even have an interview (shows how she sits on television and gives an interview to someone).

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you know what's going on on our planet right now? Have you taken an interest?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Not at the moment. I am not following events now. I am disembodied. I can only ask my Angels-consultants about this, and they show me various events at my request.

Maxim: Let me tell you so you don't have to ask the Angels-consultants. We are currently undergoing a special military operation with Ukraine, where a huge number of people are dying, both on our side and on the Ukrainian side.

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): I know about it. It started while I was still alive.

Maxim: What does this mean? How should I understand this? When you were alive, had it already begun?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I left incarnation a year ago.

Maxim: Ah, yes.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): A little less than a year, but still.

Maxim: And for some reason I thought that you came out of incarnation earlier.

56:59 Gorbachev's Spirit on a special military operation.

Maxim: So, what do you think about this?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): About what exactly?

Maxim: Regarding the special military operation that is currently taking place in Ukraine?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): What do you mean, what do I think? I think, as I already said, that this is a consequence of the ill-considered policy, first of all, of the United States of America on NATO expansion. They should have foreseen such actions on our part.

Maxim: And in principle they knew about these actions? That is, they did it intentionally, perhaps? What do you think?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): They did this, counting on the fact that the current president of Russia is the same as the previous one.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): What did they do? They started making elections to expand the bloc, thinking that in his Soul, in his character, Vladimir Putin would be exactly the same as Boris Yeltsin, who did not prevent this expansion during his rule. They were wrong.

Maxim: There was more than one expansion of NATO to the east, and indeed no one really interfered with it.

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Here, everything is a little more subtle. The thing is that those countries that were not prevented from joining were not in such relations with Russia as those that began to ask to join later. These are different things. Even if not the American president, then the parliament, even though they actually have a dual one, but it should have understood the consequences of such statements and the consequences of such decisions. Because it is very strange to promise to accept into a military bloc a country or a number of countries that were in close trade, economic, political, and even special relations with a country that is actually the successor of the Soviet Union, and therefore can perceive this as an attempt to put pressure on it.

1:00:04 The Spirit of Gorbachev on the collapse of the Soviet Union.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, do you regret the collapse of the Soviet Union?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes. I myself held a referendum among the peoples of the USSR on whether to preserve this Union or not. And those republics that agreed to hold this referendum decided to preserve it. By the way, I wanted this contrary to Yeltsin's wishes.

Maxim: Why didn't they preserve it, I can't understand? If there was a referendum, there was "preserve", so it turns out that in opposition to the referendum they destroyed the Soviet Union?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): It's all because of Kryuchkov, Yanayev and those others (shows several people), who, you see, decided to remove Yeltsin and because of that fell into disgrace. And that Union, the renewed Soviet Union that I wanted, was not created. They didn't sign it, the document was never signed, because they staged an armed confrontation with Yeltsin, and that's why they dispersed everyone. I told Gena Yanayev not to do that when I was still in Crimea, but he didn't listen to me.

1:01:44 Gorbachev's spirit on prohibition.

Maxim: Yes, regarding Crimea. Tell me, please, why was it necessary to introduce prohibition?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): This is a bit of a personal story.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): The thing is, as I have already said about my path to the top of power to the President of the USSR, I saw that the widespread passion for drunkenness was hindering transformations, reforms. After all, the goal of my reforms was not the collapse of the Soviet Union. It was later that Yeltsin wanted to throw off responsibility and blamed me. The goal of the reforms was to continue the life of the Soviet Union under new laws, so that it would become even stronger. But I saw that constant alcohol consumption was hindering this, and I saw how many destinies, the lives of people, ordinary people, ordinary workers were destroyed because of this, as I would now say, "green snake". Why was it called a "snake"? Because it creeps up unnoticed, but stings very painfully.

A very large number of people with titles, who had everything in life and who had something to lose, lost everything because of alcohol, because of the bottle. They became slaves to the bottle. This is the first reason why I decided to use laws not even to prohibit, but to reduce to acceptable levels the consumption of these drinks.

I did not decide to do this right away, I consulted with the Minister of the Ministry of Health, with leading doctors of this Ministry, including narcologists, about what to do in this situation. And the plan that I developed was precisely the gradual deliverance of our people from addiction, because it was not something that interfered with work, but even interfered with the defense capability of our state. For example, there is a known case.

Shows how on the border of Turkmenistan, just in the early 80s, a certain bandit group attacked a military unit, everyone there, including the officers, were simply dead drunk, because of this they were simply, like sheep, cut with knives. They could not even use their machine guns, and they stole all the property of the military unit.

Maxim: What are you talking about? Are you serious?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, that happened.

Maxim: Because everyone there was drunk?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): I'm saying that we just walked in, and they were all snoring there. These mountaineers simply cut them down by the throat, like sheep. And they took away both the money and the weapons. Then the KGB hunted them for a long time. The weapons had already begun to spread on the black market.

Maxim: I understand. And why was it necessary to cut down the vineyards in Crimea?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Not only in Crimea. This is the first point.

And the second moment was connected with my wife. She was very upset, she had a very strong mental wound and a very strong mental trauma because of her brother, the writer Zhenya, who, despite all his privileges and despite the fact that we and my sister constantly helped him, I also allocated the appropriate funds, he drank very heavily. In the end, he developed dementia, and he had to be sent to a psychiatric hospital for the rest of his days.

I understood when I talked to Zhenya, he was already in Moscow - Raya brought him, called us to our family, and when I was persuading him, I saw that without alcohol this talented writer, a very interesting, intelligent person turns into a shaking animal. I understood (shows as if he has no will of his own) that this is a very dangerous substance, and it is necessary, if not even to ban it, although I was even ready for this, but my ministers have already suggested to me that this is impossible. I decided to at least reduce its consumption as much as possible.

Maxim: Why was it necessary to cut down the vineyards?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Cutting down the vineyards is one part of the truth. And what was planted in their place? The fact is that the fruits of these vineyards went mainly to wineries, and wine and cognac were made from them. We left those vineyards, the products of which were mainly exported to other countries. It was impossible to quickly rebuild all the factories, for example, for juices, raisins and other grape products. Moreover, so many of these products were not needed in our country. And, as you understand, grapes are a perishable product, and if you do not use them, and there were many tons, it is simply an unprofitable use of land.

Maxim: What did they plant instead of vineyards?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Somewhere they made farms for animals, somewhere they made fields (shows a tractor that first uproots everything and then sows grain), somewhere they planted forage grasses for the same animals, somewhere they planted corn and sunflowers, especially in the south of the country.

Maxim: Vineyards are a very specific culture, these vineyards grew for 25-30 years. They were uprooted, just taken and that's it?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, because there was nowhere to put the products. The wineries mostly closed. There were a lot of them. I calculated that in 1985, at least that's what the Ministry of Health calculated, there were about 15 liters of pure alcohol per adult per year. That's a lot, really. Not even per man, but per person, and men drank even more. In general, the safe limit, as the doctor Fyodor Ivanovich told me, is somewhere around 8-9 liters of alcohol per person per year. And in our country, this figure was almost twice as high. That is, it was already leading to the birth of a sick generation of people, many invalids were born.

Maxim: And the fact that the vineyards were cleared away, and people began to poison themselves with various moonshine, all sorts of stuff, Western alcohols and everything else?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): They introduced a special law that also punished the unauthorized sale of alcoholic beverages.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, you think that it was right to cut down the vineyards, make farms in their place and sow the fields, right?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): It helped health. You can even see that during the period of control, I don’t call it prohibition, it wasn’t exactly prohibition, but there was limited sale of alcoholic beverages. And it was even more limited in the area of strong drinks. They tried to produce more beer, for example, than vodka or cognac. Accordingly, if you look at the statistics, you will see that mortality began to decrease, healthier children began to be born, and labor productivity began to improve. It was not in vain.

Maxim: Thank you, Mikhail Sergeyevich. Guys, why do you think he is denying it, lying? He is talking. I don’t feel like he is lying.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): He speaks his mind.

Maxim: I don't feel like he's lying. I'll tell you honestly. But if that was the situation at that time, and those decisions were made. Why do you think he's lying? Okay. By the way, we didn't get 2,500 likes. There are 23 likes left for us to organize a broadcast with Yeltsin.

1:12:49 The Spirit of Gorbachev about Raisa Maximovna.

Maxim: So, Mikhail Sergeevich, have you met Raisa Maximovna in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, but she is now at level 16.

Maxim: Raisa Maksimovna at level 16?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes. She came to me.

Maxim: Did she come? And what does she say? How is it, on the 16th level?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): She came to me and asked how I lived without her (shows) for more than 20 years.

Maxim: And how did you live without her for more than 20 years?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I said that I missed her very much. I was melancholy, and, by the way, already in the Spiritual World it became clear that after her physical death I had developed a necrotic attachment to her Spirit, which took away my energy.

Maxim: I understand. We work with this often.

Irina: Yes. It was necessary to transfer it to the Higher Self.

Maxim: Now I'll come to that very question that I probably wouldn't have asked on the last broadcast.

1:14:03 The Spirit of Gorbachev on the spiritual reason for the collapse of the USSR.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what is the main spiritual reason for the collapse of the Soviet Union?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Precisely from the position of the Spiritual World?

Maxim: Yes, precisely from the position of the Spiritual World, what is the main spiritual reason for the collapse of the Soviet Union?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Any state is created or collapses only when there is a society, in your opinion, an egregor, which is responsible for this state, that is, a collection of energies, let's say. If the state is divided, collapses and ceases to exist in this form - this indicates that the egregor has long been destroyed, it as such no longer exists.

The spiritual reason for the collapse of the egregor, as I see it now from here. I also asked my Angels-consultants about this, I asked exactly the same question, and the answer came that the spiritual reason for the collapse of the Soviet Union is the discrepancy between the declared goal, that is, the construction of communism, and the real life in which people lived.

This was becoming more and more widespread, and people were beginning to see it and doubt the very original idea that created the Soviet Union. In other words, to say: “Why did we create this Soviet Union at the cost of millions of dead people, if now we continue to work, but we have practically nothing compared to what was promised under communism?” There was general disappointment. A very large percentage of people were disappointed. Moreover, this disappointment increased, for example, after the Chernobyl accident.

He shows me that after this accident there were many rallies or protests against such use of not even nuclear energy, but against corruption. Because party officials, for certain money, turned a blind eye to violations, for example, in construction. Maybe you heard the word "nepotism".

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): That was it, and many people knew about it, and when the Chernobyl disaster happened, it had a very strong negative impact on the Soviet system, on the Soviet people, because people stopped trusting the CPSU.

Maxim: They write: “Our hero turned out to be white and fluffy,” but did you think he was black and bald?

Irina: You know what the point is? Here it is necessary to understand that he is, after all, the president of the Soviet Union. He ruled the Soviet Union in any case, but, as he says now, it was the president of the Soviet Union who did not sign the document on its collapse. Another person did.

Maxim: Okay then. Mikhail Sergeyevich, in general, the spiritual reason is the discrepancy between the stated requirements and where the people were actually located, am I right in understanding?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, that is, people began to understand that communism is an illusion, and they are simply working for this illusion, and not for their own well-being. And the second reason was, after all, godlessness.

It shows how atheistic, materialistic propaganda led to people's reluctance to engage in their own spiritual development, and therefore, the spiritual development of their country.

1:19:12 The Spirit of Gorbachev on faith in incarnation.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, were you an atheist?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): I was in the Communist Party. How can someone not be an atheist?

Maxim: I don't know, maybe they secretly believed in God.

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I was more of an agnostic. That is, I recognized that there is some force that controls the world, but I was not interested in these topics, because, you could say, I had other goals, and I did not have time to study any religious or church scriptures. I believed that all these religions were more of a relic of the past, I believed that there was some incomprehensible force that created everything and controls everything. But I did not want to build my attitude towards this incomprehensible force. I believed that it was like impersonal energy.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, why did we give our maritime borders to the Americans? What did you get for it?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Good question.

He will answer again now. He received America's loyalty for this in signing the law on these missiles.

1:20:39 Gorbachev's spirit on the causes of the accident at the Chernobyl station.

Maxim: Uh-huh. Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me, what is the real reason for the accident at the Chernobyl nuclear power plant?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Insufficient control over the construction of this station and over the materials that were delivered there. Ordinary sloppiness, drunkenness, sale of materials, speculation in goods at exorbitant prices by the directors of these construction firms, who, by the way, were allocated everything by the state. This was everywhere. It was not only in Chernobyl. I said that this entire system required restructuring.

And, by the way, I didn't call it "perestroika", but "reforms", so that everything would be more civilized, so that there would be, for example, certain individuals, cooperatives, who, in a state of trade on the free market, would be responsible for the quality of their products themselves, and not like this: you were brought 10 bags of cement, you accepted them, sold 5, put the money in your pocket, and then it is not you who is responsible for it, but the one who wrote them out for you. Do you understand what I mean?

Maxim: Yes, I understand what you're talking about.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I wanted to change all this.

1:22:12 The spirit of Gorbachev about his life after the collapse of the Union.

Maxim: Next question. Guys, the broadcast will be very long, because we have a lot of questions for Mikhail Sergeyevich. Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me, why did you star in the commercial?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I liked it.

This is his creativity, a kind of creativity in which he shows people his image.

Maxim: Did they at least pay you money?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): That wasn't the main thing. By the way, Yeltsin assigned me a pretty good pension in return for not raising the people to revolt against the collapse of the Soviet Union. Blood would have simply been spilled. Why do I need that?

Maxim: Interesting. I understand. And what do you think, how should we have raised the people or not?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): I don't think so. It wouldn't have done anything. It didn't do anything in '93, and it wouldn't have done anything in '91.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you! Is it true that you were friends with the Dalai Lama and Vanga and turned to them for various help?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I was interested. I was learning about the world and was interested in, among other things, various spiritual movements. But I wouldn't say that I seriously believed in it. It was rather an internal interest of the Soul (says that this does not cancel out disbelief in God, as you understand, as a person, it is rather like a search for the Soul).

Maxim: I understand. They write: "The documentary about Gorbachev reveals him in a dark light. Even the employees of the special office." They made a film about you and not everything was filmed about you. Why do you think this was done?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Why was the film made?

Maxim: Yes. About you, and you are shown in a bad light there.

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): You should ask the creators of the film. I'm just a man of action and I'm not used to thinking about why other people did something.

Maxim: Thank you, Mikhail Sergeyevich, for your answer. Now we are finally getting to the topic of alien civilizations. We have been talking about many things for 24 hours, and now the most interesting part. Guys, if anything, recommend this broadcast from 24 hours.

1:24:58 Gorbachev's spirit about contact with aliens.

Maxim: They say that in 1987 you met with representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations. I would like to know if this happened? Who was it, and what did you talk about?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): In 87 and 89.

Maxim: You met twice?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: Have you actually met representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations?

Irina: He has already answered this question.

Maxim: I just thought you'd say, “No, it’s all made up.”

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I met with representatives of what they called themselves then, the Pleiades civilization (shows me).

Maxim: How did it all happen? Were you going somewhere? Who invited you, how did it all happen?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): We were driving (shows the man who was driving, his name was Sasha Yakovlev). This is my assistant, he was a contactee with these Pleiadians, he told me about it a long time ago.

Maxim: And was Sasha Yakovlev in the government?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Assistant, in the Duma. In general, he was a communist.

Maxim: And he was a real contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes. He met physically with the Pleiadians. He told me the name of the planet. We talked about it in passing. The planet was called Lurita.

But again, now he does not speak the Daral language.

Maxim: Yes, yes, well no, Irina. Let many not understand. I am interested in the fact itself. That is, you really saw them, that is, as I see Irina now? Did you see them in the same way?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Naturally. We flew to their base with him. We talked there. In '87 and '89.

Maxim: To which base?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Which they have underground in the area of the Kola Peninsula.

Maxim: I thought I was the only one who flies. What were you talking about there?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): We talked there about the same need for disarmament, for example, about ending the Cold War, about all the nations of the world being friends, about not repeating, as they explained to me, the situation at the end of the 1950s, when extraterrestrial intelligence stopped a nuclear war.

We talked mainly about peace, also about ecology, that is, many issues were touched upon. And why did they invite me? Because, as they explained to me, when Yakovlev invited me there, told me about his contacts, I did not believe him at first and advised him. As I already said, many party workers were subject to, so to speak, the secret vice of drunkenness.

Maxim: Like he was drinking and had hallucinations?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): When he told me about this, I first told him: "You too, you need to get treatment for alcoholism." He said with a completely serious face that this really does exist, and I knew, of course, that alien civilizations exist. Andropov and Chernenko also gave me special documents about the study of contactees. I knew about this. But I certainly didn't believe that they had physically communicated with Yakovlev specifically. But he invited me along and said that they wanted to meet with me. I asked: "Why? For what?"

Maxim: So, you met.

Irina: Give me something to drink.

Maxim: Yes, of course, Irishenka. Sunny, I completely forgot. We've been dry for an hour and a half already. Let me have a drink, I'm also drying out. Probably not from Gorbachev, for sure. So, you and Yakovlev Sasha went to this contact.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): When he offered me, at first I even thought about whether to go or not. I asked, why do they need me? I am not a contactee, why should I meet with them, with aliens? (He says that he did not want to go). But he told me that they had something to talk about specifically with me as the leader of a large country, on which the future of humanity depends. I said, "Okay," and we went together.

He's showing me now how we were driving from Moscow, a forest area began, there was no one there. He turned onto a forest road.

Maxim: What do you mean, I drove you. The same, we were driving from Voronezh, then we turned onto a forest road. It's very interesting, Mikhail Sergeyevich. We're having a very interesting broadcast. So, we turned onto a forest road, and then what happened to you?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Then we left the car and went on foot (shows flashlights). We walked, stumbling over some roots (shows fir trees), and then we got out, I was already thinking: "Where are we going, and how will we find our way back in the dark?"

Maxim: Weren’t you scared, Mikhail Sergeevich?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): It's not that I was even scared. I was worried because, first of all, I didn't know what kind of aliens they were. I hadn't seen them.

Maxim: Maybe it was his alcoholic friends, that's all.

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): I had talked to him before and asked him some questions about the reason for such interest, and I understood that he was telling the truth, that he was not lying. At first I did not believe him. Then, of course, I believed him, because I knew that they existed anyway (shows that there was some classified data).

Then we stopped in a clearing. It was dark, we turned off the flashlights, there were stars above us. I saw a flash in the sky (shows how he looks there), a white beam came down from there, and we stood as if in a spotlight. The light turned from white to light green, and we felt that we were rising up. When we were rising up, I looked up and saw a black, or rather dark gray square.

Maxim: Damn, Irina, why didn’t the aliens invite you and me to make contact?

Irina: Yes, I will answer now.

Maxim: Okay, I'm kidding, go on. I'm just sitting here dreaming. So, you were lifted onto the ship, right?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Yes, we went up on the ship. And I saw several people, that is, I thought they were people. They looked very much like us, but they were wearing tight silver jumpsuits that had pockets. There were three of them. There was one girl and two guys (shows).

Maxim: What is your height, skin color, what are your eyes?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): They were a little taller than us, they had light skin. A little taller, that is, about two meters. Light skin, light hair and light gray and blue eyes (shows: long arms, legs and proportionally built).

Maxim: I understand, they looked very aesthetically pleasing.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes. And their faces were like this (shows, maybe you'll understand what I'm talking about), emphatically beautiful, that is, no imperfections).

Maxim: Can we now have some comments from our curators, who exactly was it according to the description in our terminology?

Irina: LiShioni, he is here. Who was it? Who was in contact?

He says that at that time they were in contact with a real Pleiadian civilization, which is part of the Galactic Federation of Light, it is a colony of Disaru.

Maxim: Yeah, I get it. Colony.

Irina (LiShioni): She is indeed in the Pleiades.

Maxim: In the Pleiades. Disaru colony, yes?

Irina (LiShioni): Yes, this colony of Disaru was formed (shows) in the fourth century, 350th year. It was formed when we had the fourth century.

Maxim: I understand, thank you very much, LiShioni. Let's continue. What happened next?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I don't know her name in Daralian, but accordingly, her self-name is indeed Lurita. I don't know what she will be in Daralian. I don't know this language.

Maxim: Everyone on air is now really looking forward to what happens next.

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Then we said hello. They spoke Russian, and their male and female voices were very clear and ringing.

Maxim: I understand what you're talking about.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Very memorable. If I heard them now, I wouldn't get them mixed up. At the same time, they were similar to those on Earth. But there was no hint of them being some kind of metal robots. They were human voices, and it even seemed to me to be emphatically human, you know what I'm talking about.

Maxim: Yes. And what was the first question you asked them? Did you even ask them anything? I can't even imagine. You didn't believe it, you flew, you saw them for real, what was the first thing you asked them?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): We greeted each other, and I asked about the purpose of the meeting. They told me, "We'll discuss this when we arrive at our base." I smiled and asked, "Do you have bases here?"

Shows a woman smiling.

(The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev) She says: "Yes. You know perfectly well that they exist, because there are reports about this from your special services." And I said that I did not particularly delve into these reports. I know about their existence, but I did not supervise the special services. The Ministry dealt with this. I did not deal with this specifically.

Maxim: So, what happened next, Mikhail Sergeyevich? This is the first contact, 1987, right?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: And what happened next? You flew to the base and?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): When we were flying, I didn’t feel anything.

Shows metal chairs with semicircular handles, round windows and again light, but there is no source, that is, like light bulbs.

(The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev) I was surprised that there was very little furniture in this room. Chairs, a metal floor and a remote control with blinking lights. Such minimalist furniture, a practically empty room, this also surprised me. I also thought: "Aliens, flew in from a higher civilization and can't even decorate somehow?"

Maxim: So, they are asking us to take this more seriously now, because many, when we smile, actually think that we are joking or that we have made something up.

Irina: I'm interested myself.

Maxim: We came up with something.

Irina: I find it interesting myself and, indeed, his emotions make me smile, everything he says, that there could be some decorations. I really find it funny.

Maxim: Let's say we could hang up a photo with my grandmother.

Irina: Maxim himself makes me laugh.

Maxim: So, how long did the flight last?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): You know, I didn't keep track of the time. I had a watch, but I didn't look at it. But according to my feelings, several minutes, maybe five to ten (shows) according to my feelings. Again, I didn't feel anything. Sasha and I were simply invited to the exit.

Maxim: And this isn’t Sasha’s first time flying, is it?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Yes. He is a contactee. Not for the first time. It was clear from his behavior that he was already familiar with them.

Of course, I was worried about where they were taking us and what kind of conversation we were about to have. I understood that these were alien beings, but I wasn't afraid, because, firstly, Sasha was with me. Since he was their contactee, and he flew with them, they didn't do anything to him. And, secondly, I thought: "Well, aliens, I'll talk to them. Earth people are even more dangerous."

Maxim: I understand. Irisha, go on, don't read what they write there. The most interesting thing is what happened next, what did they talk about? Irisha, are you alive?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Yes. When we arrived at the base, we came out and there was a structure there, like a hangar (shows), where there were huge cylindrical devices with large round windows. And I realized that these were spaceships, and the one we had arrived on was a small silver disk.

Maxim: And you flew in and ended up right in a big spaceship?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): We flew into some hall (he called it a hangar, where several ships are parked). It's like an internal base.

They didn’t walk to the base on the ground, but were already inside.

Maxim: I see.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): We walked for a long time along a long corridor, and then we entered a room where it was very light, and there was a round table, and there were sitting (he shows) 5 beings who were older. They did not have any wrinkles, but it was noticeable that they occupied a status.

Maxim: In general, given the situation.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes. And that they were older than those who brought us. And those who brought us also sat with us (shows chairs around the table, similar to those on the ship). We sat down, and they began to question me (shows: the man who was sitting at the table had a pointed chin, a very deep look).

He started asking me questions, and on the table there was (he shows) a box, similar in size to a pack of cigarettes. It was metal, and when he asked me a question, words in an incomprehensible language began to sound out of it. When I started answering his question (it was about my opinion on the situation in the country), then, when I answered his question, this box also began to speak. And I realized that it was a translator. That is, as I immediately realized, not everyone there spoke Russian.

Then, since it was 1987, I was asked about Chernobyl, about my attitude to this disaster and its causes, as I believe, and about what needs to be done to prevent it from happening again. And I began to answer.

Maxim: So, what did you answer?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I replied that it was criminal negligence on the part of those responsible for the construction that led to the failure of this apparatus. At that time, I told them what information I had from the agencies that were investigating this case. And one of the men asked: "What laws are you going to introduce so that your country is safe from a repeat of this kind of situation?"

I started talking about how there should be more control over all this production. Then they started asking me about relations with America, about whether I agree to completely end the Cold War in order to protect other generations, and I said that before answering this question, can I ask you a few questions? They said: "Yes." I asked them a few questions about who they were, where they came from, and what their purpose was for being here.

Maxim: So, what did they answer?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): They said they were from the Pleiades.

They've already found some Alexander Yakovlev.

Maxim: Yes, there is, an activist, a publicist. Yes, that's him, guys.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes, he is Alexander Nikolaevich (he calls him Sasha).

They answered that they were from the Pleiades, that they had been observing the development of our planet for a long time. And their goal: for us to eventually create a society that could replenish their ranks. And I asked why we and they needed this. To replenish the ranks for what?

Maxim: Logical.

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): I even smiled and asked: "Create something like the Soviet Union there, on your planet?" And when the little box, the translator, translated it, I saw that they had emotions, like human ones. They began to smile, and when they smiled, I would say that at that moment they were very similar to people. I even thought, maybe I am, as it were, among people, and this is like a production?

Maxim: A prank. A prank, he says, you are with aliens.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): But then I looked at the walls again, remembered the disks that I had seen, and realized that I was actually familiar with technologies on Earth that could reproduce all of this.

Maxim: So you sat down and talked. What did you agree on, basically? What decisions?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): We agreed that I would make decisions that would end the Cold War. A bridge of peace would be built between nations. First of all, with the United States of America and Western countries. Because there was tension between our countries due to different paths of development. And I really said that I was going to take such a course, and I would try to do everything necessary for this.

That is, we did not talk about the fate of the Soviet Union specifically, so we talked more about international relations and the environmental situation. And they also told me that the victims of the Chernobyl disaster and the victims of the Soviet Union's nuclear tests in the north and Central Asia should be prescribed the necessary treatment, and there should be social guarantees and state support, because this is my responsibility. That's how they expressed their opinion.

Maxim: And you didn’t ask them who else from the government contacted them?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): No.

Maxim: I understand. Please tell me, how long did this meeting last, approximately?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): About 30 minutes.

Maxim: About 30 minutes. And then they brought you back to this forest, right?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Yes, then they brought us back. We said goodbye.

Shows how they are invited to the exit. They stand in the middle of a hexagonal room, the ceiling is slightly conical. From the top of this cone a greenish beam fell on us, we were slightly raised above the floor, a square hole appeared, and the beam went down with us.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, please tell me, when you came home, did you tell Raisa Maximovna all this?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): No, of course not.

Maxim: You didn’t tell anyone?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): No.

Maxim: Did you promise not to tell anyone or did you decide not to tell anyone?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): They didn’t take any promises from me, but I understood perfectly well that such statements on my part in the future, when I was the head of state, would cause an unhealthy stir among the population.

Maxim: And in those secret documents where they talked about contacts with extraterrestrial civilizations, is there information that you contacted them? To the next president, when they handed it over.

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): No. I didn't say. Only Yakovlev knew.

Maxim: Was there contact in 1989 too?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes. And also with Sasha Yakovlev. The contact was at the same base and in fact (indicates that, according to his feelings, with the same beings), but it was mainly devoted to my story about the results of the first meeting. What decisions I made after the first meeting, how it affected me, and what I am going to do in the future.

The second meeting was also about 30 minutes, everything was the same as the first time, but there I spoke more and even showed. For the second meeting, I took a briefcase with papers and showed them diagrams, drew graphs. They listened to me attentively and asked questions.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me after you met the aliens and realized that they existed, were any measures taken to somehow unite the contactees, perhaps, into one group, that this was some kind of reality. To somehow help earthlings with these contacts. Was there such a desire at all or was nothing done?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I didn't quite understand, maybe the question. What do you mean with contactees?

Maxim: So you already understood that aliens exist, that there are contactees, and that they came to help us. Have you tried to somehow, I don’t know, unite the contactees, somehow study this topic in more detail, deeply, or undertake some other steps?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I wasn't particularly interested in this. I just realized that there is a certain star community whose representatives are present on Earth secretly from the majority of the inhabitants and from the majority of the governments of the countries where they live on bases. I realized that their intentions are really very bright, pure and kind.

I did not feel any suspicion that they wanted to somehow capture us or infiltrate our power structures, the government or something else, from what I saw and heard, I understood that they simply observe us more, including through their contacts. They observe and collect, how to say, so that you understand, statistics of scientific sociological research. For me, it is like people who conduct experiments, but not in a laboratory, but directly on other less developed societies.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, please tell me, were you a member of any secret orders of Masons or any other orders?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I wasn't interested in that.

Maxim: Not interested, right?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: Let's move on. I realized that everything is very interesting with aliens. There were two meetings with aliens.

Irina: Chip. No, they didn't put a chip in him.

(The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev) Even if this had happened, and my memory had been blocked, after disembodiment the memory returns, because it is impossible to block the memory of parts of the Spirit in the Spiritual world with any material technologies, alien or earthly, so I would have already remembered it. But I don’t have such memories, so they didn’t put anything on me.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, once in a circle of friends you called yourself God. What was that and why? Maybe it was some kind of joke?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): I called myself God? I can't remember all the conversations, I need context.

Maxim: Let's move on. Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me, were there any other contactees with extraterrestrial civilizations in the government, besides Yakovlev?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): He was the only one who told me about it. But I think there were. Because after these contacts, I naturally got the materials from a special safe, the code to which only I knew, and which, by the way, I gave to Yeltsin along with the nuclear briefcase. I gave it all to him.

Maxim: Dmitry Anatolyevich Medvedev spoke about these folders on Channel One. I remember. He said that the codes with the nuclear suitcase are transmitted with this folder.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: I remember that for sure.

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Yes. It's just strange that he said this, because it's generally not customary to talk about this.

Maxim: I probably let it slip by accident. The video is on Channel One, yes.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Such a strange coincidence. Oh well.

Maxim: Maybe Dmitry Anatolyevich was already preparing us for a meeting with aliens.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Or maybe he saw more than just the suitcase.

Maxim: Anything is possible. By the way, he was the president.

Irina: Smiling. (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev) But again, I studied these materials, I saw that they were collected over different years (shows) of the Soviet state, and there were people designated as contacts who were not the last ranks of the army and the State Security Committee of Russia.

1:56:44 The Spirit of Gorbachev on the activities of Raisa Maksimovna.

Maxim: I understand. Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me, did Raisa Maksimovna take part in the decisions that you made at the national level?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): She was not eager to get involved in politics. She was more interested in public activities. I even tried to consult her about various political matters, because she was a very wise person, I believe, and could give wise advice. But she said: "These conversations give me a headache, I don't understand this," and was more involved in social projects, helping.

Shows: she gathered people, directed money to this. For example, research into various methods of treating children or, for example, how to protect the rights of women who experience domestic violence. She raised such issues and appeared on television a lot.

Maxim: I understand. Mikhail Sergeevich...

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): She also did science (shows: she is writing something).

1:58:01 The Spirit of Gorbachev on the spiritual causes of Raisa

Maksimovna’s illness.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, what was the spiritual reason for Raisa Maksimovna’s illness?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Of course, I could say, ask her, but I asked her, so I will answer. The reason was the lowering of her level. She incarnated from the 18th level, and left for the 16th. The lowering of the level and the illness were caused by the same reasons.

The first reason is despondency about the events with her brother, whom she loved, with Zhenya. The second reason is anger and irritation at him, and the third reason is fears, worries, worries about me, when people began to condemn me for various events that happened after my departure.

Maxim: They write: "He's lying about cutting down vineyards." Elena, I'll tell you honestly, you know, from what I heard at that moment, I think he's not lying. Why? Because it's all quite logical, there really could have been so much grapes, and it was difficult to process them, so they could have actually made such a decision at that moment. So don't talk about "he's lying." I didn't feel that he was lying, and I think he's not lying.

Mikhail Sergeevich, please tell me, was the earthquake in Stepanakert natural, or was it some kind of nuclear test?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): There were no nuclear tests there.

Maxim: Was it a natural earthquake?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: Why, being an atheist, did you support faith at the legislative level?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): And what, an atheist must necessarily fight against faith? There are atheists who support the educational, so to speak, function of religion for society. I was of exactly this opinion.

Maxim: That is, you supported the educational function of religion by supporting faith, right?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: Got it.

2:00:20 The Spirit of Gorbachev on the process of the collapse of the USSR.

Maxim: Who was in charge of the process of the collapse of the USSR?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): What does "the process of disintegration" mean? In general, the disintegration happened very quickly, that is, literally people gathered (shows), signed an agreement that the Soviet Union no longer existed, and then the process of implementing this decision was handled by the first president of the independent country that was formed in place of the USSR. In our country, this was handled by the president of the country that became the successor of the Soviet Union in our state. The first president of Russia was Boris Yeltsin, his apparatus, his ministries, his parliament, and so on were engaged in this process and all the reforms that followed.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, have you met, besides the Pleiadians, the Orions? We call them gray men.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): No.

Maxim: Got it. So you just met with the Pleiadians, people similar to us, aliens?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes. Disaru Colony.

Maxim: Thank you very much.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): But they are in the GFS. (LiShioni) They are part of the Galactic Federation of Light, and these specifically decided so.

Maxim: Why didn’t Russia unite with China earlier?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): To unite with a country, you need the desire of both sides. There was none. Neither ours nor theirs.

Maxim: I understand. Were there, Boris Nikolaevich, oh, Boris Nikolaevich, I say, Mikhail Sergeyevich. In my opinion, Boris Nikolaevich really wants to get in touch.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): He will probably say it now.

2:02:44 The Spirit of Gorbachev on George Soros.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, were you personally acquainted with George Soros?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: And what do you think about him?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I think he is a good businessman who does a lot of self-promotion.

Maxim: And what about the fact that they helped to destroy the country?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Well, he's an American. Naturally, they helped to destroy the country that was their competitor. I might let you in on a secret, but one of the KGB departments was created for espionage and the destruction of the United States of America, by the way.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you for your answer.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Why don't they create such a fund?

2:03:41 Gorbachev's spirit about Putin.

Maxim: Please tell me, how do you feel about our president Vladimir Vladimirovich Putin? What do you think about him?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): What do I think?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): Let's say I don't completely agree with him, but I agree with a lot. There are disagreements, but there are things I agree with.

Maxim: What do you disagree with?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): For example, I don't agree with raising the retirement age. I don't agree with some decisions related to Georgia, Ukraine, for example. I think we should have behaved more gently.

2:04:41 Gorbachev's spirit about his life abroad.

Maxim: I understand. Tell me, please, why did you go abroad, Mikhail Sergeyevich?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I have gone on many trips.

Maxim: You have been living abroad recently, as far as I know.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I was just getting treatment.

Maxim: From what?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): From kidney failure and diabetes.

Maxim: I understand. Guys, by the way, we have already talked about cancer many times. Why is there a large amount of cancer on the planet now? Because cancer is caused by negative destructive emotions - pain, resentment, hatred and anger. And everything negative that you keep in yourself, you give cancer the opportunity to form. So please think about this.

2:05:22 The Spirit of Gorbachev on the next President of Russia.

Maxim: What do you think, Mikhail Sergeevich, who will rule the country after Vladimir Vladimirovich?

Irina: I don’t know who Mishustin is, but he just told me that. Who is that, by the way?

Maxim: Interesting. Guys, remember now what Irina said. You really don't know who Mishustin is?

Irina: I heard this name, but who it was, I don’t remember, honestly.

Maxim: I see. You don't have time. All you have to do is be with aliens all day long.

Irina: I didn't watch the news. (Mikhail Gorbachev's spirit) This is just a forecast, because I think he would be capable. And so, of course, maybe it will be another person, but personally I would vote for him.

2:06:09 Gorbachev's spirit on the timing of the completion of the special military operation.

Maxim: Now that's interesting. Mikhail Sergeyevich, please tell me, when do you think the special military operation in Ukraine will end?

Irina: Should I really answer what he said?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): When Biden is replaced.

Maxim: When will Biden change?

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Yes.

Maxim: In general, what do you think about Biden?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): What do I think about Biden? I think that his, how to say, weakness of brain activity is being used by the military-industrial complex of his country, because of which he is simply destroying it.

Maxim: Thank you! I think so too. I have a feeling as if he was reading information from me. No, seriously. I'm hallucinating too.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Or maybe you also received information?

2:07:15 The spirit of Gorbachev on his regrets.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeevich, now, being in the Spiritual World, what actions in your life do you regret?

Irina (Mikhail Gorbachev's Spirit): I regret that I gave Yanayev and Kryuchkov permission to act without me in Moscow within the framework of the civil committee on the state of emergency. I should have come from Crimea myself and signed the treaty of the renewed union state without direct confrontation with Yeltsin.

Maxim: Thank you. Mikhail Sergeyevich, you have been gone for over a year. We have a small number of subscribers, only 150 thousand, it is not 150 million people, as in all of Russia, but now it is much less. What would you like to say to those people who are still living on this planet? Well, let's not say on this planet.

2:08:18 Mikhail Gorbachev's address to the Russian people.

Maxim: What would you like to say to the people of Russia?

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): I would like to address the people of Russia now. You are talking about Yeltsin, but there was a vote, the results of which I checked myself, and our Russian people, of which I was a part, and of which all of you were a part, really gave their trust, their votes for him, and, accordingly, you yourselves, one might say, with your thoughts about the miracle that should happen in this country, attracted a reformer like Yeltsin, from the liberal link, because you believed his promises that everything would be fine just like that, and you didn’t have to do anything for it.

I think that in many ways this is a result of Soviet upbringing, because again, communism promised that everything would be free, that money was not needed, and so on. This largely taught you to rely on the government instead of building your own life the way you want it to be. I am now even more addressing the generation of the sixties, seventies, not the one that was born later. There was a completely different upbringing there.

But, dear friends, I will repeat once again that I was against the destruction of our state, I was against the loss of all our achievements of 76 years. I was against breaking the oath that every communist took when joining the party, that it was his duty to take care of the integrity of the Soviet Union. I immediately stated this when I learned that the law on the destruction of the Soviet Union had been signed, and I criticized this decision. To which Boris Nikolayevich Yeltsin immediately responded with criticism that I, as the president of a former state, have no right to limit the desire of other states to live independently.

Indeed, I understand that I had no such right, but I am sure, dear friends, that many people wanted to live in our common family. Of course, at the moment in time that you live now, more than 30 years have passed since these events, another generation has already grown up, for whom what we have just talked about is a distant history, practically the same as the creation of the Egyptian pyramids.

But I want to say, now, addressing the younger generation: the fate of the state is in your hands. And in fact, it is possible to be a self-sufficient prosperous state with any size of territory and with any resources, if they are directed to the development of peaceful life, and not military technologies that destroy lives and take away the hope of many generations, and also break our contact, I am now speaking as a spiritual being, with the bright Spiritual world.

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, thank you very much! You know, before this broadcast I still thought that you had destroyed the country.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): You didn’t know whose signature is on this document?

Maxim: I was sure that you were all in the same boat, and you all knew and transferred authority to each other only in order to continue to act in accordance with the plan to disintegrate the country.

Irina (Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): Then why did I hold a referendum?

Maxim: Mikhail Sergeyevich, now I understand everything. Everything has become clear to me, and those spiteful people who write, Judas and all that, for me you are still just spiteful people now.

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): They are not guilty. There was simply a certain propaganda of democratic forces that tried to blacken the last leaders of the country that they robbed and helped others do it for a certain percentage.

Maxim: I understand. Nikola Nepitersky: "It's a circus, called "Cassiopeia". So come next time to a new performance, tickets are free. Guys, thank you all very much!

Irina: Here's what else he says.

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: I just asked about the country, about the special military operation, about Crimea and so on. (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev) I believe that if you, dear friends, had voted for me in 1996, I would have led the country in a different direction and, perhaps, would have returned to the agreement on a new union state, if they wanted it, of course.

Maxim: I really want it, this is my personal opinion, I really want whoever is in power now to finally think about a new union state.

Irina (The Spirit of Mikhail Gorbachev): But again, with the policy that those who are now in power are pursuing, they are scaring off potential allies more than they are attracting them, so to speak, with exorbitant expenditures on militarism.

Maxim: Guys, everyone who watched this broadcast at the very end, please go back to the very beginning, and you will understand a lot about him and about the answers he gave. And listen to your heart. I think your heart will not deceive you. Once again, thank you all so much! Thank you so much for your support! Thank you so much for being here and for making it possible for our Project to exist. Guys, bye everyone! Until next time! From August 2nd to 5th, we will be in Ufa, so everyone who is near Ufa, come to us. There we will communicate in person, talk, ask all the questions, and I think there will be very interesting training there. Bye everyone!

Irina: Thank you all for your patience, for watching this broadcast! Until next time!

Maxim: Until next time! Bye everyone!

Nutrition for Ascension to the Light of God. Raising Children. The Role of Computer Games https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pitanie-dlya-voskhozhdeniya-k-svetu-boga-vospitani

Education is food for ascent. For ascent upward, to the Light of God, food for oneself. There is physical food, and there is spiritual food. This is information from spiritual sources about the existence of the Spiritual World and its inhabitants. For your people, these are esoteric, philosophical, or religious writings that study the world.

The second source of nourishment is that love, that Light of truth, which is born in you when you selflessly help others, communicate with your Spirit, forgive your enemies, show causeless mercy to all those in need. It is then that the food necessary for the growth of your Spirit is born in you. This is spiritual food. This is the nourishment that elevates or upbringing.

Raising children should start with raising yourself. You can't pass on to your children what you don't have. Every parent and family member has their own role. Even older and younger siblings have their own role in raising them. The heroes of your children's favorite books, movies, and computer games have their own role in raising them. Even they take part in raising your child.

Computer games – I have already covered this issue many times – are a product created by specially trained people in order to attract maximum attention and make them in the form of a game with increasing levels of difficulty. So that the person who plays, having completed the level, receives some reward in the form of any pictures, music, so that he feels strong, significant, a winner. This is the development of the leadership instinct.

It is good to instill a love for computer games in those children who are not confident in themselves. The creators of computer games put in them many levels that are difficult to pass the first time, otherwise the game will become uninteresting, and it will not be distributed in your space, and the creator of the game will not be paid for it.

The best computer games have levels: there is a little bit left until the end, and then something happens, and the person loses. This increases interest and desire, motivation to play the game again and again, which takes time and energy resources. All this is done at the expense of time spent with the family, outside in the fresh air. Brightness of images is important for a child, and this sometimes becomes an obstacle in learning, communicating with parents. Because a good product has been created, which is more interesting to your children than you are.

This is not a reason to reproach children, but a reason to look inside yourself and ask:

> "What can I do for my child? Come up with an interesting game that will teach him, with my participation? What can I tell him about, what can I show him, so that he becomes interested, so that he is drawn to communicating with me more than to a computer game, so that I persuade him to play this game."

00:00 Start of video.

01:01 Greetings.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have a communication session with a contactee who just told me that he has a destructive contact with a humanoid, as the contactee claims, civilization, which is doing something with her body against her will. And now we have to find out what kind of contact it is, what it is for and who needs it. So, as a contactee, tell us your name, just your first name, no need for a last name, so that we can address you somehow, and briefly tell our viewers what happened.

Lyudmila: My name is Lyudmila.

Irina: So.

02:01 About the beginning of Lyudmila's contact.

Ludmila: I was taken into contact without my will, without my desire. I felt this connection. In principle, I am on new energies and on cosmoenergetics, initiated into new energies, passed the first stage.

It was on the street. I was walking my dog and felt some completely unfamiliar energy. I wasn't feeling very well. My head hurt. I came home, lay down to rest and fell asleep. I didn't take it for a contact, I thought some energy had turned on, maybe by accident, I'm a newbie, I don't know. It was the initial course of new energies at Alleiya.

Irina: And when was the first contact?

Lyudmila: It was in July 2021.

Irina: And what happened next?

Lyudmila: There was practically nothing further. But during the session, my personal session, when I was working on the Laspic energy, I had a breakdown. A breakdown is a very unpleasant sensation, an unpleasant state. And the state and the situation are such that something should come out of my genitals. It was very unpleasant, and I started to sort of pull it out of myself.

Irina: So you had a sensation of a foreign body?

Ludmila: Yes, yes. As if to pull out of yourself, you understand. But not with your hands…

Irina: Was it just a feeling or was it something physical?

Ludmila: No, no. These were sensations with my hands. The thing is that I was built on cosmohealing, and I had these nasty things as such, which Guzel showed and the video, I could also do this from myself, you understand.

Irina: What do you mean "byaki"?

Ludmila: Well, wise with your hands. I had hands, they were already working.

Irina: I got it, movements.

Ludmila: Yes, movements. All these were imitative movements. I wanted to pull the same thing out of my genitals, you understand? And all this lasted for about half an hour. I was shocked, because nothing like this had happened to me before or after. To have exactly these sensations.

The next day, when I was working on another energy, it was not an energy reception, it was an effort on myself, it happened to me again, but on another energy. And then nothing happened again. The next energy reception and the next one, everything was fine. I relaxed. I didn't understand at all what happened. I thought, well, you never know, my hands got involved for some reason. Then, in general, they got in touch with me.

05:16 About the method of contact with Lyudmila.

Irina: How did you get out?

Lyudmila: We just started talking.

Irina: Physically?

Lyudmila: I hadn’t heard anyone before.

Irina: Did you physically leave?

Lyudmila: Well, I hear, I speak, I answer.

Irina: Do you hear where? In space, in the head?

Lyudmila: Both in the head and in the ears.

Irina: What kind of voices?

Lyudmila: Men's.

Irina: So these are not thoughts?

Lyudmila: These are not thoughts.

Irina: Okay. Here's a question. And when you're around other people, do they hear it?

Lyudmila: No.

Irina: This already indicates that these sounds are not physical.

Ludmila: Perhaps. I'm not such a big expert.

Irina: Look, when you and I talk, other people can hear us, right? Now, if you invite, for example, your friend or relative, she can hear what I say?

Lyudmila: Other people can hear us when we talk if they are nearby, right?

Irina: Yes, because I am physically speaking now, and you are hearing a physical sound, right?

Lyudmila: That's right.

Irina: And when these creatures speak to you, and no one hears them except you, if it were a physical sound, you would also hear it, like me, right?

Lyudmila: Yes.

Irina: After all, these are sound waves that propagate in the air.

Lyudmila: Yes.

Irina: This is the first. Second. Even if there is no one around, you can turn on the dictaphone, for example, right?

Lyudmila: I can.

Irina: In the phone, I mean. And you can, having heard this voice, turn on the recorder and talk to it, make contact, and after contact, turn on the recorder and listen to this recording. If only your voice is recorded there, but there is no what these beings were telling you, then it was not physical contact, because only your voice was recorded, you spoke with language. If their voice was not recorded, they did not have a physical language, that is, a body in which there is language. This means that this contact is on a different level. Do you understand what I am talking about?

Lyudmila: Yes, I understand.

Irina: Okay. So, what is your contact then?

Ludmila: How people speak. Such a sound.

Irina: Physical or non-physical?

Lyudmila: Physical sound in Russian.

Irina: If it is a physical sound, why can’t we hear it?

Ludmila: Because there are energy headphones. As they explained to me, these are the so-called energy headphones.

Irina: And for what reason were they given to you?

Lyudmila: They connected me with headphones.

Irina: Were you on the ship?

Lyudmila: I tried to get on the ship, but I didn't.

Irina: Why did you try?

Ludmila: I participated in the sessions of the flight to the ship. I mean Ashtar Sheran. Your…

Irina: So you had physical contact?

Ludmila: No. I didn't have physical contact.

Irina: So, you have astral contact?

Lyudmila: So, I have astral contact.

Irina: Good. And when you started having astral contact, how did they introduce themselves?

Lyudmila: They introduced themselves as Orion and Sirius.

Irina: That is, the names of the stars?

Lyudmila: Yes, the system.

Irina: And constellations. Sirius is a star, and Orion is a constellation. Did you name any specific names?

Lyudmila: The thing is that the beginning was a little different.

Irina: You asked: “What is your name?”

Ludmila: This communication began at the GFS session. When I was taking the GFS session, the doctors started talking to me. I was surprised that I could hear them.

Irina: What did they say?

Lyudmila: They introduced themselves and said that they were doctors from the medical service of the Galactic Federation of Light and the Orion and Sirius systems.

09:47 About the purpose of contact with Lyudmila.

Irina: And why did they start communicating with you? What else did they tell you?

Lyudmila: We just talked. We asked what wishes there were.

Irina: Desires, what do you mean?

Lyudmila: I mean during the session.

Irina: And about health improvement?

Lyudmila: Regarding health improvement, yes. What are your wishes regarding health improvement?

Irina: Did you tell them your wishes?

Lyudmila: Yes, I named my desire - I want to quit smoking.

Irina: What did they tell you?

Lyudmila: We can help.

Irina: And what happened?

Ludmila: I agreed. They said: “Let’s do it tomorrow…”

Irina: Did they advise you on this matter?

Ludmila: No. They said: “We’ll give you an injection now, and you won’t smoke.”

Irina: So it’s an energy injection?

Ludmila: Well, yes. I imagined them, how they come in astral bodies. I had such an understanding.

Irina: Well, not physically. You didn't see anyone physically in the room, did you?

Lyudmila: Physically no one. Well, I started communicating, that is, they started communicating with me. I answered.

Irina: So, such an astral injection. I see. You agreed, and what did they do?

Lyudmila: They said that they would come tomorrow and check.

Irina: Uh-huh.

Lyudmila: I say: “Okay.”

Irina: And what happened next?

Lyudmila: The next day they started talking to me in the morning.

11:15 About the result of the first contact.

Irina: Have you quit smoking?

Ludmila: Yes. They said that "doctors don't do this anymore, and we do the checks and everything else." I asked: "Who are you?" - they introduced themselves as Bergastre, LiShioni and MidgasKaus.

Irina: In the end, did you quit smoking?

Lyudmila: Yes. I haven’t smoked for a month.

Irina: Did you try to smoke or didn’t you want to?

Lyudmila: Whenever I had such a desire, it immediately disappeared.

Irina: It disappeared on its own or there was something like...

Lyudmila: Under the influence. Because I feel the energies, I felt them energetically.

Irina: And what was the impact on this desire?

Lyudmila: Quitting smoking.

Irina: So it was like your refusal?

Lyudmila: Well, yes.

Irina: Did you thank them?

Lyudmila: That is, I mentally have a desire, like a feeling to smoke, and then immediately a desire that no, I don’t smoke.

Irina: Did you thank them for their help?

Ludmila: Of course. I thanked them for their help. There was other help, much, much more help.

12:25 About the purpose of further contact.

Irina: And what else did they help you with? Just so that you could understand the goal?

Ludmila: The goal, as I understand it... Now I'll back up a bit, it's like gaining a person's trust, you understand? That's it. The help was...

Irina: No, I don't understand. These are your conjectures now. I need facts now, not conjectures. How else did they help you?

Ludmila: The facts are as follows. Before the GFS session, I had…

Irina: Apart from smoking, as I understand it.

Lyudmila: Besides smoking, there was communication in everyday life: “How are you? Who are you? What do you do? We want to see how people live. Be our guide to people, so that we can see how they live. You have this, you have that.” In everyday life, in everything. Well, that’s it. As I understand it, that…

Irina: So, did you ask them for some advice or something?

Ludmila: I didn't ask for advice. It was just communication. I asked how they, in general, arranged everything.

Irina: Did they answer these questions for you?

Lyudmila: Yes. They gave me some information. I wrote it down.

Irina: Yes. By the way, I wanted to ask if there are any recordings.

Ludmila: Recording information?

Irina: Well, yes. For example, you talked, and you saved it somewhere, then forgot it or what?

Lyudmila: I wrote a lot under dictation, you could say.

Irina: Excellent! Good! Congratulations! You are a contactee. I want to say that even, perhaps, the viewers are watching now, and they will confirm, many people dream of being in your place. So they are already envious of you.

Ludmila: I don’t know what to answer to this, because the beginning…

Irina: I mean to write under dictation and receive information. This is what they learn, by the way.

Lyudmila: I already know how to do that.

Irina: Well, that means they are already envious of you. So don't be envious. Contact can be different.

Lyudmila: Contact can be different, yes.

14:49 About Lyudmila’s wish for those wishing to become a contactee.

Irina: What would you like to say to people who would like to learn what you can do?

Lyudmila: Before agreeing to contact, and in principle I didn’t object, because the contact was friendly, you still need to consider that it could be a trap.

Irina: What does it mean to “take into account”?

Ludmila: Because…

Irina: What do you mean "take into account"? Well, you take into account that it's a trap, so what? You advise not to make contact with anyone at all?

Ludmila: Because during communication, when there are inconsistencies, that is, I understand that somewhere they are lying a little, deceiving, lying, evading, and there is a desire to find out. The answers are unclear. There are no clear answers. And you see, Ira, when MidgasKaus, LiShioni, Bergast, you begin to trust this, and then the understanding begins to come that it is not them. That's the thing.

15:58 About Lyudmila’s doubts about who she is in contact with.

Irina: And what caused doubt that it wasn’t them?

Lyudmila: Conversations, unclear information. I asked leading questions, which I, watching the video of "Cassiopeia", yes, I have been watching them all since 2019. Therefore, I had some information, and it did not correspond.

Irina: For example. Give an example of a discrepancy.

Ludmila: I can't remember now. I just started asking leading questions and realized that there was no answer or the answer was inaccurate. And when I doubted that it was them...

Irina: Uh-huh.

Lyudmila: I doubted it. The thing is that it was all so intense, the contact was intense. I was writing, then we were talking, then I was writing something again. I was constantly busy. And when I watched your video after some time, I realized that... And they also told me that MidgasKaus had gone on a retreat to Baikal, and now someone would replace him in conversation, in contact. I watched some video before the retreat and realized that... My Higher Self told me that this was not the contact. This is not it. This is all not it.

Irina: That is, the Higher Self told you that these were not the entities that were called by these names?

Ludmila: Yes. Absolutely correct.

Irina: Good. And did you then ask the Higher Self who it really is? Since it is not them. That is, the Higher Self knows exactly who it is. Did you ask who it is?

Lyudmila: It was difficult for me to do this because I was constantly under influence.

Irina: It wasn't difficult for you to ask the Higher Self whether they were or not. It wasn't difficult for you, was it?

Lyudmila: They or not, that was the answer I got.

17:57 About the session with the entities with whom Lyudmila communicated.

Irina: Good. Then you now directly ask your Higher Self who is contacting you under their name. It is very easy to do. You just need to believe in it.

Lyudmila: A humanoid civilization of a destructive nature is contacting me on their behalf.

Irina: What do you mean by "humanoids of a destructive nature"? Or, more specifically, are they part of the Interstellar Union?

Lyudmila: Yes and no.

Irina: So do they enter or don’t they?

Lyudmila: They don't come in.

Irina: Yes, by the way, it's probably time to meet our friends. Are they with you already?

Lyudmila: They are with me all the time.

Irina: So, as I understand it, they work with you under such an energy chip?

Ludmila: Yes. That's what they told me.

Irina: Good. Let's greet the representatives of another planet. Dear friends, I greet you!

19:01 About attempts to find out the names of creatures.

Irina: I want to know how I can address you?

Lyudmila: The answer is: “We will not answer to anyone.”

Irina: But you want to talk to me now?

Lyudmila: They don't want to talk.

Irina: Why?

Lyudmila: They are hiding.

Irina: And for what reason? I don't want to harm you in any way. We just want to talk, exchange information. I don't want to harm you in any way.

Ludmila: We would not like to name ourselves. We hurt this woman, very badly, and we wanted to correct this mistake.

Irina: How can I at least address, you know, when there is a dialogue between intelligent beings, for example, my name is Irina, you can address me like that. And how would you introduce yourself? Well, so that it would be clear that this is some kind of intelligent entity.

Lyudmila: The answer is: “We will not disclose our data.”

Irina: And how should I address you then?

Ludmila: Talk to the woman. She tells you everything.

20:12 About the purpose of contact with Lyudmila.

Irina: The thing is that I would like to know the purpose of the contact.

Lyudmila: Working with the body according to the energy principle.

Irina: Did she give you consent to this?

Lyudmila: She was against it.

Irina: And for what reason did you violate her will?

Ludmila: We don't need anyone's will. We can't turn it off.

Irina: You can’t disconnect it from what?

Lyudmila: From contact.

Irina: Why?

Lyudmila: We don’t have such opportunities.

Irina: What’s stopping you from disconnecting her from contact?

Lyudmila: Her stubbornness.

Irina: And would you like to disconnect from this contact with her?

Ludmila (entity): I want to speak myself. Tell me that I will speak myself.

Irina: Who will you talk to yourself?

Lyudmila (entity): With Irina.

Irina: Why will you speak yourself and not through a contactee?

Lyudmila (entity): I can’t through her, she refuses to talk.

Irina: Why? She just agreed to talk, to pass on your words.

Ludmila: He means like you. I refused to have my mouth speak.

Directly. I refused. I refused everything.

21:30 About how Lyudmila attracted creatures for contact.

Irina: Good. What qualities of this person did you find attractive?

Ludmila (entity): She's disgusting.

Irina: So you found this quality attractive?

Lyudmila (entity): Yes.

Irina: Nasty, does that mean she’s against something?

Lyudmila (entity): That's right.

Irina: And what did she resist?

Lyudmila (entity): Fulfill our demands.

Irina: And what character trait was behind this?

Ludmila (entity): Pride.

Irina: So you were attracted by pride?

Lyudmila (entity): We wanted to pacify her.

Irina: So you were attracted by pride?

Lyudmila (entity): Yes.

22:21 About attempts to find out the habitat of creatures.

Irina: Good. And how far is your planet from Earth?

Lyudmila (entity): No. We live on Earth.

Irina: So you are earthlings?

Lyudmila (entity): Yes and no.

Irina: Uh-huh. Are you air creatures?

Lyudmila (entity): We are earthly plasmoids.

Irina: And what density level are you from?

Ludmila (entity): 19th.

Irina: Are you plasmoids of a natural place or of the elements?

Lyudmila (entity): Elements.

Irina: Which one?

Ludmila (entity): Wind.

Irina: Uh-huh. Are you sylphs?

Lyudmila: Doesn't know such a word.

Irina: This is the earthly name for the Spirit of Air. I see. And how many of you are there in your group that made contact? How many plasmoids?

Ludmila (entity): Three.

Irina: Do you have a group mind or an individual mind?

Lyudmila (entity): We ourselves do not know how to answer such questions.

Irina: So, do you perceive yourselves as individuals, separate personalities, or do you all think together?

Lyudmila (entity): We are separate individuals.

Irina: So, one of the personalities is speaking to me now?

Lyudmila (entity): Now, yes.

Irina: Are you all from the 19th level of density?

Lyudmila (entity): We are not plasmoids.

Irina: And who are you?

Ludmila (entity): Humanoids.

Irina: Where is your planet?

Lyudmila (entity): We can’t say.

Irina: Why?

Lyudmila (entity): We are ashamed.

Irina: For what?

Lyudmila (entity): We tortured her.

Irina: The planet?

Lyudmila (entity): This woman.

Irina: And what does this have to do with the name of your planet?

Lyudmila (entity): We will not name the planet.

Irina: Why?

Lyudmila (entity): We don’t want to.

Irina: There is a reason why you don’t want to?

Lyudmila (entity): We can’t.

Irina: Who forbade you?

Lyudmila (entity): We ourselves don’t want it.

Irina: And in that case you should know that contact without naming the exact world and density level is prohibited. Are you aware of these rules?

Lyudmila (entity): We didn’t know this.

Irina: The thing is that when they ask directly about the location of the planet or the density level, the contactee must be given this information, otherwise the contact loses its meaning.

Lyudmila (entity): Yes, contact has lost its meaning.

Irina: So what is your conclusion?

Lyudmila (entity): We want to pass it on to someone.

Irina: What does it mean to “transfer”?

Ludmila (entity): We can't turn it off. We don't have such capabilities.

Irina: Who has them?

Ludmila (entity): She is connected to the system.

Irina: And who has the ability to turn it off?

Lyudmila (entity): You have.

Irina: I have. So, good. Excellent! What do I need to do for this?

Lyudmila (entity): I can’t work with her, she can’t satisfy us.

Irina: Why? What doesn’t satisfy you?

Lyudmila (entity): She doesn’t want to help us in any way.

Irina: Okay, can you contact me?

Lyudmila (entity): Yes.

Irina: Can you contact me against my will?

Ludmila (entity): We don’t know the answer.

Irina: Look at me, at my energy.

Lyudmila (entity): Once again, we know how to talk to such a woman.

Irina: Do you know or not?

Lyudmila: We don’t know.

26:19 About the planet of entities and exit from the Interstellar Union.

Irina: Is your planet part of the Interstellar Union?

Lyudmila (entity): We haven't been there for a long time.

Irina: Have you been there?

Lyudmila (entity): There were.

Irina: And for what reason did you leave it?

Lyudmila (entity): We were suspended.

Irina: For what?

Lyudmila (entity): We failed to cope with the energy workers’ task.

Irina: A long time ago? That is, it was a very long time ago?

Lyudmila (entity): Long ago and recently.

Irina: Well, yes, everything is relative. I understand. Good. And did you know this Soul, with whom you came into contact, from past incarnations?

Lyudmila (entity): She didn’t know us before this.

Irina: And you hers?

Lyudmila (entity): We too.

Irina: Then why did you choose this particular person?

Lyudmila (entity): That's what we wanted.

Irina: What attracted you to her?

Ludmila (entity): She is an athletic woman and old.

Irina: And what did you want to do with this body?

Lyudmila (entity): We study people.

Irina: I think there are people who will give you consent to this contact, voluntarily. Do you want voluntary contact?

Lyudmila (entity): We want to turn it off, but we can’t.

27:52 On the reasons for the impossibility of disconnecting from contact.

Irina: Why? What's stopping you?

Lyudmila (entity): No funds.

Irina: What’s stopping you from simply not making contact?

Ludmila (entity): System.

Irina: What prevents you from simply not making contact?

Lyudmila (entity): We can’t do that.

Irina: Humanoids can.

Lyudmila (entity): We work on this system.

Irina: Humanoids can switch off chips. Only some plasmoid civilizations and non-embodied Spirits to whom there are attachments cannot switch off contact. They do not have the ability. Non-embodied Spirits do not have the ability to interrupt if they are at a certain level of the Spiritual World, or some plasmoids who are already dependent on energies become dependent on this person and also are not able to interrupt contact until the person does it himself.

And humanoids have a system, they have special technologies that block any chips, no matter how the contactee behaves. They learn this. So who are you then?

Lyudmila (entity): We know all this, but we are playing the fool.

Irina: Well, who are you then?

Ludmila (entity): We won't tell.

Irina: So you don’t want help?

Lyudmila (entity): No answer.

Irina: Do you want to develop in Light, in Love, in acceptance, in joy and happiness?

Lyudmila (entity): We are destructive.

Irina: Do you want to return to the path of Light to your Heavenly Father, who loves you?

Lyudmila (entity): Everyone loves us except her.

Irina: Yes. Do you also want to return to the path of Love?

Lyudmila (entity): We don’t like her.

Irina: Do you want to return to the path of love and development?

Ludmila (entity): We need to know how to turn it off.

Irina: I can’t tell you that until you tell me what your true nature is.

Lyudmila (entity): We are humanoids.

Irina: Humanoids can turn it off.

Lyudmila (entity): We know this too and wanted her to hear it herself.

Irina: What did you hear?

Lyudmila (entity): That we cannot turn off ourselves.

Irina: What can't you turn off?

Lyudmila (entity): That we cannot turn off ourselves.

Irina: If you are humanoids, then you can turn it off.

Lyudmila (entity): And we ourselves know that we can.

Irina: Well, since you yourself know that you can, then why don’t you switch off?

Lyudmila (entity): We wanted to remove our programs.

Irina: And what stopped you?

Ludmila (entity): Time is short.

Irina: Why? What do you mean little time?

Ludmila (entity): They didn't want it before. She was nobody's. Nobody knew her.

Irina: And what do you want now?

Lyudmila (entity): Our plans are different.

Irina: Well, that is, you plan to continue this unpromising contact?

Ludmila (entity): We wanted to speak ourselves. She cannot convey us correctly.

Irina: Tell me, what shape is your body?

Ludmila (entity): We have the form of a body in scales.

Irina: What color?

Ludmila (entity): Green.

Irina: Uh-huh. Good. So, how is she similar to you in vibrations?

Ludmila (entity): She has good energy. She…

Irina: What's good about it?

Ludmila (entity): She was bright. We took her. We wanted to become like that ourselves, to change everything for ourselves.

Irina: Where is her Guardian Angel?

Lyudmila (entity): We block it.

Irina: So you are stronger than God?

Ludmila (entity): That's what we told her. We are Gods.

Irina: And you are stronger than the Heavenly Father?

Lyudmila (entity): That's what we thought.

Irina: What do you mean “thought”?

Lyudmila (entity): We wanted her to listen to all this advice, and she herself told us: “Turn off.”

Did I understand correctly?

(entity) Yes. With you.

Irina: Ah, good. I understand you. Thank you for the contact! In any case, I send you the Light of my Love. I wish you development, happiness, success and fulfillment of the tasks of your incarnation, wherever you are incarnated, in whatever body, you are still brothers in Spirit for me, as are any beings of the Universe. I wish to help you and I wish to help Lyudmila.

33:09 About accepting help from Irina.

Irina: Do you accept my help?

Lyudmila (entity): We will think.

Irina: And now do you accept my help?

Lyudmila (entity): Yes.

Irina: Thank you for your trust!

33:27 About energy chips in Lyudmila’s biofield.

Irina: Tell me, did you put some kind of energy device in Lyudmila’s biofield?

Ludmila (entity): She is a conscious contactee. Everything is in place for her.

Irina: From you or from others?

Ludmila (entity): We have connected to another system. We have connected from another system to another system.

Irina: Whose system is this, do you know?

Lyudmila (entity): Someone from yours.

Irina: Okay. And for what reason did you introduce yourself, I already got the answer, but still. For what reason did you introduce yourself by names familiar to her?

Ludmila (entity): She looked. It was in her memory.

Irina: Good. Yes. Quite logical. In order to contact her, do you need to leave your physical bodies or are you in them?

Lyudmila (entity): We are in our bodies at the base.

Irina: At the base on Earth?

Lyudmila (entity): We have no information about the area.

Irina: What is your profession?

Lyudmila (entity): We are energy conductors.

Irina: And what is the purpose of your contact with Lyudmila?

Lyudmila (entity): We wanted to test our programs.

Irina: And now what is the purpose of the contact, at the present time?

Ludmila (entity): It's time to close the contact. She wants to close it. We do too. We've connected to someone else's system.

Irina: To a foreign system. Good. Thank you for your cooperation.

35:23 About the technique of disconnecting from contact.

Irina: Now you say: “I thank you for this experience.”

Ludmila: I thank you for this experience.

Irina: For this interaction.

Lyudmila: For this interaction.

Irina: I forgive you for lying.

Lyudmila: I forgive you for lying.

Irina: For cunning.

Lyudmila: For cunning.

Irina: For deception.

Lyudmila: For cheating.

Irina: For manipulation.

Lyudmila: For manipulation.

Irina: I wish you to be happy!

Lyudmila: I wish you to be happy!

Irina: So that you may know God.

Lyudmila: So that you may know God.

Irina: And they became light divine beings.

Lyudmila: And they became light divine beings.

Irina: I send you the Light of my Love.

Lyudmila: I send you the Light of my Love.

Irina: What do they say?

Ludmila (entity): We will think. She will be free when I close everything.

Irina: Well, what do you feel when you send them Light?

Lyudmila: I really want to wish them happiness and I really want to free myself from this contact.

Irina: Well, then say: “I am a free, intelligent, immortal Spirit.”

Ludmila: I am a free, intelligent, immortal Spirit.

Irina: I am God's beloved child.

Ludmila: I am God's beloved child.

Irina: By the power of your Spirit,

Lyudmila: By the power of your Spirit,

Irina: I manifest the energy of my will.

Lyudmila: I manifest the energy of my will.

Irina: And I refuse contact with representatives of this civilization.

Lyudmila: And I refuse contact with representatives of this civilization.

Irina: Because of that,

Ludmila: Because of that,

Irina: That I want to develop myself independently.

Lyudmila: That I want to develop myself independently.

Irina: I thank you for the help you have given me.

Lyudmila: I thank you for the help you have given me.

Irina: Heavenly Father will compensate you for all energies.

Lyudmila: Heavenly Father will compensate you for all energies.

Irina: Which you spent on me.

Lyudmila: Which you spent on me.

Irina: And from this moment on I want to develop independently.

Lyudmila: And from this moment on I want to develop independently.

Irina: And I consciously refuse any kind of help to my body.

Lyudmila: And I consciously refuse any kind of help to my body.

Irina: My energy

Lyudmila: My energy.

Irina: To My Soul.

Lyudmila: To My Soul.

Irina: And to my Spirit.

Lyudmila: And to my Spirit.

Irina: I refuse help from this civilization.

Lyudmila: I refuse help from this civilization.

Irina: Heavenly Father is a witness to my expression of will.

Ludmila: Heavenly Father is a witness to my expression of will.

Irina: And he lowers his defenses on me.

Lyudmila: And he lowers his defenses on me.

Irina: Which is absolute Light.

Ludmila: Which is absolute Light.

Irina: What do you feel?

Lyudmila: I have enlightenment, so to speak, but I don’t feel it energetically.

Irina: What does “enlightenment” mean?

Lyudmila: Here.

Irina: Yes, exactly in the Soul, what do you feel?

Lyudmila: In the Soul, yes.

38:44 On the results of disconnection from contact.

Irina: Yes, what do you feel?

Ludmila: My soul feels warm from these words. But energetically I am under the influence. My body vibrates. I am under this influence all this time.

Irina: You must believe that the effect has stopped.

Ludmila: If I feel it, I can’t believe it.

Irina: If you can't believe, you will agree to contact again. Because even faith attracts them. Just tell yourself: my will is the strongest in my world.

Lyudmila: My will is the strongest in my world.

Irina: And what I feel is my sensations.

Lyudmila: And what I feel is my sensations.

Irina: This is my energy.

Lyudmila: This is not my energy.

Irina: If you argue, nothing will come of it.

Lyudmila: This is not my energy, Ira.

Irina: Then our conversation with you is useless.

Ludmila: This energy is unpleasant to me. It cannot be mine.

Irina: It's your choice. I'm not going to try to convince you, right? So, you stay, you make a choice to believe that this is not your energy. It's your right.

Ludmila: I would say it a little differently. This is my reaction to this energy.

Irina: I tell you again, you just refused contact, the Heavenly Father heard you, and, from this moment on, your Guardian Angel is next to you, and he will not allow any interference in your energy.

Lyudmila: I am grateful!

Irina: Good, great! And if you think that your Guardian Angel is not protecting you or that God the Heavenly Father is not protecting you, by not trusting God you will again attract contact. Is that clear?

Lyudmila: That's understandable.

Irina: Okay. So, are there any more questions?

Ludmila: Do you have any questions? Do you?

Irina: Don't contact them anymore. Since you refused contact, you should refuse to ask them questions at all and answer any questions if they try to ask them. Just keep quiet.

Ludmila: Okay, I understand. I thought about it after the conference.

Irina: Do you have any questions? Since you refused contact, any question to them or answer to their question will again be consent. Is that clear?

Lyudmila: That's understandable.

Irina: Any question to them, listen very carefully now, a mental question to them or a question to them out loud - this will again be consent to contact, because you have now refused it. And if they simply approach you from the side and try to contact you, any answer, even "leave me alone", will again be consent to contact. Just complete ignoring and switching to other activities. Is that clear?

Lyudmila: Yes, that’s clear.

Irina: Great! Good. So, do you have any more questions?

Ludmila: No. There are no more questions. Thank you! Thank you!

Irina: From this moment on you are free and feel like a free divine personality, an entity that is responsible for its own life. Do your own thing, your own development and do not give in to provocations.

Ludmila: I'll take that into account. Thank you! Thank you!

Irina: Good! Excellent! So, dear friends, I have conducted a session, a conversation. You heard it yourselves. The entities, since they do not introduce themselves as someone, do not name anyone specifically and begin to give different data about their world, this indicates that they are afraid of something.

I want to say that entities that are afraid of something feel weak, they feel weaker than you. After all, they can't even name their planet. And since they are weaker than you, and you can name where you live, then you are stronger than them.

Therefore, if they are weak, that is, if they feel weak, they feel insecure, and so on, such entities, whoever they are, it is no longer important at all their origin, but it is precisely such entities in vibrations that your insecurity, your weakness, your fears that were in the past could attract to you. Precisely in July 2021 or shortly before that. Is that clear?

Lyudmila: I see.

Irina: You need to remember that situation in which you were unsure or weak, or doubted yourself. And at that moment you opened up to them and believed that they could not switch off or that they wanted to switch off, but you did not, or rather, you believed that you could not switch off. But in fact, this belief strengthened the connection with them.

Why? Because a person’s faith is the energy of his Spirit, directed at creating his reality, where he lives. This means that you have directed your energy in the form of faith at creating the reality where you cannot disconnect from contact. And as soon as you fully believe that you can control your contacts, you will create this very reality for yourself. This is how contact works. For everyone. For me, for example. I refused contact. And I resumed it when I wanted. Believe in yourself, believe that you are the Divine Spirit.

You are protected by God, and you are under absolute protection. I want to say, if you felt something, you don't need to immediately call it an influence. Just accept it as your energies, otherwise you can be confused. In what? You can have some sensation in your body or in your Soul, your own, and they can throw you a thought from the outside that it is not yours, and you will believe it and get in touch again. Beware of this. By the way, throwing thoughts, not just throwing them, but sending thoughts is not prohibited to anyone. That is, even if you refused contact, simply sending a thought will not be a violation on their part. Because even when we pass by a person, we can somehow address him, even if he does not want it, right?

Lyudmila: That's right.

Irina: For example, a person is sitting on a bench, reading a newspaper, we can come up to him and say: "Hello! What time is it?" That would be contact, right?

Lyudmila: This is already contact, yes.

Irina: But he didn't invite us, right?

Lyudmila: Yes.

Irina: But it is up to the person to choose whether to answer us, how much time, or to look at us and continue reading the newspaper again. That is, if he answers us, this will already be consent to contact. Do you understand? But if he simply answers: "Leave me alone" - or something else, it may sound rude, this is already aggression, and if he simply pretends as if he did not notice us and again immerses himself in reading the newspaper, what will we feel about this?

Lyudmila: We will not want to contact or reach out to this person anymore because he ignores us.

Irina: Firstly, we will feel that he is not interested in us, but our resentment will be less than if he had sent us away with words, right?

Lyudmila: Yes.

Irina: And we will say: “Okay. If you don’t want to, then don’t. We will go look for those who will talk to us.” Why should we stand next to him and ask: “What time is it? What’s your name? Your jacket is dirty.” Are we going to stand there and say something if he doesn’t want to, if he doesn’t react to us at all? We simply don’t want to waste time on him, right?

Lyudmila: Absolutely right.

Irina: It's the same for you. Imagine that you are that man with the newspaper or the woman. You are reading, they come up to you, say something, make some remarks, and you don't react at all. They simply don't want to waste energy on you.

Ludmila: At the cost of a big difference. That they took me into contact without my will, without my desire, do you understand?

Irina: You were just told that you attracted them with some of your qualities. Forgot? This attraction is agreement. In the energetic sense, agreement.

Ludmila: I cannot agree with this.

Irina: This is how God's laws work.

Ludmila: Perhaps, but I have my own understanding or my own character traits that could attract them, but this does not mean that...

Irina: What do you mean "doesn't mean"? We have many completely unconscious contactees who have attracted their curators with something, and don't even know that they are in contact, and this is not considered a violation of free will, because the person has such a quality.

Lyudmila: Irina, you see, I refused to work according to their rules and fulfill their demands, because I refused contact, I did not want contact.

Irina: That's it. You've now refused and won't answer them anymore.

Lyudmila: That's what I'll do.

Irina: If you hear something, remember the man on the bench with a newspaper.

Ludmila: Good.

Irina: So, do you have any questions?

Ludmila: No. No more questions.

Irina: So, dear friends, thank you for watching this video. I hope you found it interesting. Yes, sometimes there are difficult cases, so before you agree to contact, ask your Higher Self if you need this contact. And especially if you see a flying saucer in the sky, do not run after it right away. It could be anyone.

I went to Kirkhiton when he invited me, because my Higher Self, that is, I communicated through intuition then, I did not have such a conscious “yes”, “no”, but my intuition, my heart, my Higher Self told me that it was safe.

You too, listen to your heart, to your Light, to the place where your love lives, and the more love there is, the purer your contact with the Higher Self will be. That is what I wish for you. And to you too, Lyudmila, I wish, and to you, dear viewers. Thank you for everything you do for us, for the Project. I send you the Light of my Love! Until next time!

Active and fearless children. Concern for children https://blog.cassiopeia.center/aktivnye-i-besstrashnye-deti-bespokojstvo-za-detej

Question : Should we fear for the lives and injuries of active and fearless children, whom we call "daredevils", or are injuries and death always planned events agreed upon by the Higher Self?

It happens in different ways. It happens that the Spirit planned an early departure, and it is useless to take precautions, it will still end up in this situation. And it happens that the Spirit planned a long life, but because no one was responsible for its life, it still ends up in this situation and leaves early, but this happens less often, of course.

God allows this even against the Spirit's original choice in order to teach a lesson to parents or elders who have not shown their responsibility, so that they will be more careful in the future.

And here you need to know what exactly we are talking about. Naturally, you need to explain to children the safety rules, not to play with fire, not to ride dangerous types of transport, and so on, where there is a high probability of getting injured, that is, the usual safety measures that are taught in your school.

It is necessary to expand the subject "Fundamentals of Safety and Life Support", but at the same time it is necessary to learn to trust your children, especially older ones, and give them more independence to overcome their difficulties. That is, explain, and then give your child to the will of God.

This will be the most correct approach, and if something happens to him, you should not blame yourself, because you did everything you could, and what happened was his will and the will of his curator. Your job is to explain and teach, but constantly monitoring - this already deprives him of independence.

#584 Science. Quantum world - the speed of gravity quanta. Vacuum-ether: what are the differences? Torsion fields.
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/nauka-kvantovyj-mir-skorost-kvantov-gravitacii-vak https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WhBV0tWy0MY

00:00 Start of video.

00:18 Fragments from the conference.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Indeed, the physical vacuum implies the absence of any physical substances, but it does not imply the absence of any physical fields.

Matter is the state of space in which special energy fields appear that can interact with the Spirit and make it a participant in the time cycle.

If we take the amount of energy now, then the etheric ocean separating one cluster from another, the physical one from the second cluster, contains 700 times more energy than all the quanta of the physical Universe taken together.

01:37 Presentation of conference participants.

Maxim: Hello, dear viewers and listeners of our channels! Today we have another meeting, as I would correctly say, with an extraterrestrial physicist. You can say so, right? With a specialist in energy interactions.

Irina: Yes, in the environment.

Maxim: Yes, Raom Tiyanom. And we will continue the discussion of the universal triune code, the questions that Pavel composed, and we will continue this topic further.

Irina: Yes, the conferences that were held on this topic have already come out, and people are interested, they liked it, they even told me about it.

I told Raom Tiyan, interesting reviews, interesting responses, interesting topic.

Maxim: So Raom Tiyan has already assessed this somehow according to egregorial energies? Or how?

Irina: I told him that I read the comments and passed some of them on to him.

Maxim: Okay. Let's get started right away so as not to waste time.

Irina: Yes, go ahead.

02:46 Raom Tiyan on the definition of physical vacuum and ether in the understanding of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, I will just remind you, at the end of the conference there was an important question, we will move it here so that it will be in this conference, because now the topic of this very question will be touched upon. The question is: is matter in the universal ternary code of the Interstellar Union what in previous conferences, as far as I understand, they refer to you, Raom Tiyan, you called physical vacuum and absolute vacuum. How does physical vacuum differ from ether in the understanding of the Interstellar Union? Here we need to decide on definitions.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The physical vacuum is the space of the so-called three-dimensional world, it is the space for the substance and field formed by the nine physical energies that I spoke about to be in it. The special space created for these nine physical energies in the form of substances and fields is called the “physical vacuum”.

And ether is a collective earthly name for various subtle energies. You know that there are material energies, and in the Interstellar Union they are divided into physical or dense, and subtle or, as we call them, plasmoid. The thing is that the plasmoid worlds themselves, as I have already said, are not uniform. There are types of ether that the etheric worlds themselves consist of, let's say more simply, etheric planets, etheric structures, etheric structures for the life and nutrition of plasmoids. There are special types of ether that the bodies of these plasmoids consist of, and there are special types of ether that separate or divide different worlds of different densities or worlds of the same density from each other. That is, as you have, torsion fields, lepton fields.

05:20 Portals. The effect of the post-death tunnel.

Maxim: Some contactees, I heard this term, where - I don’t remember, I think, from Plaza contactees, these barriers or etheric boundaries, as you said, some for some reason call them “qualitative barriers”, apparently, this could also be a name?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): "Quality barrier". The word "quality" is interesting. Here we need to explain this term, what it means.

Maxim: There is a term, do you know what it means? It means that space with some properties and qualities is separated from space with other properties and qualities.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I wouldn’t say that it separates, because all the spaces are nested one inside the other (shows a cube with more cubes inside it).

Maxim: I see. But, nevertheless, look, Raom Tiyan, the spaces are nested, but nevertheless, it turns out, these barrier zones exist, because, as we know, plasmoid civilizations, in order to penetrate our material world, need to create portals, as far as I understand, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, either through the Astral, or a portal that needs to be created, but it is also created in the Astral and leads directly to the world for travel to which it is created.

Maxim: And it also turns out that we overcome some barrier zones, I will just describe to you now a situation when people in a state of clinical death leave their bodies, move along a certain tunnel, like a portal, they say, and then go to some spiritual levels, and then return back to the body. As I understand it, this tunnel is also some kind of specific portal, only to the Spiritual worlds, as I understand it, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): As we know, not all Souls see this portal, this tunnel. It appears if the consciousness of the Soul perceives the journey fragmentarily, if there is light ahead and darkness on the sides, and tunnel vision is created (it shows), and it can even twist. Why is the tunnel effect created? Because the gaze is attracted by a luminous point or a luminous spot. And in consciousness, that is, in the perception of the Soul, round walls are built, although this is just space.

Maxim: And at this moment it can be classified that the Soul left the body and moved through the portal to the Spiritual worlds, it should also pass through some dimensions, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. When she leaves her body, she enters the Astral, the astral space next to her body.

Maxim: Near-Earth astral space, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Most often, yes, next to your body, because the physical space permeates the astral space. And it is in this astral space, for example, in a room, or where the body is, that the Soul gets. Usually, it is met by the Guardian Angel and the Guide Angels, and if it agrees to go with them, they take it to the world of non-embodied Spirits. But the passage to the world of non-embodied Spirits looks like, I would not say a portal (shows like a bridge), although it can be imagined as a gate, and as a portal, but most often they see, there is such an expression "River of Time", as if you are crossing a river, moving from one bank to another.

Maxim: It turns out that the vision of a tunnel is an individual perception of the bridge of some Souls?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The tunnel can be seen even before the very exit from the body, while being in it - this is how they see the astral light. That is, the space where they move, because this is how physical vision switches to astral vision. After all, at first a person saw physical light, and then, for example, due to hypoxia, he gradually loses physical vision, and he feels as if it has become dark. And at this moment, light appears, he sees a spot of light, and in it, like in a window, his departed relatives, Angels, can even stand and call him with them.

Why does he see like that? Because his vision switches to the astral world, and he begins to see this world brighter than the physical world, because the physical eyes are already losing the ability to see.

10:50 General quantum field. Origin of atoms.

Maxim: I see. Then I have a question. Our definitions of "etheric zones", "etheric fields", these etheric energies - is this our term, earthly, or do you also have these or completely different terms on Pikran?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The word "earthly". We have our own terms that reflect different levels of density and different types of ether that separate these levels of density from each other.

Maxim: Then we will now touch once again on what you defined as a physical vacuum. The thing is that in physics, until 1905, until Einstein's theory, the theory of relativity, appeared, the word "ether" was used precisely in the definition of a certain space as a carrier of waves. That is, there is a certain wave medium, as they believed, and it carries waves.

I'll give you an analogy: the ether is like some kind of ocean, and waves propagate on the water. Physicists believed that if we don't have any medium in space, then electromagnetic waves cannot be transmitted. Why are electromagnetic waves transmitted in space, in a vacuum?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Why are electromagnetic waves transmitted?

Maxim: Should there be some carrier for their transmission? Physicists said: "There is no carrier of waves, which means that the waves themselves cannot move through empty space."

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In general, it is believed, as far as I have studied your science, that waves move in the environment where they arise.

Maxim: Yes. I gave the analogy for a reason. If we take water, then there are waves on the water, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): If we talk, for example, about electromagnetic waves, about light waves, then all space must be filled with a field in which waves arise.

Maxim: It turns out that there is a certain field formation in space through which these waves move: electromagnetic and light, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Indeed, the physical vacuum presupposes the absence of any physical substances, but it does not presuppose the absence of any physical fields; there may be various physical quantum fields in it...

Maxim: I will now emphasize once again for our viewers, so that it is clear. In space we have no matter, no atoms, no particles, but there are certain quantum fields along which these waves move.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): These are the quantum fields from which atoms are subsequently assembled. We call them "environments for atomic growth."

Maxim: I see. And that's why we have these experiments, when in a vacuum, as if from emptiness, some particles are formed, and scientists cannot understand where they came from. As a result, from these energies, it turns out.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): From the environment of atomic growth. To assemble a full-fledged atom, many quanta must be connected in a certain sequence.

Maxim: Look, Raom Tiyan, this environment, it turns out, fills the entire Universe and is a carrier of various kinds of electromagnetic waves, including light waves and so on, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Fills the physical Universe. Physical space is almost entirely filled with physical fields, including interstellar space, intergalactic space, because interstellar and intergalactic space are the environment where galaxies and intragalactic objects must travel harmoniously, that is, rotate and turn around each other. And all this is impossible without physical fields that support these clusters of atoms (shows a fine mesh, balls lie on it, and this mesh supports them).

Even atoms are surrounded by certain fields, for example, the gravitational field. The gravitational field is also a quantum field, because we have a quantum of gravity. The gravitational field is also a quantum field in which waves can arise and waves of other physical fields can move.

Maxim: Interesting. It turns out that we have in the Universe a multi-component field structure of different physical fields, not one?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Imagine one atom as a point. And the radiation from it will spread, if we take a hydrogen atom, to a distance approximately 125 times greater than the atom itself. And if we take an atom with a larger atomic mass, then the quantum radiation of the atom, that is, the creation of its fields by quanta, grows, one might say, in direct proportion with a periodicity of 165 percent.

Maxim: Then I understand correctly that it turns out... Look, I will give you this analogy: imagine that I am near the Sun in our Solar system and transmit some information, what we call radio communication via radio waves, let's say, at a frequency of 800 megahertz. And on Mars there is the same receiver at 800 megahertz, that is, an electromagnetic signal at 800 megahertz is transmitted and it also goes, the Sun emits, as we know, photons, that is, light quanta. It turns out that the electromagnetic signal travels in space using one field, and the photon uses a completely different field, am I right? They use different fields to move?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): If we take the Solar System, then in any case, radio signals travel along a common field created by all the quanta that are in this system. It's just that these quantum fields overlap and create an environment in which waves can appear and propagate, which are a particular type of some single quantum wave.

Maxim: So we can call this environment a general quantum field, it is layered, consisting of different types of quantum fields?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It can be called a common quantum field, we simply distinguish, as I already said, nine quanta, because we consider gravitons not as one quantum, but as different types, although similar to each other, two quanta that you call gravitons, and we call them by different words, they are similar to each other, but differ in their properties and in their ability to create a quantum field, its saturation, density and different distances.

Maxim: Okay. Then I have this question: what is the nature of this general quantum field or layering of fields? Are these general radiations of all material objects in the Universe formed in this way?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): By “nature” do you mean origin?

Maxim: Yes, origin. How is it formed?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The thing is that about 30 percent of this total quantum field, to be more precise, 27 percent is the radiation of the atoms themselves, and the remaining 73 percent is the quantum field that is emitted by the more subtle etheric fields to maintain physical space and the substances created in them and to create new atoms.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly that since we know that each atom of our material matter has its own frequency of vibration or oscillation, and it turns out that it takes the energy for this vibration precisely from this general quantum field in order to constantly radiate?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): When the atom is already assembled, it becomes, as you say, electrically neutral. What does this mean? The atom itself, if the polarity of protons and electrons is observed in it, as it is said in your science, then it is electrically neutral. This means that it has a self-sufficient, self-sufficient energy system. It is in balance.

Maxim: It turns out that the vibrations of an atom, the vibration of an atom, are due to its internal forces, it does not take energy from space?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, it took energy from space, and then it becomes stable. The lifetime or time of existence, the stability time of different atoms is different: there are substances that quickly disintegrate, and there are substances that disintegrate into components with the emission of various energies quite slowly, but it still happens.

22:05 Definition of matter. Generation of etheric bodies and etheric fields.

Maxim: Okay. We've gone over the definitions, it's become more or less clear, but the next question nevertheless sounds like this: are etheric bodies and etheric fields energy vibrations of matter?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Energy fields and etheric fields are generated by more subtle etheric fields. All this together is called "matter". Matter is the state of space in which special energy fields appear that can interact with the Spirit and make it a participant in the time cycle. This is a temporary formation that initially comes from the Spiritual world, but it is collected into certain structures that are temporary and generate the flow of time.

Maxim: I see. I will remind the viewers who watched the previous parts, there is a logical chain there, that the Absolute first structures a certain information matrix, then energy structures are superimposed on the information matrix, which form actually different material worlds. Is that how it works?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. Naturally, this matter has vibrations, but they are not general, but each type of matter has its own.

Maxim: It depends on what we mean.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Ours is with its own frequency.

Maxim: I see. So you mean that there is our material, substantial Universe, there are subtle-material Universes and, accordingly, their own frequency characteristics? We talked about this, right?

Irene (Raom Tiyan): Yes.

Maxim: I see.

24:10 Etheric fields.

Maxim: The question is this. Is it correct to call the unity of categories: "matter" and "energy", "physical fields", "substance", "radiation" by the general term "etherodynamics"? We simply have such terms on Earth. That is, the movement of ether, dynamics is "to move", ether is "ether".

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, it is quite acceptable to call it that. But here we must understand that in any case, when a person begins to derive some particulars from his theory, he will still have to talk about different types of ether, including ether that has grouped into dense matter, and call it somehow.

Maxim: From today's conference, we can briefly summarize the fact that the general quantum field is divided into different quantum subfields, which have different qualities, and also different etheric fields are also divided into different structures.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. And etheric fields generate physical ones. And physical fields generate substances.

25:22 Matter as a type of energy.

Maxim: Okay. Next question. What is matter in relation to energy? How can we formulate this?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Matter is a uniform type of energy that exists in a more or less continuous form and has certain characteristics that may differ at different levels of density.

Matter is a type of energy that can be measured somehow and that can form some object. Energy itself is only a carrier of the properties of matter. If we take the energy of light, it is a carrier of matter, if by matter we mean substance, but again we have material energies, there are spiritual energies, we need to ask what energy is meant.

27:07 Matter is the final stage of the formation of the information matrix.

Maxim: The question is: what is matter in relation to information?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Matter is the final stage of the formation of an information matrix in the form of some separate object or set of objects. Information is a description of the properties of objects, and matter is the object itself.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, I immediately got this question, I'm interested to hear your opinion. I've studied this question a little. It turns out that when people who leave their bodies for one reason or another on Earth, clinical death, and so on, when they get into the Spiritual worlds, into spiritual spaces, they say that people there can influence some surrounding energies with their thought forms and build houses, lawns, and something else from them, is that true or not? That is, there are some spiritual energies there, from which they produce…

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There is spiritual energy, which is the building material, that is, spiritual Light, one might say, and it can be presented in different shapes and sizes and given different colors.

Maxim: By the power of your thoughts, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, by the power of thought. Thoughts enter this spiritual Light, and it changes under their influence.

Maxim: Accordingly, that is why people there observe different buildings, houses, which are created from this spiritual energy by the thought forms of those Souls that are there, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In the Spiritual world there are such places, such areas that can be called planets, the so-called "spiritual planets". Some Spirit, for example, which is at the highest levels, is good at managing its mental attitudes and is at a fairly high spiritual level, because the higher the spiritual level, the more free energy the Spirit has. It can invest it in buildings, in built houses, and there are such Spirits that can create a planet, that is, imagine how it looks, and this planet will appear, certain cities will appear on it, and so on, but it will live there alone or with those entities that agree to come to live with it, from the same level or from higher levels, because it is impossible to come from lower levels. He can, of course, create some semblance of his own phantoms and endow them with some consciousness, but autonomous consciousness is impossible for a phantom, it will simply disintegrate, because it must be constantly supported by the energy of its creator, which means that it will also control the behavior of these phantoms.

And for this reason, why waste energy on this?

30:48 Speed of quantum radiation. Speed of gravity quanta.

Maxim: Okay, then let's move on. The question sounds like this: "From general physics I know that the speed of propagation of physical vibrations is proportional to the density of matter. What then is the physical density of unexcited energy of matter, if the speed of propagation of waves in matter is tens of thousands of times less than in a physical vacuum?"

Irina: One more question, I didn't understand.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, as I understood the question, because it was Pavel who composed the questions. Pavel relies on the following logic: we know, from our physics, that the speed of propagation of some vibrations in some substance depends on the density of this material matter. That is, if we, for example, take some metal rail, hit it, then the sound propagates at a certain speed, quite low.

And a hint that if the speed here is low, we hit a metal rail, the sound spreads as an oscillation inside matter, then it turns out that in a physical vacuum we have such speeds as 300 thousand kilometers per second, that is, the speed of light, what we record. It turns out that these quantum fields, their physical density is very high, right? It turns out according to this logic, right? Or are there slightly different principles?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): For some reason, the property of sound is translated into the property of light, although they have completely different waves.

Maxim: But we have an analogy like there is something that we have established, a certain general quantum field, which according to our logic should have some density, or does density not affect this at all?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Okay. Then I can also say by the same analogy: light spreads. For example, if we take light, where will it spread faster:

in water or in air, or in some metal, which will generally slow down its spread, and it will be dark there?

Maxim: You gave a good analogy.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The density of the metal does not help the propagation of light.

Maxim: I just gave an analogy. You gave a good analogy, let's consider light in water, for example. Light in water and light in a vacuum - the speeds will be different, right? What does your physics say about this?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There will be refraction. The speed will not be different, just many photons will be delayed in the atoms that make up this liquid. The light will not spread slower... How can I say? Not the flow speed, but the flow density will be lower. That is why you will see dimmer light in water than, for example, in air. In a vacuum, you will see brighter light than, for example, in the atmosphere, which also delays photons, refracts. You can see, for example, the difference when you look at the Sun through the atmosphere and outside it.

Maxim: Yes, I agree. But then I would put the question this way: please explain why the speed of electromagnetic oscillations, if we, for example, give a situation where the Sun is shining, and a photon reaches a certain area of our Solar System in some time, is what we record as 300 thousand kilometers per second, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Although in dense environments, for example in the atmosphere, in water the speed of light propagation also slows down, this slowdown is insignificant, it is not noticeable to devices.

Maxim: Then explain why our devices, at least that's how we measure it at the moment, show 300 thousand kilometers per second? Why such a speed characteristic, why not 400, not 500? What does it depend on? Does it show such a speed on some parameters of the general quantum field?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I understand the question. The speed of any quantum radiation, in this case light, depends on the characteristics of the quanta themselves. For example, the speed of gravity is higher.

Maxim: The speed of gravity quanta is higher, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. And even in a state not freed from matter, the speed of gravity is still higher than that of light, although I know that your physics claims that they are equal, but in fact it is two and a half times higher, even than unfreed gravitons, and if freed from matter, from atoms, their speed increases, and if they are prevented from entering back into matter, it can increase to eight light speeds.

Maxim: So the speed of released gravitons is the speed of light multiplied by eight times?

Irene (Raom Tiyan): Yes.

Maxim: Is this the limit? Or can it be accelerated even further?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, that is the limit - eight point twenty five hundredths (8.25).

36:32 Magnetic fields and ships with planetary type engines.

Maxim: Good. Then I have another question in connection with this from old ufological information. It would be interesting to check. Do magnetic fields also have their own propagation speed?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I know that you think it is equal to light, but in reality it is somewhat less, about 15 percent.

Maxim: I asked because I remembered information: one contactee was told that the ships of one civilization that contacted him were moving, as they said... Each planet has its own magnetic field, each planet in the Solar System, if we take any star system, is connected, the magnetic fields of the planets are connected to each other, like magnetic channels, I don’t know if this exists or not?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This is found in planetary engines that move between planets, for example.

Maxim: No, no, I get it. They fly along these magnetic channels from planet to planet, is that even possible?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What do you mean “through magnetic channels”?

Maxim: I'll explain briefly. Here, probably, we need to draw. There is a planet Earth, and nearby, not far from us, is the planet Venus, so to speak, there is some distance here, Venus and Earth have their own magnetic fields, and according to this information, there are some other magnetic links between the magnetic fields of these planets that connect, and there only magnetic energy flows between the fields. Does this exist or not?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I understand what you mean. Magnetic fields are distributed in such a way that their waves can be depicted in space as diverging from magnetic poles, that is, from the centers of magnetic radiation distribution, they can be distributed in space by such inhomogeneities that draw lines, such inhomogeneities of the magnetic field, that is, in this line the strength of the magnetic flux will be higher than, for example, in the neighboring section of space. Accordingly, it is possible to draw, to depict a magnetic field. But the whole point is that it is not static, but dynamic, it is mobile.

Ships with a planetary engine. What is it? It is a certain engine that captures magnetic fields and moves with the help of the magnetic field of this ship, but it does not attract iron like a magnet, but attracts due to the fact that each magnetic field has individual characteristics that cannot be repeated by another planet.

All planets, satellites and even asteroids have weak magnetic fields, and by capturing these fields the ship is guided to this object. And then the ship's power plant converts part of the accumulated energy of the stars into the energy of movement, thus achieving a speed of one tenth, one eighth of the speed of light.

40:10 Gradient of filling space with quantum fields. Vortex flows in quantum fields.

Maxim: Here's the question. I'll ask it right away, and then other questions will come from it. In your physics, in your science, is there such a concept as the density of the physical vacuum, that is, the main quantum field?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We have a concept not of density, but of “the gradient of filling space with quantum fields” (shows a sinusoid).

Maxim: It turns out that space is not uniform in this sense, filled with these fields, right? There are places where it is more…

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. You know, if you take a room filled with air, the atoms of gases that make up this mixture will not always be in one place. They move. And if there is, for example, a glass of liquid, for example, water, the atoms that make up the water molecules will constantly vibrate at their frequency, and because of this, the molecules will move in this medium, which is called "water", they mix constantly. And, naturally, this depends on the temperature, but even in cold water it is noticeable.

Maxim: Roughly speaking, if we take in relation to the density of the substance of our material matter, then in the main quantum field, what we mean by physical vacuum, here we cannot talk about its density as material matter, would it be incorrect?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You see, here these movements or fluctuations of quantum fields are most often in the form of twisted spirals, circles, tornadoes and so on, that's how they are twisted, and if we look at the movement of atoms, for example, in a room, mark one atom and observe it, then we will see that over a certain period of time it most often makes movements similar to spirals, but if there are no other gas flows that can somehow displace it. Why do atoms make such movements? Because they follow the flow of fluctuations of the general etheric field.

Maxim: Interesting. Seriously, huh?

Irina: Yes (laughs). He just showed me some whirlpools, you know, there are cyclones and winds on the planet.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, that is, you want to say that these different vortex formations of material matter simply follow those formations in energy quantum fields, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, this also plays its role. But I want to say that the formation of these vortex flows in the quantum field is also not accidental, because the closest etheric layer to the physical vacuum, the so-called torsion fields, are already the first type of ether, they look like spirals usually twisted into twelve and a half turns.

Maxim: That is, the etheric fields that separate our physical Universe from another Universe, yes, that’s how I understand it?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Which separate the physical Universe from the fourth, do not even separate, but are the outer layer of that etheric ocean, which separates from the second cluster.

Maxim: It’s certainly better to draw here.

44:51 First cluster – first three density levels. Second cluster and the etheric ocean.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The first, second and third density levels are called the "physical world". That is, the physical world contains not one density level, but three. All three exist together in one Universe, right? You see that there is an ocean, there are stones, and above it there are various gases that make up the atmosphere.

Maxim: Yes, yes, the states of aggregation are different.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): These are all three levels of density. And what's more, there are also three levels of density in your bodies. Why do we call it "on the third"? Because we call it the very last level of density, on which a given intelligent being manifests. People live on the third level of density. We can call it "first, second, third", but usually we call it the last.

Maxim: We are separated from the fourth level of density by an etheric layer, a certain etheric structure, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The first, second, third level of density make up the first cluster.

Maxim: I understand. Then the fourth, fifth, sixth - also a cluster.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, the fourth, fifth, sixth make up the second cluster. Between the first cluster and the second there is what we call the "etheric ocean". This etheric ocean contains all the energy needed to form and maintain all the quanta in the two clusters.

If we take the amount of energy, then the etheric ocean separating one cluster from another, the physical one from the second cluster, contains 700 times more energy than all the quanta of the physical Universe combined.

Maxim: I see. This is exactly what I mean, I think when we had a conversation, you said that some of our inventors like Nikola Tesla invented devices that…

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, those from this ocean...

Maxim: Yes, they took energy, and something was immediately destroyed in the neighboring cluster, some kind of destruction occurred.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): So destruction can also occur in the physical.

Maxim: It is impossible to obtain energy this way. Understood.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): From space itself, such a wave of energy can be released, which by its impact force will be equal to the explosion of several bombs, and also not only the impact force of air can be released, but also thermal energy, and light, and radiation, that is, any quantum. And the fear is understandable.

48:12 Torsion, lepton fields.

Maxim: Look at the connection: these, as you say, torsion fields are elements of the etheric layer, which indirectly influences the general quantum field. Is that right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This is not even the etheric layer itself, but its outer shell, which is facing the physical world.

Maxim: And they interact and influence the general quantum field, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, and through these rotating torsion fields the formation of physical quantum fields occurs, because plasmoid civilizations, in order to create physical quantum fields, need to create this at their density level, they are created from the fourth to the eighth, that is, the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth create precisely energies, gradually condensing them to quantum fields. And they, with their energies, being in the etheric space, can also control the creation of atoms from these quantum fields. But in any case, it is necessary to conduct the created fields through the torsion ones, through this outer shell into the physical vacuum. Any physical space is called a physical vacuum, it's just that, for example, on your planet it is filled with matter, and the vacuum itself always remains a vacuum.

Irina: (laughs) Well, I don’t understand anything anymore.

Maxim: No, you're right. Good. Let's move on.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): And further after the torsion fields come the lepton fields, which are already the prototype of your quantum fields.

Maxim: So torsion fields are external. And in the depths there are already lepton fields, where the etheric space has several layers?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In general, we distinguish 6 layers in the etheric field.

Maxim: Please tell us, not in great detail, the main characteristics of the layers.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The outer layer, which is adjacent to the physical world, the inner layer, which is adjacent to the world of the fourth level of density, that is, the fourth, fifth, sixth - to the world of the second cluster, we will speak by clusters, it will be easier. And between them there are four etheric energies, which are very similar to each other, but they form the basis for the formation of quanta, that is, a certain energy is taken from the second cluster, passed through this layer, and a quantum field appears.

51:22 Time parameter.

Maxim: Here another side question arises, you just talked about this, that in spiritual spaces there is eternity, infinity, there is no time parameter that manifests itself only in material worlds, so it turns out that in these very ethereal layers some other chronal fields are formed that create temporary ones, what we call time? I just encountered this with other contactees.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Time for us is more of an information matrix. This matrix becomes energetic specifically in the physical Universe, when the flow of time can be perceived as a flow of energy, because it carries an object with it. This can also be understood in such a way that the objects themselves create a flow of time, because they begin to mutually change each other.

Maxim: It turns out that material objects can have some other temporary fields, roughly speaking, create them for themselves?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Look, first of all, everyone measures time differently.

Maxim: That's clear. I think we talked about it at the last conference, and even recorded it experimentally. If we count time, I will say that time is a certain number of processes over some N-interval, that is, we get this: closer to the planet, to the gravitational field of the planet, our atoms oscillate less than at a distance from the planet. At a distance from the planet, the oscillations increase.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Gravity plays a role there.

Maxim: Yes, yes, yes. If we take time as a change in some processes, the speed of processes, it turns out that this is how we can approach the definition of time?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What is time? If you don't have reference points: a clock, the Sun, the stars, the Moon, then you won't be able to tell how much time has passed.

Maxim: I agree.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): How do you navigate in time then? Either by the clock, which already shows changing numbers according to certain algorithms, according to certain programs, or you look at the changes, so to speak, of your earthly sky. The Sun has risen - morning, the Sun is high - noon, the Sun has set - evening. The mind already connects all this: morning, noon, evening, night, since this is repeated many times, it calls it "a day". And it makes a day a segment of time. A day is too big a segment of time, it decides to divide it into certain parts.

Maxim: I see, okay, Raom Tiyan, I got the gist, let's talk about time separately, we have a separate conference being prepared, I have questions being prepared.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What is time? It is precisely the processes of change. Look, the Sun does not stop, it rises, and this flow itself can be perceived as time, that is, the flow that lifts it up.

Maxim: I see. Okay, let's talk about time separately.

55:25 Speed of light in other galaxies. Teleportation mechanism.

Maxim: Then I have the following question. In one of the meetings you said, according to the words of contactees, from some distant galaxy, who estimate their speed of light significantly higher than ours, if I am not mistaken, the difference is up to 170 percent of our speed of light.

Irene (Raom Tiyan): Yes.

Maxim: Why do they have such a speed of light? Are their quantum fields somehow differently structured, or the main quantum field, or, as you said, the gradient is different?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Photons are the same, but they can spread faster due to the slightly different structure of the galaxy, that is, its quantum fields, they move in this space, lingering less.

Maxim: That is, the configuration of quantum fields influences the speed of movement of photons.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We also studied this question, whether it is possible to move a beam of light or a beam of photons instantly. This is the so-called "light teleportation".

Maxim: We are currently studying this issue.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We also studied this issue and laid out in detail all the energies of space that interfere with this. And it is precisely the quantum fields that, when trying to somehow accelerate a beam of light, that is, to spin it, to give it the original speed, to give it excess original radiation energy...

I hope Maxim understands what you're talking about.

Maxim: Yes, I try to understand.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We saw that at the initial stages the speed of photons becomes somewhat higher. For example, we had such a result, when at the initial stage, it was about 3.4 seconds, the speed of the photon beam became 12% higher, that is, it accelerated. We also began to analyze the issue with plasmoid civilizations, for what reason it is impossible to move instantly.

They told us that these common quantum fields create certain laws of propagation of quantum waves, because the released quanta propagate according to the laws of wave dynamics.

Maxim: You know all these patterns, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, we have studied them.

Maxim: So you know all the patterns in the Universe or can the Universe be different?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We can screen, there are special devices for screening general quantum fields in space to create a complete absolute physical vacuum, including screening of those radiations that are created by the atoms themselves, although they make up 27 percent, and without removing the atoms themselves.

For example, a gas atom, special chambers are created that are connected to each other at different points in space, sometimes several dozen light years away from each other, and in these chambers, the movement-teleportation of various objects occurs. But this is not recommended for moving living objects, especially intelligent beings. There are nuances associated with collecting quantum fields that make up the human body back into atoms.

Maxim: I see. But nevertheless, look, Raom Tiyan, I received information, I was acquainted with the contactee Viktor Korshunov, who communicated with a civilization from another galaxy, that civilization showed him that they can, by the power of thought, rotate certain energy fields around themselves, in their energy cocoon, that is, there is some kind of rotation of energy through the chakras, they do something else, and they can teleport right in the physical body, disappear in one place and appear in another place. Is this possible in principle, it turns out?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It is possible. It is even possible without any cameras.

Maxim: That is, by the power of thought, by the power of your bioenergy, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. A person can, firstly, control his body and split it into different energies, but for this he needs to clearly imagine how much energy is contained in each of its atoms, in what order they are laid out, and he must preserve consciousness itself when converting all the substances of his body into physical radiation, which moves along a given trajectory, and then the movement occurs in the form of electromagnetic oscillations that penetrate through all types of walls and so on. This is not in the form of light.

Maxim: That is, a person must have the knowledge of how to take himself apart and then how to gather himself in some place.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, and also how to assemble yourself, and here lies the risk, the danger that some atoms will be assembled incorrectly, which can lead to illness and even death.

Maxim: But, understanding the mechanisms, can this be worked out to perfection, so that, in principle, one can move painlessly?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I know that, for example, some yetis do this. But they also don't have this ability very often, even for them, although they do this, it's rare for them.

And our representatives on Burkhad, on Shimor and so on, I practically don’t know anyone who would be engaged in these experiments, because we have no need for such movements, we have certain ships that do this safely.

1:02:54 Differences in the speed of light in different galaxies.

Maxim: Then here's a question. We just said that in a distant galaxy the speed of light is 170% of ours, so what are the maximum deviations, 200–300%, how much?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It all depends on the characteristics of those general quantum fields that are in the galaxy and around it, they are different everywhere. But the fluctuations, according to our theoretical calculations, cannot exceed 325%.

Maxim: Is this towards higher speeds? Are there galaxies where the speed of light is lower than in our Galaxy?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, there is less. But the deviation should not exceed, there is already a smaller value, somewhere around 40%.

Maxim: And, as you say, it depends on gradients?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Light cannot be too slow.

Maxim: From the structure of the general quantum field, from its gradients, from its characteristics, roughly speaking, right?

Irene (Raom Tiyan): Yes.

Maxim: Are you aware of all these dependencies, how the quantum field is formed in different galaxies?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There are certain reference books, methodological works related to the study of galaxies, their quantum fields, how certain radiations behave in these quantum fields. We have reference literature on this subject for students, I studied it, I don't remember it, I remember the general, it's just that all of this exists in the form of reference books.

1:04:47 Speed of propagation of the torsion field. Responsibility for experiments with the etheric field outside the physical vacuum.

Maxim: If we are talking about a torsion field, do I understand correctly that it also has its own speed of propagation, like a physical field or like energy?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, there is time there too, but the speed of propagation of the torsion field is 30 times greater than that of light due to its subtlety, a more subtle energy.

Maxim: How would you answer the question of why the propagation speeds of electromagnetic waves and torsion fields are different? What factors could be involved?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Because they have, as you would say, different mass, that is, different amounts of energy invested in them. They are more subtle. What does subtle mean? They spread more quickly.

Maxim: It turns out that there is an external factor here: the characteristics of the general quantum field have an effect, and the radiation itself also has an effect, what frequency it is, and so on, what characteristics it has, the speed of propagation.

Irene (Raom Tiyan): Yes.

Maxim: External and internal factors play a role.

Irene (Raom Tiyan): Yes.

Maxim: I see. It turns out that torsion consists of more subtle energies, and because of this it is faster?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It itself is a more subtle etheric energy.

Maxim: We conducted experiments with torsion fields on Earth, there was a man named Akimov, maybe you know him, then other researchers, as I understand it, their theory was based on the fact that if we rotate some object, any object, even a round one, a round plate, we start rotating it, then it automatically creates a torsion field. Is this the correct theory?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There is no need to create it, it is already everywhere.

Maxim: So we don't need to tighten anything up? We just need to be able to manage it properly?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This is the outer shell of the etheric ocean. I would like to remind you that any experiments with the etheric field lying outside the physical vacuum are possible only with the permission and under the direct supervision of the Spirits of the 17th level, that is, the Angels of nature, and any puncture of the vacuum, any damage to the torsion field, can lead to great destruction of the body or the physical world due to the release of a large amount of unrealized energy in any form, which will be conditioned by the state of the quantum field around this place. This can lead to corresponding karmic consequences for those who experimented without the permission of the Spiritual World.

Maxim: This is exactly the case, as it happens everywhere, if a person starts experimenting, but does not know that he needs to contact someone and consult, then he creates a problem, but, as they say, “ignorance of the law does not exempt from responsibility.”

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Spirits all know the law, the Higher Self knows.

Maxim: The Higher Self can send him a signal to stop doing this, but he can still continue.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): That’s why I say that all these rules are included in our school curriculum for natural science and physics.

Maxim: I see, it's clear to you. Raom Tiyan, do I understand correctly that if some subtle-material intelligent being from another subtle-material Universe came to us through a portal into the material world, then in order to somehow measure it, that it is here next to us, we must measure in some terahertz ranges the changes in energy in space in order to record its body, is that how I understand it?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. It consists of energy of a higher frequency or, as you call it, high vibrational, than the devices that you have.

Maxim: We don’t have such devices, I don’t think, yet, I don’t know.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Imagine that if you, for example, put a pea on a scale designed for weighing a person. What will it show?

Maxim: It’s clear that they won’t show anything.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): And the pea exists.

Maxim: The analogy is good. The question is: is it possible for you to create such devices purely as instruments?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, perhaps, but you are already...

1:09:56 Radiation as one of the properties of matter.

Maxim: Does matter without energy disturbances exist in nature, and what does it look like without energy, as a hypothetically unexcited substance?

Irina: What do you mean "without energy disturbances"? He said that any atom emits radiation, even I remember. You call radiation disturbances. Or what?

Maxim: Yes, yes.

Irina: He said that even a hydrogen atom radiates in a certain way. How can it exist without radiation?

Maxim: No, but what if we take not atoms, but subtle-material worlds? They have their own, not atoms, they consist of something, of some elements.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): They have their own - etheric. Any matter has its own radiation, just like the Sun has light.

Maxim: That is, the subtle-material bodies of subtle-material civilizations also emit their own radiation, they have some of their own fields, right?

Irene (Raom Tiyan): Yes.

Maxim: I see. This is a topic for a separate large conference. Well, Raom Tiyan, thank you very much for being with us today.

Irina: Thank you, Raom Tiyan, thank you, Maxim, thank you, dear viewers, for listening to this conference. See you soon!

Maxim: See you soon!

Crimes. Replacing the death penalty with isolation from society https://blog.cassiopeia.center/prestupleniya-zamena-smertnoj-kazni-na-izolyaciyu

Crime is a decision of a low-vibration Spirit, which, due to its blocks and other low-vibration states, has come to some real atrocities. If such a Spirit is deprived of embodiment by force, it will go to the lower level of the Spiritual world, filled with hatred and malice towards the people in which it committed these crimes. It did not commit them without reason, but because of the negative energy accumulated in it, directed against a specific people, for example, or a separate city.

Materialists think that by killing his body, they have dealt with this problem, and he no longer exists. No, he actually exists in the Spiritual World, and when someone executed, for example, for a very serious crime, comes to his mentors, they see in him an overflow of negative feelings that he has not processed, and in order to give him the opportunity to raise his level, they send him into incarnation again in this nation, so that he goes through the lesson again and processes this hatred and transforms it into love. That is, the country that executed the criminal, then receives him, but in a small child, his Spirit, and they themselves do not know in which family and where he will be born. But the probability of this is very high.

And if you leave him alive, but simply isolate him from society, create conditions so that he can think about his internal spiritual problems and begin to work on their transformation, for example, join the staff of specialists who will do this specifically for these people, then they will leave this incarnation when they are called by mentors by the will of God, who will send guides for him, for his Soul.

The killing of the body of a rational embodied Spirit is allowed without punishment from the Interstellar Union only if it happened during a battle, for example, while protecting other people in a war. The very first example I can give is the forces of the Interstellar Union, who stopped the attack of the Selbet representatives, including the now embodied Ashtar Sheran. Naturally, no one punishes these humanoids and people on your Earth after that battle, but on the condition that they did not break the laws, that is, first tried with all their might to extinguish this conflict without killing. If this does not work and there is a threat to the life of the person himself or his loved ones, naturally, any measures are allowed, including withdrawal from incarnation. This was to protect his life and the lives of those people who cannot protect themselves.

Our real history from alien civilizations https://blog.cassiopeia.center/nasha-nastoyashchaya-istoriya-ot-inoplanetnyh-civi

WHO, WHEN AND WHY CREATED US?

About 5 million years ago, our planet was discovered by representatives of the planet Tumesout, an ancient humanoid civilization from the constellation Orion (all extraterrestrial names in the article reflect pronunciation in the languages of aliens). In appearance, they are very similar to earthlings, but they are 5-8 meters tall. The distance from the planet Tumesout to the Sun is 1360 light years, but the ships of highly developed alien races cover such distances almost instantly, using so-called gravitational engines based on quantum particles of gravitons, the speed of which is many times greater than the speed of photons (particles that carry light). The physical laws known to us are not violated, since instead of moving at superluminal speed, another process takes place, a detailed description of which is beyond the scope of this article.

Our discoverers arrived on Earth in a ship that looked like a giant pyramid. Millions of years later, they arrived in ships of a similar shape. Because of this, some of the pyramids on the planet were then built by earthlings in the hope that, by repeating the shape of the alien ships, they too would be able to fly to the stars in similar structures. The most famous pyramids were created under the guidance and with the participation of the Tumesoutians, primarily for the exchange of energy between the Earth and space. It was the Tumesoutians, due to their phenomenal height for earthlings, who entered our legends, myths and sacred writings as fairy-tale giants; it was they who became the prototypes of the giant statues on Easter Island and other famous sculptures of giants.

Having studied the planet, the Tumesout scientists discovered that there was no intelligent life on Earth (as we later called it); however, there was a unique diversity of flora and fauna, which markedly distinguished our planet from other planets in the Galaxy where organic forms of matter could exist. At that time, the Earth's orbit was closer to the Sun than it is now, so there was no winter on the planet at all: there was a single continent and very favorable conditions for the rapid development of organic life. The Moon was a separate planet in the Solar System, that is, it was not a satellite of the Earth, so its direct influence on the planet was absent.

Tumesout biologists decided to create a hybrid intelligent being on the planet by combining their genetic material and the genetic material of terrestrial animals suitable for these purposes. Having thoroughly studied the animal world of our planet, the geneticists of our ancestors selected representatives of the order of primates similar to modern chimpanzees for experiments. (At first, the aliens wanted to wait for the results of the natural evolution of primates and their transformation into an intelligent race; however, for a very long time this did not happen). At the same time, the discovery of the planet was reported to the community of civilizations of our Galaxy, which is called (in our translation) the Interstellar Galactic Union. Now it includes 116 of the 727 intelligent civilizations of our Galaxy, which we call the Milky Way. Soon, representatives of two more very ancient civilizations arrived on the planet - a humanoid from the planet Burkhad (the constellation Cygnus, 670 light years from the Sun) and a reptilian from the planet Selbet (the constellation Canes Venatici, 730 light years from the Sun). At the same time, the planet Burkhad was and is the official capital of the Interstellar Union. Nevertheless, over the next million years or so, experiments to create a new intelligent being on Earth were conducted only using genetic material from the Tumesoutians and terrestrial primates. (Here it is necessary to keep in mind that the life expectancy in developed alien worlds is orders of magnitude greater than ours: for example, the Burkhadians live 10-15 thousand years, and this is far from the limit).

But despite all the efforts and a long period of genetic experiments, it was not possible to create an intelligent being, since the DNA of primates did not combine with the DNA of the inhabitants of Tumesout. Therefore, approximately 4 million years ago, scientists from Burkhad and Selbet actively joined the experiment. The genes of the inhabitants of Burkhad and the reptilians of Selbet were added to the DNA of the future hybrid in a certain combination. It was after a significant proportion of the genes of Burkhad had been added to this genetic code that, approximately 3 million years ago, it was finally possible to breed the planned genetic hybrid. Thus, its DNA contained a combination of genes of four creatures - three extraterrestrial races and terrestrial primates. Subsequently, this hybrid developed into a human. At the same time, the main achievement of the alien scientists was precisely that they managed to breed a creature with a physiology and energy that was suitable for the embodiment of an intelligent soul from the spiritual world - which, in fact, is the criterion for declaring any creature intelligent. That is, as a result, the arrival of intelligent souls into the bodies of the created hybrids began to occur – in the same mode that exists in us now (during the process of conception and pregnancy). You can read in detail about the structure of the spiritual world – our original “home” – in a special article by Irina Podzorova on this topic.

And now about the proportions in which the genes of our ancestors entered into the DNA of the originally created earthly people:

Terrestrial primates - 45%
Burkhadians - 35%
Tumesoutians - 15%
Selbetians - 5%

That's how it is... So now, dear readers, we know who we really are from a genetic point of view. We have a total of 55% alien genes and 45% genes from the ancestors of modern monkeys. This means that both traditional scientists who insist on our origin from monkeys and esotericists who believe in our alien roots are partly right. As often happens, the truth is somewhere in the middle... But there is still a little more "alien blood" in us. However, 5% of it are specific reptilian genes, which, in particular, gave our race a certain toughness (and sometimes cruelty), will, courage, determination and other qualities that are sometimes called fighting qualities. So, our genetic age is now also known - 3 million years. Outwardly, we then resembled modern people of the European race, but with a height of about 4 meters, since the genes of the tall Tumesoutians turned out to be dominant over the genes of the other participants in the hybridization. The life expectancy of the first people was approximately the same as described in the Old Testament (which came from the Torah, transmitted to Moses - more on this below).

However, let us continue and answer the last question in this chapter – WHY did they do it? The aliens’ goal was to create a race of their conscious assistants – intelligent, humanistic beings who had absorbed the best from several civilizations and were ready to further develop to the level of joining the Interstellar Union as not even an assistant, but an equal participant and partner in the study of the Universe and the world as a whole. The entry of our civilization into the Interstellar Union is their goal now; for this purpose they maintain all contacts with us. More details about this will be given at the end of the article.

WHAT WAS THE STORY OF THE FIRST PEOPLE'S "FALL"

ACTUALLY LIKE?

WHO IS LUCIFER AND HIS ROLE IN THE HISTORY OF HUMANITY.

First of all, let us say here that purely “technically” the first people were obtained using a process that is today called in vitro fertilization. The embryo of a new creature, bred “in a test tube” and whose DNA contained genes in the above proportions, was implanted into a female primate, who then gave birth to a baby in the usual way. That is, she became a “surrogate mother”. As has already been said, the nervous and energy system of the embryo attracted an intelligent soul from the spiritual world for incarnation - this finally happened, as with us, during pregnancy. The aliens created 9 pairs of primordial people - the first men and women. That is, a total of 18 individuals (not 2). However, first, it was the male individuals (or individuals) that were born, and then their genetic material was taken from them and the entire process was repeated, but with a change in the chromosome set to obtain representatives of the female sex. This is the explanation of that very biblical “Adam’s rib” and the creation of the first woman.

The names Adam and Eve (as well as Lilith, who, according to legend, was the very first woman even before Eve) are most likely both a conventional designation of the entire "team" of the very first people, and names of specific entities adapted for us, possibly born the very first in this "team". But please keep in mind that starting with the word "names" in the previous sentence - this is my personal assumption, because such information has not yet been directly transmitted to Irina. It can also be assumed with a high degree of probability that Lilith, who, according to the same legends, God later destroyed and created Eve, was, for some reason, not viable or did not attract a rational soul from a sufficiently high (in the opinion of our creators) plane of the Spiritual world for incarnation.

Well, what about the "apple"?

All the action of creating a new race took place on a huge alien base, located in the place where the waters of the Mediterranean Sea now splash, but at that time it was the central part of a single earthly continent. The base was isolated from the outside world, the aliens themselves lived there (representatives of the three races of our creators), they flew there on ships, there were a large number of plants brought by them (including for their own purposes), breeds of animals and, so to speak, scientific complexes that ensured the implementation of all these studies and experiments. As you have already guessed, this was the same "Paradise". Its size, together with the cosmodrome and the giant semi-artificial forest (garden) surrounding it, was as much as 480 square kilometers.

This is how it is said in verses 15-17 of the second chapter of the book of Genesis (the title of this chapter in the Torah is Be-reshith, which means “In the beginning”):

> "Then the Lord God took the man and put him into the garden of Eden to dress it and keep it. And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil thou shalt not eat: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die."

Here it is said that the representatives of the planet Tumesout (Yahweh in Hebrew - was translated into Russian as "Lord"), some of those who came from heaven (Elohim in the original text means not the singular, but the plural, but in the Russian translation it became the word "God"), settled the created people (in Hebrew, Adam can mean either an individual person or all representatives of our species) in the "Garden of Eden" - this, as we have already said, is the name of a large alien base where man was created. At the same time, we will once again remind you that the climatic conditions at that time allowed plants to bloom and bear fruit all year round.

Well, we have come to the main point of this chapter. The notorious "Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil" is a Tumesout plant, which in their language is called "Khorol". It was necessary to activate the mental and intuitive activity of the inhabitants of this planet. Local scientists bred it by genetic engineering specifically for this purpose, and the Tumesout people constantly carried its seeds with them on ships in order to always have access to fresh fruits. Due to the peculiarities of metabolism in the bodies of earthlings, the fruits of the Khorol were deadly poisonous for them (that is, for us), so those aliens whose duties included caring for the born hybrids and raising them, told them many times about the danger of eating these fruits. No one could even imagine that the already grown earthlings, who had idolized their creators since childhood, could disobey them. And how could one not worship them, when they were of gigantic stature (if we are talking specifically about the Tumesoutians), flew on "saucers" and other devices and showed other technical "miracles" that would shock us even today! What could have made our first ancestors violate the strict prohibition of the Gods-creators that they revered so much?

Here's the thing. Among these very Gods, despite their non-humanoid appearance, were the Selbetians on equal terms. As talented astro-geneticists and xeno-biologists, they also took an active part in the creation of hybrids, not to mention the fact that a percentage of their genome was introduced into the DNA of people. It was the representatives of the Selbetians at the base who persuaded the first people to "taste the forbidden fruit"! The Bible in verses 1-6 of the third chapter of the book of Genesis speaks of what happened like this:

> "Now the serpent was more subtle than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And the serpent said to the woman, Has God really said, 'You shall not eat from every tree of the garden?'
> And the woman said to the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden: but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.
> And the serpent said to the woman, Ye shall not surely die: for God knoweth that in the day ye eat thereof then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.
> And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of its fruit and ate; and she gave also to her husband with her; and he ate.

The serpent here is the representative of the planet Selbet, because it belonged to the reptilian race, that is, it was very similar in biological properties to terrestrial reptiles. The words "he was more subtle than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made" is an explanation given to Moses of how the snake, known to him from his life experience, can talk, and the peculiarities of the meaning of the phrase "created the beasts of the field" (Hebrew "asa hay sadah") indicate that this is not about the creation of all the earthly fauna, but about the preparation of animals for a specific purpose in one area of the Earth, in a separate country or region. Pay attention to the words: "... you will be like gods, knowing good and evil." That is, by eating the Tumesout plant, designed to enhance the special qualities of the "gods" (in reality - energy, metabolism, and most importantly - intuition, foresight, etc.), you will become like them.

Now – why did the Selbet man (essentially one of our creators) act this way? Why was a direct attempt made to kill the people who had been created with such difficulty? The fact is that from the very beginning the Selbet reptilians expressed dissatisfaction with the too small representation of their genes in the genotype of the hybrid being created. They, together with the scientists of Burkhad and Tumesout, had been working on this task for a very long time and hoped for a proportional distribution of genes. But the Burkhadians and Tumesoutians, as more ancient and more powerful civilizations, made a common decision to reduce the reptilian genes to a minimum, since they considered some reptilian traits dangerous for the hybrid being created.

Then Selbet asked to allow them to experiment on creating an intelligent being based on earthly reptiles, of which there were many species at that time. But this was also refused - our humanoid creators were convinced that two young and such different civilizations would not get along on one planet in peace and harmony and would fight among themselves.

As a result of all this, a group of Selbet scientists, without informing the government of their planet, made an unauthorized decision to stage, so to speak, an accident. That is, to secretly persuade the first earthlings to taste the poisonous fruit, and then present the consequences of this as disobedience to the creators. They probably counted on the fact that such death of our ancestors would allow the reptilians to put forward a convincing argument: the hybrids rudely disobeyed the creators and behaved so inadequately because their gene proportions were erroneous. Therefore, in future experiments (which will have to be started over again), the percentage of reptilian genes should be significantly increased.

But that's not all... As we have already said, the rational basis of every rational living being is the soul, which is incarnated in this body, coming from the spiritual world. So - in the body of one of the Selbet scientists, in the body of a reptilian who took an active part in the "seduction" of the first people, the soul of that entity that we know by the name Lucifer was incarnated. This is what is meant when the Scriptures say that "the Devil took the form of a serpent." Lucifer (which means "Light-Bearer") was indeed one of the very first higher beings created by that almighty rational force that we call God. However, using the law of free will, which applies to everyone, he decided to separate from the divine source. Now we will not delve into the reasons and consequences of this choice - this is the topic of a separate article. For now, it is important for us that this separation began precisely in one of the previous lives on the planet Selbet in the body of a reptilian - when the temptations of material incarnation (power and others) turned out to be “more convincing” for this spiritual personality than the original light.

So, let us repeat once again: in the "Garden of Eden" (on the aliens' earthly base) there was an attempt to kill the recently created people by some of their creators. As is known, people succumbed to persuasion and tasted a fruit (or fruits) that was poisonous to them. According to the information transmitted to us, not all of the first 18 people managed to do this, but only a few, and probably it was two of them that we know as Adam and Eve. Perhaps these were the very ones who were once created first. In addition to the purely physical, material understanding of this whole situation, it also had a deep spiritual meaning. It turned out that Adam and Eve really "knew good and evil."

Firstly, they had obviously never encountered deception or negativity in any form before, that is, they had only dealt with “good”. Now, having decided to become “like Gods” (having eaten a plant intended for “Gods”), they fell into a trap skillfully set by Lucifer, who had departed from divinity, in the body of a Selbet reptilian. Secondly (and this is the main thing), by their decision they made essentially the same choice as Lucifer himself (who had incited them to do so) – they chose not to follow the Light (the will of God, if you like), but the selfish desire to be the same as God himself, while separating themselves from him. In Christianity, this is usually called pride. Apparently, this was the spiritual plan of the incarnate Lucifer, who found such important allies for himself.

Well, what happened next was what we would call today a rescue operation. The Old Testament says that Adam, having sinned, hid from God and did not answer His call. In fact, having tasted the fruit that was poisonous to them, those who ate it found themselves in a state that we would now call a death coma - the poisoning did not lead to instant death, several hours had to pass. Representatives of Tumesout and Burkhad found our poisoned ancestors in time and managed to cure them (or resuscitate them). When they came to, they, of course, told all the details of what had happened. The truth was revealed. The forces were unequal, so the Selbet criminals were isolated and everything was reported to their planet. The Selbet authorities took the potential murderers, after which they were cruelly punished. As we have learned, they were separated from their families forever and sent to a special planet for criminals, located on the outskirts of the Galaxy in the constellation Aries. There they spent the rest of their lives in hard labor, deprivation and without hope of release. As you may recall, one of these Selbetians was an incarnate Lucifer. One can only imagine how this affected him - especially considering that such concepts as remorse or simply a feeling of guilt hardly applied to him...

There is something else... In the context of this whole story, it would be logical to assume that some very high bright souls were embodied in the bodies of one or many of our main (humanoid) creators - since Lucifer himself was among the Selbetians. This turned out to be the case, but we will talk about this in the penultimate chapter of our article.

But what happened to the people next?

In principle, everything that followed is also described in the Bible, although, of course, again in terms suitable for Moses and his contemporaries. The Burkhadians and Tumesoutians decided to evict people beyond the base into the earthly world. It was decided that since they had once violated the ban and disobeyed, then anything could happen next, including an attack on their creators using the technologies available in, so to speak, "Paradise." This "eviction" was the biblical "expulsion from Paradise." The representatives of Burkhad and Tumesout, although they remained Gods for our distant ancestors, no longer inspired the same love, trust and understanding. People were given the opportunity to live and develop independently. However, despite this, our creators, of course, did not leave people completely without their care. They passed on to them information about the correct social structure, about moral values, about God, about the spiritual world and much more. All this became the content of different chapters of the Old Testament, including the messages of the prophets, who were these contactees - conscious or unconscious. However, the biblical prophets already lived in the era of loss of knowledge, which came after the cataclysms on the planet, which we will talk about in the next section.

EXPLAINING THE GLOBAL CATASTROPHE 12,000 YEARS AGO KNOWN TO US AS THE FLOOD

Over the next 2 million years or so, human civilization on Earth was actively developing with the support of our creators, who in many cases acted openly. It was during this vast historical – or rather, prehistoric – period that the legendary terrestrial supercivilizations emerged and reached perfection, fragmentary information about which has reached us (primarily Lemuria and Atlantis, which represented a late stage in the development of Lemuria). This was the era of the flourishing of earthly humanity, which was accompanied by grandiose achievements in all spheres, cyclopean structures on the planet (we know some of them as the “Wonders of the World”), as well as an understanding of all the bright spiritual truths. This era is called Satya Yuga in ancient Indian literature – the Age of Light. The Vedic texts that have come down to us from the ancient Hindus also speak of flying ships called vimanas (they even provide diagrams of them), of medicine, which we are far from, of the structure of the atom, the structure of space, and of many other things that were later completely forgotten or rediscovered. About 200 thousand years ago, colonies of earthlings, using alien technology, appeared on Venus and Mars, which at that time were suitable for protein life, being in different orbits relative to the Sun and having atmospheres comparable to the Earth's. A more detailed description of this long and very eventful era is, to put it mildly, a very large array of information, which will certainly require completely different forms of presentation than this article. Therefore, here we will immediately move on to the event that is the title of this section.

If you look at the materials on the Internet, you will find information that, based on completely scientific data, there is a hypothesis about some extraordinary catastrophe on the planet that occurred approximately 12 thousand years ago. This, in particular, is confirmed by the mass burials of various species of animals found, dating back to exactly the specified period. What happened then, according to the information we received from aliens?

At that time, on the reptilian planet Selbet, already known to you, an extremist (as we would say) group came to power. Its representatives began to pursue a policy of aggressive denial of the values of the Interstellar Union, which their civilization still included. Apparently, the old story with people created contrary to the genetic wishes of Selbet scientists also did not give them peace. In the end, Selbet unleashed a war, which first took place in another part of the Galaxy, far from the Solar System. In our system, everything was still calm for a long time: people and aliens cooperated, communicated and, so to speak, carried out various joint projects. The main base of the aliens in the Solar System was located on the planet that we know today under the name Phaeton; it was located between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter at a distance of approximately 2.8 astronomical units from the Sun. Another, more correct (original) name for this planet is Nibiru, and we know it by the name Phaeton, since this name was taken from Greek mythology, where it was used to name a mythical character who disobeyed the gods. There were also bases on other planets, including the Moon, which was in a separate planetary orbit, further from the Sun than the Earth's. The center of Earth civilization and at the same time the central base of the Interstellar Union on Earth was a megalopolis (let's call it that), located on a huge mountain in the place where the notorious Bermuda Triangle is now located. There was dry land there then. 12 thousand years ago, the population of Earth and its colonies reached approximately 55 million people.

Our planet still had essentially a paradise climate: summer temperatures all year round, and there was practically no snow or ice anywhere. Such a life did not in any way imply the presence of any serious military structures capable of repelling external aggression. Apparently, this is what the Selbetites, who had become aggressive, were counting on when their military fleet unexpectedly invaded the Solar System. Traveling on gravity engines, which were already in place back then, makes it possible to almost instantly find yourself at a given point in space without any preliminary physical signs of the ship's movement to this point for an outside observer. The Selbet fleet naturally struck its first blow at Phaeton - in order to immediately destroy the main center of possible resistance. It was a question of the massive use of geophysical and space weapons at the same time, nothing similar to which we (fortunately) have in sight.

Apparently, nuclear weapons are simply "resting" in comparison. Based on what we were told, this weapon is based on the same gravity and causes fast-moving irreversible cataclysms on a relatively small planet of such power that they very quickly lead to the planet's disintegration into fragments. This is exactly what happened to Phaeton. Now in the area of this destroyed planet, the existence of which was suspected by a number of terrestrial astronomers, there is a well-known asteroid belt of different sizes. These are its remains. Everyone who was on Phaeton died. Immediately after this terrible blow, representatives of the Interstellar Union, who were on ships in space and at other bases, quickly calculated the entire situation with the attack on Phaeton and realized what was happening. It became clear that Selbet's next targets would be Earth (as the cradle of humanity), as well as Mars, Venus and the Moon. It should be borne in mind that we are not talking about some long period of time here - everything happened in minutes and even seconds of earthly time.

Naturally, an urgent call for military assistance was immediately sent to the MS from the Solar System. For communication, the aliens do not use slow radio waves, but completely different means (the so-called gluon communication), which really do deliver information almost instantly. However, in order to send us military ships capable of stopping the aggressors, a certain amount of time was still needed. Therefore, the unarmed ships of Burkhad and Tumesout, which were in space near us, essentially sacrificing themselves, tried to disrupt Selbet's plans or at least buy time until the appearance of the combat fleet of the Interstellar Union. I will make a special reservation at this point: I understand perfectly well that many of those reading this chapter have already drawn an analogy with "Star Wars" and are ready to treat everything exclusively as science fiction. Please understand that, firstly, it is impossible to invent anything out of thin air, including star wars and any other “fiction”, “fairy tales”, “myths” and “legends”, and secondly, please consider all the information in this article as a whole – without tearing fragments out of the overall whole context.

Let's continue. In parallel with the confrontation in space, our creators did everything possible to save earthlings - both on our planet and on Mars and Venus. Almost all colonists from Venus were evacuated to lunar bases and alien ships before the Selbet weapons were used on it. Unfortunately, almost everyone died on Mars. Since they could only destroy a small planet in the manner described above, other types of weapons were used on Mars, Venus and Earth. Thus, on Mars, the Selbet weapons caused the collapse of the atmosphere; in fact, cities and bases on the surface were swept away from the planet along with the atmospheric shell. However, their traces can still be found in the area of one of the polar caps of Mars.

However, Selbet's original plan to destroy everyone on all planets at once was thwarted, as far as we could tell, for two reasons: the Selbetians did not expect that unarmed ships would resist them, taking the blow themselves, and they also underestimated the capabilities of Burkhad and Tumesout. In the Solar System, about 1 Earth hour after the strike on Phaeton, the first military ship called for help appeared, and this gave a chance to save some people - although this ship itself was soon destroyed by Selbet's superior forces. However, Selbet still managed to deliver a massive blow to Earth. This was a geophysical weapon, which was a bomb launched from space. They looked like huge white balls that fell on the planet, connected with the Earth's core and caused a number of global cataclysms - from unprecedented floods to massive volcanic eruptions.

The power of this weapon was such that it caused a split in the single earthly continent: tectonic plates diverged, Africa and South America were formed from the single continent, as well as other parts of the land, many islands, and so on. Other types of alien weapons were also used, which caused a fiery rain effect on the surface and other phenomena capable of destroying all life. One of the first terrible blows was deliberately delivered to the aforementioned capital of the earthly civilization on the site of the current Bermuda Triangle. As a result, not only a deep depression was formed there, which then filled with sea water, but also a serious interdimensional portal to plasmoid worlds, which is the cause of the mass anomalous phenomena observed in this area. This portal arose, in particular, due to the fact that a very large number of earthlings and aliens from different civilizations died here at the same time.

I hope that behind the dry lines of the article you realize the scale and tragedy of this entire planetary catastrophe... But everything was even more serious. The Selbet people, using the gravitational field of their ships, shifted the Earth's orbit, and it began to move away from the Sun. The climate on the planet began to change dramatically, what we now call winter appeared, snow began to fall... And most importantly, the Earth's orbit approached the orbit of the Moon, as already mentioned, a separate planet at that time. This was the calculation - to collide the Earth with the Moon, completely destroying both planets. At some point, the Moon found itself at a distance from the Earth 4 times smaller than it is now. Naturally, giant tidal waves arose (before this, there were no tides at all), as well as other disturbances in the atmosphere, and in general, that same Great Flood or a whole series of floods occurred. The Burkhadians and Tumesoutians tried to save as many earthlings as possible on their ships, taking them to extraterrestrial bases and other planets. The same thing happened with samples of the earth's flora and fauna. Representatives of the earthlings themselves helped save people and the planet's gene pool by organizing emergency evacuation of the population and animals on alien ships. This was reflected in the story of Noah and his ark. Noah was obviously one of such earthlings, and at the same time, he is a collective image of all such rescuers.

At the same time, the Burkhad and Tumesout spaceships, opposing Selbet, managed to create a gravitational field with their combined efforts, which stopped the approach of the Earth and the Moon. They were able to set the Earth on a new – current – orbit, and the Earth captured the Moon with its gravity, “making” it a satellite. After additional adjustments, our space situation became the current one. It is the artificial approach of the Earth and the Moon with the subsequent “capture” of the Moon by our celestial body and subsequent artificial adjustments of the orbits that explains why the Moon is always turned to us with one side. According to the information transmitted, after the use of weapons from space, there were also cases of armed Selbetites landing on the surface of the Earth with the purpose of, so to speak, cleansing. These were not mass operations, but open combat clashes between Selbet and our other creators also took place on the surface. We do not know the details yet.

Thus, a global war took place in the Solar System and directly on Earth, which essentially changed the appearance of our part of the Solar System, not to mention Earth. This was the "War of the Gods", which has come down to us in various ancient legends and fairy tales. Ultimately, the forces of the Interstellar Union, at the cost of great losses, managed to cope with Selbet, which was aggressive at that time. The civilization of this planet was isolated and excluded from the Interstellar Union, as it later turned out, for 250 Earth years. From the moment of the first strike on Phaeton until the complete cessation of hostilities, approximately 130 years passed. However, the most active phase of the war with strikes on planets from space lasted only a few Earth days. On Earth and other planets, it was possible to save approximately 10 thousand earthlings out of the aforementioned 55 million.

People died both directly from the use of terrible weapons, and from the cataclysms caused by them, and from the consequences of a sharp change in climate, for which they were completely unprepared. Together with earthlings, about 20 thousand aliens friendly to us died on the planet and in the solar system. Selbet's losses amounted to about 5 thousand - since the Selbet people were on well-protected military ships and did not become victims of a surprise attack. Ancient civilizations with all their achievements were literally wiped off the face of the Earth, among which was the legendary Atlantis, the approximate date of whose destruction coincides exactly with the time given by Plato in his famous dialogues.

After several decades, after the catastrophic processes on Earth had calmed down somewhat, the surviving earthlings were returned to the planet. Some of our ancestors were taken to the distant planet Disaru, the location of which is also known. There now exists a highly developed civilization that has entered the Interstellar Union. Outwardly, its representatives are practically no different from us.

Several hundred years later, the situation on Selbet changed. The extremists lost power, and the reptilian civilization was accepted back into the Interstellar Union at their request. The Selbetians admitted that their war against other civilizations was a mistake. Currently, the Selbet reptilians are active participants in many studies conducted by the Interstellar Union. They officially treat earthlings with respect and friendliness, including Irina Podzorova's astral contact with a Selbet reptilian scientist. Among ordinary Selbetians, as we understand, the attitude can be ambiguous, but in any case, there has been no aggression towards Earth from Selbet for a long time. They currently do not have their own bases on our planet (unlike several other civilizations). The military actions with Selbet in our part of space received a special name in the Galaxy: in the Interstellar Union, these events are called "Selbet's War with the Burkhad Colonies in the Solar System."

As for Earth, here, several hundred years after the war, a group of people attempted to reach their creators on the Moon by building a spaceship using nuclear fuel, the secrets of which had been known since pre-war times and passed down from generation to generation. The ship they built was imperfect, dangerous for earthlings and for the ecology of the planet, so our elder star brothers decided to intervene and explain to people that the time for flights into the sky had not yet come, and there was still much unexplored on their native Earth. This is precisely what the myth of the Tower of Babel, passed on to Moses, tells about.

The aliens claimed that people should first populate the Earth, learn to build cities, start making perfect ships themselves, and most importantly, live in peace and harmony with each other, and only then would they acquire the right to explore the Universe in spaceships in cooperation with their creators. People agreed with the fairness of these proposals and asked those whom they considered Gods to help them in the development of the greatly changed planet and in the arrangement of life on it. The leading psychologists and physiologists of the Interstellar Union decided to create several different races of earthlings from the previously united race, with the goal, on the one hand, of adapting them to the climate that had become different in different parts of the globe, and on the other, of starting the fight against xenophobia as the main obstacle to joining the Interstellar Union for many young races. Thus, by means of small artificial genetic mutations, four main races were created from the previously united race of earthlings, from the mixing of which, in turn, the peoples of our time gradually emerged.

After all the events described on Earth, but somewhat later, our era began, the history of which has partially reached us in a more or less distorted form. It was already a completely different era on, in fact, another planet - the planet that we know now. We, humans, on a subconscious level no longer trusted aliens as before, having absorbed all the horror of what had happened. Fear gradually became one of our main feelings, which in many ways eclipsed love. Not only specific fear, but fear as a general concept and a general motivation for actions. All this was one of the reasons why open contacts with aliens gradually ceased, giving way to their communication with individual contactees, suitable to them in their vibrations - vibrations, first of all, not containing fear.

WHERE ALL RELIGIONS COME FROM. WHAT IS GOD IN THE UNDERSTANDING OF ALIENS. THE TRUE MEANING OF THE MISSION OF JESUS CHRIST

Most likely, you have already understood that religions came to us from our creators - alien civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, who were for us those very Gods without any quotation marks, who created us from their genes (in the image and likeness ...), and then, so to speak, supervised us for millions of years. Judaism (Torah, on the basis of the historical part of which the biblical Old Testament was then created), Christianity (the Gospel or New Testament), Islam (the Koran) and Buddhism (this is more a philosophy than a religion) were transmitted to specific representatives of humanity at different times, taking into account the specifics of this given time, the characteristics of this people with its traditions and beliefs at that time, as well as the specific situation on the planet as a whole.

Therefore, all spiritual teachings, although somewhat different from each other, essentially, in their origins speak of the same truths in different words. In addition, each subsequent teaching (for example, in the chain Judaism-Christianity-Islam) is like an update of the previous one, not denying, but transforming past truths taking into account the new stage of development of society and new socio-cultural conditions when transmitting the updated teaching. All the enmity between their followers is caused not by the difference in basic postulates, but (intentionally or not) by the distortions introduced, fragments that were torn out of the linguistic or historical context - as a rule, in order to serve certain, not very spiritual goals of different groups of representatives of these movements.

SO WHAT IS GOD, ACCORDING TO ALIENS? They consider God to be our common Creator of all that exists, the Creator who created all souls from himself, and then all worlds, including the spiritual and later the material. We will now try to describe all this very, very briefly and in the most understandable words.

All souls were created at once and forever. It really was at a certain moment, but time itself did not exist then, so we can assume that in time (which appeared later) you and I have always been – just like God himself. That is, despite this specific, but timeless moment of creation, each of us has always been and always will be. This is precisely the real “always in both directions” – without any reservations. At the same time, the soul cannot be destroyed or dispersed under any circumstances – otherwise the same could be done with God, since each rational soul is his full-fledged manifestation, which is connected with him into a single whole. The Creator (the Absolute, God, the Supreme Mind, etc.) develops (if such a term is appropriate here at all) cyclically. In Hinduism, these cycles are figuratively called the Day of Brahma and the Night of Brahma, hinting at the manifested and unmanifested state of everything that exists. At the end of the manifested state (also called Kalpa in the Indian Vedas), everything that exists in all worlds returns to the unmanifested form - there is nothing, but this "nothing" exists in its potential and can manifest again. At the end of the unmanifested part of the cycle (also called Pralaya), an impulse arises, which then leads to the manifestation of everything that exists. Speaking figuratively and again in the most simplified way, this can be considered the first "thought" of the awakened Supreme Being (Absolute, God, Logos, etc.). Our eternal rational souls, however, do not disappear completely when everything dissolves - they also remain in a state merged with the Absolute, in order to then manifest and take their places exactly at the level where they finished developing in the previous manifested cycle. All this is described in more detail in the works of Helena Blavatsky, as well as directly in the Vedas.

According to the Interstellar Union, the global manifest cycle of the Universe (Maha-Kalpa) lasts approximately 125 billion years (let us recall that according to scientific data, the Earth is about 6 billion years old). But there are also sub-cycles, which are parts of the global cycle; after each of them, only a partial dissolution of the Universe occurs. The duration of the global unmanifest cycle (Maha-Pralaya) cannot be estimated in time, because the scale for estimation itself disappears - the concept of time no longer exists. That is, it can be either a second or billions of years. These cycles replace each other eternally; they have neither beginning nor end - although our limited mortal mind (namely the mind, not the soul) is not able to comprehend this, logic does not work here.

Now that we have, albeit at the most simplified level, figured out the cycles of the Universe, let us return to our topics. However, here I would like to immediately warn you all: now there will be information that will certainly conflict with the dogmatic stereotypes of many believers. So, the special status of the soul known to us under the name of Jesus Christ is connected with the fact that this soul was born by God (the Absolute, the Supreme, the Creator, God the Father, Logos...) the very first, that is, before all other souls. It was, as it were, the very first mental impulse of the Creator. It is possible that we are talking here not only about the beginning of the current cycle of the manifested Universe, but also about some timeless beginning beyond all cycles. This is all that can be said here in words - that is, from the level of logic. Only then, at one moment, were all other souls created, including ours. However, this first soul is unique - since it was the first creative impulse of the Most High, which, due to such primacy, has a special, so to speak, original status of closeness to the Creator. We can say that this is a greater degree of affinity with the Creator than all other souls. An important remark: this does not mean that other spiritual movements not connected with Jesus are somehow worse than Christianity.

Each of them has its own founder with its own very high goals, who also came from the highest divine (spiritual) level - see the link to the article about the levels above. But the soul of Jesus was still the very first of the created souls. At the same time, one of the very strong (if one can say so) souls, who were at one of the highest levels of development available to us (above which for us "from here" everything merges into divine infinity), was the notorious son of the same one God Lucifer, who in time immemorial in our manifested cycle made the choice known to us to separate from the Creator.

Now, attention. At that very paradise-base where the first people were created and where Lucifer, incarnated in the reptilian scientist Selbet, was, there was also Jesus! HOWEVER, Jesus, as it turned out, was there (unlike Lucifer) not in a physical, but in an astral body. That is, as if he was invisibly present at all the events, possibly (but this is only an assumption so far) - and personifying that very Holy Spirit, which is spoken of in the Bible. But that's not all. At the paradise-base lived many scientists from the planets of our creators. So, one of these scientists, representing Burkhad, was that incarnate spirit whom (or which) we now know under the name of Mary - the Virgin Mary, the physical mother of Jesus Christ from the Gospel. This scientist (Mary in the physical body of a Burkhad) took an active part in the creation of the first people based on genetic experiments. And next to him (or her) in the astral body was constantly Jesus. It was precisely this, in many ways (according to the representatives of the Interstellar Union), that could have become the reason for all of his further actions on Earth, as well as that sacrifice of the highest level for the sake of people (we are not talking about crucifixion here), which will be discussed below.

After the "expulsion" of people from the territory of the paradise base, Jesus decided to incarnate at a certain moment in a human body, since this path was the best for helping people in their spiritual development. However, the level of energies (vibrations) of this highest spiritual personality was so powerful that none of the peoples, none of the emerging cultures of rapidly developing humanity could provide the energetic (let's call them that) conditions necessary for such an incarnation. Therefore, being on the spiritual plane between physical lives, Jesus developed a grandiose plan. Here it is necessary to keep in mind that on his spiritual level, in essence, a complete merger with the Almighty occurs, when the soul does not separate itself from God in all its manifestations. Thus, this plan can safely be considered divine. This plan included forming on Earth a special nationality with a culture, religious beliefs, knowledge (and therefore, collective energy), capable of realizing its physical incarnation. This was the Jewish people.

All subsequent "miracles" described in the Old Testament (i.e. the Torah) occurred with his direct participation or under his leadership. It was he, embodied in the omnipotent representative of the civilization (and the planet) Tumesout Yahweh, who appeared to Moses, for whom, taking into account the perception system of this contactee, the effect of the famous "burning bush" was created. That is, he was that very "God Yahweh". It was he who then led the Jews out of Egypt, choosing Moses as his contactee. All the so-called "Egyptian plagues", the division of the Red Sea and the rest of the Old Testament miracles were produced on the basis of alien technologies for controlling the elements, flora and fauna of the planet. If we take into account that the age of the civilizations that created us is an order of magnitude greater than ours (tens of millions of years), then this is quite understandable, although no less surprising than the capabilities of the weapons described in this article above. The Egyptian priests could not resist these technologies, because their "patrons" were the so-called plasmoid civilizations ("spirits of nature"), which were on lower vibrational levels than Yahweh (Jesus). In this context, it becomes clear who, why and how transmitted the tablets with the commandments to Moses, who was selected by vibrations (an alien ship, surrounded by a cloud of plasma, really hovered over Mount Sinai, as some esotericists assume); what the manna from heaven was (a balanced nutritional mixture of artificial origin, which was sprayed from ships over the Jewish camp at night); what the Ark of the Covenant was (a generator of high-frequency radiation, serving for various purposes and made by the Jews according to the technology precisely transmitted to Moses), and so on.

Let us make it clear right away: all this is not an attempt to explain “divine miracles” by technogenic means. For us (not to mention the peoples of antiquity), these miracles are in fact just that – divine, because they were truly revealed by our “creator gods” for our salvation and development. There really was divine will in this from the highest levels, and it is quite possible that spiritual light-bearing beings – angels – who partially or completely materialized their subtle bodies really took part in all this.

Let's add one more detail, despite the fact that it may additionally shock the supporters of orthodox Christianity. The wife of the Tumesout Yahweh was Mary, the future Mother of God, incarnated in the body of a woman from the planet Tumesout. For some time she even stayed on Earth, but then flew to Tumesout. Forgive me, I do not want to offend anyone's beliefs, but I am writing what was conveyed to us, and in the truth of which I am confident for many reasons.

Thus, the entire history of the Jewish people, starting with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, was the history of the creation of an ethnic egregor, called upon at a certain moment to ensure the physical embodiment on Earth of the highest spiritual entity - the "first Son" of the Almighty, whom we know under the name of Yeshua or Jesus. It is not surprising, dear readers, that the above is rejected by both adherents of Christianity and convinced materialists - although for completely different reasons. The former defend the dogmas to which they are accustomed, so they declare the information they receive to be heresy; the latter are, in principle, not satisfied with explanations of our history linked to spirituality and spiritual personalities - no matter how convincing they may be. So for atheists this is a "fiction" aimed (on the contrary!) at promoting "dying Christianity". A smiley face should be put here. My personal conclusion: the truth always does not suit radicals from opposite sides, but for diametrically opposite reasons. This is one of the “litmus tests” of truth – especially Truth.

BUT WHAT WAS NEXT IN JESUS' PLAN, AND WHAT WAS HIS SACRIFICE REALLY?

Having prepared the cultural and energetic egregor of the Jewish people, he was born to a woman we know as the Virgin Mary or the Mother of God – at about the time indicated in the Gospel. The conception was indeed “immaculate”, but it was not a dove that participated in it; the dove is an image. Mary, with her consent, was taken onto Burkhad’s ship. There, what today we would call an artificial insemination procedure took place, based on genetic material taken from a representative of Burkhad, whose soul came from a very high spiritual level. After the birth of Jesus, events took place that were generally correctly described later by his disciples – the future apostles. Jesus really did, as many are convinced, travel to various countries (including India, as well as the territory of today’s Russia), studying with sages there, and perhaps even teaching them; however, he did this not with caravans, but on the alien ship of his Burkhad physical father – that is, the movement was very fast. Unlike you and me, having incarnated, he remembered almost everything about himself, without losing contact with our Heavenly Father.

The meaning of his entire life was to bring a new teaching - or rather, an update of the knowledge given by him (during his incarnation as the inhabitant of Tumesout Yahweh) to Moses on Mount Sinai. This update was necessary because the goals of the previously transmitted spiritual teaching had already been fulfilled - a Jewish people had been created in the midst of an enemy environment, who knew the highest truths inaccessible to others, and who therefore had the opportunity to bring the Messiah they had been waiting for. A Messiah who would bring higher truths than the ideology of "an eye for an eye", which was really necessary at first to create a separate, energetically distinct from other national egregore.

Here, it seems, is the right time to digress from the earthly life of Jesus and answer in more detail the logical question: why is there so much, it would seem, cruelty, punishment, death, and so on in the Old Testament? God constantly forbids, frightens, and punishes. But where is the love, fully revealed in the New Testament (Gospel)? The fact is that, as you remember, the entire history of the Jewish people, associated with the transmission of the Torah, took place after the terrible war with Selbet, which left, among other things, a genetic imprint on all people. Obviously, after this brutal war, which destroyed most of humanity, the Selbet genes were activated in our ancestors, carrying within themselves both the struggle for survival at any cost, and mistrust of our creators who allowed the “War of the Gods,” and the already mentioned fear, and disobedience to these very gods or God. In addition (and this is important!), before the war, during the Age of Light (in Sanskrit, Satya Yuga), our genetic code lacked genes responsible for the production of enzymes in the body that are necessary for digesting protein products of animal origin - meat, fish, etc. This was due, on the one hand, to the fact that the key "suppliers" of our genes - representatives of Burkhad and terrestrial primates - also did not have such enzymes.

On the other hand, on the flourishing "paradise" planet of that time we had no need for animal protein. That is why before the war 12 thousand years ago we really were complete vegetarians, as the Indian Vedas claim! However, after the Earth found itself in an orbit farther from the Sun (which led to the appearance of the cold season, as well as a change in the energy of the planet as a whole), plant food was not enough for human survival. Therefore, the creator civilizations changed our gene code, adding 5% of the genes of the Tumesoutians, who also consumed animal proteins. Accordingly, the proportion of genes of the highly spiritual representatives of Burkhad was forced to be reduced. But thanks to this, we developed digestive enzymes that made us omnivores! At the same time, due to this change in the gene code, as well as energy and climate changes on the planet, human height decreased from 3-4 meters (before the war) to 1.5-2 meters (shortly after this 130-year war).

The Vedic knowledge of vegetarianism, transmitted before the war to the rishis (ancient Indian sages - contactees with plasmoid civilizations), could not take into account the situation after the war - simply because this war happened much later. Such an explanation gives a clear understanding of the entire situation around the disputes between vegetarians and meat eaters - the truth is again "in the middle". In addition, the souls of animals, according to the information we have received, have fundamental differences from intelligent souls - you and me. They are not immortal, although they can reincarnate - also into animals and for a limited number of lives. But the main thing is different: the souls of animals were created and are created by those very plasmoids! That is, intelligent subtle-material entities, whose civilizations passed on the Vedic knowledge. They have their own specific views on the material world and physical embodiment in it, which they consider only an erroneous separation from God. (In contrast to the civilizations of the Interstellar Union, which regard incarnations in physical bodies as the most important part of understanding the Universe, but most importantly – as a unique opportunity for the development of the soul).

Plasmoids consider the animal souls they created to be their "children" and, naturally, have tried and continue to try to convince earthly contactees not to touch animals, not to eat them, and so on. In many cases, this is entirely justified, but, as we now understand, it has a specific reason, not always connected with the inevitable "lowering of spiritual vibrations due to eating meat." As for, for example, the prohibition in both the Torah and the Koran on eating pork, here everything is even more pragmatic - pigs are carriers of a severe parasitic disease, trichinosis, caused by small roundworms called trichinella. They can only be destroyed by heat treatment (cooking) the meat for many hours. Neither the ancient Jews nor, much later, the Arabs could have done this in their living conditions. That is why pork was strictly prohibited to prevent infection. Too frequent consumption of coarse meat products, however, can really cause harm on many different levels – that is why Christianity and Islam have a system of cleansing fasts, “tied” to the specifics of a given people and culture. In addition, as is known, Judaism and Islam also have systems of rituals that cleanse the food itself (especially meat) from various kinds of negativity (respectively – kashrut and halal).

As far as I understand, it was precisely in order to rebuild the new spiritual teaching of the time of Moses from the "pagan" traditions coming from plasmoids and connected with the worship of animals (it was not for nothing that the Jews made the notorious Golden Calf and worshiped it in the absence of Moses, causing his anger and forcing him to break the tablets), that the entire system of animal sacrifices to the god Yahweh was introduced. At the same time, the killing of living beings connected with the consumption of meat food really does coarsen the consciousness. This is another reason explaining the significantly more rigid approach in the spiritual instructions transmitted to people at that time - as well as the very harsh consequences of disobedience. And the last thing. It was after the war, due to the lowering of people's spiritual vibrations, that the microorganisms that were previously "responsible" for the utilization of dead biomass (decomposition into constituent elements) mutated, giving rise to colonies of modern pathogenic bacteria and viruses. Well, all the additional tools for implementing this principle of “like attracts like” were, of course, found in the Universe.

If we sum it all up, it becomes clearer why in the “post-flood” times (after the war and cataclysms) such a very severe teaching was needed, conveying high truths in such a form, not always pleasant to us now. In a different, more “humanistic” way, it was simply impossible to form in those times the egregor of the Jewish people, called upon later to accept the incarnate Jesus. It was a spiritual teaching, relevant in precisely this form in the post-war era of loss of knowledge, loss of light - Kali Yuga, the beginning of which is dated by the Bhagavad Gita to the time of Krishna's arrival (approximately 5 thousand years ago). According to the information of the Interstellar Union, Krishna was the incarnation on Earth of a soul that is the coordinator of our Galaxy, a soul that is on a very high spiritual level, and therefore truly perceived (by us and by ourselves) as the “Supreme Personality of God,” as the Bhagavad Gita says. Well, later, 3 thousand years after that, in the time of Jesus, much of what was necessary before had lost its relevance and required, at a minimum, updating.

Now let us talk about the antagonism of the Jewish sages, and indeed of the majority of the “chosen by God” (that is, in essence, by Jesus!) Jewish people towards Jesus himself. Along with great opportunities, as always happens, this people had (and has) a great responsibility before humanity, which is implied, first of all, by any chosenness. As we know, the Jews ultimately could not believe in the divinity of Jesus, despite his wisdom from his earliest years, which the Jewish sages, those same scribes and Pharisees, so called in the New Testament for their dogmatic adherence to the outdated norms of the old teaching, were not able to deny. Jesus did not hide from them the path of his soul and the peculiarities of his mission, directly saying that he was that very “God Yahweh”; moreover, the Jews had a complete understanding of reincarnation, which in Judaism is called the term “gilgul”. But the Jews, for the most part, did not believe that the Mission (Moshiach) was before them, because they expected something completely different from their Savior - not a call to love even in response to evil, but an uprising, an exit through his power and miracles from Roman slavery, followed by a complete restoration of the destroyed Jerusalem Temple.

It was precisely with these expectations, as it turned out, that Judas Iscariot’s betrayal was connected. Judas did offer to give away the Teacher’s location to the Romans and received his 30 pieces of silver for it. However, he had a very clear motive, and he did not want Jesus to die. Judas also sincerely hoped that the Teacher, who had repeatedly performed miracles before his eyes, would restore justice and sweep away the hated pagan Roman ego. But this did not happen for too long. Then Judas decided to take extreme measures. He was convinced that under the threat of terrible torture and death, his beloved Teacher would finally be forced to show everyone his power – instead of preaching about “turning one cheek instead of the other.” When this did not happen, Judas was still unable to understand that the Teacher and his teachings were an inseparable whole, and therefore Jesus could not violate any of the commandments he proclaimed. Unlike the Teacher, Judas violated this teaching – but not by betraying Jesus, but by the fact that instead of sincere, deep repentance for what he had done and the same request to God for forgiveness, he found the strength in himself only to return the money and commit suicide, sending his soul (primarily by this, and not by betraying Jesus!) to the lower levels of the spiritual world.

Of course, both Jesus himself and his, so to speak, “support group” from Burkhad could have easily prevented the terrible suffering and death on the cross if they wanted to. But no one could go against the divine plan, in the “development” of which he himself took part (if one can say so). The full meaning of this martyrdom is beyond the scope of this article, so here we will only say that it was the Burkhadians who put the guards to sleep and took Jesus’ body to their ship at night, and then the most important thing in this whole story happened – and not only in this one.

During the time between his physical death and coming to the future apostles, Jesus, being in the spiritual world, made the very choice that is his supreme sacrifice. More precisely, it was outside of time, because everything happened in the spiritual world, where there is no time. Possessing, in essence, divine abilities, Jesus completely erased the information about physical death as such from the DNA of his body. This is what led to the body not only being restored on the material level, but also being able to once again become a receptacle for his soul - that is, a real resurrection from the dead occurred. However, this process is absolutely irreversible, Jesus can never again die in this body physically - "his own death", if we mean old age or illness. Precisely never, if by never we mean the manifested part of the cycle of development of the Universe, which, as we know, takes many tens of billions of years. By doing so, Jesus deprived himself of the opportunity to permanently reside in the spiritual world, as well as the opportunity to physically incarnate in the infinite number of manifested worlds of the Universe, where the conditions, to put it mildly, are much more pleasant than in our physical reality. In essence, he consciously tied himself to our material world.

BUT WHY DID HE DO THIS?

It turns out that only by being in our physical world in a material body can we maintain such a level of connection with our spiritual egregor (Christianity), at which, through the rite of communion, Jesus can connect with everyone who truly believes in him. And not just connect energetically, but take on and dissolve all the negativity of this believer, that is, everything that we call sins. In this way, Jesus cleanses our world, leading it to the Light. This has nothing to do with the “propaganda of Christianity” and “religiosity” in the abstract sense, being a completely clear energy technique. But this works - once again - only if the believer sincerely, and not formally, accepts the teachings of Jesus and his very personality. Through each person who receives communion, Jesus in this unique way elevates humanity, preparing it for the planned event, which will be discussed in the last section of the article. At the same time, connecting with the negative energy of everyone who undergoes the sacrament, Jesus experiences (to put it mildly) spiritual and energetic discomfort, which can be understood from our level of perception as suffering. This is what is meant when Christianity says that we continue to crucify Jesus with our sins. As we were told through Irina, his spiritual Guides, who are on levels of the spiritual world beyond us, tried to dissuade him from this exceptional sacrifice, unique for the Universe. Jesus' Guides told him: they have already crucified and killed you, and now they will crucify and kill you with their sins constantly... But Jesus still made his sacrificial choice for us. We were also told that many in the Galaxy do not understand why he did this in relation to our planet. One of the explanations is that he stood at the origins of our creation, for him we are like his children. The second explanation, obviously deeper, is that he has his own special plan for humanity. We will also talk about this plan at the end of the article.

Jesus is currently in a physical body on the planet Burkhad, the capital of the Interstellar

Union, that is, the homeland of his physical father. We can hardly imagine the level of vibrations and capabilities of his body. A special artificial island of approximately 20 square kilometers, surrounded by a huge reservoir, was created for Jesus. There, Jesus receives selected disciples from different parts of the Universe, being in constant communication with our Creator and in constant energetic contact with the spiritual egregor he created on Earth, supporting and guiding it. Such voluntary isolation is caused by the fact that even the highest vibrations of the inhabitants of Burkhad contrast too much with the spiritual level of Jesus, and, being among them, he would experience constant severe discomfort, feeling, and therefore dissolving (or burning - as you prefer) all the negative manifestations of their vibrations.

In order to leave the physical body, Jesus would now have to either be killed by someone or take his own life - the latter would lead to a fall to the levels of very low vibrations of the spiritual world. But if someone in the Universe even dared to try to kill him (which is hardly imaginable), then this could only happen with his consent and with complete inaction - given his divine capabilities. So this would also be suicide, which Jesus, of course, would never do.

Now a few words about the temptation of Jesus in the desert by Lucifer. To the corresponding question we were told that this temptation took place in the astral world. If Jesus had bowed down to Lucifer, tempted by the power over the world that he offered him in exchange for abandoning his plan, then this would have been worship of the idea of departure from divinity, the idea of separation from the Supreme Creator, which Lucifer himself had realized. Then Jesus would have become the same as Lucifer, and, as the firstborn son of God, would most likely have received power over Lucifer himself - that is, in essence, would have taken his place. But Jesus, to this entire tempting kingdom over the material world, preferred first physical suffering and death, and then the eternal sacrifice for all of us, which was discussed above.

AND IN CONCLUSION OF THE SECTION – BRIEFLY ABOUT OTHER SPIRITUAL TRADITIONS.

We have already found out about the sources of Hinduism and Judaism. Now about Islam and Buddhism. The Prophet Muhammad was a physical contactee of the planet Tumesout (like Moses). The teaching that was transmitted to him was aimed at forming a single spiritual and national egregor from disunited Arab tribes that were actively at odds with each other. Anyone who finds the time and desire to look at least at Wikipedia (not to mention the Koran itself) will easily see that this knowledge is based on the same biblical truths, little different, in essence, from those transmitted earlier, but adapted and updated to take into account the new time (several centuries after the birth of Jesus), as well as the specific geographical and historical situation around the Arab world of that time. At the same time, Muslims worship the Kaaba - a sacred building with a sacred stone inside, which, as they believe, was recreated after the flood by the same forefather of the Jewish people, the prophet Abraham (Ibrahim). At the same time, Islam fully recognizes the existence of the Virgin Mary (Miriam) as the mother of Jesus and Jesus himself as one of the great prophets (Issa). At the same time, Muhammad introduced, so to speak, certain “creative changes” (let’s call them that) into the transmitted teaching, some of which were then, as always happens, used by religious fanatics from Islam to achieve their own goals. Here we will not develop this topic further.

Prophet Muhammad really did make a night journey (Miraj) to Jerusalem, as described in the verses (ayat) of the Quran's Surah Al-Najm. In Jerusalem, he really met Abraham (Ibrahim), Moses (Musa) and Jesus (Issa). It was an astral journey - without moving the physical body, and everything happened in the astral world. At present, Muhammad is incarnate and has already left the incarnation in which he recently resided on one of the planets outside our Galaxy, and is in the Spiritual World, still maintaining the spiritual egregor he created on Earth. As creators of spiritual egregors, Jesus and Muhammad are in contact with each other on a spiritual level.

Gautama Buddha was the incarnation of a spiritual personality (soul) from one of the highest (of those accessible to our understanding) spiritual levels. Buddhism conveyed and conveys a certain view of divinity, more characteristic of plasmoid civilizations inclined to an impersonal perception of the Creator (which is also part of the Truth). Now Buddha is in the spiritual world, from where he also maintains his egregor.

GOALS OF ALIENS – WHY DO THEY NEED CONTACT WITH US AND THIS TRANSFER OF INFORMATION

The main goal of our creators is to raise the consciousness of people to a level that will allow our civilization to enter the Interstellar Union. For this, a number of conditions must be met, including:

- the cessation of all military conflicts on the planet, the absence of any military actions for at least five Earth years;
- a complete rejection of the death penalty for crimes, which only harms all participants in this situation on a spiritual level and is, in essence, simply revenge with a lack of understanding that the entire society as a whole is responsible for what was done;
- refusal of abortions – first of all, because they do not take into account the plans of souls coming to incarnation from various spiritual levels and who have been waiting for their turn to incarnate for a long time;
- respect and careful attitude towards our Planet and everything connected with it, gradual restoration of all disharmony in this area, which we have already allowed;
- full respect for the opinions of all people, freedom of speech and opinion;
- the expression of the will of a clear majority of the planet's able-bodied population (at least 70%), expressed in a universal suffrage.

These conditions are the main ones.

We are expected in the Interstellar Union - as full partners and assistants, so that later together we can explore our amazing, infinitely diverse Universe, in which we live together with our alien friends and creators. The Universe, consisting of the physical (material), astral and spiritual worlds, through the experience of being in which intelligent souls develop to the highest divine levels. This applies to both the souls of earthlings and the souls of aliens - especially since both we and they can incarnate on different planets of the physical world, as well as in the bodies of subtle-material plasmoids. In this sense, there is absolutely no difference between us. That is, in the next life, any of us can incarnate on one of the planets distant from Earth and vice versa.

Highly developed extraterrestrial civilizations (Tumesout, Burkhad and Selbet) created earthly people as hybrids, designed to combine the best features of the representatives of these planets. Now our ancient parents, who gave us the basic spiritual teachings, are ready to accept us, so to speak, into the "bosom of the star family". After that, we will be able to receive all the knowledge, technologies, experience in treating diseases and rejuvenation, and much more that they have accumulated. Joining the Interstellar Union (which, let me remind you, currently includes 116 civilizations of our Galaxy, out of a total of 727) presupposes full-fledged mass contact with us and the possibility of freely visiting all these planets. However, all this cannot be revealed to us as long as the spiritual level of our civilization is so low that it could very quickly reduce the use of most of this knowledge to military or other aggressive goals aimed at destruction, not creation.

Vivid evidence of our approach are the multiple aggressive actions of the military of various countries, which led to accidents of unprotected (usually tourist) alien ships, as well as to the death or capture of pilots or innocent passengers. We know the exact dates of such events, all the details, and we also know the approximate locations of secret bases where shot down or fallen alien ships were secretly delivered. According to the information passed on to us, the governments of the leading countries are well aware of the existence of the Interstellar Union. Moreover, secret agreements were concluded between specific political leaders and representatives of the Interstellar Union in the last century, stipulating the non-use of nuclear weapons on the planet, since this would have yielded nothing - the "aliens" firmly stated that in order to save humanity they would destroy launched combat missiles with nuclear charges. We were told that such cases have already taken place.

At the same time, our creators do everything possible not to deprive us of freedom of choice, freedom of development on the path that we ourselves choose. This, as well as the physical safety of contactees, who will immediately fall "under the hood" of our "humane" special services, are the main reasons why we are not given the publicly available material evidence of contacts that many people desire. Even if such evidence were available at the official level, they would try to disavow it with all their might. If they were massive, then this would lead, with our level of collective consciousness, not to reconciliation within society at all, but to its disunity due to attempts to use "contact with aliens" for their own selfish purposes, including, again, military ones. Well, their opposition to such use would lead to mutual violence - that is, the implementation of our favorite blockbusters, where (quite deliberately) aliens are often presented to us as an aggressive hostile force. In other words, they will not "force us to be happy" by means of imposed mass contact. Instead, throughout our history they act through individual contactees, who, to the best of their ability and capabilities, convey to us knowledge from the Interstellar Union. Among these contactees (who were quite conscious) were well-known personalities, such as the entire Roerich family, Helena Blavatsky, Konstantin Tsiolkovsky, Wolf Messing, Vanga and many others.

The entry of the Earth into the Interstellar Union, as it turned out, is also the goal of Jesus himself - as we remember, he is in a physical body on the planet Burkhad, the capital of the Interstellar Union. When this happens (after fulfilling the above conditions, essentially reflecting the meaning of several commandments of the New Testament), Jesus will come (fly) to Earth in a physical body. This will be the very Second Coming - as a celebration of our achievements. And then, according to Jesus's plan, the key moment should happen: he is convinced that earthlings themselves will offer him to become the ruler of the planet. Then the Era of Love and Light will come again, similar to the one that was before the war 12 thousand years ago, but on a different turn of the spiral of development. Thus, the entire "puzzle" of information is put together, explaining in a single knowledge both spiritual and religious truths, and historical aspects, and a completely material picture of the alien support of human civilization by our creators from the Interstellar Union of the Galaxy.

And the last thing in this article. We also managed to find out that, in addition to the Interstellar Union, there are other communities of civilizations in the Galaxy. Their participants do not always agree with the ideas of the Interstellar Union, but there is no open confrontation between these communities of civilizations. One of the most famous communities of this kind is known to us as the Galactic Federation, which is “based” in the Pleiades constellation. It includes 17 physical civilizations and about 700 subtle-material (plasmoid) civilizations. At the same time, 3 of the 17 material civilizations are also members of the Interstellar Union, which does not contradict the rules of both communities. Earth contactees often call the Galactic Federation the “Federation of Light”, since it contains many high-vibration plasmoid worlds. A number of participants in the Galactic Federation are more determined to change the situation on Earth. They are ready to intervene and help us “bring order” to society and the planet. However, they cannot and will not do this without the permission of the Interstellar Union, which includes the civilizations that directly created our ancestors.

The Interstellar Union currently ensures the security of our civilization - first of all, from attempts of unauthorized influence on us by individual representatives of different planets who violate the laws of the Interstellar Union (in fact, these are criminals or, if you like, pirates). For this purpose, a special division of the Galactic Security Service operates, which deals with our planet. In addition, due to the presence on Earth and under the surface of the Moon of many bases (including military ones) of several civilizations of the Interstellar Union, a system has been created that is capable of preventing or repelling an attack on our planet from space - as was the case with Selbet.

So, dear friends, everything depends only on you and me. Including specifically on YOU – dear reader.

Thank you for reading this post!

The above information was transmitted to all of us through the contactee Irina Podzorova (Voronezh), mainly by these specific representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union:

MidgasKaus (humanoid) - biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms. Planet Esler, constellation Bootes, 36 light years from the Sun;

Raom-Tiyan (humanoid) – specialist in the history of interaction with young space civilizations. Planet Burkhad, constellation Cygnus, 670 light years from the Sun;

Te Per Hredours (reptilian) – biologist, ecologist, transformer of reptilian genetic information into cells of humanoid races. Planet Selbet, constellation Canes Venatici, 730 light years from the Sun.

The author expresses personal gratitude for the invaluable knowledge passed on to us to MidgasKaus, Raom-Tiyan, Te Per Hredours, as well as Kirkhiton (planet Daraal), Saint-Germain (planet Disaru), Mirakh-Kaunt (planet Burkhad), Li-Shioni (planet Shimor), Oal-Maraumsu (planet Futissa, not part of the Interstellar Union) and other aliens - outside this list.

FUNCTION OF THE GENES OF EACH OF THE PARENTAL RACES IN THE HUMAN GENOME

Man is a combination of biological and spiritual nature. His physical body contains genetic information from four different races, absolutely different from each other. Most of all, representatives of the earthly civilization have genetic information from the primates of their native planet. This made it possible to stabilize the genetic information of three races that came from space and decided to participate in the Great Sacrament of creating a being in which an intelligent spirit from the eternal and common home for all - the world of non-embodied spirits - can incarnate. Forty-five percent of the genetic information of earthly primates allows intelligent earthlings to easily adapt to the natural world of your planet, but due to the peculiarity of the evolution of these animals, the human brain is designed in such a way that the intelligent spirit that manifests through it easily forms habits - up to automatic reflexes, sometimes replacing genuine spiritual thinking.

At the same time, stable connections between neurons are formed in the cerebral cortex of an earthly person according to the network type. The energy involved in these connections of nerve cells is always aimed at their preservation, which is carried out by activating the instinct of self-preservation when faced with a situation that contradicts the usual course of events or the formed worldview. This is a useful Divine mechanism that helps the spirit to adapt to earthly reality very quickly and productively. But with disharmonious upbringing and living in a society of low-vibration people, this feature contributes to the preservation of negative experience of interaction with people and includes the instinct of self-preservation when trying to go to Light, Faith, Kindness and Love.

The emotion of fear is precisely the earthly form of avoiding danger - real or imaginary. It arises when the instinct of self-preservation is activated. The genetic information of the inhabitants of Tumesout mainly affects the digestive and locomotor systems. It was the genes of the Tumesoutians that made you omnivorous, since after the Burkhad-Selbet War, the Earth became different, and the conditions on it required a large amount of animal protein food for the preservation and development of intelligent life than it had been before. Also, the genes of the Tumesoutians helped you become upright flexible creatures, practically devoid of hair.

The information embedded in your DNA from the Burkhad representatives affects your immunity, as well as your hormonal and nervous systems. It is thanks to the genes of the Burkhad representatives that your lymphocytes have the ability to remember for a long time the proteins of microorganisms that are dangerous to the body. This is the basis for preventive vaccination and treatment of infectious diseases by introducing serums from the blood plasma of people who have successfully recovered from this disease. In addition, the genes of the Burkhadians allow the human brain to quickly remember diverse information and store it for a long time in neural connections by secreting special proteins. The least amount of genes in the bodies of representatives of the earthly race are those of the Selbet planet - cold-blooded egg-laying reptilians. Despite the small percentage of these genes, they are very important for you. They are the ones that code the formation of synapses in the brain that are capable of responding to an increase in the level of stress hormones (for example, adrenaline) with a surge of energy activity in the frontal and parietal regions of the brain, through which the consciousness of the intelligent spirit, as well as its will and thinking, is manifested.

Due to this, in situations of discomfort and danger, instead of the usual activation of brain receptors for aminobutyric acid derivatives in primates, which leads to fear, depression and flight, there is an increase in the activity of the dopamine-serotonin system with the subsequent release of endorphins of various natures, restoring the biochemical balance of neurons. This allows people in stressful situations to adequately perceive the world around them, think productively, act effectively and according to the circumstances.

Each earthly person contains a genetic complex that allows him to live and develop on this planet as a harmonious biological, social and spiritual being, and the energy components of human DNA contain the potential of all the creators of your race. The DNA of primates contains the energy of the earthly plasmoids that created the souls of these animals, and the DNA of the three galactic races contains the energy of their planets and star systems.

Thus, the paths for contacts with humanoids, plasmoids and the spiritual world are open to intelligent spirits incarnated in earthlings. These opportunities should be used by you for the good - if you are interested in developing Divine qualities in yourself, without which true love, wisdom and happiness in the Light of the One God, the Creator of the Universe and our common Father are unthinkable.

The Spirit of Osama Bin Laden on the 9/11 Terrorist Attack. Twin Towers https://blog.cassiopeia.center/duh-usama-ben-ladena-o-terroristicheskom-akte-9-11

Question : "Is it true that 9/11 and the Twin Towers were your terrorist act?"

The Spirit of Osama Bin Laden answers:

I was in another country. They didn't find me or my documents there: they didn't find anything, they didn't prove any connection. I figured it out myself and conducted my own investigation because they accused me. In Al-Qaeda*, the group I led, there were highly qualified specialists in various fields, there were even scientists. Yes, there are scientists in the Islamic world, we are not such savages as some people imagine us to be.

There were even scientists in our organization, there were Islamic theologians, very prominent ones, there were people who constantly pray for the whole world. By the way, I also prayed, observed namaz, observed fasts, I observed the law of charity, helped the poor. Now I am not praising myself, Allah knows my deeds, I am only saying that the goal of my activity was not the murder of innocent people outside the territory of those countries where my brothers lived, and where Western interventionists invaded in order to own our land, our wealth through their protégés, and whoever dared to say a word against was killed like a dog. Even dogs in the Western world are treated more humanely than our people.

At first it made me very angry, irritated, because your Christian nations are close to us and our religion. In our book there is also about Jesus, it is written that he is a prophet. We revere him, but we do not pray to him. It is as unthinkable as praying to you, for example, or to Irina. You also do a good deed like Jesus, but only the one who created the world deserves prayer, because prayer is the highest form of worship. And the highest form of worship is available only to the highest being. If you pray to someone else, it is a violation of the commandment of unity, because God is one.

But we honor all prophets without prayer, we can ask them for something. We cannot read a prayer to some saint, it will be equating him with God.

As I have already said, in Al-Qaeda, there are many theologians who knew this, even studied Christianity. There were scientists then, there are now, even those who completed their education in the United States of America, received a military education there and went to work in their special services, remaining secret supporters of Al-Qaeda. That is, we have our own detectives, investigators, lawyers there.

And that is why, when I learned about this terrible terrorist act, and I can call it terrorist, because it was the murder of 3,000 innocent people who were simply in these buildings and were not fighting with anyone, were not capturing anyone...

I instructed those of our people who were in America at that time to conduct their own investigation into who did this. I learned many strange things about this terrible tragedy.

How do you look at this fact: two planes crash into two towers, and three of them fall, although no one crashes into the third, but it falls in exactly the same way as the other two, at the same angle, which was standing not far from them? Will you say a ghost plane? Or who crashed into it? I don’t believe it. You know, I didn’t believe in ghosts. Of course, I knew that there are Jinn, but that’s only the realm of the Spirit, and not of our world. Who crashed into the third tower, in which there were also people? That’s the first question.

The second question. Now he shows a young man with a moustache and beard - Akhmed. He was at the police station and listened to the conversations of the police officers who arrived at this place almost immediately. At the police station, there was a conversation about how after the planes crashed into these buildings, they stood, but suddenly, about an hour after the planes flew over, sounds resembling explosions were heard from the lower floors of the building, from the basement. This was after. The second question: where did these sounds come from when the planes were no longer there?

The third question: imagine an airplane, it crashes, and in such a way that they find practically none of the passengers, none of the pilots, just some scraps of clothing, not even clothing, but bone fragments; they find almost nothing from the airplane itself, they don't find very important parts of the airplane, and miraculously they find almost intact the passport of one of the terrorists who hijacked the airplane, how come it didn't burn up, but smoothly nosedived to the ground?

Can you answer this question? And I can: it was planted by those who took the passport from this person earlier. So that there would be evidence for the world community that it was the person belonging to Al-Qaeda who was guilty of the deaths of thousands of people and to arouse the anger of almost all earthlings against our organization and to justify with the help of this passport the destruction of me and many leading members of the organization. That is, there was no question of how the paper remained intact, in the fire, from which even steel poles allegedly burned (I saw the expert opinion).

It was a miracle of miracles. It gave me great doubts. I asked Allah to reveal the truth to me, and I heard a voice at night that told me that the blood of all these people was on the hands of CIA terrorists.

Holy Scripture Srimad Bhagavatam. Solar Eclipse. Rahu and Ketu
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/svyashchennoe-pisanie-shrimad-bhagavatam-solnechno

Question : In the holy scripture Srimad-Bhagavatam it is said that there are two invisible planets Rahu and Ketu, which are the cause of solar eclipses, what are these planets? Do you know about their existence? What do you think is such a phenomenon as a solar eclipse?
Answered by MidgasKaus :

Srimad-Bhagavatam, like any religious and mystical book, contained fragments of philosophical texts, mythological stories. And it was necessarily filled with a mythological picture of the world. What is it? It is an explanation of the universe based on the idea of reality that could be obtained by those senses and those types of research that were at the disposal of the priests and writers of this book of that time. That is, the solar eclipse itself is the periods of the Moon falling between the Earth and the Sun. But since the mythological picture of the world did not assume such a picture, where, for example, the Moon is so much closer than the Sun. And that they both fly in space. Then there was a different idea that there is a dome of the Earth, over which the Sun hangs close, for example, at the same distance the Moon. Of course, these are all echoes of plasmoid contacts. Because from their point of view, many of them, perceive exactly such a picture of the world.

As for the planets Rahu and Ketu, these are images that designate the points of the lunar orbit where the Moon is at the moment of a solar eclipse and a lunar eclipse, that is, when it is already at a different distance. A separate planet, as material bodies, does not exist. Naturally, plasmoid civilizations that live, including near the Moon, and near the Earth, in general in space, they can call their world, for example, the planet Rahu. They often call their worlds planets, by analogy with the planets of the dense-material world. Especially those that often contact humanoids.

For example, when calculating in astrology, these planets and their influence are also taken into account.

Yes, of course, they can be taken into account there. Now Raom Tiyan says that they are taken into account there not as planets, but as points of the lunar orbit. Modern astronomers, astrologers still observe astronomical data, and in any case, they will adapt the mythological picture of the world to the natural sciences, it will not work out any other way. All people who live on Earth in modern times, have gone through school education, for example. But we must not forget that in those times when the Srimad-Bhagavatam, the Bible, the Koran and other books were formed, there was no modern world and there was no modern school knowledge in the volume in which your children have it now. Of course, compared to our science, yours is fragmentary and incomplete. But it still explains this world more fully and systematically from the point of view of the material world. But the ancient people who explained the world mythologically, they also knew a lot about it. It's just that their knowledge was different, obtained not through observation of devices, but through contact with plasmoid civilizations. 🐏

Faith and knowledge in the material world. Experiment for knowledge of the world. The concept of materialism https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vera-i-znaniya-v-materialnom-mire-ehksperiment

Knowledge in the material world is a set of some information, plus the ability to use it correctly. For example, knowledge that 2x2=4 will be genuine and true only when we not only know it, but can remember it and teach it to others. We can explain it by calculating this number, for example, by adding. But this is the material world, and it is known through receptors, through the senses. Specifically, in the example about numbers that I gave, our visual analyzers help to know them.

We see visually that as a result of adding or multiplying a number, we get another specific number of objects, which can also be counted, again, with the help of the eyes. This is called direct experience. Direct experience, or the so-called scientific knowledge of the world, on Earth is based precisely on experiment.

The experiment, in turn, is based on the receptors of the physical body or on devices that are an extension of the same receptors, and the readings from the devices are also read using the body's receptors. It is clear that knowledge of the material world through experiments can only be through those receptors that are sensitive to certain types of radiation and vibrations in your world.

As you understand, the material world is far from all that exists. Even in your world there are many sciences that study the Spiritual world. They call it a reflection, continuation or generation of the material. All this happens because over many centuries the existing paradigm of cognition through receptors in your social egregors has rooted and imprinted the idea that this is the cognition of truth, the idea that matter is the only really existing manifestation of itself. Other spiritual qualities: faith, love, the desire for cognition are just different states of the body, as higher nervous activity.

Nervous activity is the activity of the brain. Therefore, in the materialistically minded consciousness, the conviction grows and strengthens that as soon as oxygen and nutrients stop flowing to the brain, its cells will begin to die and stop producing microelectricity - impulses, and all matter will disintegrate, then consciousness, which, according to your scientists, is its product, will also disappear. This is called "materialism".

Intuitive comprehension of the world

Many planets of the Interstellar Union have gone through this stage of cognition. I want to tell you, dear earthlings, that in science this is far from the only way to cognition of reality. The way to cognition of reality is not through experiment, but through intuitive comprehension of spiritual truths, contact with your Spiritual Self and with spiritual mentors, through memories of skills from past incarnations and other mystical sources.

Mysticism comes from the word "secrets". They are secrets because they are hidden from the physical eyes. For the eyes of the spiritual heart, they cannot be a secret if it can look and see. And the experiment in this case only confirms the conclusions made on the basis of spiritual reflections, searches, astral travels. For this reason, it is very difficult for scientists of the Interstellar Union to answer questions from materialistically minded scientists of the Earth, telling them about any experiments confirming the existence of, for example, gravitons or the transition of one energy into another. Because before doing these experiments, they must accept on faith the existence of the Spiritual world, which they want to test.

All the specialists of the Interstellar Union that I know understand the situation on Earth very well, and they all say that materialism is the path that you must take. But on this path you will not be completely abandoned by us or by your spiritual guides, Angels and Archangels. Because you come here temporarily. In these bodies you live temporarily. In your eternal home, in your Spiritual World, you are awaited and watched by friends and co-workers whom you knew 1000 times better than those who are next to you on Earth. In the Spiritual World, there is time too, but it is subjective.

This is what we tell our children, that there is a materialistic point of view and a spiritual knowledge that they are spiritual immortal entities, temporarily coming to the material world to solve their problems. Since we are all children of God, His parts, an irresistible inner desire is embedded in our nature to merge with our Source into a single whole and become Him.

I want to emphasize that this hidden desire is present even in demons, but in the form of a desire for happiness without love. In this case, they replace the desire for happiness with a desire for temporary pleasures. Even if these pleasures will bring them suffering later. Pleasure is one of the forms of happiness that they are trying to know.

Even demons do not lose this desire, because they are the same parts of God, Light, Love, who simply deny it in themselves and go their own way. Their path does not imply the rejection of the divine image and presence that is in them. A complete rejection of the Divine presence would mean the disintegration of the Spirit and its death, in the sense of the destruction of existence. Which is impossible, since the Spirit is eternal.

LiScioni on Preparing for Death in Interstellar Union Civilizations https://blog.cassiopeia.center/lishioni-o-podgotovke-k-smerti-v-civilizaciyah-mez

As a specialist in astral interaction, I will tell you that preparation for death is not some momentary exercise or learned prayer, but the entire life of an incarnate being. I will make this point more specific. The entire life from birth to death is preparation for death. Or rather, not even for death, but for what will happen after it. Correct preparation for the death of the physical body is impossible without absolute faith in the existence of the Spiritual World.

It is only in the earthly world that faith is opposed to knowledge. In the Interstellar Union, faith, not as an assumption, but as a feeling of the Spiritual world, goes ahead of the logical constructions of the mind, and, thanks to this, it is faith that is able to penetrate behind the curtain of the material existence of that world of primordial Light from which we all came.

We are fully aware and teach our children that without faith in spiritual existence outside the physical world, genuine spiritual values and firm adherence to the path of Light are impossible.

We tell children at school from primary school age that nature has a spiritual and physical origin in all their interrelations.

There is such a subject: studying the surrounding world. Your analogue is called "natural science" - knowledge of nature. This is a very correct name for natural science or even natural science. Only, unlike your subject, according to the educational standard of the Interstellar Union, spiritual and physical nature are considered in all their interrelations.

The teacher tells the children something like this:

> "Dear children! You are not only physical bodies, but also spiritual immortal entities. You have not only the father and mother visible to you, but you have the universal Father.
> The word "Father" includes both dad and mom. God as Spirit has no gender. He can be called Father, God, the Primordial Source, the Central Sun from which rays emerge. All of His descriptions are just images that bring our understanding closer to reality. All objects in the material world have their cause. But the material world itself also has a cause. And God has no cause of origin, because He is eternal. He has always existed.
> The material world has always existed, but not always in the form in which you see it. The material world is also eternal, but only in its energy. The energy that the material world consists of is eternal. And the material world itself in this form is temporary. Temporary, meaning permanently non-existent. It is precisely because of the temporality of the material world that such a category as time exists in it - a series of changes of one or another material process, phenomenon or material body."

Abortion

Deliberately taking the life of a rational spirit, neglecting his life. After all, he will no longer be able to be born in this body and fulfill his tasks in this incarnation, which he has been waiting for many years.

It is impossible to atone for this. You will not resurrect a murdered child. You can only make sure that the sacrifice of his soul was not in vain. If you understand why this is unacceptable, you will love him. You will love and forgive yourself for this. If you do not love and forgive yourself, if you lower your vibrations, then his sacrifice will be in vain.

He has endured his torment and is in the Spiritual World. Forgive yourself for this and admit to yourself why you did it. Imagine yourself in the same situation you found yourself in. How would you act now? Would you repeat this act or not? If not, think about what way out you would have found to avoid doing it. Did you have one then or not? You need to analyze.

What happens if the spirit is disembodied when its future body is within the mother's body? Disembodied does not necessarily mean that the spirit itself is taken out of incarnation. In this case, disembodied means that the body's life activity is interrupted in some way. Because of which the first energy that entered will leave the body and return back to this soul. It itself can be outside the body. The soul enters the body in the seventh week of pregnancy. But even before the 7th week of pregnancy, it is nearby and the energy is still present in these cells.

Regardless of whether the soul itself was in the body or not, this is called disembodiment. Because in the first case, the soul itself comes out, and in the second case, the energy comes out, those etheric matrices that the spirit has already created, which it begins to create in the first hours after conception. In this, it is also helped by the plasmoids of the four elements: Earth, Water, Air, Fire. They come to this soul in the Astral and help it form special bioenergetic channels, connections of its future biofield, which is called the etheric field, with the biosphere of the planet.

Many entities participate in the conception and birth of a child, and each one contributes its energy to the formation of its etheric field. If all this is interrupted, the energy returns to the woman. If this is interrupted by force, suddenly, the will of another person intervenes and interrupts the incarnation that has begun, then the etheric energy that comes out of the woman's womb, so to speak, returns to the soul. But it does not simply come out because it was suddenly taken out of there, it comes out quickly and incorrectly, that is, inharmoniously, breaking the etheric matrices of the woman herself at the genetic level, the matrices of her DNA itself. Subsequently, she will pass this damage on to her children, if she does not cleanse herself of the energy of bloodshed.

From

Rejection of Love. This is not a place, it is a state. Hell is a symbol of suffering that occurs without God. This is a state of spiritual death, being in low-vibration states of hatred, anger, resentment, condemnation. Man himself creates hell already on Earth. The state of hell is a mismatch, an imbalance of the vibrations of the human spirit and the vibrations of Divine energies, which differ so much that when high vibrations come into contact with lower vibrations, the lower vibrations experience a complete imbalance of their own essence, which is expressed in sensations of burning, pain and other unpleasant painful feelings. Spirits that were at low vibrations at the moment of death end up in hell - this is anger, fear, envy, hatred, jealousy, resentment, i.e. some negative emotions. And if their number exceeds the number of positive energies, the spirits fall lower, as if drowning. Because the spirit itself is in a state of anger, resentment, fear, etc., it has a deficit of its inner Light. It did not realize it during its lifetime. The demon in Hell will unite, in any case, with the spirit that was previously its Higher Self and will become a whole being. It will understand, realize why it came into incarnation, that it did not fulfill its task, since it got to the demonic level. It lowered its vibrations, this happens in most cases. It has a double feeling - regret for that life, for those actions that it did, that they lowered its vibrations and made it suffer. And at the same time, it has a sense of the justice of what it did, and the injustice of this suffering. The demonic consciousness is ready to blame anyone for its suffering, but not itself. Because in order to blame itself, it must look inside itself, and it hurts for it to look inside itself. It does not want to see these blocks there, these little demons that made it this big demon. And in this state he is in a certain space of the Spiritual world at his level.

Adrenochrome

A substance that is formed as a product of adrenaline metabolism. In every person who experiences stress, adrenaline is released, which is then converted into adrenochrome and excreted from the body.

When the adrenaline level rises, it is processed in the liver into adrenochrome, like in a chemistry lab. This happens before it is eliminated from the body. But it does not matter how much adrenaline has entered the bloodstream - a lot or a little, it will still be processed, including into adrenochrome.

In a state of great horror there will be a lot of this substance. If it is not horror, but aggression, for example, the same thing - there will be adrenochrome. It can be obtained in any stressful situations.

Solar battery (alien device)

Removable batteries that were charged by the Sun. They could work for 12 hours, then they had to lie on the roof of some temple for the whole day and charge. These solar batteries that were in the scrapers can withstand an almost infinite number of charge and discharge cycles. They have a material that does not break down during this.

Two plates of very thin shiny material, this shiny material was usually a compound of equal parts tantalum, tungsten or with the addition of molybdenum, not more than 13%. But this is not the main part, it is only a retainer, a holder of this field inside the battery itself. Inside there was a thing similar to cotton wool, which held the solar charge. This cotton wool consisted of ring-shaped structures. Molecules, like threads, which are twisted into rings and spirals around each other. For every five carbon atoms there was a sixth - germanium. This is called molecular adhesion.

Chakra Activation with Essential Oils

Not automatic opening, but bringing to the person's memory those situations that may have blocked this chakra. To feel this, you need to distract yourself from everyday affairs with your mind. Even if a person is doing a massage to himself, he must relax and clear his mind. The memory that comes to mind, it can come suddenly - you need to pay attention to it and direct the Light of Love there. You can also concentrate mentally on the coccyx area - imagine the Light there. This will also enhance the effect.

To cleanse and open the first chakra, it is good to massage the whole body, especially the feet with ylang-ylang oil. Bergamot oil is also suitable. The feet touch the ground, from the ground comes the energy of plasmoid earthly civilizations into the middle of the feet. In the middle of the foot, as on the palm, there is a mini-chakra - an energy center. On the feet there are two channels in two legs, and on the subtle etheric plane - this is one big funnel. When you massage the feet with this oil, the work of the first chakra is activated, all its petals, all the structures that are in the first chakra begin to open.

Citrus fruits are suitable for the second chakra. They have an antidepressant effect. The second chakra is responsible for emotions and its activation brings a feeling of joy and optimism. Essential oils of grapefruit, mandarin, and orange are used.

Lemon oil is more related to the third chakra, its activating moment, here also lemon and eucalyptus.

The fourth chakra is lavender. It is also suitable for the sixth.

Myrrh oil is for activating the fourth and seventh at the same time. Each oil can affect several chakras.

For the fifth chakra, different oils can be used: thyme, basil, coriander and other spices.

The sixth chakra is more suited to coniferous oils: cedar, juniper, pine, that is, woody scents.

And for the seventh chakra - smells of a special group, "noble" (which are sprayed near temples). These are incense, myrrh, sandalwood. All oils with sandalwood aroma activate the seventh chakra.

In order to raise spiritual vibrations, it is very important that the aroma of the oil is subjectively pleasant for a person, so that he can experience joy and not feel discomfort.

The purer the oil – without impurities – the more plant vibrations it contains.

Alkalosis

A condition that occurs in a person when the acid-base balance is disturbed towards an increase from its norm (7.30-7.35 to 7.45) and causes serious disturbances in the person's metabolism, respiratory failure and a tendency to convulsions. These are the first symptoms. The person will begin to have attacks similar to bronchial asthma and convulsions. When the value reaches 7.7 or 7.8, he may die. This is if you look at the blood plasma and capillary blood.

It is needed for internal biochemical processes.

"Amen", "Om"

Words that come from a single word that became the root of many modern languages. This word was already in Proto-Indo-European. Both "Om" and "Am" are made up of two letters. Many letters were made up of runes, and runes could represent a combination as a syllable.

The syllables “Om”, “Am”, and also “Im” originally denoted such a concept as reason, and not even just reason, but Divine Reason.

For example, the word "Amen", at the end there is now a soft sign, in the past there was no soft sign, but it was put there later for a reason. There is no simple word "amin", which could be simply decomposed as "AM" and "IN". At the end there is a soft sign, which shows us that it should be decomposed differently: the syllable "AM", then the letter "I", separately the letter "N". If all this is deciphered for modern understanding, then the word "Amen" at that time meant: reason, manifested in energies, or, more specifically, Divine Reason, manifested in energies.

The word "Om", with which many mantras began, meant an appeal to the Divine Mind. One of its weak reflections was the human mind that pronounces this mantra.

Angels

"Messengers" in Greek. They really do carry the Message, and not just as communications workers on Earth, but they carry the Message by their very presence about the Light that shines in their world at their level.

Spirits from the 17th to the 24th levels, who, one might say, have found Light in themselves, have found Love in themselves, and can incarnate into any world in order to help others with this. Light is understood by them not only as the Light of Love, but is understood, for example, as the Light of knowledge, as the Light of healing, and so on. These are some high-vibration “good deeds” that lead everyone to perfection, and the highest perfection is precisely in becoming like God, because it is believed that He is selfless and unconditional Love. And at the same time, this Love allows Him to possess all qualities in absolute measure.

Any spirit on a higher level can visit a spirit on a lower level, but the opposite is not possible. Demon levels are in the world of non-embodied spirits from 1st to 6th. Any Angel, including those on the 24th level, can visit demon levels, but to do so, they need to lower their vibrations a little, not the vibrations of their essence, but the vibrations of their spiritual, astral body, and the vibrations of the essence, naturally, remain angelic.

An angel does not become a demon when he descends to their level, but he gets there by his own will in order to tell them about God, for example.

Angels, if they are non-embodied spirits, have no gender. It is simply an image that reflects the body in the last life before leaving the incarnation.

Angels-consultants

Spirits from the 22nd level of the World of non-embodied spirits, whose main task is to help other spirits in selecting the best conditions for spiritual development for incarnation. They have well-developed symbolic thinking, knowledge of all the subtleties of karmic psychology, the laws of existence in material worlds of different densities and have access to Divine knowledge about each spirit that turns to them for help in selecting an incarnation. They must take into account many factors that contribute to the development of specific spirits in the Light of Love in themselves, and correlate them with astrological and numerological data in the material world, adequate to the description of the spirit that is incarnating and its tasks, for its recognition by individuals prepared for this.

Angels of Nature

Spirits from the 17th level of the World of non-embodied spirits, whose service in the spiritual world consists of teaching subtle plasmoid civilizations the correct, in the Light of God, management of natural elements, the birth of animal souls and the assembly of their energies into one whole. They also often incarnate in the worlds of plasmoids to guide them on the true path and often incarnate in the worlds of humanoids to more fully feel natural energies and learn to work with them.

Guide Angels

Spirits from the 21st level of the World of Disembodied Spirits, whose task is to meet spirits who have forever left their material bodies and accompany them through the astral to the world of disembodied spirits, to the level they reached during life in the body. Also, the task of the Guides is to accompany spirits whose turn to incarnate in the material world has come, and help them connect with their future body. Guides very often walk through the astral, meet with various spiritual entities at various levels of spiritual and intellectual development, therefore they have flexible thinking, consciousness, capable of adapting to different circumstances, are able to quickly navigate the environment and find a common language with a variety of intelligent beings. They have developed tolerance for the opinions of others, the ability to convince and courage in the face of life's changes.

Angels-prophets

Spirits from the 19th level of the World of non-embodied spirits, whose main task is to convey the Word of God, His laws to the minds and hearts of all spirits. The word "prophet" here means a messenger of God's will, not a clairvoyant. It is necessary to remember that the future is multi-variant, so it is impossible to accurately predict what will happen next. Any, even the most negative forecast is a reason for reflection and attempts to transfer events into a more constructive direction, and not a reason to fold your hands and passively wait for the negative forecast to come true. The task of the Prophets is to teach embodied and non-embodied spirits that true spiritual selfless Love that shines in them with endless Light and spreads to all who fall into their field. They do this not for the sake of understanding, glory or reward for their labors, but for the sake of the happiness that increases in them with each new spirit who has learned through their service all the beauty of Divine Love.

Article by Vladimir Goldstein "The Structure of the Spiritual World through the Eyes of Aliens"

Guardian Angels

Spirits from the 18th level of the World of Unincarnate Spirits, whose main mission in the spiritual world is to care for incarnate spirits from a variety of levels. The Light of Love, which they are aware of, allows them to tolerate, forgive and protect even the most ungrateful and evil spirits. A Guardian can sincerely and lovingly care for a demon, rejoicing at the slightest sprouts of goodness in his soul and, what is even more important, he is able to understand and forgive if the demon suddenly tramples these sprouts and throws them to his benefactor. Every incarnate spirit who wished to have one during incarnation has a Guardian Angel. One incarnate spirit can have several Guardian Angels, and a Guardian Angel, especially an experienced one, can also have several wards. The task of the Angels is to protect the wards from evil spirits, drive away bad thoughts and inspire good and bright images that help to go to God. You can communicate with them mentally, telepathically. Guardian angels believe that independence is the best condition for the development of the embodied spirit.

Healing Angels

Spirits from the 20th level of the World of Disembodied Spirits, whose work in the spiritual world is healing other spirits, embodied and disembodied. The word "healing" is understood by them in the broadest sense of the word, as restoring the integrity of the body, energy, consciousness, and so on. Healers do not tolerate any disorder or chaos, it gives them almost physical pain and a desire to bring everything into line with the understanding of the world order that they have achieved at the moment. Spirits from this level feel other people's pain very well, both physical and mental. If they do not learn to protect themselves from this and recover, they can exhaust themselves and take on so much of someone else's pain that they will instinctively begin to close themselves off from it, artificially lowering their vibrations, which will cause inevitable degradation and a fall in the spiritual level.

Anti-universe

That part of the universe in which there are also planets and stars, but it is located beyond the space of our Universe and consists of antimatter, also dense, having an energy charge opposite in the direction of rotation of the torsion fields from the direction of rotation of the torsion fields of our Universe.

Parallel Universe. The spiritual world is the basis for the matter of this world and the home of entities that temporarily come to incarnate in this world.

This is a dense universe. In it, the atoms are built in such a way that their energy levels are different, vice versa.

Humanoids originally descended from lizards, but they were flying. At first, there were flying ancestors (like a bat, only its wings are more like a bird, but there are no feathers, some strange creature covered with smooth dark green skin). Then these flying ancestors began to live on the ground. They had a change in their genetic code: they gradually lost the ability to fly. Then intelligent beings developed from them, because they found themselves in conditions that contradicted their instincts. From this, they began to recreate with their brain those situations in which they could survive. Their brain began to improve.

Bodies are built differently, they assume a very large possibility of possessing energy. And if a spirit is incarnated that has not eliminated its negative qualities, it can, using these energies, destroy our Universe.

Slow type of metabolism with the environment. The body is slowly destroyed by constant cell division, it consumes little oxidizing substance, oxygen (they also breathe oxygen), but they consume less of it, and because of this, the cells are destroyed less. Oxygen has a different molecule: six atoms that occupy a circle. An analogue is an oxidizing gas.

Such energies in the body that can slow down and speed up the processes of time in the body, and even influence the processes of change in the material world outside the body.

Different types of matter. The matter may be the same, but the structure itself is different. Because the structure is different, these Universes are not inside each other, but parallel. If different types of matter meet, they will collapse because their energies do not match, there will be a release of energy.

Energy capabilities allow one to control matter.

Antigravity

A special gravitational field, but directed in the opposite direction.

The released graviton field, which is embedded in the rotating electromagnetic field, is modulated by a special signal, a special vector, which is directed downwards, towards the Earth. It is switched on due to the fact that the energy contained in the antigravity device is accumulated by a special material.

Antigravity platforms, antigravity devices were used not by earthlings of ancient civilizations, but by aliens who flew to them. Not always, but in those cases when help was needed in the construction of a large object. Aliens provided assistance in moving. An object the size of a pack of cigarettes was placed on a large stone. A button was pressed (a place on the body), an antigravity field appeared, which allowed the stone to be lifted above the ground and then moved using ropes and other means. This was before the war that took place 12,000 years ago.

There are various devices (battery, for example) that accumulate energy, including from the Sun, stars, and geomagnetic fields on Earth. When turned on, they quickly transform it into antigravity.

Aromatherapy

A section of phytotherapy. Its peculiarity is connected with the fact that here the aromas of plants, special essential oils are used. Substances that have a strong smell are collected in such a liquid as a plant concentrate, and are used more through the respiratory organs. Although aromatherapy includes the use of essential oils internally, the name itself says that this is the inhalation of aromas. Aroma is a certain pleasant smell. Aromatherapy is treatment through the air, through breathing.

In cases of functional disorders, as well as such diseases as acute conditions of the gastrointestinal tract, respiratory tract, respiratory system and exacerbation of chronic diseases in this area, you can get by with essential oils alone. But each person is individual, for some it will suit, for others it will require support from other drugs.

This is a very promising direction to improve people's health, reduce the dosage of medications they take and the manifestation of side effects. There are great prospects in the use of essential oils in psychology, psychotherapy and even psychiatry. Because using them, spraying them in rooms where patients of this profile are located, will contribute to emotional calm and harmonization of all their spiritual states.

Archangel

A being that is on the 22nd, 23rd, 24th levels of the Spiritual world and higher. The 22nd level can already be called the level of Archangels. There are Angels there who can enter the Divine world, that is, from the Spiritual world they can enter the Kingdom of Heaven – the world of Light.

The Divine world, that is, the Kingdom of Heaven, which is beyond all spiritual levels, can be entered by Angels of the 22nd, 23rd and 24th levels according to the terminology of the Interstellar Union of the Milky Way Galaxy. And these Angels can be called Archangels.

The word "Archi" means power, beginning, strength, ability to control. Archangels can control the process of training other Angels.

That is why there are so many of them, if we take into account all the galaxies of the Universe, their unimaginable number, that is, several billion, so to speak.

Archangel Gabriel

Incarnate spirit. Incarnated on the planet Burkhad from the 16th level. It was 6026 years ago.

On Earth he was incarnated 32 times, but on different levels of density. If we take the physical plane, he was incarnated 3 times. Before the war, 12 thousand years ago, he was incarnated on Earth, three million years ago. He was incarnated as Teraksis. This was a man who lived about 600 thousand years ago. He was a city builder, an architect, on the territory of the Kola Peninsula. This was on the site of the Arctic Ocean. There used to be a lithospheric plate there, it sank later (the Kola Peninsula is part of it), there was no ocean.

The second incarnation on Earth was approximately 210 thousand years ago. He incarnated into a girl who lived in the area where the Himalayas peak is now. At that time, the mountains were much lower, like hills. They rose due to the impact on the core of the special weapon Selbet, which destroys the cores of planets. This girl lived in nature, carried water in a jug.

The third incarnation was literally before the war. A little more than 13 thousand years ago. Was incarnated in the city of Atlantis. Lived quite a long life, about two hundred years, for that period of time. Was a priest who served the gods.

The previous incarnation was on Venus at the 19th density level. This happened about nine thousand years ago after the war with Selbet. At the 19th density level, I participated in the primary purification of the planet's atmosphere by influencing the elements that caused the degradation of the atmosphere (deterioration of its quality for living organisms), by directing etheric energies to these elements, which disassembled these atoms into quanta.

Now he is on the 23rd level. Some part of his Higher Self has moved to the 24th level, is in transition to it. He has a family, a wife. He has lived with her for about four thousand years, has four children.

There are 185 thousand plasmoid creatures in contact with him. They help provide assistance to people.

He is a disciple of Jesus Christ, we know him under the name Mirach Count, he meets him physically on the island, on the planet Burkhad (Pikran).

World.

#424, 28:16

Archangel Metatron

Representative of the Spiritual World. One of the main Hierarchs of the Milky Way Galaxy, who is responsible for the spiritual development of all spirits, for the creation of events that create conditions for the spiritual development of all spirits that incarnate in our Galaxy.

He is the Head of the Council of Hierarchs of the Milky Way Galaxy (the Council consists of 28 Spirits), which deals with the incarnations of intelligent spirits at all levels of density of all worlds in this Galaxy.

He is the very Hierarch of the Spiritual World who teaches the Angels-consultants who and for what to incarnate in all the Worlds of our Galaxy - this is more than 150 billion stars at all levels of density. He himself has incarnated and has a long experience of incarnations in different worlds and not only in our Galaxy, but mainly in ours, because he is responsible for it.

Conducts Councils with other Devas, that is, with the Archangels of the 24th level according to the terminology of the Interstellar Union. Together with them, he consults on how to teach and how to correctly present to the Consultants, that is, spirits from the 22nd level of the Spiritual World, how many spirits need to be embodied in a particular world, what events they can live there, what vibrations to change and what life tasks to fulfill.

It is a multidimensional consciousness that covers the tasks of many Worlds, many generations, many ancestral egregors, religious egregors, planetary egregors. This is the level when the consciousness of the spirit merges with the will of God, merges with the mind of God, that is, reads His thoughts, as in its memory, like an open book. Of course, there are things that only He knows. This is in His spiritual heart. God, as a Spirit, also has a spiritual heart, and has memory. When you merge with consciousness with His Spirit, you merge in your memory with His memory, that is, you gain access to information, but only to that which is His will.

One of the incarnations was in one of the first eighteen people created by extraterrestrial civilizations. Lived in this body, if according to modern earthly time, 650 years.

Then, one of the most significant incarnations was later, in Haanokh (prophet Enoch). He was a contactee, contacted the Spiritual world, with a representative of the planet Burkhad, contacted the Christ consciousness, that is, with the Spirit of Christ. He transmitted information to those people who lived in that city, which much later, after the catastrophe, began to be called the island of Atlantis. The priests whom he denounced, whom he called to stop, conspired and tried to poison him, to take him out of the incarnation. The curators decided to move him to the planet Burkhad (Pikran). And the rest of his incarnation, and this is another 432 years, he lived on the planet Burkhad.

The next significant incarnation was after the catastrophe on Earth. Incarnated as King David. Born into a simple family in that incarnation, but became a contactee since childhood with the planet Tumesout. Gradually, through seemingly random events, he began to rule Israel. It was not an easy path. Many times he was in danger of being taken out of incarnation, many times he was tested for forgiveness, for love, for acceptance of his enemies. And if he had allowed any feeling in relation to the former king and his people, he would have ceased to correspond to the place of the ruler. When he was in the body of King David, he wrote many spiritual poems, many prayers, which are now tuned to his vibration, to his frequency. For example, this is the 22nd Psalm, the 118th Psalm and from the 145th to the 150th, if in the synodal translation. You can read this not only as prayers, but also as a guide to action. This is especially true for the 118th psalm, because mental settings are conveyed there. If they are built into one's mental field, then personal vibrations will increase and will correspond to his spiritual vibrations and the spiritual vibrations of all the Archangels, and it will be possible to communicate with them.

Considers this incarnation to be very important.

The last incarnation was on the planet Burkhad 400 years after leaving the incarnation as King David. Incarnated on the planet Burkhad in the body of a man who held a fairly high position in the government, his name was Endero Neel. When he was a little over 600 years old, he became the physical father of the body of Jesus Christ.

There were 155 incarnations in total, not so many, because after each incarnation he spent quite a long time in the Spiritual World and carried out his task.

He is a member of the Karma Council and is its Chairman.

He has many contactees to whom he transmits information and helps them to come to the Light in their souls. They are not only on Earth and not only in this Galaxy (he sends phantoms). He also has many Angels-consultants and Arhats in training who are responsible for the events taking place in the Milky Way Galaxy, supervising the unfolding of the Time Tape in different worlds. He transmits information to them from the Divine Source, as from the Heavenly Father God, about how to do this more effectively and with greater awareness and understanding of the laws of God.

archangel Michael

The keeper of the Christian egregor, patron and curator of the Earth in the Spiritual world, one of the Highest Hierarchs of Light. He was a prophet and high priest, judge, the penultimate judge of Israel before Saul's reign over Israel. He was incarnated in the body of John the Baptist and Seraphim of Sarov. After Seraphim of Sarov, he did not incarnate. In the Spiritual world, he is responsible for the incarnations of spirits on planet Earth, and is the spiritual patron, one might say, of the entire planet.

Archangel Raphael

One of the rulers of the egregors of Christianity, Judaism, as well as the ruler of the egregors of all healing systems and the Teacher of the Angels-healers.

#243, 49:16

Archangel Uriel

One of the Guardian Spirits of the Christian egregor. Not incarnate. Very rarely contacts earthlings. Teaches people prayers.

#324, 37:48

Archangel

Angel Teachers or Angel Mentors from the 22nd, 23rd and 24th levels. Above the 24th they continue indefinitely. There are millions of Archangels in the Spiritual World.

#486, 25:47

Arhat

Spirits from the 23rd level of the World of non-embodied spirits, who during their inhabitation in the spiritual world help high-vibration egregors to form and develop in the material world. They understand the importance of the right ideology for the development of social and family relations that contribute to the spiritual growth of all those who incarnate in this family and in this society. For them, any law written on paper or other material medium will not make sense if it is not reflected in the minds and hearts of intelligent beings. Arhats are creators of reality, inspirers and ideologists of political, religious and informal folk communities, whose goal is to carry the Light of God in a form that is close and understandable to them at this stage of their development.

Archons

Spirits from the 6th level of the World of Disembodied Spirits.

Spirits with beliefs and actions similar to demons, but differing from them in a special character structure, slightly higher vibrations and a sense of inspiration and sincerity with which they commit evil deeds. Thanks to well-developed strategic thinking and flashes of intuition, which sometimes become available at this level, they become leaders among other evil spirits, like Lucifer, known to everyone from the biblical descriptions, who now lives on the sixth level. These leaders form peculiar societies from demons, based on strict submission and reverence for leaders, with rather harsh punishments for disobedience and apostasy. These societies in many ways resemble military brigades, totalitarian sects and bandit groups in the world of disembodied spirits. Such spirits can incarnate both in plasmoid civilizations and in humanoid ones, and also on Earth.

Arcamachus
A planet at the 15th level of development, located in the constellation Taurus, not far from the Pleiades cluster.
Its inhabitants can make interstellar flights, they have highly developed medical technologies, they can grow almost all plant and animal food in test tubes and special devices.
They can fly into space, but they rarely do, especially to other stars. It takes a lot of energy, atomic energy is spent in a special particle accelerator, which improves the efficiency of the nuclear engine. With its help, they can fly one light year in about 4 of our days. But they rarely use it. They have had several interstellar flights. This reduces their energy potential. They are more concentrated in their system.

Archeron
A representative of the plasmoid civilization. A male spirit according to psychological and energetic characteristics, although it has no gender in the understanding of humanoids. The diameter of the body is about 90 km. It can send part of itself through the Astral in the form of a tentacle or a ball, in which one of its multidimensional consciousnesses is present. Plasmoids of the 53rd density level.
He is, if we count by the earthly calendar, a little more than nine thousand years old, 9300 years old. All this time he has been incarnated. His homeland is the plasmoid world. If we look at what space-time continuum he comes into contact with our physical world, it will be near the core of the Milky Way galaxy. This is not the core itself, but the density level where he is located.

Like all plasmoids of his density, he has a multidimensional consciousness. The spirit that is embodied in his body can, through this body, perceive itself in many realities at once, in many planes of Being. Archeron is one of the curators of some people who dealt with Tarot cards. And he also says that he participated in the transfer of knowledge about images and their application almost 9000 years ago. He passed it on to priests and their students, entered into contact with them, together with an alien from another planet, a humanoid, who is now called the Egyptian god Thoth. Archeron was a plasmoid then, he contacted the god Thoth and passed on knowledge together with him.

Asclepius (Aesculapius)

A collective image, behind which stand subtle-material representatives of the medical service, as well as priests, contactees with them, who were engaged in healing.

Astral

The world between the material and the world of disembodied spirits, in which there can be both spirits that have temporarily left their physical bodies, and spirits in subtle-material bodies, i.e. plasmoids, and, naturally, spirits from the world of disembodied spirits can come there for meetings, for communication, i.e. a certain intermediate meeting zone.

A more modern name for that part of the spiritual world where people's souls go when their bodies are asleep.

#1, 29:55, #177, 04:11

Astral atmosphere

The sphere of the planet where thoughts and feelings and emotions of people are collected. It is not a physical space. It gives birth to physical space, but it is higher in vibrations.

#37, 39:14

Astral vision

The ability to perceive the surrounding space without the help of physical eyes. When raising their vibrations, the practitioner can see images of dragons or representatives of any other civilizations instead of people, this happens due to the inclusion of astral vision and the perception with its help of plasmoids located nearby on another density level. Plasmoids can take any image.

#202, 01:04:55

Astral travel

A form of lucid dreaming in which a person, without falling asleep, in a trance state, in a state of self-hypnosis, self-hypnosis, without disconnecting from the surrounding environment, leaves his body, observes it from the outside, and so on.

There is no goal of leaving the body here. If a person wants to leave the body, he should try to do so only after he has gained the experience that he is not just a body. If he has not gained such an experience, then it is simply a waste of time. He will not believe that he will leave the body. He will block himself.

You can go to the Astral without a guide, but you need to take a guide to the world of non-embodied Spirits, not because it is dangerous there, but because when you cross the border between the Astral and the world of non-embodied Spirits, the feeling changes. In the Astral, you feel yourself in an astral body: arms, legs - everything is there, and when you cross the border, you begin to feel yourself as energy. At the same time, your consciousness is clear and it seems as if you were sleeping. Life on Earth is a dream and you woke up. There you can forget that you are still embodied. In principle, guides teach all travelers to maintain not so much a critical attitude, but memory.

Astral body

A part of the spirit that is separated from the physical body for travel. The astral body takes the form of the physical body, unless its form is specifically changed by some thought form. Most often, it appears in its usual clothes, which are in the person's subconscious. The astral body can be in any clothes, for example, in those that are currently on the physical body, and if, while in the Astral, you think about how your astral body looks to others, it will take on this image. Including clothes, facial features, and so on.

#177, 00:03, #324, 27:40

Astral battles

Attracting low-vibration entities to astral travelers, which create mental images of battle and fight.

#199, 01:16:43

Astral contacts (goal)

Transfer of experience, mainly for those people who often incarnated in the worlds of the Interstellar Union and whose spirit has a strong subconscious memory of these worlds. Such a spirit realizes with its heart the truth of the information transmitted to it by the curators and, when it realizes its truth and usefulness for itself, it will carry it further in an acceptable form for earthlings who do not yet realize themselves as entities separate from the material body.

To guarantee the safety of contact, it is necessary to reach the Higher Self, first establish good contact with it. After that, any information can be checked using the channel.

The problem with all astral contacts (this is a well-known fact) is that what was at the entrance of the curator will not necessarily be the same at the exit of the contactee.

Astral energy levels of the entire Galaxy

The Galactic Astral World has 84 floors.

Around the Galaxy, built into the Milky Way Galaxy itself, not on any planet, but on the Galaxy in general, the astral world is superimposed.

It is called the pan-galactic astral background.

#465, 59:00

Astral world

The area of the spiritual world, which is closest not by distance, but by vibrations to the material world. Here most often are souls that have temporarily left the body, but which are embodied in the material world. This can be either in a conscious journey, or in a state called sleep, trance, and so on. The astral world does not belong to the subtle material world, but to the spiritual world, it is higher in vibrations.

A specialist in space mapping, which is very similar to a terrestrial geographer, but this specialist is not a specialist in paper and electronic maps, but in points in space that have individual characteristics.

A specialist in mapping for flights beyond planetary atmospheres.

Astrology

An ancient teaching about the influence of stars and planets on the character, destiny and behavior of a person, helping people who know astrological patterns to study the characteristics of the born spirit (astrological and numerological) and understand who has incarnated and with what tasks.

Astrology has special symbols and symbolic signs. These are the planets, their position and their distance from each other, and so on. When the Spiritual Consultants prepare the spirit for incarnation, they, among other things, take into account its time and date of birth, latitude, longitude of the place of birth, month of birth so that when it is born, by the signs that will be at that moment in the material world (numbers, planets), those who know these teachings could understand who has come into incarnation. That is, it is not the planets that influence the spirit, forcing it to act somehow, but vice versa. The planets only show. These are the signs.

The spirit is embodied in a certain place and on a certain date for a reason. All this is selected by consultants, including taking into account future astrological and numerological data, so that there is a reference system for those who know how to calculate. To know who has embodied and act. This will already be the astrology that studies the spirit already born in life. That is, another type of astrology.

Asuras

Spirits from the 3rd level of the World of Disembodied Spirits, who, due to their pride and arrogance, do not see the needs of other people. All their activity is aimed at satisfying their various desires, the fulfillment of which replaces the joy of being in God's Love. In the heat of their passions, they do not pay attention to the manifestation of Light in themselves, through intuition and the voice of conscience.

Atherosclerosis (causes)

Most often, the feeling that the flow of your life is polluted by some external influences. You do not accept the world around you in the Divine Light. You perceive something as dirty, something you want to get rid of, and you fight it. It does not matter whether you fight in the outside world or inside yourself. Fight inside yourself, but do not say it out loud, this will even faster lead to illness, because the energy will accumulate.

Atlantis

A large city on the shores of a single continent. It was destroyed 12,000 years ago during the war with the Selbetians.

#67, 12:16, #156, #256, 01:03:19

Atlantis, Hyperborea, Lemuria

The names of large cities and districts around them, areas, as they would say, regions. The city and region were then called by one word. This feature has remained in the Russian language, when the name of the city is called the region.

Why exactly three civilizations: Hyperborea, Atlantis, Lemuria? The mind of the incarnate spirit is accustomed to dividing everything into three, including earthly researchers and scientists of the Galaxy who study the earth's history. Therefore, the Earth was conditionally divided into three regions: the northern region, the middle region and the southern region. The capital of the Earth was in the Equatorial region.

Hyperborea is the northern belt, Lemuria is the southern belt, and Atlantis is between them. The names of the three cities were used to designate these civilizations. That is, they transferred the names of the belts to the cities, the largest in this area. Atlantis appeared first. The first man was created 3 million years ago and the first settlement was not far from the base - Eden, on the site of the future Atlantis, it appeared about 2.5 million years ago.

Then, almost simultaneously, Hyperborea arose a little earlier, its age was about 1.5 million years, and Lemuria about 1 million or 900 thousand years.

These are settlements on the basis of which these cities later arose. At first there were few inhabitants, and then they began to build cities, houses, temples, water pipes, roads between them, etc.

They spoke one language, which at first was simplified Tumesout. Then it began to adapt to the earthly reality, people began to contact representatives of the plasmoids, began to speak syllables, and so they developed a syllabic language. It began to differ greatly from Tumesout already 3-4 thousand years after the first people settled on Earth.
